

By Gene Alleman

Undaunted by defeat at the hands of upstate rural legislators, Bob Ford is at it again. The time his pet reform is modification of Michigan county government. And this time he is shooting his barrage from the educational security of the University of Michigan's Bureau of Government, of which he is the director in collaboration with Claude R. Thayer, research associate in the bureau. Dr. Ford has come out with a most interesting and challenging study. Its title is "Reorganization of Michigan's County Government."

It was the same Ford who bravely attempted to carry out orders from Governor Harry F. Kelly to modernize state government at Lansing. One project we recall was the consolidation of the state insurance and state banking departments. An administrative assistant to the governor, Dr. Ford worked hard and diligently at Lansing. He burned the midnight oil by the gallon. He assembled facts by the ton.

As administrative assistant, head of new department, Bob earned his money. But the legislature thought otherwise. Members decided to economize on Ford, and he was left high and dry.

The defects of Michigan county government as Dr. Ford sees them, are about four in number. First, there is no "over-all administrative head." We quote: "Absence of a chief executive is contrary to good management principles in both business and public administration. A directing head is necessary for county government as for city or state government, or for private business."

Second, there is "considerable duplication of functions between agencies." For example, "county records are kept by the county clerk, registers of deeds, and the county clerk is the chief recording officer and is responsible for certain financial functions." The administration of social welfare is also divided among a number of agencies: Probate court, county department of social welfare, and the federal and state relief commission. Six independent agencies administer public works. And three separate agencies are in charge of activities established to promote agricultural interests within the county.

Third conclusion: The board of supervisors "is too large and possesses both legislative and administrative powers." It is Ford's contention that reduction of big boards "would be conducive to efficiency and economy," and he points out that Wayne County's board has 84 members, Oakland 59, Kent 54, Saginaw 41, Calhoun 39, Genesee 37.

We quote: "In all of these counties, the board of supervisors is larger than the state senate, which has 32 members."

Fourth conclusion: The "bed-sheet" size ballot of elective officials. This reference is obviously intended for populous counties where "name" candidates thrive and where the voter is near helpless to identify "good" candidates from bad candidates.

Conceding that popular election is the essence of democracy, Ford quotes one authority as having said: "Popular elections will eat the heart out of democracy if carried to the extreme."

The bed-sheet to needed reform, as the university expert sees it, is the state constitution. The state constitution of 1908 permits considerable freedom for cities, and as a result a large majority of Michigan's home rule charters.

Michigan leaves all other states with 58 manager cities. Maine is a close second with 57.

Two years ago—1944—the No-nonsense election brought defeat to a county composed home rule for Wayne County. It was defeated by a margin of 135,000 votes. The proposed reform was inspired by graft revelations coming out of one-man grand jury investigations in 1941 and 1942.

At that time the Michigan Institute for Local Government was opposed to the amendment. It was this year the proposed sales tax diversion amendment. State Treasurer D. Hale Drake is its president.

The institute then appointed a special study committee and finally recommended that the state constitution be amended to provide an alternate form of county government, if approved by voters at a special or general election.

Then each county, if desiring to come under the plan, would have to hold a special election. Next a non-partisan primary election and then an election to elect charter commissioners. And finally a final election to approve or reject the charter commissioners' charter.

County governments would be streamlined—the institute to provide for a county executive appointed by the board of supervisors, and a "county chief executive" to be appointed by the board of supervisors. It is suggested that the county clerk or the county controller be designated as the "county chief executive" who would be a sort of county manager in his authority.

It is noted by Dr. Ford that twelve Michigan counties now possess legal authority to appoint a controller, but only four of them—Calhoun, Genesee, Oakland and Macomb—have done so.

Among the county offices which Dr. Ford would abolish forthrightly are the office of county surveyor (Continued on page six)

Chelsea Will Play Host To Saline In Game On Friday

By C.H.S. Reporter

League Standings

	W	L	T	Pts
Milan	6	0	0	12
Romulus	5	0	1	11
Chelsea	4	1	1	9
Dundee	2	3	0	4
U. High	2	4	0	4
Roosevelt	1	5	0	2
Flat Rock	1	5	0	2
Saline	0	5	1	1

In last week's round of play Chelsea whipped U. High 19-0, Milan beat Flat Rock 6-0, Romulus did away with Saline 20-0. After hearing the score of the Milan-Flat Rock tilt, the Bulldogs sat down and tried to figure out what went wrong when they played Milan. For years to come the players and Coach Cameron will play that game over and over and try to figure out the whys and hows of it.

Tomorrow Chelsea plays its final Huron League game for this year with Saline. The game is to be played at the local field at 8 o'clock sharp. Advance tickets will be on sale at Burg's and at Mack's Gas Station.

It is hoped that all will buy tickets before the game. Chelsea has beaten Saline in the past three years. The scores of the games were: Chelsea 26-0, Saline 0-0, Saline 0-0, Saline 0-0. Last year and thus far this year Saline hasn't won a game, yet it puts up a good battle at the most unexpected points. Saline has the same team this year that it had last year with the exception of three players.

Milan and Romulus will fight it out for the championship at Romulus while U. High and Dundee battle it out for fourth place. Flat Rock and Roosevelt will battle it out for sixth place slot. If Chelsea wins the game, it will be sure of a third place or better. If Milan wins Chelsea will tie with Romulus for second place. Chelsea could lose tomorrow and still be assured of third place slot.

Probable starting lineup for tomorrow's game:

Chelsea	Saline
Daniels	Stainer
Welnitz	Graf
Robbins	Servigos
Burg	Gross
Grafson	Cook
Barth	Humphrey
Popp	Goodick
Barlow	Schabell
Knickerbocker	Hocking

Teachers of County Hold Meeting At Milan Wednesday

Teachers of Washtenaw county held their first meeting of the year

at Milan on Wednesday, when a combined dinner, business and lecture

meeting occupied their attention.

A delicious dinner was served by the home economics classes of Milan

public school under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Huntley.

Then the Milan music department,

under the direction of Mr. McCullough,

took over with group singing,

followed by a saxophone quartet

and by a vocal solo by Mrs. Ruth Baughn, accompanied by Mrs. Orrie

Allen, faculty members.

A business meeting extended the terms of delegates to the Regional Council, provided for re-writing

the constitution, created a tenure committee, and heard reports of standing committees. President

Mabel Fox of Chelsea presided.

The highlight of the evening was a talk by Miss Gwendyth Egan of West Gate, over with group singing. Miss Egan is this year teaching at Angell school, Ann Arbor. She explained the organization of the administrative set-up of English schools; outlined the three types of schools available at secondary level, and discussed the technical level and compared American and English schools and children.

English children are not accepted into schools until five years of age,

but once there, they progress more rapidly than American children. Techniques and equipment are similar,

but English buildings have, in general, more and better playground

arrangements, and as a result English children, though "they seem smaller at comparable ages" than American children, have less of the

"hot-house" look and are "more tough and rugged." English children play outdoors practically every day of the year.

Miss Egan is a thoroughly delightful personality, and made her talk an event that will long be remembered.

Kusterers Will Open Grocery On Saturday

twenty-seven months in the service,

Kiddies' Halloween Party One of Best Ever Held In Chelsea

The annual Kiwanis Halloween party last Thursday evening proved to be one of the biggest and best that has ever been sponsored by the club, and the committee charge are to be commended for their efforts in making the undertaking such a success.

The parade, with the Boy Scouts and High School Band in the lead and the sirens on the fire engines adding an eerie note with their continual wailing, got off to a good start on schedule.

Youngsters in costume and floats entered by the four high school classes and the P.F.A. chapter all combined to make the parade very colorful, and music was provided by the army recruiting sound truck which was also a part of the parade.

The judges, Mrs. Dor Rogers, Mrs. J. V. Burg, David Strider and Wilbur Hinderer, chose the following prize winners:

Neatest Costume—Lady With Parasol, Sharon Conk, $3.00; Brilliant, Connie Schuch, and Shirley Atchison, $2.00; Chinese Girl, Shirley Rihimaki, $1.00.

Spookiest Costume—Skeleton, Robert Lonsway, $3.00; Lady With High Black Hat, Katherine Merle, $2.00; White Ghost, Richard Schneider, $1.00.

Most Original Costume—Butterfly, Sandra Baldwin, $3.00; Miss Halloween 1946, Judy Davison, $2.00; Paper Hanger, Evelyn Ann Moore, $1.00.

First prize, $5.00; Harvest Queen, Juniors; 2nd prize, $3.00; Torture Chamber, Sophomores.

About 145 dozen of doughnuts and 70 gallons of sweet cider disappeared as if by magic when the crowd gathered for refreshments around the huge bonfire on the school grounds before the program in the gymnasium, where the High School Band played several selections directed by Thomas Wilson, followed by acrobatic stunts by a troupe of tumblers and gymnasts from the U. of M. under the direction of Newt Loken, 1942 Big Ten and national collegiate all-around gymnastic champion.

During this part of the program, Donny E. Baldwin, Ronnie Dwyer and Barlow were called from among the audience to perform on the rampoline, an affair of canvas and springs used for jumping and bounding around on providing fun for onlookers and participants alike.

The cartoon movie was a fitting climax to a very enjoyable evening of harmless Halloween fun.

Fire Causes Damage To LaBarge Home

The fire department was called out at 1 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon when neighbors

noticed that Mrs. Rosa La-

Barge's house on Taylor street was afire, while she was away visiting at the home of her son in Graying.

The neighbors succeeded in keeping the fire from spreading to the rest of the house until firemen arrived, the damage being confined mostly to the kitchen where the walls and ceiling were burned through.

Investigation showed that the fire was started when something went wrong with the electric refrigerator, which is about ten years old, but the exact cause has not yet been determined.

Mrs. LaBarge returned home

about an hour after the fire.

TRAGIC IRONY OF ARMISTICE DAY

"This tragical war, whose consuming flames swept from one nation to another until all the world was on fire, is at an end. It was the privilege of our own people to enter it at its most original juncture in such fashion and in such force as to contribute, in a way of which we are all deeply proud, to the great result. The object of the war is attained—the object upon which all free men had set their hearts —and attained with a sweeping completeness which even now we do not realize. Armed imperialism such as the men conceived who were but yesterday the masters of Germany—is at an end, its illicit ambitions engulfed in black disaster. Who will not seek to revive it?"—President Woodrow Wilson, November 11, 1918. But a man was found to revive it. And once again American aid is at- taining with a sweeping complete- ness the peace which they sought.

Republicans Win Tuesday's Election; Judge Breakey Elected; Liquor Issue Fails

As had been freely predicted,

the republicans in Michigan were swept into office by substantial majorities in Tuesday's election, and Republican candidates in Washtenaw county were elected. On the non-partisan ballot, Judge James R. Breakey, Jr., running for circuit court judge, won over his opponent, Jay H. Payne, by a substantial majority. Leland W. Carr was elected as justice of the Supreme Court, and Lee N. Brown and Charles C. Menefee as circuit court commissioners. Congressman Earl C. Michener was re-elected by a huge majority over his opponent, Wm. R. Kelley.

A total of 1221 votes were cast

in Sylvan township, with the important local liquor by the glass

issue failing to pass by a margin of 294 votes. A total of 1202 votes were cast on this issue, with 454

for and 748 against.

The Sylvan township vote for governor gave Sigler, the Republican candidate, 397 votes and his Democratic opponent, Murray D.

Van Wagener 296, with other Republican candidates carrying the township by about the same majority.

PIN CHATTER

The top five teams were really shaken up this time and now have two tied for first, two tied for second and two for third. The Lucky Strikers finally have their team organized, they hope, and with Albert Sibbing getting a 462 series, they expect to go climbing higher on short ends.

A.P. where are those pretty gold dresses? We hear there are more name dresses and blouses coming soon.

The 364 question asked this week: Why or how do I get so many series? In answer, B. Rabley, R. Rogers, A. Gilson, receiving seven each. Some are able to pick them up such as P. Fitzsimmons, 5-6; L. Stierle and J. Adams, 5-10; R. Novess, 5-7; E. Bailey, 7-10. That's the way you save points.

Arleen Larson had high game of 184, and Pearl Fitzsimmons high series 480 this week. We are looking forward to seeing some of the rest of you former 450 bowlers back at the top again.

Some new as well as old names in the 450 series this week: Pearl Fitzsimmons 480, M. Breitenwischer 466, Hilda Eiseman and Bobby Kaiser each 456, Albert Sibbing and Jane Adams each 452.

Let's keep on rolling and we're bound to win a pen one of these days. I need one, too. The best is none too good, so hurry up Betty and return to the job.

Keep Milk Clean, Cold and Covered For More Returns

Although mathematics teachers may not figure it that easy, Dr. G. M. Trout, professor of dairy manufactures at Michigan State college, says three "C's" add up to more of one—larger returns.

The three "C's" to which Dr. Trout refers are those of quality milk production. By keeping milk clean, cold and covered, the dairy department specialist says it will mean more cash. That's the large "C" to which he refers and the one in which most farmers are concerned.

Contrary to opinions of many, the aeration of milk is not necessary. It is true that for years most farmers left the milk in open cans or vats where it was exposed to the air. Experiments show that aeration does remove some of the off-odors which may get into milk. But Dr. Trout says that's unnecessary if the farmer keeps the odors out of his milk.

Proper stable ventilation and the feeding of odor-producing feeds, such as silage, after milking is completed is the best solution.

Straining of milk on the farm should not be necessary, Dr. Trout says. His reports that some plants require the milk to be strained before being delivered to the plant. These plant operators want to be sure the milk is produced under conditions which will not allow extraneous matter to get into the milk.

Officials Aver Highway Carnage Can Be Checked

A large number of the 25,000 or more lives that will be lost this year in traffic accidents could be saved, police chiefs of cities across the land assert.

Returns from a poll announced by Street and Traffic Safety Lighting bureau's office of informational services showed that 96 per cent of the police officials believe adequate street lighting can reduce the number of traffic accidents and that 71.5 per cent consider their own cities do not have adequate lighting from the standpoint of traffic safety.

Figures were based on replies to questions directed to police chiefs of all cities in the U. S. having a population of 10,000 or over.

National statistics show that almost two-thirds of the fatal traffic accidents occur at night when there is but one-third the volume of traffic. National Safety council reported 24,300 traffic fatalities in 1944, a 3 per cent rise over 1943. As the final tabulation for 1945 is being completed, indications are that the national death toll from motor vehicles is shooting beyond the 25,000 mark.

Increasingly conscious of this alarming increase, public safety officials are concentrating on the causes for night accidents. The police chiefs who attempted to estimate the possible reduction of night traffic accidents which would be effected if traffic arteries were adequately lighted gave opinions ranging from 5 per cent up to 80 per cent and a few higher. The 38 per cent of replies giving high estimates came largely from cities which are experimenting with street lights designed for present traffic conditions.

Apple Juice Is Now Big Business Due To Research Work

"We are sorry, but we are not making cider this year."

That's the way your inquiry about cider is being answered at Michigan State college this fall.

Dr. H. B. Tukey, head of the horticulture department, explains that behind that statement lies a story of success which centers around Dr. Marshall of the department.

Dr. Marshall is recognized as one of the nation's authorities in fruit processing and handling.

"To go back a few years," says Dr. Tukey, "cider was just cider. It was made from poor grades of apples of inferior and questionable quality. It was not an article that rated very high in polite society."

But we all know it is difficult for an apple grower to produce only large, highly-colored apples. There are certain to be some apples which are sound, but which are lacking in that bright color and good size which helps them to sell on the market. What should be done with them? Should we throw them away?

Dr. Marshall visioned a superior and standardized product made from fruit which was lacking in that bright color and good size which helps them to sell on the market. Each year he worked in the laboratory in the horticulture building studying the best process. He tried different varieties and different grades of apples. He tried various methods of processing, filtering and clarification.

But the proof of the pudding is in the eating. No matter how fine the apple juice looked or tasted to Dr. Marshall, he preferred to rely on the reaction of the consuming public. Different batches and processes were offered to the consumer and the reaction and acceptance was noted. Those were the days when students and faculty and East Lansing people were able to buy apple juice at the college.

They were being used as human guinea pigs.

Out of it all came the establishment of a process for making apple juice which now uses more than one-half million bushels of sound but small, poorly-colored, or slightly blemished Michigan apples. Other states played an important part too. In fact, the process has been so successful that the national apple juice pack reached nearly three million cases in 1944. That used more than 2,500,000 bushels of apples. In short, apple juice is big business.

"Now that the apple juice industry is established, the college, as its policy, has withdrawn from the possibility of competing with private industry and has turned to other lines of research and development," continues Dr. Tukey. "So if you look into the laboratory of the horticulture building at Michigan State college these days, in place of apple juice you will see fruits and vegetables under test in various transparent wraps and in small consumer packages. If these studies prove as effective as Dr. Marshall's work with apple juice has been, they may expect in turn to give way to other lines of research as 'science marches on'."

Growing Use in Paint

A wartime development in the paint industry has been the increasing use of "tall oil," a by-product of the manufacture of sulphate pulp from pine wood, as a substitute for all or part of commonly used drying oils for some types of coatings. This oil, name of which comes from the Swedish word for pine, is becoming rapidly salable in ever increasing quantities due to rapid growth of the sulphate pulp industry. One manufacturer has estimated that 100,000 tons of tall oil now are potentially available annually.

Explain Terms

In the heating industry, the term furnace is applied to the combustion unit in the basement that burns the fuel and transfers the heat to air which is circulated through ducts. The term boiler is used to describe the unit which produces either hot water for a hot water heating system or steam for a steam-heating system. Actually the water in the boiler for a hot water heating system does not reach the boiling point.

Caution Is Urged In Use of DDT On Farm Animals and Pets

Lansing—Owners of farm animals and domestic pets were admonished today to exercise at least "ordinary caution" when they use DDT to protect their animals against insects and parasites.

Although federal regulations do not require that DDT be labeled "poison," but only with the word "caution," the American Foundation for Animal Health recommended a conservative policy in use of the new insecticide, especially around milk cows.

"Because cattle and cats engage in the practice of licking their coats, they are probably more likely than other animals to suffer toxic effects from DDT sprayed or powdered on their bodies," the American Foundation warned.

"Further, it is known that DDT, when consumed in excess, is excreted in the milk of cows. It appears unlikely that a cow would absorb enough to poison the milk, but there is much yet to be learned on this potential hazard. In the meantime, the cautious use of DDT is recommended."

Farmers were advised to use DDT only in a water solution or powdered form when applying it directly to animals. Only solutions of the insecticide are absorbed thru the skin to a degree that might prove dangerous.

Possibility of chronic poisoning from day-to-day contact with the insecticide was also mentioned as more concern than the chance of acute poisoning from a single large dose, the American Foundation reported. Accumulations of the drug in an animal's body have been blamed for loss of weight, nervousness and convulsions.

CORRECTION
Due to a misunderstanding it was incorrectly stated in last week's Standard that Robert Toney was presented the championship cup at the Lima Township Achievement Night program, for having the most points in 4-ft club work to his credit. It should have stated that the Ann Arbor State Savings bank cup which had been presented to the Lima Shepherds (the 4-H club to which Robert Toney belongs) at the Achievement program in Ann Arbor the week before was on display at the Lima township Achievement night program. Charles Downer is the leader of the Lima Shepherds, and Dean Coy, assistant leader.

Postman Composes 600 Songs, Sells Only Seven

Although his friends may laugh when he sings it, John L. Meyer, Sheboygan, Wis., postman, has sat down at the piano long enough during the last 20 years to compose words and music for 600 songs.

Despite his prolific output, only seven have been accepted for publication, and five of those finally were published. But Meyer doesn't let that bother him. His wife and two daughters, Judy, 3, and Jill, not yet 1, comprise his most devoted cheering section.

He learned his music from his father, and started out on a guitar. When he was 22 he started "picking around" on a piano, which he finds offers the most satisfactory medium for a composer's gems. When a catchy bar occurs to him while he's delivering mail, he pulls out a notebook and jots it down, so he isn't troubled with forgotten chords.

Meyer attended Notre Dame in 1930, his family hoping he'd become an accountant and he hoping he'd become a football star. The funds ran out, however, and he tried his luck at selling vacuum cleaners and brushes before he landed the mail job he's had for the last 11 years.

In 1933 he pounded the pavement of Tin Pan Alley in New York, attempting to sell his songs, but he had no luck. Now he trusts Uncle Sam's mail system to do his selling for him. He has some polkas in mind that need writing and, he hopes, selling.

Irrigated Crops Show Varied Drinking Habits

Drinking habits of crops are various and, according to scientists of the department of agriculture's research administration, an understanding of these peculiarities enables farmers in irrigation areas to get better yields. Some crops, like small grains, corn and grass, pasture, get their water and nourishment from the surface. Others, alfalfa, for example, drive roots deep. Some crops—potatoes and others—reach to intermediate depths. Plants that feed and get water near the surface do best when irrigated frequently with light applications of water. Crops with deep roots like alfalfa are produced more economically when watered infrequently but heavily. The long roots of alfalfa have been found to absorb about as much moisture from the second and third foot as from the first foot of soil.

The quantity of water used varies with the soil and climatic conditions as well as with the kind of plant. Sugar beets are not such deep feeders as alfalfa, but both crops are big consumers of water. Small grains—oats, wheat and barley—use only small quantities of water. Potatoes, beans and corn are moderate users of water.

Glue Still Used

When paper-making was first invented in China by the clever craftsman Tsai Lun under the Emperor Ho-Ti about 105 A. D., animal glue was used in sizing in order to produce a smooth surface finish that would take the Chinese ink-brush. And paper-making, one of the greatest peaceful arts of all time, spread throughout the world. Then came the invention of printing in the 15th century and modern bookmaking as we know it now, with animal glue still playing its highly necessary part in the making of the paper, the bookbinding and the printers' rollers of today.

All Work and No Play

The inventive genius of George Westinghouse, who was born a century ago this year, made its practical debut in his father's machine shop. With plans for a Saturday picnic endangered by strict orders from his father to cut a large pile of pipes into equal lengths, George used wheels, belts and blocks of wood to construct an automatic pipe cutting machine. When Westinghouse showed up his 14-year-old son was not to be found, but any objections the father may have had were dispelled by the neatly cut and stacked lengths of pipe.

Lighted World's Fair

To demonstrate the advantages of alternating current in transmitting electric power, George Westinghouse, who was born 100 years ago this year, contracted to light Chicago's 1893 World's Fair. But rival interests controlled the patents on the only practical lamp available. Apparently stymied and with less than a year to go, Westinghouse invented a "stopper" lamp, built a factory to produce it, and completed the lighting task at a profit, even though his bid had been $1,000,000 below that of his rivals.

Output Increases

Value of food and kindred products manufactured in the South amounted to almost two billion dollars in 1939. Of this amount, wholesale meat packing accounted for $87 million; bread and bakery products, $23 million; flour and other grain mill products, $18 million; non-alcoholic beverages, $15 million; canned and dried fruits and vegetables, $9 million; ice cream and ices, $3 million, and cooking and edible fats and oils, $7 million. ## Girl Scouts Celebrate Birthday of Founder

Fifty-eight girls and fourteen leaders and committee members were present at the Girl Scout party in the Municipal Building on Saturday afternoon, celebrating the birthday of Juliette Lewis, founder of the Girl Scout organization in the United States.

The table was very attractively arranged with two three-tiered birthday cakes frosted in green and white, and snapdragons in various shades forming the decorations. Ice cream was served with the birthday cake, with the youngest Brownie and the oldest Girl Scout present, Gloria White and Rowena Leontis respectively, being chosen to cut the first piece of each of the two cakes.

The investiture ceremony, in which fourteen girls were accepted as full-fledged members and received Girl Scout pins, took place after the Girl Scouts and those who were to become members stood in a horseshoe formation and held a flag ceremony honoring the American flag.

A candelabra holding three tall candles, each one representing one of the three phases of the Girl Scout Promise, was lighted by a leader and then each of the ten girls taking part in the ceremony at the flame of the three tall candles and repeated one of the ten Girl Scout laws the candles represent.

Each of the fourteen girls who were to become members then stepped in front of one of the leaders and signified her desire to become a Girl Scout and gave the Girl Scout Promise, and the ceremony was closed with the song, "America, The Beautiful."

The fourteen girls who recovered pins at the ceremony were Norma Jean Dull, Roseann Hoffman, Kathryn Merkel, Sandra Baldwin, Judy Davison, Cynthia Paul, Kay Keeny, Janet Talbot, Norma Jean Morgan, Beverly Hughes, Doris Weinberg and Shirley Pierce.

A new assistant leader, Mrs. Walter Mohrlock, was introduced and games, in charge of the senior Girl Scouts led by Mrs. Deida Gee, concluded the afternoon's festivities.

OFFICE NEWS

Saline plays here tomorrow night.

EDITORIAL

Nearly every week someone expresses what he thinks could be improved, something that is done or practiced in this school that he dislikes. This week there will be a chance for there are lots of good things done.

Consider assemblies, for instance. Assemblies of any kind are welcomed and enjoyed by everyone. It really makes one feel good to be part of a responsive audience. Here, in this high school, we welcome folks from out of town, or those pupils who come from this school. We find it interesting to receive people from different places or who have been in different places.

I hope that we as an audience continue the practice of being a good one.

NEEDED: MORE SLEEP
While strolling through the school one Monday morning, several students were noticed yawning—good morning—to their teachers, while many others, too tired to do this, just laid their noggins down on the desks with a very contented look of restful peace on their angelic faces. Really—there is a time and a place for everything!

The teachers and the students should have a sufficient amount of sleep if they are to do their best work in school. Our education is one of the most important factors of our lives. If we get more sleep the number of diseases will be reduced. Our attention class will increase, thus enabling us to obtain more from our education.

Alertness, ready grasp of detail, comprehension of explanations, manual and mental dexterity are all directly based on sufficient rest. When both health and understanding are partly based on sufficient rest, what possible excuse can there be for failing to get it?

ASSEMBLY

Initiation day started off with a dash of lipstick here and a dash of it there on the faces of the poor Freshmen. Besides the lipstick they had to wear various "odd" clothes. The girls' costumes consisted of a two-piece bathing suit over slacks and a long-sleeved shirt, five pairs of stockings on their feet, hair in curlers, green necktie, and a pail in which to carry their books. The fellows had to wear a flashy T-shirt, overalls with a gunst-back-over-them, hose with runners in them, tennis shoes, green bows in their hair, stockings with the toes cut out for gloves, had to carry a baby doll and also books in a pail.

When the lipstick smearing was finished at the Freshmen had to walk across the study stage before the high school students and judges. The judges were Clara Miller, Jerome Burg, Vernie Conk, Rita Gross, Ted McClellan, and Charlotte Otto. The duty of the judges was to select the best boy and girl were dressed the best. The winners were Geraldine Hale and Richard Usevick.

The new members of the faculty, Miss Larson, Miss DeRose, and Mr. Tewes, also had to walk across the stage. They had to wear some article of clothing backwards.

FRESHMAN BIOGRAPHIES

On April 19, 1932, Shirley Levan appeared on the scene and brightened (?) our little world. She has grown since then and is now five feet one and one-half inches tall and has blonde hair. Her favorite magazine is Look, and chocolate cake is her favorite food. A certain nickname is her pet peeve. Shirley thought that initiation should have been a little more exciting. Is she crazy?

Mr. Wheeler passed out cigars on February 8, 1939 when Gene-view Wheeler was born. She has grown since then and is now five feet six and one-half inches tall. Genevieve can eat chicken any time. Civics is her favorite subject and Miss Fox is her favorite teacher. Her favorite nickname is Ginny. She thought initiation was much fun.

On April 8, 1932, an astonished family gazed up into the sky and proclaimed "It's a bird! It's a plane! It's a stork with Walt Zeebi!" From the beginning his favorite food has been baked beans. His pet peeve is school. The thing he doesn't like about school is Monday morning. His favorite magazine is Field and Stream. Commenting on initiation he said, "Oh! my aching back!"

STUDENT COUNCIL

In their meeting, October 31, the Student Council decided to see about a "clean-up day." Mr. Johnson and Mr. Alstatter will be consulted before any more plans are made.

FIRST GRADE

We have a new boy in our room. He is Jerry Shook, who came from North Carolina.

SECOND GRADE

We had a Halloween party October 31. We had ice cream, cookies, candy, and popcorn.

We now have two spelling teams. One is the Tiger group with Hugh Weinburg as captain. The other is the Cardinal group with Janet Martin as its captain. This week there was a tie in the spelling.

SEVENTH GRADE

Earl Guenther was elected as representative for the Red Cross.

David Berke had a birthday. He played the birthday game and lost. Carol Hale has moved to California. The group held a surprise party for her Friday evening, presenting her with farewell gifts. The class visited the Public Library on Monday to receive further instruction in use of the library.

ASSEMBLY

The entire student body met last Thursday in study hall for an assembly sing. Mr. Redner, the chorus director, led the singing, accompanied by Miss Hendaburg at the piano. The singing was enjoyed by all and will be appreciated when we have another.

It's quite a big dream. People of Michigan must be convinced first they will get better service for their money. That's the real hitch.

At long last you slip behind the wheel of your very own Buick.

You look around a minute — straighten your tie — grin a little at the handsome picture you know you must be making.

You turn the key. Step on the starter-treadle. Feel those eight big Fireball cylinders take silken hold.

Easy as a breeze, you slip away in two agile tons of steady-going levelness — and right then and there a lot that was dark is clear.

You see why this car is the most wanted automobile in America today.

You see why this doubles the problem posed by industry-wide slowness of parts and material flow.

You see why Buick production men are gladly putting every waking hour into ceaseless battle against such log-jams, so that they can supply these sweethearts to the greatest possible number.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Who Gets Off Easiest—Men or Women?

Maybe you saw that poll on who has the easiest life—men or women? Of course, the men voted that the women did, and the women vice versa.

It would be the same in our town—take any family. Thad Phibbs envies his Missus spending the day at home, with no hot office to attend to. And Sue envies Thad his luncheon with the boys; and his evening glass of beer with friends (while she cleans up the dishes in the kitchen).

Of course, none of it goes very deep. Thad knows way deep down that the Missus has plenty of work running a house; and Sue knows the friendly glass of beer is well-deserved relaxation after a long hard day's work.

From where I sit, most husbands and wives may grumble now and then—but they know in their hearts it's a case of live and let live, give and take, that comes out pretty even in the end.

Our Neighbors

PLYMOUTH—Bands will play and dirt will fly Friday afternoon, today, when the Livonia Township Board of Education officially breaks ground for its new high school building at Farmington and Five Mile Rd. The site eventually will be occupied by a high school to accommodate 2,000 students. It will have more than 40 classrooms, a gymnasium, auditorium and ultra-modern home economics and shop facilities. It is to be constructed by units. The first unit will contain 14 classrooms and is believed to be the largest school building now under construction in the state. Livonia township had its beginning in 1807. This is its first qualified high school. It has contemplated the Plymouth Mail.

STOCKBRIDGE—Sunday, Oct. 27, the 22nd annual homecoming of the First Baptist church was observed. The church was beautifully decorated with an abundance of autumn flowers and leaves. The guest speaker in the morning was Rev. Drury Martin of Lansing, who is Director of Rural and Convention Churches of Michigan Baptist Convention. After the Sunday school hour the guests and members of the church gathered in the dining room, where the tables were attractively decorated in keeping with the Halloween season, and enjoyed an hour of fellowship and a bountiful pot-luck dinner. Stockbridge Brief-Sun.

MILAN—There is an interesting exhibit in the Ford window, in keeping with Halloween. It is not the grotesque mask it appears to be. It is a real human head, shrunk by the process known only to certain savage tribes in the interior of South America. Mr. Sinkule, who spent several years south of the border, acquired this interesting specimen in Quito, the capital of Ecuador. While there have been several articles recently in magazines concerning the practice, this is the first time within our knowledge that a genuine specimen has been on display. Milan Leader.

ROCHESTER—The paving of Rochester's Main street from the viaduct to our northerly city limits with blacktop over our former brick paving laid in 1916, being completed this week, now gives our city one of the most uniform and best paved streets—88 feet from curb to curb—to be found in any city of like size in the state. Rochester can well consider the paving just completed one of her major accomplishments of 1946, a year when materials of all kinds were the scarcest and hardest to obtain in our history. Due to the wideness of the street, the usual diagonal parking will be adhered to as in former years. Rochester Clarion.

GRASS LAKE—The completion of the decorating of the Mt. Hope church will be celebrated next Friday, November 8, with a pot-luck dinner in the church basement, 7:15 p.m. A general invitation to the community is extended and also friends in Grass Lake. A program is planned and pictures will be shown by Forrest Cook. This little country church, under the leadership of the minister, Rev. R. E. McLean, is to be congratulated for their achievement. —Grass Lake News.

PLYMOUTH—Leonard Baumgartner, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baumgartner, 10712 North Territorial road, who returned just recently from the Philippine Islands and was given his army discharge a little over a week ago, was instantly killed about 1 o'clock Wednesday morning when he apparently failed to make a sharp turn in the Northville-Plymouth road near Cass Benton park. Crashing into a tree, the impact threw him face forward through the windshield and into the tree. His car, a Mercury, was demolished. —The Plymouth Mail.

Test Switchboard Lamps
One electrical manufacturing plant alone produces and checks daily more than 28,000 tiny lamps for telephone switchboards. Samples are placed on life test boards, and many have been burning since January, 1944.

Winter Weather's on the Way!

Here Are Oldsmobile's Recommended COLD WEATHER SERVICES

CHECK COOLING SYSTEM—The radiator and entire cooling system should be drained, flushed out, and thoroughly inspected. Hose connections should be tightened where necessary.

INSTALL ANTI-FREEZE—Sufficient anti-freeze should be put in to protect your car from a damaging freeze in even the coldest weather that can be expected.

TUNE ENGINE—Your motor should be put in shape to assure you of quick, easy starting, and economical performance no matter how low the thermometer goes.

CHANGE ENGINE OIL—A lighter oil that will circulate freely at below-freezing temperatures is a necessity for easy starting and the prevention of excessive winter wear.

LUBRICATE CAR—The entire chassis should be scientifically lubricated to prevent wear. The lubricants in standard transmission and differential should be changed to a winter grade. Hydra-Matic Drive fluid need not be changed unless necessary.

CHECK ELECTRICAL SYSTEM—There's a heavier load on battery, generator, starter and ignition system during cold weather. These should be inspected, put in good condition, and protected with a coating of PIB.

CHECK SAFETY FEATURES—Brakes should be adjusted and put in top-notch condition. Windshield wipers should be checked. Heater and defroster connections should be inspected.

PROTECT FINISH—Snow and ice and road-clearing chemicals are tough on the finish of your car. A wash and polish, or a Liquid Glaze job—and touch-up treatment—will protect both paint and chrome.

If You Have a New Oldsmobile on the Way—

Materials shortages and unavoidable production delays are keeping our deliveries behind schedule. Better keep your present car up with regular service... until that style-leading new Oldsmobile arrives!

VETERANS' AFFAIRS

Proficiency Requirements Reduced
for Honorable Discharge

A reduction in the proficiency rating requirements for an honorable discharge has been announced by the Navy, Coast Guard, and Marine Corps. Former enlisted personnel of these services who receive a discharge under honorable conditions rather than an honorable discharge solely because their marks were not up to previous standards are now eligible to have their discharge reviewed if they rating meets the new requirements.

The Navy has reduced its proficiency in rating requirements

from 3.0 to 2.75, retroactive to December 7, 1941. Required marks for Marine Corps personnel discharged on or subsequent to March

1, 1945, have been dropped from 3.8 to 3.4.

Eligible Navy and Marine Corps

veterans should submit a written request for an honorable discharge

affidavit to the Board of Review,

Discharges and Dismissals, Navy

Department, Washington 25, D.C.

Coast Guard rating requirements

dropped from 3.0 to 2.75, retroactive to April 6, 1944. Application should be made to the Board of Review, Discharges and Dismissals,

Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington 25, D.C.

Enforcement Program Launched

In an effort to put teeth into regulations pertaining to the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program, the OPA and the Office of the Housing Expediter have launched a nation-wide enforcement drive aimed at stamping out

malpractices, correcting abuses,

and answering criticism of present conditions. Civil and criminal charges will be filed and pressed against violators.

The help reach the goal of 2,700-

000 houses for veterans in 1946-47

at prices veterans can afford to pay. Housing Expediter Wilson W.

Wyatt delegated to OPA the responsibility of enforcing veterans'

preference requirements and maximum sales prices and rents on housing built under this program.

More than 550 local OPA rent offices will be used on this new compliance program.

Simple Machine Keeps

Animal Organs Alive

A machine which can keep animal organs alive and functioning normally outside the body was put on public display for the first time by its inventor, J. A. Long, professor of embryology at the University of California, at a meeting of the American medical association in San Francisco.

The instrument enables Long and his co-researcher, Evelyn Anderson,

assistant professor of medicine, to study under the microscope the living vital organs such as the pancreas, liver, stomach, thyroid, kidneys, etc.

It enables the researchers to eliminate much guesswork in the study of vital organs. Secretions can be piped off immediately after they leave the organs, eliminating the interfering forces of the other organs

which obscure results in experiments which call for sacrificing animals.

The machine has a mechanical

"heart," lung and blood system, its simplicity, versatility and cheapness will enable individual scientists to study living organs outside the body, such as the pancreas, as the method of Alexis Carrel, have involved large, expensive equipment operated by staffs of technical personnel. Such equipment is also more limited in research possibilities than Long's more versatile instrument.

Too Much Sun

Too much exposure to the sun

when the body is not used to it may build up toxic proteins like any other burn. It may cause fever, headaches and nausea, spoiling

holiday fun.

Frozen Milk

Fresh milk frozen with extreme rapidity at minus 20 degrees, may be kept months, and when thawed out is as appetizing and tasty as it was in its original condition.

Modern Minute Men

Of World's Greatest

United States Marine Corps

Has Acquired Itself With Great Honor.

This nation has reason to be proud of the United States Marine Corps,

which celebrates its 71st birthday,

November 10. It has a record as one of the greatest organizations of fighting men in the world, with a history dating back to the Revolutionary war. Established by an act of the Continental Congress November 10, 1775, it went into action in early March, 1776.

The corps has taken a prominent part in every one of this country's military ventures since colonial days. They fought in the war with the Barbary states, the war of 1812 and the war with Mexico. In the Spanish-American war, the first landing in Cuba was made by Marines.

In World War I there were approximately 13,500 officers and men in the corps. In recognition of the gallant action of the Marines at Bel-lisle Woods, the French changed the name of the sector to the Bois de la Brigade de Marines.

World War II exploits are notably familiar to all Americans. The list is long and honorable.
