

Running the Lansing one-man grand jury, complicated as it must have been, "easy" compared with the staggering task now confronting Governor Kim Sigler, top executive of the State of Michigan. When Sigler wanted to get things done, he had only to talk things over with Judge Leland W. Carr, Michigan County Circuit Judge. Sigler had no financial problem, as the State Legislature had provided adequate funds to cover needs of investigation and prosecution. The Carr-Sigler team swung untried into action, got results in a hurry, and brought satisfaction both to the principals and to the taxpayers.

Contrast the above, simplified of course, with the 1947 job of being Governor of Michigan.

Instead of getting approval of one person for a program, Governor Sigler must submit his recommendations to the Legislature, membership of which includes 180 persons throughout Michigan and who represent all types of economic activity.

Governor Sigler came to the conclusion in February that a solution of the state's present financial dilemma was to re-submit the sales tax amendment to the voters at the April spring election. The House of Representatives agreed with his recommendation, but the program was upset by a minority of state senators who prevented the necessary two-thirds majority vote for approval.

Because of his experience with certain lobbyists during the Lansing Grand Jury investigations, Governor Sigler has carefully avoided applying political pressure on members of the Legislature and hence engaging in lobbying for his own administrative measures.

In his budget message to the Legislature on February 11, Governor Sigler expressed his personal distaste for lobbying in the following words:

"There is no lobbyist for the aged—there is no lobbyist for the mentally afflicted. Dependent children have no lobbyists. The poor have no lobbyists. The public-spirited citizens who have been giving of their time in their behalf, and the consciences of all good citizens. The taxpayer has no lobbyist. The man who is burdened with taxation has no lobbyist. The man who is burdened with the weight of taxes has no lobbyist. You and I must represent all the people without bowing to pressure groups, without being worried about political futures."

The Senate Judiciary Committee on March 25 held public hearings on proposed legislation to register lobbyists at Lansing. The Capitol Club of Lansing, whose membership comprises secretaries of 37 state trade associations, presented a statement in which the club raised no objections to registration of legislative agents, but payment of a registration fee to a state office. The club made one major objection, this being to the power of subpoena to a member of the Legislature, such as the Ivan-Johnson committee which sought to smear Mr. Sigler in 1946.

It is assumed by Capitol observers that the Legislature will enact some form of a law requiring registration of legislative agents sought by administration. A result of this Lansing Grand Jury experience.

Instead of having ample funds to get things done, Governor Sigler is faced with the dire and grim prospect of a pauperizing deficit. The voters of Michigan approved a $270,000,000 bonus for veterans of World War II without authorizing any taxation whereby such payments could be financed.

How the Michigan veteran bonus is to be financed is much a mystery today as it was when the Michigan primary, in which candidates were making political capital of the proposal.

Only last week a majority of the members of the House of Representatives, headed by Representative Elton R. Eaton of Okemos, rejected an administrative proposal to finance the bonus by a two-mill state property tax.

Such a tax would take priority over the needs of local government, and consequently it was vigorously opposed by representatives from areas in which 15-mill limitation cities predominate.

The Legislature is now nearing the final week of the third month of continuous sessions, and Governor Sigler finds himself in the situation of having no money yet to solve the financial problem involving a mere $17,000,000 a year.

Governor Sigler's former associate in Grand Jury days, Judge Leland W. Carr, now a member of the Supreme Court, has been in the state Legislature for many years. The Governor sought the first several months of 1947 to fulfill all speaking engagements possible, despite the fact that the greatest of which was a 1947-48 Legislature in session. Although the Governor delighted (Continued on page eight)

License Law Probable For Contractors

Legislative committee of the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors, composed of Mrs. Frederick Collier, representing the Seventh Ward, Emory Mulholland, supervisor of Superior township, and Norman A. Ottmar of the Sixth Ward, is chairman of the committee, has under consideration the adoption of a Residential Builders and Residential Contractors License Law.

The committee recently met with Prosecutor Douglas K. Reading, Ray Daulton and Daniel Liboit, of the Builders' Association, and Gordon Walker of the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission, to discuss the act. The act calls for the licensing of residential builders and maintenance and alteration contractors operating in the county. It is felt that building activity in Washtenaw county, this law will keep building standards at a high level and protect the public from the "Jerry" builder.

The proposed act is operating at the present time in Wayne and Oakland counties and is under consideration in Kent and Ingham counties. The Metropolitan Builders' Association of Detroit, the Better Business Bureau and the Bureau of Credits all cooperate in the enforcement of the law.

License fees are $25.00 for a three year period for a residential builder and $15.00 for a three year period for a maintenance and alteration contractor. The builders' association is expected to have a building inspection department.

The legislative committee is expected to submit to the board of supervisors its report at an early date.

Electors of Schenk School Discuss Plan For Reorganization

Nineteen school electors of the Schenk School District met at the home of Doris Whitaker last Thursday night to discuss the question of school district reorganization. Also present to assist in the discussion were representatives of the Chelsea schools and Supt. A. C. Johnson.

President Harold Widmayer opened the meeting and introduced Mr. Johnson, who presented some of the problems being faced in the area, and the necessity of planning on a larger scale than has been the case in the past. A long discussion followed along the line of need, advantages and local costs involved in the formation and operation of a rural agricultural district.

At the conclusion of the meeting the officers of the district majority of the electors in the district favor the plan of reorganizing the area to form a rural agricultural school district.

AFTER GRADUATION WHAT?

After Graduation What? will be the topic for discussion at the April meeting of the Senior PTA to be held Monday, April 14 at 8 p.m. in Home Ec. room of Chelsea high school, honoring the 1947 high school graduates. The PTA is extending a special invitation to the graduates and their parents.

The program will consist of a panel of townpeople who will discuss the various fields of occupation. This should prove very interesting to the seniors. Any other interested high school students or parents are cordially invited.

Bed-Ridden Patient Is Now Enjoying 'Reading On Ceiling'

Henry Werner, who has been confined to his bed since suffering a stroke last December, has, for the past two weeks, had the pleasure of using the new "reading on the ceiling" outfit through the courtesy of the Ann Arbor Public Library.

The project of placing this reading convenience in the Ann Arbor library for the use of invalids is being carried on by the Ann Arbor Lion's Club and by the Ann Arbor Recreation Club, of which he is a member. Mr. Werner, who he became ill, was employed at the Argus company, where this reading machine is manufactured.

Purchased by the Lion's club, the outfit was placed in the Public Library to be loaned out in the same manner as the regular books are. There are now about 250 "books" (rolls of film) to be used in projecting "pages" of the reading on ceiling reading while the patient lies on his back included in the list of all kinds of stories for children and adults as well as comics, which can be used with this machine.

Mr. Werner, of Ann Arbor, who brought the machine home, demonstrated its use. To Mr. Werner, showing him how to turn pages or adjust them by simply pressing a button, Mr. Werner will have the use of the outfit until Saturday when Mr. Werner returns it to the Ann Arbor Public Library.

The Ann Arbor Lion's club is to be commended for carrying out such a worthwhile plan for the convenience of handicapped people in the community.

MAKE CHICAGO TRIP

Rev. E. R. Major accompanied six boys—Paul Kalmbach, Fremont Boyer, Carl O'Dell, Buddy Johnson, Bill Lyons and Bob Mattson on an automobile trip to Chicago leaving here Sunday afternoon and returning Tuesday afternoon.

Sunday evening the group attended the Chicago Sunday Evening club, a non-sectarian group meeting which is held each Sunday evening, from September through June at Orchestra Hall. Here they heard the club chorus of 100 voices sing Haydn's "Creation" and then listened to an address given by Dr. Albert Day, head of the "New Life" movement of the Methodist church.

Monday morning they visited the American Network "Breakfast Club" radio program and the "Hymns of All Churches" program, during their regular broadcasts and later visited Hull House, the Chicago, and the Halstead St. Institutions church.

Local Damage From Flood Is Limited

With flood conditions prevailing in many parts of Southern Michigan over the week-end and reports that heavy damage resulted in some areas, Chelsea evidently suffered a relatively small amount of inconvenience and damage due to the heavy rain which fell, the main trouble encountered being confined mostly to flooded basements.

Some of the streets in the village have had holes gouged out of the black-topped surfaces by the unusually heavy rains and near-flood conditions, but, on the whole, conditions have not been nearly as bad here as in many other communities.

Most serious damage in this area resulted on the county's main roads as well as on secondary roads, washouts and mud having made travel unsafe and in many cases making it impossible to travel. On the main road to the north and a half northwest of Chelsea was out on Steinbach road, a quarter mile north of Jerusalem road the approaches to the bridge located there were washed out.

The creek at the north end of Main street overflowed its banks as did Pierce's lake south of town. All creeks and lakes in this vicinity were higher than they had been in many years but had begun to recede on Monday, following Sunday's high winds.

On Monday, nine bridges were reported completely down in Washtenaw county and several others were partially down, while approaches to a number of bridges were washed out. It has been estimated that it would take several months to repair the damaged bridges and from four to six weeks just to fill in road washouts in the county.

Wilbur Breitenwischer, district foreman at Chelsea, who is on the Washtenaw county Road Commission warns those who travel on secondary roads in Lima, Sylvan, Lyndon and Dexter townships to be watchful of suddenly coming up and down grades, as they may cause terrific bumps if not negotiated carefully. Mr. Breitenwischer states that his crews are trying to get these places filled in as quickly as possible but in the meantime motorists can help prevent accidents and damage to their cars by the use of using only one gear in driving over these roads. Extra care should also be observed at all curves because many were washed out and others possibly weakened and while all are being repaired a three extra caution in driving will be necessary until they are again in good condition.

Good Soil Needed For Your Garden

The first ingredient of a successful home garden is good soil. E. D. Longnecker, soils specialist of Michigan State college extension service, says that poor garden soils can often be built up so that better crops can be grown.

The ideal garden soil is loose, granular and spongy. Water and air can penetrate to the roots easily in this type of soil. Home garden soil, however, is often sandy or heavy and tight and hard to work.

A few basic materials will help to improve poor garden soils. Longnecker lists: Manure, compost, sewage sludge, fertilizer, and in some cases, lime.

Liberal supplies of manure will improve most garden soils. The manure should be spaded or plowed under if it is fresh and contains much straw.

Compost can be supplied by turning under the sod. Big clumps of weeds and heavy vegetation should be broken up and spread under. A compost pile, started this year, will supply future needs.

Lime counteracts the effect of soil acids and furnishes the calcium and magnesium needed by plants. Longnecker warns that soils should not be limed unless a soil test shows a definite need.

Chemical fertilizers are needed unless the soil has been built up with lots of manure. Tests show that fertilizer is most effective when it is placed side of the row and slightly below the seed. Fertilizer may also be broadcast over the surface at the rate of 25 pounds per 1000 square feet and then worked into the surface layer.

Longnecker says that 4-12-8, 8-12-12, 4-12-4 and 2-12-6 should prove satisfactory for the home garden.

ATTEND BANQUET

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Allshouse and son Robert were in Tipton, Mich., to attend the Service Banquet given in honor of returned veterans sons and husbands of members of the Tipton K. of P. Lodge and Pythian Sisters.

Each club is made up of from 300 to 5,000 members. It is with their clubs that boys have found clean sports and proper guidance and, instead of becoming "bad" boys, they are developing into the nation's best.

MSC Rural Progress Caravan Viewed By 64,000 People

Starting and finishing in blizzard-like snowstorms, the Michigan State college extension service Rural Progress Caravan has ended its 1947 tour.

J. G. Hays, manager of the caravan, said average attendance for the 54 shows was about 1,200. A total in excess of 64,000 visited the show.

The last four showings, scheduled in northeast Michigan, were cancelled because of the late March storm. Alpena, Lincoln, East Tawas and West Branch appearances were called off when road conditions prevented travel.

"We had fine attendance considering the weather," remarked George Amundson, chairman of the caravan committee. "Last year our attendance ran a little higher, but we had almost perfect weather. Our 1947 attendance was outstanding when you consider that the state was covered with snow in all but about two weeks of the three months the show was out."

Both Hays and Amundson remarked about the fine cooperation received from the county extension staffs and their local committees. Some outstanding examples of extension planning were demonstrated in many counties.

All specialists of the extension service who spent time with the caravan this year agree that farm people showed great interest in the lessons explained by the panels.

Interest in remodeling and building by rural people was in evidence as they gathered about model houses to learn new ideas.

Dr. Killham Urges Farmers To Watch For Animal Disease

Foot and mouth disease, which has become well established in Mexico, has not yet affected animals in Michigan.

Dr. B. J. Killham, extension specialist in animal pathology at Michigan State college, says that U.S.D.A. veterinarians are assisting Mexican authorities in controlling the disease. A strict border quarantine has been established.

However, Dr. Killham points out that the virus of the disease can travel long distances and in many ways. Increased airplane travel has made it important that all persons who observe animals be on the look-out for outbreaks of foot and mouth disease.

In past years, there have been eight outbreaks of foot and mouth disease in the United States with an estimated loss of $300,000,000. The worst outbreak of the disease in the United States began in 1914 in Michigan. The source of the virus that caused the outbreak has never been explained. It was not known that the disease existed on the North American continent at that time.

The disease is capable of affecting practically all cloven-footed animals. It is one of the most highly contagious diseases known. When an animal is infected with the disease, lesions which rupture and leave sore areas are found in the mouth and on the feet. Tests of cows may be affected. In hogs, the trouble is largely confined to the feet.

Killham urges everyone who comes in contact with animals to watch for symptoms of the disease. Symptoms that might be those of foot and mouth disease should be reported to the nearest veterinarian or to the state veterinarian immediately.

Music Pupils Appear On WPAG Program

Jayne Proctor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Proctor, and Raymond Steinbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Steinbach, both of whom are piano pupils of Mrs. Gwen Schulz of Ann Arbor, appeared on the Kiddies' Program over Radio Station WPAG Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

They played the piano solo, "Bells of St. Mary's," by Emmett Adams, and Raymond played "El Choclo," an Argentine tango, by A. G. Villolgo.

Both pupils are 13-year-old eighth graders and gave very fine renditions of their respective selections.

Light Vote Cast Monday; GOP Victory

Total votes cast in Sylvan township at Monday's election numbered only 307, the unopposed Republican ticket receiving votes ranging from 258 to 289 for constables, 282 for Supervisor Fred Broesamle who headed the ticket.

All state and county Republican candidates received large majorities in the township, their Democratic opponents receiving an average of about 50 votes each. While Prohibition candidates received from 7 to 11 votes each.

Judge James R. Breakey polled 157 votes in Sylvan township to Jay H. Payne's 116, although in Precinct 2, Payne was only five votes behind, having polled 63 to Breakey's 68.

A. Kuhl (D); Member Board of Review—J. W. Dressehouse (R); Constables—Roy Dudgeon (R), Edith podt (R), Roy Widmayer (D), Walter Kuhl (D).

Circuit court Judge James R. Breakey, Jr., of assistant won election over Municipal Judge Jay H. Payne of Ann Arbor, in the most strongly contested battle for local positions. Final unofficial returns show Breakey to be the winner by nearly a two-to-one margin, with Payne's best local balloting coming from Scioto township.

Breakey polled 72 votes and Payne 38 in Sharon. Results were not immediately available on the state and county tickets or on the amendments, in Sharon, and due to restrictions on long distance telephone calls because of the telephone strike, the results from Freedom township, which cannot be learned as telephones of officers there are listed with the Manchester exchange.

Grinder In Feed Alley

Farm labor specialists of the Michigan State college extension service suggest this "cafeteria" system of feeding grain on the spot. Clyde Farrington, of Rockford, installed his semi-automatic grinder in the feed alley of the dairy barn to save steps and labor. A small hamper full of grain is mounted on a tall dust-tight chute from a bin above which is large enough to hold a week's supply. The system is recommended largely where single grains are used. Otherwise grains must be mixed in the right proportion before they are stored in the overhead bins.

the past week upon receiving word of their father's illness, and remained in Delhi until after the funeral.

Chemical Materials

Not only proteins but the two other basic food materials, fats and carbohydrates, constitute available substances for the manufacture of chemicals, as do such food accessories as vitamins and minerals. These materials, however, are rarely found in nature in a degree of purity comparable with that of some mineral deposits, usually occurring in heterogeneous form. These multiple combinations must be separated into their components if they are to be utilized in the chemical industry.

American Waterfowl Crisis Is Seen By Wildlife Experts

American waterfowling is approaching a dangerous and unbelievable crisis. So seems the opinion of our wildlife men, biologists, and experts of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

According to Mr. Clarence Cottam, Acting Director of the Fish and Wildlife Service, last season's bag of ducks was fully one third of the entire duck supply. Well over 2,000,000 duck hunters killed some 26,000,000 wild ducks last season.

"Complete figures," says Mr. Cottam, "have not yet been completed, but it is evident that the annual take in waterfowl by our hunters during the past season marks the greatest gun pressure we have had on ducks in all history."

Today's crisis has not arisen without expectation. Mr. Albert Day, Director of the Fish and Wildlife Service, sounded a prophetic voice more than a year ago, when at the 11th North American Wildlife Conference he warned that "heavy hunting pressure could be expected in the immediate years following the war."

"We have grown overoptimistic," states Mr. Day, "about the high water mark in waterfowl populations during the war years. . . . We have, as a result, overshot our annual increase during the past several seasons. Now, our only choice left open to us is to adjust hunting pressure to supply. And, this will mean more regulations by the Federal government and the government of Canada."

Duck hunters, therefore, can expect drastic restrictions upon hunting very soon. Federal authorities have repeatedly been intimating that this was coming. There is possibility of not only reduced hunting-and-bag limits, but also the likelihood of having a complete closed season on ducks for a year or more. Bag limits, will most assuredly drop, possibly from the 20 birds per day, to as few as three birds per day per hunter. On the other hand, hunting fees are more than likely to be increased, if not actually doubled.

Mr. Cottam points out that much of the present situation is also due to the ever increasing drainage operations by the Federal government. In his 1947 budget figures he shows that all of the five restorative agencies like the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Park Service, Forest Service, Bureau of Land Management, and the Soil Conservation Service, receive less money all told than either one of the nation's two leading drainage and reclamation agencies, namely the U. S. Engineers Civil Projects and the Bureau of Reclamation. The former has been drastically cut for restoration, while the latter are more or less destructive in nature.

Washington figures indicate that in the past 50 years some 100,000 acres of marshland has passed out of the wildfowl habitat by drainage operations in this country alone. With our ducks down to around 80,000,000 in number, a decrease of 60,000,000 in the past three years, competent observers seem to feel that while the situation is alarming, it is not entirely irreparable. Facts and more figures are needed, and these are being supplied by more than 1,000 experts who are now in the field collecting scientific and accurate data. But, many keen and reliable men are pointing out that time is the essence and that something must be done very soon.

As Nash Buckingham, popular outdoor writer and chairman of the Wildfowl Committee, has put it, "time is a wastin', and unless some steps are taken, nationally and internationally, to steady the boat, wildfowling is in a fair way to capsize."

Build Your Kitchen Around Three Good Working Centers

Three well-planned working centers are the secret to the modern efficient kitchen. If you continually zig-zag from one place to another in your kitchen, then it needs to be better planned.

Through the Michigan State college extension many Michigan women have modernized their kitchens with the help of county home demonstration agents, college home management specialists or local leaders.

Working centers in your kitchen should be built around the range, the sink and the mixing table. MSC kitchen plans provide that materials used at these working centers should be stored near them. Supplies stored by the range would include cooked cereals, canned vegetables and meats, seasonings, small amounts of flour and sugar, and perhaps tea and coffee. Equipment would include cooking dishes, serving dishes, small equipment used for stirring, tasting and turning foods, teapot and coffee pot.

Near the sink center you should store dish washing equipment, including a clean linen supply, everyday dishes, equipment for preparing fruits and vegetables, and a two-day supply of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Your mixing center includes your mixing table and refrigerator. They should be placed close together. If the refrigerator door handle is on the left side, it should be placed to the right of the mixing table. -If it is on the right side, place it to the left of the mixing table.

Within the mixing area store all mixing and measuring equipment, baking dishes and pans, extracts, spices, leavening agents, prepared mixes and a small supply of canned fruits for pies, salads and desserts. Store all foods needing refrigeration before or after preparation in the refrigerator. Keep your electric mixer on top of the mixing table; where it is handy when needed.

We're Proud To Be On THIS TEAM!

The Ford Motor Company has just announced that the Ford three-window, six-cylinder business coupe is back in production at a price twenty dollars below that which prevailed when this model was temporarily discontinued last fall.

This reduction, plus those announced last January 15th, makes the Ford business coupe and the two-door sedan the lowest priced cars in their field.

We Ford Dealers are proud to be part of the organization that pioneered and is continuing such a clear, realistic and progressive policy.

We consider this newest Ford price reduction still further proof that the Ford Motor Company leads in offering the American Public the most value at the lowest possible price.

And we feel certain that it will play a definite part in speeding the return of sound and sensible prices, and a secure future for consumer, seller and producer alike.

This Bride's Biscuits Will Be Eaten

Light and flaky . . . delicious melt-in-your mouth goodness . . . baked in the dependable oven of the new automatic gas range.

Precision temperature controls take the guesswork out of baking. Automatic lighting of all burners does away with matches. High speed top burners shorten meal preparation. Insulation confines the oven heat. The smokeless broiler seals in the rich juices of the steak and provides the delectable goodness of open air broiling.

If you've had your range 10 years or more, you will be surprised how many improvements in cooking have been built into the new automatic gas ranges. See these new time-saving ranges in the stores or at the

Longer Handle Speeds Pruning

Members of the Emergency Farm Labor program of the Michigan State college extension service say that the method of pruning in the orchards will save time, labor, and spray materials and will avoid the danger of falling from ladders.

A pruning saw handle between inches or longer in length instead of the longer handle will not only save considerable time and labor but will also save considerable money in the cost of the saw.

The saws are obtainable at most local dealers, and bulletins are available from the county agent on using this type of saw when following the "thin wood" method of pruning.

A Michigan Idea Pays U.S. Farmers Millions
Cow testing associations, first organized in Michigan 40 years ago, have paid dividends to farmers all over the United States, according to L. A. Johnson, extension dairyman at Michigan State college.

In the early days of the Michigan association the cows under test produced an average of 215 pounds of butterfat a year. Now, one million cows in dairy herd improvement associations all over the nation are producing an average of 339 pounds per cow a year.

At an average price of 50 cents per pound of butterfat, this 124 million pound yearly increase of butterfat has added more than $60,000,000 a year to the income of the members of these associations.

Michigan State Ranks 13th Among Nation's Colleges

Michigan State college now ranks as the 13th largest college or university in the country, reports Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati and widely known statistician of higher education.

Dr. Walters' survey placing Michigan State 13th is based on full-time enrollment last fall. The study was made for the educational weekly, School and Society. The college's enrollment then was 12,412 full-time students.

Largest institution in the country, both on a full-time and grand total basis, is the University of California. With its seven campuses, California has 40,800 full-time students and 50,109 total.

Others ahead of Michigan State include Illinois, Minnesota, Ohio State, Columbia, New York University, Michigan (seventh), Wisconsin, Texas, Washington, Southern California and Indiana.

Vigorous Centenarians Found
In Balkans and Near East

While modern scientists grope for means to lengthen human life, scores of hardy and vigorous centenarians are living examples that life can be extended long beyond the traditionally accepted span.

These noted oldsters are spread through Bulgaria and other Balkan countries, the Near East, and many parts of Asia. They reach phenomenal ages without displaying the senility that so frequently marks the final years of the aged in more "civilized" surroundings.

Medical books tell of one man of 140 years, who worked side by side with his sons, 104 and 100 years old.

The mystery of these relatively primitive people have found such longevity may lie, scientists believe, in certain microbes, the tiny microscopic organisms that work alchemy in organic matter by fermenting it to other forms through fermentation. Taken into the human body, these "good" microorganisms destroy the "bad" ones and act as a general tonic.

One noted centenarian known to scientists as "The Weaver of Minak" was well over 100 years old and practiced his craft until he finally died. He ascribed his continued vigor and good health to a diet of yogurt, a fermented milk product, and sauerkraut, which he ate almost constantly during the day, dipping it from a bowl kept by his work bench.

Sugars and Proteins Listed
As Sources of Blood Sugar

Common sugars, carbohydrate derivatives, and proteins are the principal sources of blood sugar, but recent evidence has practically eliminated fat as such a source.

Professor Harry J. Duell Jr. of the University of Southern California Medical school, Los Angeles, has stated: In diabetes, the power to build up carbohydrate stores from the diet is lost; and the diabetic is also unable to change carbohydrate into fat, according to experiments with animals.

"All the common sugars such as glucose, fructose, sucrose or starch have been shown to be very satisfactory sources of carbohydrates," Professor Duell said. "Certain carbohydrate derivatives like the sorbitol, which is the alcohol of glucose, and such intermediates as lactic acid, glycerol and glyceric acid are also shown by tests to be sources of sugar."

"About 58 per cent of the protein molecule is transformable to sugar. This effect resides in certain of the amino acids which are components of proteins, but not in all of them. Some amino acids have been shown to yield from 60 to 100 per cent of their molecule as extra glucose."

Cancerous Agents
"Approximately 300 physical, chemical and infectious agents have been found to produce cancer," Arthur H. Wells, M.D., chairman of the Committee on Cancer of the Minnesota State Medical society, states. Many authorities admit that there is an ever increasing variety of agents being discovered which will initiate cancer growth with study also involving the factors within the cancer cell that are responsible for its nature and its unlimited growth capacity.

Listed among the cancerous agents are aniline dyes, petroleum products, illuminating gas, coke, mineral and lubricating oils, textile products, radium bearing ores, cobalt and arsenic, chromates, nickel, carbonyl, asbestos, mesothorium, antimony, arsenic, aromatic amino compounds, benzol, ultraviolet rays, roentgen rays and others. These products are found in industries and necessitate protection of those exposed to the products.

Tree Growth
Pines do not grow as fast as cottonwood or Chinese elm, but it gives good fare—make fairly rapid growth once they are well established. With good care pines will average a foot or more growth in height per year. It is not uncommon for pines to grow to a height of 10 or 12 feet in 20 years. The pines are hardy and will last a long time.

Notten Road MSC Folder Compares Hybrid Corn Varieties

Farmers who are wondering what corn hybrids to plant this year will find the 1947 edition of the Michigan State college extension folder F-67, "Corn Hybrids Compared," helpful. The MSC folder lists early, mid-season, and late corn hybrids that have been tested in various parts of the state. Yields of the different hybrids are reported both on an average of the past two years (1945-1946) results and an average of "all years," if entered before 1945. Yields in bushels per acre of ear corn and the percentage of average moisture in the sample ears at harvest time are also listed. By comparing the hybrids, farmers can choose those they think best suited to their location and their own needs. The folder is available from county agricultural agents or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

National Guard To Be Stronger

Lansing—Coinciding with the announcement of the Michigan National Guard's cooperation in the observance of Army Week, April 7 to 12, Brig. General LeRoy Pearson, adjutant general, pointed out today the greatly expanded role of the National Guard in the country's defense plans. In numbers alone he said the present authorization for 682,000 troops for the several States, the District of Columbia, and the Territories, represents more than twice the number of National Guardsmen who entered Federal service in World War II. Michigan's total allotment of approximately 25,000 officers and men for its post-war National Guard organization is triple its pre-war strength.

OFFICE NEWS

Thursday, April 17, at 8:15 p.m. the University of Michigan Men's Glee Club will present a concert in the high school gymnasium.

On April 15 there will be a baseball game at 4 o'clock in which Dexter and Chelsea will participate.

April 14 the High School PTA will meet. On April 18 the Grade School PTA will meet.

WHAT HAPPENED?

Yes! What did happen to the organization called "Club 15"?

About a year ago this time every Joe in school and some who were not just couldn't wait to get into this fast moving, exciting and live-wired club. But what has happened? Were all these parties just a front? It seems that as soon as all the dues were paid the club folded up. This surely wasn't what the students expected when they shelled out their two-bit pieces.

It certainly seems that if the club were having financial or other difficulties a meeting could be held and the problem presented to the members. At least let it be known just what is coming off, which incidentally doesn't appear to be very much.

KAISER-FRAZER FIELD TRIP

On Wednesday, April 2 the Senior class went on another of their educational field trips. With Jack Merkel, Bob Shanahan, Bob Danila, Charles Downer, Mrs. Lantia, Mrs. Mahlock, Mr. Tewes and Jack Winans driving, they arrived there safely and were anticipating with much excitement the trip through the "big plant."

A very agreeable gentleman started them on their way, that is after Jack Winans and his load arrived (the Model A, you know). After a few moments (?) of gapping at all the lights and machinery, they started on their merry way. The plant officials, after seeing the size of the Chelsea crowd, decided they had better walk instead of taking a chance on wrecking their train.

Maybe they thought it was a rather backward group, so they started at the finished product and worked backwards. Among the things which were most interesting was the shaping of the body of the car, the assembly lines and the painting. Before the group left, a picture was taken. The girls condescended to quite a thrilling trip—especially all the whistles and cat calls. On the way home J. V. Burg remarked that he would like to work on the dashboard assembly line. (Ah, this brunette!) Sincere thanks to the chaperons and plant officials who made the trip possible are extended by all the students.

"UNBEATEN"

The only unbeaten basketball

Watch What You Are Kicking

team of the Chelsea public school for the school year of 1946-47 is the girls' team. The girls made a wonderful record, winning seven out of eight games played, and typing one game with St. Thomas. The scores for the games are as follows:

Home Games
Chelsea 18—U. High 15.
Chelsea 21—Saline 10.
Chelsea 18—St. Thomas 11.
Chelsea 18—Dexter 5.

Return Games
Chelsea 11—Dexter 6.
Chelsea 20—Saline 11.
Chelsea 13—St. Thomas 13.
Chelsea 22—U. High 7.

The team consists of six seniors who are Helen Harker, Naomi Gordon, Barbara Luick, Janice Weir, Donna Manville, Clara Miller, and the coach, Miss Beam. The seniors will be missed next year but there are several underclassmen to replace them. The underclassmen who substituted in the games this year are Peggy Schaeble, Joyce Hughes, Myrna Roberts, Mae Slane, Pat Scott, Mary K. Palmer, Dorothy Howard, and Donna Kaimbach. The line-up for most of the games was: guards, Janice Weir, Donna Manville and Barbara Luick; and forwards, Naomi Gordon, Helen Harker and Wilma Paul.

Helen Harker, Wilma Paul, Naomi Gordon, Donna Manville, Janice Weir, Barbara Luick, Myrna Roberts, Peggy Schaeble and Joyce Hughes received letters for basketball. The girls hope to have a good winning team in years to come as they did this year.

FRESHMEN VS. FACULTY

The starting lineup for the freshmen-faculty game was as follows: Freshmen forwards, Scott, Howard and Schrader; guards, Schaeble, McGee and Hughes. The lineup for the faculty was: forwards, Harker, Beam and DeRose; guards, Luick, Schell, and Searies. The freshmen were leading at the half by four points. The faculty rallied in the last half and the final score was seventeen to ten in favor of the faculty. Stars were Franklin, Umstead, Johnson and Manville. Why does the faculty always ask seniors to play on their team? Hm?

BAND EVENTS

The band is preparing a concert which will be conducted by one of America's most important men of music. This guest conductor will be William D. Revelli, of University of Michigan. The band of Dexter will also participate in this program.

The band is also planning a concert in connection with the High School Chorus and the grade school band. At this concert the chorus will give a short preview of their Operetta.

F.F.A. NEWS

The F.F.A. held a meeting on Thursday. The boys decided to have a paper drive later and that the money will go towards buying a small plot of land for the chapter.

The boys also are interested in getting the softball team under way. We have a game April 23 with Saline. The boys are going to order F.F.A. jackets if possible.

At the meeting it was decided to hold a night meeting once a month.

CHORUS

The Chorus sang last Friday for the Good Friday services which were held at the Methodist church. "Ave Verum Corpus" and "Dona Nobis Pacem" were the two numbers performed.

Plans are being made for the concert to be presented by the Men's Glee Club of the University of Michigan on April 17 at 8:15 p.m. The chorus plans to use the proceeds of the concert to buy robes, which will certainly add a lot to the appearance of the chorus at their performances.

The mixed chorus and girls' chorus are working on the numbers they are to perform at the District Festival at Royal Oak on Wednesday, April 16.

SENIOR NEWS

Last Thursday the senior class held a class meeting in the chemistry laboratory. The purpose of the meeting was to decide to whom the Annual is to be dedicated and to elect the most representative boy from the senior class. The results of the election and dedication will not be publicly disclosed until class night. The seniors were also informed that their class dues were to be paid by next Friday. There was no further business, so the meeting was closed.

CLASS NEWS

Freshmen—B. Weatherwax is head of a committee to start plans for a return party to be given to the Sophomores.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council met Tuesday, April 8, 1947.

Mr. Wilson suggested that the orchestra which is to play for the chorus operetta play in an assembly the afternoon of the operetta.

The student council of Dexter is planning to visit Chelsea's student council soon.

The meeting was adjourned by the president, Ray Knickerbocker. The student council has taken the responsibility of raising the additional hundred dollars to finish paying for the new recorder recently purchased for the school. Plans are being made to raise this sum before the year is out.

The pictures of the fire that were displayed in the lower hall will be on sale after spring vacation.

The council received a letter from the Dexter Student Council asking permission to visit one of our meetings.

Also discussed by the council was having the University Little Symphony orchestra come to give an assembly program and stay over to play for the chorus operetta. A committee was appointed to take care of this.

Waterloo

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walz entertained their children and grandchildren on Easter Sunday. Rev. and Mrs. Parker were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Barber and Mrs. Laura Barber on Easter Sunday.

All pre-Easter services were well attended. Easter morning found a large audience to witness the baptism of three babies, three older children and four adults; also two who united with the church.

On Sunday evening, about 160 were in attendance to hear the choir present the Easter Cantata, "The Risen Savior," which was very well given and received. About 25 boys and men were present from Cassidy Lake School. Rev. Parker and all in charge appreciate the fine cooperation.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorton Rietzmillier and family of Detroit spent from Friday until Monday at their home here. They had as guests on Sunday for dinner the former's father, Milton Rietzmillier and wife.

Choir practice this week Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carty.

What do you think railroads make?

What do you think they should make?

The public thinks 10% would be fair

10%

What are the facts?

Actually the railroads earned only 2 3/4% in 1946.

To provide the service you want, railroads need to earn at least 6%. But estimates indicate that even with the recent freight rate increase, the return for 1947 will be only about half that requirement.

2 3/4%

Why it takes 6% to make the grade...

Impartial research poll shows that, on the average, people think we make 15%. They also think a fair return would be 10%.

What We Make

But for the year 1946, with the biggest peace-time traffic in history, the railroads earned only . . . 2 3/4%. This is less than one-half the comparable earnings for other industries.

The reasons for this low return are not hard to find. Since 1939 railroad wages have increased 62 1/2% and the prices of fuel, materials and supplies have gone up 81 1/2%.

But freight rates have just recently been increased an average of only 17 1/2%—a year after the effective date of the last big wage increase.

What About This Year?

It is estimated that the return for 1947, even with the recent freight rate increase, will be only about half the 6% minimum return required to provide the improvements and service needed. This will be because of increased costs of materials and supplies; because certain wage increases granted in 1946 were in effect for only part of 1946 but will be in effect for all of 1947; because of increased special payroll taxes on railroads; and because of a decline in passenger business.

What Does This Mean To You?

The answer is "Plenty!" Your standard of living is the highest in the world because of MASS PRODUCTION. But mass production would not be possible without MASS TRANSPORTATION, which the railroads provide at low cost.

Why 6% Is Needed

The kind of service your standard of living requires takes a lot of money for new equipment and improvements. To carry out the post-war improvement program for better equipment, tracks, terminals and modern safety devices, a minimum return of 6% is needed.

So when the railroads make only 2 3/4% on each $1.00 of their net property investment, it concerns you.

The funds for future new equipment and improvements must come from railroad earnings and also from investors. They will furnish money on reasonable terms only if they have confidence in the future earnings of the railroads.

You Have Another Stake In This

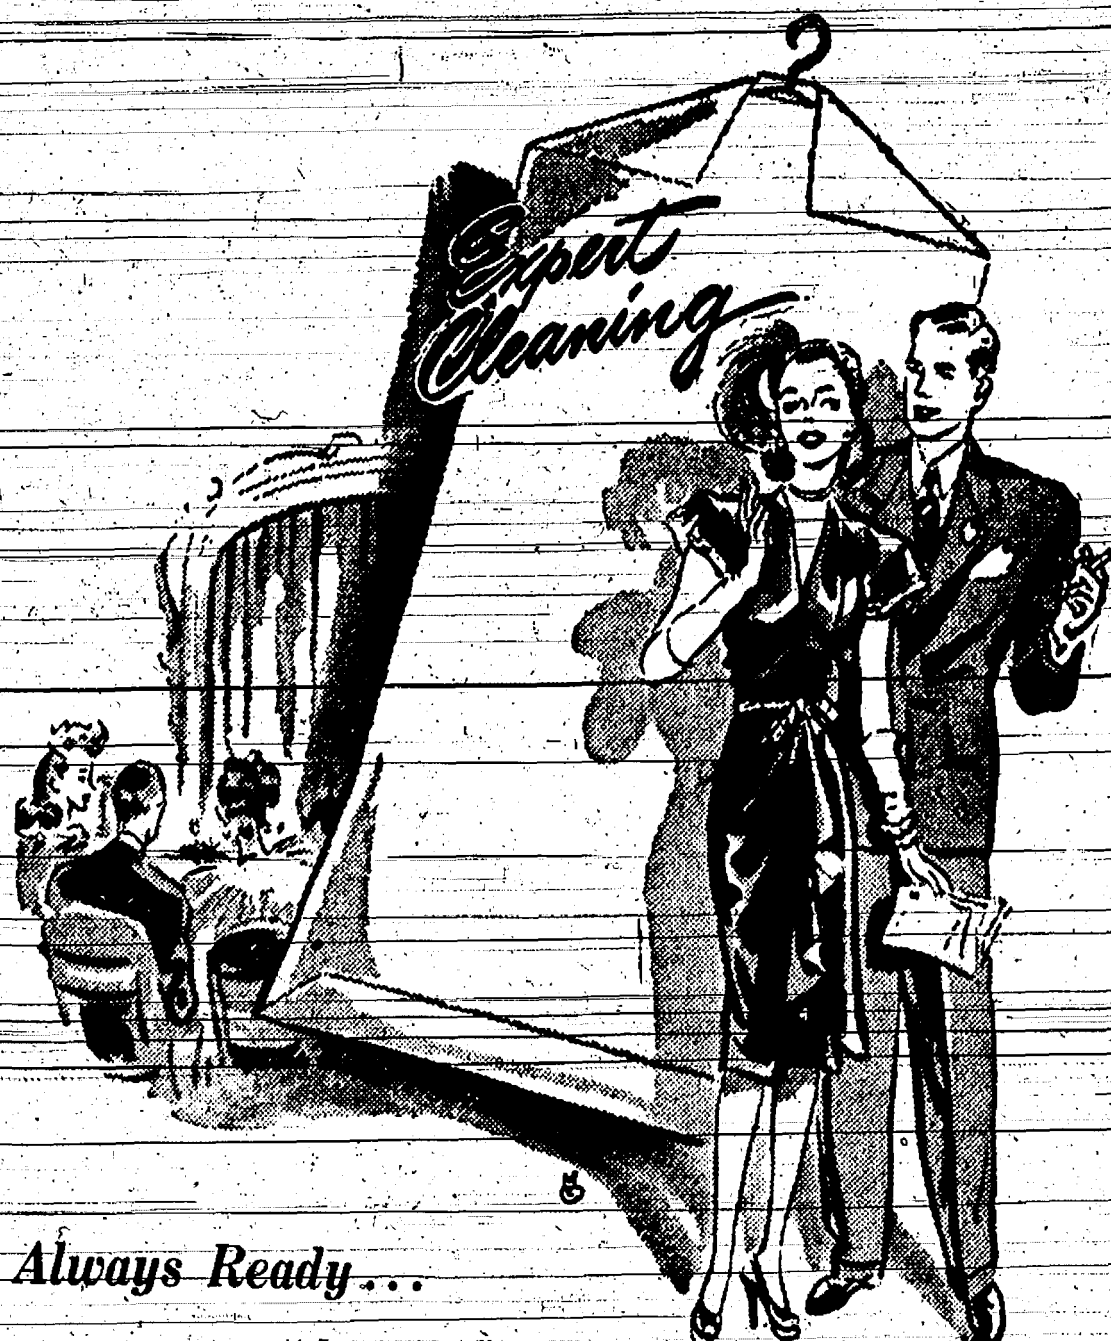

Even if you do not own any railroad stocks or bonds, insurance companies and savings banks do. So you still have a special interest in seeing that the railroads are allowed enough to do a good job . . . for you.

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

*On total property investment, the railroads made only 2.15%.

Wartime Measles Cycle In Michigan Has Been Broken

The wartime measles cycle in Michigan has apparently been broken, Dr. William DeKleine, state health commissioner said this week, as he pointed out that total cases so far this year are only five per cent of the number of cases reported in the same time last year.

Dr. DeKleine warned, however, that measles is a major acute communicable disease from standpoint of resulting loss of life among children. Every child is susceptible, until he has developed immunity through having had the disease. Modification of the course of the disease is possible through the injection of gamma globulin five days after exposure. Danger of fatality is eliminated and permanent immunity is developed.

The number of cases of measles in the state so far this year has been less than the seven year median. During war years one year of low incidence of the disease was followed by two of comparatively high incidence. By this criteria 1947 should be a high year. However, the commissioner pointed out, the majority of the children of susceptible age in the state have been immunized through having had the disease.

Lansing and its vicinity which have escaped the last two outbreaks of measles are exceptions, Dr. DeKleine said. It is estimated that there are approximately 3,000 susceptible children in Lansing. During the past week 15 new cases of measles were reported in Lansing and two in Ingham county. Saginaw county and the Wayne county-Detroit areas each have outbreaks also.

About ten days after exposure, measles resembles a hard cold. There may be sneezing, congestion of the eyes and mucous membranes of the nose and throat and a hacking cough. Temperature ranges from 102 to 104 degrees. Frequently there are small, bluish-white specks surrounded by a bright red ring on the mucous lining of the mouth. These spots precede the true measles rash by two or three days. The rash appears first on face, neck, ears and chest. It is sensitive to light. The effectiveness of gamma globulin depends on the parents' knowledge of when the child is exposed. A physician should be consulted when any of the first symptoms of the disease appear, especially when it is known that cases of the disease exist in the community.

BUCHANAN—Leland Cassler, an official of the hardware firm of Cufier & Downing of Benton Harbor, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cassler, 206 Meacham avenue, and his wife have been vacationing in Mexico recently, having gone there to visit their daughter, Miss Carol Cassler. Miss Cassler went to Mexico City as a college exchange student last fall. Recently, during the visit of President Truman she had the privilege of attending the reception for him, an honor given only to the A students of the college. Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cassler also were guests at a function in honor of President Truman—Berrien County Record.

NORTHVILLE—Mrs. Ella G. Nichols, who will be 77 this May, remains well and active and is learning the lumber business. She hasn't quite mastered the use of a saw, chooses not tobogganing, but expects to try this time next year. She wishes to be remembered to all of her friends in Northville and is looking forward to seeing them this summer, unless she becomes too enthused with brook and lake trout fishing.—The Northville Record.

DEXTER—Rev. Willard Landers of Ann Arbor has accepted the pastorate of the new Full Gospel Assembly church in Dexter. The Dexter pastorate will be Rev. Landers' first. He was ordained as a minister in the Pentecostal Church of God at the Great Lakes district convention held in Bucyrus, Ohio, last September.—The Dexter Leader.

It is next to impossible to sow vegetable seed thinly enough so that the young plants do not crowd each other in the row when they come up. This is particularly true when the seeds are very small.

Carrot seedlings, for example, should be thinned to stand about an inch apart when two to three inches tall. Otherwise the roots cannot develop as they should. Radishes are of better shape, too, if the plants are thinned to stand about an inch apart while still tiny seedlings. Green onions can be thinned by pulling and using the extra spears for the table when they come up too thickly.

Beet seed should be planted at least 1 1/2 to 2 inches apart for each little petst usually contains two to four seeds. When the plants are four to five inches tall, every other one can be pulled for greens. If this is done at intervals while tops and roots are small, space will gradually be left for some of the roots to reach good size.

Sowing leaf lettuce seed sparsely helps to avoid the extra work of later thinning. Even when the stand is fairly thick, instead of thinning the plants some home gardeners prefer to cut the larger outer leaves.

leaving the inner ones to grow. If you like to use each lettuce plant intact, thin to about two inches apart when small. Then, as they become large enough to use, pull up alternate plants and leave the others to grow.

Bush beans should be planted two to four inches apart and just enough seedlings removed from the row so that the remaining ones are four to five inches apart. Beans usually produce more abundantly when the plants do not crowd each other.

Turnips usually do better and grow more rapidly to table size if given three or four inches in which to spread. It is important that turnips grow to eating size quickly to avoid being tough and fibrous. Of course the thinnings make delicious greens when young and tender.

But his rural line neighbors are undismayed
At this fortunate twist of fate.

For telephone etiquette he ignored—
As he giddily prattled away
About this and that and nothing at all
From the earliest light of day.

Now the rural line's free when it's needed.
The neighbors, with conscious restraint,
Avoid calls in series and keep their calls brief—
There's no longer cause for complaint.

in flying his own plane throughout the State on speaking engagements, he recently discovered that it was not possible to devote time to such engagements and at the same time meet the exacting demands of the Executive office at Lansing. Consequently, many engagements have been cancelled by the Governor—and reluctantly so.

Michigan's new governor has proved so far to welcome suggestions and counsel from a variety of advisers. He seeks to get a cross-section of information in this manner, and when the time comes when a decision is required, he makes it promptly and then forgets the responsibility and turns immediately to new problems. This ability to throw off the responsibilities of an Executive office was one of the characteristics of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. Running the state of Michigan is a lot more complicated job than running a Grand Jury investigation under the leadership of an able circuit court judge.

American Legion
Says Communists
Are Enemies of State

"Label them as enemies of the State!"

That's how The American Legion in Michigan wants the Legislature to treat all persons adhering to or expounding the purposes of Communism within the State.

The Legion's executive committee embodied the above request in a resolution that is being forwarded to Gov. Kim Sigler and all senators and representatives.

In its resolution the Legion committee defines Communism as—not a political party—but an international conspiracy and an anti-religious ideology. The resolution further charges that Communism advocates and practices deceit, revolution and the subordination of the individual to the State.

Communism, says the Legionnaires, has as its purpose the overthrowing by violence if necessary—of all democratic forms of government. Believers in such an "ism" as that, they declare, are enemies of the State, and should be labeled as such, so the general public may know who they are, and for what they stand.

PRESIDENT
REPORTS

so includes court costs to date, and fees of the attorneys who were employed by the village last year to defend the case.

Progress is being made by the council and library board on the matter of the library's occupancy of the second floor of the municipal building and it is expected that final arrangements will be made in the near future.

There is much to be done in Chelsea this year. Numerous are the complaints about the streets and sidewalks, and it is hoped that there will be funds available to make a real showing on necessary repairs and improvements. There must be several sewer and water extensions where residential building will be under way soon; a new, larger truck should be purchased for the street department so that more of the village's work can be done by its own employees; there should be more street lights to brighten many dark sections on our streets.

Yes friends, there is work to be done, and lots of it. Demands and suggestions are coming fast and furious, and all within our means will be done. If all should be done, the cost will be beyond anticipated revenues unless additional income is forthcoming, which could come only from higher taxes. This is a very unpopular suggestion, of course, but otherwise the work to be done must necessarily be limited by the amount of available funds.

As stated above, suggestions will be welcome, and we will endeavor to carry out the desire of the people to the best of our ability.

The above statements are not to be construed as opinions of the council, but are given merely as a personal report on the state of the village.

VETERANS

LANSING

Preparation of Applications For Veterans' Bonus
The following instructions, prepared by The Adjutant General of Michigan, are reproduced for the information and guidance of veterans. Application blanks are available at all community Veterans' Counseling Centers.

Applications are provided for veterans as follows: Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard. The one application for each branch of service is to be used by both male and female applicants. Information from the applicant's Discharge Certificate and Report of Separation must be transcribed on the official application form. Do not forward original Discharge Certificate or other copies thereof unless requested by the Adjutant General.

If the applicant served in more than one branch of the service or more than once in the same branch of service between September 16, 1940 and June 30, 1946, applications should be forwarded covering each such branch and period of service. Thus, one who served in both the Army and Navy should make two applications; one who served two or more periods of service in the same branch of service should make an application for each period of service; and women who served in both the WAACS and the WACS should also make two applications.

Four applications are provided for surviving beneficiaries as follows:

- E-4. Husband and wife.
- E-1. Child over 21 years of age.
- E-3. Guardian of an incompetent veteran; guardian of an incompetent beneficiary of a deceased veteran; and guardian of a minor child or children of a deceased veteran.
- E-2. The dependent mother, dependent father, dependent person standing in place of parents, dependent brother, dependent sister.

Payments to the beneficiaries of deceased veterans will be made, first, to the surviving husband or wife, second, if neither husband nor wife survived the veteran, to the child or children of the deceased veteran, and third, if no husband or wife, child or children survived the veteran, then to the surviving dependent mother, dependent father, dependent person standing in place of parents, dependent brothers and sisters, in the order named.

The date of death of the veteran is the date of the determination of the beneficiary or beneficiaries. It follows that if a deceased veteran's husband or wife survived the veteran, he or she is entitled to payment; if there is no surviving spouse on the date of the death of the veteran, the child or children surviving on that date are entitled to payment.

If the veteran died leaving neither spouse nor children, the remaining beneficiaries, mother, father, person standing in place of parents, brothers and sisters, in order to be eligible for payment must have been dependent on the deceased veteran for support and maintenance prior to and on the date of the veteran's death. Dependency is a question of fact to be proved by the applicant who, also, must furnish proof that all potential beneficiaries in the order named preceding the applicant were (1) deceased, or (2) not dependent upon the veteran on the date of death.

Each beneficiary applicant must file a separate application except for applications made by guardians of minor children. If beneficiary application forms are not available in your locality, write to the Adjutant General, Lansing 1, Michigan. State relationship to deceased veteran, and proper form will be mailed. Do not bring your application to the Adjutant General in person. Use the mails.

Do not write letters in an attempt to speed up payment of your claim. Answering such letters only delays the payment. Application forms for Army veterans are still available at the Chelsea State Bank. An additional supply of forms for other branches of service have been ordered and will be available on arrival.
