Waterloo Barracks To Be Used In State Parks

Lansing—Sleepers state park and Island Lake recreation area are going to have group camping facilities this summer in spite of building material shortages, as the conservation department's parks division has decided to turn out of vacant barracks it already owns at the Waterloo recreation area, near Chelsea.

Dismantling of a dozen of the Waterloo buildings will begin within a week, the parks division announced. The old barracks successfully housed CCC crew and military police training detachment and prisoners of war. They are built of five-foot sections that are readily taken down, transported and reassembled.

At Sleepers state park, near the tip of Michigan's Thumb, the group sections will be used in constructing a mess hall and kitchen for 120 campers, a toilet and wash-house, a recreation building and tent platforms.

At Island Lake recreation area, on the south side of the Huron river four miles east of Brighton, the group camp to be built consists of a mess hall and kitchen, toilet and wash-house, a recreation building and 15 sleeping cabins to accommodate eight campers each.

Principal group camp users are children and youth organizations from Michigan's larger cities.

Old-Fashioned Auction Starts Tonight At 8:00

This week Thursday evening, April 11, is the event many have been looking forward to—the old-fashioned auction sale, sponsored by the Grade School P.T.A. and held in the Chelsea high school gym, with bidding to begin at 8 o'clock.

Merchants and other interested friends have donated liberally to this project with the result that several hundred dollars worth of new merchandise will be put on the block.

In case you have forgotten the many scarce and useful articles to be auctioned, refresh your memory by reading the list published in last week's Standard.

Auctioneer Kalmbach has been rehearsing his lines for the past two weeks and promises to be exceptionally proficient; so come for an evening's entertainment and at the same time give your local P.T.A. a boost.

Proceeds realized from this auction will go to the Grade School Film Library Fund.

Officers To Be Installed By V. F. W. Tonight

Senior Vice Commander—Duane Weiss,
Junior Vice Commander—Charles Winan,
Quartermaster and Adjutant—Guy Weatherwax,

'Christ Is King'—Palm Sunday Observance

Since 1898, Cleveland Brown and his family have had the sole privilege of selling palms to the faithful who gather in St. Peter's Square on Palm Sunday.

Palm Sunday (Dominica in Palmis) is the last Sunday in Lent, the first day of Holy Week and the Sunday immediately preceding Easter. It commemorates Jesus Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem, accompanied by the multitude who greeted Him with hosannas, waving palm branches and scattering them before Him in the way. At St. Peter's church, Rome, Palm Sunday is elaborately celebrated. The pope is brought into the church, borne aloft on the shoulders of eight men. The day's ceremonies and services close with high mass. All who attend the ceremony are granted 30 years' indulgence. Each one who has been present on the occasion takes away his palm branch, which is supposed to be a charm against disease, and which is kept in some cases to be burned to ashes on the next Ash-Wednesday. The supreme thought of Palm Sunday is "Christ Is King."

USES Wants Listings Of All Available Jobs

Urging more extensive employment of servicemen and other persons who have physical limitations, Lawrence Hamberg, Ann Arbor manager for the United States Employment Service, and Ned A. Reading, veterans' employment representative, urge all employers to list every existing job opening with the USES. They point out that if the USES has a listing for all available jobs, they can be compared not only with the abilities of disabled veterans and other handicapped persons, but with all USES applicants.

"Although the record of placements of disabled veterans, as well as non-veterans who have physical handicaps, has been good, there is still room for improvement," said Mr. Hamberg. The local public employment offices in Michigan have applications of 7,410 disabled veterans on file who are capable of doing excellent work if placed in the right jobs.

"The selective placement way of placing disabled veterans or non-veterans takes into consideration working hazards and other significant factors of the job. They are compared with the physical ability of each occupationally impaired job applicant. In this way, each applicant who has a physical disability can be considered for jobs that require use of his highest skill and ability. Emphasis should be placed on the type of job disabled person can perform safely and satisfactorily and not the physical impairment he has suffered."

Mr. Hamberg pointed out that much experience was gained during the war in the placement of physically handicapped persons in many types of war industry.

M. Y. F. Will Present 'A Journey Into Faith'

"A Journey Into Faith," the story of "The Crucifixion," will be presented by the Methodist Youth Fellowship on Wednesday night, April 17, in the church.

This is a contribution by the M.Y.F. to the observance of the Lenten season. Any proceeds derived from the picture will go toward the purchase of a 16mm sound movie projector which the youth will present to the church as a part of its equipment for teaching Christian education, and for use as supplementary program and entertainment at church family nights.

Because of the interest in the story of "The Crucifixion," it may be necessary to have two showings. Notice will be given through the school.

VFW AUXILIARY MEETING

The regular business meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary was held Monday evening at St. Mary's hall, with twenty members present. Three new members were initiated.

The hospital chairman reported the party given at the Ypsilanti State hospital on March 19 was a huge success. There were 22 members of the Chelsea Auxiliary present.

Plans were made for a card party, to be given at St. Mary's hall Apr. 25. All committee members are requested to be present at a special meeting to be held on April 23 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Wm. Weber, to fill out reports.

Pupils installation of officers will take place at 8 p.m. on April 22, at St. Mary's hall. There will also be movies shown of the National Home, after the installation of officers.

Farmers Should Guard Against Raids By Foxes Lansing—Farmers who know there are foxes in their neighborhood are advised to look well to the repair of their fences and hen houses in April, May and June. Conservation department game men say the fox denning season has begun, and little foxes as well as big ones will be dining on the food most convenient to catch, whether it be field mice or young chicks. 40

With foxes still abundant, the department is anticipating plenty of calls for aid in the next few months. Farmers reporting damage get assistance and instruction in trapping the particular offenders. Fox hunting ceased almost entirely with disappearance of the snow. 40

Trapping instruction is free to all applicants, whether the culprit be fox or some other predator such as wild dog, wild house cat, great horned owl, weasel, mink or coyote. State trapper-instructors operate in southern Michigan out of the conservation department's field administration offices in Detroit, Jackson and Grand Rapids. 40

24 Years Ago

Thursday, March 23, 1922
A postponed community birthday party celebrating the 97th birthday of Robert Foster was held in the Macomber hall Tuesday evening, with about 225 present. Mr. Foster, known as "Uncle Robert," was born in Stanfield, Lincolnshire, England, one of a family of thirteen children. He was the only child to attend the only school he ever attended was the Robert Foster Sunday school in England, where he was taught to read and write. When 19 years of age, he came to America, making the trip in thirty-five days. He came to Michigan in 1847, settling in Lyndon on the farm now owned by C. A. Rowe. In 1849 he was united in marriage with Martha Dopey, and of a family of nine children, eight are still living: Schuyler P., Mrs. W. K. Guerin and Miss Lillian residing in Chelsea. The American Legion show, "The Brazilian Heiress," was presented at a packed house both Friday and Saturday evenings, at the Sylvan town hall. The show was considered by all who saw it to be the best home talent show ever presented in Chelsea. Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Beach entertained a company of relatives and friends Thursday evening in honor of the 90th anniversary of Mr. Beach's father, Abner Beach. At the time that Mr. Beach came to Michigan, which was in 1838, the M.C.R.R. was laid only as far as Ypsilanti, and the rest of the journey to Lima Center was made by stage coach. Mr. Beach lived in Lima Center until two weeks ago when he came to Chelsea to live with his son.

Miss Minnie Kilmer Russell was born in Sylvan, Oct. 2, 1880 and died in her home in Edgewater, Colorado, on Saturday, March 18, 1922. She is survived by three brothers, Louis, John and Charles, and two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Clark and Mrs. John Faber.

The home of Henry A. Steinbach of Dexter was the scene of a very happy occasion on Sunday, March 19 when the 50th wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steinbach of Chelsea, was fittingly observed.

Andrew Harr was born in Waterloo township, Jackson county, Sept. 8, 1847 and died March 18, 1922. He was united in marriage with Rosina Rentzschler on April 23, 1878. He is survived by three children, Mrs. Earl Beaman, Miss Marie and Walter, living at home. Funeral services were held from St. Jacob's Lutheran church.

Thursday, March 30, 1922
Mrs. Edward Fennell (Mary Doll) was born in Buffalo, New York, March 29, 1867 and died at the U. of M. hospital, Ann Arbor, March 27, 1922, after an illness of three days with diphtheria. She is survived by her husband, three brothers, Edward, John and William; three sisters, Mrs. John Quirk, Mrs. Peter Wirkner and Mrs. Margaret Hindelang. Funeral services were held from St. Mary's church, with Rev. Father Van Dyke officiating.

While playing ball on Main St. last Saturday afternoon, Lawellyn Hughes slipped and put one of his knees out of joint.

Elmer J. Beach fell on Sunday, March 19 and fractured a rib.

Adolph Schmidt of Lima died Wednesday as the result of an accident that he met with while working on the top of a telephone pole, which broke and he was thrown to the ground. The pole fell on top of him.

Miss Eleanor Eisenbeiser of North Lake graduated from M.S.C. at Ypsilanti on Thursday, March 22 and has accepted a position in the public school of Port Wayne, Ind.

Matt Aiber is having a new roof placed on his residence on West Middle street.

34 Years Ago
Thursday, March 21, 1912
James W. Dann had his day equipped with new running gear.

Geo. Scripser of Lyndon has rented his farm to John Sullivan for the coming year.

According to the February crop report, wheat did not suffer any during that month. The fields were well covered with snow, and the same can be said for this month of March.

Charles Tyler, one of the earliest settlers of this village, also the first postmaster here, died in Durand recently. Mr. Tyler became interested in the Old People's Home here and left that institution $3,000 in bonds, also a deed to a large acreage of land.

A short time before his death he handed a sealed envelope to his pastor requesting that it not be opened until after his death. In that envelope were the deed and bonds.

Thursday, March 28, 1912
St. Paul's church will confirm a class of sixteen on Sunday morning. They are Edwin Bauer, Wilbert Grieb, Wilbur Hinderer, George Klein, Rudolph Paul, Christian Winter, Frieda Bauer, Martha Haschke, Elsa Hauger, Louise Hauger, Martha Kannowski, Helene Koch, Edna Lambrecht, Emma Reule, Elsa Schiller, and Esther Zeeb.

M. J. Dunkel, who has had charge of the automatic machines at the Flanders Mfg. Co., has resigned his position, and will go on the road demonstrating automatic screw machines.

Ten years ago on election day in April, Geo. T. English filled his ice house with 18-inch ice cut on Pierce's lake that day. Three days after he had filled the house the ice was entirely gone in the lake.

A. E. Johnson broke his right leg just below the knee last Saturday evening. He had spent the day paper hanging on the farm of Mrs. Adela Muscott in Lima, and about 5 o'clock went to the barn to hitch up his horse. After partially closing the barn door he started for his buggy, and as he left the door fell upon him. Miss Hazel Speer will leave next Monday for Ypsilanti, where she will take a course of studies in the Normal school.

More Potatoes By Use Of Alfalfa In Rotation
Results of the ten-year rotation plot with potatoes at the Lake City Experiment station point to the practices that can best be used for improving Michigan potato production, according to E. J. Whisler, research associate in farm crops at Michigan State college.

The highest yield of marketable tubers was realized on the rotation where alfalfa was used for green manure. The highest percentage of scab-free potatoes was produced on the plot using rye. Plots rotated with sweet clover produced fewer marketable tubers than either of the other two plots because of more scab.

In preparing the seed bed, going over the soil several times with a field cultivator and disc harrow apparently gives better weed control and loosens the soil. Since potatoes require a deep, loose seed bed, a minimum of packing after plowing is recommended. Packing can be avoided by working the soil before plowing so that fitting the land after plowing will be unnecessary.

A potato variety which produces more marketable tubers than varieties usually grown in Michigan is the Menominee, introduced by the farm crops department two years ago. Highly resistant to common potato scab and late blight, the Menominee produces scab-free potatoes on infested soil where other tubers are unmarketable because of scab.

As usually piecework quilts, gather or pleat a ruffle and tack it on the board below the mattress, using the quilt as a spread.

Growing of Home Fruit Supply Is Easy Task

For the home gardener who is looking for a reliable home-produced fruit supply, strawberries and raspberries are the best bet.

R. E. Loree, assistant professor in horticulture at Michigan State college, says that 25 to 50 strawberry plants, and a dozen to 25 raspberry plants will provide an abundance of fresh fruit for a family of four to five persons. Both can be set out in early spring.

Both strawberry and raspberries do well on many different types of soil, but produce best on fertile, well-drained ground that receives plenty of moisture and contains lots of humus.

Set out both raspberries and strawberries as early in the spring as the ground can be worked. Above all, don't wait until hot, dry weather arrives. Prepare the soil thoroughly, and add manure or grow a green manure crop a year before planting.

Dorset and Fairfax are good home-garden strawberry varieties because of their excellent flavor. Premier, Dunlop and Catskill are among the standard June-bearing commercial varieties. Gem, Wayzata and Mastodon are the best of everbearing or fall-bearing varieties.

Latham is the most popular red raspberry variety. Cuthbert is excellent for canning and home use, but is less resistant to virus. Taylor is recommended both for home and market use, while Indian Summer is a good fall-bearing red variety. Cumberland is the leading black raspberry, and Sodus is considered the best purple variety.

It's a neat trick

but we can't do it

ADVENTUROUS little boys risk their hides on hazards like this every day. But most grown-ups shy away from risks—especially if they have a responsibility to other folks. Here at Michigan Bell, we have a vital 24-hour-a-day responsibility to millions of Michigan people. We have to keep our feet solidly on the ground.

This rule applies to every phase of our business, including the company's earnings. Good telephone service depends on adequate earnings, and we must avoid any risks that might jeopardize them.

Here is why. Thousands of thrifty people have their savings invested in Bell System securities. Their money makes good telephone service possible. In fact, Michigan Bell's 5-year $150,000,000 expansion program will be financed by these and other investors. And that program will provide more and better telephone service for you.

So you see, our earnings are important all around. And telephone rates—such a small part of your monthly budget—must be maintained at a level which will keep our earnings adequate. Otherwise, investors would put their money into some other business, and the future quality and extent of your telephone service would suffer.

We believe our customers want good telephone service, even if it costs a trifle more than inferior service.

Technical improvements in the past brought rates for good service down and have kept them down in the face of rising costs. As rapidly as future improvements will permit, we expect and want our rates to come down still further. For Michigan Bell wants rates no higher—and no lower—than necessary to insure good telephone service.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By GENE ALLEMAN

Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, believes in doing things differently, well, at least, not according to the traditional Lansing pattern.

He keeps a vigilant eye on details and dollars, believing that both contribute materially to efficiency of the state highway department.

For example: Whereas his Democratic predecessors built up the state highway department as a strong centralized agency with a large staff of employees, virtually state-wide in scope and hence of major political value at election time, Ziegler has proceeded deliberately to reduce the department personnel by farming out state highway maintenance to 61 of the 83 county highway commissions. Of course, perhaps unfortunately for his Democratic predecessors, these county highway commissions are largely Republican in politics. Ziegler has many friends in the county organizations, whereas Murray D. Van Wagoner, for example, did not have.

And another thing to illustrate our point. The state civil service commission, under its constitutional act, possesses legislative as well as executive powers. It lays down the law for state departments, subject only to possible Supreme court review.

For many months Ziegler has been contesting the right of the civil service department, represented by the commission and its director, Thomas J. Wilson, to have the final "say-so" on six-month salary increases which the average state employee is eligible to receive, providing his services are found to be "satisfactory."

Now many state officials might shrug a shoulder and promptly pass the buck to the civil service office with an excuse, "The people gave the civil service commission the power to act on salaries. So the matter is out of my hands."

But not Ziegler. No, sirree! In this respect, the state highway commissioner is a bit old-fashioned at this state capital where more and more spending has been the rule, rather than the contrary, and where payrolls keep climbing in numbers and amount, administration in and administration out, regardless of the party in power.

A dollar is a dollar to Ziegler even in 1946. He rolls up his sleeves, wades into voluminous reports by the hours, and if he thinks he can save a few dollars and do so conscientiously, he proceeds to do it without delay.

This zeal for economy and efficiency probably accounts for the Ziegler disposition to toss himself with details, whereas other administrators are inclined to delegate details to their subordinates and to spend much of their time meeting the voters.

If he feels that an office girl has earned a merit increase in salary, he recommends it. But if her eyesight is deficient and therefore she is less efficient than she was ten or twenty years ago, he stoutly declines to recommend a raise.

"I am elected by the people and am responsible to the people for the efficiency of my organization," he said to us, as we dropped into his office the other day to inquire about 1946 highway plans. "And yet, because of the civil service policy, I have no control over the salary increases allowed to employees in my own department."

When we arrived for a brief visit Ziegler was considerably wrought up over a letter released by Wilson, state personnel director, alleging Ziegler with "neglect, failure and refusal" to recommend salary increases.

Ziegler's reply, as given in a letter of March 6, retorted: "I always appreciate good employees and have never refused to pay earned and just raised to any employees whose capabilities, reliability and production were satisfactory."

Again proof of our observation that the present highway commissioner does not hew to traditional political custom. Whereas many state officials encourage salary increases for their department employees, keeping an eye on the time when the political campaign rolls around, and volunteer workers are needed, the doughty Ziegler sticks to his guns. "If the employees 'earn' the salary raises, he'll say so. Until then, a firm and decisive 'No!' And that's that."

And now regarding the 1946 program of the highway department. Ziegler says he has one, but that it isn't possible to reveal it at this time.

First, the uncertainty of how soon contractors can get steel. Bridges, viaducts and overhead structures, for example, require lots of steel. And so do highways, too, we were told. "It may be three to six months before we can get steel," said Ziegler. "Who knows?"

The labor situation, both to supply and cost, isn't so discouraging, however. "I foresee no serious difficulty in 1946," he said.

As for funds, the department anticipates having about $26,000,000 for 1946 highway work under federal aid. Uncle Sam matches Michigan dollars 60-60 except for purchase of right-of-ways in which it participates one-third.

For our first year's postwar program, with what we now have, plus what we will collect in 1946, plus $5,000,000 loaned to us by the legislature in 1944, we will have enough to match federal aid," said Ziegler.

Four state ferries will be operated during the 1946 tourist summer season, the commissioner said. "These four boats can take care of all traffic needs, except that at holiday time. At the worst of the 1946-holiday season, there was only a half-mile line waiting at the ferry docks."

As for the proposed Straits of Mackinac Bridge, that's a horse of another color.

Ziegler would rather talk about roads and putting men to work building them.

That is his business, and that's Charley Ziegler.
