

BABSON'S BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL OUTLOOK FOR 1947

Interest In Changing From Village To City Increasing In State

Interest in incorporating new municipalities, and in changing from a village to a city, has reached a new high this winter in Michigan, according to a report released by the Michigan Municipal League. Here are some of the up-to-date developments:

Belleville, a village which changed to city government in the spring, has adopted its city charter and sworn in new city officers. Sylvan Lake also voted this change last spring and has drawn up a city charter to be submitted to the voters early next year.

Two villages have incorporated this year from previously unincorporated township areas. These are Roosevelt Park, whose charter was adopted in October, and East Ann Arbor, which will probably vote on its charter in late January or early February.

Two villages voted on city incorporation at the November election. Hart-overwhelmingly voted to become a city, but in St. Clair Shores the proposal was defeated. This is the third time that city incorporation has been defeated in this village.

At least 11 villages are actively interested in changing to city government. Citizen groups are advocating, or village councils are studying, city incorporation in Bangor, Chelsea, Grosse Pointe Shores, Houghton, Kingsford, Marlette, Michiana, Milan, Northville, Trenton and Wayne. As the result of a recent court decision, a village may become a fifth-class city if it has 750 population, and need not have 750 persons per square mile as was previously thought necessary.

Interest in city incorporation has also been expressed in several unincorporated areas. In the area known as Godwin, just south of Grand Rapids, petitions have already been filed and the board of supervisors is expected to set an election date for early next year. The Rosedale Gardens section of Livonia township, east of the city of Plymouth, in Wayne county, has also been petitioned for incorporation. Vandercook Lake, just south of Jackson, has expressed interest in city government.

Two British scientists, G. V. J. and R. O. Whyte, maintain that the loss of soil fertility due to water and wind soil erosion destroyed or sapped all the Mediterranean civilizations, ancient and modern, from Athens and Rome to Italy and Spain to say nothing of the once fertile lands of the Nile. Africa, General Smuts of South Africa has stated, "Erosion is the biggest problem confronting the country, bigger than any politics."

Plato gives an amazingly accurate technical account of desertification and erosion in the mountains of Attica which destroyed the farms of the plains and drove the Greeks to become seafarers and traders.

It's not new—this thing called soil erosion.

The federal soil conservation service recently made a national soil survey.

Findings were sensational. More than 100 million acres of our best crop land has been irretrievably ruined for further cultivation by soil erosion caused by rain and wind. Of the total crop land now in use—a bit more than 400 million acres—about 150 million acres has been so severely damaged by erosion to make farming difficult or unprofitable.

Hard to believe is the experts' moving more than three billion tons of rich topsoil every year down into our rivers and reservoirs and out to sea. Carried out to a logical end, this loss of natural resource means the difference between food and famine.

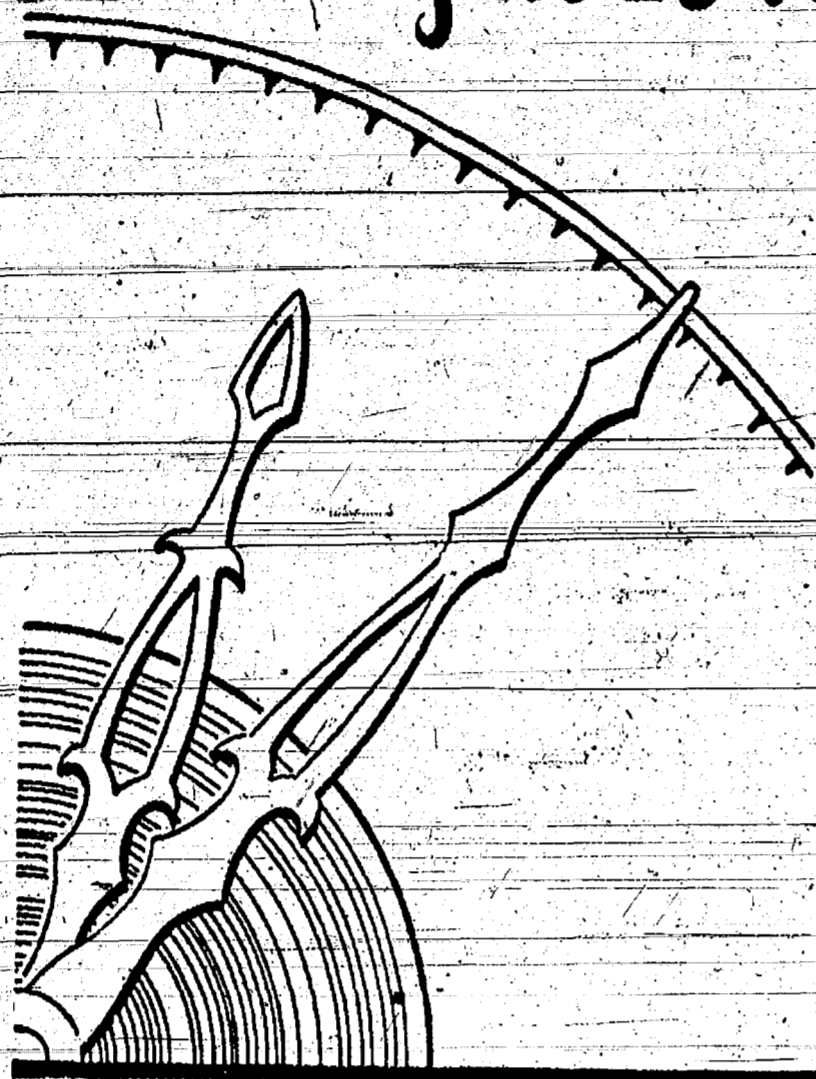

The soil conservation district is a democratically formed cooperative campaign, voluntarily chosen by farmers and directed by farmers, to restore fertility to the soil that is left to check the corroding damage of water and wind soil erosion and to get the best use of the land.

Here are some illustrations of benefits to Michigan farmers. Idle marshes in Livingston county have been converted into lush pastures by seeding reed canary grass.

Tussock county run-off plots have demonstrated that contour crop rows, instead of rows that go up and down the slopes of land, have produced 25 more yield of land, have more moisture is retained in the soil, nature's own topsoil is not washed away.

looking at 1947

There is a saying, or perhaps it is a song, which goes something like this: "We've come a long ways together."

That's the way we like to think about this community. Certainly the farmers, bankers, professional men, merchants, and this newspaper—with its subscribers and advertisers have come a long ways together. And we're going on—together—to a greater year in 1947 than we've ever known before.

It may be a good thing, as some maintain, to stop and take stock at the end of a year, to review, to analyze, and to resolve greater accomplishments in the New Year. But it's never good to look back too long or too hard. Rather it is well to remember only the best, forget the worst, and look confidently ahead.

We renew our pledge to you of service and cooperation. We reaffirm our faith and confidence in the community. We continue our warmth of feeling for all our friends and patrons.

And we wish each one of you, and all of you,

A HAPPY NEW YEAR

C.H.S. Students To Hold New Year's Eve Dancing Party

By C.H.S. Reporter

The Student Council of Chelsea High is sponsoring a New Year's Eve party for the students. The Alumni are cordially invited to attend this dance as guests of the student body. The party will begin at 8 o'clock and continue until 11:30 p.m.

Card tables with games will be set up for those who do not dance. Refreshments will be served at 10 o'clock.

Nothing but the best records will be played for dancing and listening pleasure. Floor lamps will be used to light up the room instead of incandescent lights or overhead lights.

All persons attending this party are to be completely sober and mentally balanced. Anyone with the smell of liquor on his breath will be asked to leave.

Through the cooperation of Mr. Wolverson, the Student Council will sell tickets for the Midnight Show at the door only for those attending the dance. The purpose of selling these advance tickets is to eliminate shoving around in front of the theater and so that all those attending the dance can get into the show without standing in line for an hour or so.

Alumni Basketball Game

Friday night, January 3, at 7:15 the Junior basketball team will clash with the high school second team. At 8:15 the Alumni will clash with the Varsity team.

All of the games between the Alumni and high school in the past three years have been exciting to the end and it is hoped that many of the townspeople will turn out for this game.

Mrs. O'Neill, the former Eileen Adams, left for Ft. Hamilton, N. Y., on December 16, and left there by airplane Monday evening, December 23 to join her husband, an Army doctor, who expects to be stationed there for another year.

Wm. S. Davidsons Celebrate Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary

By C.H.S. Reporter

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Davidson celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary Sunday with an open house from four to six o'clock in the afternoon at their home on East Middle street, arranged for their pleasure by several of their neighbors. Mrs. Paul Maroney, Mrs. Wm. H. Skeltonbury and Mrs. Clarence Bahmiller presided at the tea table.

About forty friends, relatives and neighbors called during the afternoon to offer congratulations, and the couple also received a number of lovely gifts and many cards and messages.

The Davidsons' son, Roy, with Mrs. Davidson of Grass Lake, and Miss Bertha Spaulding and her brother, Warren, were present for the family dinner at noon, but because of the bad driving conditions over the week-end, their daughter, Mrs. Walter H. Plameier, of State College, Pa. and her family, did not make the trip here to attend the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson have lived in or near Chelsea their entire married life. Mr. Davidson's father having been one of Washtenaw county's earliest pioneers, coming here from Vermont early in the 1800's.

Besides the son and daughter, the Davidsons have four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

John Allen Serving In "Operation Highjump"

Fleet Home Town News Center—John Allen, 38, chief motor machinist, USN; husband of Mrs. John Allen of 112 East Middle St., Chelsea, Michigan, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Brownson, one of the 18 ships which comprises Task Force 68, the Navy's expedition to the Antarctic.

This expedition, called "Operation Highjump," will explore the icy regions of the Antarctic for approximately four months, crossing the "Ring of Fire" in the process, and developing Navy technique for establishing and maintaining bases in frigid areas.

The Brownson left Norfolk, Va., December 2, with three other ships of Task Force 68 and made port at Balboa on the Pacific end of the Panama Canal, December 7. The crew enjoyed two days liberty ashore before heading South again. When the Brownson crossed the equator the customary Navy ceremony took place in which "Shellbacks" or veterans of equator crossings intimated "Polynesian" to the "Royal Order of the Deep."

Christmas has not been overlooked for the crew of every ship will participate in divine services and enjoy the traditional turkey dinner on that day.

C.H.S. Seniors Will Present Play At Gym On Friday, Jan. 10

By C.H.S. Reporter

Mark Twain's Connecticut Yankee is a tale which will never grow old. On Friday evening, January 10 at 8:15 p.m., the members of the Senior class of Chelsea high school will present a new full-length dramatization of this immortal story. As you may remember, the story deals with the adventures of a Yankee from Connecticut who finds himself thrown back into the middle ages. He can't believe it at first, thinking that he is in an insane asylum. But he is soon convinced that he is actually faced with a death sentence handed down from King Arthur, and his ingenuity comes immediately to the fore.

By predicting an eclipse of the sun, he saves his own skin, and immediately becomes the idol of the kingdom. His power becomes so great that Merlin, the court magician, plots against him with several others. However, the Yankee builds up a complete twentieth century industry in short order, and keeps the knights of the court completely baffled by his magic.

What happens when he is hired away from the kingdom to investigate other domains will keep you in laughter and suspense from start to finish.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Senior class, and you may be sure to get more than your money's worth.

Two MSC Extension Service Shows Open Tour of Michigan

Two Michigan State college extension service expositions aimed to help rural people with their farm and home planning, start their showings this week-end.

In the lower peninsula, the Michigan State College Rural Progress Caravan opens its three-month tour on Friday, January 3, in an Ingham county premier at Mason.

In the upper peninsula, the Farm and Home show, designed to be of special interest to farmers in the northern Michigan area, will have its first showing in Delta county on Saturday, January 4. It is under the supervision of J. G. Wells, Jr., assistant county agent leader in charge of the upper peninsula, and a committee of county agricultural agents and extension specialists.

The 1947 Caravan is made up of panel displays of the exposition type. Many extension specialists will accompany the show from town to town and confer with visitors during the showing.

Nearly 40 linear feet of panel displays and a number of working models are included in the caravan property which will be moved about by truck.

The extension service 1947 Caravan will show in Saline on January 27. Exhibits will be open from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Higher Level Of Business Predicted, With Spotlight On Labor - Management

By Roger W. Babson

One great event of 1947 will be a beginning of a movement of population from the big coastal cities to the small interior cities, unless definite steps are taken for world disarmament.

General Business

A year ago the U. S. Babsonchart registered 130. Today it is estimated at 160. The Canadian Babsonchart registered 130 a year ago. Today it is estimated at 204. Some time during 1947 these charts will register higher figures.

Reconversion of industry from war to peace has been completed although the great government surpluses have not yet been disposed of leaving much more to be sold in 1947.

Inventories, quoted both at their price values and their volumes, will increase during 1947. Both raw material piles and manufactured goods will be in greater supply in 1947.

Commodity Prices

Some rationing and priorities may continue into 1947, but both will rapidly be eliminated. Government regulations will gradually be removed. World War II will officially be ended.

The retail prices of most manufactured products will be higher sometime during 1947 than at present. The prices of some of the food products may decline.

The unit sales of some department stores will begin to decline sometime during 1947; but the sales of food and variety chains may continue at peak figures.

The great question mark of 1947 will be how labor is to behave. Higher wage rates and less production per man inevitably mean higher prices.

Farm Outlook

Pending a weather upset, more bushels of corn and wheat and of some other products will be raised in 1947 than in 1946. The total farm income for 1947 should hold up fairly well. But farmers should diversify more in 1947.

There should be an increase in certain farm products and vegetables with a decline in prices. The United States will have more to eat in 1947 than in 1946, probably 10 per cent over the prewar level.

Dairy and poultry products will continue to increase in volume with no increase in price, but fat, sugar and some canned goods will continue short.

Farmers will start in 1947 to work to extend legislation on their parity program due to fear of a collapse in farm prices.

Taxes

Taxes will not be increased during 1947; and there should be further reductions. More nuisance taxes may be eliminated altogether.

The Federal Debt will be decreased during 1947 and the Federal Budget may be balanced by June 30, 1948.

The cost of living will continue to rise during 1947 due largely to the lack of interest in their work by so many wage-workers.

Providing jobs for returning soldiers at satisfactory wages will be a big political task of 1947. There should be jobs for all, but not at the wage desired.

Retail Sales

The total volume of all retail sales will be about the same as in 1946. Poor quality goods will suffer, but many items now unavailable will be purchased.

The total dollar value of all retail sales should exceed 1946 with an increased demand for woolen and cotton textiles.

There will be a continued demand for men's clothing and especially for shirts and underwear.

Wise shoppers will buy only what they need and not grab to stock-up on goods not absolutely required.

Foreign Trade

The United States will own over 50 per cent of the world's shipping in 1947 and foreign trade will increase.

We will continue our policy of making foreign loans, provided that borrowers will agree to spend a fair proportion of the money in America.

Both the British Empire and Russia will keenly compete for foreign trade during 1947; but cartels and Government monopolies will be frowned upon.

Throughout 1947 war talk will continue, the thought being that, sooner or later, England, who truly is in a terrible predicament—will "shoot" to stop further Russian aggression.

Labor

Even President Truman's "eighteen-and-one-half cents" will be forgotten during 1947. The year will be noted for threatened strikes and labor disturbances.

Industrial employment during 1947 could be up both in hours and in payroll, labor leaders' discouraging attitude notwithstanding.

Many industries, now operating on a forty-hour week, will return to a longer week during 1947. There will be no wage reductions and some further advances.

The Government will try to demand better management and closer labor-management relations. Such prospects are not bright for 1947; but Congress will repeal or amend some of the present labor laws which are very unfair to management.

Inflation

The Inflation Era, which we have been forecasting for several years, will be in full swing; but the reckless printing of currency will not come until after 1950. The purchasing power of the dollar will continue to decline.

An 1947 wage increases will be distinctly inflationary.

Sometime during 1947 production in many lines will have caught up with consumption, people will have spent their savings and then there will be a surplus of goods.

If Stalin's health continues good, he will be the world's most powerful man in 1947, even from an economic standpoint.

Stock Market

The rails may suffer still further declines sometime during 1947. Certain industrial manufacturing and other war stocks will further decline during 1947; but the Dow Jones Industrial Averages will register higher prices sometime during 1947 than the December 1946 averages.

All depends upon how labor behaves in America and upon what the United Nations do as to disarmament.

The safest stocks to buy—considering value, income and safety—will continue to be "chain-store" and "recreation" stocks.

1946 saw a large decline in certain stocks compared with the averages. Switching will be the outstanding market feature during 1947. Especially watch for bargains in airline stocks.

The stock market will continue to witness creeping general inflation and no evidence yet exists as to whether the "communist break" in 1946 was the beginning of a real bear market or only a reaction of a bull market.

Bonds

Although bank loaning rates should continue a slowly upward tendency, interest rates in general will remain low through 1947. The money supply is now 25 per cent above normal and Government financing demands continued low rates.

Anticipating an expected reduction in Federal taxes, 1947 should see a further falling off in the prices of most municipal and other tax-exempt bonds.

Some high-grade corporation bonds may hold steady, but sooner or later will decline considerably. The Federal Government's 2 1/2's, which once sold above 106, will sell down to par or new 106, will be offered at par. Investors will give more attention to diversification and staggered maturities during 1947.

More public utilities will be taken over by Federal and other "authorities" during 1947. Wise investors will consider this possibility when selecting public utility securities.

Real Estate

Suburban real estate will continue in greater demand with still higher prices during 1947.

City real estate may hold its own due to less available space caused by pulling down structures to save taxes and provide parking spaces, also to disinclination to build due to the present high inflationary building costs. The fear of bomb-

New Plant Hormone Retards Sprouting Of Stored Potatoes

Plant hormone chemicals, sprayed on potatoes put in storage, will retard sprouting and prevent losses in market value.

Dr. S. H. Wittwer, new addition to the horticulture faculty at Michigan State college, says experimental studies conducted over several years show other root crops will also be benefited.

The former University of Missouri scientist reports only one gram per bushel of the hormone (methyl ester of alpha-naphthaleneacetic acid—if you must know) is necessary.

Since such a small amount is required, it is usually mixed with some other material before being applied. Shredded or confetti paper may be impregnated with a solution and then distributed over the potatoes; carrots, beets or other root crops in storage. The chemical, in liquid form, may be applied in a very fine spray with a paint gun or other atomizer. A dust has also been developed.

Potato tubers used for seed must not be treated.

Several commercial companies have developed shredded paper, dust, and liquid preparations of the sprout retarding chemical. The Dow Chemical company, Midland, is one of the pioneers in producing the hormone.

Dr. Wittwer says the cost of treatments will approximate from one to two cents per bushel for large lots and about five cents per bushel for small lots of only a few bushels of potatoes.

The horticulturist points out the chemical does not prevent sprouting in onions.

Counties Will Be Urged To Appoint Airport Commissions

Each of Michigan's 83 counties will be urged to appoint a county airport board or commission by the State Department of Aeronautics, which met with Governor-elect Kim Sigler at the Hotel Olds in Lansing, Thursday.

According to Colonel Floyd R. Evans, Director of the State Department of Aeronautics, these county commissions will be empowered to negotiate between various groups interested in establishing airports in each county and the State Department of Aeronautics. The establishment of such commissions would enable the Department of Aeronautics to deal with one group only in each county on airport problems, thus delegating authority to the proper political subdivision of the State. These aeronautics commissions will handle all aeronautics problems in the counties the same as County Road Commissions now handle all highway problems. Governor-elect Sigler urged the appointment of technically qualified men to the Detroit Metropolitan Aviation Authority which has its organizational meeting Friday in the Detroit Edison Building with William B. Stout, chairman of the State Aeronautics Commission, presiding.

Colonel Evans reported that 182 towns have been earmarked and paid furnished 80 more this year, and under the present plans 80 additional towns will be marked next summer. It was brought out that 200 flight schools operating under the Federal G. I. Bill of Rights have more than 8,000 students in Michigan taking flying lessons. Mention was made of aircraft registrations which number 1740 since last August 17, 1946, were registered during the month of November.

New Year's Eve was over, and he hadn't kept the rendezvous! Then the telephone rang and Laurette leaped to answer. "San Francisco calling Miss Windsor," said the operator. Then a long silence, while Laurette held her breath. Hadn't Bill thought he'd seen Harry in San Francisco? Finally the operator came back: "I'm sorry, Miss Windsor, but our lines have apparently gone out somewhere. I'll have to call you back." These Laurette had an idea. "Operator," she asked, "was that call addressed just to Miss Windsor? Wasn't there a first name?" "Yes, I guess so," came the reply. "Was he it—Miss Laurie, La-La-Laurie Windsor. That's you, isn't it?"

"I'll try it!" Laurette shouted gleefully. "But only one person in the world ever called me that!"

Keep Xmas Plants Healthy All Winter

Whether you received a poinsettia or another kind of plant for Christmas, you probably are wondering right now how to keep it looking fresh and healthy.

C. E. Wildon, research professor of horticulture at Michigan State college, says that plant care is a simple matter of watering and fertilization.

If the question of when to water the plant bothers you, tap the side of the pot. If the sound is dull, the plant does not need water. A hollow sound means the plant needs a thorough watering. All plants are better if watered with rain water.

Poinsettias suffer from wide changes of temperature and from dry air. Most plants should have air with a relative humidity of 40 to 70 per cent. You may need additional pans of water if the one in your heating system is not sufficient. Poinsettias are also sensitive to gas fumes.

Cyclamens like fresh air and cool temperatures. When in flower they need plenty of moisture. You may need to water it twice a day—ordinary well water will do. As a precaution against mites, push a mothball into the surface soil around the plant.

Asaleas do best in cool temperatures—about 20 degrees lower than room temperature. Never water them with hard or artificially softened water. Every two or three months use water treated with a pinch of alum or tannic acid to the quart. In May you can set it in a cool, shady border out-of-doors.

Christmas begonias require frequent watering until the flowers drop. Then allow them to dry off gradually for two or three months. In May they can be repotted in a soil containing about one-third leaf mold or acid peat and kept in the house.

Large, pot-bound or actively growing plants may need extra fertilizer as often as every two weeks. Use a good brand of concentrated plant food—but not too much. A teaspoon of a fertilizer formula 4-12-4 or 4-8-4 is enough for a plant in a six-inch pot.

 About one person in every 1,000 have eyes that don't match in color. Some famous movie actresses have "unmatched" eyes.

Eaton, The New Oat Variety, Ready For General Planting

Eaton, the new oat variety developed by plant breeders at Michigan State college, will be available for general planting next spring.

E. B. Down, farm crops research specialist at MSC, says this new variety has proved outstanding because of its stiff straw and high yield. Over-state tests in southern and central Michigan showed its yield slightly higher than the new Clinton variety.

Since it is resistant to all forms of rust, has white grain and a test weight equal to any other Michigan variety except Huron, Eaton may prove highly satisfactory. Down said, however, it does not seem to be as well adapted to the upper peninsula as it does to lower Michigan.

Eaton oats grow about four inches shorter than Huron and 4 to 6 inches taller than Vicland.

In the first field tests, George Moore of Elsie produced 1,155 bushels of cleaned seed from 12 acres in 1945. In 1946 field tests, the lowest yield was 40 bushels per acre and the highest 109 bushels per acre. The differences were largely due to weather conditions, Down believes.

The Michigan Crop Improvement association is preparing a list of growers of this new seed. After January 1, county agricultural agents will have information as to where seed may be purchased. Farmers interested may also write the Michigan Crop Improvement association, Farm Crops department, Michigan State college, East Lansing, Mich.

Conservation Camp To Be Held At Allegan

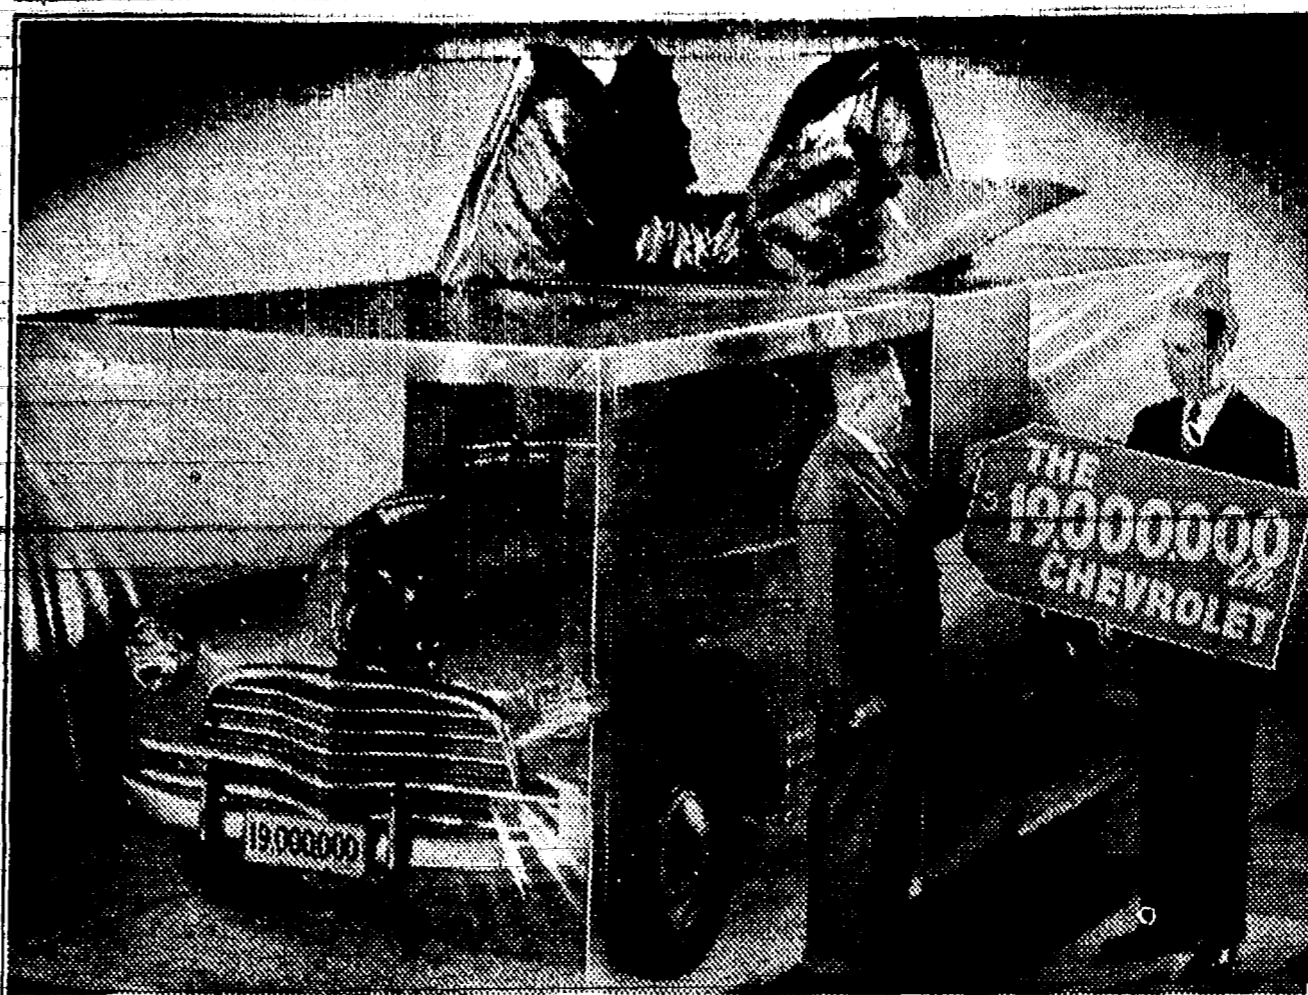

Grand Rapids—On its own in 1947 after two experimental years at the conservation department's Higgins Lake training school, the Michigan Conservation Camp is planning to accommodate 600 youngsters aged 14 to 17 in Allegan state forest group camp next summer.

Michigan Conservation Camp is sponsored by Michigan United Conservation Clubs, with each sportsmen's club selecting and paying the nominal expenses of youth from its own community. Selections often are made from among leaders in junior conservation organizations.

An innovation this year will be a one-week camp for 100 girls, following the five one-week camps for 100 boys each. The conservation department is continuing to operate by furnishing instructors in game and fisheries affairs, woodcraft, and rifle marksmanship. Location of the camp, seven miles from Allegan will make accessible for field trips forest fire stations, fish hatcheries, Swan Creek wildlife experiment station and the 40,000-acre Allegan state forest.

GOOD NEWS FOR VETS

Waiver of Pensions Not Binding

Veterans who signed statements at time of discharge that they were in "good health" and did not desire to file a disability claim did not "sign away their rights." They can file a claim for service-incurred wounds or disabilities any time after their discharge. This point is covered by Sec. 105 of the "G. I. Bill" which reads:

"No person in the armed forces shall be required to sign a statement of any nature relating to the origin, incurrence, or aggravation of any disease or injury he may have, and any such statement against his own interest signed at any time, shall be null and void and of no force and effect."

Veterans Totally Disabled After Discharge May Be Pensioned
 Veterans of either World War I or II who become permanently and totally disabled from disease or injury incurred after discharge from service may be entitled to a pension of $60 a month. The $60 pension automatically increases to $72 for those veterans who have been on the rolls for 10 years or for those who have reached the age of 65. This applies only to veterans whose disability is not service connected.

Total and permanent disability for Veterans Administration pension purposes is defined as inability to follow continuously any substantial gainful occupation, and the disability seems reasonably certain to last the rest of the veteran's life. This pension can be paid veterans so disabled whose income is less than $1,000 a year if single, or $2,500 a year if married or if a widower with minor children.

Detailed information on above subjects can be secured from the local veterans' counselor, the Red Cross, or the service officer of any veteran organization.
