Fire Insurance

Horse-Drawn Fire Engines were good in their day, but buildings grew in size, cities expanded in area and an automobile world has rendered yesterday's apparatus obsolete. Residence Fire Insurance, too, has kept pace with progress. The Fire Insurance Policy of yesterday was good, but the increasing complexities of modern living have brought forth a new, broadened and vastly improved policy.

Local Groups Buy Wheel Chairs for Injured Vets

Every effort has been made by the Red Cross throughout the county for the past few weeks to raise funds with which to purchase wheelchairs for the wounded men at Percy Jones and Fort Custer.

These chairs are urgently needed by the double amputees and cord patients, and may be taken home by discharged veterans to be used during the period of adjustment, or to be kept permanently.

Organizations or individuals may purchase these chairs at a substantial saving through the Red Cross Camp and Hospital Committee. Chairs costing approximately $100 on the market are sold for $54.50.

To date eight chairs have been purchased through contributions made by the American Legion, Chelsea Spring Co., Central Fibre Products Co., Chelsea Milling Co., Federal Screw Works and the Chelsea Study Club.

In addition to the donation of these chairs the Moma club purchased three chairs of a type needed for particular cases, and suited to a certain individual. The Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars have also purchased a chair through their own organization headquarters.

Rebekah Lodge has contributed two chairs to this worthy cause. The last one will be delivered on January 4, to John Gage of Parma, who is a cord patient and is also suffering from lack of balance. Local lodge representatives have had the opportunity of visiting the patient and learning first-hand about his own particular needs.

Library News

Books for the New Year! There is something tantalizing about them that nothing else seems to achieve—a breathless, waiting-for-things-to-happen that makes one eager for reading time to begin.

It's in these lines of Abbie Farwell Brown:

Here's an adventure! What awaits beyond these closed mysterious gates? Whom shall I meet? Where shall I go! Beyond the lovely land I know, Above the sky, across the sea? What shall I learn and feel and be? Open strange doors to good or ill! I hold my breath a moment still Before the magic of your look, What will you do to me, O book?

Francis knew it, in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," as she hurried from the public library with her book.

"Home at last and now it was the time she had been looking forward to all week—fire—escape—sitting time—Francis breathed the warm air, watched the dancing leaf shadows—

If I were King, Love, Oh, if I were King—

The story of Francois Villon was more wonderful each time she read it. Sometimes she worried for fear the book would be lost in the library and she'd never be able to read it again. As she read, at peace with the world and happy as only a little girl could be with a fine book and a little bowl of candy, and all alone in the house, the leaf shadows shifted and the afternoon passed.

There are many kinds of magic in books. And at the Chelsea Public Library you will find your own particular magic of hearing the stars singing, "at its best." Make the Library a weekly habit for a Happy New Year.

The Chelsea Public Library is beginning for the year 1946, yet another public service which can be complete only with the full community co-operation. This new service is known as a "Community Calendar." Local organizations have felt a need for a central clearing house of dates and times for social and fraternal activities. Record each activity for your organization, consult the calendar before your planning committees meet. Avoid a conflict of dates with other organizations. The calendar is posted at the Library and further information may be obtained from Mrs. Walworth, Librarian.

State Ready for Huge Road Building Program

Lansing—Having completed the greatest state trunkline highway maintenance program Michigan has even known in order to meet the wartime emergency, the Michigan State Highway Department now is ready to launch the greatest road construction program this state has ever known, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said this week in a year-end review of the Department's work during the year and plans for the coming year.

During the war period highway construction was almost entirely eliminated, being confined entirely to roads giving access to war plants and military camps. At the same time, Michigan, producing one-eighth of the nation's war materials, was moving some 75 per cent of that material over the state's highways, a heavy traffic that caused extensive damage to trunklines, especially old Michigan roadways. To keep these roads in good condition to avoid possible delay in truck shipments and to hold down wear on hard-to-replace tires, Commissioner Ziegler ordered a $10,500,000 maintenance program in each of the last three years. This amount was about 40 per cent above any previous year on record.

During the war period, the Highway Department has had every available man working on surveys and plans for projects on the State's highways.

Rural Progress Caravan Will Visit County Jan. 24

Washtenaw county is included on the schedule for the Rural Progress Caravan on January 24 for one day, when the exhibition will be at the Saline high school from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The caravan is being sponsored by the Saline Rotary club.

The Rural Progress Caravan will include 340 lineal feet of displays, models and equipment which show labor-saving ideas assembled from Michigan farms and the Research Laboratories of Michigan State College. The exhibits will contain 85 display panels 4x6 feet, together with working models and a large number of farm gadgets. One of these that will be of special interest to Washtenaw farmers is a gutter cleaner for dairy barns, says H. S. Osler, County Agricultural Agent.

The caravan is scheduled for a 3000 mile trip during January, February and March, and will be shown in 55 Michigan counties. It will be a combination of State Fair and Farmers' Week exhibits brought to the different counties of Michigan.

An additional feature of the show will be an exhibition of homemade devices and gadgets now being used by Washtenaw county farmers to help solve some of their labor shortages.

War Tasks of State Police Are Disclosed

East Lansing—Information of the "now-it-can-be-told" brand is revealed in an annual year-end review of the Michigan State Police released by Commissioner Oscar G. Olander this week.

An absorbing record of army and navy intelligence work, linked with the FBI, contains reference to enemy action and intrigue on the home front during the fighting years.

Investigations were confined, in this section, to un-American activities, sabotage, espionage and pro-Nazi, pro-Fascist and pro-Japanese efforts of both organizations and individuals within the boundaries of Michigan.

Records in these cases were used by the FBI, Army Intelligence and Navy Intelligence. The extent of the cooperation is indicated by the fact that the commissioner's report shows 950 requests for investigations were handled by the state police squad at the request of the FBI. The squad made 8,500 investigations and the request of Army Intelligence and more than 1,000 for Navy Intelligence.

In addition, approximately 4,000 fingerprint and criminal record files were checked monthly for the three federal services. Federal immigration and naturalization services also requested record checks.

When the emergency Protective Defense board was set up, defense areas were established around vital power plants, war factories and similar critical areas. In 179 of these cases, state police determined the boundaries, supervised the protective and lighting installations and selected and trained personnel.

A survey of the volume of special reports on un-American activity investigation reveals cases involving pro-Nazi propaganda, military deserters and numerous other cases. In the field of communication and civilian defense, state police two-way radio equipment in cars and stations throughout the state was available for military emergencies and was being used constantly to speed up military communication and meet production emergencies.

The New Year starts with Capt. Donald S. Leonard, commanding officer of the 2nd police district, moving into the post of superintendent of the uniform division, succeeding Captain Lyon, who has retired. Captain Leonard, during the war, served on the staff of the federal director of civilian defense and as civilian defense czar of Michigan.

CATCHES ARCTIC OWL
Frank Toth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Toth of Spilva township, had an unusual experience the past week when he was fortunate enough to catch, uninjured, a large Snowy White or Arctic owl which was in their chicken yard, without the use of a gun or trap. This species of bird is rarely found in this vicinity. It weighed ten pounds and had a wing spread of 4 1/2 feet.

SO, SYLVAN EXTENSION CLUB
The South Sylvan Home Extension club held a family party on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Fritchard, and progressive euchre furnished pastime for the occasion. High prizes were won by Melvin Leaser and Mrs. L. S. Grossman, with George Steele and Mrs. Leo Merkel. Melvin Leaser also won the travelling prize. The supper was pot-luck.

Mrs. John Keusch has been recently appointed to serve as chairman of the local Junior Red Cross.

Better Rural Service for More Rural People

You'll see two specific results come out of Michigan Bell's 5-year $13,500,000 rural expansion and improvement program:

First, it will make telephone service available to more rural folks. Second, there'll be a general improvement in rural service.

Thanks to new scientific devices and new construction methods, we are going to be able to reach into rural areas which have been too remote to serve in the past. Also, our liberal free line-construction allowance, and small monthly payments where construction costs are involved, will make it possible for more people to have telephones.

On the improvement side of the picture, we plan to build more rural lines, and thus reduce the number of parties per line. Wherever practical, we are going to install dial service to increase the speed and convenience of telephoning. And we also are studying other ways of making rural service more valuable than it has ever been before.

We're glad our rural program is under way again. We had started it long before the war, but civilian telephone expansion had to be curtailed during the war. Now that we have begun to get the materials and manpower we need, we are going to push the job just as fast as possible.

A reception followed in the ballroom of the Hotel for Women. The bride's mother received in a gown of blue crepe with rose color accessories and corsage of gardenias.

January 31 THE LAST DAY

FOR MEN NOW IN THE ARMY TO RETAIN THEIR PRESENT GRADES BY REENLISTING...

Men now in the Army who reenlist before February 1 will be reenlisted in their present grade. Men honorably discharged can reenlist within 20 days after discharge in the grade they held at the time of discharge, provided they reenlist before February 1, 1946.

There's a long list of attractive reenlistment privileges in the new Armed Forces Voluntary Reenlistment Act of 1945. The ability to keep your present grade is only one of them, but this privilege expires on January 31.

There are plenty of other reasons why many thousands of men have enlisted, and more thousands are enlisting every day. You'll certainly want to know all of the opportunities open to you. If you'll read them carefully, you'll know why a job in the new peace-time Regular Army is being regarded today as "The Best Job in the World."

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE NEW ENLISTMENT PROGRAM

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years, now in Army with 6 months' service.
2. Enlistment age from 17 to 34 years inclusive, except for men now in Army, who may reenlist at any age.
3. Men reenlisting retain present grades. If they reenlist within 20 days after discharge and before February 1, 1946.
4. The best pay scale, medical care, food, quarters and clothing in Army history.
5. An increase in the reenlistment bonus to $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.
6. Up to 90 days' paid furlough, depending on length of service, with furlough travel paid to home and return, for men now in Army who enlist.
7. A 30-day furlough every year at full pay.
8. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to reenlist.
9. Option to retire at half pay for life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
10. Benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.
11. Family allowances for the term of enlistment for dependents of men who enlist before July 1, 1946.
12. Opportunity to learn one or more of 200 skills and trades.
13. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater in the Air, Ground or Service Forces on 3-year enlistments.

Farmers Are Advised To Reduce Expenses

Sinking too much money into non-essential farm machinery is one of the pitfalls to be avoided by farmers during the coming months as more equipment becomes available.

B. R. Bookhout, extension specialist in farm management at Michigan State college, believes every farmer will be wise to look around for ways of cutting expenses without sacrificing economical production of crops and livestock. Keeping expenses to a reasonable minimum will prepare the farm family for any eventuality that may come during the readjustment period, including lower returns.

The temptation to buy the fancy new machines that will soon be on the market will be irresistible. Much of the improved equipment will be a great boon to farmers, who have long been trying to keep the old machines from falling apart. But the dangerous temptation will be to buy elaborate pieces of equipment that are not entirely needed for successful operation of the farm. In many cases the acreage of certain crops will not warrant a heavy investment in new machinery.

Of 200 farms studied in central Michigan, farm expenses in 1944 were greater than gross income in 1940. This was necessary during a period when the pressure to produce more was on. The habit of spending has been established, but now the time has come when farm income may some day cease to support such high expenditures. Mr. Bookhout suggests that every farmer put a buying plan down on paper; one that can be kept for future reference as new equipment comes on the market. Plan first to buy only the machinery that is needed to keep the production program going. Then think of the equipment that is useful but not essential to the farm business. Decide whether some of the old machinery can't be reconditioned as service becomes available. Remember that machinery that enables you to get the job done with less labor or lower costs is a good investment. Also remember that machinery that merely increases your mechanical pride is likely to run expenses to an unreasonable level.

$140,000,000 postwar construction program. Some 500 projects, including 200 new bridges and grade separations to eliminate dangerous spans and crossings, more than 1,600 miles of reconstruction, many miles of widening and a complete new sign system are in the postwar program.

It is anticipated the material and manpower situation will improve shortly and the Department is planning to advertise for bids on the first projects of the new program within two months. Commissioner Ziegler has announced the Department plans a $26,000,000 program in the first year of this program, the greatest roadbuilding boom the state has ever known. Similar programs are planned for the succeeding years as the state will receive some $18,000,000 a year in federal aid for each of the next three years. This money must be matched approximately 60-50 by the state.

Indications that Michigan's tourist business is in for a brilliant revival in 1946 is seen in reports from the Highway Department's state ferry service at the Straits of Mackinac. Crossings jumped from 120,826 vehicles in 1944 to 215,298 in 1945 with the end of the war and gas rationing.

Michigan will receive approximately $4,500,000 additional federal aid funds in the next three years if Commissioner Ziegler is successful in his efforts to have the Public Roads Administration use the official Census Bureau figures on the state's area, which include Great Lakes areas within the state's boundaries. At present the P.R.A. is using an area figure which excludes these lake regions. Thus, if the additional money is forthcoming, it would be matched 60-50 by the state, therefore giving Michigan an additional road building program of $9,000,000 a year.

Until Fish

Chill fish promptly after catching, preferably in ice. As quickly as possible, remove the scales, head and organs and wash well. Freeze small fish whole with fins and tail removed. Cut large fish into steaks or boneless strips. Wash fish in moisture and vaporproof paper. Pull paper smooth to drive out air. Fold seam in overlapping folds, then fold ends. Fasten with tape or tie with cord. Label the package. If stored in a freezer-locker plant, state box number, name of packer, name of product and date. Get packages into quick freeze promptly.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

STEVE: "How was the hospital dinner, Judge? Sorry I couldn't get there."

OLD JUDGE: "Very interesting. Steve. One of the doctors on the staff read a paper on the research work that is going on at one of the big universities where they are studying chronic alcoholism."

STEVE: "I'd like to have heard that, Judge."

OLD JUDGE: "He pointed out that approximately 95% of the people who drink do so sensibly. Only 5% abuse the privilege of casualty and included in that 5% is the very small number known as alcoholics. Then he quoted a doctor from a famous university who said: 'Alcoholics are sick persons and if treated as such, may be cured.' Alcoholism, he said, is not caused by alcohol but by deep-rooted emotional derangements which can be prevented by education and often cured through modern psychology."

STEVE: "That's the most sensible approach to the problem I've heard."

Control Powdery Mildew

To control powdery mildew — a disease of apples, peaches, grapes, roses, phlox, cantaloupes, cucumbers and other crops — use either wettable sulphur, 8 pounds per 100 gallons of water, or dust with dusting sulphur. Cover both upper and lower surfaces of leaves thoroughly with the dust or spray.

Kitchen Aids

Keep a nutcracker in a kitchen drawer for budging stubborn screw-top bottle caps. Tweezers kept in the same drawer are fine for decorating cakes or cookies as well as pinfeather picking.

Announce Cancellation Of MSC Farmers' Week

Farmers' Week at Michigan State college for 1946 has been cancelled. President John A. Hannah announced that such a step has become necessary to provide housing and other facilities to accommodate the greatly increased enrollment of World War II veterans at M.S.C. All available room-in-college buildings is being converted into living quarters and administrative offices for the ex-servicemen. Sufficient space for the many meetings held in connection with Farmers' Week is no longer available, but it is hoped the situation can be corrected so that the annual event can be held in 1947.

It will be the first time in 31 years that Farmers' Week has not been held.

E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture, made this statement following the cancellation: "I believe Michigan farmers will be in sympathy with the cancellation of Farmers' Week this year to give first consideration to the needs of the men and women who served their country in time of war. We are making plans to provide facilities for farm groups to hold their annual meetings at various times during the winter months."

Demonstration Hall, one of the buildings used most intensively during Farmers' Week, is being converted into a Veterans' Service Institute.

The first conference of farmers at Michigan State college under the Farmers' Week title was in 1914. From this beginning the annual sessions have been held continuously to the present time. But the history of college-sponsored farmers' meetings dates as far back as 1876 when farmers' institutes were conducted in various parts of the state. In 1895 one-day sessions in 70 counties attracted 96,000 farmers and their families.

Farmers' Week programs have developed to the point where the entire field of agricultural interests is covered each year by helpful lectures, discussions and business meetings. At last year's session 38 farm organizations held annual meetings.
