

By Gene Allaman

This Michigan Marco Polo game has been faithfully recorded in this column for more than ten years, is hitting the trail again. We had a grandfather who hit the trail for a lifetime. We like our travels in doses, not every week as a steady diet, and we are leaving behind...

Yes, we're going to travel the easy way. No more traveling with poles in the back of the car, no more chopping wood for our little cricket happy. No, sirree!

We are going to take our own cabin along with us. Any place our automobile can go, our new 19-foot Michigan-made house can go. At least, so we now think. Having a snug apartment on wheels, ready to use when you arrive at your destination, is a luxury for this veteran camping fan. We don't know what our old buddies of World War would say about this delishious way of going places and seeing things. But after living it the works over the Fourth of July week-end, it can be truthfully said that it beats a $40 and $60 a night all hollow.

One essential for trailer travel, we have learned, is that you must be on good speaking terms with your wife. The distance from the daybed or davenport at the front to the Hollywood-style bed at the back is only 19 feet. In between is the kitchen with stove, icebox, places to keep pots and pans and a lot of room for arguments.

There isn't a whole lot of space, you see. People who live in trailers must be like people who live in glass houses. If anyone was silly enough to get into a trailer, you've just got to get along with the missus. If she hurled a dish or shoe at you, the result would be utter, stark disaster. You couldn't duck.

The missus is pretty well accustomed to our life for camping outdoors. Several years ago, inspired by pictures she saw in a Life magazine, she purchased a heat catalog outfit. When it arrived, she put it on, and lo and behold, what greeted her astonished eyes was this: A floppy coat and baggy pants, all in a dirty green color that utterly defied fashion description.

The poet of Mt. Pleasant, Webb McCall, once cast his optics on it and solemnly proclaimed: "L. L. Bean is my tailor, and I shall want."

Why did we happen to take the trailer plunge? It's awfully simple; maybe it's simply awful. During the war years we jointly fostered a fund to finance a cabin in the Michigan pine woods of Northern Michigan. This summer we traveled in our summer's traveling itinerary of newspaper, magazine and there-and-thereabouts to invest in a cabin, when we would be at Traverse City one week-end, and somewhere else the next. Hence, our cabin on wheels.

Next week, after the Lowell Showboat sails on Tuesday night, we're heading north for the Pine Mountains State Park and an editor's get-together at Ontonagon. Michigan is a great place to live. Don't let anyone tell you otherwise.

Chamber Commerce Holds Guest Night With Wives Attending

Chelsea Chamber of Commerce held an enjoyable social meeting Monday evening at the Municipal Building. This was the guest night, many members' wives were also present.

Following a delicious meal a short business meeting was held at which it was voted to cancel the August meeting, and in its place have committee work up a super meeting for September, details of which will be announced later.

William Kurtz, local Goodyear representative, took care of a program of fun with his masterful presentation of a one-man show of magic.

After what appeared to be a highly successful show, Bill Schatz was observed setting a new style in neckwear. It seems that the magician had run into difficulty in repairing Bill's necktie after having cut it off close to the adam's apple.

However, Walter Harper's, and Jim Nutt's ties were restored as good as new.

With dollar bills being burned, then reappearing in lemons and many other fascinating stunts being performed, the entertainment was most enjoyable.

Chelsea Elec. Sales & Service Now Under New Management

Harvey Knickerbocker and his brother-in-law, Max Collins, of Grass Lake, are the new owners of the Chelsea Sales and Service store on Park street, having bought the business from Lewis Bernath, who has conducted it alone since the death of his partner, LeRoy Mayer.

The new owners are planning to carry on the business along the same lines as the former owner for the present, but expect to add photographic equipment later on, in addition to the appliances and radio stock now carried.

Harvey Knickerbocker is well known in Chelsea. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Knickerbocker, he is now on terminal leave from the Navy after eight years of service. His last station was with the Reserve Fleet at Charleston, S. C., where he was Chief Radioman. He expects to be discharged August 30.

He attended the Navy Service school at Norfolk, Va., where he took a three-months' course in Radar Materiel.

He is married and has a baby daughter and at present they are living with his wife's parents at Garden City until they can find a house in Chelsea.

Max Collins, Knickerbocker's partner, is a resident of Grass Lake, where he is confined to bed with a broken back, and will not be active in the business until his recovery. He served in the Navy as a Photographer's Mate 1st during the war and was in the hardware business in Grass Lake before entering the service and is familiar with the type of appliances handled by the Chelsea store.

Observe National Farm Safety Week

In an attempt to curb the rising farm accident rate, President Truman has designated the week commencing July 22 as National Farm Safety Week. In his proclamation he asked for caution and intelligent effort on the part of every farm family in the land to lessen the suffering and economic loss caused by accidents, and the coordinated observance of the week by all people to save lives.

More accidents are caused in the farm home than at farm work, so National Safety Council is directing attention to the necessity of eliminating all home hazards as well as farm hazards.

Report Given Chelsea Electors on School Reorganization Plans

In addition to the routine business at the annual meeting of the Chelsea Public school district at the High school gymnasium Monday night, a complete record of which is to be found in the report of the reorganization secretary, Dr. L. J. Paul, published in this issue of The Standard, a very interesting and informative talk on the much discussed plan for school district reorganization was given by Superintendent Albert C. Johnson.

Although announcement had been made that Mr. Johnson would speak on this intensely interesting subject at the meeting, only about seventy electors of the district were present to hear his well-prepared and ably presented report, which included the entire history of the plan in this service area.

He gave a resume of the steps already taken in the matter as well as the procedure which must take place to have the issue brought to a vote, all of which was outlined in the announcement of the school meeting on page one of last week's issue of The Standard.

Outlining the local situation, Mr. Johnson stated that the problem has been intensively studied by members of the Chelsea School Board and the steering committee of which he, himself, is a member.

Presenting a map of the area which showed the districts where schools are closed and are serving their children to the Chelsea school, and a graph showing that enrollment in the Chelsea school has practically doubled in the past five years, Mr. Johnson said that it was to be seen that planning for the future expansion of school facilities in this area was a matter of necessity, and that the Chelsea district, feeling this to be the case, had taken the initiative in bringing to the people of the community all the facts of the situation as found in the study of the problem.

In a question and answer period which Mr. Johnson conducted at the conclusion of his report, one of the electors present asked if it could happen that, in the event of reorganization, children from the lower grades of the Chelsea Public school district would be transported to one of the rural schools in the district to attend school. Mr. Johnson admitted that it could be possible, but only with the approval of the School Board, and to prevent such a thing from happening, that would be necessary would be for people to get out and vote at their school elections for the men they felt would never approve of such action.

Other questions asked seemed to indicate that questions were being asked that reorganization would mean entire state control of the district and Mr. Johnson said this was not true. He said the state commission advises, recommends, but doesn't decide. All matters are always subject to approval by the local school board.

In answer to a query about whether the whole question of reorganization hadn't moved too quickly for everyone to get a clear picture of it, Mr. Johnson stated that he agreed it had moved rapidly—much more so than he had believed possible—but that meeting held for the purpose of familiarizing those interested in the plan, with all its aspects, have been held to give a clear picture as possible of the project.

Rain, Wet Grounds Are Fatal to Local All Star Games

Old man weather stepped in Friday and took charge of the All Star Games at the local field. After the rain stopped, about 7:00, the field was in no condition to play on. So much in the disappointment of the fans and the local Softball League, the games had to be postponed.

The games, however, will be played on Friday, July 25. Oh, yes, all you people who purchased tickets, they will be honored at the games.

Every possible effort is being made to bring the same team back, but as yet there is nothing definite. However, you are assured of some good softball, so be sure to be there.

There will be stars all along the milky way, so please folks, please come out and watch these mighty Kiwanians from Chelsea and Dexter. It will be a twin real feature and have you feeling Monday evening, July 21—it's a date.

I must not forget that nimble, fifty Doc Sharrard will grace the field for us, and others also (too numerous to mention. Note to ball players): You are to stop at a service station and get your joints alighted before the game, this will eliminate the hazard of squeaking, creaking noises.

And again, I must say, there will be celebrities in action Monday evening, July 21. We shall see a dynamic bundle of muscles on the pitchers mound for our locals and catching will be Chelsea's version of the Tiger's Bob Swift, Vic Koshman.

tively engaged in trying to make both ends meet. Along with everything else the cost of operating all the various departments of a municipality have increased tremendously. In spite of additional costs the tax rate has remained the same and numerous services are provided in Chelsea without direct cost to the people which must be paid directly in most other towns.

I visited a town about the size of Chelsea recently, and upon inquiry found that each resident was paying directly for his garbage and rubbish collection, that there was a sewer service charge (each resident pays a monthly fee for upkeep of their sewerage treatment plant), and the tax rate in this town is 16 mills, or just double the rate in Chelsea.

It is obvious that this Santa Claus business cannot continue in Chelsea if necessary improvements are to be made. We must make up our minds that some better system will have to be worked out—are we to continue many of these free services or are we to neglect our streets and sidewalks which are so sorely in need of repair? It was my intention when I took office to recommend to the council that free pickup of rubbish, both at residences and from the business places, be discontinued, but upon personal inquiry I found that most of the residents objected strenuously to such a suggestion.

It is my sincere belief that the only solution for Chelsea's problems is the adoption of a city form of government, with the employment of a city manager who would place the government of our progressive community on a business-like basis, regardless of whose toes were stepped on. This matter should be given serious consideration by all who are interested in better government for Chelsea!

M. W. McClure,
Village President.

Views of Some Qualified Electors

The following are some of the reasons why the Howe School District, Lyndon township, are not at this time in favor of the proposed consolidation of schools.

1. We do not want to give up our control of education in our community. Education is the one government function that must be kept close to the people. While it should be nationally and state encouraged, it should not be nationally or even state controlled. It has gone too far already toward state control.

Education cannot be best conducted in concentrated areas of population. This is particularly true for farm areas.

Fifteen to twenty years ago the trend of population was toward the towns and cities. Large areas of farm lands and homes became vacant. Most people wanted to live in the towns and cities.

They wanted the so-called city life and advantages and education. Now they have seen and experienced the insecurity and the futility of city life and the brand of city education. The result is they are moving back to the land.

They want their families to live in the country. They want their children to grow up and be citizens of the country not far from their homes. They want a lot of nonessentials that are being taught in city schools removed from the teaching curricula.

They found that many of the subjects taught and the way they were taught were of little value to the pupil in securing an education of fitting the pupil for his or her rightful place in a free democratic life which we here in America are trying to build.

While we admit that there are some good and sound reasons for the consolidation of schools, principally now due in the main to recent school laws, we must proceed slowly and carefully.

2. We do not feel safe in giving up our control over taxation for school purposes. For instance if we decide to consolidate our schools on the plan now proposed, the Village of Chelsea will not only elect our Board of Education but they will control and operate the school, fix the school policy and levy all of our school taxes on all of the taxable property of the district. They will do this because they have more votes than all of the rest of the districts combined.

In large concentrations of population voting if at all, has become a mechanical process and the results are too much swayed by too few. And these few are motivated too often by personal ambitions or personal gain. Very little thought is given to what is best for the many or the weight of another's proposition against another of similar merit, to determine the one best suited for the given community.

Community affairs are very largely conducted on the basis of wild statements, often untrue, fears, some unfounded and personal likes and dislikes. The larger number of people concentrated in a given area, the less the chance to get a fair presentation of any proposition and to obtain serious consideration for it.

3. In our district (The Howe District) we have much at stake in this proposed consolidation of schools. We are not willing to turn over our school properties to an organization about which we will have very little say and very little control.

We have at least five times the assets of any other district named in the reorganization plan and about four times the assets of all districts combined in this plan now being discussed.

We have a beautiful site of about 180 acres, all equipped with adequate electric service, water supply, sewerage disposal, many buildings for all needed uses, including shops, a hospital, a library, a community hall and recreation building, a mess hall, an arts building, tennis courts, a baseball diamond, spacious playgrounds and residences for our faculty. This is the Cassidy Lake site. This site for educational purposes is well located. It offers a wonderful opportunity to develop a good educational center. It can serve a much larger educational program than is needed for our district. We have all buildings and equipment that is necessary for 800 to 900 pupils and with the addition of a high school building we could take care of from 900 to 1,000 pupils. The best part of it is that it is all paid for. It being largely a gift to our district from the Federal Government.

We are willing to share this site and its advantages with other districts. We believe that no reorganization plan for schools should be considered by us or this community without giving serious thought to what our district has to offer.

Many dollars of the taxpayers' money can be saved by taking advantage of this district's opportunity for education. Money to consider this seriously is not in the interest of economy.

We in this district are a growing community, scattered over many square miles of woods, hills and lakes. Our all the year around population is increasing from year to year. Something must be done to service this community and for the education of its boys and girls.

We must, with vision to the future, answer the call of this time, by providing to the best of our ability for a good education for youth on a basis that is wanted by the residents and the taxpayers of this area.

A Howe District Taxpayer.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Gene Alleman

What makes a vacation trip to Michigan memorable? As likely as not, it will be the memory of Michigan hospitality—the warmth of friendship which Michigan people extend to strangers.

This thought was emphasized to me the other day. Meredith Clark, editor of the Tekonsha Patriot, a weekly newspaper at Tekonsha in Branch county, told me this story:

"My wife and I drove to Traverse City for the summer convention of the Michigan Press Association. Just before dinner, I discovered I had not packed a tie. It was about 6:30 p.m. then, and clothing stores were closed. Finally, I went to Wright's drug store and told the proprietor my dilemma. 'Do you know of a place where I could buy a tie?' The merchant noticed my convention badge. His face brightened. 'Here take my tie!' he exclaimed, whipping off his tie and putting it into my hands. I wore this man's tie Friday night and returned it to him the next morning. He was so glad to see me that I'll never forget Traverse City."

Baby carriages are common on college campuses today. The American Legion sponsored a Boys' State at Michigan State college the other week. The boys from all over the state assembled to study how government operates. They were housed in student barracks.

Morning assembly was at 6:30 a.m. Someone had the bright idea of sending off a bugle for a first call. He blew it loud and long. From trailers in the veterans' village nearby came a chorus of howling babies.

The next morning: No bugle. College babies had the right of way!

Frank Morris, Lansing correspondent of the Detroit Times; "Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., is being groomed to succeed Sigler after a second term. A novice at politics, Alger has been surprisingly successful in quietly accomplishing objectives for the good of the state without stepping on toes."

Clarence W. Lock, deputy revenue commissioner, predicts that an amendment to the sales tax law may save Michigan farmers and owners of farms $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 a year. New exemptions were authorized by the 1947 legislature on purchases by persons "having an interest in tilling of soil or raising of livestock and poultry" for such things as clothing, household appliances, and other products. Buyers must sign statements as to intended use.

From my notebook: Communism thrives on low living standards and weakened middle class. Free elections in Hungary in November, 1945, while under Russian occupation, resulted in only 17 per cent vote for communists. There are three eagles' nests at the Ludington State Park which spreads over 3,142 acres. "Rural Iowa is seriously over-churches; over one-half of the rural churches are standing still or declining; ministers are poorly paid." Dr. H. Paul Douglass in a report to a national convocation on the church in town and country at Des Moines.

DEXTER—The Dexter Recreation Board has been formed for the purpose of developing and administering the affairs of the athletic field located on Baker street just outside the village limits of Dexter. Officers of the new organization are John F. Hoey, president; Ward A. Tupper, vice-president; Malcolm Blakely, secretary and treasurer.—The Dexter Leader.

GRASS LAKE—At a special meeting last Thursday evening of the Anthony Stebbie Post 252, it was decided that the American Legion would take over and run the 3-day celebration and ox-roast which has been an annual affair for the past two years, on August 14. General chairman: Commander Klumpp, and all necessary committees were chosen immediately. Plans are going forward for the advertising campaign and donations are being solicited for concessions and the big drawing for prizes.—The Grass Lake News.

NORTHVILLE—More than 60 persons have attended the lectures on chess given at the Northville and Plymouth libraries of the Wayne County Library System, by Dr. E. Peckover, internationally known instructor. N. M. Lazar of Northville is calling a meeting for Monday, July 7, 1947 at the Northville Library Chess Club. Planned by the Wayne County Public Library Board as an experiment in library sponsored recreational activity, the lectures have attracted the interest of the United States Chess Federation. Present at the last library sponsored meeting held in Plymouth, Saturday, June 28 were national officers of the Federation.—The Northville Record.

SALINE—Aletha Kuebler of 8425 Ernest Road, Bridgewater township, escaped injury Saturday morning when she drove her car into a moving freight train at the Ann Arbor Railroad's E. Hoover street crossing in Ann Arbor. She told officers she was blinded by the sun or her windshield and saw neither the train nor a watchman who was waving a stop signal at the crossing. The automobile struck a box car and was knocked away from the rails and damaged considerably.—The Saline Observer.

A fence row fire will often destroy the galvanizing on the wire, causing it to rust and go to pieces sooner.

Voted the Girl Most Likely To Succeed....

And her husband (Engineers '45) says her classmates chose better than they knew in voting her most likely to succeed.

They had in mind a career OUTSIDE the home, but she's making a career IN the home—best little cook in Ann Arbor, he insists.

She lets him think so, but privately she gives a big share of the credit to her wonderful CP automatic gas range. No wonder she can bake cakes that are out of this world, with oven temperatures which can be regulated perfectly.

Any woman whose range is 10 years old or older owes it to herself to see how many improvements in cooking convenience are found in the new automatic gas ranges. Go see them at your store or the

Michigan Continues as TB Accredited State

In 1930 Michigan was the third state in the Union to become a federally modified accredited Bovine Tuberculosis state. To do this meant, after all the cattle in the state had been tested, reacting animals to the test cannot exceed more than one-half of one per cent of the total cattle population. To continue this federal accredited standing, all of the cattle in the state must be tested periodically, based on testing records, according to Dr. C. F. Clark, State Veterinarian of the Department of Agriculture. During the recent World War period, it has been difficult to maintain a "stamp" to keep all of the counties up to date. With some additional staff now available, Dr. Clark reports that just recently it was possible to cover and complete the testing of five counties.

Six-Year-Old Boy Catches 40-lb. Turtle

Gary Dault, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dault of Canavanah Lake, caught a mosback turtle that weighed as much as he does himself—40 pounds—while fishing with a bamboo pole on Wednesday morning. The Dault family was spending the week-end with Mrs. Dault's parents at Beaverton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fromm, having gone up on Friday. They returned home Monday. When Gary hooked the turtle, not knowing what he had on his line, he called to his father to help him landing his catch. Mr. Dault, believing the hook was probably caught on the lake bottom, was as much surprised as his son when the prize catch was finally landed.

When grassland is emphasized on farms, the largest amount of the farm income comes from livestock and livestock products. MSC specialists say this means that large quantities of high quality hay and pasture must be produced and fed to high quality livestock.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sam Helps with the Dishwashing

Dropped in at the Abernathy's just the other evening—and there was Sam, out in the kitchen with an apron on, helping his missus wash the supper dishes. (And then I learned later he'd helped cook the supper, too.)

Of course, Sam could have settled into his favorite chair, enjoyed his evening glass of beer, and left all the messy kitchenwork to Dixie. But he kind of likes her company—and she in turn certainly appreciates his help.

In fact, sharing the housework and the mealtime chores is sort of a bond between them ... like sharing that friendly glass of beer together, when the work is done. It's one of those little all-important things in marriage.

From where I sit, the time that a man and wife can spend with each other in this busy world today is all too precious. And the more things they can do together, the better.

VETERANS NEWS

From the OFFICE OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS

Consolidation of Housing for State Veterans Agencies

Effective July 1st, three agencies supported by state government, dealing with veterans, consolidated housing at considerable saving to the taxpayers.

Because of curtailment in the personnel of the state office of veterans' affairs, space became available in the building at 411 W. Michigan avenue, Lansing, which housed that agency. As a consequence, the Michigan Veterans' Trust Fund Board of Trustees moved its personnel from the Cadillac Square building, Detroit, to the Office of Veterans' Affairs location.

The United Spanish War Veterans, who have been located in the State Office building on Walnut street, Lansing, also moved into the building. John Stronach, Jr., Department Adjutant, is in charge of the United Spanish War Veterans' offices.

Lawrence J. LaLone, Executive Secretary for the Michigan Veterans' Trust Fund Board of Trustees, is in charge of that agency's offices in the new location. Elmer J. Hanna was recently appointed head of the Office of Veterans' Affairs.

This consolidation of housing of agencies serving the veteran affords much closer coordination of effort as well as effecting a financial saving.

Federal Road

Although federal aid has been given to the states to help road construction, the United States government has built only one national road. This was the National Old Trails road from Washington, D. C., to Santa Fe, developed from an idea conceived by George Washington in 1780. Also known as the Cumberland road, the National Old Trails road now extends from Washington, D. C., to Los Angeles.

Locomotive Weight

Some locomotives now in use weigh as much as 500 tons each, including tenders, contrasted with 2 to 3 tons for some of the first locomotives used on American railroads.

Prehistoric Art

No one knows when man discovered the art of weaving. Like the invention of the wheel, this important event in civilization's progress occurred before the beginning of recorded history.

You'll like that Big-Car styling!

You'll like the long, low lines of the new Chevrolet. You'll like the look of massiveness and sturdiness. That big, beautiful Unisteel body is by Fisher, you know—the only body by Fisher in the low-price field!

You'll like these Big-Car features! Chevrolet's packed with features that give you Big-Car comfort and safety. Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes, for example, with exclusive design features for safer, surer stops. Unitized Knee-Action, for instance, that adds stability and ease of steering, as well as riding comfort.

THIS—you'll love!

But your greatest thrill will come when you find out that Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field ... and the line that costs less for gas, oil and upkeep. Chevrolet's the one car that gives you Big-Car Quality at Lowest Cost!

WINE NEED GOOD PASTURE
Pasture plays an important part in wine production, according to W. N. McMillen, animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State college.

Tests have shown that 15 to 20 pounds of alfalfa are required when the pigs have access to succulent forage. An acre of alfalfa or other good pasture can save up to 1620 pounds of corn and 1020 pounds of protein in the ration of 20 fattening hogs.

Standard Litters Bring Results

There are Many Ways to Start a Car—
But There Is Only One Sure, Safe Way of Stopping One—

Good Brakes!

You are just a foot from trouble—try your brakes—do they go within two inches of the floorboard? If they do, they should be adjusted or checked for new linings.

SAFE driving is caution, PLUS GOOD BRAKES. We have the most modern equipment in our shop to take care of your brake troubles for you, so see or call us at your earliest convenience.

Extra Supply of Plant Food Needed by Roses

Roses need an extra supply of plant food now, advises C. E. Wilton, specialist in horticulture at Michigan State college.

A little fertilizer worked into the soil around the plants is beneficial. From now on a light application every three or four weeks is advisable until early September. In southern Michigan, ground around the plants should be mulched through July and August. If barnyard manure is available, a light mulch now will take the place of fertilizer and the mulch may be added every three or four weeks. If manure is not available, peat is a good substitute. Supplement the peat with fertilizer and spread to a depth of three or four inches.

A "boarding" hen costs 40 cents a month to feed. If she is not producing a dozen eggs a month, she will make the farmer more money as a Sunday dinner, Michigan State college poultrymen believe.

The cheetah (Acinonyx jubatus) of India and Persia, and that of Africa (cheetah lanigera), leopard-sized member of the cat family, is the fastest terrestrial animal. Roses Cut Late in Day Remain Fresh Longer Better late than early is advice you can safely follow when it comes to gathering roses. Recent experiments show that blooms cut late in the afternoon keep longer than those cut in the early morning.

Use a sharp knife and make a long slanting cut. A smooth cut surface allows the water to flow easily into the stem according to Paul R. Krone, flower specialist at Michigan State college. The slanted cut will keep the stem from being closed off if it is pressed against the bottom of the vase.

After cutting the roses get them in water immediately. Remove the leaves from the lower part of the stems because they will decay in the water. Most of the water is taken in through the stem and the leaves will only promote the growth of bacteria which plug up the tubes so that the flowers wilt from lack of water.

Put the cut roses in a cool place in the refrigerator if there is room—for several hours or overnight. This will help them keep longer, too.

Putting aspirin or quinine in the vase probably will not be of any help. Tests have failed to show that they make any noticeable difference. However, certain commercial preparations made for that purpose will help to keep your roses fresh longer.

Largest Open-Pit Mine

The largest open-pit mine in the world is located in North Hibbing, Minn. The iron ore mine is 2 1/2 miles long by 1/2 to 1 mile wide and lies in the midst of the great iron deposits of the Mesabi range.

Right Curing Helps To Make Good Hay

Curing hay is almost as important as cutting it at the right time. Points our Carter Harrison, farm crops specialist at Michigan State college.

Most hays if cut in the morning are ready to put in the windrows the same day. If it is first allowed to wilt just as it has fallen, hays will cure more readily and more uniformly than if cured entirely in windrows. It is desirable, however, to get it into the windrow before it gets too dry or bleached.

Dew will bleach wilted hay left in the swath overnight and some of the desirable green color will be lost.

When rain interferes, hay in the windrows gets only about one-fifth as much rain on a given amount as hay in the swath. Also, windrowed hay has less surface exposed to sun and dew than hay in the swath, and the air moves through it more readily. Hay containing from 20 to 25 per cent moisture can be safely stored loose or in bales. Beyond that moisture burning and spontaneous combustion may occur.

GUARD NOW ACCEPTS ENLISTMENT AT 17

The Michigan National Guard is now authorized to accept enlistment of 17-year-old men, it has been announced by the Adjutant General.

Previously the minimum age for enlistment was 18. Immediate enlistment of 17-year-olds is authorized with written consent of parents. The new minimum age authorized in the bill signed by the President last week corresponds to that prevailing for the other branches of the armed services.

Trend of the Family

There's Pop — and Mom — and the kids — somehow all of them have to get together on which car it will be for the family.

Well, if you go by the pollsters, there's no problem.

One poll asked the youngsters who are old enough to have fixed opinions which car they preferred.

It was Buick — head and shoulders.

Another went to the ladies, guardians of the family pocketbook.

And running way ahead of other cars at its price — staging a nip-and-tuck battle for second with one of the "lowest-priced three" — was this Buick beauty, trim and fresh and gay as a Paris bonnet, new as tomorrow in looks and line.

As for the men —

Is a poll necessary to show how men go for the lift and swing of eight great Fireball cylinders?

Do you have to ask to find out that they prefer a car big and steady and sure-footed on any road as this Buick is?

Is there any man who wouldn't rather have the smoothness of four gentle coil springs, the quick, deep-throated answer-of-this-star-performer-to-his-treadle-foot, the sense of perfect mastery of two generous tons that are ever "obediently yours"?

The answer's written on the order books of Buick dealers from coast to coast: This is America's most wanted automobile.

This is the one the whole family goes for — on style, on size, on room, on power, on performance — so why not join the trend?

We'll take your order any time you say — and give it equal consideration whether or not you have a car to trade.

Liver Reading
Instead of reading palms, primitive soothsayers read livers to foretell the future. The reading of omens in signs noted on the liver of a sacrificed animal is one of the oldest and most widespread methods of divining the future. Hepatoscopy, as liver-reading is called, is still practiced in Borneo, Africa and southeast Asia. The custom is based on the primitive belief that the liver is the seat of life.

Artificial Breeding Is Becoming Popular

The first of a series of news letters was sent out to all members of the Artificial Breeders Association in June, giving a running account of activities so far. James Bradbury, local insemination manager, reports very good results on most herds, with only a few giving him any trouble. A few shipments of semen have gone astray in the mail, but these shipments have been re-routed later, and it is hoped this will correct the situation.

Walter Wolfgang was added to the Board of Directors when Jersey service was started, and a guernsey man will be appointed when that service starts. A few more guernthe wartime effect on breakdown of breeding records in many sections of the state.

A guernsey bull by name Hampshire Hills Gold used by Theodore Simons, Williamston, Mich., produced in his daughters 9965 pounds milk, 496 pounds fat, and this level of production was a gain of 747 pounds milk and 48 pounds fat over the dams of these daughters. This official U.S.D.A. proof caused the guernsey bull buying committee of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative to select this sire to be used in their bull stud located in East Lansing.
In 1946, more than 4,000 cows were settled in calf to Gold and it is thought that his age will permit him to be used for several additional years in the artificial breeding project.

HAMPSHIRE HILLS GOLD

sey cows need to be signed in before this service can start.

Clifford Bradbury left Monday, July 14, for a week's training course, and will act as a substitute inseminator for his son James upon his return.
Floating fish milk and per cent test, inheritance is one of the "musts" in the problem of developing an artificial breeding program, according to A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman, Michigan State college.

Locating Guernsey bulls which show a rich milk production capacity has been a more difficult problem in Michigan, partly because of

BUCHANAN USING DDT IN FLY CONTROL

BUCHANAN—The Buchanan Business Association voted at the July meeting Tuesday evening to make plans for a clean-up and fly-control campaign for the remainder of the summer in the business district and in the community as well. It was decided that the best plan for taking care of costs would be to secure an agreement from all business men to share the cost in proportion to the work done on their premises. One general spraying with an oil emulsion of DDT is reported to be good for the season. However, the Iowa State college, which is promoting the campaign there, advocates weekly spraying in and around garbage containers and a maintenance of cleanliness. The Iowa campaign emphasizes savings in livestock production on the farms and control of polio and other diseases in the cities, as well as promotion of comfort and cleanliness. The committee hopes to have arrangements completed in the next ten days. Berrien County Record.

Gov. Sigler Proclaims Week of July 20-26th as Farm Safety Week

In proclaiming the week of July 20 to 26 as Farm Safety Week in Michigan, Governor Kim Sigler joined with President Harry S. Truman in calling upon citizens to cooperate in cutting the number of farm accidents in Michigan and the nation.

"More than one hundred seventy farm people were killed accidentally last year on the farm. Many hundreds more were seriously injured and endured much suffering and economic loss," the Governor's proclamation pointed out. "Two million dollars worth of farm property is destroyed annually by fire."

The majority of these accidents and fires, with the accompanying toll of life and property, could be prevented by caution and an intelligent effort on the part of each farm family in Michigan.

Therefore, I, Kim Sigler, Governor of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the week of July 20-26 as "Farm Safety Week" in Michigan.

To call attention to this preventable accident toll and request all persons and organizations concerned with agriculture and farm life to cooperate in the observance of Farm Safety Week, to the end that safety hazards may be removed from farms."

President Truman, in his proclamation, urged farm people everywhere to set aside a specific time during National Farm Safety Week for family discussions of methods for the prevention of accidents, in order that the producers of the nation's food may live and work with greater safety.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Whipple returned home Sunday after spending the past week with their son and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gwendolyn Virginia Baker, D. C. at their home in Louisville, Ky. Enroute they also visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor, former-Chelsea residents, at their home in Indianapolis, Ind.

Arrangements Being Made for F. F. A. Trip

Marshall Richards, F.F.A. adviser, spent last Saturday and Sunday in Parry Sound, Ontario, making arrangements for the boys' trip in August.

The Parry Sound Rotary Club has offered the use of its summer camp on Otter Lake. This lake, with its miles of rugged shore-line, has many islands, bays and narrow channels. The camp has a large lodge for cooking and dining, small cabins for the boys, and a staff cabin for the three men, who will accompany the boys.

The camp will be Colin McInnis, a retired Canadian Forest Ranger. He is considered by many to be the finest outdoor cook in Northern Ontario. The dates set for the trip are August 7-15.

Arrangements are also being made for the boys to visit the Ontario Agricultural college located at Guelph on August 7.
