

Unlike the weather about which we talk constantly, yet never do anything about, Michigan rural health is due for improvement. Here's a frank picture of the problem. It's not a pretty one. Among Michigan rural youths, rejections for military service were higher than among city youths. Some of their physical defects were due—of all things!—to faulty nutrition.

Because farmers have received only about one-tenth of the national income during the past decade or so, the following conditions prevailed in Michigan farm homes as of 1940:

Less than one-third had running water—a simple convenience that was available to 97 out of 100 Michigan city homes. Only one out of six farm homes had an indoor toilet or a bath tub or shower. The city average was nine out of ten homes. One out of four farm homes had central heating; one of seven cooked with gas or electricity. One of eight had mechanical refrigeration; one of four had a telephone. In fact, in only one county—Washtenaw—did as many as one-half of the farm homes have a telephone.

Furthermore, better pay and a trend to specialization have combined to attract new doctors to cities. Alcona county, for example, had 2,732 persons per active physician in 1943 (a war-time year) as compared with 928 persons per doctor in Wayne county, Detroit. Lack of modern hospitals in rural areas also contributed to the steady decline of physicians there.

What's happening to change this picture? Well, two things among others: First: Price inflation has set a new high mark for farm income. Cash receipts in 1946 were 208 per cent above the average for 1935 to 1939, according to Uncle Sam's department of agriculture. Farmers came out of the war with cash in the sock. Many of them are modernizing their homes.

Second: Michigan physicians, members of the Michigan State Medical Society, have rolled up their sleeves—to use a phrase—and are going to do something about lagging rural health. The first state rural health conference was held a few days ago at Michigan State college under auspices of the medical society. Cooperating agencies included the Michigan State Grange and Michigan Farm Bureau.

Out of this conference came several constructive steps. Medical scholarships will be awarded to students who will practice in rural communities for a minimum period of three to five years. Local health councils are to be established to "assist, coordinate and implement all programs contributing to the health of the people." "Medical associates" are to be recruited to assist doctors in their actual work. Medical and hospital-insurance benefits will be extended to Michigan rural residents by the Michigan Service's Blue-Cross. The first community-wide enrollment is set for St. Johns (Clinton county) in October.

Dr. Emory W. Morris, Battle Creek, president of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, and Dr. A. C. Furstenberg, dean of the U. of M. Medical School, recommended that rural hospitals provide office facilities for doctors, nurses, dentists and public health officials.

The above program is a harbinger of what is coming. Better health for Michigan farm folk is on the way.

Independents Defeated in Final Game

Championship Goes to Brighton; Contest Marked by Errors

By DWIGHT GADD

Under ever threatening skies Chelsea's Independents lost a loosely played championship game by the score of 6 to 3 to Brighton last Sunday at Ann Arbor's West Park. Chelsea scored first when with 2 down in the last half of the first inning, Adams slammed a long triple to right-center between the outfielders and A. Policht brought him home with a sharp single into center.

Brighton tied it up in the second on a single by "Hank" Green, a walk to Cole and a single by Wilkenson. A. Policht made a nice try for Green at the plate but his peg was wide. However, Cole was thrown out. S. Policht to Adams after a try to nip Wilkenson at second, Marsh to S. Policht, missed by a hair.

Brighton threatened in their half of the third inning. After Mickelson and Lueker singled, McClanahan was pulled from the mound; E. Miller was waved in from center to take over the pitching duties. A. Policht moved from right to center and McClanahan went to right field. Miller proved to be an able fireman as he kept Brighton from scoring and retired the side without further damage, although he needed the help of Marsh who tagged out Davis as he attempted to steal home.

Chelsea again went ahead by a single run in the last of the third. Birch got life on first as the Brighton second baseman, S. Policht, grounded out, third to first.

The local ladies couldn't stand prosperity though. Three successive errors in the Chelsea infield allowed Brighton to tally again in the first of the fourth and only some good pitching by Miller kept them from doing anymore than to score once to tie it up. Chelsea failed to threaten in their half of the 4th.

Davis walked to open the fifth inning and was sacrificed to second by Lueker. Green came through with his second single of the game (Continued on page three)

Improvements Noted in Chelsea Business District

A number of Chelsea's established business places have had improvements added in the last few weeks; a new business is opening this week just outside the village and another in the village, and a factory building is nearing completion for a business now housed in quarters on West Middle street.

Among the improvements are new awnings at Strieter's men's wear store and Schneider's Grocery, both in the Freeman building. The section of the building just above the awnings has been finished with a three-foot strip of white painted paneling which extends across the entire front and around the corner of the building.

The sign which shows the location of roads and lakes in this vicinity which has been located on the south side of Burg's drug store for several years—was repainted recently and the front of the building on West Middle street which is occupied by Norma Schiller's beauty shop and Jack Warren's barber shop, is in the process of being modernized, with new windows, new entrances and a brick front.

First Meeting of High School PTA Monday, Oct. 6th

The opening session of the High school PTA will be held Monday evening, Oct. 6 at 8 o'clock in the Home Ec. room at Chelsea High school. An informal reception will be held for the teachers and members of the Board of Education.

St. Mary's Altar Society. Twenty-eight members of St. Mary's Altar society attended the meeting of the Southwestern Diocese of the National Council of Catholic Women, which was held at St. Joseph's church in Dexter, Sunday afternoon, Sept. 28, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. J. M. Althoff, archdiocesan chairman of the Family Life program. She gave an inspiring talk on family life.

Following the meeting tea was served by the ladies of the Dexter church.

Mrs. Walter Boone has returned home after spending six weeks at Petoskey.

Mrs. Clarence Taylor of Syracuse, N. Y., visited Mrs. Lula Bahnmiller at her home here Sunday.

Teachers Meet as Guests of Chelsea Professional Club

Ninety-five teachers from the rural and village schools of Washtenaw County met at Chelsea Wednesday night to organize the year's work. Chelsea Classroom Teachers' club acted as hosts, having had charge of all arrangements. Tables were decorated with autumn leaves and gladioli, supplied by Gault and Richards' farms, and an excellent ham dinner was served by ladies of the Rebekah No. 130 organization.

Russell West, assistant superintendent of Ann Arbor schools, discussed with the group, "Procedures for Judging Achievement of Children." He emphasized the fact that both parents and teachers place too great an emphasis on "marks" as such; that while qualities of analytical thinking, judgment, co-operation, community service, etc., are encouraged, these qualities altogether too often fail to appear in a pupil's record, though they are frequently of greater importance to prospective employers than academic achievement. A lively discussion followed, though no solution to the problem was reached.

A short business session was conducted by President Mabel Fox of Chelsea, who afterward gave a report of the National Education Association convention at Cincinnati to which she was sent as a delegate from this group. Other officers are vice-president, Donald C. Weed of Manchester; Julius Haab, Ann Arbor, treasurer, and Robert C. Jones, Milan, secretary. Committee work for the year was organized.

Mrs. Walter Boone has returned home after spending six weeks at Petoskey.

Mrs. Clarence Taylor of Syracuse, N. Y., visited Mrs. Lula Bahnmiller at her home here Sunday.

First Defeat for Bulldogs Last Friday

Second Half Rally Offsets C.H.S. Lead to Tune of 26 to 12

By DWIGHT GADD

After a very close and exciting first half, Chelsea's defense crumbled last Friday night at Flat Rock and a hard running and accurate passing Flat Rock eleven trampled the Bulldogs into the high grass, 26-12.

A crowd of approximately 1,000 persons, including a goodly crowd from here, were brought to their feet on the opening kickoff as Chelsea's backfield failed to find the handle on the elusive, bounding ball, and let Flat Rock recover it on the Bulldogs' 21-yard line.

A Chelsea offside penalty and two running plays moved it to the 8-yard line for a first down and goal to go. Then, the Bulldogs got very tough and made a great goal line stand. After four running plays Flat Rock was still one yard short of pay dirt and Chelsea took over on downs.

Slane punted out to the 32-yard line and Flat Rock again had the ball deep in Chelsea territory with a first down on the 30-yard line. This time they gained exactly nothing in four tries, and Chelsea took over only to find that Flat Rock was as tough on defense as they had been. Slane punted from the 28 and got away a beauty which finally rolled dead on Flat Rock's 21-yard line.

Flat Rock made it a first down on the 34 with two running plays, only to fumble and Chelsea recovered on the Flat Rock 37-yard line. The Bulldogs lost no time with this opportunity as Slane bucked for a yard and then Carlson broke around his own left end and raced to the Flat Rock 16. A smash off tackle and two incomplete passes got only a yard, but on fourth down Miller hit Bauer with a pass on the flat and he rambled to the one before being stopped just as the first quarter came to an end.

Slane attempted to buck it over on the first play of the second quarter but was stopped for no gain. Miller then passed to Hansen in the end zone for a touchdown. Baldwin's kick for the point after, was wide and with two minutes of the second quarter gone Chelsea led 6 to 0.

Flat Rock lost no time in striking back. After an exchange of punts, in which Chelsea lost 25 yards, Flat Rock powered from the 27 to the 7 in four running plays. Oostrik, Flat Rock's quarterback, then dropped back and tossed a very nice scoring pass to Wenzel, the right end. Their point after, was also no good, so the score stood 6 to 6.

Chelsea lost 5 yards in three running plays, after Slane had returned the kickoff from the 25 to the 43. Slane kicked to the Flat Rock 32 and from that point, in just eight running plays and one 19-yard pass, they moved 68 yards for their second touchdown, with Kruse bucking off tackle the last 3 yards for the score. The kick was good and Flat Rock led 13 to 6.

The Bulldogs struck back in a hurry. On the first play after the kickoff, Slane knifed over right tackle and streaked 50 yards down the right side line to the Flat Rock 15. Three plays later Slane scooted around end for the score. Flat Rock blocked the try for point and with a minute and a half to go the score stood 13 to 12 in Flat Rock's favor.

to score Davis, making the score 3 to 2 for Brighton.

The score remained the same until in the last of the seventh when Chelsea again tied it up. Birch reached first on an error and Marsh singled him around to third. Adams drove a long fly to right field, Birch scoring after the catch. A Policht was given an intentional pass but S. Policht ended the inning with a looper into the second baseman's glove.

Brighton sewed it up in the eighth on 3 singles and 3 Chelsea errors which netted 3 runs for a 6 to 3 margin. Green quite handily held the Chelsea batters in check for the last two innings to protect his 3-run lead, although he needed the help of two good catches in the outfield to do it.

Green was the winning pitcher and E. Miller, Jr., the loser. Both sides had 10 hits, the difference in the score being that Brighton got theirs in 2's and 3's together with some helpful Chelsea errors.

Even though they did lose the title game of the playoff series the people of Chelsea can well be proud of their team this year. They have played consistently good ball, Sunday after Sunday since early May, and no matter how much you love the game, that's still a lot of games.

They took the Eastern Division crown and, except for a few costly errors, could have been the champs. Next year's another year, so good luck to them in '48.

Vegetables Must Have Proper Scalding Prior To Frozen Storage

Is it better to use steam or boiling water for scalding vegetables before home freezing?

Dr. Pauline Paul, foods specialist at Michigan State college, says that new studies show it depends on the vegetable.

Three green vegetables, peas, asparagus and broccoli, have recently been tested with both methods by the United States Department of Agriculture. Frozen peas which had been scalded with boiling water held more of their fresh flavor and vitamin C than those scalded with steam.

On the other hand, broccoli which had been steam-scalded was more palatable and had more nutritive value than water-scalded broccoli. The asparagus, which you are getting ready for home freezing now, will be as good scalded with steam as with boiling water.

Proper scalding is most important in preparing vegetables for freezing. Vegetables which are not properly scalded will lose flavor and color in storage.

Scalding vegetables for freezing is a delicate process. It must be enough to stop enzyme activity, but not enough to soften the vegetables and give them a cooked flavor.

PRESIDENT REPORTS

village is financially unable to do the work and grant a longer time limit for payment. This time limit is in accordance with the provisions of Section 5.1362 Michigan Statutes Annotated. According to the state law the village treasurer may reassess said assessment in the next annual village tax roll, with interest at 10% per annum from the date of confirmation of the assessment in the manner provided for collecting village taxes, if the assessment is not paid within 60 days.

Many inquiries are being received as to why so many street lights are out so much of the time and boulevard light poles are not being replaced. The answer to this is simple. The two trunk lines leading to these lights must be replaced and employees of the Electric & Water Department have not had the time to do the necessary work. These trunk lines are under the pavement at the curb of both sides of Main street and replacement requires considerable time. This work, however, is being planned for the next few weeks and then the lights will be on again.

Another sore spot with everyone who drives a car is the hazardous condition of our railroad crossings. Work which has been done by railroad section crews has not improved this condition and I have written the Public Service Commission at Lansing in the hope that they will investigate and order the Michigan Central Railroad company to take the necessary steps to provide Chelsea with smoother crossings.

Believing that establishment of a state police post in the vicinity of Chelsea would be an advantage to the entire community, I have communicated with Commissioner Donald S. Leonard in regard to the possibility of such action. In reply Commissioner Leonard stated in part: "Chelsea would undoubtedly be an excellent location for a State Police Post. However, our entire building program is being held in abeyance until the finances of the State will permit the construction of new buildings. We appreciate your interest in this matter and want to assure you that when surveys are made for the construction of Posts, Chelsea will be given every consideration."

Earlier in the year when the council was considering the purchase of a police car the sheriff's department gave us every assurance that the car would be equipped with a two-way radio and that the county would contribute to the salaries of our police officers because of their services to the county as deputies. We have received the police car and now the board of supervisors have so far failed to take such action. I have conferred with the chairman of the sheriff's committee and informed him that unless the county board agrees to such an arrangement our police officers will be withdrawn as deputies and confine their duties to the territory within the village limits. He insisted that we withhold definite action until he could call a meeting of his committee, and that I should be present at the meeting. I believe the people of Chelsea will agree with the council that we should discontinue providing deputy service to the county unless we are reimbursed to the proper extent.

Another item of expense which cut into the village treasury this year and should not be overlooked was the painting and repairing of the water tank. The tank was in poor condition because of neglect, and the total cost amounted to about $3,500. The repair work carried a ten-year guarantee, so we believe it was money well spent.

The Electric & Water Commission has recommended to the council a scale of rates for sewer service charges, with the suggestion that they be placed in effect January 1, 1948. The rates as recommended may be altered somewhat before definite action is taken by the council and the information will be passed on to the public. Such charges are now in effect in practically every town and city having a sewage treatment plant, and income to at least cover operating and depreciation costs is deemed necessary by the commission and the council.

While routine business of the council is included in council proceedings which are published regularly, I believe the public is interested in unreported activities of the administration and with this thought in mind the above report is respectfully submitted.

Village President

New Radio Station
Goes on the Air
Sunday, October 5

Although construction of its building is not yet finished, Radio Station WHRV, Ann Arbor, has completed arrangements to go on the air this coming Sunday. It was announced this week. A member of the American Broadcasting Company network, WHRV is licensed to operate on a wavelength of 1600 kilocycles, with 1000 watts of power, day and night. It is Washtenaw county's first full-time a.m. radio station, as well as its first network outlet.

The combined transmitter and studio building of WHRV, located on Packard Road just east of US-23, will be finished within a few days, and the landscaping will then start. Technical installation is complete; in fact, testing has been going on for several weeks. WHRV engineers, who have made spot checks throughout the listening area, with a mobile truck, report a clear, strong signal for several miles beyond this city.

WHRV is owned and operated by Huron Valley Broadcasters, Inc.

The principals are James F. Hopkins and Richard A. Connell, who for 19 years prior to their disposal of the property this summer owned and operated WJBK, Detroit.

Forest Authority Sees Wildlife Famine for State of Michigan

Michigan can expect a gradual and continual decrease in most types of wildlife, according to Paul A. Herbert, head of forestry department at Michigan State college.

Forty years ago foresters were predicting a timber famine, Herbert points out. The years have proved those predictions correct. Today we can predict a wildlife famine with equal confidence, he believes.

Most of the larger forms of wildlife of major interest to the tourist and hunter require cover and food of a kind that is rapidly disappearing in Michigan. Without such protective cover and food it is inevitable that a large part of the wildlife will starve or be destroyed.

According to Herbert, clean farming and the increase in dairy farming reduce both food and cover of farm game animals and birds. On the non-agricultural areas which are growing up into dense forests the same reduction can be predicted because the species of trees that grow over most of Michigan do not produce much food for wildlife. The dense tree stands, as they grow older, shade out most of the plants that furnish both food and shelter to most kinds of forest wildlife.

A wildlife famine cannot be entirely avoided, but it could be made much less severe if all persons concerned with wildlife came to a realistic grip with the problem. Herbert believes this is unlikely and says, "My prediction of a wildlife famine within 40 years stands."

Good crop rotation is an important step in a land management program.

Refrigerator Needs To Be Defrosted Often for Economy

When the foods in your refrigerator don't seem to cool as quickly as they should, it may be that the frost line has reached the danger point.

For the sake of your refrigerator and the foods stored in it, Irma H. Gross, head of the department of home management at Michigan State college, says to defrost it often. Defrost it before the frost becomes a quarter of an inch thick.

Thick frost slows down the cooling of foods and may send the temperature up even though the refrigerating system works harder than usual. Before defrosting, remove the drip tray and place in place to catch the water as the frost melts.

Don't try to speed up the defrosting by putting hot water in the freezer trays while the control is set at "defrost" or "off" unless it is recommended by your manufacturer. Check the directions booklet or check with the manufacturer before using hot water.

Never use anything sharp to chip frost from the evaporator or to loosen the ice-cube trays, because this may injure the coils that hold the freezing fluid.

Guests are to be admitted to school dances this year, but the guests are to have guest tickets which must be signed by either Mr. Cameron or Miss Schell.

The Chorus is going very smoothly this year. The director is also giving voice lessons after school on Monday and Wednesday to those who are interested. BIOGRAPHIES Shades of the roaring 20's! Here is a Guinan but it isn't Tex, it's Genevieve or Gen, as she is known in these parts. Gen, first opened papers on December 15, 1929 in Cleveland, Ohio.

During the summer you would probably find Gen swimming or pushing a writing stick and listening to "Near You," her favorite song. Past! Boys, when you take Gen, to dinner remember ham and sweet potatoes are her favorite foods. Don't be a cheap skate, buy her roses. Her favorite color is yellow and don't pester her too much after graduation for she will be busy working, or so she says.

Grass Hoppers? No! It must be Pat Hopper, or Poochie, singing, "When My Blue Moon Turns to Gold Again." She was born in Chelsea, Michigan, April 4, 1929. Her favorites are: sport, tennis; subject, short hand; color, blue; food, everything but liver. Her plans after graduation are to have a day nursery.

On October 29, 1930 the stork dropped a heavenly bundle into the arms of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Forner, who is now known as Agnes Elizabeth.

She has grown to be 5' 8", has green eyes and light brown hair. As for her favorite color, she says it is yellow. When asked what her favorite sport and song was, she responded, "Football and 'April Showers.'" She has no particular preference in food—almost anything will do.

Agnes' hobby is writing letters and her pastime, "just laughing" suits her "to a T." English has been her favorite subject through high school. After high school Agnes plans to attend college. Good luck to you, Agnes.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"It's Living That Counts"

I stole the title of this column from a magazine article that said a whole lot better than I can what farm and country life can mean.

We talk about farm profits, production, research, and mechanical improvements... but isn't it true, what we really value is the life country living offers us?... the chance to be close to our families and neighbors... children sharing in the chores... working with our own hands at a worthwhile job.

And country pleasures are simple: good talk at day's end, and a glass of mellow beer with friends... the companionship of man and wife, untroubled by distractions of the city... the mutual tolerance of one another's tastes—in choosing a friend, or a glass of beer, or a candidate for Governor.

Mind, I'm all for material improvements. But from where I sit, the real goodness of our country life is that spirit of tolerance, moderation, and good fellowship.

Boulder on Lake Michigan at Spot of Marquette's Death

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of stories about historical spots and monuments in Michigan, based on information from the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.)

Ann Arbor—Where did Father Marquette, founder of Michigan's first white settlement, die?

Controversy has somewhat obscured the answer, but a boulder on the Lake Michigan shore near Ludington now is considered to mark the approximate location.

Ludington and Frankfort have been chief contenders in the argument, although several other Michigan cities in that region from time to time have entered the fray.

The 88-year-old priest died May 18, 1876, after an illness during a trip to St. Ignace. He had come to a mission at St. Ignace in 1871 and was racing death in an effort to return there before he died. Earlier, in 1668, the priest had founded the state's first white settlement at Sault Ste. Marie.

The Indians with the Jesuit continued to St. Ignace and reported they had buried him at the third river south of Grand Traverse Bay. It is the determination of just where those three rivers feed into Lake Michigan that clouds the issue.

According to the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan, Father Charlevoix visited the place 46 years later and made a report on the location. Gen. Lewis Cass, while United States Minister to France, checked this report and agreed that the place was determined by the location of the third river.

Some say the third river was the Betise, at Frankfort. Michigan Historical Collections information, however, indicates most historians now concede the third river was the Pere Marquette, near Ludington.

There is even some doubt that the marker near Ludington is in the right place. Some persons believe that because of changes in the Pere Marquette river channel, the spot should be further north along Lake Michigan, nearer Ludington.

Several of the things historians agree on concerning the priest are that he was in the party that discovered the Mississippi river in 1673, and that after his death a group of Indians disinterred his remains and buried them at St. Ignace.

short kickoff resulted in Flat Rock having the ball on their own 47 and from there on the first play from scrimmage, Oestrike uncorked a 40-yard pass to Wenzel who was spilled on Chelsea's 2-yard line. Kruse plunged it over but Flat Rock was offside, and after two incomplete passes the half ended.

After Chelsea kicked off to start the second half it seemed that Flat Rock could do nothing wrong, and Chelsea could do nothing right. The Bulldogs staved off five separate Flat Rock drives in the third quarter and it was evident to almost everyone present that it was only a matter of time before they rolled to another score.

With three minutes gone in the fourth quarter it happened. Slane received a punt on the Chelsea 5, and then fumbled as he was hit on the 15. In three running plays Flat Rock was on Chelsea's one and from there Oestrike pitched to Wenzel in the end zone for the score. The point after was good and Chelsea trailed, 20 to 12.

Chelsea lost 7 yards on another punt exchange and then, with a first down on their own 13, were penalized 5 yards for too much time in the huddle, back to the 8.

Miller was rushed attempting to pass and Flat Rock intercepted on the 11. In just two running plays Flat Rock scored again, Pichan plunging it over from a yard out. It made little difference that the point after was missed. The game ended with Chelsea vainly trying to pass for a consolation touchdown.

The statistics tell the story in themselves. Chelsea gained a total of 185 yards to Flat Rock's 310, and made 7 first downs to Flat Rock's 17. Flat Rock completed 5 out of 14 passes for 78 yards and had none intercepted, while Chelsea threw 15, of which 5 were completed for 33 yards, and 2 were intercepted. Chelsea lost the ball by fumbling 3 times, Flat Rock twice.

Only in punting did Chelsea hold their own, both teams averaging just over 32 yards per kick.

Tomorrow night, Oct. 8, under the lights at 8:00 o'clock, Chelsea will meet Romulus, winner last week by a 27 to 0 count over Dundee. Let's have a big crowd there and show the team you're behind them, win, lose or draw. See you at game time!
