Junior Niehaus Receives Highest Scouting Honor

The National Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts of America has announced the award of the Gold Medal for Life Saving to Star Scout Paul Junior Niehaus, 16, of Chelsea. The award was made in recognition of this Scout's bravery in saving the life of LeRoy Piement of Detroit on August 13, 1945 while swimming at Lake May in Presque Isle county. Junior went to the rescue of the lad when he went down in deep water, and assisted him to shore.

The letter from Dr. George J. Fisher, National Scout Commissioner, reads:

Dear Scout Niehaus: It is with pride and pleasure that I notify you on behalf of the National Court of Honor that you have been voted the much-prized Medal for Life Saving, our highest award, in recognition of your gallant conduct in saving the life of LeRoy Piement. The Medal was designed by a famous artist, Belmore Browne, and is made of gold, but its intrinsic value is small compared with the deed for which it stands. The value as a token will, however, increase each year you wear it, for it is a token of the service of others, even though it might have resulted in the sacrifice of your own life.

PAUL JUNIOR NIEHAUS

With these facts in your mind, this Medal will tend to keep before you the greatest lesson in Scouting, that of being prepared to render service to others in any emergency.

The members of the National Court of Honor congratulate you and wish you a long, happy and useful life.

Yours very sincerely,

George J. Fisher,

National Scout Commissioner.

Menu for the banquet consisted of: roasted fruit juice, baked Virginia ham or baked salmon loaf, escalloped potatoes, peas, rolls, tea, milk, and ice cream and cake.

Junior class president, Ray Knickstroem, gave the welcome. Jean Shutes, the Senior class president, gave the response. Mr. Johnson introduced the members of the Board of Education and the new faculty members. Mr. DeMatteis and the Girls' Quartet furnished some lovely music.

Baseball News

By "Bill" Schatz

Our local ball club, the Chelsea Independents, added the scalp of Manchester to their belts Sunday by a score of 3 to 0.

One of the features of the game was the marksmanship of Ed Miller, who fired the ball across for a three-hitter, striking out 13 and allowing only two free tickets to first.

Dick Hoelzer and Dick White both pulled the Thief of Bagdad act by stealing a base against the sharp-shooting Manchester catcher. The Manchester pitcher was no Santa Claus as he allowed only seven hits.

Chelsea had only one earned run, the other two coming as the result of wild throws.

Quite a number of local fans made the trip south to watch our boys bring home the bacon.

Next Sunday we open the League playing Brighton on their home field, returning to Chelsea the following Sunday, June 16. So make it a date. Bring your best howling voice and root for the old home team!

Delay In Culling Laying Flock Causes Feed Loss

Further delay in the culling of laying flocks is costing pounds of scarce feed, says C. G. Card, head of the poultry husbandry department at Michigan State college. He recommends the early culling of flocks and adds that a careful and regular watch be maintained for non-producers.

The poultry department head says in Michigan as a whole enough feed may be saved by eliminating culls to feed an average crop of baby chicks. He gives these tips on culling:

1. Start orderly culling now and cull heavily and constantly.

2. Keep those hens which are efficient layers. In general, this means keeping the pullets which are good layers.

3. Sell the ones with yellow beaks and legs and break up and market the broody hens.

4. Early molters are usually low producers and should be sold.

5. Birds which are going lame, blind or getting thin should be sold.

30,000 Acres on a Ship
The equivalent of nearly 30,000 acres of grain were carried aboard the "Col. J. M. Schoonmaker" when she set a Great Lakes cargo record this season, reports Ships magazine. She carried 525,000 bushels in a single trip. Based on a yield of 18 bushels to the acre, that represents the total harvest of 29,250 acres more than 49 square miles—of land.

Vitamin Loss
Experiments indicate that potatoes lose vitamin C more rapidly when stored at low temperatures than when held at temperatures between 50 and 10 degrees. The practical application of the discovery seems to be to keep potatoes to be used before January 1 in a warmer storage than those to be eaten later.

Crop of Alfalfa Seed Is Possible This Year

If the farmer does not particularly mind hay, this season offers a good opportunity to try for an alfalfa seed crop, believes Dr. S. T. Dexter, farm crops research worker at Michigan State college.

The price for alfalfa seed stays about 20 cents a pound and there is a great shortage. In fact, there would be more alfalfa grown in Michigan today if an adequate supply of good seed were available.

Dr. Dexter, however, believes that if a farmer can make good use of the hay, the gamble of trying for a seed crop might be too risky. He points out, however, that thin stands are usually worth the gamble. "There is no rule to follow. The farmer must just let it go well past the bloom stage and if any pods form, it is not a loss, and can cut the crop for a rather poor grade of rough hay. If the pods form and weather permits harvesting and threshing, a seed crop will pay great dividends," Dr. Dexter adds.

Those who definitely plan to use the first crop of the alfalfa field for hay, he suggests they avoid letting the field get too far in bloom before starting—especially if there is a large acreage. A tenth-bloom is the best stage for cutting, but too often farmers wait until the plants are past the haymaker in Michigan. He suggests that newly seeded acreage be left until last, and that the fields the farmer expects to plow under after this season, be the first cut.

Cutting alfalfa hay too early, however, is detrimental to the plants and will eventually kill them, Dr. Dexter warns.

Hospital Beds Project

The Chelsea Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary is conducting a subscription campaign to raise funds for the purchase of Hospital Beds. These Hospital Beds are to be located so as to serve all residents of this vicinity for temporary use at all times, without charge.

This is not a donation request. No donations will be accepted by either the representative or the organization. Every resident of this vicinity co-operating will receive his or her full money's worth in national publications subscribed to through The American Legion Auxiliary.

A representative bearing a letter of introduction signed by Helen Quirk, President; Ruby Cutler, Vice-Pres.; Ruth Walz, Secretary; and Alma Eisele, Treasurer of the Chelsea Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, will call on you soon. Please give him a few minutes of your time toward a worthwhile community service.

Facts and comment about the 1946 Illusion of Happy Days:

The flow of war-time savings into Michigan farm land continues at a fast pace. In fact, the Michigan land boom has put other Mid-West states into near-panic. Michigan farm land is now selling at 108 per cent of the 1920 price peak, Ohio land is at 83 per cent, Indiana 90, Illinois 78, and Wisconsin 70. The national average is 84.

If you drive into the country these days, you'll notice the result of this Michigan trend. Many city dwellers are buying country homes and farm-land as a hedge against inflation and hard times. Oakland county, for example, is filled with Detroit people who are investing in rural property. Livingston county also has benefited from Detroit dollars, most of them earned during the war. The same thing is true for all counties adjacent to industrial cities.

When war dollars go into a farm, the first change is a general improvement of the buildings. Farm barns and houses are repaired and repainted. Fences are spruced up, some times with white paint added for glamor. The city farmer pays good prices, too, for cattle. He spends his money easily. One accountant at Lansing told us that nine out of ten city farmers lose money each year, and they don't know it.

War workers have been seeking to attain security against another depression. Life savings are being invested into a cabin and a plot of land in northern Michigan. Prices have been sky-high in many cases. The land itself is of questionable merit for farming.

In World War I and postwar years the value of farm land rose 65 per cent before cracking. Today, it has risen 69 per cent from its prewar base, and the rise is gaining force. Increase in four months, ended March 1, was 7 per cent; one year ago the rise was 5 per cent.

The federal bureau of agricultural economics tells us that productivity of farm land is now 17.9 per cent higher than in 1939, compared with 24 per cent according to federal figures in 1919. Prices of farm commodities is 61 per cent higher than in August, 1939. The comparable rise for World War I was 7 per cent.

And yet the man who owns a farm mortgage may be better off than the man who owns a farm. Operators of farms from 1920-1924 averaged 2.2 per cent on investment at 1920 prices, while farm mortgages drew average interest of 6.4 per cent. The 1925-1929 farm yield was 4.1 per cent of 1920 values; 1935-1939 return was 3.1 per cent. The boom was over. The farmer's farm earning vs. mortgage picture, and farms earned 7.8 per cent as compared with 4.8 per cent for mortgages.

By 1950—just four years away—farm earnings are due to drop to 4.7 per cent, while mortgages will be close to 6.5 per cent, according to the forecasts. And yet farm land is attracting city dollars in an increasing flow. The quest for security is still uppermost in man's mind.

Not more than one farm boy in two can reasonably be expected to find employment on a farm—even as a hired hand. The agricultural population of the U.S.A. much more than reproduces itself. And yet with farm population declining during the war one-sixth, as farm boys went into the military service, farm production produced one-fourth more than they did in the years 1927-1939. It's hard to believe!

The year 1946 is not a good time to go into debt. It's a good time, however, to get out of debt. To illustrate: Winthrop W. Altshuler, chairman of the board of directors, Chase National Bank, recently warned: "Inflation exists to an alarming degree and reckless spending is a result. The stage is set for ultimate deflation and depression. We are living in an illusion of prosperity and wealth."

William J. Brons, chief editorial writer, Chicago Journal of Commerce, speaking on the subject, "Is the Country Going to Hell," said that the answer is in the affirmative. "It may be possible," he added, "to call a halt at the edge of the pit. There is hope for a healthy reaction to this Alice-in-Wonderland era in which we have been living."

Chester C. Davis, president, Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, says: "These days and the days ahead are picked with the most pessimistic moments which this country's economy has ever been confronted. We are still on uncharted ground with respect to the problems that may be involved in managing a debt of $275 billions."

Based on all the evidence now at hand, it would seem prudent for farmers and business men—everyone, in fact—to keep in mind that today's inflation boom is certain to crack; that debts incurred today will be doubly hard to pay off tomorrow.

Six months ago this column pointed out: "Higher hour rates for workers are bound to result in higher prices. That is why many economists forecast more inflation ahead, and why stock market prices have been climbing higher. In the meanwhile, it is likely that we will see a repetition of the 1919 labor crisis which brought 3,630 strikes involving more than 4,000,000 workers. Post-war prosperity got fully under way in 1923. The big crash came in 1929."

The Truman administration's policy of encouraging higher wages has been a dud. It has been calculated that General Motors employees will have to work nine years and seven weeks before they can get back the wages they lost during the long costly strike against the management last winter. GM offered 13 1/2 cents an hour; the union demanded 18 1/2 cents an hour—a difference of 5 cents.

Since the GM employees got their higher wages, the OPA has granted two raises in the price of automobiles. A third is anticipated. Higher wages for coal miners will bring only higher prices for everyone. The railroad employees' wage increase means higher freight and passenger rates. There is no substitute for work; there is no substitute for production.

Although we have more education than any other people, the state of economic literacy among our people is appallingly low. Since our leaders at Washington are confused and terribly inept in explaining their own economic confusion, the situation today is doubly critical. We are drifting toward state socialism—statism of government controls.

Will we find at the end of this illusive postwar rainbow, a bigger and better depression as the penalty of our own stupid mismanagement? Will we find the Happy Days of 1946 but a will-of-the-wisp mirage? So it now seems.

V-Mail to Britain

The signal corps V-mail section in the United Kingdom handled a total of 517,000,000 pieces of V-mail during the period June, 1942, to August, 1945, the war department reports.

THIRTY YEARS OF SERVICE TO MILK PRODUCERS and CONSUMERS

This week the Michigan Milk Producers Association rounds out 30 years of service to milk producers and consumers in the Detroit milk shed.

The organization got its start on June 3, 1916, when a small group of far-sighted dairy farmers recognized co-operative marketing as the one best guarantee of an assured minimum milk supply for Detroit and of price stabilization at a favorable level for milk producers.

So sound was this conception that the Association grew from its original membership of 22 dairy farmers to more than 14,000 in 1945.

The value of milk shipments during the first year amounted to a few thousand dollars as compared with 1945 when the dollar volume of sales by association members was $41,602,144.00.

This consistent growth through the years has been paralleled by improved quality and production methods under Association sponsorship; protection for members against bad credit risks, herd failure, and market uncertainties (by operation of our own processing and distributing facilities where independent outlets are deemed inadequate). Every member's share in the assets of this Association is substantial—a factor of great importance in these days of unbalanced economic forces.

The Association's growth has likewise been paralleled by constantly increasing safeguards for the protection of the public health.

Throughout the years, this organization has held to the belief that its own best interests are inseparably interwoven with the best interests of the milk consuming public.

From its inception, this organization has always adhered to a policy of promising only what it could deliver, and of delivering what it promised.

So well have these basic principles served the very great majority of producers and consumers that we pledge continuance of them in the conviction that they will prove as satisfactory in the future as they have for 30 years.

The Hi-Light

Edited by the Journalism Club of the Chelsea Public School

CO-EDITORS
Jack Merkel and Junior Niehaus.

AFTERTHOUGHT

As this is the final Hi-Light of the year, you will probably expect something little less than sensational in the way of a feature (That is what I am supposedly writing). Well, dear friends, I'm sorry, but you aren't going to get it. I could dash over all the love affairs of the past year—Bugs and Norma, Duane Quatt and personally I don't know who, Alton and Margie, Donna and Dave, Marjorie and Claire (these freshman girls certainly get around), Nancy and John, Amelia and the boy from out-town, Tom and well—a Rose-mary (sorry I can't count that far), to just name a few, give Mr. Chenoweth a few more digs (he certainly has had some) or give appropriate book titles. But I repeat, I am not writing this.

So ending this resume of the school year and hoping Miss Fox will accept this ditty, I, on behalf of the Chelsea Journalism Club, bid you a fond farewell until next time.

JOURNALISM
We've talked about almost everything and anything in our editorials and this being the last Hi-Light for the year, maybe you'll excuse us for talking about ourselves.

For many of us, life without the Journalism Club would be very dull indeed, take an average day, for instance.

Comes 1:15 and we crowd into dear old room. Busily gabbing with each other we fail to hear Miss Fox saunter into the room—that is, until we hear her gentle voice (it leaves the

A. A. Paves Road To Permanent Sobriety

"Doctor, I cannot go on like this! I have everything to live for. I must stop, but I cannot. You must help me!" So cry some alcoholic patients to their doctors or specialists.

A well-known doctor, chief physician at a nationally prominent hospital specializing in alcoholic and drug addiction, has heard this cry and many others. He writes to Alcoholics Anonymous as follows: "Faced with this problem, if a doctor is honest with himself, he must sometimes feel his whole inadequacy. Although he gives all that is in him, it often is not enough. One feels that something more than human power is needed to produce the essential psychic change. Though the aggregate of recoveries resulting from psychiatric efforts is considerable, we psychiatrists must admit we have made little impression upon the problem as a whole.

"The classification of alcoholics seems most difficult. There are the psychopaths who are emotionally unstable. They are over remorseful and make many resolutions but never a decision. These are the type of man who is never willing to admit he cannot take a drink. There is the type who believes that after a period of abstinence he can take a drink without danger. The least understood by his friends is the manic-depressive type—usually the 'long' drinker. Then there are types entirely normal except in the effect alcohol has upon them.

"All these and many others have one symptom in common; they cannot start drinking without developing the phenomenon of craving. This phenomenon may be a manifestation of an allergy which differentiates these people. It has never been, by any treatment with which we are familiar, permanently eradicated. The only relief we have to suggest is entire abstinence.

"Much has been written pro and con, but among physicians, the general opinion seems to be that most chronic alcoholics are doomed."

There is a solution. Throughout this nation and six foreign countries, doctors, psychiatrists, the clergy of Protestant and Catholic faiths, law enforcement officers and leading scientists are agreed to suggest Alcoholics Anonymous as the solution. One of Ann Arbor's best known psychiatrists says "We know our limitations. After a few days or weeks of hospitalization our patients are ready for whatever psychiatric effort we can make. But in discharge and freedom we have to admit, and usually tell them, that the best we have to offer is only a temporary reprieve. We sometimes advise our patients to contact Alcoholics Anonymous."

Here is a letter that was written as soon as one patient left his hospital: "Dear Sir: I am very much interested in Alcoholics Anonymous and would like some information. I spent six weeks in the hospital and my doctor and I feel it is necessary that I get in touch with you as soon as possible. I was discharged from the hospital yesterday. Will be working five days. So am free week-ends and evenings."

Within 24 hours after this letter was taken from the "A. A." post office box some member had called on the writer. The program was briefly explained. Here was an alcoholic willing to accept suggestions with open mindedness. Taken into the fellowship he had the benefit of group therapy. He was serious and honest in his effort to retain sobriety and complete a job that his physician had so nobly begun. That was over and so. He is an active member of Alcoholics Anonymous Group Two of Ann Arbor and is glad to carry the message to others of what the program has done for him.

If you think you have an alcoholic problem and want assistance, send your letter to Alcoholics Anonymous, Post Office Box 47, Ann Arbor, Mich.

window panes rattling for a half hour) calling us to order.

"Now, look, folks, I don't want to complain but . . ."

Then come the assignments, received with moans and groans. Then it's time for the book chapter to be read. A gasp from the back row indicates that someone forgot to read his chapter. Slowly advancing up the aisle, he hurriedly glances through the pages to get some idea about his topic.

"My subject for discussion is, ah—"

A glance at the book helps the distressed lad.

"Perhaps this is the day for addressing service men's letters. This of course brings anguished cries of—"

"Hay, Miss Fox, is this an O or an A?"

"What does Hq stand for?"

"Did I tell you 'what's his name' is discharged?"

All this is punctuated by—

"Jack, turn around and stop bothering those girls!"

"Miss Lowell, do you know about the cud-chewing cow and the gum chewing girl?"

"Will someone ask Wellnitz to bring in the sports news?"

Just then the bell rings and the journalists dash out hastily.

MORRISONS IN CALIFORNIA
Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Morrison, recent Chelsea residents, in a letter to the Standard wrote that they have reached California after a very nice trip en route, with a minimum of motor trouble and "only" three blowouts. The only discomfort they experienced was the hot weather while crossing the state of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison are now employed as caretakers on a 175-acre mountain ranch, located about 35 miles west and north of Los Angeles and about seven miles inland from the coast. According to the description this must be one of the beauty spots of California, with the ranch buildings of the valley, the many beautiful flowers, especially climbing roses, a trout stream and several mountain lakes on the ranch.

While residing in Chelsea, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison lived at 668 W. Middle.

LEARN TO DIAL BY EAR

THAT dial tone is mighty important. It means that the switching equipment in the central office is ready to handle your call. If you dial before you hear it, you'll get a wrong number or no number at all.

Right now there are times when the dial tone is delayed. That's because, in a continuing effort to give some kind of service to as many waiting applicants as possible, we are loading our central office equipment far beyond its normal capacity—even at the risk of lowering the quality of service.

This situation is only temporary. We will restore service to normal as quickly as enough dial equipment can be provided. Meantime, please remember to listen for the dial tone before you dial.

Quest of the Golden Apple

There was once upon a time . . .
"A king!" you will say.
No, children, you are wrong. There was once upon a time a magic tree.
This tree grew straight and tall in the middle of a room. "Now," it will say, "what is it?—How can I grow in the middle of a room?"
It is because, my dears, that room is like any other room in town. It is a magic room. In this room are all the strange countries and happy people you have ever dreamed about.

Dream now and you will find in the "Skyblazer," Barry Martin in South America—strawking through the stratosphere in a giant Starwing. Or would you be a tennis champion winning your way to Wimbledon and United States champion? You can be that girl in "Champion's Choice."
Or discover "Valery" the cow, who was in the bedroom—where she did not belong!

As you close the covers on the fifth real story (or make-believe) you will find a red apple growing on the magic tree. But imagine your surprise to find it turns to gold when the tenth story is finished.

"Quest of the Golden Apple," the Chelsea Public Library Reading Club will start June 15th. A large tree will be set up in the library, and for the first book read a leaf with the reader's name is placed on the tree.
When five books are read a red apple is placed on the tree, and when 10 books are read the red apple is exchanged for a golden one. Junior high-school students may read during the summer for their History and English classes in the fall.

The Library is open to the public every day from 2 to 5 p.m. Returned books may be left at any hour in the slot provided for that purpose on the outside of the building.

Proper Lighting

Sufficient light with unnecessary glare should be provided wherever possible. Bare lamp bulbs without diffusing bowls are seldom satisfactory for reading and studying. All lamps and lighting fixtures should be cleaned and floor and table lamps relocated, if necessary to give proper light distribution.

Spray or Dust — For 'Peace' In the Garden

Watch for destructive insects as soon as the first little leaves poke through the soil in your garden. They are unusually ravenous for tender young foliage, shoots and buds, and the master gardener will be on hand with the proper control even before the pests show up.

Two types of insect are well known nuisances—those that suck the juices or sap of the plant, as aphids or plant lice, and those that chew or bite off bits of the plant. The work of the first is seen in general droopiness and unhealthy appearance of the plant; the work of the second shows up in actual riddling of the leaves and other plant parts.

For sucking insects the spray or dust must hit and cover the insect, actually smothering it. Stomach poisons are required for destroying chewing insects.
The material is dusted or sprayed thoroughly on all surfaces of the plant so as to make a deposit. When the insect starts to eat the plant, it also takes in some of the poison and is killed.

Either dusting or spraying can be effective if properly done with a good insecticide. Now that the war is over, many of the old brands and various new ones will be plentiful. You may want to adventure with some of the new ones, but always follow directions.
In small gardens dusting is, perhaps, even easier than spraying. Here's a simple apparatus for applying insecticide dust which you yourself can easily prepare:

Take a square of cheesecloth, a strong string, and a slender stick.
Spread the cheesecloth on a flat surface and pile the insecticide dust in be feeding than on top.

Let Victory Gardening Live On!

During the war many a family, for the first time in their lives, ate fresh vegetables right out of their own garden. Better yet, they found they liked "em! If Victory Gardening in America accomplished nothing more, that was a priceless gain.

Thousands of men, women, and children in cities, towns, and on farms have been enjoying better meals the last four years because of their fine response to Uncle Sam's urge to "grow your own." The little backyard patch, the vacant lot, or a few square feet of ground in a community plot became a gold mine. Over and over it has been proved that the food value is greater, the flavor more delicious, when vegetables are eaten garden-fresh.

Have you heard of gardening as an important form of exercise for health?
Certain field hospitals began to establish Victory Gardens during the war to help convalescing service men rebuild their minds and bodies. Other field hospitals all over the country are now going ahead with the idea. Doctors and scientists are urging "back to the soil and gardening" as a vital force in stimulating physical and mental health. A garden in connection with a hospital must necessarily be the "pound of cure." A home garden can well be an "ounce of prevention." And every member of the family can profit by it.

In many cases the home Victory
Garden actually became a family affair.
Dad, Mom, and the youngsters had fun together planting, weeding, and water-

Press Length

When ironing, press with the length rather than across the width of fabric wherever possible. But if a skirt, slip or nightgown is cut on the bias, then iron on a slant, along the grain or straight of the material. This will prevent the stretching and sagging which makes hems uneven.

North is South

Magnetically speaking, mariners throughout the centuries who have set a northward course by heading where the compass needle points have really been traveling "south," according to Ships magazine. The compass needle is a magnet; so is the earth. In magnetic forces, opposite poles attract. Thus the earth's pole which attracts the north-seeking end of the needle is actually a south pole. We started calling it the north magnetic pole simply because it happened to be near the globe's geographic north.

In demonstrations of spraying DDT in dairy barns, entomologists have found that the insecticide re-three months but killed the flies slowly. Flies receive a lethal dose in crawling across the sprayed areas.

Did you know that Michigan has 1,027,000 cows, producing 5.7 billion pounds of milk in 1945?

And that the revenue from the sale of this milk and dairy animals was well over $200,000,000?

That the investment of modern equipment in Michigan dairy plants is for your protection and service?

Dairy products are first as vital food. For your good health, drink milk daily and use dairy products often.

The dairy cow provides a steady income for 80% of Michigan's 179,000 farms . . . jobs for 1 out of 15 people
... and a health-giving vital food for everyone. Michigan

MAN-EATERS OF KUMAON

By Jim Corbett

This book is Jim Corbett's own story of his experiences with the man-eating tigers of Kumaon. His love of nature, his knowledge of jungle ways, his keen observation of wild life have all played their part in creating this story.

Plan Garden Now For Fall Storage Purposes

Now's the time to start planning that late garden. And the first crops that must be planned for fall use are cabbage and cauliflower. Jack Rose, Michigan State college extension home gardening specialist, suggests seeding these crops the first week in June to provide plants for transplanting in July.

Wisconsin Hollander of Penn State railroad are desirable cabbage varieties to use for the late crop. Snowball is a recommended cauliflower variety. Plant seed in a well prepared seedbed or row, dropping about twenty-five seeds per foot of row. Give the developing plants plenty of room to grow. The seedbed should be near a water supply since some watering may be necessary to produce good germination. Cover seed evenly with soil to a depth of about one-eighth to one quarter inch. Plants should be ready to set in the garden about the first week in July.

Space late crop cabbage plants 15 to 18 inches apart in rows 30 to 36 inches apart. Wider spacing will produce excessively large heads, particularly if the soil is very fertile. Cauliflower is planted in rows of the same width, but with 24 inches between plants in the rows.

Rose gives a hint on tying cauliflower. Gather together just enough of the inner leaves to cover the bud. Tie them with a string or hold them together with a rubber band. Tie the leaves when the developing white buds are about two inches across, to produce snowy white heads at harvest time.

The rest of the evening was spent playing bridge bingo, with prizes, and refreshments were served. Many thanks to the ladies who served on the entertainment committee.

Publicity Chairman:

Corn Storage

Cleanliness of husking is of the utmost importance in storing corn of high moisture content, because the husks and silks seriously reduce air movement through the crib.

Several years ago I made the comment that a horn on an automobile is an unnecessary piece of equipment. When that appeared in print I received quite a few replies from disgruntled people and people who disagreed with that statement.

The removal of the horn from the automobile would be a safety feature. It would require the thoughtless and careless driver to drive safely and not "blow" people out of his path. It would eliminate the "honking" noise which is entirely unnecessary by constantly blowing automobile horns.

It would require people to drive slower when approaching pedestrians and children on the highways. It would require slower driving when the possibility exists of congested traffic.

Cities which have tried out the elimination of horn blowing in certain areas have found a marked reduction in automobile accidents in that area. Mussolini tried it in Rome around his office building years ago and for the period of one year found a 30 per cent reduction in automobile accidents. It was more quiet too.

I still feel that it's a good move to eliminate the horn, which would require all of us to be better drivers.

Kiwanis News

Owen Cleary of Ypsilanti, a candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the Republican ticket, spoke at the Kiwanis meeting Monday night. The Kiwanis club is meeting at the St. Mary's hall this month.

Danish Economy

Denmark not only grows enough beets to be self-sufficient in sugar, but she has the refineries for producing the sugar. She builds ships and diesel engines but, as an agricultural nation primarily, must import steel and coal.

Discovery of War Era Is Valuable On Farm

Another war-time discovery has been found useful on the farm. "Goop," a magnesium dust, incorporated with a combination of asphalt and tar and used in incendiary bombs, is the latest of a long list of war products which may prove of agricultural value.

The burning of orchard brush has always been a problem to the orchardist. When trees are trimmed, much of the cut-away brush is green and does not burn well. Some incentive is needed.

Minard Farley of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station and talked it over with Dr. H. B. Tukey, head of the department of horticulture, and Richard C. Johnson of the department of forestry at Michigan State college. A government agency was contacted, and three drums of "goop" were sent to the college for experimental purposes.

The consistency of the product is like that of heavy clay, and it was difficult to ignite. After once started, the burning substance was thrown on the brush with shovels. It did an excellent job of keeping the fire going at a high temperature.

The idea of using the product to heat orchards during low temperature nights is being considered for further exploration into the value of "goop" to the orchardist.

"YOUTH FOR CHRIST" MEETING Dexter-Chelsea. "Youth for Christ" will have its first birthday on Saturday, June 15, out of doors by the lake on the Sterling farm.

A year ago sixty-five young people from Detroit's "Voice for Christian Youth" came to the Chelsea high school and held the first Youth for Christ rally in this vicinity. Since that time Youth for Christ has moved to the Sterling farm, 12870 N. Terrestrial Road, where it has grown to include, beside Chelsea and Dexter, youth from Ann Arbor, Brighton, Gregory, Stockbridge, Pinckney and cutting districts. A school bus, donated by Donald Richards, Ann Arbor, is expected to take its first load of youth to the birthday rally.

Adults, as well as youth, are welcome, and young people are urged to bring their friends. Rev. Horace H. Hilton, acting pastor of Central Presbyterian church, Detroit, will be the speaker.

Dehydrated Vegetables Postwar markets for dehydrated vegetables are expected to take annually about 30 million pounds of dehydrated vegetables, 50 to 60 million pounds of dried soups, and 10 to 7 million pounds of seasonings, according to the department of agriculture. Of the vegetables, onions are expected to lead with 36 per cent of sales volume, followed by potatoes, 32 per cent; sweet potatoes, 18 per cent, and the remaining 14 per cent divided among tomatoes, greens, garlic, cabbage, carrots and beets. Onions, tomatoes, carrots, garlic and greens are expected to lead in seasonings and dried soups.
