

Michigan MIRROR

The State Senate buried Governor Sigler's financial program this week.

Voters will not be asked to repeal the controversial sales tax amendment at the spring election, as recommended by the governor. The house-adopted resolution to put the issue before the voters on April 6 was pulled out of the senate by a majority vote on Tuesday. The resolution was pulled out of the senate on Tuesday afternoon.

The outcome was a victory for the Michigan Education Association and its allies, mayors of leading Michigan cities.

The governor's solution, as submitted to the legislature Tuesday, Feb. 11, centered around a compromise split of present taxes as an alternative to new and higher taxes. He proposed to grant $50,000,000 to the public schools, an increase of $25,000,000 over the previous year's appropriation. The sum was within the $250,000,000 amount which the Michigan Education Association had declared, last September, to be needed for operation of public schools including salaries of 60,000 teachers and non-teaching employees, supplies, equipment and school maintenance.

In a statement which appeared in this column Dr. A. J. Phillips, executive secretary, said: "This amount ($81,250,000) would pay salaries comparable to the standard set up by the state civil service for teachers in state institutions of less than college level."

The governor had topped this with a recommended $10,000,000 special appropriation to adjust teacher salaries immediately. He offered to create a school-building fund out of state funds amounting to $10,000,000. He would relieve Detroit of $5,000,000 expense in running Wayne University, and he would continue the constitutional split of one-sixth of the sales tax for cities and villages.

In fact, the governor's compromise proved to be his ultimate undoing. Critical senators were quick to charge that it did not avert necessary for additional taxes. The legislative deficit under the governor's plan would be about one-half of the deficit forecast by the budget director several weeks ago.

Senator Bruce Clothier of Lapeer, a farmer, said the plan was "despicable" and voted against it. Attorney General Clegg denounced intention to "investigate" reports of legislative pressure didn't help matters, either. His move added fuel to the fire.

Having submitted his plan to the legislature, Governor Sigler sought to demonstrate that he was "lobbying" for his own program. He purposely shunned the appearance of applying pressure on the senate's just action he chose to choose to auction off the state livestock sale at Michigan State College.

To legislative observers the governor's role as an impartial administrator seemed to be a bit impractical. It wasn't being done in 1947 or in any other year, they said. Legislators were the jury and a good prosecutor had to "sell" his case through persuasion and logic. It was suggested that the governor's skill put the "bee" on objecting legislators and win them over.

By the first of the week the governor's office was swinging into action. However, senators had cooled off. They buried the Sigler program Tuesday afternoon, Wednesday, Feb. 10 was the ballot deadline.

What the legislature will do next was anybody's guess this week. The legislative problem was still in a tangle.

The one school district resolution of former Lieutenant Governor J. Brown has encountered a legal hurdle in the form of a supreme court decision by the state M.E.A. such a law would be declared unconstitutional on the grounds that the university, state college and four teachers colleges were separate constitutional bodies. It was obvious that the honey-moon period of the new governor Gurnea, one of his original supporters in Battle Creek, denounced the governor as having been "sold down the river" by persons who had appealed to his vanity.

The state agricultural commission raised hell too, because the governor had asked his grantees to the public and not first to the commission over use of the state fairground in Detroit. And so it was a bad week for Kim Sigler.

125 Attend World Day Of Prayer

About 125 women of Chelsea and vicinity attended the annual World Day of Prayer services which were held at the Methodist church Friday afternoon.

Those taking part as readers during the services were Mrs. Lawrence Steger and Mrs. Everett Steger, of the Methodist church; Mrs. H. J. Thomsen, Mrs. Theodore Jarvis and Mrs. Olie Johnson, of the Congregational church; and Mrs. J. N. Strieter, Mrs. Robert Niehaus and Mrs. Lawrence Dietle, of St. Paul's church.

With Mrs. Fred R. Hall at the organ, Mrs. A. A. Palmer sang the beautiful solo, "Oh, Eyes That Are Weary," by Brackett, and then the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Harriet Lewis Little, of Ann Arbor, presided. Mrs. Little proved to be an able and interesting speaker with a personality that is very pleasing. She held the attention and interest of her audience every minute during her talk on "Meditation in the Day." She urged all women to become aware of the need of global Christianity in a world so closely bound together, and stressed the importance of home training, citing several examples taken from her experiences and her husband have had in the course of their work with students in Lane Hall at the University of Michigan.

Following the close of the services, a social hour was enjoyed, during which tea was served in the dining room of the church. The Methodist church was asked Mrs. Wm. H. Skentelbury of the Congregational church, and Mrs. Otto Lucht, of St. Paul's church, to preside at the tea table. They were later relieved by Mrs. H. J. Thomsen and Mrs. Wm. H. Skentelbury. The committee in charge of arrangements for this year's observance of this annual event, included Mrs. Edwin Eaton, Mrs. Wilbur Breitenwischer, Mrs. Edwin Wilbur, Mrs. Wm. H. Skentelbury, and Mrs. Wm. H. Skentelbury. Those taking part in the program, and long to be remembered, bringing to mind these words in "The Call to Prayer": "The whole family of the whole Church, the whole world, remembering one another with love—interacially, internationally, interdenominationally!"

Shortage of Public Health Nurses In State, Says Report

There is a critical shortage of public health nurses in Michigan, according to figures released by the State Health Department.

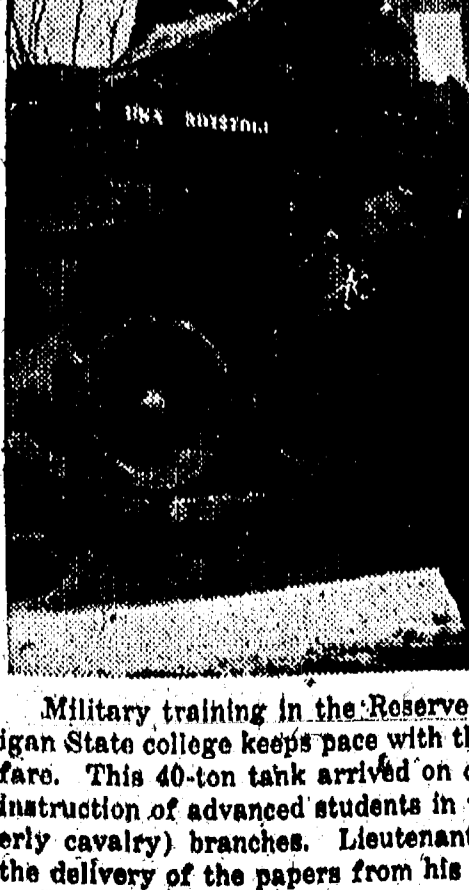

Michigan should have 275 additional public health nurses to meet the minimum recommended ratio of one nurse to 5,000 people. The present number of nurses represents a ratio of one to 6,700 in the state as a whole.

The shortage is most acute in cities where health departments, visiting nurse associations, boards of education and other agencies employing public health nurses are generally understaffed.

Latest count of public health nurses employed in Michigan is 816, but to provide minimum service, this number should be at least 1,090.

Central Circle Held Meeting At Dancer Home On Thursday

Central Circle of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Herman Dancer on Thursday evening, February 20.

During the devotional service with which the meeting was opened, Mrs. E. R. Major offered prayer, and Mrs. L. Foster read a poem, "The Folk's Lullaby." Miss Foster also read an article telling of the harm that murder stories on the radio do to the growing child.

Miss Nellie Hall reviewed the first chapters of Lucy Bryce's "India At The Threshold." In her resume she brought out that the author, who was born in India, was a missionary there now, and through her years of living there has a very comprehensive idea of what conditions really are. Miss Hall, in a very interesting way, gave a vivid description of India's natural wealth and resources as they were mentioned in the book, saying that the education through Christian missionary work in India is helping to overcome the backwardness that has been such a drawback to the progress of that vast country; the illiteracy that has kept the people from realizing the possibilities of a wonderful future for them as outlined in Mrs. Bryce's book showing India "at the threshold" of a much better way of life, mainly because of what Christians all over the world are doing to help send missionaries there.

Following the program, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Native of Trinidad Tells Of His Country At Kiwanis Meeting

Dr. Syne, of Trinidad, South America, who is now at the U. of M. Hospital, Ann Arbor, until July, when he returns to his native country, was the speaker at the regular Kiwanis meeting Monday evening.

"He gave a very interesting talk on conditions in Trinidad and the customs of the 500,000 people that make up the population. In describing the sports enjoyed there he explained that until recently only the games popular in England, such as cricket, etc., were common, but that there has been a noticeable trend toward North American sports being introduced of late—in particular, baseball.

He also spoke of some of the products of the country, naming sugar, apples and freestone watermelons as three very important commodities which the country produces in large quantities. As a reminder, announcement was again made of the Kiwanis-sponsored presentation of the Kansas City Rambler Jamboes Radio Show at the high school gymnasium Friday evening, February 28 (tomorrow). There are to be two shows, one at 7:30 and the other at 9:30. The present and former radio stars who take part in this show offer a varied program including hill-billy music and other features made popular on their programs over the radio.

Six Cases Of Scarlet Fever In Chelsea

To date six cases of scarlet fever have been reported to the County Health Department from Chelsea. Nurses from the Health Department have been in contact with the scarlet fever patients and the families involved. All possible steps have been taken to prevent the further spread of this disease. There will undoubtedly be more cases, however, before the outbreak subsides.

Scarlet fever is caused by a special kind of streptococcus germ. It is characterized by a sudden onset with a headache, fever, sore throat, back ache, upset stomach in children, and a day or so later a rash. With the modern sulfa drugs and penicillin drugs scarlet fever can be controlled, if medical attention is secured promptly. At the first sign of any illness of this sort the family doctor should be called.

Wide experience has shown that the following regulations of the Michigan Department of Health are as effective as can be in the control of this disease. These are the regulations now being enforced in Chelsea by the County Health Department:

Reporting and placarding: All cases and suspects shall be reported. A warning placard may be used at the discretion of the health officer.

Cases: Patients shall be isolated until recovery, but in no event shall isolation be terminated until 14 days from the onset of the disease.

Exposed persons: No restrictions.

Disinfection: Disinfection of all infectious discharges and of all articles that may have come in contact with such discharges or with the patient shall be carried on during the five period of isolation. The sickroom and its contents shall be thoroughly cleaned at the time of release from quarantine.

Automobile Club To Hold National Contest For Safety Posters

Cash prizes totaling $2,075 in the 1947 annual national contest for school traffic safety posters were announced at a meeting of the Michigan grade and high schools by Automobile Club of Michigan.

Ernest P. Davis, director of safety and traffic for the Michigan Club of American Automobiles Association, revealed that the contest, sponsored by the club, is a year-around scholarship, headed the list of 40 schools. This is an increase of $150 over last year.

National grand prize in 1946 was won by Gladys May, 17-year-old Cass Tech high school student in Detroit. A divisional first prize was won by Romain L. Johnston, Jr., 16, of Flint Central high school. Arlie Ottosen, 15, of Ann Arbor, won a second prize. Third prizes went to Beverly Taylor, of Cass Tech, and Alphonse Tuskavich, 17, of Cass Tech in Detroit. Jean L. Sampson, 17, of Cass Tech in Detroit, captured a fourth prize.

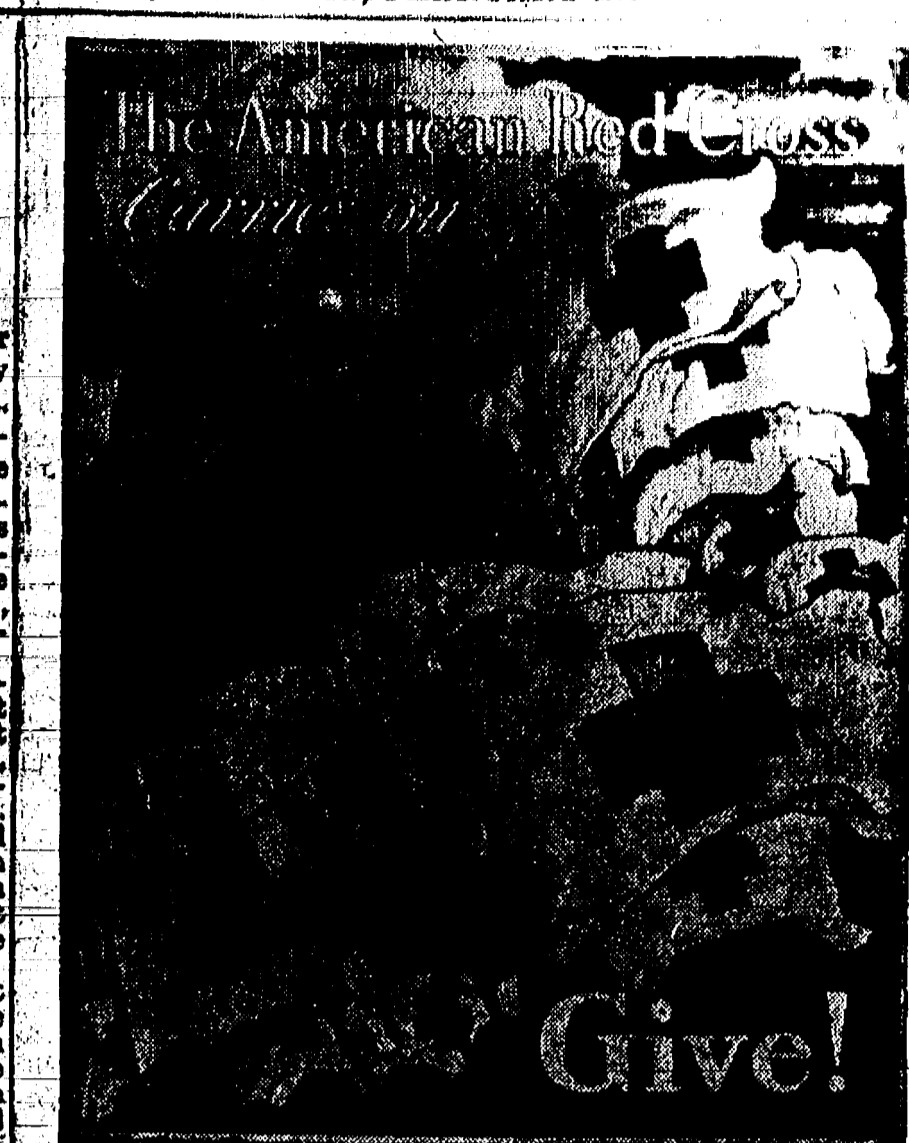

Object of the contest is to improve safety poster art and to encourage art in classrooms. One of the contest prize winning posters will be issued each month during the 1947-48 school year for use in elementary schools throughout the nation.

Subjects assigned to Michigan schools for the contest are: (1) "Obey Your Safety Patrol" and (2) "Be Extra Alert On Rainy Days." Deadline for completed designs has been set for April 15. They will be judged by a national board consisting of artists, educators and AAA traffic safety experts.

Complete rules and poster specifications of the contest are now available in all high schools.

Study Club Hears Optimistic Talk By U. of M. Professor

Nearly fifty members and guests of the Chelsea Study Club met Tuesday at the Methodist Home to hear Dr. Andrei Anatolevich Lobanov, of the University of Michigan, discuss "An Interpretation of Current Happenings in the Light of History."

A note of optimism surged strongly through his analyses. He sees immense improvement in 1947 over conditions in Europe after the Napoleonic Wars or after World War I; more treaties have been signed more quickly; fewer "small wars" (sometimes equal in intensity to the "main war") are being waged; victorious allies always have disagreed in postwar periods, but at present disagreement is less than usual; communistic expansion is evident only in areas normally under Russian influence anyway, and is declining where there is a strong in Asiatic areas. A strong capitalist class Russian inflexibility is encountered only in matters pertaining to this Russian "zone of influence" and Russian cooperativeness is encountered elsewhere. Russia is losing interest in Asia due to the Azerbaijan fiasco. Dr. Lobanov's keen sense of humor, tolerant viewpoint, and splendid grasp of subject matter made his talk well worth remembering.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. T. Moore, Mrs. P. G. Schaeble, Mrs. Philip Olin and Mrs. E. Major.

Tail Wags Dog - PTA Meeting Grows

This is the story of a tail wagged a dog; of an organization that started a program that now is "taking over."

Last fall, the High School PTA program committee planned to have a "Know Your School" program at its March meeting. Careful and elaborate studies have been made of the facts regarding school population and financial data of the area. Already costs are mounting higher and higher, the teacher shortage is steadily getting worse, school membership is growing; school housing situation is not improving; and repairs no longer satisfy the needs of the local school plants. Careful studies have been made showing relationship between local and surrounding districts.

All these and more will be presented at a "Know Your School" program to be presented Monday, March 3, in the gym at 8 o'clock sharp. All interested citizens are cordially invited, in fact, urged to attend.

The PTA business meeting will be held at 7:30, and the program, as announced, in the gym at 8:00 o'clock.

LAFAYETTE GRANGE

The program was concluded with a piano solo by Mrs. Anna Storms and was followed by a lovely pot-luck lunch.

Thirteen members were present at the meeting and the next meeting would be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bradbury, on Mr. 12.

School Electors To Discuss Reorganization Plan At Special Meeting Monday

A special meeting of the school electors of the Chelsea public school district will be held in the gymnasium next Monday, March 3, at 8:00 o'clock to discuss the question of school district organization and to determine whether or not the electors of this district are interested in a further study of this question.

For some time the Board of Education and representatives of various organizations in the community have been studying this matter, and the consensus of opinion of these people is that a public meeting of the electors should be held to explain and discuss the matter before it is presented to rural districts for study. The enrollment of both resident and non-resident pupils in the Chelsea public schools has gone up rapidly during the past five years. The total enrollment has increased from 551 during this time, and the non-resident enrollment of both grade and high school has increased from 95 to 149. The high school non-resident enrollment has increased from 84 to 114, which is nearly 50 per cent of the high school enrollment. At the present time there are seven rural districts closed near Chelsea with the result that many grade pupils are being sent to the Chelsea school.

If this trend in enrollment continues, some plan will be necessary to provide facilities for the increased number of pupils, and the question of whether or not the Chelsea district should shoulder the full responsibility for these plans must be determined. It must be determined in both the Chelsea district and in the surrounding rural districts. Before submitting the problem to the rural districts, this meeting will give local citizens an opportunity to learn about the problem and plan to it. Parents and citizens who are interested in the school and the future of the school should turn out for this meeting.

Services Offered By American Red Cross Outlined By Chapter

(Editor's Note: This is an article describing the services offered by the local chapter of the American Red Cross. To carry on this work, and other types of assistance to the community, the Red Cross opens its annual campaign for funds March 1.)

The old shopping basket doesn't fill up much these days on a five or ten dollar bill. And that nice little bungalow is still a dream because its price tag has doubled. But there's one real bargain waiting to be picked up by the veterans—one cheap investment offering true value.

This four-star find is National Service Life Insurance. However, the Veterans Administration reveals that 80 per cent of World War II veterans have overlooked this budget bright-spot through lack of information.

Standing by to help remedy the situation are Home Service workers of the American Red Cross. At the local chapter office, 211 Nickels Arcade, Ann Arbor, the Red Cross people are ready to aid all veterans with information on the details and provisions of their government insurance.

Red Cross has a stock of necessary application forms, such as application for reinstatement, conversion, and change of beneficiary and is prepared to be of assistance on individual cases.

This month an educational campaign is being sponsored by the Veterans Administration to encourage servicemen and veterans to:

1. Continue their National Service Life Insurance.

2. Reinstatement their policies if they have lapsed.

3. Purchase additional insurance if the limit of $10,000 has not been obtained.

4. Convert term insurance into one of the permanent forms as a future investment.

National Service Life Insurance is a real bargain because it provides the maximum amount of protection at the least cost (considerably cheaper than commercial insurance); in some cases it can be purchased by a disabled veteran who may not be able to obtain commercial policies; and it was issued when the man first entered service, giving him a low premium based on his age at that time.

As an investment, the National Service Life Insurance is also a good buy because all premiums have cash, loan, extended and paid-up insurance values at the end of the first year, and these values increase each year.

Upon payment of a small extra premium and proof of good health, total disability income benefits may be written on any N.S.L.I. policy. However, the good health requirement will be waived for service-connected disabilities less than total if application is made before Jan. 1, 1950.

Waiver of premiums is automatically written into each policy at no extra charge to the insured. This keeps the policy in force without payment of premiums if the insured becomes totally disabled for six consecutive months or more.

Term insurance doesn't have to be converted to a permanent policy immediately after discharge. It gives the veteran the advantage of the low term insurance until he can get a job and decide how much and what type of insurance he needs and can afford.

MSC Establishes Survey Service On Public Opinion

Expanding its services to the people of the state, Michigan State College announces the establishment of a new agency to be known as the Social Research Service. Dr. Charles P. Loomis, head of the department of sociology and anthropology, states that its function will be to survey public opinion and study human relations.

The college thus will offer its facilities to a wide variety of both public and private agencies, including business and industrial firms, for the purposes of surveying public opinion, analyzing consumer preferences, determining locality groupings, trade center boundaries and leadership patterns.

Several studies have been undertaken in various rural areas of the state that will be beneficial in the development of extension programs, health programs and in solving problems concerning community needs.

The research service is supported financially by the college, Agricultural Experiment station and Extension Service. Other private and public agencies may secure its services on fee basis. Activities of the Social Research Service will supplement the studies currently financed and carried out under the section of sociology and anthropology of the Agricultural Experiment station.

Long Range Forecast For Rocket Missiles

Ordnance scientists are probing the possibilities of using special warheads on anti-aircraft weapons which will neutralize the threat of high altitude bomber formations, according to Maj. Gen. Everett S. Hughes, chief of the army ordnance department.

It is anticipated that some of the bombers of the future will fly at altitudes far above effective anti-aircraft gun ranges. It is difficult now for our pursuit craft to attack enemy bombers flying in formation because of the protection furnished by enemy bombers to each other, according to army airmen. In order to solve this problem, the scientists at the ordnance department's ballistic research laboratories at Aberdeen are planning the development of a guided missile which would carry a charge intended to be exploded in the midst of an enemy bomber formation where it would be highly destructive.

Ordnance scientists think that if enemy bombers are prevented by the threat of such a weapon from flying in formation, they will become vulnerable to the attack of individual fighter aircraft. The ordnance department, according to General Hughes, is now testing rockets with potential ranges of 200 miles at White Sands proving ground, New Mexico, but, he reports, the rockets of the future are expected to be capable of traveling thousands of miles. A joint army-navy commission, of which the ordnance department is a member, is searching the U. S., Caribbean and Pacific areas for a "range" where it will be possible to test contemplated rockets over a distance of 2,000 miles.

Long-range planning by ordnance scientists, however, forecasts the ultimate range of guided missiles to 20,000 miles—weapons capable of circling the globe.

Cover Shortage

The man who tugs at the covers in his sleep and complains about exposed feet may be suffering from too short sheets and blankets rather than nightmares. Short covers not only are uncomfortable but also usually wear out sooner than those of the right size, according to Martha Ulrich, clothing specialist of the Agricultural Extension service. University of Wyoming. Sheets should be at least a yard longer and wider than the mattress to tuck in well. To enlarge a sheet, sew on a strip of old sheeting or new, preshrunk muslin with a flat-fell seam. Lengthen blankets with outing cloth, good parts of worn blankets or sheeting.

Note Towel Loops

A good bath towel is one that absorbs moisture quickly, and doesn't hang on the rack soggy and heavy for hours. That's the bather's viewpoint—and a very sound one. But there also are other factors to be considered when you shop for towels. Absorbency depends on the amount of pile or looped surface a towel has. The more pile yarns to the inch the greater the drying power. Long loops make for a soft fluffy towel, but for good wear too long loops are not advisable. Loops about one-eighth of an inch long are considered a desirable length.

Sales of Duck Stamps

Steady growth in the already high interest in the sport of migratory waterfowl hunting is reflected in the announcement by Ira N. Gabrielson, director, U. S. Fish and Wildlife service, that 1,540,468 duck stamps were sold during the period from July 1 to December 31, 1946.

This sets a new record and represents an increase of 207,003 over the corresponding period in 1944. Complete reports have not yet been compiled, but Gabrielson predicts final returns will show an additional increase of considerable proportions.

OFFICE NEWS

The F.F.A. boys, the girls, and regular team will play at Saline tomorrow. The district tournaments will be held at Michigan Center on March 6, 7, 8.

Report cards will be given out March 5.

The High School PTA will meet Monday night in the Home Room.

A dance will be held in the gym tomorrow night with music and entertainment by the Kansas City Ramblers.

The Chelsea boys' basketball team were defeated by Flat Rock Varsity 42 to 28, and by Flat Rock second team 38 to 27. The same team defeated representatives from Roosevelt by the following scores: Varsity 48 to 27, and second team, 50 to 25.

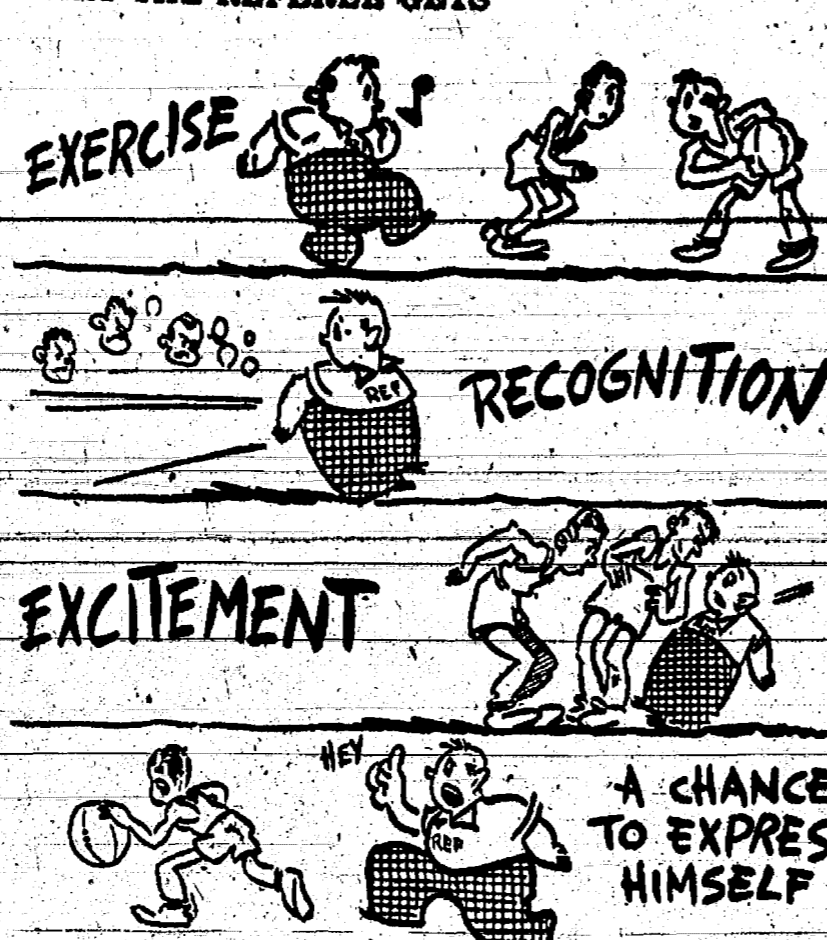

PRIDE IN OUR SCHOOL

If some people had a little more pride in this school building, there would not be so much sneaking of lipstick, writing on walls, so much paper in study hall, writing on desks, putting gum everywhere, and many other things which do not add to the appearance of our school.

One teacher has gone to the extreme of suggesting the use of a vigilante committee. If our building continues to be messy, this would mean a secret service committee reporting on each other's wrong actions. We do not want anything more than you do, but the building is getting into such a terrible state that we have to do something.

Maybe if a few more people would be a little more careful about the things we have mentioned the school could be improved a great deal. The students complain that

WHAT THE REFEREE GETS

EXERCISE

EXCITEMENT

A CHANCE TO EXPRESS HIMSELF

the locker rooms are not big enough, there are not enough mirrors around the building, and also many other faults. Why should the school pay to get new things for a bunch of rough-necked who do nothing but ruin the new appliances that are put there for their benefit?

People should have a little concern for their reputation. If writing is seen on the walls around the building, please erase it. If every one will do his or her own part it would help a great deal.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF—

Oscar Hansen didn't give Joyce Hughes those sweet smiles every single day!

The Hi-Y boys didn't always try to squeeze money out of high school students such as the ink-selling project.

Miss Fox didn't talk (or should I say yell) so much during that fourth hour study hall?

Helen Jarvie suddenly grew to six foot six?

Bob Skoler forgot to put up his curly locks some evening?

The cheerleaders got together on their cheers?

If Jack W. couldn't sit by Marcelline in speech class?

If Mary K. Palmer didn't make eyes at Ted M. in World History?

The boys were really polite for one day?

Mrs. Claire quit her job?

CAPITALISM AT ITS WORST! Have you ever run out of ink and seeing a bottle on the study hall desk, gone up to it, your pen, only to find the charge was a penny? This, friends, is the work of the Hi-Y, a club supposedly out for the good will of us unsuspecting students. Now really, a penny isn't much, but haven't we all been told not to bring money to school? Besides, the girls don't usually have pockets to carry pennies in, do they?

This ink costs the Hi-Y fifteen cents a bottle. By the time one-third of it had been bought they had already collected over twenty cents, which would be a minimum of sixty cents collected on a bottle and 300 per cent profit.

Isn't the Hi-Y supposed to be a community service organization? Let's say that sixty people a day get one fill of ink which would bring in sixty cents per day to the Hi-Y. At the end of a week, it would bring in three dollars, at the end of a month fifteen dollars, and by the end of a school year one hundred and forty-two dollars and fifty cents! This is a very neat little profit if there ever was one.

Students, we must band together to stop this form of capitalism, or before we know it, they'll be selling pencils, paper clips, notebook paper, or even charging for using the pencil sharpener!

Is the Hi-Y so poor they can't furnish the school with the meekly little bottle of ink or at least have other organizations to help them?

Students, if this profiteering must go on, since they are making such a sale on their royal blue, couldn't they at least offer several varieties, such as black, blue, black, red, green, purple, etc. Think it over, students, especially you guilty Hi-Y members!

Anyway, fellows, thanks for supplying the ink.

FIFTH VICTORY Our girls' team played Dexter here, February 26, and started lineup was: Guards, P. Schable, J. Weir and D. Manville; forwards, H. Harker, N. Gordon and W. Paul. Dexter failed to score in the first half, while Chelsea made seven points. Dexter rallied a little in the last half, scoring three points. Chelsea came out on top, 13 to 5.

Substitutes for the last half were: forwards, M. Slane, D. Kalmbach, J. Hughes and D. Howard; guards were M. Roberts, C. Miller and M. Palmer.

It would promote better feelings on both sides if the rules were more thoroughly understood.

JR. BASKETBALL NEWS Wednesday, the first and second teams of the junior basketball team defeated Dexter for Chelsea in the first quarter. Crocker scored two points, while Knickerbocker scored two, also missing a foul shot. In the second half Crocker scored four points and Knickerbocker five, and Heydlauff one. In the third quarter, Crocker and Heydlauff each scored two. So the total was 26.

For Dexter in the first quarter, Murray scored four points, and Frank two. In the half, Frank scored two more points. In the third quarter Murray made five points and Frank two more. In the last quarter, Murray scored two and Frank two also. So Chelsea won by a score of 26 to 19, making the first team undefeated.

The Chelsea Junior second team won an easy game over Dexter. In the first quarter, Slane, C. O'Dell and Merkel scored two points each and A. Knickerbocker made one. In the second half, D. O'Dell scored two points, making the total for Chelsea in the half nine points. In the third quarter Slane made six points and C. O'Dell two. In the last half Chelsea scored two points, made by Lehman. Slane was high point man.

For Dexter in the first quarter White made three points and Walker two. In the second quarter Waggoner scored two points and that was all the scoring during the period. The final score was Chelsea 19, Dexter 7. The second team has won one and lost the other.

BAND The band has a new member, Nancy Eisemann, who plays a bass drum. Jana Lou Weinberg has changed to playing flute in order to help out in the instrumentation. Orchids to these people who make personal sacrifices for the group.

The band will go on a roller skating party March 4.

A concert by band and chorus is being planned by Mr. Wilson and Mr. Redner.

PEP MEETING The pep meeting, sponsored by Seniors, was held in a very unorthodox manner—the last of the pep meeting coming at the beginning and vice versa.

The meeting started with M. Hinderer playing the school song while the students sang. B. Barlow gave a short speech regarding the game with Roosevelt. This was followed by cheer from cheer leaders. E. Eisele was called upon for a short pep talk. Mr. Cameron gave a short talk and cheer leaders followed it up with a well supported cheer. J. Weinits gave a few facts about the second team; Mr. Johnson also spoke for a short time. The pep meeting was closed by a cheer.

HI-Y NEWS

The date has been set for their joint boy-girl relationship meeting. Bruce Tallman, secretary of the state Y.M.C.A., will be the guest speaker.

The evening will open with a pot-luck supper and following this, the meeting will be conducted.

The club has taken over the project of placing signs in study hall and the boys' basement to remind the students to keep the buildings clean.

The club has decided to go swimming next Wednesday.

The 8th grade was the guest of the Hi-Y at the dance Friday after the Roosevelt game. They were rewarded for their fine work in the Infants Paralytic drive.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The business carried on in the meeting of Feb. 21 was as follows: The eighth grade will be admitted to the dance after the Roosevelt game. It was decided that wire should be put around the school lawn to prevent people from walking across the lawn.

The money received for the use of the phonograph from the seventh and eighth grades will be spent for square dance records for the all-high parties. It has been decided to inquire whether the school library rules could be enforced more rigidly.

JOURNALISM PLANS PARTY The Journalism Club is beginning to make plans for an All-Hi party for March 28. The following committees have been appointed:

Scheme Committee: B. Barlow, chairman; J. Merkel, E. Moore. Refreshment: C. Widmayer, chairman; L. Lindauer, M. Proctor, J. McClure.

Decorations: B. Quirk, chairman; B. Ingram, E. Reule, M. Palmer, M. Ferguson.

Tickets: E. Kalmbach, chairman; H. Jarvie, M. Gage, Crawford.

Entertainment: Hughes, chairman; D. Trinkle, J. O'Dell, M. Proctor.

CLASS NEWS

Junior: The Junior class has been working diligently on their play, which will be given in March.

RED CROSS NEWS In our school we are sponsoring a drive to fill gift boxes for the Red Cross, to be sent to the children of Europe and other places where they are needed.

Each home room is expected to fill ten boxes and the school has a quota of 100 boxes to fill. These boxes are to be filled with pencils, pads of paper, tooth paste or powder, and brushes, handkerchiefs, combs, toilet soap and other things.

This drive will end February 28, so hurry students, and don't forget to bring your things and contribute to this very worthy cause.

We wish to thank Audrey and Carl Lake for their interest in the Red Cross and for managing this drive.

CHELSEA BEATS ROOSEVELT Last Friday the Chelsea Bulldogs began to show a little life and came out on top by defeating Ypsilanti Roosevelt, 48-27. The first quarter was very slow moving as the score indicates, 7-4. Robert Daniels initiated the new electric score board by sinking the first bucket of the game.

Chelsea held a safe lead throughout the entire game for at least half time. Chelsea had 18 points to 9 for Roosevelt and at the end of the third quarter Chelsea still led by the score of 35-19.

Borgerson held the scoring honor with 17 points, while Loren Munro was close behind for Chelsea with 16 points.

ECONOMICS FIELD TRIPS The economics class has been going on field trips to several industrial establishments in the vicinity of Chelsea. On the first trip they went to Weinberg's Dairy, learning how the milk is pasteurized, cooled, bottled, etc. Second, they went to Bowser's factory to see how they made gears. Our last trip was to the Chelsea Products.

The committee is planning more of these excursions, probably one a week.

SPEECH PROGRAM Last Friday the Speech classes of Chelsea High, under the very capable direction of Mr. Tewes, presented a "Patriotic Program" at Stockbridge high school.

The program went as follows: Wilma Koenigster and Nancy Loose, accompanied by Marcelline Hinderer, sang "My Hero."

Agnes Forner gave a speech on "Washington and Lincoln."

Doris Downer presented a "Patriotic Poem."

Donna Kalmbach gave an autobiography of Lincoln.

Wilma Koenigster and Marcelline Hinderer gave a "Poem About Lincoln."

Donna Kalmbach played a piano concerto.

Joyce Lentz told a story entitled "A Dream." This was about Lincoln.

Mary Alice Marquardt gave a personal description of Washington.

Marjorie Proctor told a humorous story, "Land Sakes! What a Wedding!"

Bob Daniels, who announced the program, concluded by playing three popular numbers on the piano—"Deep Purple," "Star Dust" and "Mood Indigo."

SENIORS OF THE DAY On September 20, 1927 Donna C. Manville made her appearance into this world. She says it's a good thing she was born a girl because her parents were going to give their new infant a girl's name no matter what! Donna is now 5 feet 1 1/2 inches in height, has short brown hair, and beautiful, large, "sparkling" brown eyes. For favorites, she picked ice-cream cake with whipped cream for food, steel gray for color, and maybe because she is captain of the girls' basketball team, basketball for sport. Her first ambition is to graduate from C.H.S. and second, to be a typist.

Born, November 27, 1929; height 5 feet, 6 inches; weight 140 pounds; hair, brown; eyes, brown, and favorites: food, chocolate candy; song, "Candy;" movie, "Murder My Sweet;" sport, football; pastime, golf; present ambition, to go to college. No, folks, it isn't one of the characters whose picture you (Continued on page six)

Illustrated News Review

OPEN THE DRAWER, FRANCES . . . For more than four years, Mrs. Frances Krynicki, Wyandotte, Mich., has been breaking into other people's desks and getting paid for it. Except for "hairpin" experiences, locks and keys were a mystery to her in 1942 when she answered the call for war workers at the Willow Run bomber plant. Now an expert, she does all the lock picking for Kaiser-Praxer in the world's largest automobile plant under one roof. She picks 30 locks each day.

CATCHES SHUTTLE THIEF . . . Yvonne Solo, 10, daughter of Maj. Gerald C. Solo, Jacksonville, Fla., with her German shepherd dog which aided her in the capture of a German shuttle thief.

PROTEST CONSCRIPTION . . . Protesters proposed peace-time conscription, a group of men picketed the White House and burned draft cards. Many were conscientious objectors who served prison sentences.

FROZEN CARS . . . After negotiating Arctic weather during her voyage through the Baltic sea, a steamer and her cargo of automobiles and tractors were wrapped in ice when they arrived at Stockholm. Some of the ice-glazed cars are shown here on deck of the ship, Albano.

LOCOMOTIVES FOR CHINA . . . One of the 50 locomotives and tenders granted to China under UNRRA auspices comes aboard the SS Beljane, specially built to carry completely erected locomotives. Present voyage of the Beljane will carry 17 of the tenders and locomotives.

Hear no evil—speak no evil—see no evil—yes, that's old saying and to abide by it, this is what we found.

We HEARD that Reve Rogers, even tho' absent the first two games last week, still hasn't had to pay a nickel for her average because with the score she had on the last game, plus her average less 10 pins for the first two games, she hit her average right on the nose.

We heard a few splits were picked up, so to SPEAK these are the gals that were lucky in sliding them over: R. Lyons, G. Thompson, and M. Eder picked up the 7-0; K. Karp and M. Marsh the 5-7; K. Beach, 4-10; and 5-7-10, R. Leinhardt. Nice pitchin' gals!

We SEE there are quite a few girls in the "450 Club" this week, namely: D. Eisenman, 492; J. Robinson, 468; B. Kaiser, 465; F. Koch, 463; P. Wedemeyer, 453; B. Tobin, 452. We're glad to see more and more coming in each week, so keep right in there swinging them, girls!

"No Help Wanted" Tells Story Of Disabled Veterans

"No Help Wanted," a sound motion picture, dramatizing the rehabilitation and placement in industry of handicapped veterans, is available for showing to Parent-Teacher Associations, luncheon clubs, churches, veterans' organizations, chambers of commerce, school assemblies, and employers associations. The National Association of Mutual Casualty Companies and the American Legion have cooperated in making the picture. Throughout it stresses that most persons with handicaps are capable of performing many types of productive work.

The picture traces an average veteran worker, handicapped by the loss of an arm, through all the problems he meets on a new job, and does it in such a way that whether the audience is made up of prospective employers, or just the ordinary man on the street, or even a group of disabled veterans, each one who views it will know that an organized plan for rehabilitation and employment of disabled persons has been worked out. The film is available to community and civic groups through the local American Legion Posts, the veterans' counseling center or the State of Michigan Office of Veterans' Affairs, Lansing. Arrangements for the showing should be made at least ten days to two weeks in advance by the counselor. Running time of the film is eighteen minutes.

To explain the post office matter, the location was then a hospital. Clara also says her parents were terribly disappointed when she turned out to be a girl, and her sister even wanted to throw her out in a snowbank. But since no one took such drastic measures Clara is with us today, after all. For general statistics, she is 5 feet 6 1/2 inches tall; has beautiful blonde hair and blue eyes. She has two favorite colors, which are green and brown; while raisins and carrots are her favorite foods; and knitting her favorite pastime. Also, she has a great passion for diets. Her ambition in life is to be happy.

January 18, 1930 was the day Jerome Vincent Burg was presented to his proud parents. We think we are safe in saying "proud parents" for after a series of girls in the family Jerome appeared. Today he stands 5 feet 8 1/2 inches in height, weighs 160 pounds, has brown eyes, and brown curly hair. Jerome's favorite meal consists of fried chicken with dressing and sweet potatoes; his favorite sport, football; songs, any one of Cole Porter's; and color, green. In the future, he is planning, or at least hoping, to be a landscape architect.

VILLAGE OF CHELSEA AUDIT REPORT

December 31, 1946

To the Honorable, the Village Council,
Village of Chelsea, Michigan.

February 17, 1947.

Gentlemen:

We have examined the balance sheet of the Village of Chelsea as of December 31, 1946 and the statement of receipts and disbursements for the year then ended, have reviewed the system of internal control and the accounting procedures of the Village and, without making a detailed audit of the transactions, have examined or tested accounting records of the Village and other supporting evidence, by methods and to the extent we deemed appropriate. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted standards applicable in the circumstances and it included all procedures which we considered necessary, except that we did not deem it practicable to confirm receivables by direct correspondence.

In our opinion the accompanying balance sheet and related statement of receipts and disbursements present fairly the position of the Village of Chelsea at December 31, 1946 and the results of operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Very truly yours,
Iceman Johnson & Hoffman,

VILLAGE OF CHELSEA Electric and Water Department AUDIT REPORT

December 31, 1946

To the Honorable, the Village Council,
Village of Chelsea, Michigan.

February 18, 1947.

Gentlemen:

We have examined the balance sheet of the Electric and Water Department of the Village of Chelsea as of December 31, 1946 and the statement of income and surplus for the year then ended, have reviewed the system of internal control and the accounting procedures of the Department and, without making a detailed audit of the transactions, have examined or tested accounting records of the Department and other supporting evidence by methods and to the extent we deemed appropriate. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards applicable in the circumstances, and it included all procedures which we considered necessary.

We did not confirm accounts receivable by correspondence with the debtors because it was not practicable to do so. We satisfied ourselves by other means that the accounts were genuine.

In our opinion the accompanying balance sheet and related statement of income and surplus present fairly the position of the Electric and Water Department of the Village of Chelsea at December 31, 1946 and the results of operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Very truly yours,

Charles Pratt of Lima, Michael Schiller of Freedom, Charles Ellsworth of Lyndon, Jacob Schairer of Seid A. A. Feldkamp of Sharon, and R. B. Waitrous of Sylvan were among the thirty persons drawn last Saturday to serve as petit jurors at the March term of the Washtenaw county circuit court. They have been summoned to appear on the sixth of the month.

George A. Davis, Sylvan township clerk, has received the following letter which explains itself:

Dear Sir: There being no opposition, either Republican or Democrat, to George W. Sample for Circuit Judge and Evan Essery for School Commissioner, no Primary election will be held this spring. Respectfully, Jay G. Pray, County Clerk.

Both the People's and Independent parties named D. C. McLaren as candidate for president and Otto Hinders as candidate for treasurer on their tickets at caucuses held by both parties in the Sylvan town hall Monday evening.

O. C. Burkhardt acted as chairman of a meeting called last Friday evening at the town hall as a result of action of a number of citizens to get a clearer understanding of the proposal to grant a franchise to the Consumers Power Co. of Jackson to furnish this village with electrical power. The proposal is to be voted on at the annual election, March 12.

Harvey Spiegelberg of Detroit, former Chelsea resident, died at his home in Detroit on Sunday, Feb. 18, 1923 following two weeks' illness of pneumonia. The funeral was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Spiegelberg here Wednesday afternoon with Rev. C. S. Risley conducting the services. Interment was in Oak Grove cemetery where burial services were conducted by members of Olive Lodge, F. & A. M.

"Hooch" (cold tea) at $5 per quart, it was reported, was sold by strangers here Monday evening to several customers who did not discover what the contents were until the strangers had left town.

John Grau, who has been residing in Toledo for the past four years, expects to return to his farm in Lima about March 1.

The Sharpsteen Concert and Comedy Company will fill an engagement in the town hall all next week.

Mrs. T. C. Anderson of Detroit is spending a few days here at the home of her mother, Mrs. Fannie Naekel, following her discharge from an Ann Arbor hospital where she underwent an operation.

GRASS LAKE—A new party burst forth on the political front in the Village of Grass Lake last Saturday night at village caucus. The organization of opposition came as a complete surprise and doubly so, for it was a Young Women's Party completely comprised of the fair sex. Young Women's ticket is as follows: President, Miss Helen McCall; clerk, Miss Richmiller; treasurer, Mabel Hagadorn; trustees, Ione Wright, Jennie McClure, and Miss Marjorie Foster; assessor, Thelma Snodgrass.—The Grass Lake News.

STOCKBRIDGE—On Tuesday

morning the house on the Fred Galle farm east of Danaville was burned to the ground. The fire broke out in the kitchen from an overheated pipe and the family lost everything except the clothes they were wearing. The fire department responded and saved the other buildings. It is estimated that the loss is in excess of $5,000.—The Stockbridge Brief-Sun.

ROCHESTER—John A. Lindrup, managing editor of the Rochester

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Bert Solves the Labor Problem

You hear a lot about capital and labor nowadays, as if the two could never get together. But look at Bert Childers—who has 320 acres of producing land, a fair-sized herd of cattle, and two farm hands working for him.

If you called Bert a "capitalist" he wouldn't know what you meant, and neither would Spike and Sandy, the hired men. Bert works side by side with both of them; and in the evenings they sit around the fire together—sharing a friendly glass of beer or two.

If anybody has a beef—whether it's about wages or hours or equipment—they talk it over at these friendly evening sessions.

I don't say all labor problems are as simple as Bert's. But from where I sit, the basic principle applies to any farm or factory or business: A principle of confidence and mutual respect, of daily talks together in a friendly and congenial atmosphere.

100th Anniversary of the Birth of Alexander Graham Bell

MARCH 8, 1947

The telephone was born and raised in a laboratory

Alexander Graham Bell's invention of the telephone was the achievement of a trained scientific mind.

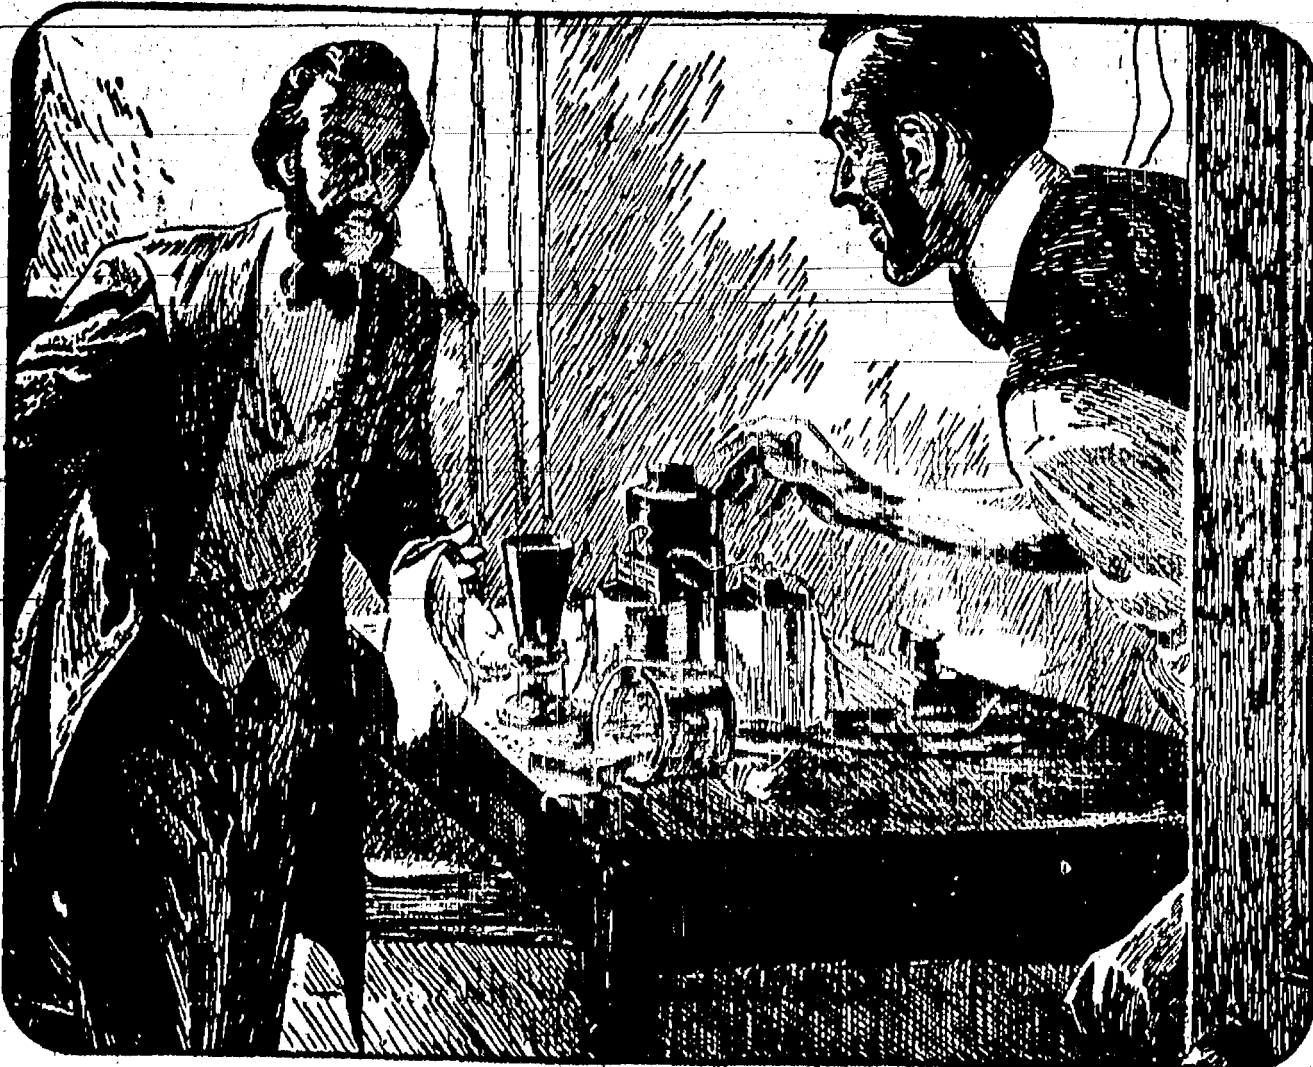

Continuous scientific progress to improve telephone communication began with him and has continued ever since. It is carried on today by the six thousand men and women of the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Dr. Bell's thoughts on work and research were given to a number of young people in a graduation address. "Don't keep going only where others have gone. Leave the beaten track occasionally and dive into the woods. You will be certain to find something that you have never seen before.

"Follow it up, explore all around it; one discovery will lead to another and before you know it you will have something worth thinking about."

That has been the policy of the telephone business from the beginning. It underlies the progress that has been made and the progress that is to come.

FIRST SENTENCE EVER SPOKEN OVER THE TELEPHONE (on March 10, 1876) was, "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you." It happened when Alexander Graham Bell spilled some battery solution on his clothes and called out for assistance. Thomas A. Watson, his assistant, came rubbing in from another room and exclaimed—"Mr. Bell, I heard every word you said—distinctly."

THAT grille's as fresh and fashionable as a Paris label in a new bonnet.

That long, clean, sweeping-all-the-way-through fender line is as much a "must" with the style-wise as white tie with tails.

There's the sparkle of bright, fresh colors—the rich sheen of chrome—the sleek, slick, able look of an express cruiser, shined and polished for Regatta Day.

But is this the only way in which Buick's smart? Not by a barrelful!

Look at the engine room in that bonnet—that means torrents of Fireball power to put the lift of a lifetime in every mile.

That hug-the-road look means steadiness always—and cushiony coil springs on all four wheels spell serene disregard of any road's rude jolts.

Look at the width amidships that gives you lolling room both front and back—and at push-button controls that not only raise and lower the top, but move door windows up and down and the front seat back and forth.

And look deeper. At engines so fine-made they keep their new-car liveliness seemingly forever. At stout metals and sturdy underpinning; at husky, curl-around bumpers, controls light as a ladyfinger; at wheels that curb heel-over on turns, and brakes both easy and sure.

Fact is, in this trim Convertible or any of the eight other body types, Buick's the smartest buy as well as '47's smartest car. It's the place where dollar-sense meets with style-sense to produce America's most wanted automobile.

Such being so—why hesitate? A day lost now in placing an order can be a week lost later in taking delivery, so—get your order in now!

Temporary Marriage
"Wedding," formerly practiced in Scotland, was a temporary marriage solemnized by a verbal agreement of the couple while holding hands. The pair were then permitted to live together for a year and a day, after which they could either marry permanently or become single again. The child, if any, was supported by the party who objected to making the marriage permanent.

Michigan Timber
Exhaustion of old growth timber is expected in Michigan within the next 30 years unless there is a sharp reduction in cutting. Some 30 per cent of Michigan timberland is under public management, much of which is being groomed for future controlled cutting. Private owners, who control 60 per cent of Michigan's marketable saw-logs, are being induced to work with the state on forest management problems.

NORTHVILLE—Darwin Teske, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Teske of West Main St., received a letter from Greece. The letter was all written in Greek. An employee at the Northville Restaurant translated and replied for Darwin. The letter stated that the clothing had been received just in time for Christmas by a family with nine children. They were very pleased with the clothes and could not express how grateful they were for the gift. The little boy who is wearing the overalls is named Louis Mpolis and the letter came from Ellison Larissas, Greece.—The Northville Record.

I Work for a Dame

By ETHELYN PARKINSON
McClure Syndicate - WNU Features.

GUESS everybody's heard when my boss is this summer, but no one's going to rib me. My boss has a cooler business head than any man in the contracting business. I know that—now.

Before school was out the gang began to brag about their vacation jobs. Jack was going to the railroad shops, eight-hour days at $5 cents per Jerry got in at the Main Street Tire and Battery. It was just my luck to have to work for a dame and my aunt at that!

I didn't have much choice. Dad's in service—he was a captain in the first war. Mom's jittery about "bringing up" Sis and me alone. "I won't have to worry, Milton, if you're under your Aunt Alice's eye."

"But, mom, how can I tell Mary Ellen or the fellows that I'm working for a dame—a lady? And Aunt Alice calls me 'dear'! She doesn't know I've grown up since she read Peter Rabbit to me. If you want me to learn the contractor's business, there's Mr. Trathen. His offices are right across from Aunt Alice's. She could still keep an eye on me."

Mom got stern, for her. "Milton, this is settled. You will work for Aunt Alice until she discharges you."

Aunt Alice had me running a mimeograph and the switchboard. I was under her eye, all right. I guess I wasn't too smart, and I spent lots of time mooning across at Mr. Trathen's offices but Aunt Alice didn't mind.

Then Mr. Trathen advertised for a boy. I wished I could get Aunt Alice to fire me. One day I was thinking hard about that, and suddenly I happened to make a little clicking noise with my tongue. Aunt Alice was bending over some papers and I saw her wince. I had it! I knew how to make her get rid of me!

I had a date with Mary Ellen that night, so I experimented. About the third time I clicked my tongue she blew up. "For goodness' sake, Milton, do you have to keep clicking that way? It's a terribly annoying habit."

I hoped so. I practiced a lot when I was alone.
On Sunday I went out to dinner with Mom and Sis. Aunt Alice without thinking, I clicked my tongue. Sis jumped on me. I was getting good.

Monday, I started working on Aunt Alice. The first time I clicked in her office, I didn't look at her. The next day I clicked twice while she was busiest. She didn't look up but she said, "Milton, did you deliver the Branson blueprints?"—it was working!

By Thursday I could see that I was getting on Aunt Alice's nerves. I wasn't surprised. Saturday, when she called me in. "Milton," she said, "I promised your mother I'd see to you all summer. But I suspect you'd like to work for a man, and Mr. Trathen has asked for you. Would you like to go to work for him Monday?"

"Oh, boy!" She kind of winced, and I realized I'd clicked my tongue. "Of course, if you heed me—"

"I want you to be happy, dear. Mr. Trathen is high-strung. Irascible at times. Don't let him frighten you."

Monday, Mr. Trathen's receptionist leered at me. "Funniest faces, in the newest places," she said. I was the fifth office boy in three weeks, she meant. But I wasn't working for her.

"Hey, boy!" Mr. Trathen yelled, "run this through the mimeo." The machine was in the corner of his room and he was dictating. But all of a sudden he changed his mind about me. "Hey, boy! Miss Smith can do that. You take these reports across the river."

I really worked that day. My legs were too tired to take me on a date that night. I hoped I'd be in the office the next day—and I was, for a while. In a time Mr. Trathen stopped dictating and roared. "Boy! Miss Smith has some errands for you."

At the end of two weeks I was petrified. One Saturday evening Aunt Alice came over and asked me to show her my garden. Outside, she put her arm around me. "Milton," she said, "would you like to come back to work for me?"

Suddenly I knew that was the only thing in the world I wanted. I'm over 16 and almost 6 feet tall, but I might as well be a baby. I was so glad. "But—Mr. Trathen—"

"Mr. Trathen came over to say it would be all right."
"He—did?" I gasped. "He—fired me?"

"Maybe," Aunt Alice laughed. "I know I've been preoccupied. But I'd have noticed if you had any annoying habits. Mr. Trathen's henny. He says you get on his nerves with some boyish mannerism—clicking your tongue, I believe he mentioned!"

Much worry over children's whereabouts can be avoided by keeping a small pad beside the door or telephone with the children understanding that when they go out they must write down where they are and the name of the friend they will be with.

Country Poultrymen Eligible To Enter National Contest

Washtenaw county poultrymen will compete with poultry breeders in ten north central states in the 1947 phase of the nationwide "Chicken of Tomorrow" program with more than 2,500 poultry raisers from this county eligible to enter the competition, according to D. Slade, chairman of the national Chicken-of-Tomorrow contest committee.

"All that is required for Washtenaw county poultrymen to become a part of this important breeding program is a flock of 50 baby chicks hatched April 23," Slade said. "Poultrymen entering the contest are urged to contact J. M. Moore, extension poultryman, Michigan State College, East Lansing, chairman of the contest committee in this state."

Aimed at developing chickens with improved meat-type characteristics, the contest carries a $5000 grand prize in 1948, and $5,000 in regional prizes. The top award will go to the poultry breeder who develops the most improved meat-type chicken.

Slade urged Michigan poultrymen to continue their efforts to develop superior meat-type chickens which, he said, are paying increased dividends to the entire state. He pointed to the Chicken-of-Tomorrow contest as an outstanding example of the poultry industry's determination to provide consumers with better chicken dinners.

The importance of poultry farming in Washtenaw county, Slade said, is reflected in the latest report from the Census Bureau which shows that 88 per cent of the county's farmers received income from poultry. These producers, according to the report, have more than 835,000 chickens and sell nearly 2,100,000 dozen eggs.

Heart Disease Most Serious Public Health Problem In Michigan

Heart disease is Michigan's most serious public health problem. Provisional figures released by the State Health Department show that about 100,000 deaths last year was due to heart disease. "The intelligent approach to this is found in the advice of your physician," said Dr. William DeKleine, State Health Commissioner. "Under proper guidance many persons with heart disease are living long and useful lives."

Dr. DeKleine pointed out that death from heart disease may come suddenly, but it is usually the end result of a condition that might have been controlled. Under proper guidance, many people with heart disease can live to a good old age. "Medical supervision, observance of proper dietary habits and healthful living are major factors in the control of heart disease. High pressure living, emotional stress, worry and over work should be avoided."
