Four miles southwest of the Lake of the Clouds in the Porcupine Mountain State park and accessible to travelers only by a winding mountain trail...

Guarded by virgin white pine and hemlock, some of which are four to five feet in diameter and tower 100 to 120 feet in the sky, Mirror Lake nestles in a mountain range...

Twilight snows on the water give rise to its name. The altitude of Mirror Lake is three feet higher than the top-most rim of the rocky escarpments that crest the southern edge of Lake of the Clouds.

You begin to realize this height when you hike over a well-marked foot trail with your bedroll and two days' supply of food in a rucksack strapped on your back. The trail ascends steadily after you leave the Carp river outlet of Lake of the Clouds. You are traversing the center of Michigan's wildest wilderness park...

Two-thirds up the mountain trail you reach a scenic gorge. Crag creek, fed by cold mountain springs, tumbles down in a series of picturesque waterfalls. Along the banks of this miniature canyon is an ideal place to refresh your spirits...

Since October, 1944, when we failed to reach Mirror Lake because we got on the wrong trail, I had been telling the missus about the fascination of the Forest. And as we became quite by accident, the first couple to pack in our bed and food to the state's first log cabin at Mirror Lake.

Earl J. Donnelly, native of Ontonagon and now assistant director of the budget bureau at Washington, D. C., had preceded us with a party of seven. He had a team and wagon to haul supplies from the Nonesuch mine site of a future park dude ranch. The team had taken nine hours' time to reach the cabin for the trail was rough and boggy.

Knox Jamison, park superintendent, told us the state is building five cabins in the park this year. Three will be at Mirror Lake. Located about 100 feet from the shore will be a fourth at the upper falls of the Little Carp river; and the fifth along Lake Superior at Lone Rock point. The first Mirror Lake cabin has eight bunk beds; all others will have four single beds and a combination heating and cooking range. You must make your own bedding, cooking utensils and what is more important—all your food.

These cabins rent for $2.50 a day, summer or winter. Reservations may be made by writing to Mr. Jamison at Ontonagon.

For supper at Mirror Lake we feasted on "pigs in a blanket"—fat dogs wrapped in bacon slices. Catcher's baby food provided the peach dessert. New for this Forest-canned line—Powdered instant coffee provided our beverage. For breakfast we enjoyed our favorite delight of buttermilk pancakes, ready-mixed for baking and topped with brown syrup and bacon. Don't skip on food. Your appetite will be means to the lake. After dinner we shoved off in an old wooden boat, a relic perhaps of mining days, for an exploratory cruise about Mirror Lake. When we take the missus in a canoe, we have that she put on a life preserver. A landubber from Indiana she can't swim a stroke. Here we were, paddling about in a lake miles from so-called civilization, in a craft that could qualify for Noah's ark!

Because of the rock formation, the trail in Mirror Lake is brown red as coffee beans. Trout fishing is excellent early in the spring, but poor during the hot weather. Fly pond lake is better, they say. Several weeks ago the cook for the construction crew which is building the cabins was nearly pitched overboard by a bear strutting into his kitchen.

The night air was crisp and cool. With pine knots we built a friendly camp fire in front of the cabin and gazed at the deepening shadows on the lake. A rabbit hopped from the underbrush by the lake shore and nibbled at tender leaves of a ground vine. He ignored noisily our invitations to come and share the warmth of our camp fire. Dumb bunny!

The next morning we beheld, trapped in a thick inside the cabin, a shy, trembling kangaroo mouse. He had missed the bare, frost of buttermilk pancake flour, for which we were particularly grateful. "Was all this worth the effort, the toll of a long hike up the mountain trail?" we think so. Life in Michigan is good, and we are at peace with the world.

Usual Supply of Water Seen Late Friday

Repair work on Standpipe Is Nearly Completed Today

Repair and cleaning work on the Village water storage tank is proceeding as rapidly as possible, and according to P. C. Maroney, Superintendent of the Electric and Water Department, there should be a normal supply of water again sometime late Friday, unless unforeseen difficulties arise.

Workmen have welded approximately 4,000 rusted rivets and replaced the lower one-third of the tank. Today, Thursday, some small quantity of water will be pumped into the tank and a final check made on the repairs to be certain of no leaks. If, as expected, all joints are tight, the water will be drained and a coating of special paint will be applied to the inside of the tank. This paint can be applied while the tank is still wet, and dries in about one hour.

As soon as all this has been completed, the tank can be filled and the village water supply will be returned to normal.

To those who have wondered why there has been a continual flow of water from a hydrant on South Main street across from the Post Office when conservation measures have been requested, here is the explanation. With the storage tank out of operation, water has been pumped directly into the mains under pressure from the pumps.

To prevent serious damage being done to equipment if a too high pressure should develop due to the fluctuating quantity of water consumed, a relief valve has been installed on the main.

If you think it has been hot in your upstairs apartment the past week, thank your lucky stars that your profession is not one of repairing water tanks.

Workers in the empty tank far above cooling shade and exposed to the blistering sun, Monday were "sweating it out" in a temperature of 180 degrees. Needless to say no human being can stand that temperature for more than half an hour at a time. What puzzles us is where the men get enough strength to climb down the gondola-lifted roof of the tank at that temperature.

Correction, Apology to Mrs. Frederick

Due to an unfortunate error in The Standard of July 31, 1947, Ethel M. Frederick, 206 North street, Chelsea, was reported to have appeared before Municipal Judge J. H. Payne in Ann Arbor on a drunk and disorderly charge. We wish at this time to correct that information insofar as the charge should have read disorderly conduct, as shown by court records. To Mrs. Frederick, and to subscribers of The Standard, the publishers humbly apologize for this mistaken information.

Girl Scout Camp at Cedar Lake Holds Last Session Aug. 7-13

A successful camping season for Girl Scouts at Cedar Lake draws to a close with the final session, August 7-13, which will be attended by some handicapped children from Rackham school in Ypsilanti. The preceding two-week session was climaxed by a water polo match between the teams of the camp and the team of the Ypsilanti team, and presented before an audience of more than 200 persons on Sunday, Aug. 3. Miss Barbara Warner, Ann Arbor, and Miss Wilma Schweinfurth, Chelsea, water-front directors, were in charge of the pageant.

Juniper Knoll girls, all pirates but, swabbed through a splintered and splintered "Yo Ho, Yo Lubbers, Yo, Ho," guzzling "good red wine" and making off with the landlady's daughters in their corsair, emblazoned with skull and crossbones. Oak Ridge unit represented. Merrie, Merrie Egan, did the traditional dance around two maypoles in the water. Greenwood girls presented a Hawaiian Farewell Ceremony, gracefully swishing grass skirts and singing Aloha, while their guests, draped with leis made of black-eyed susans and bouncing biceps, rowed away in boats.

A colorful array of storybook characters attended the Saturday night Barn Dance. Heidi was there with her goats, several Red Riding Hoods with their wolves, Paul Bunyan with his Blue Ox, Babe, and Ali Baba, no not with his forty thieves. Simbad, the sailor, was a popular character, and pirates swarmed all over. Even Adam and Eve, quite modestly clad in oak leaves, were there. Sea Scouts from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti were guests on Greenwood's hay wagon on the Thursday night hayride, and the Conservation department entertained the camp counselors at a wicker roast after the hayride.

STILL IN FIRST PLACE: Independents Split With Pinckney

By "Bill" Schatz Sunday's doubleheader at Pinckney resulted in a split. Chelsea losing the first 5 to 4 and winning the night cap 10 to 8. Our locals were leading by a comfortable margin of 4 to 2, going into the last stanza in the first game. About all they had to do was get a tight, rest the three men and win the ball game, but (there is always a but) Lefty Barth walked the first man, got a little jittery and walked the second, then number three got in front of a pitched ball, also drawing a free ticket. With the bases loaded Lefty was lifted, Slim MacClannahan going in to pitch. They scored a run on an out at first. Next batter hit a sharp grounder to third, it was a hard one to handle, taking the third baseman off his feet and forcing the throw in a reclining position. Same was wide of the plate, rolling to the back stop, allowing the tying and winning run to cross the plate. Pinckney 5 runs, 9 hits, 2 errors. Chelsea 4 runs, 7 hits, 2 errors. The Independents came back to grab the night cap 10 to 8. Should have been 10 to 3, as that was the score as Pinckney came to bat in their half of the last frame. Could call this the inning of "error" as they were allowed a 5 tallies to almost win that important second game. Chelsea went to Pinckney with plenty of support. I counted several local faces among an overflow crowd. Honestly folks, we expected a double win for our gang but such is the grand old game. It's never out, it's never over until that last man is set down. We remain in undisputed first place, even if we did have to settle for half a mellow. Next Sunday, August 17, we are again away from home, playing in Ann Arbor on Wednesday, August 21, we return to our local battle ground and folks, we are now coming down the home stretch, where every game really counts. Keep August 21 open, also August 31, the following Sunday, as these last two games will be played here. Score second game: Chelsea 10 runs, 15 hits, 4 errors. Pinckney 8 runs, 15 hits, 2 errors. —adv.

Let us each take time from the day's occupation to recall that this date marks the anniversary of a war fairly fought and hard-won: a war paid for in blood and coin: a war never to be forgotten if we are to continue a peaceful course. May the defeated have learned their lesson well... may the victors succeed in proving that democracy is not only an ideal but a practical and peaceful way of life for all the world, for all time.

Dredge Huron River Below Portage Lake

Ann Arbor—Talk of dredging Huron river below the Portage lake outlet to prevent spring floods along the lake shore has resulted in a shift of conservation department stream improvement work to a section farther upstream. The department crew is now at work on the first mile of river below the new Kent lake dam, installing wing-dams. These small dams extending about halfway into the stream from one side or the other are designed to deflect the current so it scours away mud and exposes gravel, digs pools and provides quiet backwaters to furnish both additional living space and food for smallmouth bass, pike and panfish. Pools made by the current deflectors will improve navigability of the stream for canoeists and add variety to present flat and shallow stretches. Removal of snags from the stream by state park men to improve canoeing likewise is expected to have no adverse effect on fishing.

Heavy Expenditures Foreseen In County For New Farm Homes

Farm families in Washtenaw county will spend more than $1,750,000 for new housing in the next three to five years, according to a forecast released by the Title Council of America. "As a result of high incomes during the last few years, farmers in every part of the nation are prepared to invest record amounts in new home construction and in general farm improvements," said F. H. Ortmann, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee. Pointing out that the comforts and conveniences of urban living are now available to farm families, Ortmann said that new rural homes will incorporate such features as central heating, tiled bathrooms and modern kitchen facilities. Rapid electrification of rural areas of Michigan is making possible the incorporation in new homes of many labor-saving and comfort-giving devices undreamed of a generation ago, according to Ortmann. Rural Electrification Administration estimates disclose that more than 87 per cent of all farms in the state now receive central station electric service. Refrigerators, electric washing machines and deep freezing plants, as well as plumbing systems, will go into many new homes as a consequence.

Local Resident In Illinois Train Wreck

Mrs. Mac Packard was a passenger on the Illinois Central Railroad's "Green Diamond" passenger train which collided with a Burlington Railroad freight train at Winston Tower about one mile out of Litchfield, Ill., last Wednesday morning about 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. Packard had spent a week in St. Louis at the home of her brother, Keith Boyer, caring for Mrs. Boyer and their new baby and had intended to stay until Thursday, but arranged her plans and started Wednesday morning. She said the train, which runs between St. Louis and Chicago, was traveling at a rate of about 70 miles an hour at the time the collision occurred and she believes the fact that the freight car struck next to the window and turned to shield an older woman passenger who was sitting beside her. As she did so, luggage from the racks above the seats fell and struck her in the back and she fell forward into the aisle on top of a carrier full of soft drink bottles which the train vendor was carrying through the car. She said several of the bottles were broken but she miraculously escaped being cut. However, she has been suffering considerable pain from the bruises on her back caused by the falling luggage.

Mrs. Packard said the collision parted the engine and several cars of both trains from the rest of the cars and these went careening down the tracks by themselves until several were turned over. The engine in which she was riding at a 45-degree angle when it came to a stop, while the two cars ahead of hers were turned over. After examination and first aid treatment by physicians, the passengers were put on another train for a trip to Chicago, Mrs. Packard arriving in fact at about 4:00 a.m. Thursday, about eight hours later than she had expected. Her husband, who had waited all afternoon and evening at the Jackson station for her arrival had returned home at 8 p.m. and Mrs. Packard hired a taxi to bring her to Chelsea rather than wait two hours or longer for a train or bus to Chelsea.

Electors To Meet at High School, Sylvan Town Hall

Thursday, August 28, is the date set for residents of Chelsea and of 12 neighboring school districts to go to the polls to vote on a proposed consolidation of these districts with the Chelsea Public School system to form a Rural Agricultural school district. If the consolidation is approved, somewhat over 700 students of school age throughout these districts will be affected. At present some of the rural high school students are attending Chelsea, some Stockbridge, and others Grass Lake high schools. As reported previously by The Standard, the Steering Committee, made up of residents of both the Chelsea district and the rural districts has made tentative plans for transportation by ordering two new 48-passenger school buses, which can be delivered and put into use by the time school opens this fall. If the consolidation proposition should fail to receive approval this order can be cancelled. However, there are questions in some circles as to the possibility of putting the plan into operation this fall, even if approved, because some of the districts have already signed contracts with teachers for the coming school year. The total equalization value of land properties involved in the districts concerned totals approximately six million dollars. Late in July, petitions from each of the districts were presented to County School Superintendent Julius Haab, Ann Arbor, who certified the petitions as complying at least fifty per cent of the legal criteria from each district, and forwarded them to the State Department of Public Instruction, Lansing. Upon receipt of approval of the petitions by the State Department of Education, Superintendent Haab has posted the notices of election. In addition to the Chelsea district, voters from the following districts will vote on the proposition: District No. 1, District No. 2, District No. 3, District No. 4, 5, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100. For the voters of District No. 3, Sylvan township, which includes Chelsea village, the election will be held at Chelsea High school. Polls will be open from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m., and voting will be by ballot. The election for the Chelsea district will be conducted by the Board of Education for District No. 3, Sylvan and Lincoln townships. Voters of the rural districts will all vote in a combined election to be held at the Sylvan Town hall, in Chelsea. This election will be conducted by the Sylvan township board. Qualifications to be a legal school elector in the State of Michigan are: 1) Must be a citizen of the United States, 2) Must be 21 years of age or older (either male or female), 3) Must have resided in the State of Michigan six months next preceding date of election, 4) Must have resided in the school district at least 20 days next preceding date of election. This is undoubtedly one of the most important community issues to have arisen in years, so it is hoped and expected that every legal elector in the entire area will feel his obligation to get out to the polls and vote. Election day may bring terrible weather, and you, as individuals, may think that you are too busy to make the few minutes required. Or you may have no children of school age, but as taxpayers and citizens, everyone qualified is expected to fulfill his obligation. Chelsea residents have been notoriously poor in turning out for school elections in the past. Let's don't let it happen again.

A. A. West Side A. C. Splits Doubleheader

By Don Alber West Side of Ann Arbor squeaked by Chelsea in the opener Sunday night, as they were on the long end of a 7 to 6 score. The local lads handed the Ann Arbor boys a first inning lead of three runs and were never able to catch up. Chelsea played good ball, however, the rest of the game. Windsor, the team without gloves, dominated West Side boys in the night cap by the score of 5 to 2. Playing a very good brand of ball they were never behind. The West Side club will play Chelsea again this Friday (tomorrow) at 8:30. There will be an early game West Side boys in the night cap by the score of 5 to 2. August 28 Is Set for MSC Farmers' Day

The Michigan MSC Farmers' Day Program will be held on Thursday, August 28, at Michigan State college. The day, an annual event, is being held in conjunction with the State 4-H Club Show, August 28 to 29, when many farm families come to East Lansing for the year's outstanding farm youth contest.

Demonstrations and exhibits will be shown and specialists will be on hand at the college experiment station to explain the projects. Crop variety, soils, fertilizing, and rotation tests will be featured. College livestock and poultry will also be on exhibition.

Grain bins should be made tight so that insects and rodents cannot enter and damage the grain. Sustained high average milk production is the result of carefully planned breeding, disease control, and feeding and management programs.

Former Chelsea Girl Married August 9th, at Hopkins, Illinois

A lovely wedding was solemnized in the Hopkins Community church Saturday evening, August 9th, when Miss Delores McBride became the bride of Eugene R. Room. The couple exchanged vows at 8 o'clock, with Rev. J. Robert Stigstra of Bethel Reform church, Harvey, Ill., officiating.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McBride of Hopkins, formerly of Chelsea; and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Room, Hopkins.

The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with white gladioli, palms, and carnations. Mr. K. E. Schabily presented a prelude of organ music, and also played the traditional wedding marches. He also accompanied Miss Carol Ellinger, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

Descending the "angelic" aisle on the arm of her father, the bride wore a dress of white lace over satin, styled with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves tapering to a point over the wrist, fitted bodice, and floor length skirt. Her fingertip veil of white illusion fell from a Juliette cap. To complete her costume the bride wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and carried an arm bouquet of white roses with a red rose center.

Mrs. Oliver Lovall, attending her sister as matron of honor, wore a pale blue taffeta gown, styled with a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves, and fitted bodice. Her floor length skirt had a bustle effect and she carried a cascade bouquet of Picardy gladioli. A sweetheart hat of pink marquisette completed her costume.

The bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn McDonald of Royal Oak, Mich., Miss Lois Room, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Edward Woodson, Florida. Miss Linda Lou Lovall, niece of the bride acted as the junior bridesmaid.

The shell pink taffeta dresses of the bridesmaids were styled alike with a low, round neckline, fitted bodice, cap sleeves, and full, floor length skirts. Their sweetheart hats were made of pale blue marquisette. They carried identical cascade bouquets of Picardy gladioli and blue delphinium. Miss Lovall carried a colonial bouquet of small gladioli.

Miss Jo Ann Lovall, 3-year-old niece of the bride, attended as flower girl. She wore a dress styled like the matron of honors, with puffed sleeves. She carried a small white wicker basket filled with white rose petals.

Mr. Room asked a classmate, Howard Rutgers to assist him as best man, and his brother, Willis Room of Kalamazoo, Edward Woodson of Florida, and Stanley Ickel, to act as ushers.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors following the ceremony, with Mrs. Gerald Nash serving the four-tiered wedding cake, and Mrs. Frank Dye presiding at the punch bowl. A main cooler ice refrigerator, Ed Scripser, Cavanaugh-Lake Road "Super Power" Battery.

After a trip across Lake Michigan and through Wisconsin, Mrs. Room will continue her training at Butterworth hospital School of Nursing, Grand Rapids. The bridegroom expects to return to Kalamazoo, where he attends Western Michigan College of Education.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal McBride of Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ulrich and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, Jr., of Chelsea, were some of the guests attending the wedding.

Entomologists at Michigan State college, say that the Mexican bean beetle and red spider mites aren't much affected by DDT. A dust mixture with three percent DDT is effective against most potato and cabbage pests. For controlling aphids on potatoes and thrips on onions, a stronger DDT dust is needed. DDT should not be used on leafy vegetables at the time when the foliage will be used as human food.

Flavor and Value of Milk Can Be Retained

In recent months small unit pasteurizers have been placed on the market. Tests conducted by state experiment stations and research organizations have proven that the taste, quality or value of milk pasteurized by these units is not diminished—but on the other hand the health factors are greatly increased. There is a serious milk-borne disease danger of using raw milk. This may be entirely eliminated. With many cities, counties and districts demanding pasteurization of milk to be sold, the small-unit will prove of value to owners of a small number of cows who desire to retail their excess milk supply. The only certain way to avoid disease from milk is to heat it sufficiently to kill all disease-producing bacteria—this can only be done properly by pasteurization. Boiling will kill bacteria.

Treated Complements

Back in the middle ages, women placed slices of raw dough on their faces before retiring at night to improve their complexions.

SHORT STORY

Dream of Youth

By JOHN ROWLEY

THEY were sitting on a bench in the park, the man and the woman, and the sun, shining through the pattern of leaves and branches above them, formed a network of light and shadows almost like some gossamer fairy lace.

The woman was about thirty-three or four, blonde with dimples, and a wide, good humored mouth. The man, who was about the same age, dark with good features and graying hair, leaned towards her.

"Do you remember, Jean, the first time we kissed?" he asked tenderly.

The girl laughed a little and there was a faint haze back of her eyes. "How could I forget," she said. "We were so young . . . and shy! I didn't know what I would say if you asked me . . . and I was on pins and needles for fear you wouldn't. They were good days, George. Happy days."

George reached over and patted her hand. "They were," he said. "They were wonderful days and I was so much in love with you. . . . It spoiled my appetite! To me you were the most beautiful thing ever come down to earth." He laughed, his voice deep and resonant. "And you're still pretty nice!"

They were silent for a moment, each thinking the thoughts that these memories brought up. Finally the man laughed again. "Do you remember our last high school dance?"

The man, lost in thought, gazed out over the green expanse of the park. Far off he could see tall buildings rising out of a sea of billowy green, but he wasn't seeing any of that. Instead he was seeing a tall, old-fashioned building in a small town a long way from the city.

There was a blare of music coming from the building . . . dance music, a number popular at the time. He saw couples getting out of cars and some arriving on foot. Inside the huge floor of what was the gymnasium swelled and heaved with couples packed close together.

He remembered the laughter and the music and something came into his throat and he wanted to cry. The woman sensed it too and she put a slender, graceful hand on his arm. "Do you remember that dance . . . our graduation dance? I can see you now. You had on a light blue evening gown that came all the way to the floor and you wore a corsage of some kind of white flowers. The light in your hair made it look all gold and you were the most beautiful creature in the world."

She laughed, entering into the spirit of the thing. "And Mr. Weeks, the assistant principal, asked me to dance and I let him have one dance . . . after all, he was the assistant principal."

"AND after the dance," he went on. "The rest of the crowd went down to eat, but you and I went to the little lunch counter around the corner and had some coffee and afterwards we walked home. It was exactly three blocks away . . . I think I can remember every step . . . every depression in the sidewalk. And when we got to your house we stood on the steps a long time, not saying anything, just looking at the night . . . and everything was golden around us."

He paused for a moment, staring straight ahead. "And then you said you had to go in . . . and you kissed me. . . ." He laughed again and turned to look at the woman beside him. "I floated home on a cloud that night!"

She smiled and they sat there, silent for a time, contemplating the memories they had conjured up out of the past.

At last they got up and the man looked at the woman beside him and smiled.

"Well, goodby, Jean," he said. "It was wonderful seeing you again. I'll have to be running along now. I've supposed to meet my wife in front of the Metropolitan in about 10 minutes."

She looked at her watch and gasped. "Me, too," she exclaimed. "Why, it's almost five o'clock and I haven't finished my shopping yet. I'm afraid my husband's supper will be late tonight. Goodby!"

They hurried off across the park . . . in opposite directions!

MRS. THOMAS J. KITTEL

Mary Ottoman Weds Thomas J. Kittel in Ann Arbor, August 2

Kittel of Ann Arbor, son of Mrs. Rose Kittel of Whitmore Lake, spoke their wedding vows in a beautiful double-ring ceremony at ten o'clock in the morning, Saturday, August 2, at the St. Thomas church in Ann Arbor.

The ceremony was officiated by Rev. A. B. Neff, performing the service. Candles and large baskets of mixed flowers decorated the altar. Soft organ music was played throughout the service.

The bride's gown was of white satin with ruffled lace trimming the sweetheart neckline and edging the long sleeves, which formed a V-shape at the wrist, the lace also edging the long train and full-length veil which fell from a beaded tiara. She wore a single strand of pearls at her neck and carried a white gladiolus arm bouquet.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Leona Tarnacki of Chelsea, who wore a gown of pink net over satin and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. She wore a matching headpiece of ruffled pink net.

Miss Sally Schwemin of Ann Arbor, niece of the bridegroom, as flower girl, wore blue and carried a basket of pink rose petals.

McClea-Lyons Vows Spoken in St. Mary's Church, Sat., Aug. 9

Before an altar adorned with white gladioli in St. Mary's Catholic church, Saturday, Dorothy McClea spoke her nuptial vows to Thomas J. Lyons.

The Reverend Father Lee Laige officiated at the double ring ceremony and sang the nuptial hymn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. McClea of Gregory. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Lyons of 618 South Grant street, Chelsea.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace, styled with a sweetheart neckline, a close fitting bodice and a full skirt that ended in a train. A single strand pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, was the only jewelry worn by the bride.

The veil was of fingertip illusion falling from a train of seed pearls and the bridal bouquet was of white roses.

Mrs. Bernard Lyons of Port Huron, a sister of the bride, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a floor length gown of apricot faille, styled with cap sleeves, a round neckline and a full skirt from a dropped waistline. Her hat was a small yellow flower pillbox caught with a bronze veil and she carried single bronze mums.

Decorative Glass Streamlines Modern Room

Glass blocks around a fireplace surmounted by a mirror add sparkle to large, modern living rooms.

"Whether you're planning to build or remodel, you'll be interested in the new ways glass can bring beauty into your home," says Betty Swan in an article in Capper's Farmer, a leading farm magazine.

"Glass blocks and decorative stained glass, now so popular, may be used to streamline any room," she de-

Farming Is Still One of Most Hazardous of All Occupations

"A quarter of the total deaths resulting from all occupational pursuits in Michigan result from farming," according to Dr. William DeKleine, State Health Commissioner. Burns and explosions are among the most frequent and most fatal of farm accidents in the state. They take their toll of children left alone in the farm home, of housewives who try to make a quick fire with gasoline or kerosene, a farmer refueling his heated tractor or the man blasting stumps. Grass fires take lives in the state too, those of men who fight them.

Machinery causes a few less deaths than fires and explosions. The farm tractor takes more lives than any other item of farm machinery, and a truck or automobile takes lives on the farm as well as on the highway. The tractor is involved in almost one-third of farm machinery accidents and almost one-third of all tractor accidents are fatal. The tractors in most accidents overturn killing the driver.

Other farm machinery which should wear a red-bordered label include corn pickers, power saws, mowers, wagons, hay rakes and balers, and manure spreaders. A snapped whiffle tree and an ordinary cultivator each took a life last year.

Not only do haying season machinery cause accidental deaths, but the wagon and haymow take valuable farm lives through falls. Falls from a tractor via with falls down haychutes and dilapidated stairways in number of farm lives taken.

Fires, machinery falls and animals account for about nine-tenths of farm accidents. "Such accidents are preventable if simple precautions are used," Dr. DeKleine said.

JELLYMAKERS HAIL THE RETURN OF SUGAR

Your little girl will enjoy making jellies and jams—the new way! Yes, the new short boil recipes for jams and jellies are so well tested, anyone who follows the directions can turn out perfect sweet spreads every time.

So now that we can have all the sugar we want—why not let your daughter help you with your jams and jellies? Or, even better, why not tell her she may make a "batch" all by herself? She'll be thrilled—and you'll be so proud!

Follow the directions for preparation and time the boiling to the second. Natural fruit pectin does the rest. And when natural fruit pectin is added, you can use fully ripe fruit. No need to sacrifice flavor now-a-days. So why not start today and have a real "jam session" with your daughter? You'll have lots of fun and you'll remember your jam party every time you open a jar of your jam or jelly. For a "starter" try these new recipes:

Cherry and Peach Jam
(Using sour cherries)
4 cups prepared fruit
7 cups sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit, stem and pit about 1 1/4 pounds fully ripe sour cherries. Chop fine. Peel and pit about 1 1/4 pounds soft ripe peaches. Grind or chop very fine. Combine fruits and measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan.

To make the jam, add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once. Makes about 11 six-ounce glasses.

Peach Jam
3 1/2 cups prepared fruit
4 1/2 cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit, peel and pit about 2 1/2 pounds of soft ripe peaches. Grind. Measure 3 1/2 cups into a large saucepan.

To make the jam, measure sugar and set aside. Place saucepan holding fruit over high heat. Add powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once. Makes about 8 six-ounce glasses.

IN MEMORY OF MY WIFE
An angel of a wife and mother
Has left us all alone
Her task on earth is finished
And she has left our earthly home.

She was an angel of kindness
To each and every one
And now her sweet face is missing
In our humble but happy home.

What comfort it was to aid her
In each and every care
But now that comfort is missing
For she's gone on over there.

Our life was one long courtship
Thru fifty-one long years
As we shared each other's joys
And we soothed each other's fears.

I was with her thru joy and sorrow
I was with her thru every pain
I was with her thru all the sunshine
I was with her thru all the rain.

Oh all was joy and comfort
When that sweet face was near
But now all's turned to sorrow
For missing the one so dear.

Oh how we'll miss her presence
No earthly tongue can say
For all is dark and gloomy
Each night and every day.

Over a thousand bouquets I've brought her
Of the flowers she loved so well
Ten thousand times I've kissed her
If she were only here to tell,
If she were only here to tell,
And the flowers that I brought her yesterday
She said were so beautiful and fine
Then she closed her eyes in silence
Till the long long end of time,
The touch of her hands was thrilling
For long over fifty years
And her words were always soothing
But now all left is tears,
Oh what would I do without you
These words she often said
As she'd put her arms around me
A short time before she was dead,
Her bed is so quiet and silent
No sweet face lays there to see
No soft lips to press a kiss on
No favorite voice to speak to me.

As sure as there's angels in heaven
She'll sure be counted as one
Oh I'd give my life to be with her
Could she only realize I'd come,
Our room is so still and death like
No sign of a mother there
To her easy old roller chair,
Oh the world's so dark and dreary
For now and ever more
Until I can meet that angel
Over on that farther shore.
A. J. Prince.

Old fur can be cleaned, dyed and glazed at home, and may be made of a pair of warm mittens, gloves or mittens. Sew with care, overhead stitches, using 1/8 inch needle so you'll make only small holes in the material. Always cut through the felt from the skin side, using a razor blade, since shears will cut the fur.

Home Lighting Often Too Weak for Eyes

Nature has given you only one pair of eyes. Is the lighting in your home designed to help you save them?

Francis E. Wilson, home demonstration agent, says that general lighting is sufficient for conversation and party games but local lighting is needed for special eye tasks.

These portable lamps that you use for special purposes such as reading, writing or sewing must be efficient. If the shades are colored, then they should have a white lining. The lamp should not cast shadows. They must be tall enough and the shade broad enough to give a wide circle of light. A diffusing bowl or special bulb will cut the glare.

Floor lamps are made in three heights so that you can select them for their use and in relation to the height of the furniture. Table lamps that are used as reading lamps should be at least 23 inches high. They should be equipped with diffusing bowls or special bulbs.

Pin-up lamps can be placed as part of a furniture grouping and used as additional lighting for close work. Pin-up lamps save space and can be used where there is not room for another lamp.

Be sure there is sufficient general lighting in the room. It is hard on the eyes to read under a bridge lamp when the rest of the room is in darkness.

Dark colors are not the only light robbers you may have in your house. Dust and grime on lamp bulbs, bowls and shades are light robbers. Clean cloth lamp shades and replace paper ones. If a new shade has a cellophane wrapping, be sure to take it off before it warps the frame.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to take this means of thanking my neighbors and friends, and the Cassiday Lake fire department for their help at the time of our fire.

Permanent Overseas Cemeteries Awaiting President's Approval

A revision of the 1946 law authorizing return of bodies of war dead from overseas is now on President Truman's desk for approval, having been passed by the Senate in the closing hours of Congress. The measure gives positive authority for establishment of permanent overseas cemeteries for the bodies of those not returned. A Senate amendment accepted by the House insures that the American Battle Monuments Commission will design and construct the cemeteries.

Other changes in the 1946 act give the Secretary of War power to leave bodies of unknown dead overseas instead of requiring him to bring them home, and give a fifth option for disposition of remains to next-of-kin.

This fifth option permits bodies to be sent to the home country of the nearest relative. The earlier options are not changed by the bill. Bodies may be brought to the United States for burial in a private or national cemetery, or may be left in the permanent cemeteries to be built overseas, or may be sent to the foreign homeland of the deceased serviceman.

State Seed Laboratory Will Check Seed Tests on Rye for Weeds

The seeding of rye for cover crop is increasing rapidly in the state. The Department of Agriculture anticipates the importation of seed rye from outside of the state to meet the demands for fall seeding.

Charles Stahl, State Seed Analyst, warns that seed not properly cleaned and tagged may be a source of many noxious weeds.

Seed dealers in the state are requested to cooperate with the Department of Agriculture in having all seed inspected and tagged before it is offered for sale to the look, line and sinew!

This is the big one that mustn't get away.

This is the prize catch that's worth all the patience you can muster, because there's never been an automobile quite so full of all the things to make your heart rejoice.

Take the looks of it. The looks of something really good and able — broad, deep-chested, solid in its footing, a performer if there ever was one.

Take the sweeping lines. Clean — fresh — eye-winning wherever you go. Smart now and smart for years to come — because it's plainly the pattern that calls the turn for many a season.

Lift the bonnet. Fill your eyes on that spacious compartment filled to its brim with the makings of thrilling, zinging, winging power.

Here's everything it takes to take you places in effortless ease — eight big cylinders smoothed to velvety action by superfine finish and precision, the matchless flashing action of Buick's exclusive Fireball power.

Watch this traveler stride the roads with the steadiness only ample road-weight and size can give you. Catch its nimble footwork, as four gentle coil springs soak up the bumps, leveling them flat, shielding you against solid jar and annoying ripple with equal ease.

Take the wheel and handle it a while. Feel the "sweetness" of the steering, the firmness of controls, the surprising lightness of a car that's two-tons husky. Check the lean and sinewy toughness that means a long and durable life.

Go for this Buick? Of course you do — with the same eagerness it goes for you when you touch your foot to its treadle.

Then why not do as smart buyers are doing all over the country? Get your order in now — and make sure that you'll drive America's most wanted automobile.

We'll take your order, you know, whether or not you have a car to trade.

A bad wreck occurred on the Michigan Central at the west end of the yards at Francisco about six o'clock Sunday morning. The train, No. 16, was a fast east-bound express. As the train approached the yards the engine tender left the rails and at the switch point the engine and two express cars were turned over at the side of the track.

Michigan State college dairymen say that unclean utensils are probably the cause of most bacteria in milk. All utensils should be rinsed immediately after milking and cleaned with hot water and a good dairy cleanser.

You stand to GAIN from Michigan Bell's proposed rate increase

CHELSEA telephone users could call ANN ARBOR without paying a toll charge.

When somebody raises prices, it usually means you just pay more for what you've been getting all along.

But that's not entirely the case with the rate increase Michigan Bell will propose to the Michigan Public Service Commission on August 27.

The suggested rate increase would help protect the future quality of your telephone service...

AND—the suggested rate increase also would provide more service to most telephone users.

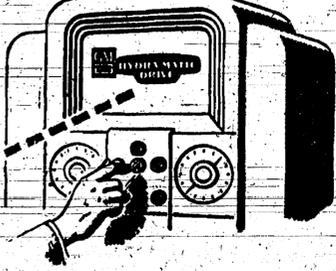

Compared with the time when present rates were established many years ago, telephone service has become far more useful—and far more valuable. That's because we've added so many more telephones which you can call under the flat rate you've been paying.

Now, under the proposed rates, telephone customers also could call telephones in certain adjacent communities without paying toll charges.

This means telephone service would be "tailor made" to fit calling needs in this area. It means that telephone service would be geared more closely to the widespread social and business interests of modern living.

Community by community, our proposed local rates are related to the number of telephones each subscriber could reach, and thus the amount of service he could get, without a toll charge. Now that increased rates are needed to meet increased costs, this is the fair way for each subscriber to help assure the future quality of everybody's service.

Tune in on TOMORROW!

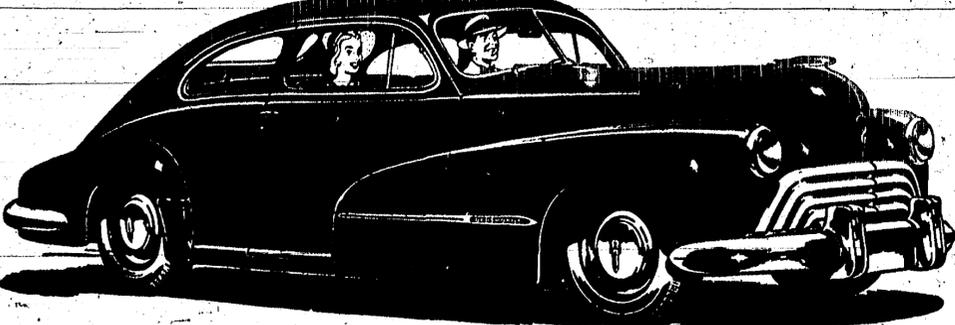

The "drive" of tomorrow is here today! ... as ultra-modern as television, and with nearly 8 years of PROOF behind it!

It's in the picture for the future—and Oldsmobile brings it to you today! Just as television is the big news in the field of electronics, automatic transmissions are the number-one topic of conversation in the automobile industry.

Hydra-Matic Drive eliminates the clutch pedal entirely! What's more... Hydra-Matic Drive was introduced by Oldsmobile nearly 8 years ago! Since that time it has been proved in the hands of nearly 400,000 Oldsmobile owners—proved in literally billions of miles of driving—even proved in combat use on Army tanks!

GM Hydra-Matic Drive* is the smart new Oldsmobile—away out ahead automatically—away out ahead in appearance, too. Owners know Oldsmobile is always in tune with tomorrow. They expect Oldsmobile to come out first with the really important advancements like Hydra-Matic Drive. That's why so many future-minded people say, "It's SMART to Own an Olds!"

Michigan Has Already Reported 3550 Scarlet Fever Cases for 1947
 A total of 3550 cases of scarlet fever have been reported in Michigan so far this year, 37 of them in the past week, according to the Michigan Department of Health. While this number does not constitute a threat of an epidemic, it does indicate that there are many persons in the state who should have the latest information on regulations and care of the patient having the disease, according to Dr. F. S. Lueder, director of the Bureau of Disease Control.
 Scarlet fever is a contagious disease which is serious because even the mildest case may be followed by heart, kidney or ear complications. The disease is most common in children under 15 years of age and most serious in children under five years of age.
 Symptoms
 The first warning signals of scarlet fever are sore throat, vomiting, headache and fever. In two or three days a rash usually appears, first on the neck and chest and then on the rest of the body except the face. It looks like small bright red pinpoints. Rash may not appear in scarlet fever and the other symptoms may be so slight as to be scarcely noticeable. The child, in any case, should be isolated and kept in bed because mild cases are also as communicable as severe ones and just as likely to develop complications. Other children should be kept away from him. A doctor should be called and his instructions should be followed. The child should remain in bed until the doctor says he is able to be up. This is necessary to minimize damage to the heart, kidneys and other parts of the body.
 How It Is Spread
 Germs carried in the discharges from the patient's mouth, nose, ears and throat spread the disease. A child will become ill in two to seven days after he has been exposed, but many children who are exposed do not get the disease. The scarlet fever patient is most contagious during the early stages but can pass the disease on for two weeks or more. He usually is contagious before he appears to be ill. The doctor says he is able to be up. This is necessary to minimize damage to the heart, kidneys and other parts of the body.

The new company not only acquires the Gorton lines, but also takes over the lines of the Rural Telephone Company that run between Waterloo and Chelsea, and Waterloo and Grass Lake, and also the short lines and subscribers around Waterloo. This gives the Waterloo exchange about 200 subscribers and there will be but one switchboard.

Check Hay Mows Now for Overheating Signs
 Watch that hay now! That's the advice of Fred Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State college.
 Hay conditions in some parts of the state were unfavorable and resulted in storage of some hay with high moisture content. Whenever tough hay is put in a mow with the moisture above 25 percent, there is danger of spontaneous combustion.
 Both urgent farmers to check their mows regularly. The presence of hot gases, damp spots on top, and a strong pungent odor are common signs when hay is heating.
