

● Farmers have long known that you can't have prosperity on the farm without having prosperity in the city.

We are inter-dependent upon each other in an economic way. We're all in the same boat together.

● One of the greatest economic mistakes we have made is the fallacious belief, as evidenced from time to time, that we can isolate one group against the other, that what happens to one group does not affect the others. This kind of economic isolationism has prompted some people, with best sincere intentions, to declare that we should ignore Europe and the rest of the world. "Mind our own business and let other nations mind theirs."

Whether we have a Marshall plan and whether we spend billions or no billions for aid of Western Europe is not the theme of this column. We're going to leave that to you and to Congress.

● Part of today's inflation is due to the inflationary effects of the Marshall plan whereby we agree to buy American-made goods and ship them abroad.

Sumner H. Slichter, Harvard university's economic expert, does not foresee a serious let-down in business during 1948. Recently he said:

"We are going to make our problem somewhat more difficult by a third round of wage increases. The people who will profit most are those who have profited from the first two rounds, namely, the farmers. One reason why people are willing to pay such surprising prices for meat is that we have three million more people working than anyone expected would be the case at this stage of the postwar era. But they are not producing meat. They are not working in that part of the economy."

● The consumer goods industries will profit from a third round of wage increases. The farmers, however, will go up. Sales go up by the amount of the payroll increases in the consumer goods industries, plus the amount of payroll increases in the capital goods industries, minus the amount saved or taken in taxes. Not a very large part seems likely to go into savings. Consequently, the consumer goods industries will profit, to an extent, by a third round of wage increases. Capital goods industries probably will about break even. The workers will come out a little behind as they did after the first two rounds. But the big losers will be the farmers. They will not be able to get as much for their products as they did in the first two rounds.

● Fortunately, we are in a strong position in several respects. Many remain strong. Inventories are low. I believe they will continue to remain low. Keeping them that way is one of the most important contributions that businessmen can make toward achieving a smooth transition from the present state of affairs to a more normal one. "The needs of consumers and of business are very large. I think they will remain so even when the difficult adjustments in agricultural prices and in the export surplus take place. The question is whether those two adjustments will occur early enough. The earlier they come the better."

● Who will benefit most by higher wages in the cities?

According to Professor Slichter, the farmers will. We must be our brother's keeper.

● It was a sunny afternoon in July, 1942, that I found I had a farm. Well, it was almost that way. The missus and I were sunning ourselves in the backyard, wishing we were at a Lake Michigan or Lake Huron beach. Lansing is a long way from either place, you know.

"How'd you like to have a farm?" she asked suddenly. "Father writes that he would like to make a gift settlement of 160 acres" (Continued on page nine)

Fire Department Summoned to Steger Home Wed. Morning

The Chelsea fire department made its third run of the week to the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Steger shortly after seven o'clock Wednesday morning. Passerby on their way to work at the Federal Screw Works noticed a fire on the south side of the roof and notified the Stegers, who, in turn, called the fire department. Arnold Steger, their son, came to the house in response to a telephone call from his mother and with the help of men on their way to work, had the fire put out by the time the fire department arrived. The fire department was delayed in reaching the scene because of several not having heard the fire whistle when it blew the first time. Damage to the Steger roof was a hole about eighteen inches across, burned through the attic. Dr. Steger had burned papers in the furnace a short time before the fire was discovered and it is thought some was drawn through the chimney and lodged on the roof causing the blaze.

Bulldogs Get Severe Defeat from U. High

Visiting Cubs Pile Up Early Lead To Take 56-31 Decision

By DWIGHT GADD

University High of Ann Arbor came to Chelsea last Friday night and found the Bulldog's hardwood much to their liking as they thumped the local crew, 56-31, before a capacity crowd at the high school gym.

The Cubs were "hot" right from the opening whistle, jumping to an early 14-4 lead at the end of the first period and they continued to widen the gap during the rest of the game.

Chelsea's Jim Miller staged a personal scoring spree in the second period as he scored all of Chelsea's 10 points, but U. High hit for 18 to take a 32-14 lead at the intermission.

Chelsea made a game of it during the third period, holding the visitors to 10 points while scoring 8, but as the period ended they were almost hopelessly behind, 42-22.

Both coaches substituted liberally for the fourth quarter but the U. High substitutes kept up the scoring pace by netting 14 points, while the best the local boys could hit were 9, so, at the final whistle, the Bulldogs were on the short end of a 56-31 score.

It was Chelsea's worst defeat to date this season, but it was also the record high for U. High in scoring this season. A team which is "on" such as they were last Friday night is very hard to beat, regardless of the opposition, and Chelsea wasn't in the form which it had been displaying during January.

Meader, Cub forward, playing most of the game, paced his team with 18 points while Jim Miller, Chelsea guard, made 14 for the losers.

Independent Cage League in 3-Way Tie for No. 2 Berth

Manchester just about wrapped up the title last Thursday night as they racked up their seventh straight win in league play while Products and Grass Lake Church were also hitting the winning side of the ledger.

Grass Lake Church knocked Cassidy Lake deeper into the cellar with a 39-30 win in the opening game. Snyder was high man for the victors, with 14 points, and Bacon had 10 for the losers.

Grass Lake Merchants put up a great fight in the second game against league-leading Manchester, but were beaten as the winners hit for 12 points in the last four minutes of play, while holding Grass Lake to only three markers. Grassy paced the victors with 14 points, and Worden and Clark hit for 7 each in their losing cause.

In the evening's finale, Products tripped Cassidy, 31 to 23, to create a three-way tie for second place. Millers hardly looked like the same team that had scored three straight wins while Products looked better than at anytime previously this season. Houseley Products with 9 points and Newkirk dumped in 11 of the loser's points.

Tonight, in the first game, at 7:00, Grass Lake Merchants should have an easy time with Cassidy Lake; at 8:00, Products meets the fast-improving Grass Lake Church; and, at 9:00, Millers, the team which came closest to tripping Manchester in the first round of games, losing 27 to 24.

It all adds up to three fine games, so come down to the gym at 7:00 tonight. There is no admission charge.

Sylvan Township Gets Share of Sales Tax

Sylvan township's share of sales tax returned under the sales tax diversion amendment which went into effect Dec. 6, 1946 amounted to $5,467 for the year ending Dec. 31, 1947, according to figures of the Department of Revenue at Lansing. Schools in the township including the Chelsea school received a total of $18,106 from the same source.

Lima township's share was $4,881, while the Lima township schools received $4,918.

The Department of Revenue figures show that a total of $3,516,408 in sales tax was collected during this period in Washtenaw county, the amount returned to the county being a little less than one fourth of that sum.

Local Scoutmaster Accepts Position in New York Firm

Boy Scouts across the width and breadth of the country have been observing their 38th anniversary the past week, with the period of Feb. 6 to 18 being officially designated as National Boy Scout week.

Chelsea's own Troop 25 is no exception to the above fact, as evidenced by the above group picture of the troop, taken at the Board of Review meeting held recently in the Municipal building and published here as our tribute to them.

This was the troop's last meeting under the leadership of Scoutmaster Bradford Keith who has been with them the "past year." Last week, Mr. Keith and his wife, the former Miss Helen Huntington, who taught the fifth grade in the Chelsea Public school two years ago, and was herself a leader of Troop 12 of the Girl Scouts, together with their baby daughter, left Chelsea to make their home in Ridgewood, N. Y. Mr. Keith has accepted a position with P. W. Waymire & Co., a firm of accounting public accountants and will be employed by them in New York City. He received his Master's degree in Business Administration at the U. of M. at the end of the semester last week.

The Keiths have been living in the Products apartment house since Mr. Keith came home on furlough leave from the Navy in May, 1946, after three years of service.

To show their appreciation for all he did for them during the past year, Paul J. Niehaus, on behalf of the members of the troop, presented Mr. Keith with a gift of a Jan. 26 meeting. Girl Scout Troop 12 also presented Mrs. Keith with a gift at the last meeting she attended which was held two weeks ago at the home of Jane Lou Weinberg.

For the time being, Morris Alperovitz, assistant Scoutmaster, will be in charge of Troop 25.

FFA Members Are Displaying Keen Interest in Contests

District FFA contests in Public Speaking, Parliamentary Procedure, and Crop Livestock Demonstrations will be held in Salina, March 2. Last year, Chelsea students won the two main events, and Robert Schneider placed second in Public Speaking at the regional contest in Jackson.

Walter Zeeb, Jr. will represent the Chelsea chapter FFA in the Public Speaking contest. The interest among students in the contest work is much higher this year than ever before. Decided differences of opinion concerning policies have developed and there have been some violent arguments. This situation provides a "Learning-by-Doing" opportunity for developing the ability to speak effectively and yet courteously at public meetings.

Authorities in Agricultural education feel that the ability to lead effectively in rural affairs is an ability that must be developed among our future farmers. This aim is evident in policies outlined to local school authorities by the State Board of Control for Vocational Education at Lansing.

Lima Landmark Badly Damaged by Fire Last Sunday

The ten-room farm home owned by Mrs. John Steinbach and located on US-12 near Lima Center, was badly damaged by a fire which was discovered on the roof about 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon and burned so rapidly that the entire upper floor was almost completely destroyed before it was brought under control by the Chelsea fire department which was called to the scene.

The Dexter fire department made a run to the scene also, and when it was discovered that their hose was too short to reach the creek to pump water, the men went to work with the Chelsea firefighters, doing whatever they could to help. It was four hours before the fire was brought under control.

Occupants of the house were Mrs. Steinbach and her grandson, Oranell Schiller, with his wife and children, Stanley, 3, and Sandra, 1-year-old. Mrs. Steinbach is staying at the home of her son, Martin, and family, while Mr. Schiller and his family have gone to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schiller, across the road from the Steinbach house.

The lower floor of the house was badly damaged by smoke and water and although furniture and household equipment on this floor was carried out of the house it is not known as yet how much of it was damaged. Furniture, bedding and clothing on the second floor were either entirely destroyed or badly damaged.

The house, an old landmark, is said to be the first frame house built in Lima township and was originally used as an inn. The doors and woodwork were of black walnut and the original floors which were laid down about 18 inches of planing and is thought to be black walnut also. The timbers in the house were hand-hewn, and, in the cellar are the remains of the huge ovens that were used to prepare the meals when the house was used as an inn.

Cause of the fire has not been determined although it is thought possible that a spark from the chimney ignited the roof.

The fire department was called out about 1 a.m. Sunday when passerby noticed fire on the roof corner of the Clarence Lake home at 219 Railroad street. They turned in the alarm and then hurried back to arouse the Lake family.

Damage was confined to a hole about three feet square which had burned through the ceiling in a front bedroom upstairs.

ENLARGE CHURCH ROOM

Workmen have been busy at the Congregational church the past week enlarging the pre-school area Sunday school room. A partition has been removed and the back stairs to the basement has been taken out and the space added to the room. With the addition of a number of cupboards, a nice, large meeting room for the younger children will be provided by the alterations.

Argus Branch Plant Will Be Opened Here

Ball Plant Taken on Long Lease; Repairs Already Underway

Rumor was turned into reality last Friday with an announcement made by Argus, Inc., Ann Arbor, to the effect that the firm intends to open a branch factory here in Chelsea.

According to information released by company officials, the entire metal stamping portion of the present Ann Arbor plant will be moved shortly into what is known as the old Ball plant, located on Hayes street alongside the Michigan Central railroad tracks. It is hoped that they can be in production by April 1, company spokesmen said.

While the employment will not be large, it is expected that from 50 to 75 persons will eventually be occupied in the manufacture of small camera parts, and tools and dies used by the company in their manufacturing processes. Management of the local branch will remain with the Argus office, at least for the present, although an as yet undisclosed plant superintendent will be appointed to supervise local activities.

Although the old Ball plant building has been unused for some time, excepting for a six-month period by the Central Fibre Products company, following their fire on March 30, 1947, while rebuilding of their own plant progressed, the building is well adapted for this type of manufacturing. Built in 1917 during the first World War by the Chelsea Steel Ball Co., organized June 1 of that year by M. J. Dunkel and a number of his associates in the Chelsea Screw Works, now the Federal Screw Works, the structure covers a floor area of approximately 16,000 square feet, is of brick and steel construction, with steel sash and a fireproof roof. Alongside the building is a 70-foot siding of the Michigan Central railroad.

The plant was sold to the Hoover and Bearing Co., Nov. 1, 1919, and was operated for a number of years as a branch of the Ann Arbor plant.

During World War II the Federal Screw Works operated a number of its departments in the building.

At the present time installation of a new heating system is progressing and installation of the machinery will proceed as soon as possible.

Chelsea extends a hearty welcome to the new industry.

Lad Has Narrow Escape from Death in Rifle Accident

James Jarvis, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Jarvis, who lives with his parents on Plainwell Drive at Beam Moon Lake, narrowly escaped death early Monday afternoon when a .22 caliber rifle discharged as he was poking the stock of the rifle into a hole in the ground. The bullet entered his chest and lodged in his right armpit, examination at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor, disclosed. His younger brother, Tommie, 14, was with him at the time of the accident and the injured boy was able to walk home with him to summon aid. He was taken to the hospital in the Miller ambulance and was to be released today for home care, subject to improve his mother reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis, both of whom are employed, were not at home at the time of the accident. Mr. Jarvis is employed by the McLaughlin Oil company in Dexter, while Mrs. Jarvis is with the Washtenaw cleaners, also in Dexter. James is a ninth grade student at Dexter High school.

The family moved to their present home from Inkster, about two years ago.

PIR BAKING CHAMPION

Announcement of the fact that Dorothy Baskin, 17-year-old high school girl of Hart, has been named the champion cherry pie baker of Oceana county will be of interest to a number of Chelsea people who remember her mother as Zada Fleming, a teacher at the Lima Center school about twenty-five years ago.

LETTER TO MRS. BIXBY

Executive Mansion, Washington
November 21, 1864

Mrs. Bixby,
Boston, Massachusetts.
Dear Madam:

I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the Adjutant-General of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any words of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss which should be so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering to you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic which they died to save. I pray that our heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement, and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom.

Yours very sincerely and respectfully,
Abraham Lincoln

In last week's story on March of Dimes contributions, it was erroneously stated that the Chelsea Study club, instead of the Chelsea Child Study club as it should have read, had charge of the Mile of Dimes board and had turned in collections of $187.50. Both organizations did a fine job and our correction is in order.

Corner Drug Business Sold by J. V. Burg

New Owners Took Possession Feb. 9 To End 24-Year Span

J. Vincent Burg, who for twenty-four years has been in business in Chelsea, has sold his business, Burg's Corner Drug Store, to Charles M. Lancaster, who has for a number of years been manager of Cunningham's drug store in Ann Arbor. Mr. Lancaster, a graduate of the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, took over the business here on Monday morning, Feb. 9.

Mr. Burg came to Chelsea with his parents in 1894 from Valley City, Ohio, where he was born. From 1906 to 1908 he was employed by Fenn and Vogel in their drugstore in the place where Fenn's store is now located. In 1908 and 1909 he attended Ferris College of Pharmacy in Big Rapids, where he obtained his diploma as a registered pharmacist. He returned to Chelsea and was employed by Henry Fenn, Mr. Fenn and Mr. Vogel having dissolved their partnership.

In 1911, Mr. Burg went to Detroit and was employed for three years by Buzzell and Foster in their drugstore on Woodward avenue and in January 1914 went into business for himself. He opened his first store at the corner of Davidson and Dequindre and between 1914 and 1924 he had opened four more stores in this area. Returning to Chelsea with his wife and two children after the sale of these stores, he purchased in 1924, the L. P. Vogel drug store location which was located at the present location of Burg's Corner Drug Store.

With the very efficient help of his family which had grown to include six daughters, he had the oldest daughter being a registered pharmacist, he has made this store one of the outstanding drugstores in the state. He is now retiring from active business.

Mr. Lancaster was born in Festus, Mo., and graduated from high school in Granite City, Ill. During World War I he served in the hospital corps of the Navy, and after returning to civilian life assumed the management of Cunningham's drug store in Monroe, which position he held until going to the Ann Arbor store.

Chelsea, however, is a native of Chelsea, and was married to Mrs. Grabowski before her marriage. The store operates under the name of Chelsea Drug Store.

Buchanan—The stoppage of the supply of industrial and domestic gas in Buchanan for from 22 to 30 hours during the past week-end was significant not so much from the fact that it occurred but rather because it had never occurred before in the memory of gas users, and because of the speed and efficiency with which the service was resumed. While the 988 customers suffered temporary inconvenience, the chief discomfort fell on fifteen local homes where gas is used for heating purposes, and on local restaurants, where temporary cessations of service occurred. As far as has been reported, no one suffered from cold in near-zero weather, no one went hungry and there were no explosions. Perhaps the logical reaction would be one of gratitude that we live in a fortunate part of a fortunate land, where such service interruptions are extraordinary instead of merely the rule.—Berrien County Record.

Thanks Received for Aid in Xmas Drive for Hospitalized Veterans

In grateful thanks for the splendid cooperation in helping to provide a cheerful holiday season for the hospitalized war veterans in Percy Jones General Hospital at Battle Creek, the following letter was received this past week, directed to the people of Chelsea:

Dear Friends:

Another Christmas has come and gone, and again you shared in making it a very pleasant one for the patients of Percy Jones General Hospital. The real Holiday Season began when the trees and decorations arrived on each ward and section throughout the hospital. The patients actively entered into the true Holiday spirit by attempting to make their tree and ward outstanding with its decoration. The carol groups visiting the hospital and groups sponsoring special parties and entertainment added greatly to this joyous season.

Christmas Eve, there were two Santa Clauses in the hospital who distributed gifts and contributed to the spirit of Christmas. There were parties on all the wards with fruit, cake, nuts, candies, cookies, and coffee being served, and there was much gaiety, carol singing and opening of gifts. The general atmosphere was very unlike that of a hospital on Christmas, and we owe a great deal to all of the groups and individuals who contributed so much to make the patients' Christmas a merry one.

For your generous giving of time, thought, and gifts, we wish to thank you on behalf of all the patients and staff for making this Christmas holiday season one that will long be remembered.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Elizabeth Porter, Field Director, American Red Cross.

Dwight H. Sloan, Major, Sp. S., Chief, Special Services.

Former Pastor Here Honored at Service in Grand Rapids Church

Rev. Albert E. Potts, a former pastor of the Chelsea Congregational church, was honored Sunday, Jan. 11, by his congregation at Plymouth Congregational church in Grand Rapids, on the sixteenth anniversary of his pastorate there. A special service was held in the morning, at which time Dr. Harold N. Skidmore, State Superintendent of the Michigan Congregational-Christian Conference, delivered the sermon. From four until seven o'clock in the evening, a reception was held honoring Reverend and Mrs. Potts. Tributes were given by representatives of the Women's Association, the men of the congregation, the ministers of the Grand Rapids area, and the DeMolai Commandery and during the afternoon a musical program was given.

During the sixteen years of Reverend Potts' pastorate at the Grand Rapids church he is credited with adding two hundred members to the church, and the interior of the church has been entirely remodeled. He has served as president of the Grand Rapids Ministerial Association and as chairman of the Committee on Evangelism of the Michigan Congregational Association and as chairman of its Advisory Committee. Reverend Potts is a member of Doric Lodge, F. & A. M., Chapter No. 7, Royal Arch Masons, and DeWitt Clinton Commandery, and is Prelate of DeMolai Commandery. Reverend Potts was pastor of the Chelsea Congregational church from Sept. 1, 1928 until Jan. 1, 1933, going from here to Grand Rapids, where he has since remained. Before coming to Chelsea he had held a pastorate in Lansing.

Mason County Once Had Lumbering Village Named for President Lincoln

Many will remember Lincoln's greatness on his birthday today (Thursday, Feb. 12), but few will recall a former Michigan village named for him.

Information on a tiny lumbering town named Lincoln in Mason county is on file in the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan. The town was just above Ludington on Lake Lincoln. At its height in the 1870's and 1880's, Lincoln had a population of about 125. Most of the inhabitants worked in one of nine mills producing lumber, flour, laths, grist, shingles, siding and barrels.

While this town of Lincoln is no longer in existence, the name has been preserved by a small settlement over in the eastern part of the state. Six miles west of Harsylville in Aicoma county is another Lincoln, with a population of 200.

The now-forgotten village of Lincoln north of Ludington was named by Charles Mears, who was an enthusiastic admirer of Abraham Lincoln. A letter from Mears' daughter, telling the historical highlights of Lincoln, Mich., is a part of the Michigan Historical Collections.

In the letter, written in April of 1944, Miss Mears reported that the only bits of the community remaining were "traces of the old road running up the hill... the rotting slabs and edgings of the former docks along the river and on the lake shore the row of piles which mark the location of the piers."

When Mears came to the place it was called Black Creek. By 1854, it had come to be known as Little Sauble. By 1861, Little Sauble had become a thriving mill village served by ships from Chicago. The vessels brought flour, meat, oats, hay and articles for the town's store, returning to Chicago with mill products.

In addition to a big store, the town had a three-story boarding house and a post office. Mears was the postmaster for many years.

Mears attended the Republican National convention in Chicago, May 18, 1860, when Lincoln was nominated. Mear's boat transported the evergreens used to decorate the building in which the convention was held.

The wealthy Michigan lumberman also attended Lincoln's inauguration in Washington, D. C., March 4, 1861. As a member of the Michigan legislature later that year, Mears was instrumental in having Little Sauble renamed Lincoln. But the change in name could not keep Lincoln from its ultimate fate.

"Gradually through the years the volume of business in Lincoln lessened as the timber was cut off," Miss Mears wrote. By 1895, the village was deserted.

Additional evidence of the town's failure is found in copies of the "Michigan State Gazetteer and Business Directory" in the Michigan Historical Collections. The 1891 edition says Lincoln's population had diminished to 61. That is the last edition in which the town is listed.

Fiber From Milk Casein Research workers a few years ago perfected a process for making fiber from milk casein. Manufacturers now produce about 10 million pounds of this fiber from milk annually.

Famous Cavalry Unit Needs New Recruits

Colonel Walter C. Cole, Commanding Officer of the Michigan Recruiting district, announced today that the First Cavalry Division now has several openings for qualified applicants.

It was the First Cavalry Division, whose members prefer to be known as "Cavalry Troopers," which raised the Stars and Stripes over Tokyo in climax to several hard-fought campaigns by the only active cavalry division in World War II.

The Japs first felt the force of this hard-fighting unit in Feb. 1944 and it was not until the Japanese empire crumbled that they laid down their arms to take a long and well-earned rest.

This "tried and true" division is now on occupational duty in the Far East, fulfilling its peacetime mission.

Additional information regarding this war famous division may be obtained from your nearest Army and Air Forces recruiting station at Fifth and Ann streets, Ann Arbor, in the Armory building.

Mrs. Armin Schneider announced a special meeting to make cancer dressings which was held at her home Monday evening, Feb. 9.

The February program topic, "The Christian Woman and Her Thank-Offering," was very interestingly presented at Friday's meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's church in the church hall, by Mrs. Clarence Nicolai and Mrs. Fred Seitz, program leaders for the month. Both gave readings pertaining to the subject and called on Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer and Mrs. Julius Strieter, who presented a short skit which described a number of ways in which women could participate properly in the Thank-Offering project of the Evangelical and Reformed Women's Guild.

Mrs. Wilbert Breckenwischer was in charge of the opening devotional service, which included appropriate Scripture reading, hymns and prayer.

Mrs. Floyd Walz was accepted as a new member of the Guild. Mrs. Herbert Paul, Spiritual Life chairman, announced the World Day of Prayer service which is to be held at the Congregational church at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, Feb. 13, and expressed the hope that all members would make a special effort to attend.

Following the close of the meeting, dainty refreshments were served by the month's committee. Mrs. Clarence Bahnmiller, Mrs. William Luck and Mrs. Ernest Fitzmier, the tables in the basement dining room being prettily decorated in the Valentine Day color scheme. Thirty-seven members and two guests were present at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hude spent Sunday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. Minnie Crane in Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Collins and Mrs. Agnes Collins of Ann Arbor, were week-end guests of Mrs. Mabel McClain.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Palmer of Muskegon Heights visited at the home of Mrs. Palmer's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shears, over the week-end, and called on friends in Chelsea. Malatyes Missalides, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Missalides, suffered a gash in his head and was knocked unconscious when he struck down a large icicle hanging from the roof of the family home, causing it to fall on his head.

Mrs. Louise Early of Detroit, who has been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Karp, the past month, was removed to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor, Sunday.

New Building Code for Rural Buildings Is Now in Effect

Mr. Olen R. Wanty, a resident of Washtenaw county, is the new county building inspector over all new construction of one- and two-family rural dwellings. His jurisdiction will be in fourteen of the twenty townships of the county, namely, Augusta, Bridgewater, Dexter, Freedom, Lima, Lyndon, Manchester, Salem, Saline, Sharon, Superior, Sylvan, Webster and York.

The remaining six townships, Lodi, Ann Arbor, Pittsfield, Northfield, Scio and Ypsilanti, have their own building codes.

Approval of the interim building code by the board and appointment of a building inspector was backed by a majority of supervisors who have been increasingly concerned with the construction of what they called sub-standard dwellings in the county.

Mr. Wanty will consult with the supervisors of each township to secure an estimate on the exact number of new dwellings already under way.

As passed by the supervisors, the new code became effective Jan. 1, 1948, but does not affect construction on dwellings previous to that date.

This code is serving at the present time as an interim county code, and can be modified by the County Board of Supervisors at any time they see the need. It regulates the minimum construction requirements of all one- and two-family dwellings in the fourteen townships and provides penalties for violation of the code.

Mr. Wanty announced that he will work closely with the County Agent, the County Health Director, the County Highway Commissioner and the County Planning Director. His office is located in the County Road Commission building, 415 W. Washington street, Ann Arbor.

The new building inspector is a graduate of Michigan State college, 1939, in Agriculture Engineering and Soils. He was raised on a farm and has the viewpoint of a farmer on the subject. He is a member of the Farm Bureau.

Mr. Wanty states that he will welcome the opportunity to attend community group meetings and explain the new building code, will be pleased to hear comments either pro or con, and will try to answer all questions concerning the matter.

Copies of the code and application blanks are available from the Sylvan township clerk, W. F. Kanteleher.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Will's Proud of His Big Ears

Will Dudley's mighty proud of his big ears! Best crop of corn he's grown since '38. And Will, like so many other farmers, has plenty of reason to be proud of what he raises.

The farmer has always been a keystone in our economic life, and the key to our national well-being. But from where I sit, he's more important now than ever. He's not only feeding America—but friends of America overseas—building good will for this country at a time when friendship for democracy is most important.

And farmers have willingly shouldered that responsibility. Will spends extra hours in his cornfield ... comes home tired to a temperate glass of beer and early bed, to be ready for the next day's work.

From where I sit, America can be mighty grateful for her five million farmers... for their productivity, hard work, and temperate living—of which Will's moderate glass of beer is proof!

BE KIND TO STUDENTS WEEK

The first week of the Student Council plan was "Be Kind to Teachers Week" and now after all the cooperation of the students, we hope all the teachers will do as well in this week's "Be Kind to Students Week."

In following this program the teachers of CHS could help by following these few requests of the students:

1. Do not speak harshly to us.
2. Shorten the assignment to about only fifteen pages!
3. Don't remind us of the fact that we're stupid (we know it!).

PERMANENTS . . .

Soft, flattering, face-framing curls accentuate femininity. Our oil permanent assures you of natural looking ringlets and no frizz.

SHAMPOOS — WAVES
MANICURES

Chelsea Beauty Shop
115½ S. Main St. Dial 7892

4. Give a few "A's" and limit the "E's" to none.
5. Don't mind if we come late to class.
6. Be forgiving if the assignments aren't done.
7. Remember on Monday morning that the week-end was short and we just couldn't find time to sleep.
8. Don't give us tests without warning us beforehand. "For land sakes" don't give tests on Monday (or any day as far as that goes!).
9. Don't make us dispose of that freshly-chewed (?) bubble gum.
10. Chemistry teachers! Please, don't have your students make that sweet (?) smelling perfume.

If these rules are followed there is sure to be perfect harmony between students and teachers.

BETTER THAN WALKING

"How do you like riding on the bus?" was the question given to several students of Chelsea. These were some of the remarks received: "Bus is cold," "Ain't very good," "Just like riding in the back end of a truck," "Could be a lot better," "It's better than walking."

These opinions are poor in the sense that the students don't realize how fortunate they are to have transportation to school, games and other out-of-town activities. Their parents will remember those cold, four or five mile walks to school, tramping through the deep snow, with the wind stinging their faces. Some of the parents couldn't even go to school because of lack of transportation. So the people who gripe about the buses should really be happy for the opportunity of riding on them.

SUGGESTION BOX

The Student Council has decided to promote a series of weeks devoted to special projects and interests. The question asked by the "Inquiring Reporter," in accordance with this, was "What week do you suggest should be sponsored?" Below are the answers received.

Dave Meyers: "Less home work week." Oscar Hansen: "Your cars at noon week." Pat Scott: "Students take over classes week." Sara Geer: "Don't stick your gum on the desks week." Mary Paul: "Vacation week." Kenny Proctor: "Girls please leave me alone week." Helen Jarvie: "Lay off summer week." Nancy Clark: "Skip week." Shirley Moore: "Be kind to girls week." Mr. Chandler: "Watch your manners week." Helen Wellhoff: "A push week." Don Baldwin: "Shorter skirts week." Bob Robbins: "Be kind to boys week." Third-hour Study Hall: "Paper was throwing week."

P.S.: Of course, one must realize that all these ideas are not exactly constructive, but merely figments of the imagination.

SMALL TALK

Since when is the A & P the Atlantic Pacific Railroad? Well, at least that's what J. Nicholas thinks.

Does anyone know if Miss Fox's little rabbit in her "Westinghouse" refrigerator who was just "west-in" has frozen up yet?

The question isn't "Who threw the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder," but "who threw the paper wad in third-hour study hall that hit Mr. Cameron?"

Can anyone prove that we're not all standing on our heads and that the law of gravitation isn't all phooey? That's what certain members of the Physics class are wondering.

Who made Virginia Christwell's hamburgers "sizzle" in speech class?

It seems that Mr. Newkirk needs his room cleaned badly, because he is setting aside a gum-chewers' day and anyone caught on Feb. 20, will go in after school and clean his room.

Will Miss Searles' fish live or die? That is the question.

It seems as though the barber cut Ted McClear's hair too short.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council will make a valentine box and place it in study hall.

There was a discussion about the reward given on Parents' Night. $5.00 will be given to the grade with the largest attendance of parents.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin club elected officers for the second semester as follows: President, Ted McClear; Vice-president, Dorothy Thomas; Secretary, Joyce Malott; and Treasurer, Raymond Steinbach.

PEP MEETING

A novel pep meeting featuring a singing trio composed of D. Chapman, R. Gross and M. Paul, and an advertisement of the senior stand, was given by the senior class. M. Paul, with J. Nicholas, were principal actors. Thanks to Longworth and Tarascki, who wandered through the audience, J. Lightner, J. Miller and M. Palmer, were called upon to talk. The girls' coach, Miss DeRose, was called upon to talk. The usual talks by Mr. Cameron, who could find no hot dogs that had split or dropped on the floor, and Mr. Newkirk, who would take nothing because the left-overs had been taken by Mr. Cameron, were given. After a few cheers led by the cheerleaders, the school song closed the meeting.

JUNIOR DINNER

The Junior Dinner, Feb. 6, was a big success. The girls' and boys' basketball teams of U. High were guests. The dinner was served cafeteria style (after we paid 50c). Everyone ate in either study hall or the agriculture room. The food was varied and delicious. After the exciting girls' game everyone was very hungry. The Junior class is to be complimented on its efficient management of the supper.

Everyone knows where this one's going

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

No, it hasn't always been easy, here of late, to be absolutely sure just which way automobile design was heading.

So it's a refreshing thing, people tell us, to see one car that quite clearly knows where it's going — and shows it inside and out.

You can't mistake this poised and ready fashion plate for anything but a Buick — you're sure from a glance that you'll find it steady as a battle cruiser and full of ginger as one of Grandma's cookies.

Your eye tells you it's big — you step in and find this bigness carried out in usable room as well as measurable inches.

A broad bonnet promises plenty-power — and you get it with such velvety new smoothness that you need to check the battery-charge needle

No gears ever shift in DYNAFLOW DRIVE*

In Buick's new Dynaflo Drive, sliding gear transmissions and complex gear-changers are made unnecessary. You simply set a selector lever and step on the gas. The power plant does the rest, adjusting itself to varying driving conditions with utter smoothness. You start up — accelerate — climb hills — cruise — stop — start up again — all without touching the selector lever.

to make sure the engine's running.

You size it up as comfortable. The road's verdict is that it's the most tireless car on the market, what with four coil springs, pillowy low-pressure tires and a wholly new attack on car vibration keeping you fresh and relaxed through the longest day.

You find quiet here — quiet that encourages conversation — quiet from Sound-Sorber top lining that invites conversation in normal tones.

And if it's a Dynaflo* Roadmaster you're handling, here you can sample driving ease that is near magic in its simplicity.

You set a lever, press the gas treadle — and simply steer. The power plant does all the rest — swoops you up from standstill to full pace, accelerates, climbs, slows to a stop, starts up again — all without any gearshifting, either manual or automatic!

So it's pretty plain where this one's heading — it's going even higher in the regard of the motoring public.

Why not see your Buick dealer now and get your order in?

If you saw a wild-eyed citizen tearing down the street the first of the week you could be sure the frost had played havoc with the water pipes, and he was on a hunt for the plumber. EASTON SCHOOL NEWS

Friday, Jan. 30, pupils of Easton school enjoyed an expedition to Ann Arbor and to the University of Michigan. Some of the activities included a visit to the beautiful University Chapel and a visit to the Rackham Auditorium where we saw a display of the very unusual light system.

A delicious lunch was served us at the main dining room of the Women's League with Mrs. Jay Bradbury, the wife of our school director, as our guest of honor.

The high-light of our trip was our visit to the art exhibit, viewing work done by the school children of Ann Arbor and sponsored by the Art League. We greatly enjoyed the exhibit and had fun voting on those we thought were superior in design and color combination.

We feel that our trip was very educational and that we now have a greater appreciation for real art.

High girls at the local gym last Friday afternoon.
The starting line-ups were: Chelsea—Forwards: J. Hughes, D. Howard, M. Schrader; Guards: M. Palmer, P. Schaible, M. Roberts. U. High—Forwards: J. McFarlan, M. Peterson, C. Moehl; Guards: J. Peterson, P. Graham, E. Chapman.

The game got off to a fast start with teams seeming well matched. In the second quarter the local girls became tired and the U. High girls shot ahead. At the half the score was 13 to 7 in favor of U. High.

After a good rest at the half the girls came to life again, gaining about two points in the third quarter. The fourth quarter was even better for the local girls when, with five seconds to go, Chelsea sank a basket which tied the score. The local girls were never ahead but managed to play to a tie, the final score was 20 to 20.

Walter Zeeb is going to represent Chelsea at an PFA Public Speaking contest in Saline, Mar. 2.

with a good house. You know he doesn't like attorneys."

And that was the way this newspaper columnist acquired the responsibility of a farm and all the problems it involved—$6,000 mortgage, fertility-depleted soil from over crop planting, a head-scratcher of a well that went dry, and—well, the list is lengthy.

In less than six years I acquired something else—a healthy respect for dirt-farmers, the people who stake-hard-earned money in the gamble of crops and livestock, learned the importance of soil conservation, of American agriculture to sustain our domestic economy.

All of this came to mind the other day when H. E. Bennett, chief of the U. S. soil conservation service, spoke during "Farmers' Week" at Michigan State college, East Lansing.

"Around a fourth of the crop-land in the United States is being damaged at a critical rapid rate by erosion," he warned. "This is an area estimated at something like 110 to 115 million acres of highly vulnerable cropland, much of which will be permanently damaged and some of it ruined for further cultivation every year it is cropped without protection."

"We are allowing about 600,000 acres to be so damaged by erosion every year that it cannot be used longer for cultivated crops. The estimated annual cost of erosion in the United States is considerably more than a million dollars."

Michigan has 39 soil conservation districts, comprising approximately 12 million acres, or 65 percent of the state's farmland and more than one-half of all the farms. For much of this we can thank Michigan State college.

But does it pay a farmer to practice modern soil conservation methods? The answer is emphatically yes. Dividends are in the form of better crop yields, better income.

Federal studies show the average additional income to be $4.90 per acre for the country as a whole, and $6.87 more on 267 typical conservation-treated farms in Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio and Iowa. Nothing fangle-dangled about that!

We never expect to be smart enough to run a farm. But we do believe we are smart enough to put a good idea to work. Soil conservation is a practical investment. It is paying dividends for every farmer and farm owner who gives it a chance. It will bring more dollars to the local merchants. It will help to build better communities and a more prosperous Michigan.

on the chin, although not so thoroughly, as the U. High reserves came from behind in the last quarter to win, 30-23. Likely was high man for the winners with 12 points and Tobin sank 9 for the losers.

Tomorrow night, Friday the 16th, the Bulldogs travel to Dundee for another Huron League game. Game time at the same place with the reserves meeting at 7:00 and the Varsity immediately following. With a good crowd to back them possibly the Bulldogs can make it an unlucky day for the Vikings.

Also, next Tuesday night, Feb. 17, Chelsea goes to Dexter for a return engagement with the Bulldogs. Dexter was here earlier this year, 90 to 23, and Chelsea has a job on their hands if they're to even the count, although Manchester whipped the Dexters last Friday night to knock them out of the unbeaten ranks after winning eight straight, and Chelsea dumped the tutechmen the last time they met.

Comparative scores mean little, but it has all the promise of a fine game, so plan to spend Tuesday evening at Dexter High.

See you at game time!

Frankfort—The ice bergs on the beach of Lake Michigan are bigger and better than ever this year, but attention is called to the parents of children that they are extremely dangerous to play around. Many children make their way to the beach this time of year to play near the icebergs. If they should fall in they stand an excellent chance of drowning. The walls of the bergs are quite sheer on the water's side. The lake is extremely cold and numbing and when on the lake side of the ice bergs the coast guard cannot see anyone in the water.—The Benzie County Patriot.

He was supposedly asleep in his bed, beside which his mother had placed a pan of water on a hot plate, as a remedy for a cold. The lad apparently awakened, tried to get out of bed and tipped the hot water over on his feet.—Williamston Enterprise.

Mr. Weber will be remembered by older Chelsea residents as having conducted a barber shop here about thirty years ago. He was born in Freedom township, Oct. 20, 1875, a son of Ludwig and Wilhelmina Frey Weber and lived all his life in the vicinity of Battle Creek. He is survived by his wife, one son, Harold of Howell, and a sister and brother in Jackson, Mrs. C. C. Miller and Robert Weber.

Scout Executive Board Meets with District Leaders
Lee Sanford, committeeman on Cubbing for the Middle District, and Washtenaw County Scoutmaster, Joe Juncker, were in Chelsea on Wednesday, Jan. 28, for the Cub Scout executive board meeting which was held in the Home Ec. room at the high school at 7:30 o'clock in the evening for the purpose of acquainting Den Mothers and Den Fathers with their duties. There was an open discussion on the rules and regulations pertaining to pack and den meetings and their organization, based on the reading of the official book of Scout rules. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.
Mrs. Mary Kniss and Mrs. Florence Walker, members of the sponsoring committee, were present to obtain information on the committee's duties. Others on the sponsoring committee are Jean Hutton, Veronica Kastl and Gladys Kolb. The Pack committee consists of the following members: Philip Olin, Cubmaster; Dale Keezer, assistant Cubmaster; Al Mshar, chairman and treasurer, and Al Mayer, Russell McLaughlin, Clive Weir and Melvin Lesser.
Den Mothers are Bernice Schneider, Virginia Barkley, Maxine Dault, Jean McLaughlin and Mildred Collyer, who is also co-ordinator.
Pack meetings are held every fourth Wednesday of the month and Cub Scout leaders say that it is urgent that either the father or mother of each Cub should be present at each meeting. The next meeting will be on Feb. 22 in the Home Ec. room at the high school.

Kiwanis Club Has Boy Scouts as Guests
In recognition of National Boy Scout Week, the boys of Scout Troop 25, with their leader, Morris Alperwitz, were guests of honor at the Kiwanis club's regular meeting, held Monday night, Feb. 9, in the Municipal building.
Judge James K. Breakey, Jr. of Ann Arbor, chairman of the Ypsilanti Boy Scout District, was present, at the invitation of the Kiwanis club, and addressed the Boy Scouts on the importance of the work ahead of them as the future citizens and leaders of the country. He stated as his opinion, that "within five years this country will be in a war or on a war economy."
He explained the workings of the court and among statistics which he quoted was the fact that the circuit court is now handling an average of 4.6 cases per day.
He told the Scouts that they could be very proud of their organization, saying that in all his experience on the bench he had never had a Boy Scout or a former Boy Scout brought before him for trial on any offense.
Speaking of his scheme of attempting pre-trial settlement of cases before they reach the court by having attorneys and contestants in suits meet and try to come to agreements, Judge Breakey stated that he had heard only one fully-contested divorce case since his plan for pre-trial settlements was inaugurated in 1945.
Judge Breakey also spoke of the Bar library which is being built up for the use of the court. Money for the purchase of books for this library comes from the first $1500 of fines collected by the court as provided by statute, and the Judge said he was conscientiously trying to see that the best available books were being added as fast as the funds for their purchase accumulated.
Other guests at Monday night's meeting were Sheriff John L. Osborne, Erwin Klager and Ed. Weber of the sheriff's department.
