A copy of a "Commendation" received by their son, Cpl. Donald R. Walz, stationed in India, has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walz. From the 1218th Military Police Co. (Avn.), it reads:

1. I hereby commend Cpl. Donald R. Walz, ASN 36571243, for his excellent service to this organization, and as a result, to the Service as a whole.

2. Cpl. Walz has been with this organization since its activation in March 1943. He has been steadfast in his desire to succeed as a Military Policeman, and has become familiar with many aspects of this work. Starting from the bottom, with little knowledge of police activities, Cpl. Walz has made it a point to learn and execute the many and varied functions of the department.

3. As a result of his ability, sincerity and honesty, he has been selected to work as an Investigator in the Anti-Smuggling division at this Airbase. The work is specialized, important, and interesting; and Cpl. Walz has already shown a capability exceeding normal expectations.

4. I am sure that Cpl. Walz will enter civilian life with a background of Military Police work well done, and an enviable record.

Raymond J. Sibbing, S-1C, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Sibbing, has arrived in Portland, Oregon for Navy Day.

His carrier ship, the Independence, one of the oldest ships in Halsey's famous Third Fleet, was hit by a torpedo early in the Pacific war and after six months of repairs went out to stay until the end of the war. Seaman Sibbing sent a copy of the ship's log, which shows 111 major engagements, including a three-day battle with a Jap fleet at Leyte during MacArthur's invasion. Then, as the 38th Task Force, they entered the China Sea, thence to Hong Kong and Formosa, but could find no more Jap ships.

After the bombing of Okinawa and other islands, before the invasions, they bombed Tokyo a number of times, and the end of the war found them 150 miles from Tokyo. Seaman Sibbing was given a five-day leave to visit Tokyo, where he secured several souvenirs, including a Jap rifle, with fixed bayonet.

He hopes to receive a 30-day leave while the ship is in port.

Sgt. Lester Proctor sailed from Italy on the Vulcania, Sept. 25, arriving at Camp Kilmore, N. J. on Oct. 14. He arrived at his home in Manchester, Oct. 11, being fully discharged from the army Oct. 10 at Camp Aterbury, Ind.

Sgt. Proctor has two battle stars, for service in the Tunisian campaign in North-Africa, and the Mediterranean theatre, with the Medical Corps of the Mediterranean Air Force for nearly three years. This group received the Meritorious plaque for their achievements in the line of duty. After entering service Oct. 2, 1941 he trained at Camp Grant, Ill., Patterson Field, Ohio, and City Airport, New Orleans, La., and left for overseas on Dec. 11, 1942.

Lester attended Chelsea high school for two years, 1933-35, before moving to Manchester. His brother, Kenneth, resides on a farm west of Chelsea.

Mrs. Lero Buehler received word from her husband, Pfc. Lero Buehler, that he arrived at Seattle, Wash., on October 15 from Okinawa, where he had been serving with the 389th Ordnance M.A.M. Co.

Third Test Well Going Down In Sylvan Twp.

A third test well is being drilled by the Trio Drilling Co. in the hope of striking oil which is believed to be in this vicinity. The present test is being made on the Whitaker farm, Hoppe Rd., in Sylvan township.

Two previous test wells were drilled on the Joe Merkel farm, Deckert Rd., and the Albert Hinderer farm, Manchester Rd. Although a showing of oil and gas was found in each well it was not in sufficient quantity to be of commercial value. The Whitaker well is expected to be completed in about ten days.

According to Mr. Mayer, the first floor will be used for a showroom and office, and the basement will be used for the service department. A complete line of refrigerators, washing machines, ranges and small appliances will be stocked.

The service department will be modernly equipped, and will be in charge of Lewis Bernath, who has had 15 years' experience in this line of work. This department will have an entrance from the municipal parking lot for the convenience of customers.

Returning Vets Favor Training of Young Men

The rank and file of returning veterans, and especially those who have seen action, strongly favor one year of military training for all young men between the ages of 17 and 21.

This statement came from Herman F. Luhrs, Veterans' Consultant for the General Motors Corporation and Michigan Chairman of the National Citizens Committee for Universal Military Training of Young Men.

"American Legion polls in military and naval hospitals, and at the various fronts, show that more than 80 per cent of service men favor universal military training," Mr. Luhrs said. "In my tours, and in all my work with service men, I have not yet met a single one of them who opposed such training."

"Every organization that officially represents the rank and file of service men—Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, Jewish War Veterans, American Legion—strongly favors universal military training. Make no mistake—GI Joe wants it."

Some people place misguided confidence in the atomic bomb, Mr. Luhrs points out. They feel that with its secret in our possession, national defense can be left to a small-sized Army and Navy and a band of scientists.

"Even if we assume that other nations may not discover the secret of the atomic bomb for another five years," Mr. Luhrs says, "we will still need a large reservoir of trained manpower. Atomic bomb or no atomic bomb, no attack succeeds, and no enemy territory can be occupied, without big infantry armies."

"One defense against the atomic bomb is the Air Force. Our Air Force, in this war, exceeded 3,000,000 men, and it needed other millions in the Army, Navy and Marines to beat the enemy to his knees. The atomic bomb is no substitute for the Air Force and for other branches of service. Further, it is likely to be outlawed, just as was poison gas."

"No matter what the scientific discoveries of the future, if war comes Congress will have to draft, immediately, every able-bodied man in the country. So the sole question is—shall these men be raw and untrained, or shall they have had a year of training and be able immediately to meet a skillful enemy without the bloody losses that are always sustained by raw recruits?"

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Speer announce the marriage of their daughter Lucille and Mr. Russell Olson of Detroit, which took place in the Highland Park M. E. church, Saturday, October 15, with Rev. Milton L. Bennett officiating. Following the service a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Olson will reside in Detroit.

The marriage of Esther M. Widmayer of Sylvan and Lawrence E. Noath of North Lake took place in Albion, Wednesday, October 26, with Rev. H. G. Pearce officiating.

Dr. Faye Palmer has installed an X-ray machine in his dental office. Adam Goetz of Sylvan had two stacks of oats and one stack of rye destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon. The blaze is thought to have started from sparks from the steam engine used in drawing material to the mixing machines on the construction work of the territorial road trunk line. With help from the road crew and neighboring farmers the barns were saved.

Alber Bros. took in about 15,000 pounds of wool at their warehouse on Saturday.

OFFICE OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS
Lansing

Dental Care Provided

Veterans are entitled to dental care through the Veterans Administration for any teeth treated in service provided the same teeth were not shown to be defective at time of enlistment. Veterans are also entitled to dental treatment provided they have served six months or more for any teeth shown to be defective within one year after date of discharge.

In the latter case it is necessary that the teeth be examined by the Veterans Administration within one year from date of discharge or that the veteran is able to produce an affidavit from a private dentist showing the condition of the teeth within one year after discharge. If dental treatment is necessary due to pyorrhea or other disease affecting the entire mouth, then all teeth may be extracted and plates furnished. Otherwise the Veterans Administration will repair only the teeth that were shown to be defective in service or within one year after discharge.

If the veteran served six months or more and reported for dental treatment within one year of discharge, he should secure an affidavit from the dentist showing the exact condition of the teeth listing the defective ones by number. Application for dental care should be made through the Veterans Administration by personal contact or letter. If the veteran resides outside the Detroit area, the Veterans Administration will authorize a private dentist. The Veterans Administration will not pay for any outside dental care unless authorized in advance.

Veterans' School Catalog

A new catalog has been published in connection with the Michigan Veterans' Vocational School at Pine Lake. It is profusely illustrated and tells all about the school and what it has to offer.

Counselor Important

Many activities in behalf of the veteran, center around the counselor of the Local Council of Veterans' Affairs, such as authorizing emergency hospitalization of a veteran at state expense; approving the referral of a veteran to a veterans' clinic where examination and treatments are free to him; arranging the admission of a veteran to the Michigan Veterans' Vocational School; authorizing emergency transportation to hospitals and clinics, and many others.

WEDDINGS

The double ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Rev. P. H. Grabowski.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white satin gown fashioned with a tight bodice, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt ending with a train. The bridal bouquet was of pink roses and white pom-poms, tied with satin ribbon.

Miss Arlene Hafley, sister of the groom, chosen as maid of honor, was gowned in a floor length dress of pale blue and carried a bouquet of tall-man roses and bronze pom-poms, tied with blue-satin ribbon. James Gregory of Dexter, nephew of the bride, served as best man.

Sleeping Sickness

Mosquitos are the main source of transmission of sleeping sickness from horse to horse, although some other insects can carry the infection. There is a difference in the virus causing the disease in the eastern and western parts of the country. Salt water mosquitos are capable of carrying the eastern disease, whereas fresh water mosquitos do not transmit it. With the western disease, the reverse is true; fresh water mosquitos transmit the virus and salt water mosquitos cannot do so.

Undulant Fever Shows Large Increase In 1945

Nearly three times as many cases of undulant fever have been reported this year as last, according to the Michigan Department of Health. Between January 1 and September 30 there were 195 cases reported in 1945, as compared with 69 for the same period in 1944.
The following paragraphs are quoted from a new pamphlet which the MDH is publishing:
"Undulant fever (brucellosis) is not a new disease but it is receiving increasing attention as its prevalence is becoming more generally recognized. It is a disease of many forms, sometimes resembling typhoid fever, malaria, influenza, and even tuberculosis. It is a persistent disease often marked by apparent recoveries followed by relapses. People usually recover from undulant fever but it may take a discouragingly long time.
"Undulant fever is primarily a disease of animals, affecting cattle, goats and hogs. In cattle it is known as Bang's disease or contagious abortion. Man gets undulant fever by using unpasteurized milk from infected animals and by handling the meat of such animals. Farmers, slaughter house employees and people who live in areas where pasteurized milk cannot be obtained are most apt to contract the disease, though anyone using unpasteurized milk or milk products such as butter, cheese and ice cream, made from unpasteurized milk, is in danger. It is spread from animals to man—not from person to person.
"Symptoms of undulant fever vary and are seldom clear cut and definite. There is usually weakness, a general feeling of uneasiness and a moderate rise in temperature. Headache, aching joints and muscles, chills and fever and a loss of appetite are common symptoms. The patient will feel tired and depressed and 'sick all over'. In the acute stage of the disease the temperature may range from 100 degrees to 104 degrees, in an up and down, wavelike progress that gives the disease its name."

To the People of this Community
Some day in the next few weeks a volunteer salesman will ask you to buy more bonds. You may be tempted to answer: "The war's over, haven't you heard? Would you care to give that reply to any one of the 300,000 young Americans now fighting in military hospitals from coast to coast? Would you care to walk a patrol in Tokyo or Berlin with a GI and tell him 'the war's over'?"

Of course, the bloody fighting is over. Your job in helping to clean up the money cost is the easiest patriotic chore any country ever asked of its citizens; loan of more dollars to be repaid at good interest in 10 years. Compare that job with the chore you have handed to your own son or neighbor's son to spend countless days in strange lands to nail down the victory.
Think you can afford to say no to the Victory Loan salesman? Have a talk with your conscience this very moment. Be ready for your Victory Loan salesman in spirit as well as in pocketbook.

New Books for Leisure

With the relaxation of peace comes a new leisure for the enjoyment of reading. America's No. 1 interpreter, Sinclair Lewis, has provided for that leisure, "Cass Timberlane," a new love story uncluttered with large social concerns. Carl Van Doren wrote of it: "It is full of fire and longing, and of a humor that sometimes ripples and sometimes roars."
For those more concerned with the ferment in the contemporary political scene there is Henry Wallace's "Sixty Million Jobs." The Secretary of Commerce sums up his personal, political and national philosophy.
For really "peace full" fall reading try "A Star Danced," by the famous English Star, Gertrude Laurence. Equally well known to American audiences for her role in "Lady In The Dark," Miss Laurence lifts the curtain on her own life in this book as gay and exciting as her famous roles. "A Star Danced" brings a vibrant personality to thrilling life.
The Chelsea Public Library is pleased to present these very new and much discussed books for your leisure time reading:
Three O'Clock Dinner—Pinckney. High Barbaree—Nordhoff and Hall. The Great General—Standish. Once In Every Lifetime—Hamlin. Nine Strings In Your Bow—Knight.

The Egg and I—McDonald. Fountainhead—Rand. The Gauntlet—Street. Lake Erie—Hatcher. A.W.O.L.—Shurtleff. And being global minded, may we call your attention to the new addition to the Library, a World Globe? For your enlightenment and pleasure, the new globe is the generous gift of Mrs. Luella B. Rogers, and is gratefully acknowledged by the Board of Trustees and friends of the Library.

OFFICE NEWS
Football team plays Roosevelt here Friday.

CHORUS NEWS
We told you students of Chelsea High to keep an eye on your up-and-coming chorus, and now they have done it.

They gave vocal entertainment at the P.T.A. Wednesday, Oct. 17. It all went as planned. They sang "Stout Hearted Men," by Sigmund Romberg and "O Lovely Heart" by Hugh S. Robertson, with accompaniment by Donna Lou Kalmbach and direction by Mrs. Manden. Let's hope they give us students a chance to hear them. We must not forget the chorus is in need of some boys' voices, especially basses and baritones. Just between you and me, they will enroll any boys who can carry a note, even if he needs a bushel basket.

ALL-HI PARTY
The superb All-Hi party last Friday night was sponsored by the "Class of '47" who always manage to put across one of the best parties of the year.

The gym was decorated with corn stalks around the sides and lighted with Jack-o-lanterns. The refreshments were of the best, with cider and doughnuts served at the bar.

Two little "angels," complete with robes and halo, furnished some of the best entertainment we have seen this year. The angels were Bragdon Barlow and Cameron Colquhoun, who discussed the affairs of "earthly" folk. The party was very well attended, with about 175 students and 25 guests. Everyone enjoyed the music of "Harry Luke Box" and his orchestra.

WHY THE VICTORY LOAN IS NECESSARY
Many people consider this "Victory Loan" very necessary. It is important, very important.

Some people wonder where these Victory Bonds go, and what they pay for. Here are five places where they go: To pay the still unpaid bills for munitions; to pay the cost of guarding Germany and Japan; to pay for care of our wounded and disabled; to pay off and provide benefits for 8,000,000 veterans to be discharged by next July; to keep the lid on price inflation. One of the things that is very important is bringing our boys home. The disabled boys will want to start some business, and we will have schools that will teach them a trade. These schools will cost millions of dollars.

Each returning soldier and sailor must have something to start his home life. The law provides that each man receives $300 to start with when he comes home.

Won't you give to this "Victory Loan Drive" so all these things will be provided? The drive will be from October 29 to December 8. The government has set the goal for $11,000,000,000. The least we can do for the soldiers and sailors that have been killed, wounded and disabled is to give wholeheartedly to this "Victory Loan Drive."

THANKS!
In the usual rush of just going to school we have forgotten to stop and give thanks and a great deal of credit where it is due.

That is, to Miss Fox and Mrs. Claire for the wonderful job they have done in making our news letters a truly successful project.

It has been Miss Fox who has taken the all too rough bits of news that were handed in and molded them into an entertaining, "newsy," and morale-boosting letter for our boys in service.

Mrs. Claire is the one, however, who takes her precious time and mimeographs the letters. That is far from an easy job either.

After all that work there is still the unending task of keeping the address file up to date. Here again Miss Fox can take a bow.

We, of the Journalism club, would like to thank Miss Fox and Mrs. Claire for all they have done. We feel sure that we express the feeling of all the boys in service also, who have benefited by their work—work well done!

WON'T YOU MEET—

Marjorie Proctor? She was fourteen April 28, has dark brown hair with hazel eyes. She came from the Riemenschneider school. This year her subjects are English, civics, algebra, biology, physics and chorus, with civics as her favorite. The song she likes best is "Till the End of Time;" her favorite flower, she thinks, is the rose. As for color, it's green. Any of the sports are all right with her, and she adds, "I think Chelsea High is just O.K!"

Therese Hankard? She has black hair, and very dark brown eyes. She was fourteen August 25, and she came from St. Mary's school. She is taking civics, English, biology, algebra, and chorus. Her favorite popular song is "I Wish I Knew," and her flower is the rose. She has no favorite color, but any of the sports are popular with her. She, too, likes good old Chelsea High.

Barbara Quirk? On December first Barbara will be fourteen. She has very dark brown hair and hazel eyes. She previously went to St. Mary's school. The popular song she likes best is "Dancing in The Park;" her favorite color is aqua, and steak is her choice food. She likes football and tennis very well, and is another freshman who thinks Chelsea OHS is all right!

CHELSEA BEATEN BY SCORE ONLY

As the final whistle blew in the Romulus-Chelsea game last Friday the only thing that stopped Chelsea from calling the game a win or a tie was the score. In figures the score was 13-0 in favor of Romulus, but to the football boys it was 0-0 for this simple reason—Chelsea outplayed Romulus all the way.

To get the ball rolling Chelsea received the kick-off with Vogel going to the 35-yard line before being dropped. With good, clean, hard playing all the way, Chelsea managed to reach the Romulus 20-yard line but with four unsuccessful attempts to make a first down Chelsea lost the ball to the Romulus club. The visitors managed to pick up one first down, but finding the Chelsea line very hard to crack, were forced to punt on the next set of downs. After taking the ball over once more Chelsea succeeded in picking up a pair of first downs but in the third attempt were forced to kick. Throughout the rest of the first half the ball went from the hands of one team to the other's, but neither team succeeded in scoring.

At half time Coach Cameron took his squad to the old hang-out where he gave the boys a good talking to. The first thing he said was, "Now, you fellows know that team isn't as tough as you expected it to be. In the next half, show your stuff!"

The half started with Slane receiving the pigskin on the 20 and running it back up to the 48-yard line after dropping three tacklers. Chelsea took to the air and Bug completed two short passes, one to D. Slane and one to Vogel over center. Vogel, feeling happy about catching the ball, fumbled after being hit very hard by two of the Romulus fellows. The ball was recovered by Burg and the team continued on a nice march which ended with a fumble on the Romulus 25-yard line. The ball went back and forth until the quarter ended.

When the final quarter was half over the captain of the Romulus team broke his wrist while being hit very hard by Wellnitz and Dave Slane. After sending a substitute in to take the place of the injured player the game got under way with Romulus over the ball. The first play was a reserve from the quarterback to the fullback who broke over left side of our line for a nice 55-yard touchdown play. After trying three conversions Romulus settled for the score of 6-0.

With six minutes remaining in the ball game, Romulus kicked off to Vogel, who fumbled and recovered. Bug took to the air again but the passes didn't click. Romulus intercepted a pass and took it for a touchdown but it was called back because the Romulus right guard was offside. Romulus managed to get possession of the ball again and in a series of plays they went over for their final touchdown with the extra conversion being good. The mighty Romulus second team took over for the remaining six seconds but managed to do nothing.

Don Barth, Bill Waters and Don Baldwin played a most outstanding game on the line, while C. Slane, D. Slane and Bragdon Barlow fulfilled their duties quite up to par.

As the most outstanding player for Chelsea, I choose Bill Waters. For Romulus, I choose Vaughan, the little hard running negro boy.

CHELSEA 20—FLAT ROCK 20
The Chelsea football team journeyed to Flat Rock on Friday night, Oct. 12, where they played a 20-20 deadlock. The game was just as close as the score indicates. It was a spectator's game from the kickoff until the final gun, with neither team having (Continued on page seven)

Gambling kept him poor!

Canada Bill Jones was known as the cleverest three-card monte operator on the river, back in the heyday of the Mississippi's floating palaces. But he stayed poor, because his passion for gambling was too great.

Marooned in a Louisiana village, Canada Bill found a faro game in a barber shop. After a few plays, his partner warned him the game was crooked. "I know it," Canada Bill replied, "but it's the only game in town."

Like Canada Bill Jones, you'll find the cards stacked against you, too, if you gamble your car against the weather. When the temperature drops suddenly, driving even a few miles without proper winter-conditioning can cause costly damage.

Right now is none too soon to prepare your car for cold weather. Your Standard Oil Dealer is trained to do the job right. Drive in now, for your Standard Oil Dealer's 10 Star Fall Tune-up.

THE HIGHLIGHT

The edge in first downs or yards gained by rushing.
An odd feature of the game was the fact that both teams punted but once. All scores were made after sustained drives. Peacock, the Flat Rock quarterback, scored all three touchdowns for Flat Rock and Dave Slane, Chelsea's illustrious quarterback, scored all three for Chelsea.

Men In Service

Mrs. Vincent Hale received the following letter from her son, FM-1C Joe Halo:
Sasebo Naval Base, Japan, Sept. 25, 1945.

Dear Mom,
Well, Mom, after a 33-day boat trip from "Hilo," Hawaii, the mighty "Fifth" Marine Division has landed in Japan on the island of Kyushu.

We had a nice trip over, but as usual, we were plenty glad to get on dry land.

It rained quite a bit at first but right now the sky is clear and blue. We are set up in a Jap seaplane hangar which only has a few shrapnel holes in the roof.

The land here is really beautiful and green. The mountains are high and covered with trees. These Japs sure know how to make the best of their land. Each mountain is carried into rows of rice paddies which, from a distance, looks like a big green layer cake. Each paddy has a stone foundation which must have taken a lot of long back-breaking hours to construct.

The people are pretty ragged and look as though they could use a few good meals. We give chocolate bars to the kids, but we don't have much to do with Jap dummies and swabbies. They wrecked most of the cars and trucks before we got there. It's surprising how many American-made cars you can see around here.

Yesterday we had guard duty. That's our main purpose over here. Each post has two sentries. That's to keep the Japs from slipping up and cutting your throat in the dark. Sam (the ram we found in Hawaii) had a post along the canal which separates the Japs from the Navy yard. Our job was to keep the Japs from the Navy yard.

The Jap kids are just like little monkeys. They throw a piece of lumber into the canal and paddle across on it. If they can get past the guard they can get back into the base and get chocolate "D" ration bars from the Marines. I guess you know we really had a time with them. When we would get on one end of the post they would try to establish a beachhead on the far end. I sure hated to run those little kids back, because you can't blame them for the war. But orders are orders and if I got caught doing off it would go mighty hard on me. So we had to keep running them back.

The canal is about the only means of show that some of these "Gooks" have. The whole family sits on the stone banks and fish all day. They never catch a fish over three or four inches long.

Sam and I had the first relief of the guard so our hours were from 12 to 3 p.m.—1 to 11:30 p.m. and 4:30 to 7 a.m.—I really had to keep on the ball all night because this place is filled with thousands of Jap bombs and if some crazy Nip sneaked in and set one off the whole joint would go.

We can't use the water here so all the fresh water comes from ships in the bay via the five gallon can. But yesterday it rained so hard that the whole battery went out and took showers. It was the heaviest rain I've ever seen.

Well, I'll write more later.
Love—Bud

P. S.—The Japs bow and salute everyone from the private on up.

National or Citizen
The Nationality act of 1940 defines a national as a citizen of the United States or a person who, though not a citizen, owes permanent allegiance to the United States, such as the people who reside on Guam or in the Philippines, or other United States dependencies. These people are citizens of their respective islands, but they are United States nationals, not United States citizens. Congressional acts, on the other hand, raised the status of inhabitants of Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands to that of citizens of the United States.

This is the plan that we began in 1940

• By 1940, Michigan Bell's rural expansion and improvement program had been under way for a number of years. That year we incorporated into it a plan worked out in cooperation with the Michigan Rural Communications Committee, a group of agricultural leaders. This plan called for a liberal amount of free line-construction, and small monthly payments in cases where any construction charges were involved. Its purpose was to bring telephones to more farm families, and a good start was made in that direction.

This is the war that delayed the plan that we began in 1940

• For nearly four years, our fighting forces took almost all of the nation's telephone manufacturing output. Nevertheless, we installed all war-essential rural telephones. Today there are more farm telephones in Michigan than ever before. But line construction and switch-board expansion have not been able to keep pace with the increased demand for service. Now that the war is over, there is an enormous amount of work to be done.

This is when we expect to resume the plan that we began in 1940

• Just as soon as trained manpower, materials and manufacturing facilities are available in sufficient quantities, we will push forward our $13,500,000 5-year, rural expansion and improvement program. We have important new devices and construction methods which will make telephone service available to more rural folks. We intend to construct more lines so there will be fewer parties per line. We plan to bring dial service to more farm families. We are studying special features to make telephone service more valuable. (These are but a few of many ways Michigan Bell expects to give better service to more rural people.)
