

Another round of labor strikes in big cities, now in the offing as a result of Washington's lifting of wage and price controls, will only accelerate migration of industry to small towns.

That's the belief of a number of labor relation experts who make a business of finding out why workers become dissatisfied and why the employer can do to keep them happy.

Industrial plants in small towns where the boss knows the worker personally, are comparatively free of employee turmoil. There is more democracy in living; home ownership is not penalized by high taxes; transportation is no great problem; food is relatively easy to get; and prices are reasonable.

Our authority? The sedate Wall Street Journal which has just conducted a nationwide survey. A minority factor contributing to employee satisfaction: Profit-sharing. Cost-of-living adjustment in wages work fine when costs are going up, but not when costs are going down.

In the cities it's the high cost of living.

On the farms it's the high cost of production.

For example: A consumers' council in Detroit raised a howl when the price of milk is adjusted to bring the Detroit market in line with Toledo and Chicago.

Latest figures from the bureau of agricultural statistics (U. S. department of agriculture) show that farm production costs have more than doubled since the five-year period, 1935-39. Production costs jumped from 5 1/2 billions to 11 1/2 billions.

This increase of cost to the farmer does not include such items as machinery, household goods, automobiles, trucks and so forth—things which farmers need just as much as city people need.

The Michigan Milk Producers' association, serving some 5,000 Michigan dairy farms, made a study this year of production costs. Whereas milk sold for $3.90 per hundred-weight, including federal subsidy, production costs averaged $3.78. The profit per cwt. was 12 cents.

What was the hourly wage of the dairy farmer—the man who is required to make a substantial investment in dollars for buildings, cows and equipment?

In these days of boom-time wages, you'll be surprised to know that the farmer and farm workers receive the generous sum of 74 cents an hour.

During the war the price of dairy products was relatively low in comparison to industrial wages. Butter retailed at approximately 16 cents a pound, milk at 15 to 17 cents a quart.

Since dairy prices have gone up temporarily—butter as high as $1 a pound, and milk to 20 and 22 cents a quart.

Charles Figg, state director of agriculture, recently forecast that dairy would remain firm for some time due to limited production and an expectancy of continued demand.

The American industrial situation is full of paradoxes—facts which appear to be a direct contradiction.

For example: George T. Christopher, president of the Packard Motor Car company, Detroit, said the other day that absenteeism is greater today than it was during war-time.

"More absenteeism," you ask. Christopher's conclusion is that many workers shun work because they are getting the highest wage in history. "Here is a summary in the case of one woman employee who was absent and was interviewed by a nurse sent to find out if she was ill," he said.

"The woman declared outrightly that her health was fine, was backing up, and she wanted time to get rid of it."

The worker's candid comment explains the illogic of why we have lost production per worker in a period of our greatest prosperity.

By reverse, you may assume that employee production will increase in a period of hard times when spending money does not back up.

It reminds us of a remark made by the director of a major state department following the Nov. 6 election. Reading that the people had voted a $270 million bonus and had diverted 76 per cent of the sales tax back to local governments, he remarked: "This deviation should proceed with its previous improvements. I am convinced the people want to spend money."

While strikes have been more numerous in 1946 than in any war-time year, industrial production continues at a high rate. Try to explain that. The answer may just have attained Wallace's promised land of "full employment" within 100 to 150 million V-J day.

U. S. labor and industry stage a costly cat-and-dog fight, paralyzing our industrial production, economists now predict for a "nomine recession" in 1947 to be followed by a fairly stable period of good times.

Federal labor courts, proposed by Senator Homer Ferguson, would assist the nation in averting disastrous nation-wide tie-ups.

As we analyze political trends, the Nov. 5 "mandate" was more of a protest against the federal administration in power than a clear-cut repudiation to victorious Republicans. We were weary of restrictions, tired of shortages, disgusted with bureaucracy.

It is easy to move toward the right when your pocketbook is full. It is another matter to do so when your pocketbook is empty.

Several Injured In Nearby Accidents Over the Week-End

Seven persons were taken to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital by Chelsea ambulances as the result of a collision involving cars driven by Charles Ware of Jackson, traveling east, and Robert E. Werner, Jr. of Detroit, traveling west, a half mile east of M-92 on US-12, at about seven o'clock Saturday evening.

George Doe, local police officer, was called to the scene, remaining in charge until the road was cleared of the wreckage.

Most seriously injured was Kenneth Johnson of Detroit, who was a passenger in the car driven by Werner. He suffered a fractured skull and according to latest reports had not regained consciousness at University hospital where he was later transferred.

Bernadette Sarata of Jackson, also a passenger in Ware's car, suffered a fractured jaw and Ola Adamsams of Jackson, riding in the same car, and Hugh Nowark and Teresa Ritz, both of Detroit, who were in the Werner car, suffered various cuts and bruises, as did both drivers.

Another accident which resulted in back and shoulder injuries to Tom Tucci of Chelsea, and eye cuts and bruises for Earl Walz of Grass Lake, occurred shortly before 3 o'clock Sunday morning when the Walz car, driven by Marie Benter, also of Grass Lake, crashed into a telephone pole about a mile east of Sylvan Center on Old US-12 when the left front tire blew out, where she and Mr. Tucci were taking Mr. and Mrs. Tucci to their home here after the two couples had spent the evening together.

Charles Frank Reed of Chelsea was called to the scene and called Chelsea ambulances to take Mr. Walz to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucci were brought to their home by a passing motorist and after a local physician was called, they were taken to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital.

Mr. Tucci and Miss Benter suffered bruises and cuts.

Mr. Walz was released from the hospital on Monday, returning daily for treatment.

Cong'l Chapters Hold Regular Meetings

Dorcas Chapter of the Congregational church met Thursday evening, November 21, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. L. G. Fox, money for dessert.

Freshmen—Mrs. R. Lantis, meat loaf.

Eighth Grade—Mrs. L. Heydalf, escalloped potatoes and cooked vegetables.

Seventh Grade—Mrs. G. Weir, coffee cream and milk.

Because of the shortage of sugar for dessert and to provide funds for coffee, milk, cream and other expenses the classes assigned these items will be asked to contribute a dollar per family.

For the convenience of the committee it is urged that the money be sent with the returned blank. Anyone who finds it inconvenient to donate the assigned item, please contact the class mother.

Each family shall bring its own table service, sugar, buttered rolls, besides the assigned contributions.

To help the committee estimate proper amount of food, it is requested that each family sign the letter, sent home by students, and return to the student class representative by Friday, Nov. 22.

—Committee.

Circles of Methodist Church Hold Meetings

Central Circle of the Methodist church met Friday evening with Mrs. John Kilmer.

Miss Lillian Foster, who had charge of the devotionals, asked Mrs. Florence Howlett to lead the group in prayer, which she did, also repeating from memory the First Psalm.

Miss Foster continued the devotional period with a reading on the subject of national thankfulness in which the veteran war correspondent, Hal O'Flaherty, was quoted as follows: "Living in Europe was enough to convince anyone of the goodness of the American way of life."

Each member was asked to mention a reason for her own thankfulness in addition to the one mentioned in the article which was for living in America. The reasons mentioned were many, and Miss Foster concluded with the statement that as long as individuals were thankful, national thankfulness would not seem to be on the decline.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to about twenty members present.

Philathea Circle of the Methodist church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Archie Wilkins with nine members and one guest present.

Mrs. Verno Fordyce was in charge of the devotionals and book reports were given by Mrs. Philip Olin and Mrs. Charles Cameron. Mrs. Olin's report was on Hermann Morse's "These Moving Times," and Mrs. Cameron's on "The City Church," by Paul Douglas.

Final plans were discussed for the turkey supper, bake sale and bazaar which was held at the Methodist church last night, and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hugh E. Sorenson.

Chelsea Downs Manchester 45-0 In Final Game of The Season, Played Friday Nite

Chelsea wound up its 1946 football season last Friday by whipping Manchester 45-0 in a game of traditional rivalry. Coach Cameron substituted freely throughout the entire game. All of the 32 players on the squad saw action in the final quarter. Nineteen points were racked up in the opening period, six in the second, 13 in the third and seven in the final period. Manchester won the toss and elected to receive while Chelsea elected to defend the south goal. The kickoff was taken on the 20 and was run back to the 30 before the Dutchman quarterback was stacked up by six Bulldog players. Unable to pick up a first down the Dutchmen were forced to kick. The Bulldogs took over on their own 48 and drove steadily down field. The drive was capped when Knickerbocker skirted right and for a 20 yard pass dirt jaunt. The extra point failed.

The second TD came when Chelsea took over on the 45 and drove to the 15 yard marker where Barlow whipped around right end for pay dirt. The extra point pass was incomplete. Second later Knickerbocker reeled off a 65 yard sprint for pay dirt. Baldwin's extra point kick was good.

Late in the second quarter Jim Miller hit Rich Carlson for a TD pass. The extra point failed. That ended the scoring for the first half. Chelsea started the second half with an all-senior team. The Bulldogs elected to receive and drove down field to the Manchester 15 yard line where costly penalties stopped the threat. The Bulldogs took over just long enough to say they had the ball—then kicked. Don Barth substituted for Dave Slane on the Junior team to crack off 10 yards (in two attempts) for pay dirt. Baldwin contributed the extra point.

Wellnitz made the sixth TD after Chelsea took the ball over on the Manchester 25. Burg hit off left tackle for 12 yards and two plays later Wellnitz took a reverse play—a class mother and all—right tackle for pay dirt. Burg's extra point attempt was good.

The final touchdown came when Burg slammed over right tackle for five yards and pay dirt. The extra point failed.

The seniors played a splendid game, as the score shows that all but one of the touchdowns were scored by seniors. Points were as follows:

Barlow, Senior..... 6
Barth, Senior..... 6
Burg, Senior..... 1
Knickerbocker, Senior..... 12
Wellnitz, Senior..... 6
Miller to Carlson, Jrs..... 6
Baldwin, Junior..... 2

This year the Bulldogs ended the season with a fairly good record, losing one game, tying one, and winning seven. Scores were as follows:

Chelsea..... 13 E. Jackson... 6
Chelsea..... 13 Dundas..... 6
Chelsea..... 7 Flat Rock... 6
Chelsea..... 0 Romulus... 0
Chelsea..... 19 Roosevelt... 0
Chelsea..... 0 Milan

Farmers Are Cautioned

Against Land Purchases

It will pay many farmers to invest in the land they already own rather than to buy more acres. "With land prices at high levels in most areas, expenditures for improving or stabilizing the income prospects frequently will bring better returns than the purchase of unimproved additional land," is a word of caution offered by Norman J. Wall, department of agriculture specialist in Agricultural Finance.

"The significant increase in farm output during the war," Wall continues, "has taken heavy toll of soil resources. Expenditure for lime and fertilizer to restore and increase productive capacity of these farms will prove to be a sound investment. The practices that have been developed in recent years for building up the carrying capacity of pastures have demonstrated that expenditures for pasture improvement can materially stabilize and increase the farm income."

Poultry Values Vary

Food value of poultry meat may vary among different cuts, and among different birds, depending on age and degree of fattening. All lean poultry meat has been given an excellent rating in vitamins B and C, a good rating for the pellagra-preventing factor and a good source of copper. Like other lean meat it is a superior source of protein and is rich in phosphorus. The dark meat of poultry is rich in iron. A generous serving of poultry meat might supply all of the protein, phosphorus and iron necessary to meet the daily requirements of an adult man.

Radiate Atomic Light

Every element in nature radiates its own special atomic light when heated, which can be identified and analyzed by means of a special optical instrument known as a spectroscope. The light given off by any one of the 92 elements that make up the universe is different from the light of any one of the other elements.

"The spectroscope unquestionably is the most important scientific device yet invented to extend human vision and understanding," Better Vision Institute declares.

Thriving Tomatoes

Tomatoes thrive best and bear best in moderate temperatures. Plants require generous amounts of water in hot dry weather. They also need to have side dressings of a good fertilizer or nitrate of soda at intervals of some two weeks to keep them growing and blooming. Keep them free from insects, watered and growing, and when cooler weather comes they should set fruit.

Disability Review Board Alters Many Decisions

Organized by the secretary of war to review upon request the case of any officer retired or placed on inactive duty without pay for physical disability, the disability review board has reversed decisions of retiring or disposition boards in approximately 25 per cent of the 1,100 cases reviewed since September 1, 1944, the war department reports.

In each of the cases reversed by the disability review board, the officer was certified as entitled to receive the same retirement pay benefits now provided by law or regulation for officers of corresponding grade and length of service in the regular army. It was emphasized that retiring boards already have granted physical disability retirement pay to over 22,000 officers.

In many cases in which the disability review board reversed retiring boards' decisions, additional evidence and information was submitted which either had not been available or had not been presented at the time retiring boards took action. Officers retired or on inactive duty without pay for physical disability and who desire review of retiring or disposition board's findings should inform the adjutant general, Washington, D. C., in writing. Such applicants if entitled under the law to have their cases reviewed are sent formal application blanks. When these are returned, properly executed, the adjutant general's office assembles all pertinent records of the applicant, including clinical records of any hospital in which the applicant may have been treated, and any physical examinations made of the officer.

Assembled records are referred to the review board, which then sets the date and time for hearing of the case at least 30 days in advance, and so informs the applicant and his counsel, if he is to be represented by counsel.

Rich in History

Salonika, ancient and cosmopolitan city of a thousand hills, is rich in history. An important Greek colony, it was a busy Roman port, and became the second city of the Byzantine empire. Sacked by the Saracens in 904 and by the Normans in 1185, it later fell into the hands of the Venetians. The Turks took the city in 1430 and ruled it for nearly 500 years. A beautiful white tower, built by Suleiman the Magnificent at the height of Turkish power, still stands guard over Salonika.

Something From Nothing

When the feet of heavy wool socks become too worn for further wear, but the tops still are in good condition, convert them to lounging socks or slippers to wear around the house in cold weather. To make the slippers, cut padded soles out of an old felt hat or scraps of leather or chamolite, then sew the uppers of the socks to the soles. Finish the edge with colorful blanket stitches. And for a bit of decoration, embroider the front in gay yarns.

Aluminum Care

Proper care of aluminum pans is important. Dark stains on aluminum can be removed with vinegar water if they have not been allowed to stand too long. The pan should be filled with equal parts of vinegar and water, and brought to a boil. Soap and soda are not satisfactory for removing such stains, and may deepen them.

Farm Woodlots Are Source of Profit If Well Managed

Good management practices will insure a good profit from a farm woodlot for an indefinite number of years according to Mrs. Bull, Michigan State college extension forester.

An important management practice is the keeping of all livestock out of the woods. Bull explains that cattle and sheep will browse off all the young seedlings and the leaf litter that provides humus to hold the soil and moisture.

Many large trees will die because of a lack of moisture as the leaf litter is not present to hold the moisture in the soil. No young trees will grow to take the place of the larger ones that are cut or die off. The woods will then eventually be cleared of timber and another field of stumps will be added to the many thousands of acres of stumped land in the state.

The MSC forester also recommends frequent thinning and improvement cuttings as the timber grows to maturity. The crooked, defective and low quality trees may be removed for fuelwood, fence posts and lumber to use in home buildings.

Figures compiled by the college extension forestry staff show that farmers can earn from 85 cents to $1.15 an hour working in their woodlots following good management practices.

The extension foresters throughout the state are glad to help land owners work out profitable selective cutting programs. By contacting county agricultural agents, farmers may learn when one of the foresters will be in his locality.

Sunburn Causes Many Ailments, Doctor Warns

Warning avoid sun enthusiasts that sunburn may lead to a variety of skin diseases. Dr. George Clinton Andrews of New York, writing in Hygiea, health magazine of the American Medical association, says: "Although sunburn is common it can be regarded in no other way than a severe injury to the skin. It is sometimes the forerunner of such diseases as psoriasis, skin tumors of the skin, chronic nontuberculous lesions of the skin and other skin disorders. Infection of the sunburn blisters may lead to impetigo and other infections of the hair follicles and boils."

Sunburn prevention is accomplished by the application of creams, ointments, oils or lotions containing physical or chemical protective substances. These ingredients absorb ultraviolet radiation and although their action is insufficient to prevent completely the effects of prolonged exposure to the sun, they do materially diminish them.

The predisposition of certain types of skin to the development of skin cancer has been established by clinical observation. There is probably no fact regarding the cause of cancer better established beyond question or doubt than that habitual exposure to sunlight causes cancer in certain types of skin under certain conditions. Persons with fair skin are more prone to skin cancer than those with a brunet skin.

"One-third of all skin cancers occur on the nose and this may be due, at least in part, to the large amount of sunlight the nose receives. Cancer of the lower lip can be traced in practically all instances to habitual exposure to sunlight."

Egg Provides Variety Of High Food Values

"An egg offers an impressive line-up of food values," points out Miss Hazel Bartley, extension nutritionist. "It is in top class among proteins for tissue building and repair, along with foods like lean meat and milk. The egg yolk holds a rich store of iron for red blood cells, and phosphorus and other minerals besides. The fat of the yolk is of exceptional quality for good nutrition too, and in the vitamin alphabet, an egg offers three B vitamins - thiamine, riboflavin and niacin - plus vitamins A and D in varying amounts."

"Buy either white or brown eggs because they're equally good. Store eggs in a closed container in the refrigerator to keep them fresh and do not wash them before storing because washing removes the natural protective shell-coating which helps to keep them fresh. There are many ways of preparing eggs and the secret of success is low cooking temperature. High temperature and overcooking toughen the protein, making the whites tough and the yolks less meaty."

HONORED BY FRATERNITY

Arthur Lindauer of Chelsea has been elected secretary of Theta Chi Delta fraternity of Western Michigan College at Kalamazoo, which is being reactivated this year, following suspension of activities during the war.

Missionaries, Traders
French penetration of Indo-China began in the 16th century, when various European missionaries and traders came into the region. Later, France gained special concessions by intervening in local struggles for power. But it was not until the 1850s and 1860s that occupation forces moved in on parts of the country. Cochinchina was the first area to be acquired, in 1862. Laos was the last, in 1893.

In the tropical jungles of French Indo-China, many a future military hero of France was trained and seasoned. Lyautey, explorer-boss of Northern Africa, sent his Goussiers (Arab troops) back to the Germans before Paris in the First World War, saw service there. So did Joffre, who was later to be made a marshal of France.

Lives on River
If the housing problem proves insurmountable, you always can follow the example of one Pittsburgh, Pa., resident—pack up your belongings and live on the river.

Burton E. Squires, who has been a "resident of the Allegheny river" since 1942, doesn't even contemplate returning to land.

Squires' home—a 48-foot power cruiser—is anchored just above the "point" where the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers join in the heart of Pittsburgh.

The "floating home" itself is equipped with the kind of modern conveniences most apartment dwellers dream of. They range from gas heat and electric refrigeration to a piano, and no taxes.

AT WEIGHT
The air in an average-size room weighs 160 pounds. The air which a person breathes in a day weighs more than the food he eats. A cubic foot of air weighs a little more than an ounce.

OFFICE NEWS

This is the final week of the second marking period. Report cards will be handed out on Wednesday, November 27.

The annual football banquet, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, will be held on Monday, November 25 at the Municipal Building. The speaker is Wally Weber.

School will be closed on November 28 and 29.

WHOSE FAULT IS IT?

As all of you know, the report cards will again be handed out next Wednesday. No doubt there will be a great number of complaints to various teachers by various pupils about their marks.

Let us just consider the situation for a moment. Was it the teacher's fault because you didn't study for that six weeks' test? Was it the teacher's fault that you didn't have that report ready? No! It was not. It was the fault of no one but yourself. So, next time, let us all do our best. Perhaps then it won't be "teacher's fault" because you received a lower mark than you expected. Both pupils and teachers will be happier then.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

Monday, November 25, the Chelsea Kiwanis Club will give its annual football banquet.

After the dinner Wally Weber, University of Michigan assistant football coach and well known speaker, will talk to the boys. He will then show moving pictures of some of the University's football games.

Mr. Cameron will then tell some of the high points of the football season. He will next hand out the football letters. The captain-elect of the next year's team will be announced.

On the following evening, the Chelsea football team will be guests at the University Football Bust, held in Ann Arbor.

F.F.A.

The F.F.A. is getting another load of Jonathan and Delicious apples Sunday.

Each F.F.A. member is to prepare a speech, the best of which will be given at the county contest in the spring.

ATHLETIC BOARD

At the last meeting of the Athletic Board, Donald Schanz was elected as the alumni representative.

H.I.Y.

The H.I.Y. will again sell Christmas cards as a means of making money. They are also planning to become affiliated with the National H.I.Y. League. Two members will be sent to the Elder Boys' Conference at Detroit, Nov. 29 and 30. The club will take over sponsorship of the Monday dancing program.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors elected their most representative girl and also the D.A.R. award. Results will not be announced until somewhat later.

Friday morning, the following were chosen to elect the senior play: Wilma Koenigster, chairman, and Loren Munro and Duane Quiatt.

The High School P.T.A. is sponsoring a picnic dinner for the families of all students registered in grades 7 through 12. Dinner will be held in the gymnasium on Monday, Dec. 2. All families which plan to attend are urged to indicate their intentions by having their children register at school. This will enable the committee to arrange a better balanced dinner.

PEP MEETING

The speech class had charge of the pep meeting, which was held in the gym. It started off with a big yell from the cheer leaders. The little skit the speech class gave was as follows: The curtains opened and the scene was a bench upon which football boys were sitting. Charles Sullivan swung out on a rope, telling the score of the football game between Manchester and Chelsea. Immediately a player was hurt and the boys rushed off stage, returning a few minutes later with the injured boy. This happens again and again until four injured football players are lying on the floor in front of the bench. They make several remarks, then called upon Mr. Cameron to give a short talk. After this followed a cheer from the cheer leaders.

The pep meeting ended with a snake dance through town, led by the band playing our school song.

ATHLETIC BOARD

The Athletic Board met Thursday morning. An electric score board for basketball is to be placed in the gym. Wally Weber from U. of M. is coming to the football banquet given by the Kiwanis club on Nov. 25 and will show some football movies.

CHORUS

In chorus they have been studying the structure of music, and a lot of things have been cleared up.

They have learned a few new pieces, and many plans are being made toward a program to be given at P.T.A.

A lot of chorus members are planning to see "Barkalon" and the "Messiah" at the Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Copies of the Notre Dame Victory March have been printed and were passed out at the pep meeting Friday by the cheer leaders. The Student Council hopes everyone will sing these words.

The Hi-Y has taken charge of Monday dancing lessons.

It was decided by the Student Council that each student could bring only one guest to our dances and All-Hi parties.

BIographies
On August 19, 1932, fourteen years ago, Marianne Bauer was born. Waterloo was the place. The baby girl grew up to like collecting movie stars and recipes. She also liked ice skating. Right from the beginning these have been her hobbies and favorite sport. Speaking of movie stars—as a hobby, one night she went to the show and husw "Liddle, Son of Lasse"—this is now the movie she likes best. Marianne likes dear old Chelsea teachers, too.

Just one day after Marianne Bauer, Mary G. Wheeler was introduced to her parents. The date, August 20; the year, 1932; place, Dexter, Michigan.

As best liked sport and hobby, "Centennial Summer" is Marianne's favorite movie; or could it be Colonel Wilde Mary likes?

March 27, 1932 was the day remembered by Robert Toney's parents. Bob has had a fancy for football ever since, practically, that first day. Having no hobby, this sport takes most of his spare time.

"Smokey" is his favorite movie, and like all boys he has an appetite. Bob's ideal dish is baked beans. We don't blame him.

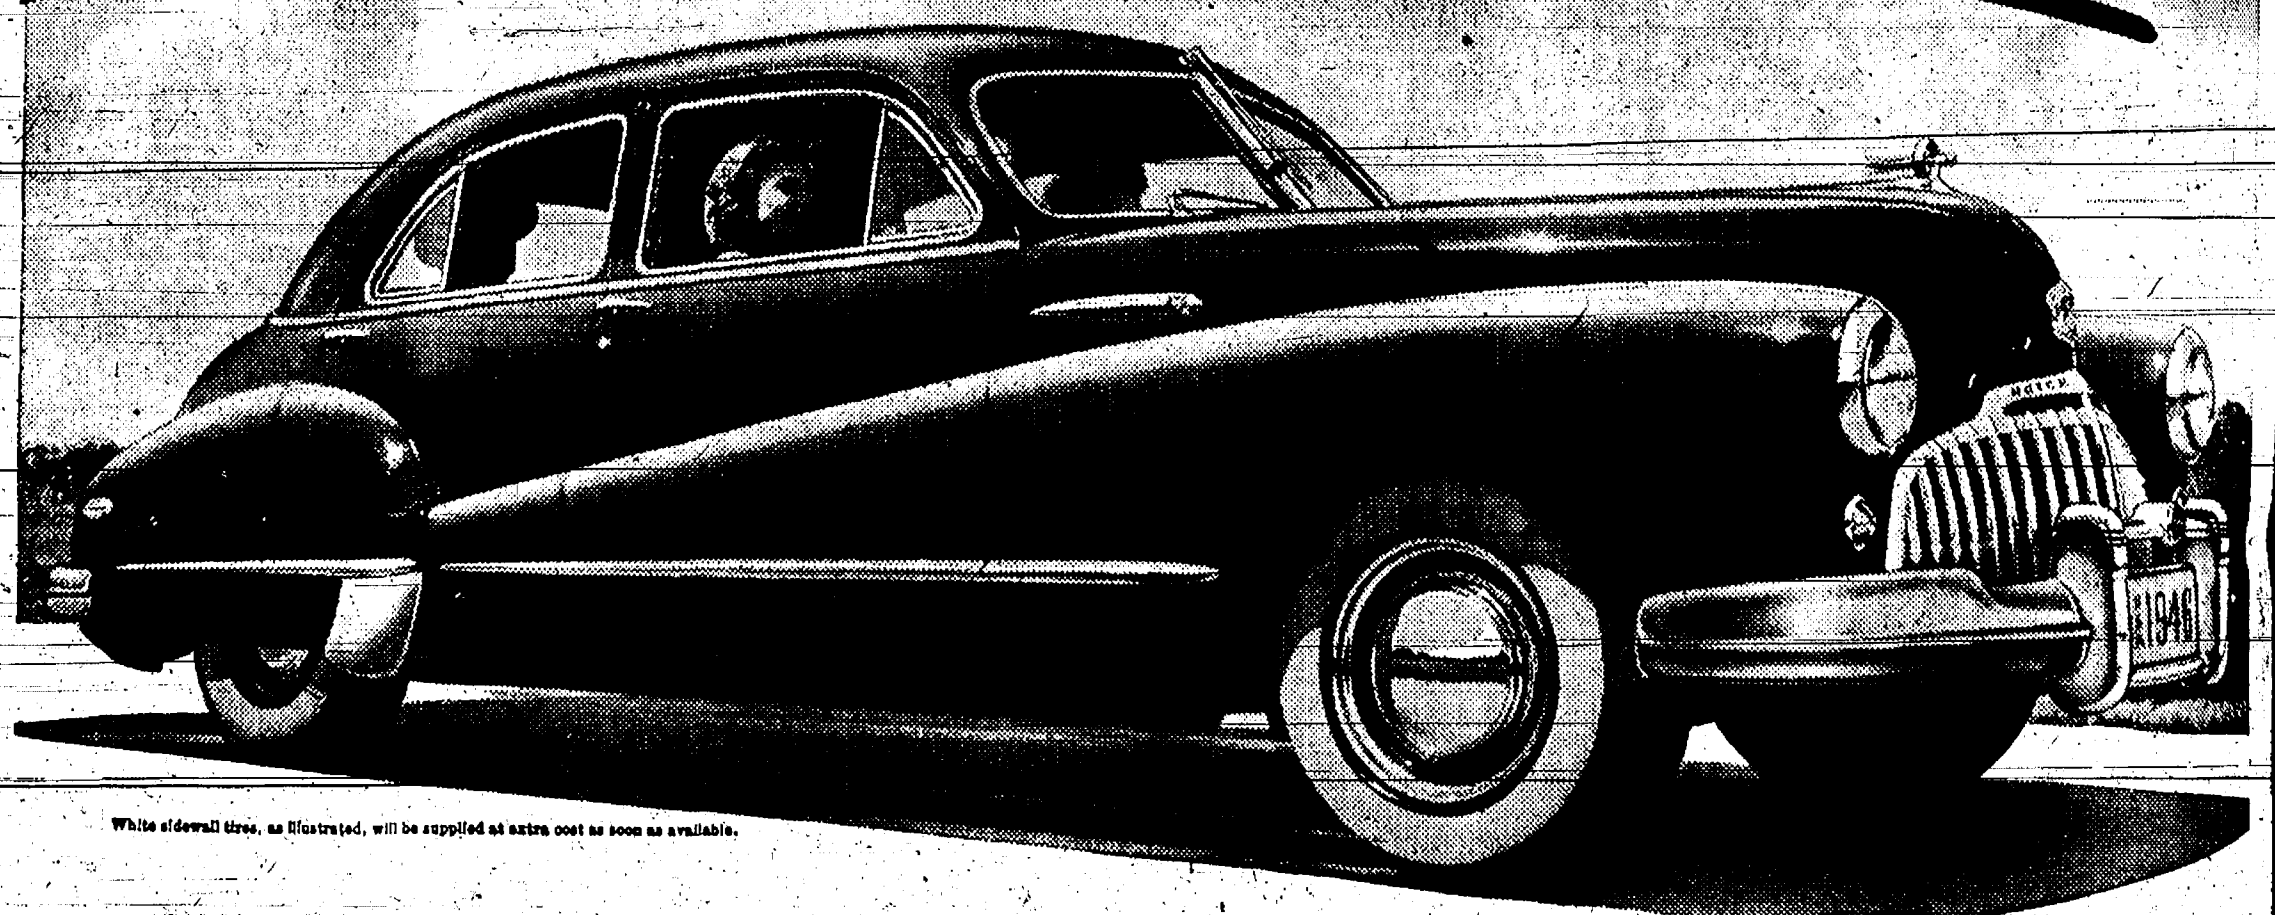

SIXTH GRADE

To encourage more and better reading the children have been keeping a list of books read since school started. Lyndell White and Alfred Knickerbocker lead the room in the most books read.

Book reports and book corners fill one of our boards in observance of Book Week. The theme, for books for next marking period, is to be stories of children of other lands. Through books we hope to understand others better.

With that same idea in mind we chose to write to children in other lands. Our unit of work is the friendly letter for language. Let (Continued on page nine)

Look ahead to Something Great

Put to you straight, the story's this:
No car made today is coming to you fast as its makers would like.

It stands to reason that the car most wanted is not going to be the easiest to get.

But that car will have what you're aiming for.

Style that's no mere one-year wonder—but smart and clean and right in a way that lasts.

Power—plenty of it—a big bonnet-ful of Fireball straight-eight power, smooth as cream pouring from a pitcher.

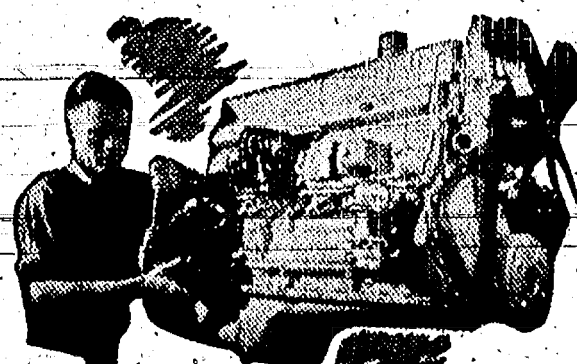

Size and roadability and easy-handling—this car will be a travel-wise honey that hugs the road as though it loved it!

There will be smoothness and steadiness you haven't known before—and putting it all together for you a hard-driving production outfit that's staging a notably successful battle against shortages and slowdowns.

If it takes longer to get a Buick than anyone thought a few months back, it has also proved itself as a whale of a lot more automobile than folks expected!

So skip today—give a thought to tomorrow—and plan ahead for something good.

Get your money down on a Buick, available for future delivery—with or without a car to trade.

FIREBALL AT ITS FINEST. In a fitful of vital dimensions, this big Fireball straight-eight is made to closer tolerances than an aircraft engine. And Accutec cylinder boring gives a piston-fit from the beginning that never has been equaled before.

What Other Car Has So Much That Clicks For Forty-Six!

- SMARTNESS—that sets the style pattern with car-length Airtail fenders and bolts on roof wheel shields.
- POWER—from a Buick Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine.
- OIL SAVINGS—from non-scuffing Accutec cylinder bores.
- FLASHING ACTION—of Filtevalight Pistons.
- STEADINESS—from full-length torque-tube drive in a sealed chassis.
- SLIDING RIDE—from Panhard coil springs.
- COMFORT—of soft Foamlex cushions in roomy Body by Fisher.
- SURE FOOTING—of Broadrim wheels.
- CONTROL—through Firm-Firm steering.
- CONVENIENCE—of high-leverage SteeOn parking brake.
- PROTECTION—of Buick-originated fender-shielding front and rear bumpers.

*Foamlex seat cushions standard on Super and Roadmaster models, available on Special Series at extra cost.

Johannes Diderik van der Waals was 73 years of age when the Nobel prize for physics was conferred on him in 1910. Van der Waals was born in picturesque Leyden, in 1837, aside the dikes of the Holland canals. His earlier life was that of a Dutch boy who lived deep in books and whose first taste of education was self-instructed. He later matriculated at the university, where his continued researches brought forth a new conception of matter and his introduction of the law of "corresponding states" which opened the way to later advancements in the liquefaction of permanent gases.

MSC President On Board That Studies Extension Program

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State college, has been named as a member of a ten-man national committee to study cooperative extension policies and programs. The study is being made in view of expanding educational services in agriculture and home economics.

The appointment was announced by Clinton E. Anderson, secretary of agriculture and Dean Thomas P. Cooper, president of the association of land-grant colleges and universities.
The committee consists of college presidents, deans of agriculture, members of the department of agriculture and officials of private industry interested in farm problems. Also named on the committee from Michigan was David Meeker, manager of education of Harry Ferguson, Inc., Detroit.

For 32 years, cooperative extension work has been carried on by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and land-grant colleges like Michigan State college. Programs dealing with educational activities in agriculture, home economics and 4-H club work are now being carried on in all agricultural counties in the United States.
There has been no broad study of the program, with a view of making changes for improvement of the service, since 1928.

Electricity On Operations
Oil well electrification, the equipment including electric motors for pumping and time clocks to start and stop operations at vital stages, is spreading rapidly, according to reports from the southwest in Black-gold belt. One company in Arkansas reports the electrification of 160 wells, with a 33 per cent reduction in pumping costs, and plans to bring at least 60 more wells under automatic control before the end of the year.

Advice Is Given By County Agent Wilson On Making Aprons

The aprons you are making now for Christmas bazaars or gifts are probably very pretty, but are they practical? Frances E. Wilson, county home demonstration agent, warns that every apron has a job to do and should be practical as well as pretty.

Miss Wilson suggests that you test your pattern by checking some of the things that make an apron practical. Will the shoulder straps "stay put"? They should be anchored firmly in back, well above the waistline. A pinaflore is a good style but make it with a button at the back of the neck and a tie at the waist. If it buttons all the way down the back, it will be too heavy.

Is the apron free from dangling bows and ruffles which are a hazard around fires and catch on everything? Ruffles and gathers also make aprons hard to iron. A belt that ties in back makes aprons adjustable, but a tuffy bow will be a nuisance, so make it narrow.

Are the pockets big and handy? Pockets should be large enough for your closed hand and placed on the full parts of the apron for side pockets, straight and slanting tops are equally handy. For pockets close to the front, slant openings toward the back.

When you choose the material, try to find some that is colorfast and pre-shrunk. An all-over pattern on a colored background will look fresh longer and save laundry time. Try to buy a trim that will last as long as the apron and fastenings that are washable and rust-proof.
The apron will last longer if you reinforce pocket corners, buttonholes and places where buttons are sewed on.

Two Cases of Rabbit Fever Reported To Conservation Dept.

Lansing—With two cases of tularemia reported as rabbit hunting began in earnest after the close of bird season, the conservation department's game division has renewed its warnings to observe the customary precautions against rabbit fever.

The precautions are quite simple. The primary rule is to avoid or discard any thin, sickly-looking rabbit that gets up slowly in front of the dog.

Next, no one should skin and clean rabbits when he has an open cut on his hands. Safest practice is to wear rubber gloves.
Third, rabbits should be thoroughly cooked, so no pink or rare portions remain, even next to the bones.

Dr. S. C. Whitlock, game division pathologist, warns hunters not to become careless because of the existence of the new remedy, streptomycin, which effectively steps the disease. The supply of this costly drug is strictly limited, and available only for serious cases.
Tularemia in humans is characterized by fever, chills, sweating, headaches and general prostration, beginning three or four days after infection. There have been few cases in Michigan in recent years, but in the last big outbreak, in 1941, about 75 cases were reported. Five to seven per cent of the cases are fatal.

Kudzu Saves Soil And Provides Feed

Increasing Use Seen On American Farms

Erosion gullies, once the bugaboo of farming, are succumbing rapidly to a versatile leguminous vine known as kudzu.

In addition to growing vigorously, with proper management, under many unfavorable soil and moisture conditions, kudzu has the advantage of permanency. The crowns, or root system, will remain over a long period of years without replanting, if the vines are not overgrazed.

Kudzu crowns or roots will produce luxuriant and nutritious forage for hogs and other livestock.

When harvested for hay it has a feeding value as high as that of alfalfa, and also provides a nutritious forage for livestock grazing. It is especially recommended for ravines or other sites that are too badly gullied to be used for cultivated crops. It is equally important on more level acreage where it can be cut for hay as well as acting to conserve the soil.

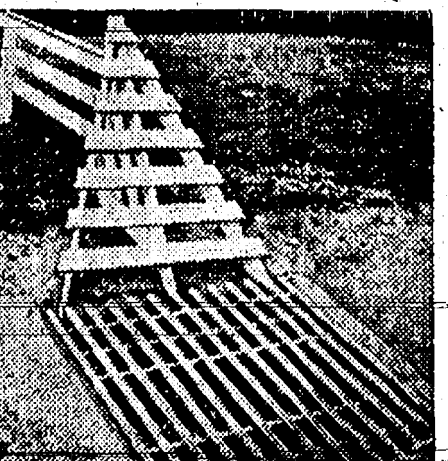

From Dadeville, Ala., comes the report of an increase of 25 bushels per acre for corn that followed the plowing under of kudzu, or 30 bushels in some cases. Most corn yields in that section averaged below 15 bushels.

'Gateless' Cattle Gate

Cattle will not cross this "gate" although it is always open. Photo Lincoln Electric Co.

To make this "gate," dig a hole approximately 8 feet wide, 6 feet across, reinforce all sides at top with 4 inch square concrete slabs, embedding ends of six 5-inch channels for cross supports.

Cut 13 lengths of 2 inch pipe and space 4 inches apart. Weld pipe each side to tops of channels using 3/16 inch rod for mild steel.

Controlling Blackleg

Disease in Potatoes

Crop rotation and seed treatment are the two most important control measures for blackleg in potatoes, according to R. A. Schroeder of the University of Missouri.

Blackleg is an old potato disease caused by a bacteria that thrives in cool damp weather. If dipped in a good seed disinfectant, there will be little infection when the seed is planted on clean land.

Save Bees From an

Insecticide Death

While the dusting and spraying of farm crops must be regulated upon approved practices for each individual crop, in general the use of DDT and other insecticides should be employed before blossoms appear. In general, by following this practice, it is possible to reduce the loss among bees to such a point that it is of no economic importance. Do not spray or use insecticides except upon a given method of procedure.

Milk Producers Assn. Extends Charter and Is Reincorporated

Approval of extending its charter for a thirty year period and re-incorporating under the Michigan laws regulating farm cooperatives, was unanimously voted by delegates attending the thirtieth annual meeting of the Michigan Milk Producers Association held in Fairchild Theater on the campus of Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Reporting on the past year's activities of the organization, Secretary Manager Howard F. Simmons told the delegates that a new record was established in dollar volume, sales by members amounting to nearly $47 million dollars, an increase of the previous high in 1945 of 12 per cent and more than double the volume of 1941, just prior to our entry into the war.

Consumption of fluid milk in Detroit during the war years increased more than 60 per cent and is continuing at the same high level, he said.

In addition to approving new articles of incorporation, and by-laws, the delegates adopted a resolution urging the Michigan legislature to approve Michigan State college as the research agency for studying agricultural marketing problems to receive Federal aid under the provisions of the new Hope-Planagan act. A resolution also calls upon Congress to revise the obsolete formula for determining parity prices on agricultural products.

Directors re-elected to serve on the Board for three year terms include: Ted Laursen of Marlette, William Bristow of Flat Rock, John Hilt of Ann Arbor and Howard Wilson of Lake Orion. President I. K. Maystead outlined a program of reconstruction and rehabilitation of association properties which will provide the Michigan Milk Producers second to none in the United States.

Dairy Cows Gain Many Nutrients From Legume Hay

Nutrients gained by the dairy cow from alfalfa and other roughages are lower priced than those secured from grains, according to A. C. Baltzer, extension dairy specialist at Michigan State college.

He urged dairy farmers to make full use of liberal quantities of early legume roughages or legume light grass mixed roughages. Although the drought in Michigan this year caused tame hay production to be shorter than in 1945, Baltzer believes the farmer should feed as liberally as possible to dairy herds.

Normally about 45 to 50 per cent of the feed consumed by a milk cow goes for body maintenance. The remainder goes for the production of milk. Baltzer says cows produce milk effectively only when they have an abundance of the proper feed.

The dairy specialist says Dairy Herd Improvement association records show that high-yielding cows will readily pay for and make good profit on expensive feed. This is especially true if the animal gets sufficient quantity to allow her to produce the highest possible yield.

Dead Elephants

Dead elephants are rarely found except when killed by other elephants. A tradition exists that they have secluded cemeteries where they go to die. African natives occasionally claim to have located such a cemetery, and bring tusks to market which they insist they have found. This is often a ruse to avoid legal restrictions on the killing of elephants.

A REPORT ON

PROGRESS IN CHELSEA

There are still a number of people waiting for telephones in this area. Before we can serve everybody, we'll need more outside wire and cable to connect new customers' premises with the central office. But shortages of lead and copper have seriously slowed their manufacture. Even after we receive the new wire and cable, there will be the painstaking job of interconnecting it with the present telephone plant... a job that must be done carefully without interrupting existing service.

We are continuing to stretch our present equipment to the limit to install telephones for as many waiting applicants as we can. If you are waiting for a telephone, you can be sure your order will be filled in its proper turn just as soon as possible.

Meanwhile, our facilities are serving more telephones and handling more calls than ever before, which means that service for everyone may not always be as good as we want it to be. We're sorry when that condition occurs, but you can be sure that we are doing our best to get additional equipment as soon as possible.

Farm Accident Toll
 The National Safety council reports that 16,000 people who lived on farms were killed on farm and home accidents in 1945. On the average 44 farm people died in accidents during each day in 1945. Deaths which occurred in agricultural work represent 28 per cent of the nation's occupational death toll, more than for any of the other seven major industrial groups. Agriculture, which has more workers than any other industry, had a death rate of 53 for each 100,000 workers. The all-industry rate is 31.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Why Bert Won First Prize

Folks weren't surprised when Bert Childers won first prize for his corn at the county fair.

Yet the judges admit it wasn't just because Bert had the finest ears of corn. He knew how to display them: neatly arranged, with husks cleanly trimmed, and the cobs white and spotless.

"Trimming" sure make a difference no matter what you're offering—as Andy Botkin, keeper of the Garden Tavern, well knows. Andy doesn't just sell good beer. He sells it in a place that's clean and attractive... in nice surroundings that belong with the enjoyment of a wholesome beverage of moderation.

And Andy, of course, is a wholehearted supporter of "Self Regulation." That's the system by which the Brewers and tavern keepers themselves make sure that taverns selling beer are clean and orderly.

From where I sit, people like Andy also rate a "First prize." Not just for the quality of the product—but for the "trimmings" too.

Conservation Dept.
Sets New Record In Planting of Trout

Lansing.—The conservation department's ambitious goal of planting a full million legal-size trout this year was still a bit out of range at the beginning of November, but the department has now planted only a few lakes yet to be planted this month and next. But the 923,771 stocked thus far set a new record for Michigan, being 53,343 more than the total plant of legal-size fish in 1945 and more than 300,000 above the number stocked in 1944.

This record production of legal-size trout was achieved in spite of continuously uncertain conditions in the meat-packing industry, chief source of hatchery fish food. For most of the year the hatcheries and raising stations operated on a week-to-week basis, with no assured fish food supply.

Goal for 1947 will again be 1,000,000 brook, brown and rainbow trout of the ready-to-plant size. Steadily increasing costs are now the chief threat to the program, and maintenance of present quantity production of legal-size trout is dependent upon increased license fees. Without additional income, services would have to be trimmed to fit higher costs. While the conservation department's fish division continues quantity production, all trout planted are to be fin-clipped to measure the worth of the plantings in the fishermen's creels. Stream improvement work is continuing at the same time.

A total of 3,297,453 brook, brown and rainbow trout have been planted this season, but 2,373,682 of them were smaller than legal size when stocked. Brook trout led the 1946 parade with a total of 455,746 legal and 1,182,984 smaller fish. Legal-size brown trout stocked totaled 236,621 and 238,363 rainbow trout seven inches long or longer were planted.

Upper peninsula trout lakes and trout streams received 230,649 legal and 708,600 smaller trout, while lower peninsula waters were stocked with 633,122 legal and 1,665,082 smaller trout.

Michigan Is Fourth
In Duck Hunting

Lansing.—Michigan holds fourth rank among duck hunting states of the country on the basis of duck stamp sales, according to a federal Fish and Wildlife service tabulation of sales for 1945, just released.

Michigan's sales of 100,382 duck stamps were topped only by stamp sales in California, Minnesota, Texas, which sold 124,000, 109,757, and 115,008 respectively. Wisconsin, Illinois and South Dakota follow Michigan, in that order.

The number of Michigan duck hunters has increased from 83,554 in 1943 and 90,182 in 1944, but the peak year of record still is 1941 when 103,798 stamps were sold in this state. In 1934, the year stamps were first required, Michigan post offices issued 25,848 of them.

While it may be another year before figures for the current season are available, many observers believe this year may set a new high record for the number of duck hunters in Michigan.

ADDRESSES KIWANIS

Guy Weatherwax, a leader in Alcoholics Anonymous, gave a very fine address at the Kiwanis club meeting Monday evening, in which he described the work the organization is doing, and the twelve steps leading to cure of the habit of drunkenness.

Walter MacPeck, Boy Scout representative of the Washtenaw county district, was a guest at the meeting, with a young Belgian engineering student from the U. of M. at Ann Arbor, who was a Scouting executive in Belgium and worked with the underground there.

Kiwanis members enjoyed chats with both of these guests.

Sugarless Pumpkin
Pie for Thanksgiving

You may not have any sugar but you can have pumpkin pie for your Thanksgiving dinner.

Mrs. Annanell Jubb, research instructor in foods and nutrition at Michigan State college, says that you can substitute honey for sugar with equally good results. Use 4 1/2 as much honey as you would use sugar and both the quality and flavor will be highly desirable.

Mrs. Jubb suggests that you use a honey pumpkin pie recipe which makes two pies nine inches in diameter. First combine 2 1/2 cups of mashed pumpkin, or squash, 1/2 cup of honey and 2 tablespoons of molasses.

Mix together these dry ingredients—2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves, and 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg. The spice measurements can be cut down as much as one-half if you like your pie less spicy.

Next add the dry mixture to the sweetened pumpkin. Then beat 2 eggs and add with 2 cups of milk to the mixture.

The pie filling may be cooked two different ways. You can pour it in the unbaked pastry shells and bake at 425 degrees for 20 minutes. Then reduce to 250 degrees and bake 40 minutes, or until the filling sets and does not cling to a silver knife.

Or you can cook the pumpkin filling in a double boiler until thickened. Stir frequently. Put it in pastry shells which have been baked. If you wish, you can then brown it in a hot oven for five minutes.

COMMUNITY CLUB MEETS

Mr. Park also showed pictures taken in color on his recent pheasant hunting trip in South Dakota which were exceptionally beautiful.

Guests at the meeting were Rev. and Mrs. E. O. Davis and his sister.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank Dault, Mrs. Ray Millman, Mrs. Roy Miller and Mrs. Clinton Collier.
