A large number of candidates are expected to try out for the team with prospects for a winning team quite good. However, it will be difficult to find replacements for such boys as Gaken, Carragher, Dietle, Eisemann, Eder and Robards who have been lost either through graduation or having entered the armed forces. The major and minor letter winners returning are: T. Smith, G. Slane, R. Knickerbocker, D. Barth, Jack Wellnitz, C. Colquhoun, B. Barlow, D. Vogel, E. Eisele, R. Schulze, R. Daniels, W. Waters, J. Definite information regarding the possibilities for playing night football cannot be given at this time. If the lights are ready for use, the first game against Dexter, which is scheduled to be played at Dexter, will be transferred to Chelsea and played under the lights. The complete schedule will appear in a later edition of The Standard.

With Our Men In Service

Editor's Note: Items concerning our men in service are welcomed by this paper. We especially would like items concerning the men as they are discharged, including their service record. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

Eddie Miller, S-1C, has been transferred recently to the Pacific area, after two years' convoy and patrolling duty in the Atlantic.

Pfc. Russell Abdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abdon, has received his honorable discharge from the army, and returned to his home here on August 11.

Entering the service on July 31, 1944, he received his training at Camp Robinson, Ark., and left for overseas Jan. 1, 1945. He served in Germany, where he was hospitalized for three months, and after returning to the States, he spent three months in a hospital at Danville, Ky., before returning home.

Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 13—Wave Jean Catherine Sorensen, S2C, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sorensen, 1220 Manchester Rd., Chelsea, Mich., who entered the U. S. Navy on May 17, 1945, this week began training in weather observation at the Navy Aerographer's School of the Lakehurst Naval Air Station (Lighter-than-Air).

The school trains sailors, marines, coast guardsmen and Waves in a three-month course. Women reservists are assigned to duty at shore bases, relieving men for sea duty.

The course includes meteorology, weather codes and mapping, map analysis, balloon sounding and typing. In a weather observatory maintained by the school, students stand watches just as they later will do on active duty, with expert aerographers directing their work.

(Last week's items)

Harvey Knickerbocker, CRM, who recently returned from Pacific duty, is spending a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Knickerbocker. During his service, Harvey has been awarded the following campaign ribbons: American Defense with one Bronze Star, American Theater, Asiatic Pacific Area, with six bronze stars, European African Area, with one bronze star, Philippine Liberation, with two bronze stars, Good Conduct Ribbon, and the Purple Heart.

Pvt. Waldo Keezer, who had been stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas, spent a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Keezer, reporting on Wednesday to Camp Gordon, Ga. A picnic dinner in his honor was held on Sunday at Pleasant Lake, Jackson, and was attended by about 20 relatives.

M-Sgt. Clyde K. Stone, son of Mrs. Howard C. Baker of Danville, Ind., formerly of Chelsea, has returned from Germany and is home on a 30-day furlough. Sgt. Stone, who for the past four years served in the Field Artillery Battalion, has received the Bronze Star for Meritorious Achievement in Battle.

Pfc. Theo. R. Combs arrived home on Friday after six months' service overseas. He will spend a 30-day furlough with his wife at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coral Combs, and will report at Camp Grant, Ill., on September 11.

Chelsea To Meet New Conductor At Concert

When the Chelsea Band presents its last concert next Saturday night, they will be led by their new conductor, Vincent DeMattaeis, formerly of Kinsman, Ohio. As in the past year, the Chelsea schools are cooperating with the University of Michigan by hiring a graduate student in instrumental music for the purpose of conducting the high and grade school bands.

Mr. DeMattaeis has been teaching instrumental music for the past ten years. He has a very successful record at Kinsman, where he has been conducting the past several years. He is a very fine clarinetist, having studied with some of the outstanding teachers of clarinet in the country. Chelsea is extremely fortunate in securing such an outstanding instrumentalist to lead the high school and grade school bands for the coming year.

Mr. Busche, the conductor for the past year, left last Wednesday to take a new position as instructor of wind instruments and conductor of the band and a capella choir in the music department of MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Illinois, one of the outstanding women's colleges in the country.

The band has been very much gratified by the wonderful support the people of Chelsea have shown them, and as the summer concert season closes with this concert it is hoped that all who have not had a chance to hear the band will take advantage of the opportunity.

Camp Cedar Lake Plans "As You Like It" Week

An "as you like it" week has been planned at Camp Cedar Lake August 26-31. Designed to meet the needs of girls for a camping experience, Girl Scout leaders who want to take a leadership training course, and mothers and older girls who might want a vacation, the camp will have three separate units to accommodate these three groups. Permission is being granted mothers to bring their children if they wish to come for a vacation.

A trained staff will be on duty to instruct in swimming, boating, canoeing, outdoor cooking, square dancing, and crafts. Meals will be served in the main lodge.

For Girl Scout leaders who wish to take a training course there will be professional Girl Scout workers here to instruct.

Another angle of this last week of camp will be the privilege of adults to go out for a day or a few days if they do not wish to go for the entire period. At least one day's notice must be given in such cases.

The camp committee invites the people of Chelsea to participate in this last week of camp. Anybody interested should communicate with Miss Gladys Guyton, camp director, at once.

Ending of War Closes Chelsea Ration Board

The Chelsea ration office is closed. It seems unwise to continue to rent office space now that there is gas available to go to the Ann Arbor office.

Thanks to Mrs. Loeffler and Mrs. Wacker who have served as regular members of the Commodities Board, and to each one who has helped me during the emergency. Thanks to the public who have been so patient, kind and cooperative.

Jean Walworth.

Thank You!

With the conclusion of the war with Japan I wish to thank the following for their assistance in giving the people of this community the best possible service in the rationing of gasoline and stores: Mrs. David Gasch, Henry Schneider, Mrs. Gerald Luick, Miss Margaret Heselschwerdt, Mrs. B. L. Peterson, Mrs. Cameron Burns and Mrs. Arnold Steger.

Mrs. L. J. Paul, Chairman.

SUMMER RECREATION DANCES

The summer Recreation dances came to a close Friday, Aug. 17. This dance was not very well attended by people from Chelsea. It seems the townspeople don't appreciate a chance to get out and have a good time without having to go 25 miles to do so.

Out of four dances with Jerry Edwards and his orchestra only the first two proved profitable and the last two were total losses.

The Athletic Board would like to thank the Chelsea Recreation for the use of their fan. We also want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Whitey Guest and the rest of the chaperones for their cooperation with us.

There were many of the boys and girls from the high school who worked hard at these dances, also those who didn't work very hard—but makes a million for helping out, no matter how small your job was.

We are sure many of the folks around Chelsea had a great time at these dances and hope someone will take it into their heads to sponsor these dances next summer, because they are a great thing for the public.

—Athletic Board.

Daytime Watering of Garden Not Harmful

Watering your Victory Garden when the sun is shining won't result in scalding the plants, as some people believe, according to Paul Krone, Michigan State College Garden Specialist.

As a matter of fact, if your're going to use a sprinkler and get the foliage wet, it's better to do it during the heat of the day than in the evening.
Sprinkling during the day will cool the plants and reduce the amount of water they give off. It will help to reduce wilting on some of the more tender plants.

Sprinkling in the evening has one decided disadvantage. The leaves remain moist overnight and leaf spot diseases and mildews are more likely to spread.

One precaution should be observed for daytime watering on clay soil.
Thoroughly soak the ground to a depth of at least six inches, then cultivate as soon as it is dry enough.
This prevents caking of the soil.

That garden plants will be stunted by overhead watering with cold water also is pretty much of a myth. On a hot day, when the water is sprinkled over the plants in a fine mist, the temperature at which it strikes the plants is considerably higher than when it leaves the faucet.

If an overhead sprinkler is not used, one of the best ways to water the garden is to place the end of the hose on a board between the rows, allowing the water to run slowly onto the soil. Or, a canvas or porous hose can be used. Either prevents washing of the soil.

minute for the balance of 1945.

A billion dollars will be lost because of farm accidents. This figure includes wage loss, medical expense, cost of insurance, property damage and loss.

Death will strike more than 40 farm dwellers each day throughout the United States in 1945.

Apparently hand tools, machinery, and animals constitute the three major items in this terrific toll of farm accidents.

The man on the farm is familiar with the hazards and should be on the lookout constantly.

With Our Men In Service

Miss Mabel Fox, head of the Journalism club at Chelsea high school, received the following letter from Pfc. Luther Kusterer, stationed in Germany:

Stuttgart, Germany, Aug. 3, 1945.

Dear Miss Fox,
I was very pleasantly surprised to receive both your letter and the letter from the Journalism club last week. I think that it sure is swell that you are putting out a letter during the summer months as I enjoy them very much. It is the only way that I can keep up with the whereabouts of the fellows.

We are now occupying the town of Stuttgart and expect to be here for some time as the Division is not scheduled to leave until the beginning of next year. This city was a beautiful city once but it is now pretty much destroyed by the terrific bombing that the city took. There is hardly a block that hasn't been hit and whole sections of the town have been leveled. We had trouble finding enough good houses to stay in. In a couple of weeks we are supposed to move into some old German barracks which most of us dread very much as we would rather live in houses.

I suppose that you are wondering where I got the typewriter. I use it in the new work that I am now doing. Since the war has ended I have been working in the Battalion Special Service Office and I like the work very much. Whenever we move into a town the first thing we do is to get a typewriter from the Military Government. This is about the only thing that Military Government is good for as they are usually a pain in the neck.

There are four of us that work in the office and among our duties are to arrange an athletic program, plan entertainment, and to distribute the PX-rations to the men. My main jobs are to take care of athletics and to distribute the rations which we get in every two weeks. Of course I like both jobs real well. We usually have a movie or show every night and last week Jack Benny was here and he really put on a good show for us. Lately we have been getting one USO show a week, which is pretty good. The Battalion has purchased its own movie projector so we are able to have a show any time that we want to. The projector cost us 400 dollars but it sure was worth it. We also have some bowling alleys opened up where the men can go and bowl. At present we have four alleys but we are trying to get four more in shape. Lately the Battalion has been pretty busy with guard duty and a training program and they haven't had very much time to participate in athletics.

One thing I like about my job is that I don't have to fall out for drill or anything like that and my time is pretty much my own, so long as I get my work done. Of course, I don't know how long this job will last, because if we ever get in combat again I will become a switchboard operator again.

Another feature of the SSO is the newspaper, the "Citizen," that is published for the men in the battalion every week. We think that it is a very good paper for a small outfit and we have gotten a write up in the "Stars and Stripes" about it. I will enclose a copy of the paper. I couldn't get ahold of a copy of our latest edition, which was a 6-page edition, and had two full pages of pictures.

The weather over here is about the same as back home, but we are wearing OD's and it gets pretty hot during the day with those on. The only time that we can wear our fatigues is when we are working.

The civilian food situation over here seems to be pretty bad, as the civilians stand around our chowline to try to get scraps of food that we are going to throw away. There is a terrific black market over here, as I guess there is just about all over. Our chow has been pretty good lately, although for about a month after V-E Day it was really pretty bad, as all we got was C-rations and one gets pretty tired of them. We all figured that when the war ended that they ought to be able to give us better food.

I have some work that I must do now, so I will have to close for this time. Keep those letters coming.

As ever, Luke.

With the 35th Infantry Division, Assembly Area Command, France, Pfc. Clifford I. Myers is enroute home from Europe with the 5-star "Santa Fe" Division, which in ten months battled across the Elbe river to within 42 miles from Berlin.

The 35th ended its occupational duties in Germany during the second week of July and moved to Camp Norfolk, one of the Assembly Area Command's 17 redeployment camps near Reims. Elements of the Division served as honor guard for President Truman when he arrived at Antwerp. Hitting Omaha Beach, July 7, 1944, the 35th fought the Germans from St. Lo, broke the counter-offensive at Mortain, swept across France, cracked into Germany's Saar Valley on December 12, and then whipped into Belgium and Luxembourg to within Von Rundstedt's Ardennes bulge.

Following a shift to the Vosges Mountains, the Division dashed 300 miles north through Holland to jump the Roer and Rhine rivers, crush the Siegfried Line defenses, and scoop up more than 30,000 PW's by V-E Day to mark the end of more than 1,600 combat miles in the ETO.

Pfc. Myers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Myers, Chelsea, Mich. He holds the following decorations: E.J.O. Ribbon with 5 battle Stars, Presidential citation with Cluster, good conduct Medal, and combat infantryman's Badge.

Mrs. Doris M. Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Rogers, received a letter from the War Department advising her of the posthumous award of the Silver Star and the Bronze Star Medal to her husband, First Lt. Theodore W. Hart, who was killed in Germany on February 26, 1945. The communication follows.

Mrs. Doris M. Hart,

Chelsea, Michigan.

Dear Mrs. Hart:

I have the honor to inform you that, by direction of the President, the Silver Star and the Bronze Star Medal, have been posthumously awarded to your husband, First Lieutenant Theodore W. Hart, Infantry. The citations are as follows:

"For gallantry in action on 8 October, 1944, in . Lieutenant Hart, leader of a mortar platoon, distinguished himself when his battalion, which was attacking an objective, was surprised by an enemy counter-attack composed of tanks and infantry. Quickly perceiving his unit's perilous situation, Lieutenant Hart ordered his mortars into positions and, despite fierce direct fire from the tanks against his positions, he directed such an intense concentration of mortar fire against the tanks that they were forced to halt and deploy. Lieutenant Hart's quick thinking and very aggressive action gave friendly tanks and artillery time to go into action and repulse the counter-attack."

Bronze Star Medal

"For heroic achievement in action on 23 January 1945, in Belgium. In giving supporting fire for assaulting rifle companies, Lieutenant Hart made a reconnaissance under direct enemy fire and selected positions in advance of the assaulting companies. He employed his weapons so advantageously that he was able to neutralize almost all the enemy fire at the time of the attack. All through the engagement which followed Lieutenant Hart maintained communication between guns and made the necessary fire corrections. His great courage in selecting and maintaining a hazardous position under heavy enemy fire was an important contribution to the successful attack which followed."

The decorations will be forwarded to the Commanding General, Sixth Service Command, Chicago, Illinois, who will select an officer to make the presentation. The officer selected will communicate with you concerning your wishes in the matter.

May I again express my deepest sympathy to you in your bereavement.

Sincerely yours,

Edward F. Witsell,
Major General,
Acting The Adjutant General.

A recent issue of "Actioneer," published at Yuma Army Air Field, Yuma, Ariz., carried an article-telling of the work of Captain Paul F. Reichert, formerly of Chelsea, who has been stationed at the Yuma Base for some time. The article, which follows, was accompanied by several pictures of Capt. Reichert:

In these times of highly-mechanized war, many of us are inclined to forget the Post Veterinarian and the extremely important duties he performs. His is a job which effects the health and security of everyone on the post from the Commanding Officer to the civilian worker. Yet, despite the obvious importance of these responsibilities, few of us have ever heard of him and still fewer are fully aware of his contribution to post life.

The Post Veterinarian at YAAF is Captain P. F. Reichert. Under his supervision, all the meat consumed on the post is carefully inspected. His office is also responsible for the equally careful inspection of all dairy products used by the personnel of YAAF. Should the rigid Army health standards be relaxed for a moment, the health of the entire post would be placed in jeopardy.

An interesting sidelight of the duties of Capt. Reichert is his supervision of the care of the War Dogs stationed here. In the event of an emergency, those members of the 'K 9' Corps must be fit for instant use. Once again, the responsibility rests with the 'vet.'

Besides his duties as Post Veterinarian, Capt. Reichert is also Post Medical Inspector. In this capacity, he must inspect the mess halls of the post, and clean mess halls are the first requirement of the sound health of post personnel.

Capt. Reichert's job would be impossible without the assistance of a competent staff. Here on the post he is helped by S-Sgt. James Best and Pfc. Walter Lutz. On detached service at the Jersey farms for the purpose of maintaining a constant watch on the standards of the dairy products, is Pfc. N. P. Hauser. All of these men have to be "on the ball" or many of us would be "on our backs." Hats off to the Post Veterinarian and his entire staff!

Assembly Area Command, France. With a record of fighting with five armies in four countries, the 772nd Tank Destroyer Battalion is en route to the United States.

The battalion entered combat last December 22, but jammed the ensuing five months with action. Under the direction of Lieut. Col. Harry W. McGlellan, 2814 Hillcrest avenue, Augusta, Ga., the men put in 145 days without relief in the Ninth, First, Seventh and Third United States Armies and the 1st French Army, and traveled thousands of miles in France, Holland, Belgium and Germany during the fiercest fighting of the war.

With the 75th Division, the 772nd formed the northern flank of the Ruhr pocket and participated in the attack on Dortmund. They contained these forces and performed occupational duty in Warburg, Germany, until relieved to proceed through the Assembly Area Command's redeployment camps enroute to the States. S/Sgt. Jay I. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, Wilkinson St., was one of the officers of the unit.

FISHING LICENSE SALES LAG.
Lansing—While sales of fishing licenses are lagging behind last year's totals, conservation department license receipts so far this year are 2.5 per cent above 1944 figures.

June sales of fishing licenses, however, nearly wiped out an earlier 10 per cent lag in this classification, reducing it to 1.9 per cent below the 1944 total.

The department had reported a month ago that 1945 receipts from sales of all licenses were 2.9 per cent below those for the comparable period in 1944. June's brisk business lifted 1945 receipts to 2.5 per cent above.

Receipts this year are $480,687; for the corresponding period last year they were $468,774. Sales of resident fishing licenses in June totaled $157,519; non-resident $55,648, a total of $213,167.

RADAR

Spotted Targets Through Darkness, Smoke or Fog

The Bell System

— the largest source of Radar for our fighting forces

THIS is not surprising for Radar development and production stems from the same roots that produced and continue to nourish this country's telephone system.

Radar, the instrument which enabled our land, sea and air forces to spot enemy targets through darkness, smoke or fog, was one of the outstanding new fighting instruments of the war.

Two years before Pearl Harbor the Government asked Bell Telephone Laboratories to put its wide experience and knowledge of electronics to work to help perfect Radar as a military instrument.

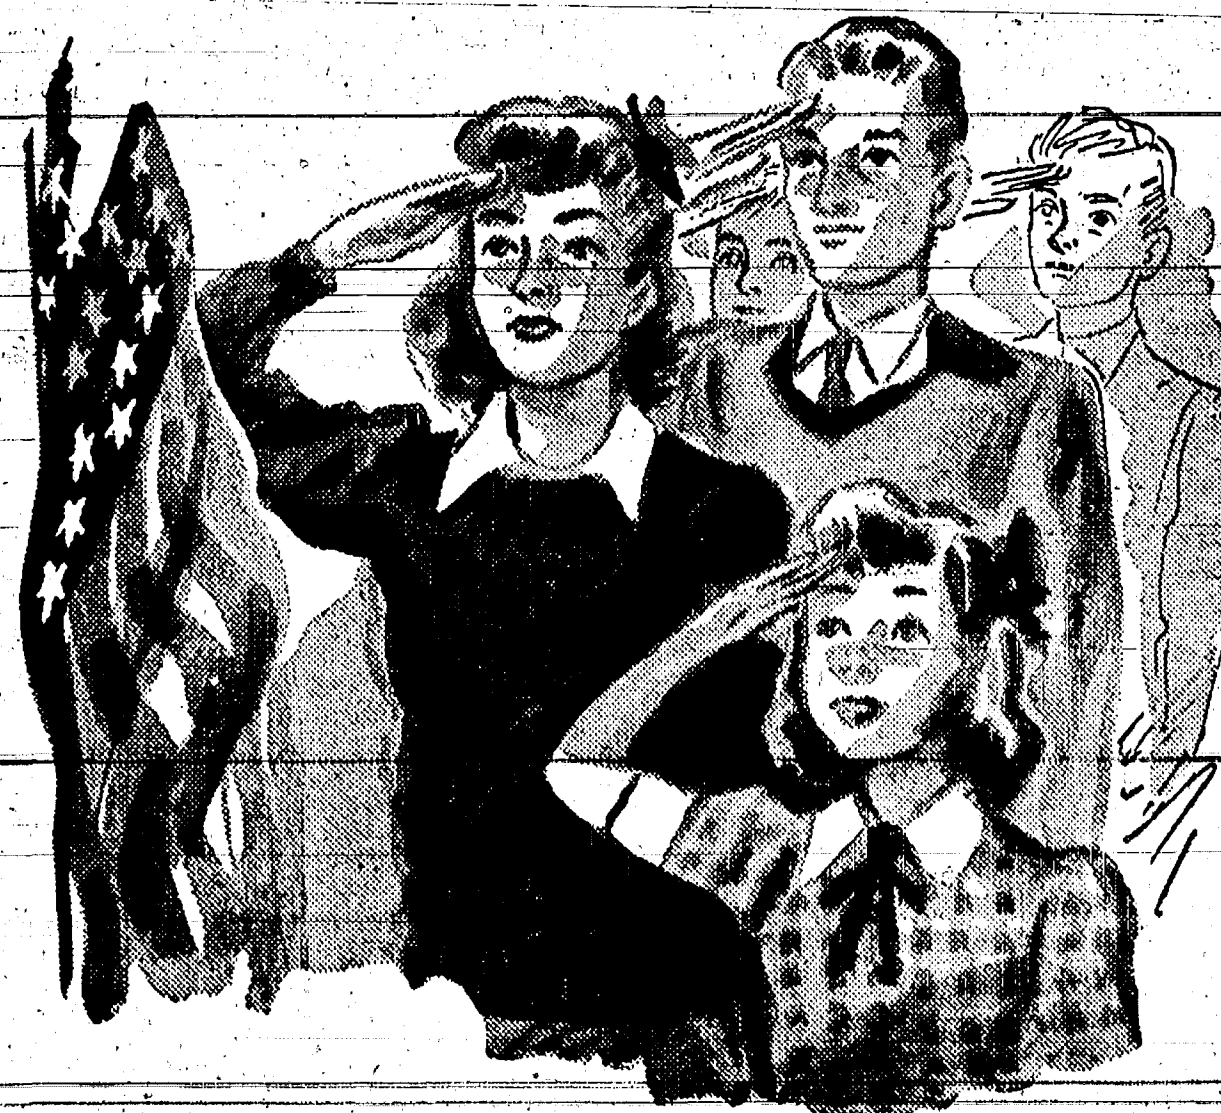

From then on, the Laboratories cooperated closely in the Radar program with the National Defense Research Committee, with Army and Navy specialists, and with scientists of Great Britain.

The Western Electric Company, manufacturing branch of the Bell System, became the Nation's largest supplier of Radar systems. One type it made was universally used by B-29's in the Pacific for navigation, target location and high altitude bombing. Another played an important part in aiming the guns on our warships.

If you're waiting for a home telephone, it helps a little to know that Radar is one of the reasons. For years telephone manufacturing plants were devoted to war needs.

Sound Envelope
"Sound in an envelope" describes a recent development in plastics and electronics which is expected to find considerable postwar use wherever a permanent record of sound is called for. The device is a voice recording - reproducing apparatus, made especially compact and portable. Sound is recorded with high fidelity on a wafer-thin plastic record which is only seven inches in diameter and on each side of which 15 minutes' dictation can be recorded. A disk is so light that it can be mailed in an envelope, bent, rolled, dropped, and written on with a pencil without harming the sound track.

Tomatoes Lead in Popularity
Surveys indicate that tomatoes are by far the most popular garden crop. Both past performances and present plans give this fruit first rank. Beans are second in popularity, with preference divided between the green and lime varieties. Cabbage, carrots and lettuce all ranked high on the list. Following in close order were corn, beets, cucumbers, green peas, mustard, peppers, potatoes, radishes, squash, turnips, kale, spinach, Swiss chard and onions. These and many other vegetables appear on the plans being drawn up for this year's gardens.

Heat Control
A newly-invented heat-control device makes it possible for each apartment in a large building to have individual heat. No longer does one temperature have to be set for the entire house. Special types of thermostats control the heat to suit each occupant.

VETERANEWS

from the
OFFICE OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS
Lansing

How veterans can obtain surplus property on a high priority to establish or maintain themselves in business is explained in the following list of questions and answers released by Smaller War Plants Corporation, which is responsible for purchasing surplus property for veterans.

Q. Who is a veteran?

A. A veteran, as defined by the Surplus Property Board, is any person who served honorably in the active military or naval service of the United States on or after September 16, 1940, and before the end of the present war.

Q. Is a woman who served in the WAC or the WAVES entitled to priority in purchasing surplus property?

A. Yes, women who served in any branch of the Armed Services are entitled to it.

Q. Can a veteran apply for surplus property before his discharge?

A. No, he must have been discharged under honorable conditions, but SWPC now will furnish him information as to how he may proceed after his discharge.

Q. What evidence, other than an honorable discharge, must he submit in order to buy surplus property on a top priority?

A. He must show that the property is to be used in establishing or maintaining his own small business, agricultural pursuit, or professional enterprise.

Q. What is a small business or professional enterprise?

A. The capital invested in it must not exceed $50,000.

Q. What kinds of businesses and professions are included?

A. All kinds of commercial, industrial, manufacturing, financial, agricultural, service, legal, medical, dental, and other lawful enterprises are included.

Q. Where should a veteran apply for surplus property to be used in a business or professional enterprise?

A. At the office of the Smaller War Plants Corporation nearest to the locality in which his enterprise is to be located.

Q. What identification should he bring with him?

A. He must show his discharge, or a photostatic copy of it. No other papers are necessary.

Q. When can veterans apply?

A. July 1, 1945 and thereafter.

Q. Can a veteran buy surplus property to be used in farming?

A. Yes, purchases for farming, fruit-growing, livestock and poultry raising, grazing and fishery enterprises are allowed.

Q. What is the limitation on the size of such enterprises?

A. The capital investment for these enterprises must not exceed $25,000.

Q. Where should a veteran apply for surplus property to be used in farming, fruit-growing, and the like?

A. To his local county agricultural agent.

Q. Can a veteran buy a jeep or other surplus property for his own personal use?

A. No, he must show that he plans to use it in his business before he can buy it under this priority.

Q. Can a purchase be made on a priority basis if the veteran shares or plans to share the ownership of the enterprise with other persons?

A. Yes, but not more than 50 per cent of the enterprise may be owned by non-veterans.

Q. Can any veteran who wishes to start a small enterprise buy surplus property on a priority through the SWPC?

A. The SWPC may decline to exercise its priority in the purchase of surplus property for any veteran whose chances of making a success of a venture are considered unfavorable.

Q. How much property can a veteran buy to set himself up or maintain himself in a business?

A. His purchase must be limited to $2,500.

Q. May several veterans join together to increase the amount of surplus property they are entitled to buy?

A. Yes. For instance, three veterans going into business together are entitled to a purchase of $7,500.

Q. What is the reason for the $2,500 maximum?

A. Its purpose is to insure a broad and equitable distribution of surplus property to the many veterans who are expected to apply for it.

Q. Can surplus property be bought in any quantity?

A. Packaged items must be bought as they are packaged, but a veteran may buy a single package, which usually will contain a small quantity.

Q. What prices will veterans have to pay for property bought through SWPC?

A. Prices will be fixed by the disposal agency but no price will ever be greater than the original cost to the Government, less allowances for depreciation and obsolescence.

Veterans also may take advantage of the procedure set up by the Smaller War Plants Corporation to make surplus property available for purchase by small businessmen. The $2,500 limitation does not apply to purchases made under these procedures, and the goods may be bought for resale. However, these goods cannot be bought under the priority accorded to veterans, though special consideration may be given to veterans who apply as small businessmen.

Veterans and others who wish more information about the policies and procedures that govern the sale of surplus property to small businessmen may obtain it from the regional and district offices of the Smaller War Plants Corporation. There are 110 of these offices throughout the country.

Magnet A Mystery

The common magnet is still a mystery. For more than 3,000 years people have pondered the question: What is magnetism? But no one's ever given the answer. Today magnets have countless applications. They've gone to war—in airplanes, in tanks, in motors of all kinds, in secret fighting equipment whose nature cannot be told. Children have been fascinated by them for centuries. Scientists have used them to experiment. Because of recent developments, their future promises to bring us many new products for home and industry. Yet no one can explain their essential nature.

Removing Ink Stains

This method can be practiced effectively, if with extreme care, on some fabrics and colors. A preliminary test should be made on a hidden hem where, if fading follows, the effect will not be visible. Remember, some inks are removed by simple methods while others require seven or eight stages of treatment by professionals. Once and for all, the name ink embraces many different types of colored writing fluids—just as the word spot refers to stains originating from many different sources requiring many different treatments.

Value of Sicily in War

One item in the strategy of our capture of Sicily is of tremendous importance though its full significance may be appreciated only by the chemists. It is the fact that Mount Etna, the Germans' great source of sulfur, is now in our hands. Now, in many chemical ways we may be able to pour on more brimstone than they can.
