U. of M. Has Unique Supersonic Wind Tunnel

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN research engineers are now celebrating the newly completed supersonic wind tunnel at the University's Aeronautical Research Center. The wind tunnel is the only one of its type in the country and will give a speed range from 1,000 to 3,000 miles per hour. Economy of construction and operation make the wind tunnel unusual.

Pictured above at the right is Raymond Schneyer, project engineer on the wind tunnel, as he looks over the glass enclosed part of the tunnel's test section where the wing will reach speeds from 1.4 to 4.5 times the speed of sound. Models of planes up to 12 inches in length may be placed in the test section. At the left of the picture is William Scudder, a laboratory assistant, who is checking a manometer. The manometer was especially constructed to indicate wind velocity. It is one of several devices used to record data during tests.

4-H Dairy Clubs Hold Cattle Judging Tour

Representatives from the various 4-H dairy clubs in the county held their annual dairy cattle judging tour, Friday, June 13. Approximately twenty-five boys visited 3 farms to practice judge dairy cattle as part of their training before entering elimination contests in judging to be held at Michigan State college, August 8 and 9.

Neville Pearson, from the State 4-H Club department, gave the instructional material in judging as well as a demonstration in fitting and showing dairy cattle. The farms visited were: Lavry Farms, Guernsey; Oral Bassett, Jersey; and Ypsilanti State Hospital, Holsteins.

More Winter Milk From Better Hay

If you want to get more milk out of your hay next winter, the time to plan it is now. George Parsons, extension dairy specialist, says experiments show that hay cut when there is a heavy sprinkling of blood factor which makes a cow give more milk.

The Michigan State college dairy specialist says the heavy growth due to rain should cause a heavy first cutting. The successful dairyman will see that the hay is cut at the right time for he knows that economical milk production depends greatly on the kind and quality of roughage used.

STOCKBRIDGE—The First Methodist church of Stockbridge will dedicate a Hammond Electric Organ and DeLamas amplified Cathedral Chimes, Sunday, June 22. The dedication service which commences at 10:30, will be preceded by a 15 minute concert on the organ and chimes by Miss Nellie Stephens, choir director and organist.—The Stockbridge Brief-Sun.

MILAN—An unusual accident Tuesday evening resulted in the instant death of Joseph Boomus, 46 years old, of Talladay road. He was assisting Claude Wilber at his home on Hitchingham Road in drilling a well, and the long pipe ward through an overshadowing tree. The branches obscured their view and they accidentally touched a high tension wire overhead and received a full charge. Mr. Wilber was thrown to the ground and suffered shock, but Mr. Boomus was instantly killed. County Coroner Ganzhorn pronounced death as due to electrocution.—The Milan Leader.

MANCHESTER—Haller and Schmid's slaughter house was entered by thieves, Tuesday, June 17, who stole a quantity of hides. The huge refrigerator was broken into, but no meat was taken. Theft of meat was apparently the aim of the intruders, who cut a freshly slaughtered beef carcass in two. Either they were frightened away before they could finish their work, or they found the beef too heavy to carry, as it was still there when the robbery was discovered. Nothing else was molested, as far as can be ascertained.—The Manchester Enterprise.

GRASS LAKE—Rev. Robert E. McLean is to leave the Grass Lake Methodist church to take over the position as minister of the Methodist church in Bad Axe, Michigan. It was announced at the annual Methodist conference held at the Metropolitan Methodist church in Detroit. Rev. Robert Bryce, formerly of the St. Luke's Methodist church, Detroit, is to be minister for the Grass Lake and Mt. Hope churches. It is expected that Rev. Bryce will give the sermon here this Sunday.—The Grass Lake News.

DEXTER—Dexter's 4th of July celebration begins to look pretty good. As days come and go further arrangements are completed and it begins to look like this event will be one of those that are usually a feature of this community. The parade on the opening day July 3, will feature youngsters with decorated bicycles, scooters, wagons, etc. and appropriate prizes will be given those judged the best.—The Dexter Leader.

BUCHANAN—June 19 is an important anniversary of an important institution in Buchanan. For today the First Presbyterian church of this city "woke on the morn of its hundredth year," though not in the further language of Oliver Wendell Holmes' masterpiece, "both looking and feeling ancient." On June 19, 1847, a handful of the founding fathers gathered in the town schoolhouse, the present home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Long at 305 Main street, and became the charter members of the local organization. Although it was the second congregation to be organized in Buchanan, it was the first to erect its own building.—Berrien County Record.

Suddenly it's young again

PROBABLY that faithful Buick of yours still can show a clean pair of heels to other cars on the road — probably still rides and runs like a charm. It makes you realize how wise you were to have picked a Buick in the first place.

Even though time always takes a toll, Buicks do carry their years well. They can keep their eagerness to go, their light-hearted gait and gentle comfort — particularly when they are rewarded with the considerate care that Buick dealers know how to provide. It's care that brings out your car's youthful spirit — care that lets you feel that suddenly it's young again.

Buick car care is something far different from what's regularly called service. It's something that only a Buick man can give.

Because he is trained in all the needs and preferences of Buicks. The tools he uses are the right Buick tools. And any replacement part your car may need is a Buick-engineered part.

So it's easy to see why your car is so ready to give you its best when it receives regular Buick car care — care by men who know Buicks through and through and love them heart and soul.

BUICK CARE
KEEPS BUICKS BEST

THIS WORM TURNS A BIG CAR

A Buick steers with a finger touch. Part of the secret is a stream of 66 steel balls that circle the worm on the steering column. With these balls there is so little friction that steering is feather-light — so little wear that the gear stays taut and firm without frequent take-ups.

Your Buick dealer lubricates this gear with just the lubricant Buick intended. Anything heavier would make steering stiff in winter — anything lighter fails to give full protection against wear.

It's another instance of how Buick care keeps Buicks best. And the same holds true in whatever your car needs — lube job, tune-up, major or minor repair.

SHORT STORY

Nice Old Girl

By MARGARET COBB

WHEN Sally Carter spied the crisp green of the bill lying about the white of the sidewalk that bordered the engineering building, she dropped the handle of the baby carriage and swooped down upon it.

"Look, Richey, look!" she cried happily to the cheerful bright-eyed boy in the carriage. "A ten-dollar bill—a real, brand new ten-dollar bill. I found it myself, and I can spend it any way I please!"

Turning the carriage briskly to return the way she had come, Sally sped her son back toward the trailer camp that nestled at the foot of the hill, a haven for married student veterans.

Once inside her trailer home she hurriedly hung the pinfold in the tiny clothes closet and reached for her best shirt and sweater. "Do you know what I'm going to do with this money, Richey?" she cried playfully. "I'm going to get you a play pen, so you can stay out in the fresh air all day long and have plenty of room to wiggle around in." Sally dropped the sweater to give the baby a quick, impetuous hug. "We'll get Daddy that pipe he wants, and maybe there'll be enough money left over to get me some dress material!"

Spending joyfully across the campus toward town, her hand straying

In mid-afternoon, about the time Sally was unwrapping her gifts, often to the money in her pocket, Sally suddenly slowed her pace, her face sober.

"Oh, dear," she thought, "I've been so happy about having some money all my own that it hadn't even occurred to me that it belongs to someone else. Oh, dear!"

PARKING the carriage at the door to the engineering building, she emerged, hesitated a moment outside a door marked "Office," and went in. The secretary looked up as Sally laid the bill on the desk.

"I found this outside the building, Miss Hanson, so I guess it belongs to someone in here." She was talking fast, turning to leave.

"Wait a minute, Mrs. Carter," the older woman called. "You may as well keep it. I don't see how we can ever find out who it belongs to. 'Finders keepers,' you know. Now you just run along downtown and see what you can find to buy."

"Do her good to have some money at her own," Miss Hanson muttered as the door closed. "Of course I should have held it a day or two in case anyone asked about it, but that child probably hasn't had a dollar to spend as she likes since Richard entered here!"

In mid-afternoon, about the time Sally was unwrapping her new purchases at home, Richard Carter was frantically going through his pockets.

"I know I brought it with me," he muttered as he searched one pocket after another. "Good grief, what'll I do? It's all the money we had left for the rest of the month—a nice new ten-dollar bill. I must have dropped it when I opened my billfold sometime today."

A MOMENT later, as he was explaining his plight to the secretary, he was relieved to see a quick look of comprehension in her eyes. "You haven't had it turned in, have you?" he finished hopefully.

"Why, yes," she replied slowly. "I have. At least, a young lady gave me a ten-dollar bill this morning and told me she'd found it outside. It must have been yours. Wait a minute, I put it in my pocketbook for safekeeping."

Reaching into a drawer in the desk, Miss Hanson pulled out a well-worn black bag. After a moment's search she found a bill, tucked away with several one-dollar ones, that was crisp and new and had the numeral "10" in its corners. "Here it is," she said, handing it over with a smile.

"The boy took the money with a grateful grin. 'Well, thank goodness, we can eat for the rest of the month, anyway,' he said as he left the office. 'Thanks a million, Miss Hanson!'"

Vegetables at Their Best

Real enjoyment of your home vegetable garden depends largely upon proper preparation of the vegetables for the table.

Gather leafy crops early in the morning, if possible, before the sun wilts them. If they are to be kept until a later meal, wash and cover them and place in the refrigerator. Pick peas and sweet corn within an hour of getting them ready for the kitchen.

Scrape or peel vegetables thinly; valuable minerals are just beneath the outer skin. Young carrots, beets, and summer squash should merely be scrubbed and not peeled. Neither should vegetables be soaked in water before cooking. This, too, causes loss of minerals.

Cook vegetables quickly and only until barely tender. Usually they taste better if lightly undercooked than they do if soft and mushy from overcooking. In boiling, use only a small amount of water, saving whatever liquid remains when the cooking is finished. If there is too much to serve with the vegetable, keep it to add to soup. In boiling vegetables make sure the water is really boiling before adding them. If put over the fire in cold water, vegetables lose color, flavor, texture, and much of their food value.

Vegetables fresh from the garden need very little dressing up to make them deliciously appetizing. Simple methods of cookery are best with the simplest of seasonings added. Until you have eaten vegetables fresh picked from your garden and properly cooked you do not know the taste of vegetables at their best.

Sports Socks

Long a favorite with youngsters, some grownups have adopted angora socks for sportswear. Since these socks are in the more expensive bracket, wash after each wearing in lukewarm suds, squeezing the suds gently through them. Angora should never be rubbed. Rinse thoroughly in water of the same temperature and roll in a towel to squeeze out the excess moisture. Dry on wire or board forms, if you have them. If not, trace their original outlines on a piece of cardboard and cut around the edges for a good frame to slip inside. This restores the original size and shape and speeds drying. Then the socks are completely dry, shake vigorously to fluff up the nap or use a soft brush.

Repair Cuff

If the cuff of a man's coat is badly frayed, it may be more successful to trim the hem off exactly on the line of wear. Cut the worn edge carefully from the sleeve and from the hem, which is to be used now as a facing. With a very tiny seam, stitch the facing back onto the sleeve and press the seam open. In either of these methods—to keep the seam flat so that it won't show on the right side, turn the facing down and stitch it very close to the seam line. Then turn it up so that the seam is just inside the sleeve, and slipstitch in place. Tack the lining back onto the facing. When the cuff is pressed it should be in condition for many more wearings.

Pole Fishing Season Opened June 25th

Lansing—Wednesday, June 25, came pole fishermen started some of Michigan's most leisurely and productive fishing, and bass fishermen began some of the state's sportiest angling.

It will be the first major fishing season of the year to open with prospects of favorable weather. Ice fishermen found the going rough, trout fishermen had the icest opening in years and it still was chilly when pike fishermen went onto the lakes May 25.

There was no serious winterkill last season, and inland lakes across the state have plenty of water. The late spring may have delayed some spawning.

The conservation department reports the regulations are unchanged. On June 25 the lake south of highway M-46 from Muskegon to Port Sanilac are open to fishing for all species of fish, and in lakes north of the highway, where other fishing has been in progress, bluegills and black bass become legal.

Bluegills and sunfish have a size limit of six inches, a creel limit of 15. When taken in combination with perch, rock bass and crappies, the combined total is 25, but not more than 15 of these may be bluegills.

The black bass size limit, for both largemouth and smallmouth, is 10 inches, and the creel limit is five a day—with walleyed or northern pike counted as part of that five if any are taken. The Great Lakes limit is 10 a day—double the inland waters creel—but not more than five of the 10 may be bass, and not more than five of the 10 may be northern pike.

Fireworks Accidents A Serious Problem

Six persons were killed and 903 were injured by fireworks accidents last Fourth of July. The number of persons injured in 1946 shows a decided drop in comparison with previous years. Total injured in 1941 was 2,039. But 6 deaths and 903 injuries represent far too great and unnecessary a toll for this phase of the holiday celebration.

Last year 44 persons suffered injuries to their eyes, many resulting in total blindness. The reduction of unnecessary injuries from fireworks depends both on adequate state legislation and on satisfactory enforcement.

Next-of-Kin To Decide On GI Dead Re-Burial

The War Department has begun the distribution of questionnaires to next-of-kin of all deceased servicemen asking their desire as to the disposition of remains of the nation's war dead.

Next-of-kin will have four options:

1. That the remains be interred in a permanent American military cemetery overseas;
2. That the remains be returned to United States for interment by next-of-kin in a private cemetery;
3. That the remains be shipped within, or returned to a foreign country, the homeland of the deceased or next-of-kin, for interment there by next-of-kin in a private cemetery;
4. That the remains be returned to the United States for final interment in a national cemetery.

Inquiries concerning the disposition of the deceased should be addressed by next-of-kin to the following addresses:

Army and attached civilians—Office of the Quartermaster-General, Memorial Division, War Department, Washington 25, D.C.

Navy—Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Navy Department, Washington 25, D.C.

Marine Corps—Commandant, U. S. Marine Corps, Navy Department, Washington 25, D.C.

Coast Guard—Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D.C.

Veterans Warned To Protect GI Property Loans

Ex-servicemen and women who have used GI loans to buy homes are advised not to sell their property without making certain that their interests are protected.

A veteran is inviting trouble if he consents to any sale of his property whereby the purchaser merely takes over the existing loan. In such case the veteran remains personally responsible for payment of the loan and once an ex-serviceman has used his $3000 loan guarantee, he can secure no further backing from Uncle Sam.

Whenever an ex-serviceman sells a home financed by a GI loan, he should demand that the purchaser either pay cash or arrange a loan in his own name. Then the veteran should see that his own note is marked paid and that the lien on his property is marked satisfied on court records.

If an ex-serviceman consents to a sale in which the purchaser merely assumes the existing indebtedness, the veteran later may have to pay any part of the debt defaulted by the new owner. If the new owner fails to keep up his payments, the lending institution can foreclose and may force a trustee's sale where the property could be sold at less than the amount of the debt remaining. When proceeds from the sale do not cover the amount of the loan

Air Compressor Is Handy Farm Tool

An old auto compressor comes in handy for a lot of farm jobs, according to Wayne Williams, of Cedar Springs. He raised his compressor to a small electric motor so it would be easy to use for spraying, dusting, applying fly spray, and cleaning small motors and farm seed tools, as well as for inflating tires. A pipe, bolted to the motor base, sets into two notched pieces of angle iron, which are bolted to the wooden base, to hold the porterty without making certain that their interests are protected.

Proper Fly Control Eliminates Disease

Proper Equipment and Application Important

Many diseases and cases of contamination are traceable to flies. Spraying with DDT and other new chemicals presents the first truly effective means of controlling flies.

DDT is amazingly effective for several weeks. Flies landing on treated surfaces die in a few minutes from a condition similar to delirium tremens. The main steps to a good fly control program are:

First: Clean up the breeding places where flies lay their eggs.

Second: Spray DDT on all surfaces where flies gather. For this work a sprayer developing some pressure is needed. A garden type compressed air or larger sprayer will do the job efficiently. Around the home, spray the doors, windows, the back porch, out buildings, etc.

On the farm, the ceilings outstanding, the difference remains a debt against the veteran. The U. S. government will pay the lending agency for any portion of this debt which is guaranteed, and the veteran will then owe the government. If part of the remaining debt is not guaranteed, the veteran will continue to owe this to the lending institution.

Injuries In Training Under Public Law 16

Veterans drawing compensation for service connected disabilities who wish to enter a job-training program should know that under Public Law 16, any injuries incurred during the training program which result in further disabilities, or death, will result in benefits on the same basis as if the disability or death had been incurred in war services. These benefits do not apply to trainees under Public Law 346, Chapter 381, American Law of Veterans, states:

"If a veteran trainee suffers an injury, or aggravation of an injury, as a result of the pursuit of a course of vocational rehabilitation (P. L. 16), and not as a result of his own willful misconduct, and such injury or aggravation results in additional disability to or death of such person, benefits will be awarded on the same basis as if the disability, aggravation, or death had been incurred in war service. Application for this benefit must be made within two years after the injury was suffered or such death occurred."

Survivors Should Cash Terminal Leave Bonds

In the event of the death of a veteran who holds an Armed Forces Leave Bond, his survivors should arrange immediately to cash in the bond. This bond, while negotiable for five years by the veteran himself, may be cashed in by survivors in the following order, in event of the veteran's death: First, wife (or husband) and children, in equal shares; and second, the parents or grandparents, step-parents or parents through adoption, in equal shares. Neither brothers nor sisters nor other relatives are eligible to receive payment, and if the veteran left none of the above listed survivors, the bonds revert to the government. Application is made on Treasury department Form PD 2066.

Hurdle for Hogs

Much time can be saved in handling, moving or catching hogs by use of the easily constructed hurdle shown above.

Not Possible to Make Hay While Sun Shines

Too often rain comes before the hay can be field cured or placed in the barn. Barn-drying is a system designed to overcome the weather hazard in making hay. New York station specialists point out that it is possible to produce high quality hay with barn-dryers when they are used wisely. Unless drying can be accomplished in 7 to 10 days, moldy hay or a product of low feeding value may result.

Farm Mortgages

Private lenders held nearly 70 per cent of the U. S. farm mortgages in 1945. Insurance companies had 17.4 per cent.

Plants Make Own Foods

Plants use raw materials from the soil and the air to make their own foods by a process called photosynthesis.

Tricks Of Removing Bad Ink Stains From Clothing Explained

Pouring ink on ink stains is an old custom which may work, but Francis E. Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent, recommends newer methods.

Writing inks differ so much that what removes one kind may set another. Washable inks will come out by rinsing in water and then soaking in soapwater. But soap will set ink containing iron tannate. It is best to try several methods. Begin with the simplest and the one least likely to harm the cloth. Treat while the ink is still fresh and moist if possible.

As soon as ink is spilled, spread cornmeal, cornstarch or talcum powder on the stain to absorb as much as possible and keep it from spreading. As the powder shows color, shake it off and shake on fresh until no more ink is taken up.

Then pour either glycerine or a soapless shampoo on the stain. Rub lightly between the hands. Rinsing and apply more as long as any ink comes from the stain. Finally, rinse with clear water.

If traces of ink still show, try lemon juice or citric acid powder—successful bleaches from iron tannate ink. Other bleaches may be used on white fabrics. On colored materials they must be used sparingly and with great care. After using any bleach, rinse it out thoroughly with water.

Barrel Chicken Coop

A serviceable brood coop is made by sawing a barrel of any kind in the middle, making the cut sloping, as shown in the illustration. When an entrance hole has been sawed out on one side of each half, two coops will be completed. When the half barrel is inverted, the top will slope sufficiently to turn water. The coop must be placed so that water will not drain into the coop.

United War Fund Closes Three Years Of Worthy Service

Final chapter in a three-year story of generosity and service on the part of the people of Michigan was written in Lansing Monday, June 9, when D. Hale Brake signed his name for $27,000 which represents the final payment of the Michigan United War Fund to the National War Fund.

During the three war years the people of Michigan gave and paid to the War Fund more than fifteen and a half million dollars for the support of the USO and war relief agencies. Brake, state treasurer, served as treasurer of the Michigan United War Fund for the three years.

More than ten thousand volunteer workers, from every county in the state, are among the unsung heroes of the fifteen and a half million dollar campaign. Only one other state, California, exceeded Michigan's performance for the servicemen and the stricken peoples of war devastated lands.

County Road Crews Need Help To Control Heavy Weed Growth

High grass and rank weed growth along rural roads is becoming a problem to the farmer, the road commission, and is a danger to the motorist as roadside ditches and other obstructions are not readily visible, according to Kenneth Hallenbeck, county road commission manager.

"The county road commission has six mowers in operation and three new tractor-mowers have been on order since last winter, but these may not be received this summer, according to advice received from the supplier," Hallenbeck said.

"The ultimate in roadside mowing would be from fence to fence, not only to improve the appearance, but as important, this service would in turn help to keep roads from drifting full with snow in the winter," he said.

The total amount received by the road commission to maintain the former township roads is $58.27 per mile per year (approximately $1.00 per week) and this is from gasoline tax collections. All of this amount could be spent on mowing and brush cutting, which would leave no funds for graveling, culverts, snow removal and other operations. Many farmers and other land owners have for years kept their own roadsides clean, which enhances the value and appearance of their property, and the road commission urges others to emulate the best in this regard.

The limited finances and equipment of the road commission makes it possible for only one trip over each road, and then often times this is not until late summer.

Loan Sharks Preying On Holders Of Service Terminal Leave Bonds

A warning to be on the alert for loan sharks preying on terminal leave bondholders was sounded this week by George E. Ijams, Director, National Rehabilitation Service, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, says Army Times.

Although the Armed Forces Leave Act makes terminal leave bonds non-assignable and non-negotiable until five years from their issue date, increasing reports from VFW service officers reveal that "sharp operators" have found the means to their end.

There are variations on the scheme, Ijams said, but it follows this general pattern: The loan shark suggests to the bondholder that he can realize some ready cash for his "worthless" bond—values of which, are scaled from a top of $1500 down to $250 for a "small interest fee."

While most veterans know that the earliest any bond will mature is April 1, 1948, and most of them much later, many servicemen are in need of extra finances and can be enticed by the bait.

Then comes the clincher. The speculator agrees to give the veteran 50 per cent of the face value in cash immediately, hold the balance as security and pay another 25 per cent if the veteran signs the bond when payment by the government comes due.

The loan shark realizes 25 per cent of the bond's face value plus interest computed at 2 1/2 per cent annually. On a $500 bond, the "investor" stands to reap up to $165.80 for his initial investment of $250.

"Unfortunately, there is no penalty provided in connection with usurious interest or other fees derived by a lender in such cases," Ijams said. Meanwhile, he said, veterans who are approached by unscrupulous speculators should report the incident to veterans' organization officials, or the press, in their hometowns so that the loan sharks can be exposed and other veterans protected from mistakenly entering into such transactions.

Standard Liners Bring Results

Make Every Milking Minute Count with a

MCCORMICK-DEERING

There's no time lost in the dairy barn when you use a MCCORMICK-DEERING Milker. Here's why:

Place unit on floor, attach standard hose, turn on vacuum—no lock on pail. Apply test cups one at a time—and you're milking. You don't have to balance pail or worry about it being level.

Crazy Hat Wins Refrigerator!

One of those "Breakfast in the morning" radio shows came to Capitol City last week, and Sarrah Carey won first prize for wearing the craziest hat in the audience. It was a full-sized refrigerator! (The prize, not the hat.)

"Glad them hats of hers paid off at last," says Ed, treating the whole thing like a joke. But you could see he was proud of Sarrah. From where I sit, there's another thing Ed can be proud of: the way he's put up with those hats of Sarrah's, with never a criticism; just as she's put up with Ed's pipe and the other little freedoms he enjoys. They've got that refrigerator home now, stocked with beer; and we're going over tonight to drink a toast—not just to Sarrah's hats taking first prize... but to a happily married couple, who've learned to live with one another's differences in tastes—whether it's a taste for hats or beer!

Observe Safety Rules For Picnic Campfires

Do you know the simple rules of safety to follow with fires at your summer picnics and camping trips?

Years of experience have taught us a few rules that apply whether the fire is built in a field, in the woods or along the roadside. Fred W. Roth, safety specialist at Michigan State college, says the rules are easy to follow.

Before you build a fire, sweep away all leaves, twigs, dry grass and papers from a circle five feet across. Dig a hole in the middle and build a small fire in it. Never build it against trees or logs, or near brush.

Never leave a fire until it is out. Put it out by stirring the coals while soaking them with water. Wet sticks on both sides and wet the ground around the fire. If there is no water, stir in moist earth and tread it down tight over the fire.

Be sure the match that lighted the fire is out. Break it in two before you throw it away. Be sure also that cigarette or cigar stubs and pipe ashes are dead before throwing them away. Never throw them into brush, leaves or pine needles.

Mow Drying Of Hay Is Becoming Popular

Mow drying of hay has become very popular among Michigan farmers due to the problem of getting the crop dry enough to store without danger of spontaneous combustion in storage.

Agricultural engineers at Michigan State college have conducted tests that show the installation of mow drying equipment, including fan, costs approximately $10 per ton-drying capacity.

Operational costs of mow drying hay from 85 per cent moisture content down to the safe storage of 20 per cent moisture content is approximately $1 per ton.

County agricultural agents are prepared to offer complete information on mow drying equipment.

GETTING AROUND!

A late leg-band report from Indiana reveals a pheasant released in St. Joseph county in April, 1946, was shot in November near Lakeville 10 miles south of South Bend, after wandering 35 miles in seven months. Ordinarily, pheasants remain within a mile or two of the point where they were released after being banded by the conservation department.

REPORT OF NO. LAKE COMMUNITY W.C.T.U.
 The annual meeting of the North Lake Community Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held on June 12 in the beautiful lounge of the Chelsea Hotel.
 The president Mrs. H. G. Pearce called the meeting to order and sang "Rescue the Perishing." Ten quickly responded with bible verses and the president led in prayer for the church, the ministers, the Sunday school teachers, the officers of the church, the members of the U. N., that all might work together for peace and the temperance advance.
 In her message Mrs. Pearce told of the great meeting in Chicago last January when plans were made for the program of the Methodist church in its next great battle, which will be the crusade against the liquor traffic. She reminded the group that the first Sunday of Lent will be Commitment Day when the members of the church will be asked to make or take the Total Abstinence Pledge.
 Mrs. Pearce said high praise should be given to our national president Mrs. Lee Colvin, for her part in the hearing of the S. 866 bill against liquor advertising.
 In her closing message the president urged the women to be much in prayer, "for more things are wrought by prayer than this old world dreams of." To the report that $9,000,000 were spent for liquor the past year she replied that it equaled $89.00 for every man, woman and child above 14 years.
 In answer to a tendency toward discouragement and to give a reason for service, she quoted the poem, "Victory."
 "VICTORY is not a word without a deed."
 "You recall that Edward Everett Hale said:
 "I am but one, but I am one;
 I cannot do everything, but I can do something;
 What I can do, I ought to do,
 And with God's help I will do."
 Seventeen paid their dues and Miss Margaret Craig was appointed secretary and treasurer. She reported that $44.00 were raised for all purposes—the sending of "The Young Crusader" to Chelsea schools and library, and to the Dexter school, and to eight individuals; also a gift of $6.75 for a Light Line Union and the payment of state, district and county dues.
 Mrs. H. G. Pearce, Pres. No. Lake Community W. C. T. U.
 Fisherman's Paradise
 The many rivers, lakes and streams of southern Chile are stocked with rainbow, brown and brook trout. The trout, having thrived in the mountain lakes and crystal clear streams, are so huge and plentiful that fishermen hooking fish less than 15 inches in length usually throw them back. A fair day's catch after returning the "Chico" will be anywhere from 15 to 50 fish, ranging in size from 15 to 30 inches. Rainbow trout weighing as much as 44 pounds are a matter of record. The climate is temperate and there are practically no mosquitoes, gnats or black flies. The season runs six months.

NATION'S LONGEST . . . Can you top Atty. J. Wash Adams, 65, Whitesburg, Ky., who has claimed to be the nation's longest married man. He and his wife, who measures approximately 10 inches.

Chelsea Aerie, FOE, Endorses Following Heritage Program
 Chelsea Aerie, No. 2836, Fraternal Order Eagles, endorses the American Heritage Program sponsored by the Attorney General and endorsed by the President of the United States and is endorsing the following resolution to Hon. Tom C. Clark, Attorney General of the United States.
 WHEREAS, the Hon. Tom C. Clark, Attorney General of the United States, has sponsored a conference at the White House on May 22, 1947, composed of many leading American citizens of varied walks of life and differing political views (the F.O.E. being represented by Vincent Miles, a member of Aerie No. 871, Alexandria, Virginia) for the purpose of organizing The American Heritage Program inaugurating the Freedom Train and other activities having for their purpose "the raising of the level of active citizenship in our country by inducing understanding and appreciation of the heritage of our way of life and the system of Government which has bestowed its blessing upon the American people; and
 WHEREAS, Our Country now stands at a cross-roads of its history. Military victory has brought only a breathing-space in our quest for peace and security. On the domestic front we are now undergoing the grave trials of economic readjustments. In this crucial period, we deem it imperative that a comprehensive program of education in the ideals and practices of American democracy be launched. We have a tendency to take our democratic government for granted. We think of it as we would a familiar landmark. It is here today; it will be there tomorrow. But that is not the history of the struggle for human freedom. "Liberty exists in proportion to our wholehearted restraints" and the price of this must be the eternal vigilance of those who enjoy it and cherish it as a necessary way of life.
 THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles does hereby endorse The American Heritage Program and pledges itself and its individual members to conduct fitting exercises at meetings of the Aerie and to co-operate and participate in all community activities during Week-Dedication Week, Interfaith Day and Labor Day in the programs sponsored and handled by civic and community committees, as offered and instituted by The American Heritage Foundation which will seek to develop pride in our heritage and a determination to preserve it and to promote by the Attorney General and endorsed by the President of the United States.
 Adopted in regular meeting of Aerie No. 2836, F.O.E., located at Chelsea, Michigan, this 12th day of June, 1947.
 Benjamin G. Lawrence, President.
 Harold Bair, Secretary.
 At the meeting tonight (Thursday), June 26, we will hold our first initiation for the coming year. All members are asked to attend this meeting and bring in your candidate. There will be the presentation of certificates and the drawing for the prize for membership gains for May.
 Jackson Aerie No. 612, will be well represented at this meeting. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Grapefruit Dessert

Bans 'Sugar Blues'
"Although we all join in the chorus of 'Sugar Blues' these days, you can change those blue notes to gay notes by serving grapefruit for dessert!" the Country editor of nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer tells housewives.

"Nary a grain of sugar is used on this trio of grapefruit 'bans,'" she writes in the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families. "Topped with jams, jellies and preserves, they merrily sing out good eating. So strike up a new tune by having grapefruit for dessert."

Cheese-Hoop Hassock

A round cheese box may be made into an inexpensive, attractive hassock to match a slip-covered chair, according to the Rural Home editor of nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer. Pad the lid; cover with material. Cover hassock with matching fabric. The hassock with its removable lid can double as a box for children's toys.

Baby Blankets
You can make four baby blankets from one regular size blanket. Cut the blanket into quarters and bind with ribbon or blanket-binding. This plan gives enough baby blankets for frequent launderings.

Our Neighbors

FRANKFORT—A celebration to be held in Frankfort on July 25-26 and named the Frankfort Homecoming and Carnival will be under the sponsorship of the East End Civic it was announced this week. The Civic in conjunction with organizations in Frankfort have held several meetings recently to lay plans for it.—The Benzie County Patriot.

MANCHESTER—George L. Par-tee of Hudson, is the new owner of the Enterprise. Partee purchased the paper from H. H. Farley, who succeeded Mar. Blosser, publisher of the paper several years ago. Partee now devotes his efforts exclusively to the Clinton Local, which he and Mrs. Farley operated along with the Enterprise. The new publisher is a native of Defiance, Ohio. Prior to his enlistment in the Army Air Force in 1941, he was employed in several publishing and printing plants in Michigan and Ohio.—The Manchester Enterprise.

MILAN—Nick Moriana, 40, of Cleveland, checked the Register Monday afternoon when a New York Central streamliner sliced the rear end of the semi-trailer van he was driving across the tracks at Forest avenue, Ypsilanti. Police said the crack passenger train bound for Chicago, sheared the rear section nearly of the trailer, leaving the driver upburt in the cab, which remained upright.—The Milan Leader.

MILAN—Culminating 12 years of service on the board of the Washtenaw County Chapter of Crippled Children and Disabled Adults, Guy Miller was elected president at the annual meeting held Tuesday evening at the Rackham School in Ypsilanti. Other officers elected were J. C. Hendley of Manchester, vice-president.—The Milan Leader.

NORTHVILLE—Last Saturday police were summoned to the Lee Carron Riding Stables on complaint that a gun had been discharged by small children. Police found two saddles and a low Colt Automatic 43 caliber in the corner of the corral. Apparently three neighborhood children had found the saddles and gun and fired the pistol. Ownership of the pistol has not been proven, and is not registered. State police have the case.—The Northville Record.

Vegetable Omelet
A vegetable omelet makes a tasty dish for home supper. Either fresh or home-canned peas, corn, spinach and beans are delicious. They may also be used in combination, an excellent means of using up leftover vegetables.
