Cpl. Parker served in the army for four years, 8 months and 18 days, training at Fort Brady, Mich., Camp McCoy, Wis., Middle River, Md., Camp Reynolds, Pa. and Camp Atterbury, Ind. before being sent to Europe. He was engaged in campaigns in France, Belgium, and Germany. On Dec. 19, 1944 he was taken prisoner in the "Battle of the Bulge" and was held in a concentration camp, Stalag 9 B, Bad Orb, Germany for 105 days. Upon his release he was hospitalized in France before being returned to the United States. Previous to his discharge he was stationed at Miami Beach, Fla.

With the 96th Division in the Philippines—Cpl. Willard D. Pearson, 324 E. Middle St., Chelsea, Mich., is now entitled to wear on his right sleeve the gold and yellow wreath denoting membership in a unit which has been cited by the Army for outstandingly meritorious performance of duty.

His organization, Service Battery of the 363rd Field Artillery Battalion, has been so cited for its fine work on Leyte and Okinawa. In both campaigns the battalion's 155mm howitzers played a vital role in wiping out the Jap defenders.

Corporal Pearson served as a Mechanic and Machine Gunner through both operations.

S-Sgt. Donald R. Fogg returned from Europe on the Queen-Elizabeth which docked in New York on Oct. 9, and arrived here last Friday to spend a seven-day furlough with his family before going to Fort Sheridan, Ill. to receive his honorable discharge from the United States Army. Sgt. Fogg entered the service April 21, 1942 and was in training at Fort Lewis, Wash. before going overseas Jan. 18, 1943. He saw action in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. Princeton for three months, CASU No. 24 for one year, then to Patuxent River, Md., N.A.S.

On the USS Nehenta Bay—Richard B. Barton, seaman, second class, of Chelsea, Mich., served on this escort aircraft carrier when she took part in the occupation of Ominato Nagai Base on the northern tip of Honshu, main Japanese island.

Since the Saipan operation, the "Nehenta Bay" has participated in every Pacific operation except Iwa Jima.

Geo. Knoll received word from his son, Donald, that he has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant. Sgt. Knoll, who is stationed at Camp New Orleans, France, stated that he will be unable to be home for Christmas, and that the date of his return is indefinite.

Capt. Paul F. Reichert has been transferred from Yuma, Ariz. to Roswell, N. M.

Give To The War Fund!

Believe It or Not! by Ripley

Col. Cleary Cites Need Of Military Training

Citizens who believe that we no longer need universal military training because the atomic bomb will protect us are victims of a grave and dangerous error in thinking, according to Col. Owen J. Cleary, Ypsilanti soldier and educator.

Col. Cleary is secretary of Michigan's Citizens Committee for Military Training of Young Men, and the American Legion's newly appointed Director, National Defense Commission, Department of Michigan.

"We cannot rely on the atomic bomb for future protection," Col. Cleary points out. "In the case of the atomic bomb, one of three things is certain to happen. First, it may be outlawed, just as poison gas was. President Truman has already suggested this. Second, an adequate defense will be developed against it. Our War Department has already made public a radio technique that will explode the atomic bomb before it reaches its target. Third, in any event within five years other nations will be producing atomic bombs of their own. Thus because we alone possess the atomic bomb today is no guarantee whatever of tomorrow's safety."

No matter what course science takes it is certain that, in the event of another war, every young man in the country will have to be drafted immediately. A war-mad enemy, realizing after two bitter defeats that victory depends on immediate and thorough destruction of American production, will first attempt to knock out America with vast bombers, with radio-controlled rockets, and with divisions of airborne troops that can be landed on American soil within seven hours of their takeoff.

"Our only security, therefore, will lie in our ability to mobilize trainees who have been thoroughly grounded in the fundamentals of warfare. Without such a reservoir of trained manpower, we might lose the war in the first month, as military experts agree we nearly did at Pearl Harbor."

"The alternative to universal military training is a vast and costly permanent Army and Navy. And even with these, in case of war we would need immediate drafts of every able-bodied young man. There is no easy, painless way to wage war."

"We do not want the kind of protracted compulsory military service that European nations had. We ask only that every young man, at some convenient time between his 17th and 21st birthdays, be given one year of military training under Army and Navy officers, and with full pay. Such a system is democratic, effective, beneficial to the men involved, and of all alternative plans the most likely to be a solemn warning to a dictator nation, and hence to prevent war."

FALL CARD PARTY
The American Legion Auxiliary is making plans for a Fall Card Party on Thursday, Nov. 8 at 8 p.m. at the high school gym. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. D. L. Rogers, Mrs. Don Cutler and Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer. Many interesting prizes, including a pair of nylon stockings, will be presented to the lucky winners. A beautiful layer cake will be raffled off during the evening and refreshments will be served at the close of play. For reservations call 2-3211 or 6431. Adv.

4-H Scholarship at MSC Goes To Marjorie Gilson

Miss Marjorie Gilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gale Gilson of Chelsea, who is attending Michigan State College as a freshman this year, has been awarded the all-around county 4-H Scholarship to Michigan State College. This scholarship amounts to $25 and will apply on Marjorie's fees during this year.

Marjorie has been an outstanding 4-H club girl from 1939 to 1944. She successfully completed eleven 4-H projects—five of which were clothing, five canning and one food preparation project. She was named as an honor member upon completion of each project and a county honor member six times. She was winner in 1942 of the county canning medal awarded by the Kerr Glass Co., and winner in 1944 of the county dress review contest sponsored by the American Viscose Corporation.

She also attended the 1944 4-H Club Week as the style delegate from Washtenaw county and was named in the honor group at this event, which drew for her an invitation to enter the State 4-H Dress Revue held during the 1944 State 4-H Show at Michigan State College.

This record shows clearly why Marjorie has received this recent honor at Michigan State College and is indeed a very fine record.

Chelsea Shows Little Interest In Blood Bank

From October 8 through October 12 the State Blood Bank was held at the Washtenaw County Red Cross headquarters, 1601 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, with local workers in charge of Thursday's canteen.

Chelsea's response in answer to an appeal for donors was disappointingly small.

The Red Cross cooperated with the State Health Department in an effort to have free plasma available to doctors and hospitals in the county, and also to replace that which the county borrowed during the past two years.

Canteen workers assisting the chairman, Mrs. P. C. Maroney, were Mrs. Clarence Dietje, Mrs. Norman Schmidt and Mrs. David Mohrlock. Refreshment was served each donor before the donation and sandwiches and coffee following it.

ENTERTAIN DISTRICT OFFICERS
Twenty-seven members of the Women's Relief Corps and 22 guests enjoyed a lovely dinner at noon on Monday at the Masonic hall. Guests included Department Inspector Elizabeth Collier, District President Frances MacNeal, District President Frances MacNeal and 13 of her staff officers. Other guests were from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Dearborn. A regular meeting followed the dinner, with balloting, initiation, reinstatement and draping of the charter for inspection by the visiting officers. Alice Moore was elected delegate to the District convention to be held on October 18 in Lapeer.

GROSSMAN RESIGNS
Police Officer Waldemar Grossman submitted his resignation to the village council recently and it was accepted at their meeting Monday night. Grossman has been a police officer here for more than four years.

Standard Liners Bring Quick Results

By GENE ALLEMAN

Michigan's post-war Tower of Babel is going to be dirty.Witness this bit of demagoguery: Fifty dollars a week or more should be paid by the federal government to each of the following:Every unemployed veteran or civilian;
Every wounded veteran.Furthermore, each adult, 60 years or more, should get from $30 to $50 per week as a retirement pension, also at the bounty of Uncle Sam.The creator of this credo admits freely that "reactionaries" (such as this writer) are going to label him a "crack-pot" who is appealing to "the lunatic fringe." The author is the former lieutenant of Louisiana's Huey Long whose political fame rested on "dividing the wealth" whereby every American was to become a chicken for every meal. His name is Gerald L. K. Smith of Detroit, founder of the America First party and one-time primary opponent of Homer Ferguson for the Republican nomination to the United States senate.All of this Utopia is to be achieved, says the versatile Smith, if enough Americans respond to his appeal for a dues-paying membership in the America First party, Smith's personal money-making racket, and thus proceed to persuade Congress to save the country.Unless they do this, we will have 20,000,000 unemployed within a year.
Next, an era of wild inflation. And finally the smash-up of democracy by a "Red revolution."It's all very simple, to listen to Gerald L. K., who thrives on publicity and probably will be delighted to read this about him.Now you know and I know that Gerald does not believe personally in the above economic objectives. He does believe that there will be enough non-thinking saps in the 88 counties of Michigan who might be induced to subscribe to the screw doctrine and to subscribe some of their own money into Smith's trust.Contrasted to this sort of economic nonsense is some break-and-butter plain talking and clear thinking by a Port Huron industrialist, F. L. Riggins, president of the Mueller Brass company, the town's leading source of employment and its biggest payroll.In a full page message recently in the Port Huron Times Herald, Mr.
Riggins presented the A-B-Cs about the business and its reconversion problems.From a 1939 average of 1,261 workers, the Port Huron company increased its employment to a war-end figure of 3,781. Ninety per cent of 1,105 Mueller employees in the armed services have informed the boss they want their jobs back."Taking out probationers, minors, part time workers and those who have since quit, leaves a total of 4,269 employees who want to work for this company," says Riggins. "Has Mueller Brass company a problem to face now? Can it do a peace-time business equal to the inflated war-time business which was four times as great as ever before? Can it furnish employment for the vastly increased payroll list, including returned veterans?""Again it is undisputed that nobody knows. Every department of management, however, is now devoting its best efforts to that end.""How can post-war contracts be obtained? We are optimistic in the belief that common sense and good judgment are exercised by all parties involved, we can get our share and more of business, and attain levels of peacetime business beyond any previous peacetime record of the company. To get this business in preference to our competitors, including all of the large companies in the brass industry, we must be able to sell goods of equal or better quality at the same or lower price. We think these facts are undisputed also."Can it be questioned that prices are dependent upon costs? We all know that the government has permitted no increase in the selling prices of our products from 1941 to date. We are still compelled to sell at 1941 prices despite substantial wartime increases in all elements of cost.""Realizing all business difficulties, we are nevertheless confident that the company can maintain and improve its place in the brass industry if given a fair chance. The next three or four months are months of uncertainties—uncertainties as to costs, as to prices, as to productiveness, and as to business obtainable. The greatest concern of the company and to its employees is that the epidemic of strikes now sweeping the country might unnecessarily strike down our business effort, cripple our company, lose our customers and impair, if not destroy, our ability to provide jobs."Riggins points out that "there has never been a strike in this company" over such matters as "union contracts or wages." "They have always been settled by the common sense methodof collective bargaining with the aid, where necessary, of the War Labor Board, and we believe we can jointly continue to settle these matters by the same methods."Neither should there be strikes over grievances. Riggins maintains, as "the company has been willing and offers to submit to fair and impartial arbitration any pending disputes over disciplinary action." "Can any fair minded person say that this is not a proper way to settle such matters, rather than by engaging in an economic war, which like all wars, results in a loss to both parties?"That the present post-war period is one of widespread confusion is evident to any observer.Some of the self-evident truths surely must include the following:First, war is an economic paradox in that it creates false and artificial prosperity instead of true and natural prosperity. To safeguard the people from enslavement by aggressors, government takes over all production for war needs. Payrolls are financed largely by adding to the national indebtedness—borrowing from the future.Second, real prosperity is brought about only by a natural increase of production due to greater industrial efficiency—machines and men. This prosperity is measured, not in terms of money, but in an abundance of goods with which to gratify wants of the people.Third, consuming power ultimately comes from production. In the long run, increased production means increased consumption.The military war is over. If we are to attain prosperity without bankrupting ourselves by disastrous indebtedness and costly inflation, we must return to the fundamental A-B-Cs of economics.The Gerald L. K. Smith route is one of sheer nonsense—the road to ruin.
The F. L. Riggins route is one of plain, old-fashioned common sense—the road to prosperity through a cooperative partnership of management and worker whereby differences are settled by collective bargaining and impartial arbitration.To which voice would you be willing to listen and to follow?At this period of our journey down the path from war to peace, we come to the end of a false prosperity that was made possible not by consumer purchases but by adding 270 BILL-IONS to our indebtedness—by borrowing from ourselves.Surely now, if ever, is the time when we should think before we act.Diphtheria Epidemic Is Faced In MichiganMichigan faces a diphtheria epidemic unless a statewide immunization program is carried out immediately, according to Dr. William De-Kleine, state commissioner of health.The 30 deaths from diphtheria reported through August in 1945 represent an 87 per cent increase over the same period last year, he stated.
Diphtheria cases have more than doubled during the first nine months of 1945 with 413 cases reported through September 27 as compared with 204 cases for the same period in 1944.The disease is more widespread than usual, with cases reported in 42 counties as compared to 22 last year.
"With cases in twice as many counties and the inevitable increase in carriers, diphtheria can get completely out of hand in the approaching months," Doctor DeKleine warned.
The months ahead look still darker, he explained, because the regular diptheria season occurs in the late fall and early winter months.Many parents cannot remember the diphtheria epidemics Michigan once suffered, or they would make certain that their children were protected.
When diphtheria is so widespread there is little chance of avoiding contact with the germs, he said. The only safeguard is immunization.Children should be given the first dose of diphtheria toxoid at nine months of age, followed by a second dose a month later. At school age a third dose of toxoid is needed. This is referred to as a "booster dose" since it boosts the child's immunity.
This third dose can be given at any time up to twelve years of age. Children over twelve should be Schick tested and then immunized if this test shows that they are susceptible to diphtheria.

WEDDINGS

Jennings-Knickerbocker

In a beautifully simple and impressive ceremony, Ada Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Jennings of Detroit, became the bride of Chief Radioman Harvey Knickerbocker, U.
S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L.
Knickerbocker of Chelsea.The double ring ceremony was performed on Monday evening, October 8, by Rev. Treet in Bushnell Congregational church in Detroit. The dignified beauty of the church itself precluded any but the simplest arrangement of candelabra and two altar vases filled with red roses and white baby chrysanthemums.The bride wore a gown of white French lace fashioned with a tight bodice, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt with a short train. Her veil of lace edged net was held in place by clusters of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquetof white roses and white baby chrysanthemums.Dorothy Knickerbocker, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor.
She wore a hooped gown of pale pink tulle and a short veil of net. Her bouquet was pink roses and white baby chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were Thelma Irey and Shirley Gorman, lifelong friends of the bride, who wore gowns fashioned like the maid of honor's in cerise and in peacock blue taffeta. They carried bouquets of talisman roses and yellow baby chrysanthemums. The bride chose for her going away outfit a suit of red and black flannel with black accessories.Marion Longworth of Chelsea served as best man. Ray, Clare and David Knickerbocker, brothers of the groom, served as ushers.The bride's mother wore a dress of dove grey crepe, hat and gloves of royal blue and a corsage of dark red roses. The groom's mother was attired in black and wore a corsage of pink roses.Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party and guestswent to the Rouge Park Service Club where a reception was held, at which one hundred ten were present. Out of state guests were from Canada, Connecticut and Pennsylvania. Following the ceremony of cutting the cake and just before leaving the club, the bride threw her bouquet from the pacony. It was caught by the bridegroom's only sister.After the reception the bridal couple, immediate relatives and a few close friends returned to the home of the bride's parents where a surprise informal reception was held in honor of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's parents, during which the bride and groom stole away to begin their journey to Boston, Mass., where for the immediate future they will make their home, while the ship on which the groom has served two and one-half years is undergoing extensive repairs after being hit at Okinawa by two suicide planes last May.Tractor Lubrication

Veterans' Institutes

Realizing that the returning veteran will, in all probability, turn to his home community to continue his education, the Michigan Department of Public Instruction is organizing Veterans' Institutes throughout the State.

Act 182, of the Michigan Public Acts of 1945, authorizes the establishment of Veterans' Institutes by boards of education in any school district which maintains an approved high school.

Each Institute is open to all veterans of World War II residing within the school district. Non-resident veterans may attend the institute with the approval of the local board of education.

The Institute is to be operated as a separate department of the school and will provide studies to meet the needs of the veteran. Correspondence courses, and other extension services, can be used if the courses are taken under the direction of instructors in the Institute.

The Veterans' Institutes were established with the thought that the typical school program is not suited to meet the non-collegiate needs of instruction of the returning veteran.

Some of the veterans have never left the United States. Others have traveled to many parts of the world. They are older, and all are concerned about obtaining the necessary education and training that will help them obtain an immediate goal.

The Institutes offer studies under individualized instruction, thus enabling the veteran to progress at his own rate of speed by using self-directive study material within the field that the veteran plans to pursue.

Detailed information can be obtained from local councils of Veterans' affairs.

The child still lives somewhere in Europe

IT MIGHT have been Rotterdam. It might have been Coventry. It might have been Greece...

The shriek and roar of a bomb... and that was all. It happened to thousands of mothers. They're gone. Their homes are gone. Rubble!

Who took care of the babies? Who gave them something to eat? Who found them a place to sleep? Who cared for them and comforted them? Who taught them to talk and walk?

YOU did!

You did all that and more... when you gave so generously to your Community War Fund. Your donation kept alive many a little tot in war-torn lands across the seas. Your donation helped war-separated families here at home, too... gave maternity aid... forestalled juvenile delinquency.

Surely, you're not going to stop helping now... when the need is greater than ever before! (500,000 destitute war orphans are now wandering in Yugoslavia alone.) You'll give again... won't you?

Some of your gifts will go to the U.S.O. to bring relaxation to a lonely soldier, perhaps your own. It will bring smiles to wounded veterans in hospitals, and aid war-stranded merchant seamen.

You are being asked to give again because those who can't help themselves need your help—badly. Give to your Community War Fund... make your gift as big as your heart.

PEACE is five months old in Europe now. Freedom has been established.

But thousands still don't know freedom from hunger, and the way it pinches the eyes and eats at a man's spirit.

Numberless men, women and children haven't found freedom from disease. Each night sees hundreds die.

Thousands of people can't find freedom from cold. Soon winter will search them out in the cellars of their ruined homes, or in their unheated bedrooms, or in the shacks they put together.

But the greatest lack of freedom is from fear—from fear of the future. Legions of men and women fear the despair that fills their lives. The hopelessness that smothers their will to try.

These are the fears from which violence grows. The desperate fears that lead to anarchy. To uprisings. To chaos that can threaten the peace of the world. And it is vital to our future—and to our children's—that we dispel these fears.

You help bring freedom to these beaten peoples of Europe, and help them to rebuild for peace, when you give to the National War Fund—through your local community campaign.

Part of every dollar you give buys them freedom from hunger, by shipping seeds and food overseas. Freedom from disease, by sending medicines. Freedom from cold, by distributing clothes.

But the biggest thing your money buys for these peoples is freedom from despair. New hope to go on. Faith to believe again in mankind.

Your dollar goes even further. It sends U.S.O. entertainment to servicemen everywhere, and frees their families here at home from worry by providing foster parents for the children of war-disrupted homes.

When a neighbor from your local community war fund rings at your door, help him make freedom ring around the world. Give generously, won't you? Your dollars never bought as much.

Mission To China Will Be Headed By MSC Man

Dr. Henrik J. Stafseth, professor of bacteriology at Michigan State College, has been selected by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration to head a mission of veterinarians to China, and will leave for the Orient in October.

In addition to serving as chief of the delegation of veterinarians, Dr. Stafseth will act as an adviser to the Chinese department of agriculture. Experts in animal pathology, bacteriology, parasitology, and production of biological products for the treatment and prevention of animal diseases will be included in the group of 21 American scientists making the trip.

Purpose of the mission will be to develop in China a veterinary service similar to that in the United States, modified by Chinese demands. China, with a population of more than 400,000,000, has only 14 trained veterinarians as compared with the 12,000 to 15,000 in this country. The number of animals there also is high and there are many animal diseases, some of which are contagious to human beings.

All sorts of laboratory supplies and equipment—everything, according to Dr. Stafseth, from test tubes to surgical instruments—will be shipped to China. The American scientists, whose mission is the first of its kind to go to China, will endeavor to train Chinese technicians to take over the work when they leave.

A native of Norway, Dr. Stafseth has been associated with MSC since 1915 and is well known in veterinarian circles throughout the state. He has been given a one-year leave-of-absence from his college duties.

SCOUT LEADERS' SUPPER

When Scout leaders get together they're often pretty serious in their discussions. No wonder of course for they are an earnest group of men serving as volunteer leaders of the youth of their community. But once in awhile the Scout leaders of Ann Arbor and the rest of Washtenaw county, including Chelsea, get together just for fun and one of these occasions is the sausage and pancake supper to be held on Tuesday, October 30, at 6:00 p.m., at Mack school, 920 Miller Ave., Ann Arbor.

Each Scoutmaster and Cubmaster and leader of a Senior Scout outfit is to be the guest of the Scout Council. The program is in charge of LaVern (Kip) Taylor and commissioners C. J. Barclay, Arthur Jaynes, Edwin Lindberg, Clyde Shiekler, and Albert Johnson, as well as the committee on leadership training, headed by Marland Small. An attendance of 40 is expected.

Pupils, did you say you can't recite in class very well on Monday? Is it because you don't get the right amount of sleep? It has been proved that if the pupils keep late hours during school nights that they can not recite in their daily classes as well as if they had had nine or ten hours of sleep. It makes it easier for the teachers if you are able to recite in classes. It also has a beneficial effect on your grades. Let's try improving our reciting in class by getting more sleep.

MUSIC MEETING

Last Tuesday evening a group of pupils, who are interested in classical music, were assembled in the Home Economics room from 7:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. The number that attended was small, but those present were enthusiastic.

The purpose of these meetings is to get those who are interested, acquainted with the classics.
Several selections were played, including parts of Gilbert's and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore" and the "Lost Chord."

The group will probably meet once a week. Next week they are planning on serving refreshments.

All students who are interested are welcomed to these meetings.

MY HELPER

I went to Him in trouble,
He took me by my hand,
He led me over the waters,
And across the watery land; My hand in His will always be, He'll guide me safely through;
I'll trust in Him with all my heart, Because His love is true.

I went to Him in sorrow
When I had lost a loved one dear, He took me to his bosom, I have nothing now to fear;
His arm will always be around me,
His love is ever true, He's bound the wound in my sad heart And now my tears are few.

Go to Him, if a friend you need, He'll never turn you down,
And someday you will find yourself In paradise wearing a crown.

Men In Service

Charles B. Winans, WT-2C, on active duty with the United States Navy, wrote a very interesting letter to the publisher of The Standard, and we are happy to share its contents with our readers. The letter follows:
Sept. 27, 1945.

Hello Mac,

In all probability this letter comes as a surprise to you but I vowed to myself that one day I would write to you while I was in the Navy. That day has come. It only took three years for me to do it.

After seeing duty in the South Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans and consequently seeing many different lands and their peoples, I can definitely state what to me was the prettiest sight I've ever seen since being in the Navy. It was none other than the water tank of Chelsea, seen as one drives into town on Main street. That is saying that there is no place like home, but in different words and so far as yours truly is concerned, that is what I mean. I prefer it with all its small town gossip, etc. Nothing like giving people something to talk about anyway and that couldn't be done in a large metropolis.

I will admit that I have done my share of gripping along with the probable millions of other men in the service, during these last three years. For all that, I am not sorry to have had this experience. There is a certain amount of adventure to be spoken of but I say that "education" comes first. I have learned what it is to be looked down upon by men whose very incompetence came near to causing lives to be lost. Men, who because of better education were made officers and placed aboard ships of war when they should have been teaching history to school children. Perhaps it would be difficult for you to visualize men who have families at home taking orders from kids no older than their own sons. Or men doing unnecessary labor just to satisfy some spoiled brat in a gold striped uniform. Perhaps you could though. I could list any number of instances of such cases. Such things are what make me say that I cannot regret my life in the Navy. I know now what it was and will be to live as a civilian. I'm ready to settle down and be peaceful, for a surety.

You may be interested to know what the fellows I am with think of the G.I. Bill of Rights. On the whole there is little doubt but that this Bill is satisfactory to the men. It has naturally aroused great interest and discussion. There are many who will take advantage of further education, who otherwise could not possibly do so. This pertains to the younger men for the most part but even many with families will take advantage of this "once in a lifetime" opportunity. It is not just idle chatter when one hears of the servicemen thinking things over and taking a great deal of interest in their future and the nation's future. This war has made men of young boys and as men they have begun to think and in due time I believe there will be a great deal of power in their thoughts and voice. It is really surprising the interest that is taken concerning hospitalizing conditions for wounded veterans. They want their buddies taken care of and not by horse doctors and quacks. They aren't apt to forget the strikes carried out back home while they were at war. You would hear and probably have heard this same general discussion before and even more. It could go on indefinitely. In this case you hear it from someone you know and I have no reason for beating about the bush.

To get to myself and this ship—we have been in the Pacific since Dec. 7, 1944. On that date we passed through the Panama Canal. From there it was island hop to Manus, New Guinea, the Philippines, Okinawa, and at present we are at Korea. Our ship rides the waters of the Yellow Sea. We had convoy duty between New Guinea and Leyte, and Lingayen Gulf and Subic Bay. We made Manila Bay on three occasions, where liberty showed us that Manila itself was badly mangled. Prices were high and conditions quite bad. The Red Cross was on the beam there and deserves a plug for its work. Much of our duty was from Subic Bay as part of the Anti-Sub Killer Patrol. The Navy really went after Japanese submarines. We also escorted American and British subs to Subic Bay from certain points of rendezvous. This Bay was the main submarine port after it was captured by our forces. From there we patrolled with a carrier and a dozen other destroyer escorts during which we sank two Jap subs on Aug. 9. Then came peace and we hit Okinawa and now Korea. Our present set-up is a question, though we believe we're homeward bound within a few months.

That covers things, Mac (roughly). I have retained my health so far. Will call this letter.
Sincerely—Charlie Winans.

Frozen Pastry Dough

Dough with a high fat content, such as the sweet-roll type, can be frozen and kept for at least 90 days. When baked the rolls taste just like the non-frozen kind.
