Search for Oil Will Be Continued In This Area

Chelsea's hope of becoming the center of a big oil boom has suffered a temporary setback, with the abandonment for the time being at least, of drilling operations on the Joe Merkel farm, Deckert Rd.

Drilling has been under way on the Merkel farm for the past six weeks and the test went to 1850 feet. There was a show of oil and of gas at various levels, but not in sufficient quantity for commercial purposes.

However, geologists who have been working in this area believe there is a pool of oil nearby, and another test, well will be drilled, with operations to start this week on the Albert Hinderer farm south of Chelsea. It is believed that three or four test wells will be drilled in the hope of finding a pool.

C. W. Collins of Mt. Pleasant has leased about 9000 acres of land in Sylvan and Sharon townships, and the Sun Oil Co. is leasing a large number of farms in Sharon and Freedom townships.

Apparently there's black gold in "them thar hills" and it is hoped at least one of the interested companies will hit the jackpot!

New Bang's Disease Law Effective Sept. 6

A new law listed as Public Act No. 280, of the Regular Session of 1945, effective September 6, will be of much importance to farmers and especially livestock dealers who buy and sell cattle, states Charles Figy, Commissioner of Agriculture.

The Act provides that all cattle over twelve months of age that are sold, or moved to associate with cattle of another herd must be accompanied with a certificate of record which shall be issued by the Commissioner of Agriculture, showing the animal to be negative to a Bang's disease test within thirty days or that the cattle originated from a herd which was tested and the entire herd negative within ninety days prior to such sale or movement.

The Act provides that it shall not apply to steers or cattle being moved for immediate slaughter.

Vaccinated cattle over 12 months of age must have the same certificate unless they were vaccinated under Federal-State supervision between the ages of four and eight months and were negative to test prior to vaccination and properly recorded with the Department of Agriculture.

With Our Men In Service

John Dvorak, MM-2C, stationed in the Admiralty Islands, sent the following letter to The Standard:

Admiralty Islands, Aug. 17.
Dear Mac,
Tonight I received your July 5 edition of The Standard and would like to request the continuation of my paper. The one I got today made three I got this week and it is certainly good to get the news from home in them.

We heard the good news of the end of the war last Saturday morning and now can look to getting back to the States in the next few months. We're starting a pretty good sized job now and maybe it will be our last. I've been running a motor grader about all the time over here and like the work pretty well, although it gets pretty hot out here in the sun.

A couple of weeks ago I flew up to the Philippines and visited my brother's grave at Palo, a little town about eight miles from Tacloban, the provincial capital of Leyte.

I'm fine and have been except for a few times I had malaria, and haven't been bothered with it now for some time. I've met Bob Bycraft, and Shorty Berger from Sugar Loaf Lake since being here.

We've been in this one group of islands 15 months now, which is quite a while to spend in one place. A few of our boys went to Australia a couple months ago but there were only a very few leaves available for each unit on this base, so everyone is really looking forward to getting back and seeing some civilization again for a change.

Well Mac, I've got some other writing to do so I'll be closing, hoping this finds everyone fine.
Johnnie.

Ralph Steinhelfer, Jr., Radarmen 2C, who has spent the past three years in the Pacific aboard a cruiser in the Third Fleet, is a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. Jas. Ridd. He has been awarded three silver stars and one bronze star for his participation in battles and invasions.

Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Brueckner received word on Saturday from their son, Captain M. F. Brueckner, that he will arrive here in about three weeks. Capt. Brueckner has been overseas since April, 1942, and served in North Africa, Italy, France, and Germany.

MM-1C Richard Urbany, stationed on the carrier Monterey with Halsey's invasion fleet, is now in Tokyo harbor. He is the husband of Rita Bycraft Urbany.

Called To The Colors

Rev. Theo. P. Brueckner, who was ordained at Zion Lutheran church on Sunday evening, has enlisted as a chaplain in the United States Navy and will report in thirty days for special training. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Brueckner of Rogers Corners.

Included in the list of Washtenaw men who will report for induction at Ann Arbor on Friday is Norman V. Fouty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Fouty, Cavanaugh Lake Road. Norman was born in Jackson on May 16, 1927, and has recently been employed at the Michigan Molded Plastics Co., Dexter. The family have made their home in this vicinity for about two years.

Former Principal Honored

A party honoring Miss Ethel Taylor, of Los Angeles, Calif., a former principal in the Chelsea public school, was held on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Edwin I. Gaunt, and an enjoyable time was spent in reminiscing, after which the hostess served refreshments. Miss Taylor is spending several days as the guest of Chelsea friends.

CONCERT POSTPONED

The band concert scheduled for last Saturday night has been postponed until sometime in October, when a concert will be given to complete the series of six concerts planned for the summer. AUTOS COLLIDE ON M-92

1500 To Exhibit At 30th Annual State 4-H Show

More than 1,500 Michigan 4-H club members, selected representatives of the 88 counties in the state, will compete for honors at the 30th annual State 4-H Club Show to be at Michigan State College, East Lansing, for three days, September 8 to 10.

Preliminary entries indicate at least 1,800 head of livestock will be on exhibit, together with hundreds of entries in baking, clothing, canning, poultry, handicraft, foods, crops and other divisions. Each boy and girl will be competing for a share of the $14,900 in premiums and the special awards to be made by livestock associations and commercial organizations.

A new feature at this year's show will be the leadership awards to be presented to 311 local leaders of Michigan 4-H clubs who have served from 10 to more than 20 years. Seventeen diamond clover pins will be given to those who have served 20 or more years; 69 pearl clover pins to persons who have given 15 years of service; and 225 gold clover awards for those who have led clubs for 10 years. The presentation will be a part of the citizenship ceremony scheduled for the night assembly, Tuesday, September 4, in the college stadium.

The evening program will also feature the selection of Michigan's dress review winner, the showmanship contest, presentation of achievement honors by Charles Figy, commissioner of agriculture and the awarding of colts to the members exhibiting the three best saddle horse champions. E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture at the college, will officiate, and President J. A. Hannah will welcome members and leaders.

Climax of the show will be at 4:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the annual market stock sale will be held. At that time 125 steers, 120 hogs, and 50 lambs, all raised and exhibited by 4-H club boys and girls, will go under the auctioneer's hammer. Highlight will be the auctioning of the grand champion and reserve champion animals.

Of interest to adult farmers will be Farmers' Day to be Tuesday, September 4, in conjunction with the 4-H Show. Special demonstrations and a tour of the college experimental farms are being arranged.

St. Mary's School Will Open On September 6

St. Mary's Parochial school will open its doors for another semester year on September 6. School will be in session only in the morning for registration on Thursday. Parents are requested to see that all children are present for this registration.

A good start makes all the difference in the world. An almost sure fire method for parents to insure gratifying reports on their child's first report card is to insist upon the student being regular in attendance and conscientious about doing his homework.

A Parochial school education means, also, that a child is developed completely—body, mind and soul.

State's New Dairy Law Is Explained By Figy

One new dairy law designed by the dairy industry to further safeguard bottled milk becomes effective September 6. This law provides for the compulsory pasteurization of all milk sold for direct consumption in any city, county or township when requested by the County Board of Supervisors. Commissioner of Agriculture Charles Figy said he had received many inquiries in regard to the effect of the new law and explained that it would not immediately require the pasteurization of all milk sold in the state until requested by County Boards of Supervisors and Township Boards.

While all authorities agree that pasteurization is the most important process in the handling of milk there seems to be little connection between the amount of raw milk sold and the number of undulant fever cases reported throughout the state. Figy states that according to a survey just completed by the Bureau of Dairying, over 99 per cent of the milk sold in Michigan is now pasteurized and that the counties of Dickinson, Houghton, Marquette, Genesee, Oakland and Macomb, where the largest amounts of raw milk is sold, report only three cases of undulant fever, while Sanilac, Hillsdale, Branch, Calhoun, Eaton, Kent and Ottawa counties with very little raw milk being sold report 56 cases.

Since the majority of cases are reported from rural counties with the greatest cow population it would indicate that probably most of the cases of undulant fever are actually contracted from handling infected animals and from contact with human carriers, and Commissioner Figy warns farmers of the danger of failing to have their herds Bang's tested or of keeping reactors in their herds. "While the farmer is in the greatest danger of contracting undulant fever, I do not believe that city people or tourists can afford to gamble on the chances of contracting disease from the use of raw milk," says Figy. "Neither do I believe any milk dealer can afford to sell raw milk, as courts of the State of Washington have held a milk dealer liable for damages because he failed to provide the safeguard of pasteurization and disease may have been contracted from raw milk."

"Copies of the new law have been printed, along with amendments to the standards for pasteurization and are being mailed to all milk dealers, to the County Boards of Supervisors and to all city and county health departments. Four new dairy inspectors are now being trained and with the return of five members now in the armed services, we will have a trained staff to offer all assistance to the dairy industry and to any city or county in their inspection work."

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A surprise party was given in honor of Mrs. Misalides' birthday on Wednesday evening, with guests from Chelsea, Detroit and Alma. A huge white three-tiered cake centered the table, surrounded by exquisitely wrapped gifts and bouquets of flowers. Games were played, with Miss Artemis Ligos winning high prize. A late supper was served, of roast ducks and chickens. Mrs. Misalides received a beautiful corsage from Mr. Misalides, consisting of yellow daisies and yellow rosebuds.

Tenderizing Meat
Methods of tenderizing the tougher meats include grinding or cooking with vinegar or tomatoes. If cooked in the broth for an hour or so, it will be much juicier.

Again the statistics show that some serious accidents have been caused because of drowsiness on the part of automobile drivers.

During warm days, with the reflection of a hot, burning sun on the highway, the monotonous droning of the motor, it is easy to become sleepy or tired.

Some of the state motor vehicle departments have recommended the following suggestions to help avoid fatigue:

1. Stop for short regular periods of rest.
2. Change drivers if possible.
3. Change posture by adjusting seat or pillow.
4. Allow plenty of ventilation.
5. Relax without becoming careless.
6. Avoid heavy meals before driving.

Many more valuable suggestions could be made, but these are essential and we suggest you follow them. Stay awake and stay alive.

Keeping Faith WITH QUALITY

..KEEPING FAITH with THE PUBLIC

"Michigan" Bread will NEVER be baked down to a price. Keeping faith with the public is a time-honored tradition with its makers.
In food products, price competition is an insidious proposition in which the public always loses.
It requires no great ability to produce a loaf of inferior quality and sell it for a penny or two less. Any baker can do that. But for that apparent saving of one or two pennies, you may forfeit as high as fifty per cent of the food value.
Because bread plays so important a role in maintaining the health and vigor of children and adults alike, the bakers of "Michigan" Bread have always considered any compromise with quality, any lowering of standards to permit of lower price of that bread, a violation of public trust.

Michigan Bakeries, Inc. will not deviate from its fixed purpose of making "Michigan" Bread the finest, most nutritious bread that can be produced — using only the choicest blends of flours and other select ingredients — all mixed and baked by the most modern methods, under rigidly guarded sanitary conditions. "Michigan" Bread, you may be sure, will always be your most economical bread.
Get your money's worth. Insist on "Michigan" Bread.

Our Lady of Good Counsel church of Plymouth was the scene Saturday morning, August 25, of the nuptial high mass and double ring ceremony uniting Amalia Zielasko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zielasko of Newburg, and James P. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy of Lyndon township. The Rev. William Mooney officiated. The altar was decorated with white gladiolus in gold vases and lighted tapers. The soloist, Phyllis La Verne, sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day," accompanied by Mrs. Noise.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her bridal gown was made in princess style with bodice of ivory satin, having a sweetheart neckline with ruffles trim and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The skirt was double net over satin and was appliqued with satin leaves ending in a long train. Her coronet of orange blossoms held the double fingertip veil in place. She carried a white prayer book mounted with gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Joseph Blaharski, a sister, was matron of honor, wearing a white net gown made with a shirred bodice and ruffle outlining the yoke. A picture hat in light green net and matching accessories completed her costume. She carried Johanna Hill roses and yellow daisies as did the other attendants to the bride.

Kathleen La May of East Detroit, a niece of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Lucille Zielasko and Lorraine Kocinaki, cousins of the bride. Their gowns were in white with taffeta bodice and net skirts over taffeta. Miss La May wore a picture hat in green and the bridesmaids wore yellow.

Mrs. Zielasko wore an aqua shadow print crepe dress with brown accessories and Mrs. Murphy was gowned in dark aqua mesh with black accessories. Gardenias formed their corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a breakfast was served at the bride's home on Hix road, with a dinner and reception later in the day.

Following a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will reside in Pinckney. For traveling Mrs. Murphy wore an aqua wool crepe two-piece dress with brown accessories.

Guests were present from Pinckney, Chelsea, Howell, Jackson, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids, Ypsilanti, Bay City and other nearby towns.

Navy Demobilization Program Is Explained

Who will go home first? How will they get home? What plans have been made to make the transition from naval life to civilian life orderly and of maximum benefit for the individual man or woman?

These are the questions being asked by loved ones of some 1,500,000 to 2,500,000 men and women to be released within the next 12 to 18 months. Now they are being answered by the Navy's demobilization program.

Already the Navy is beginning to release 327,000 persons who have sufficient points under the new discharge system. Others will be discharged when their point scores reach the required totals. In addition, the Navy is still releasing personnel in cases of hardship or dependency and in cases of enlisted men 42 or over.

When your Navy man is eligible for discharge he will be sent direct to a naval personnel separation center, if he is stationed in the United States. If he is aboard ship in the forward areas he will either be sent to staging areas in the Pacific or routed to receiving stations in the United States.

Once he arrives at the separation center, he will be a busy man for 72 hours, but after that time he will be a civilian again. During those 72 hours, he will learn his rights and benefits as a veteran. If he wishes to continue his education, interviewers will advise him of the proper steps to take under the G.I. Bill of Rights. Whatever he wishes to do in the transition to civilian life will be speeded along by the Navy. By the use of motion pictures, posters and pamphlets, the Navy will give the veteran information which will aid in the adjustment to civilian life.

The interviews will start with a general discussion between the veteran and a trained officer or enlisted man. If problems arise which require additional help of a specialized nature, the man will be referred to one or more of nine consultants. Each man will carry away with him an analysis of his Navy training and experience in terms of comparable civilian occupations; an inventory of his education; a review of his specialized Navy training, the names and addresses of key people or agencies with whom he can talk about his future plans when he reaches home and full instructions on how to obtain any veterans' benefits.

Even after he is back in civilian life, the Navy will stand by to help the veteran. After about 30 days a letter will be sent to every man separated from the service asking whether any new problems have arisen on which he would like further help.

When he leaves the separation center, the veteran will have all pay due him, including the first installment of mustering-out pay.

While the Navy is anxious to release all men and women when they become eligible under the point system, it can be understood that some with critical skills must be retained for the present to serve in important positions until replacements can be trained. These include pharmacist mates and hospital apprentices who treat the Navy's wounded; specialists who are needed to speed demobilization, shore patrolmen and dispersing storekeepers.

The Navy is prepared to reduce the points required for discharge when the present group of eligibles is released. Above all, the Navy intends that its demobilization will be orderly and that the new veterans will be fully informed of their rights as civilians.

HOLD CORN ROAST

Youth for Christ held a corn roast last Saturday evening that was a great success. People from Ann Arbor, Detroit, Northville, South Lyon, Jackson, Ypsilanti and Flint, as well as those from Dexter and Chelsea were present for the event, which was held at the Sterling farm, N. Territorial Rd.

Everyone enjoyed the wonderful evening, which included food for all, cooked over open fires, and the program that followed, not to forget the games that preceded it.

The speaker for the evening was Robert Chenault, a Detroit business man. The topic for his message was "A Changeless Christ In a Changing World."

The next meeting of Youth for Christ will be held in the home of Mrs. J. G. Sterling, 12670 N. Territorial Rd., on Sept. 1 at 8:15 p.m. Transportation from Dexter and Chelsea will be available at your respective high schools at 7:30 p.m.

Watch next week's paper for an important announcement in regard to Youth for Christ.

Passenger Pigeons Unprotected
When a bill to protect the passenger pigeon was introduced in Ohio in 1897, a senate committee reported, "The passenger pigeon needs no protection, and no ordinary destruction can lessen them, or be missed from the myriads that are yearly produced." And now the passenger pigeon is no more!

The "QUEENS" in!
trainloads of homecoming troops

FROM the decks of the world's largest liner, towering above her dock, 15,000 eager, khaki-clad passengers watch New York Central's harbor fleet go into action.

A ferry noses expertly up to the pier and makes fast. A powerful tug stands by to steady her. Then, in endless file, soldiers stream from the great ship, along the pier and aboard the ferry which shuttles them to trains waiting at the gaily decorated railroad docks across the river.

Thus the marine know-how of the world's largest railroad harbor fleet, which normally serves thousands of New York Central's foreign traders, is now speeding the return of America's victorious fighters... the biggest and most welcome transportation job of the war. For it's the job of bringing back in months the mighty forces that were years moving abroad.

Your understanding and cooperation have helped with every war task, from mobilization to the homecoming of our boys. And tomorrow the experience born of that tremendous transportation effort will mean finer, more efficient rail service for you.

Wildfowl Season Will Open on September 20
Lansing—Zero hour for wildfowlers inside Michigan's borders is a half hour before sunrise, September 20. The season continues through Dec. 8, each day's sport to end at sunset.
Only change in federal regulations ordered by the conservation commission this week opens the season on rails and gallinules (other than coot) on September 20, coinciding with that for other migratory game birds. Season's end for taking of rails and gallinules (other than coot) is Nov. 30. Federal regulations fixed September 1 as opening date.
It will be lawful to take 10 ducks per day of which not more than one may be a wood duck. Any person may possess not more than 20 ducks including not more than one wood duck. Twenty-five American and red-breasted mergansers, singly or in the aggregate, may also be taken in a day, with no limit to the number which may be held in possession.
It will be lawful to take four blue and snow geese (singly or in the aggregate) in one day plus two of other kinds (except Ross geese). It will be unlawful to possess eight blue and snow geese (singly or in the aggregate) plus four of other kinds (except Ross geese).
It will be lawful to take or have in possession 15 rails and gallinules (other than sora and coot) in the aggregate of all kinds. Day's allowed take of coot and sora rails is 25 each, with 25 each in possession at any time.
Open season on woodcock extends from October 1 through October 15 in the upper peninsula, October 15 through October 29 in the lower peninsula. Daily bag limit is four, with eight in possession.
Federal regulations for 1945 cut off the additional daily bag of five mallards, pintails, or widgeons, allowed last season. This regulation was confusing and of small significance in Michigan, and evidently failed to control damage to west coast grainfields as was intended.
Restrictions on the taking of migratory birds:
Unlawful to shoot waterfowl over baited areas.
Unlawful to use live duck or goose decoys.
Unlawful to take waterfowl by means, aid, or use of cattle, horses, or mules.
Unlawful to shoot migratory game birds from or by an automobile, airplane, sinkbox (battery), power boat, any boat under sail, or any floating craft or device of any kind towed by power boat or sail power.
Unlawful to shoot waterfowl, coots, rails, gallinules, or woodcock prior to one-half hour before sunrise, or after sunset.
Unlawful to use any firearms other than shotgun or to use a shotgun larger than 10-gauge, or an automatic or hand operated shotgun capable of holding more than three shells, the magazine of which has not been cut off or plugged with a one-piece metal or wooden filler incapable of removal through the loading end.
Unlawful to have migratory game birds in possession more than 30 days after the close of the season thereon. Exception: Such birds may be kept an additional 60 days under permit issued by the conservation department. VETERANEWS

from the OFFICE OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS Lansing

With victory over Japan final and complete, Michigan communities are taking careful inventory of local resources for serving returning servicemen and stepping up the tempo of preparations. And in the matter of preparedness, Michigan may truly be said to have a flying start on most all of the other states.

In Michigan, there have been organized, under the leadership of the Office of Veterans' Affairs, 153 veterans' centers in as many Michigan communities. Those few yet unorganized may have immediate and intensive assistance of the office in setting up veterans' centers upon request.

Employment a Problem

Many communities, anticipating the fact that cessation of war production will throw many out of work until factories can convert to the production of civilian goods, have undertaken block-to-block and store-to-store surveys to build up a back-log of jobs for returning servicemen. They are speeding plans for public works to provide temporary employment during the change-over period. With the cancellation of gasoline rationing, a steady trek of non-Michigan workers back to their homes has begun. How well communities meet the demand of veterans for jobs will provide the initial test of the success of community planning for veterans.

Housing Another Task

Larger communities, particularly those south of Bay City, have undertaken housing surveys in behalf of returning veterans, for many have married since donning the uniform and cannot return to their room under the old home roof. A job and a place to live comprise the veteran's first needs.

Expect 10,000 Per Month Soon

The Office of Veterans' Affairs expects that, within 30 days, 10,000 veterans a month will return to Michigan, with a gradual but steady increase in succeeding months.

"The veteran rightly looks to his home community for help," an Office of Veterans' Affairs spokesman declared. "The parents, friends and neighbors can be counted upon to lend him a hand because of their esteem and affection. But these home-town well-wishers must be organized to do an efficient job. All local resources must band together with but one thought—to help the veteran, no matter what his problem may be. The fighting is over, the glamor of the uniform will soon fade. But if our thanks is sincere and lasting, as it should be, the veteran's every need will be satisfied right in his old home town."

Unnecessary Expense</

By GENE ALLEMAN

If you still persist in the fable that we don't have inflation, ponder this: Michigan state banks are bulging with money. Savings deposits of individuals have soared during the past four years, June 30, 1941 to June 30, 1945. From $448 to $1,029 million dollars. Total deposits are now 2,103 millions, of which 1,388 millions are invested in government bonds and 426 millions are in cash due from other banks and reserves from federal reserve banks. These figures, dry as they seem, and vouched for officially by William Nelson, state banking commissioner at Lansing, attest to the degree of inflation which exists in Michigan today.

Add to this the many millions of war bonds, purchased and held by Michigan citizens, and you get a fairly good idea of the tremendous accumulation of buying power which could burst like a tidal wave upon Michigan retailers after V-J Day. It indicates the seriousness of the present threat of MORE inflation, and it poses a problem to all thinking Americans who don't want to see their investments depreciated, and possibly wiped out, by sky-high prices.

"In the average agricultural state, such as Iowa and Nebraska, the wartime increase in individual savings deposits has been moderate," said Mr. Nelson.

"Michigan's concentration of war industry accounts in part for Michigan's savings boom. I do believe that Michigan farmers, mindful of the recent depression are more cash-minded than farmers in other states. Our rural banks show substantial increases in savings. Farmers are thrifty," Nelson pointed to a Babson earnings index, national in scope, which showed 58.1 for the low level of 1933; 116.9 for the 1929 boom peak; and, as of Jan. 1, 1945, the record-breaking high of 198.4. Citing statistics of Michigan bank deposits compiled by his department, Nelson said, "Michigan's inflationary trend has been practically continuous since Pearl Harbor."

Other inflation signs, from reliable sources:

Nationally, the seventh war loan quota of $14 billions was topped by $12 billions, a total of more than $26 billions. E bond sales came within 6-10 of one per cent of the $4 billion goal.

Americans have increased their individual assets about $65 billions since the end of 1939. They hold three times as much cash as at the end of 1939. In addition, individual holdings of government bonds have increased $35 billions.

Business enterprises, incorporated and unincorporated, have increased their holdings in cash, bank deposits and government securities by more than $40 billions since the end of 1939. American agriculture is BIG business, so reports the U. S. department of agriculture in a new report, "The Balance Sheet of American Agriculture, 1945." Farmers' assets now total 90 billions; may be 97 to 99 billions by 1946. Cash on hand totals 11.6 billions. 188% more than farmers had just before the war. 20% increase over 1944. Liquid assets, bonds and cash, will run about 15.6 billions. Compared to this, farmers owe less than 9 billions for a net worth of about 82 billions, just 87% more than in 1941, four years ago!

Returning veterans who contemplate purchase of a farm are urged to consult the local county agricultural agent and the county land use map before signing on the dotted line. This advice comes from the agricultural committee of the Michigan state planning commission, as a result of rising price inflation of Michigan farm lands.

Quoting the financial editor of the New York Times: "The threat of inflation is greater at the present moment, on every possible evidence, than it has ever been since the Civil war."

Bank Commissioner Nelson points to these encouraging signs: Many people still remember the Michigan bank holiday. . . recall the long depression with bread lines and hard times. . . and are going to pay off their debts now, hold on to war bonds and bank deposits later. While some people may squander money foolishly, they're in a minority, as Nelson sees it.

Suspension of officials in charge of the state prison at Jackson, as decreed by the state corrections commission last week, following Attorney General John Dethmer's sensational disclosures of maladministration, brings up the authority of the governor over appointive state boards. The act creating the correction commission gives the governor specific power to suspend any member "for a cause established on hearing". General statutory rights clothe the governor with power to suspend any state officer pending a hearing of grievances. Gist of the Jackson showdown is this: If the corrections commission hadn't acted, Governor Kelly would have done so on his own.

Why was Senator Warren G. Hooper killed? The Hooper murder conspiracy trial at Battle Creek and the forthcoming September trial of Frank D. McKay and associates serve to remind us that the "smoke" which prompted the calling of a one-man grand jury at Lansing was the legislative controversy over group banking. Interesting enough, while the grand jury issued warrants covering many other matters, the bank case, is still open and indictments are yet to be made.

A greater postwar demand for dentists than for medical doctors is predicted by Dr. Russell W. Bunfling, dean of the University of Michigan dental school. Reason: Public's new awareness of importance of good teeth. Too many young men were rejected for military service because of poor dentures.

Michigan has contributed more than 220 doctors of medicine to the armed forces, announces the Michigan State Medical society. . . As of April 1 the Michigan Medical Service, cooperative insurance agency, had paid $10,514,359 to doctors for services performed to citizen subscribers. This private medical service is financed by 777,104 Michigan residents.

Public schools of Michigan will get more than 10 per cent increased state aid during the new fiscal year. The legislature raised this from $50 to $56.8 millions, and added $3.2 millions for the teacher retirement fund.

New Laws: Teaching of the general history of the United States and of Michigan will be required. Schools may provide noon lunches and assess charges for them. Automobile drivers must bring their cars to a full stop ten feet behind a school bus loading or unloading pupils.

Counterfeit food stamps are blamed for part of Detroit's current meat famine. The 1945 production of corn, oats and grain sorghums is now indicated to be the smallest since 1941. A bumper crop would be required to permit expansion in the numbers of hogs, larger production of poultry and feeding of beef cattle to heavier weights. Michigan peach prospects are good, and a better yield than average is in sight.

For a continuous supply of fish worms, the state conservation department recommends the following: Fill an iron container with 50 per cent rich earth and 50 per cent dried coffee grounds. Add one pound of vegetable shortening and one pound of corn meal monthly for each 5,000 worms. Carp live to be 150 years old. Michigan has 50 public access sites on lakes and streams, purchased by license, fees of Michigan fishermen.

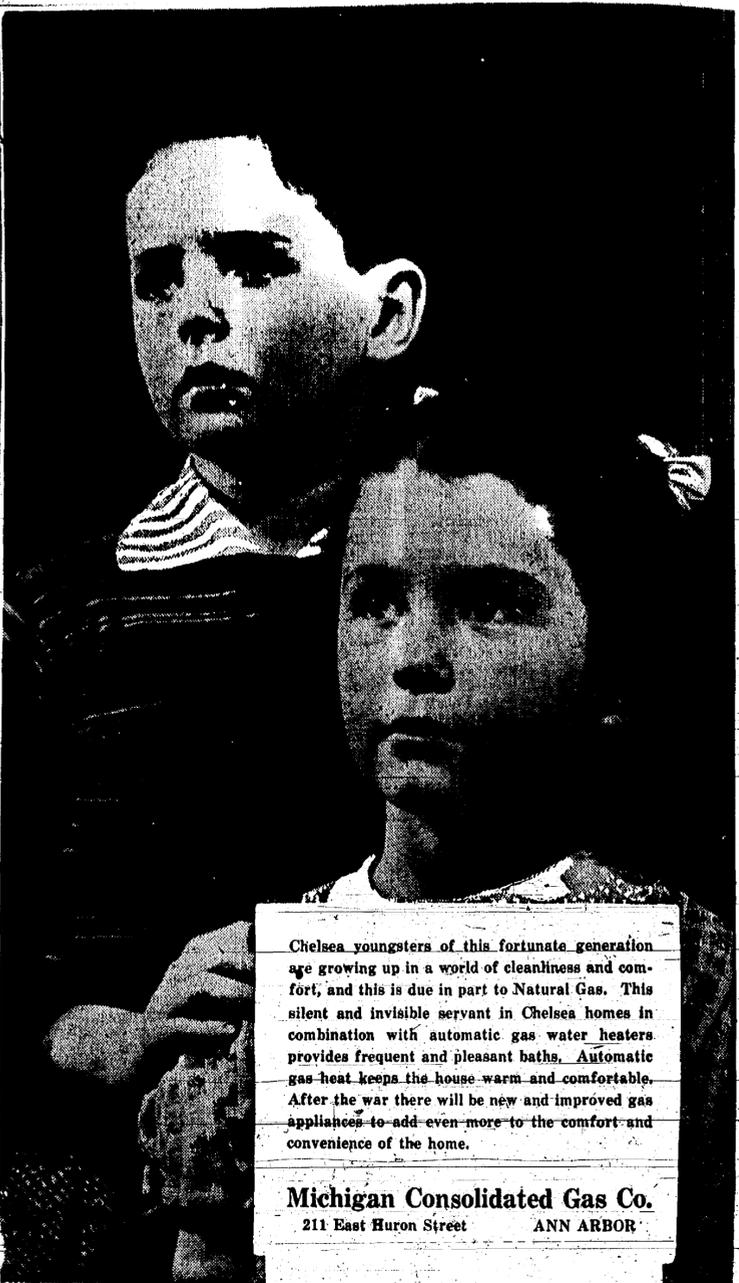

Bogey Stuff. Glimpsed in the Michigan C.I.O. News: "This column has inside information that subversive groups are flocking back to Detroit. . . backed by certain big shots in the automobile industry." Mentioned specifically was the United Sons of America. John W. Gibson, state president, wrote: "Labor was able (in the state legislature) to stop to a standstill the march of the Christian American crowd and their anti-labor legislation drive." What next?

Small Business is BIG Business. About 96 per cent of all business establishments in this country employ fewer than 20 workers. Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace recently testified before a house committee at Washington that these firms account for more than one-third of all American workers in manufacturing and commerce.

The small business advisory committee recommended to the department that the minimum earning for excess profits tax be increased from $10,000 to $25,000. Present federal taxes handicap small business firms whose risks are large. Quotation from the Wallace testimony: "As free competition disappears from our economy, its place is inevitably taken by government regulation. Complete disappearance of free competition, then, means eventually complete regulatory control by the state with all the dangers that implies to the continuance of the ideals of American democracy."

for all that's NEW!

NEW in styling . . . NEW in performance
. . . NEW inside and out!

There's a brand new car on the way. Its name is the oldest in the industry. And this New Oldsmobile is refreshingly different in styling from anything you have ever seen before. It is smoother and livelier in performance. It is even sturdier and longer lived than the Oldsmobiles which have served so faithfully in the past. And this fine car offers the New General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive, the modern "drive" that is fully automatic. In the New Oldsmobile with Hydra-Matic Drive, gears shift automatically through all 4 forward speeds. There isn't even a clutch pedal in the car! All that the driver has to do is step on the accelerator to go, step on the brake to stop. Important wartime developments resulting from combat use in fast Army tanks, make the new Hydra-Matic Drive smoother than ever, even more rugged and reliable. Look to Olds for all that's New! Come in now and see the first color photographs of the New Oldsmobile. Deliveries will start just as soon as the materials situation permits.

. . . AND NEW IN HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE TOOL

Hydra-Matic Drive is the famous General Motors feature that eliminates the clutch pedal entirely. No clutch pedal is needed because all forward-speed gear-shifting is automatic!

there was "no economic justification for the project."

To which, we agree. Here's why...

The Great Lakes provide the greatest single factor in Michigan life.

Our climate, famous with summer vacation-seekers, is controlled by the lakes.

Our automobile industry owes its origin to the manufacture of marine engines, a by-product of transportation on the lakes.

The greatest marine thoroughfare in the world is the Detroit river. The world's largest waterway gate is the Soo canal at Sault Ste. Marie. Michigan has water communication with seven other states, and it affords 31 government improved natural harbors in addition to many ports that have been improved at local expense.

Fantastic as the idea may appear, the project has been authorized by Congress through its river and harbor bill of March 2, 1945, approved by President Roosevelt.

It would link the harbors of Toledo and Chicago by digging a waterway across western Ohio and northern Indiana. Army engineers say the shortcut would save about 450 miles of transportation by way of the Detroit river, Lake St. Clair, Lake Huron and Lake Michigan.

Because the canal would not traverse Michigan counties, interest among Michigan people has been lagging. However, the Indiana state legislative board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers have denounced the scheme in no uncertain words on the grounds that goods, dairy products, furs, canned goods, fishing tackle, cement and other limestone products, adding machines, typewriters and office equipment.

One-sixth of the nation's war output came from Michigan!

Sure, we're good. But so are the Great Lakes.

The Lake Erie-Lake Michigan waterway is not a new dream.

Part of the first link of a canal system which was to connect Lake St. Clair with Lake Michigan is still in existence today. Between Utica and Rochester is a stretch of the old Clinton-Kalamazoo canal. It is still used for water power by the Utica Milling company.

Here's its history. Just more than 100 years ago the Erie canal was completed, and thousands of settlers began arriving here from New York state. Railroads were somewhat of an experiment. Michigan boosters conceived the idea of utilizing the Clinton and Kalamazoo rivers, bridging these waterways with a canal to afford a cross-state route for horse-drawn barges.

Michigan's boy governor, Stevens T. Mason, headed the project. Work started in 1839. The canal got as far as the present Bloomer State Park at Rochester. Money ran out; later the canal was completely abandoned.

The early development of Michigan was due largely to availability of water transportation.

Humorous as it may appear today, a Michigan territorial act of 1836 required the installation of locks in dams on the following rivers: Shiawassee, St. Joseph, Kalamazoo, Thornapple, Huron, Lookingglass and Grand. It was recognition of the navigability of these streams. Governor Mason in his message of January 2, 1837, said that the need for uniting the waters east and west of the Lower Peninsula "has long been conceded."

Some persons wanted to connect the Huron river with the Red Cedar and thence into the Grand to Lake Michigan. Others promoted a waterway utilizing the Raisin and the St. Joseph or Kalamazoo rivers. Every town in the southern tier of Michigan counties had its own favorite route which, of course, would go right through town.

Personally, we wouldn't oppose the Lake Erie-Lake Michigan new barge canal so much, except for one thing: The blooming thing is going to miss Michigan altogether.

Now Michigan almost went to fight with Ohio over the so-called "Toledo strip" of land. We got the best of the deal, for Congress threw in the Upper Peninsula for good measure to keep us from getting mad, and also a lot of us like to go to the Upper Peninsula, especially when the weather is hot in July and August.

But if the army engineers would change the canal route to include Lansing, for example, Michigan legislators might be induced to come out for it.

Anyway, we can't stand by and let Ohio and Indiana get this ditch into which the Great White Father would pour millions of dollars, even if nobody ever would use the darn thing. Why? We've got too much pride. Yes, siree!

Deserving of wide distribution and thoughtful study is the new handbook, "Rural Michigan," just issued by the state department of public instruction at Lansing, through the cooperation of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek. Highlights of this study were presented in this column recently.

"The information it presents is the most recent available," says Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction. Elliott points out that the study is a result of the Conference on Education for Rural Living held at Grand Rapids last January, attended by representatives from 69 counties, 126 communities and 26 organizations. He adds:

"The conference arrived at the following conclusion: If there is to be an improvement in all areas of rural living, action must begin where people live."

Hence the importance of information contained in this challenging booklet which is intended to stimulate thinking and, accordingly, to induce action. That is the true American way.

THE JOB AHEAD

The news that made August 14 a never-to-be-forgotten date in history has been followed by glorious days of rejoicing and thanksgiving.

Now, as we enter the long-awaited era of peace, we face new tasks, new responsibilities—new opportunities. Immediately ahead is the job of swift reconversion to civilian production.

Your Telephone Company has its reconversion problem, too. For Michigan Bell has been on a war footing through all the 44 months since Pearl Harbor. The needs of war took over the raw materials and manufacturing facilities which normally would have allowed us to expand. At the same time, the armed forces and war industry required a vastly increased use of the telephone.

Under those circumstances, there was just one thing for Michigan Bell to do—take care of war needs and essential civilian needs first. All of them were met. But in many instances we were unable to provide telephone service to others who asked for it.

The patience and understanding of the public throughout the war has served as a constant encouragement to our 14,000 employees and has helped them maintain a traditionally friendly and courteous service under trying circumstances. We are grateful for the tolerance of those who have had to do without a telephone, or have had service from us that was not as good as we wanted it to be.

Now we mean to remedy conditions just as fast as we can. We are tackling the job with all we have.

Even in the dark days when victory seemed far away, Michigan Bell engineers were busy designing a post-war program. Their plans call for spending $120,000,000 for expansion and improvement in the next five years—to provide all needed service—to catch up with normal growth and assure safe margins for future development—to utilize scientific improvements—to extend the rural telephone system.

The program will include the erection in Michigan of 46 new buildings and major additions to present buildings, the purchase and installation of $50,000,000 worth of switchboards and other central office equipment, the placing of long distance cable containing 50,000 miles of wire, and local cable containing 2 1/2 million miles of wire—enough wire to encircle the earth a hundred times.

We recognize, as our first obligation the supplying of service to 125,000 Michigan families whose orders have been held up because of war. But this part of the job, too, will take time.

Bell System's Western Electric Company—manufacturers of vital communications equipment for both Army and Navy, makers of 5,000,000 military telephone sets for war use, biggest producer of radar systems—is already reconverting its huge factories to the production of civilian telephone equipment to speed relief of the serious telephone shortage.

Nearly half of the waiting applicants can be served as soon as enough telephone instruments roll off the production line—a matter of months. But telephones are only part of the need. To fill the other orders, cable must be produced, placed and spliced; complex central office equipment must be engineered, manufactured and installed in telephone buildings. Much of this manufacturing and installation involves hand-soldered connections—millions of them—and it must be done in close quarters where only one or two men can work at a time. It's a long slow process.

Many of the projects in our post-war program are already engineered and the equipment ordered. The job is started. It will be accelerated as rapidly as manufacturing facilities, materials and trained men become available.

We already are hiring and training inexperienced men and we hope to have back with us soon our 2,800 experienced employees still in the armed forces. The expansion program will mean jobs ultimately for about 2,000 new workers in addition to our own returning veterans. Thousands of other workers employed by contractors and suppliers will also benefit from Michigan Bell's program.

While the work will be pushed forward with as little delay as possible, we still must ask your co-operation and your patience. The magnitude of the manufacturing and installation job is such that many of those now waiting will not have telephone service for a long time. It may take as much as two years before telephones can be installed generally without delay.

We intend to keep the public advised as to the progress we are making, not only in meeting immediate needs but in moving toward our long-range objectives. And with every confidence we look forward to the day when we again can provide good telephone service whenever and wherever it is wanted.

If you feed calves grain immediately after their milk feed, they are not so likely to get the bad habit of sucking each other.

DUPH COOKS HOLD DINNER
The Dutch Cooks 4-H club held their annual dinner demonstration at Salem Grove church on Friday evening, Aug. 24. Twenty-five people were present, including fourteen mothers and past 4-H members as guests, and eleven 4-H'ers.

The table was spread with a white table cloth and centered with a green vine in a green container, lighted candles, and two miniature flags (4-H flag and U. S. flag) at either end. Place cards were the 4-H emblem in green with white markings.

The three-course dinner consisted of tomato juice cocktail, parsley potatoes, meat loaf, buttered corn, mixed vegetable tray, cloveleaf rolls, chocolate pudding with whipped cream-topped with a cherry, dainty cookies, and iced tea. The food was prepared and served by the 4-H girls, assisted by their leader.

With the exception of the fair work this demonstration ends their summer food projects.

Mrs. T. G. Riemenschneider, the leader, deserves much credit for the girls' success in this year's work.

ENTERTAINS AT DINNER
Mrs. Alfred Faulkner entertained several fellow employees of the Federal Screw Works, with their husbands, at a pot-luck dinner on Sunday at her home in Sylvan township. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Milton Rietmiller of Waterloo, Mr. and Mrs. John Partee, son Dick and Mrs. Martha Sweetland of Grass Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stanfield of Munnich, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Fitzsimmons of North Lake, and Adolph Duerr of Chelsea.
