Fire Insurance

Horse-Drawn Fire Engines were good in their day, but buildings grew in size, cities expanded in area and an automobile world has rendered yesterday's apparatus obsolete. Residence Fire Insurance, too, has kept pace with progress. The Fire Insurance Policy of yesterday was good, but the increasing complexities of modern living have brought forth a new, broadened and vastly improved policy.

Peter M. Boehm Died Suddenly On Thursday

The sudden death of Peter M. Boehm, superintendent of the Chelsea Electric and Water Department, on Thursday night, February 7, was a shock to the entire community. Mr. Boehm suffered a heart attack while engaged in bowling at the Sylvan Recreation alleys, as a member of the Spaulding Chevrolet team, and death was instantaneous.

The son of Peter and Mary Cohrs Boehm, he was born Aug. 24, 1875 in Marine City, where in 1902 he was united in marriage to Florence Ward. After residing there for a short time they went to California for about two years, and then returned to Michigan, where Mr. Boehm was employed as a machinist with the Ford Motor Co., Detroit. The family came to Chelsea in 1917, when Mr. Boehm became associated with the Chelsea Electric and Water Department, which he was serving as superintendent at the time of his death.

He was a member of the Marine City Methodist church, Olive Lodge 156, F. & A. M. and Olive Chapter 140, R. A. M., both of Chelsea.

Mr. Boehm is survived by the widow; a daughter, Margaret, of Eganaw; five sisters, Mrs. H. M. Robinson and Mrs. J. C. Miller of Marine City; Mrs. E. B. Cook of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. Clinton Folkerts and Mrs. Helen Larson of Detroit; and a brother, William Boehm, of Rochester, Michigan.

Funeral services were held from his late residence, 122 East Summit St., at 3 o'clock on Monday afternoon, with Rev. Everett R. Major officiating, and the body was taken to Marine City on Tuesday morning for burial in Woodlawn cemetery.

Chelsea's Quota In Red Cross Drive Set at $4000

Washtenaw county's quota for this year's Red Cross drive for funds has been set at $70,800, according to H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, chairman of the county campaign, which opens on March 1.

Ann Arbor's goal in the drive will be $48,460, and that of Ypsilanti, $13,000.

Other quotas throughout the county are: Chelsea, $4,000; Manchester, $1,500; Saline, $900; Milan, $2,000; Dexter, $1,000; and townships, including Willow Run, Townsite and Kaiser-Fraser, $6,000.

"The 1946 goal of $70,800 represents the county's share of the national organization budget needs, as well as funds for operating the local Red Cross chapter for the coming year," Mr. Crisler said.

In this connection it was pointed out that although the war is over, we still have a great responsibility to stay at the side of the men who won it for us, and to continue the many Red Cross services in our own community and abroad.

"While the need is not so great overseas as it was last year, it has increased at home, and it is a worthy need," the chairman stated.

Quotas for the various divisions and chairmen in the drive will be announced this week.

Grade School P-TA To Observe Founders' Day

All through Michigan, including the Detroit P-TA, the Michigan Congress of the Parent-Teachers' Association will observe the 28th annual Founders' Day by holding dinners and programs.

This year will mark the first observance of Founders' Day for the Chelsea Grade School P-TA, which will be held under the direction of Mrs. Van Weelden on Wednesday, February 20 in the Home Economics room at the public school. This meeting will hold further importance because a means for raising funds to start a Film Library will be under discussion.

The idea of the Detroit P-TA is dated back to the year of 1893, when the principal of Hancock school appealed to the mothers of the school district for help in combating the children's disease then prevalent. A Mothers' club was formed under the principal's direction, which proved to be just one of a number of similar groups which began to spring up all over the country. Soon the National P-TA was formed under the influence of Phoebe Hearst of San Francisco, and Alice Birney of Washington.

It was not until 1918, however, that the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers was formed. The State group has a membership of 120,000.

Two Tickets Expected For Election March 11

According to the political dopesters in Chelsea, local politics will again be an active issue at the forthcoming village election on March 11.

Both the People's party, now in power, and the Independent party will meet in caucus at Sylvan town hall next Tuesday evening, and reports are that an effort is being made to have two complete tickets in the field for the annual election. The present administration came into power two years ago, being re-elected last March without opposition.

Although caucuses in recent years have attracted only a few voting citizens, there is always plenty of criticism of those entrusted with administering the affairs of the village. Interest in village government should start at the caucus, where the candidates are selected, and it is hoped that more voters will show enough interest in the matter to attend one or both of the caucuses next Tuesday night.

Wm. H. Schatz, village clerk, announces that the last day for registration of new voters for the March 11th election will be Monday, February 18.

Wanted in Michigan: A master plan of taxation.

The present scramble of governmental units in Michigan for a share of the promised $27,000,000 surplus in the state treasury, on July 1, 1947, serves only to re-emphasize the need of inter-governmental distribution of tax revenues. It certainly does not justify the imposition of new and added taxes.

When the state legislature convened Monday, February 4, the tug-of-war began.

Already legislative committees are at work hearing appeals for part of the state's kitty at Lansing. Sentiment to date among the house and senate finance committees is said to favor expending two-thirds of the surplus for state educational institutions and asylums, leaving one-third—or approximately $9,000,000—to be spent for other worthy needs.

Finding a solution to Michigan's tax problem is like looking for a needle in a haystack. It might be accomplished, but the chances appear to be slim.

In November, 1944, just ahead of the 1945 general session of the legislature, a special tax study advisory committee released a recommendation, following months of exhaustive study, whereby the productive 3 per cent state sales tax would be reduced to 2½ per cent for purpose of state revenue with the specific authorization that any city might impose a supplemental rate of ½ of 1 per cent for local revenue purposes.

Cities which elected to operate on the 3 per cent basis would receive one-sixth of the tax revenues collected monthly.

The goose that lays the golden egg is the state sales tax.

Here is the most productive, painless and easy-to-collect tax yet conceived.

The little three cents on each dollar of retail sales brought approximately 51 millions into the state treasury during the 1938-39 fiscal year, a year in which the state's expenditures exceeded its revenues by a substantial margin. Those were the years of deficits and red ink at Lansing. Deficits, in fact, prevailed at Lansing during the following depression years: 1932, 1933, 1938 and 1939.

The first two years—1932 and 1933—reflected the tailspin of the stock market, bursting of the prosperity bubble, and the Michigan bank holiday. The last two years—1938 and 1939—marked the period of industrial unrest and unemployment, featured by the historic UAW sit-down strike in 1937 under the Murphy administration.

From a $1 million revenue point in 1938-39, while the treasury was running a deficit, the golden state tax has mounted annually. For the 1943-44 year it yielded $1 million; and in 1944-45 it rose to $9.3 millions. The current year, ending June 30, 1946, will see a further rise to around 108 millions.

It is easy to see that the state sales tax has doubled revenue in 15 years, and the end is not yet in sight.

There is no magic, however, in the continuous rise of tax revenue, due to collection of many pennies on retail sales.

War inflation of prices (due partly to rise of labor costs, of course) is chiefly responsible for the boom.

It is the plight of Michigan's large cities, especially those having a 15 mill tax limitation (Grand Rapids, Flint, Saginaw, Pontiac, Jackson, Muskegon and Battle Creek), which inspires much anguish and tears at legislative hearings at Lansing.

Mayor Edward F. Jeffries of Detroit has been a leading pleader, and it should be said with fairness that the cities have a good case. Per capita costs increase with the size of a city, so that the bigger the city the more it is beset with financial problems. That this is a national problem is indicated by the fact that one person in every five lives in one of the 20 largest cities.

Property values are declining in cities, while wealth moves to the lower-taxed suburbs and adjacent towns. This population decentralization has left the cities with severe economic and social problems. Detroit's race riot was a by-product.

Unfortunately there is no unanimity of opinion on just how taxes should be levied and by whom.

Michigan voters have rejected a state income tax over and over again. Experts go into huddles, new commissions are appointed, and still the answer is far from being found.

The certainty that the federal deficit, already of staggering proportions, must continue at a high peak for many years to come, with an inevitable price of interest annually, is none too reassuring to thrift-minded taxpayers. The cost of running the federal government will continue higher than ever before. Higher wages of federal employees, retirement pensions, veterans' benefits and larger expenditures for military requirements all contribute to the post-war picture of high taxes.

Amid all the feverish rush to get a slice of the state pie at Lansing, the following observations are in order:

A return of unemployment, such as was experienced in 1932 and 1933 and again in 1938 and 1939, would probably bring a return of deficits in the state treasury. Hence the 3 per cent sales tax, now in the "plus" bracket as to actual needs, may be a life-saver again when human wants come to the fore.

Local governments—state, county, school and municipalities—might well re-examine their tax structures and put their house in order during the boom years.

Michigan is one of four states with a sales tax as high as 3 per cent out of a total of 23 sales tax states. Illinois has cut its tax from 3 to 2 per cent; California from 3 to 2½ per cent.

Hence there appears to be some justification for a definite program in Michigan of financial assistance to distressed local governments.

Save Juice
Avoid loss of juice in preparing meat, poultry and fish by never soaking in water. Meat may need to be wiped off with a clean, moist cloth, and poultry or fish may need to be rinsed after cleaning, but none of these foods should be submerged in water.

Thinned Honey
You may stretch honey by thinning it with water. Thinned honey is excellent for sweetening fruit and cold drinks. It is well to remember, however, that thinned honey will ferment unless it is kept in the refrigerator.

Gathering Eggs
Eggs should be gathered at least three times each day during hot weather, cooled immediately and kept cool until marketed.

Restore Shape
Baby's bonnet or a teen-ager's skull cap can be brought back to shape after washing by drawing it over an inverted mixing bowl.

Help To Returning Vets Subject of Sinclair Film

Helping to solve a major local and national problem, the Sinclair Refining Company has produced a new sound movie dramatizing the responsibilities of civilians to returning veterans.

This film, "Heaven With a Fence Around It," will be shown free of charge at a Sinclair Farm Meeting at Gregory town hall on Tuesday, February 19 at 8 p.m., and on Wednesday, February 20, at 8 p.m., at St. Mary's hall, Chelsea, with the compliments of V. C. Kohman, Sinclair agent in Chelsea. It was prepared with the cooperation of government bureaus, practical farmers, businessmen and experts well acquainted with the problems of returning veterans.

"Heaven With a Fence Around It" is the romantic story of a young man who is typical of all veterans—just back from the whirlpool of war. From the misery and filth of his battle experience emerged a clean dream. It was the dream of a farm of his own with fertile lands, a full root cellar, a comfortable home and independence and security. The dream looked like heaven with a fence around it—from a foxhole.

But—from the main street of a small community, it looked as if he were the one who was fenced in—instead of heaven.

His troubles were not because civilians were indifferent or unkind. They wanted to be helpful. But they didn't know how to help. And if they did know, they didn't know how to help him!

They learned, however, as is shown in the movie. And seeing what they learned will help us all do a more patriotic job of helping returning veterans, according to Mr. Kohman.

V.F.W. AUXILIARY

The Auxiliary to the V.F.W. held their business meeting in St. Mary's music hall on Feb. 11, with 35 members present.

Commander Ritter spoke to us about the home the V.F.W. is planning on building in Chelsea. He reminded us of the dance to be held Saturday night. The Auxiliary will have charge of the checkroom and the lunch. He also gave out the tickets to be sold on the Philco refrigerator.

Three new members were initiated: Mrs. Dorothy Steele, Mrs. Carolina Niehaus, and Mrs. Wanda Forner.

Our Charter was draped in memory of our departed sister, Rose Juergens.

Susanna Hulce made a report on the last bake sale. We took in $37.32, with several members still to be heard from.

Mrs. Hulce, while chairman for ways and means committee, has turned in to the treasury $156.02. Many thanks, Susanna.

Mrs. Weber appointed Mary Beal the new ways and means chairman for February, March and April.

Mrs. Weber made a report on the District Rally in Jackson, which she and Mary Beal attended last Sunday.

At this rally it was reported that the Auxiliaries of Michigan had given 200 electric razors to double amputees at Percy Jones hospital. We were glad to have had a part in this great work.

We were also given the name of a WAC (who had been injured in an accident) at Percy Jones, and all members were asked to send her cards.

—Publicity Chairman.

Victor Winter escaped serious injury about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon when the gravel-truck owned and driven by Irwin Klumpff accidentally backed up, striking him and passing diagonally over his body from the left to the right knee. X-rays taken at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital showed that there were no broken bones, with the most serious injury being the right knee, which was badly bruised. That army life sure toughened you up, Victor!

WE DEAL IN ATOMS

The "Atomic Age" is centuries old in pharmacy. The pharmacist works with atoms every day because the chemical formulae for prescription drugs are given in terms of atoms; for example, to the pharmacist, bi-carbonate of soda is NAHCO—one atom of Sodium, one of Hydrogen, one of Carbon, and three atoms of Oxygen. He must know and recognize hundreds such formulae because upon his knowledge depends the health and welfare of the people he serves.

NEW HUDSON ON DISPLAY

New 1946 Hudson automobiles, now being shown by Jones Garage, are winning instant approval due to the postwar advances in exterior and interior styling, mechanical efficiency and ease of operation, according to Mr. Jones.

Declaring that the new models fully meet the demand for better cars for better driving, Mr. Jones said that deliveries will be made as rapidly as possible and those placing the first orders will get the first cars. He added that present Hudson owners are well represented in those viewing the first cars built since the end of the war.

Mr. Jones has been advised by the factory that Hudson is in a unique position for production by reason of early reconversion, early orders for materials and an integrated plant that enables an unusually high percentage of the completed auto's components.

The new models are being offered in two distinctly different "style lines"—The Super series and the Commodore series, each available with six or eight cylinder engines. However, immediate production schedules call for four-door sedans powered by six-cylinder engines followed by club coupes and broughams. Three-passenger coupes and convertibles will be added to the Hudson line as rapidly as urgent demands for first production models will permit. Convertibles and eight-cylinder powered cars in

OFFICE NEWS

The Milan basketball teams will play here tomorrow night. A dance will follow the games. The girls' team plays at U-High tomorrow afternoon at 4:00. Manchester will play here next Tuesday night.

CIVIC PRIDE

Yes, students, spring is on the way, and I'm sure you all want the school grounds to look like something to be proud of. You cannot have them like that by doing nothing about it. Perhaps sometimes you are in a hurry and would like to cut across the lawn, but don't let temptation get the better of you. Please try to keep off the grounds—you not only are cooperating with the janitors but are also increasing the attractiveness of our school.

Come on now, everyone, let's all cooperate and make our school one to be proud of.

RECREATION PROJECT

One of the many things needed in Chelsea high school is a kind of recreation room for the students. It seems that if they were given a room for it, the students would be more than willing to do the rest. Getting money for that sort of place would make a nice project for some industrious organization.

Can't you picture it—comfortable chairs, a phonograph, perhaps card tables, and no end of other things to amuse? Sounds nice, doesn't it—a place to flop after a hard day's slaving over a hot desk?

In Student Council meeting last Thursday a motion was made that there be a charge for using the microphone for games, etc. This motion stands for all except the charitable organizations. The motion was passed.

F.F.A. NEWS

Last Friday the Saline Chapter of F.F.A. was invited to Chelsea for a combined meeting.

The two chapters exchanged reports of the year's progress. Mr. Chenoweth spoke in conditions in Europe, which was followed by a talk by Rev. Major. After the meeting the two chapters competed in a basketball game.

Mr. Johnson and Rev. Major refereed the game. Ed Lantis was the coach for our team.

The starting lineup: Klager and Jaeger, forwards; Schable, center; Finkbeiner and Rentschler, guards, for Saline.

Chelsea's starting line-up was: Van Riper and Leach, forwards; Hapson, center; Barth and Fahl, guards. Van Riper, our star player, scored 18 points, and Bauer followed, scoring 8 points; Paul scored 4 points; Barth, Hanson, Hailey and Tarnacki had 2 points each.

The high point man for Saline was Weidman, who scored 4 points; Finkbeiner, Phillips and Wells had 2 points each. The final score was 36-10 in favor of Chelsea.

Pupils who had study hall sixth hour were permitted to go to the gym to watch the game.

Refreshments were served the visitors after the game. Cookies, ice cream and pop were served to all the visitors.

FAVORITE MOVIES

Big Slane and Norma Pierson—"Tonight and Every Night"; Beverly Book—"The Southerner"; Fifth Hour American History Class—"Up in Mabel's Room"; Mr. Cameron—"Patrick the Great"; Morris Newman—"Wonder Man"; Bert May—"This Love of Mine"; Jerome and Marcelline—"Forever Yours"; Mr. Chenoweth—"Desirable Bachelor."

Last Friday night after the basketball game with Saline, Club #45 sponsored a really sharp dance. The music, needless to say, was furnished by "old reliable." There were so many people there (quite a few from Saline) that it was hard to get around on the floor. Let's have another one, Club #45.

CHELSEA LOSES TO SALINE 44-48
A strong Saline five came over to Chelsea to hand two defeats in one night to the Bulldogs. Chelsea led by one point at the end of the first period, and the score was all tied up at the half at 23-23. Saline went out in the second half to pick up 25 points to Chelsea's 21. Saline led by 10 points at one point in the game but Chelsea cut it down to 4 but could not get any closer.

Chelsea's guard, Bug Slane, led all scoring for the evening with 21 points. Art Moehn and Harry Fodick hit the hoop for 18 points and 13 respectively. The Saline reserves handed the little Bulldogs their second defeat for the season by the score of 27-20. Don Baldwin led the scoring column with 10 points, with George Cook for Saline scoring 7.

Tuesday night Chelsea played host to Roosevelt and Friday night the Milan Reds, league leading team, will furnish some mighty fine ball playing.

INTRODUCING

Our newest member of the faculty is Lyle Chenoweth, recently of the army. Born in Wisconsin, he is strictly a product of the Mid-West, having attended school in Wisconsin and Minnesota, finally graduating from the Western State Teachers' College in Kalamazoo, Michigan and from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Mr. Chenoweth taught in Flat Rock for a short time before being drafted in 1941.

After completing Officers' Training School, he was transferred to the Training Center at Camp Grant, Ill. He went overseas with the 124th Hospital Unit and was stationed first in England, then France, Germany and Austria.

Mr. Chenoweth returned to the United States on December 15.

THE ELITE

Donna Perkins first saw the light of day August 28, 1928 in Lansing. Now she is 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighs 118 pounds. Her favorite color is red and chocolate cake rates high on her list of foods. She has brown eyes and hair. Where songs and movies are concerned, she likes "Long Ago and Far Away" and "Tars and Spars." She enjoys seeing a good game of football.

Robert Breitenwischer joined his family on December 5, 1928, here in Chelsea. His favorite color is blue, which also happens to be the color of his eyes. He has brown hair and weighs 163 pounds and measures about 5 feet 8 1/2 inches in height. He likes football very much and he thinks that scalloped potatoes and meat loaf together make a wonderful meal. His favorite movie is "Pride of the Marines," and the song he likes best is "In Always Chasing Rainbows."

On the day of March 22, 1928, Audrey White was brought into the world, much to her parents' joy. Sing that day, Audrey has grown and changed quite a bit. Today she stands 5 feet 4 inches, weighs around 120 pounds, has light brown hair and blue eyes. Among her favorites are scalloped potatoes and ham for food, basketball for a sport, "Waiting for the Train to Come In" for a song, and "State Fair" for her favorite movie. When she graduates, she plans on going to Secretarial Business School and be a business woman. Good luck to you, Audrey!

STUDENT COUNCIL

The printing of the freshmen "Hand Book" will be delayed. A box social is being planned, but nothing definite has been decided as yet. The possibilities of having an All-Hi pot-luck were also discussed. A series of "Topics for Debate" from the U. of M. were presented. The Council is to decide whether or not the student body will be interested.

ATHLETIC BOARD

June Vall and Donna Manville were appointed co-chairmen to get students to sell tickets at the basketball games.

G.A.A. NEWS

Last Friday at 6 o'clock in the high school gym an exciting game of basketball was played by the Saline and Chelsea girls' teams. All the girls fought very hard to make their team come out on top. The Chelsea girls succeeded by a score of 17 to 12.

After the game refreshments were served by members of the girls' bowling team. They served a "tunch" of goulash, spaghetti and cheese, sandwiches and milk. Ice cream and cookies were dessert. All the girls seemed to enjoy the lunch.

Pheasant Hunters Face Another Poor Season

Lansing—Michigan pheasant hunters may as well become reconciled to the fact that next fall's shooting won't be much better generally than during the 1945 poor season. In good pheasant areas, such as the Thumb, the prospects are brighter.

Two favorable breeding seasons in succession may be necessary to restore pheasant populations to the high levels of the early 1940's according to Edward L. Allen, conservation department biologist.

Allen, who is in charge of the department's wildlife experiment station at Rose Lake, points out that a wet period in the climatic cycle has been responsible for widespread breeding-season losses in pheasants with drastic reductions of bird populations from New England to the Dakotas, and that the end of the wet cycle isn't in sight.

Intensive field work at the station shows pheasant numbers to be at the lowest point in seven years. Groups of three to five hens are sometimes seen, but cocks for the most part have been solitary. Experimental food patches of corn have seldom been visited. Food has been plentiful and readily available to the birds. The spring breeding stock will be the smallest yet seen at Rose Lake near Lansing. A single good breeding season, however, may do the trick in the state's better pheasant areas.

The department is pushing plans to step up production of pheasant eggs and birds at the Mason game farm and is encouraging hunters to press the winter campaign against foxes. Organized hunts are gathering momentum.

The state's fox population is planning a bigger and better crop of young foxes for 1946. Field men at Rose Lake recently followed 18 fox trails, 10 of which were double tracks. The breeding season for foxes is February and March.

Rose Lake foxes spend much of their time hunting rabbits and meadow mice. Several rabbit kills have been found and nearly every trail shows abundant evidence of mousing. One animal dug for mice 15 times in half a mile, and another tried 14 times in the same distance. It is difficult to determine from tracks when an attempt succeeded. Meadow mice are particularly abundant on the Rose Lake area this winter and probably constitute the most available food supply for all carnivores.

According to Darrell Kniss, a department trapper-instructor, the fox is not the efficient rabbit-catcher he is credited with being. He says that for each rabbit caught, half a dozen get away, judging by records in the snow. He believes, also, that the fox is considerably less successful with pheasants than with rabbits. A fox is probably not much more apt to catch rabbits than a hard-hunting dog.

OFFICE OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS
Lansing

One hundred and eighty veterans and veterans' dependents are presently receiving medical care in the hospital at the Michigan Veterans' Facility at Grand Rapids. This number is in addition to some 300 more receiving domiciliary care.

The State Civil Service Commission has established new positions for medical doctors at the facility. It is imperative that doctors be secured to fill these positions. Interested doctors should apply either in person or by mail to Colonel Walter J. Baker, Commandant, Michigan Veterans' Facility, Grand Rapids, Mich.

The physical structure of the facility is being expanded by the addition of another wing which will house 250 veterans, a new kitchen and dining room for the hospital and a new and larger power plant.

It is interesting to note that during the week just passed, 32 veterans entered the facility as compared to two discharged. This trend foreshadows what is to come. Of the 32 veterans mentioned above, nine were referred to the facility by local counseling centers ranging all the way from St. Ignace in the Upper Peninsula to Saginaw, Mt. Pleasant, Flint and Caro in the lower peninsula.

The Michigan Veterans' Facility is the only hospital and domiciliary institution in the state that is owned and operated by the State of Michigan exclusively for veterans and their dependents.

Cuts Fire Hazard
The fire insurance industry is particularly interested in the value of paint from a fire protection standpoint. Unprotected wood has a tendency to weather and dry out until it becomes like tinder. Paint, however, keeps wood in good condition, so that a wooden building painted is less likely to take fire than one that is unpainted. Another important point is that in order to paint it is first necessary to clean up, thus eliminating the hazard of accumulated refuse.

Old City
The oldest city in Indiana is Vincennes, founded in 1732 by Francois Baptiste Bisot Vincennes on the site of the Piankashaw Miami Indian village Chippewake. It also was the first capital of Indiana territory.

Champ Potato Grower Has 614 Bu. Per Acre

J. D. Robinson of Pellston is Michigan's 1945 premier potato grower. He was awarded the title at the annual meeting of the Michigan Crop Improvement association in East Lansing, on Wednesday, February 6.

The yield on Mr. Robinson's 45 acres averaged 614 bushels of certified seed, tops among 143 growers who entered the Michigan Premier Growers' contest. It was his fifth such award in the past 10 years. His best yield during that period, however, wasn't high enough for still another award to make it six out of 10. Emil DeBacker of St. Nicholas topped Robinson's record yield of 602 bushels with 715 bushels in 1944 to take first place.

In the premier table stock contest for 1945—Pulmones—Falkies—Gorneth came out on top with 477 bushels of Russet Rural to the acre. Among other outstanding yields in both contests were those of Richards Bros., Manistique, with 507 bushels of certified Pontiacs per acre; John G. Woodman, Paw Paw, with 474 bushels of certified Chippewa seed; and Fred Foltz and Sons, Petoskey, with 401 bushels of Russet Rural table stock. Good cultural practices were chiefly responsible for success of the winners. Mr. Robinson grew Pontiac, Chippewa and Russet Rural varieties on sandy loam soil that previously had produced alfalfa. Careful preparation of the seedbed and care of the crop paid dividends. He plowed in the fall and disked the field eight times in the spring. Between May 15 and 30 he planted 85 bushels of certified seed to the acre, spacing the rows 32 inches and the hills 8 inches apart. Plenty of fertilizer was used, 1,500 pounds of 3-12-12 to the acre, and the field was sprayed eight times with Bordeaux mixture to control disease. A sprinkler type irrigation carried the potatoes through dry spells, with about six inches of water being applied during the growing season. Several other high-producing growers used similar methods, with variations, to produce their big yields.

Foreign Trade
In prewar days the United States was second only to the British empire in trade with South Africa. United States imports including copper, chrome, tungsten, lead, manganese and other ores. In 1940 Americans ordered two million pounds of lobster tails, ice-packed for shipping 7,810 miles to New York City. These rock or Cape spiny lobsters are really sea crawfish, lacking the big pincers of the lobster.

70 Times As Fast
American shipbuilding yards in 1943 produced at a rate 70 times above their prewar output. At this rate, says the Shipbuilders' council of America, the world's merchant tonnage could be replaced in the space of four years.

Recently I gave you a freak accident that was reported by the National Safety Council. In checking through some of the other items I thought you'd be interested in another. Here it is:
"Every year someone lets a train pass over him without serious results. In 1945 a citizen of Denver did it the hard way by first having himself an auto accident. This threw him through the roof of his car and landed him on his back in the middle of the tracks just as the train came along. He lay quietly and securely, until the engine and long string of freight cars had roared over him, then found he had a broken leg—from the auto accident." It's interesting to read about these freak accidents, especially when the results are not so serious. However, I want to repeat again that automobile driving is a serious business and requires all of our undivided attention. The accident toll is enormous and you and I should set the example in safe driving. Drive safely!

Curbs Fading
 Garments containing acetate rayon may fade due to atmospheric gases. A final rinse of one heaping teaspoon of washing soda to one quart of warm water will reduce this fading. Don't store acetate rayon in paper or near felt and wool. This increases the fading.
