

Locals Win Double-Header Sunday to Capture Regional Title, Qualify for National

McClanahan Hurls Both Games; Allows Only Seven Hits

All-Star Squad Lists Three Regulars Independents' Team

By DWIGHT GADD
Shades of Walter Johnson, Smoky Joe Wood, Christy Mathewson and old Bobo Newsum!

It seems just once in a lifetime when you have the occasion and privilege of watching a pitcher turn in his brilliant exhibition of hurling skills and endurance as displayed by our top-ranking pitcher, Blane "Slim" McClanahan.

Big Mac won the first game of a double-header against the Mansfield Greys in the Regional play-off at Fowlerville Sunday, coasting in for a comfortable win; then was called on to start the second game of the double-header which would be the deciding game of this short series.

Pitching marvelous ball, with his battery mate Leon Marsh receiving, Mac continued where he left off in game number one to turn in another win, copping both ends of the double-header, and sending the team on to Wichita, Kansas.

Receiving a terrific ovation from the crowd, Mac bowed meekly and shook hands all around as he walked over to the bench. To him it was just a job well done; to us it was a rare achievement.

Marsh did a terrific job of receiving. It was just two weeks ago that he had a finger broken at Pinckney, but throwing this injury into the discard, he handled the hot-spot faultlessly and also collected a nice trophy of hits.

Bill Beeman, the third member of my gang to toil over the weekend, covered the right field garden in 8-second flat style, adding his runs to swell our total.

We all wish the team the best of luck at the Kansas play-offs.

Siren Is Now on Municipal Building Roof
Chelsea's fire siren, which for many years has been located on the roof of the Sylvan Town Hall on West Middle street, was moved on Monday to the highest point on the roof of the Municipal building.

Neighbors at some distance and members of the Fouty family in the fields on the farm said they heard what sounded like an explosion and upon investigation found that the siren barn was ablaze.

Miss D. Kalmbach Back from Wash. as State Delegate

Donna Kalmbach, who spent the past week in Washington, D. C., where she attended the American Legion Auxiliary sponsored Girls' Nation, returned home on Friday.

She reports having had a most wonderful trip and said she enjoyed every minute of it. A highlight of the week was her visit to the White House where she shook hands with President Truman.

Miss Kalmbach is to appear before the State Legion Auxiliary at the convention in Grand Rapids Saturday morning to give a report of her experiences at Girls' Nation and later will give a report at a local Legion Auxiliary meeting.

Miss Kalmbach was one of two Michigan girls chosen at the West Michigan State and Ann Arbor in June to attend Girls' Nation. The other Michigan girl was Pat Hensks of Albion.

Dust-lay oil-coatings were applied to Railroad, East, North, Wilkinson, Chandler, Buchanan, Flanders and Madison streets.

In addition, the road leading from the corner of East Middle and Madison streets to Oak Grove cemetery has been widened, graded, and graded. The village's share of the expense of this latter project is one-fourth, the two cemeteries assuming the other three-fourths of the amount.

Sidewalk-repairing is still in progress, according to a report of the sidewalk committee.

Dr. Otto Engleke of the County Health department and his assistant, Mr. Eric, were present at the Council meeting on the matter of pollution of the creek north of town by waste matter from local factories.

Chamber of Commerce Will Present Land to Village for Use as Community Park Site

Miss A. Pierce Will Donate Equal Size Plot on South Main

Lloyd Heydlauff, president of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, has announced that negotiations are expected to be completed this week for the purchase and presentation to the village of Chelsea by half of a four-acre tract of land extending from the Adam Alber property on South Main street to the Paul Pierce property at the corner of Old US-12, to be improved and used as a public park.

Miss Alice Pierce, owner of the land, is giving the remaining two acres as a contribution to the project. The park is to be called "Pierce Memorial Park," according to present agreements, so named in memory of the Pierce family, pioneers in Sylvan township.

Nathan Pierce, grandfather of Miss Pierce, took up from the government in 1882, the 400-acre farm of which the four acres is a part. The farm has been in the possession of his direct descendants continuously since he turned it over to his son, Hiram, Miss Pierce's father, who lived there during his lifetime.

After his death, Miss Pierce and a sister and brother, Miss Mary and Max Pierce, lived there for some time. From about 1915 or 1916 until a few years ago, a great-grandson of the original owner, Harry Prudden, worked the farm for Mrs. Pierce and since he moved to Chelsea the farm has been rented.

However, Miss Pierce, the last surviving member of her generation of the family, always has retained ownership of the farm. The park, perpetuating as it will, the name of this early pioneer family, is a fitting memorial.

Part of the tract will need filling in before it can be used as intended, but there is a knoll near Main street that will make an ideal spot available for immediate use as picnic grounds.

The Chelsea Chamber of Commerce and Miss Pierce are deserving of the thanks and appreciation of the village community for this contribution of a long-felt need for a public park of this kind.

Mrs. Anna Brown, who is to succeed Miss Mary Wiseman as Washtenaw County Home Demonstration Agent on Sept. 1, was guest of honor at a luncheon meeting at noon yesterday at the House of Good Foods in Ann Arbor.

She is now living in Ann Arbor where her husband is a student at the University of Michigan.

Local ABA Members To Visit Association's New Bull Barn at MSC
Clifford Bradbury, inseminator for the Chelsea Local of the ABA, and the directors of the Local have made arrangements for a tour of members to East Lansing to inspect the ABA bull stud and its operation on Friday, Aug. 20.

This will give our members an opportunity to see the bull they have been using in the association, all the details of their care, and the new barn in which they are housed.

The group will meet at the Chelsea-Manchester road, south of town, where those going will divide up in groups to fill the cars making the trip. Plans call for the group to leave at 8:30 a.m. (fast time).

4-H Members Will Prepare Fairgrounds for County Show
Sunday afternoon, Aug. 22, will find many 4-H boys and girls industriously cleaning buildings on the old County Fairgrounds in preparation for the annual 4-H county show which will be held there Aug. 26, 27 and 28.

As in previous years 4-H club members from all over the county are asked to help arrange the merchants building and one live-stock barn for this event. Superintendents of each department will be in charge of making a place for their own division.

Entries that have been placed so far indicate that this show will be larger and of higher quality than last year.

Graying—A "new look" has arrived at 76,000-acre Camp Graying Training Center of the Michigan National Guard.

Approximately 2,500 teen-age youths, most of them just out of high school, are getting their first experience in military training here.

When Congress resorted to compulsory military training (Selective Service) as the only effective way of manning the army and navy, the National Guard was given a preferred status. Youths who enlisted in State Troops were exempted from a draft.

Like having a gold rush on its hands, the Michigan National Guard recruited 2,500 teen-agers in 80 days. Total enrollment soared to 7,900, an all-time record. The troops arrived at Lake Margrethe last week in more than 1,000 motor vehicles and 200 railroad cars.

The "new look" at Camp Graying is as fresh as today's newspaper headlines. Youth is getting its first peace-time military training as a part of national security. The atmosphere is hardly that of a holiday although the traditional banter and horse-play of army life is as noticeable as ever.

Military discipline is being tightened this year. And yet, according to top command, more emphasis is being put upon recreation than ever before.

Softball games are held daily. Free motion pictures, latest from Hollywood are offered on evenings. The 4th and 5th Divisions. Band is kept busy playing for regimental reviews and special concerts.

Church attendance is compulsory. Military police units patrol the streets in Graying. The "brig" is the last punishment. It is apparent that General Loveland and his staff are making every effort to provide a dose of military training for teen-agers that will be acceptable to fathers and mothers back home.

The atmosphere is a bit informal to an old-time army man, uniforms of officers are just about the same as those of the buck privates. The insignia of rank is unchanged. Saluting is maintained on a voluntary basis. There is less military swank.

All this reflects the "new look" of youth and a determination of the military command to make selective service a permanent part of our national defense policy, subject to approval of public opinion itself.

Fride of National Guard units has deep roots in Michigan communities. Officers are watching with interest the congressional outcome of a move at Washington to put the National Guard under federal control. The feeling of opposition is running high here.

Cpl. Edward R. Roberts, Senior U. S. Army Instructor on duty here, diplomatically pointed out that National Guard divisions were not given "soft jobs" in World War II.

The 46th Army Division (Ohio) suffered the second highest casualty rating in the war during its service in Italy and Europe. The 32nd Division (Michigan) was first in action in the southwest Pacific, while the 29th Division (Maryland and Virginia) were among the first troops to land in Normandy.

The ground units at Graying comprise the 46th Infantry Division. The air units are part of the Tenth Air Force.

Our Community Heritage . . .

On first thought, the most remarkable thing about the towns and cities of America might seem to be their diversity.

Climate, geography, interests and culture contribute to the difference. Even the names of our communities—English and French, Spanish and German, towns named for British lords and American statesmen, for saints and for soldiers—tell a story of their varied backgrounds.

Yet they share in common the quality of independence. That quality is the distinctive share in the American heritage which every American community holds.

The American town has always been a community of free men. Many of our great cities have grown from a fort or stockade where free men united to protect themselves from the perils about them.

Urban America is a magnificent monument to the industry, enterprise and progress of its citizens. But, however great and populous and seemingly impersonal a city may grow, the feeling of independence, equality, ownership and responsibility is never lost to its inhabitants.

This feeling varies in intensity from time to time. And thus many municipalities have known periods when corruption in their local government has brought shame to their citizens and to the heritage of independence and integrity.

But even then the citizens of the American community are free. They are free to choose between stunts and decent housing, between civic vice and civic virtue. And always, eventually, their community conscience is awakened and their choice is right.

The small town, the city and the farming community are America. Here are the opportunities and challenges of democratic citizenship—to choose an honest, responsible government, to promote health and comfort, to foster education, to adjust social and economic differences, to aid the needy and to strive for an equalized prosperity.

Those are the obligations which our heritage imposes upon the citizen of our community. The good local citizen cannot be a bad national citizen. An America of honest, responsible, progressive communities cannot fail to be a strong, just and democratic power for good in the world.

A prerequisite to discharging one of the most important duties in our nation of free communities is that of making certain that we are registered to vote in the September 14 primary election. With the deadline for registration being Wednesday, August 25, it is everyone's self-imposed obligation to register today or to make certain that he is already registered if he is in doubt.

Registering Every Qualified Voter Is Goal in Campaign

Your vote is your power," is the keynote of the campaign being put on by the Voters Service Committee of the Ann Arbor League of Women Voters, to get all eligible unregistered voters in Washtenaw county to register before Aug. 25, the deadline for registration for the fall primary elections.

Concerning the importance of registering to vote, Mrs. Lawrence Pruss, Oakland Drive, Ann Arbor, president of the Ann Arbor League of Women Voters, stated, "All American citizens will want to vote in the coming election, but can do so only if they are registered."

The committee has issued the following information concerning registration for the primaries. Registration deadline: Aug. 25, 1948.

Farm Fire Protection Department of agriculture estimates that the damage caused by gasoline and kerosene fires costs American farmers approximately six million dollars annually. Incomplete storage of these liquids is responsible for the loss. Under ground tanks provide the best protection for large amounts of flammable liquids, while galvanized steel gas or oil cans are best for small amounts.

QUICK TEST TELLS IF GRAIN IS DRY

Farmers who want to avoid loss from grain heating in storage can make this simple test devised by Dr. S. T. Dexter, farm crops research scientist at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. A small waxed cardboard container such as an individual ice-cream cone is used in the test. A sample grain, representing the average condition of the field, is placed in the container. To this is added about a half-teaspoon of ammonium chloride salt which can be obtained from the druggist. The container is then closed and shaken vigorously 50 times. Results of the test are shown in the two photographs above. At the left, the salt comes out of the tube dry and in single grains as it was when first put in. This shows that the grain is dry enough to store under ordinary farm conditions. The salt in the picture on the right is damp and clumped together, showing that the grain is too damp for storage. A little practice makes the test easy and quick. Then samples can be taken and the test performed in the field at harvest time.

A handy guide to proper parliamentary procedure has been prepared by a University of Michigan man. Fred G. Stevenson, consultant in leadership training, encountered many requests for such a "pocket primer" while he was conducting Extension-Service courses in southern Michigan cities last winter. The 40-page booklet is conveniently thumb-indexed by subject matter for quick reference. Inquiries should be addressed to Fred G. Stevenson, 107 Haven Hall, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

New Infra-Red Anti-Frost Device To Be Exhibited

One of the latest developments in modern farm machinery will be seen for the first time at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit, Sept. 3 through 12, when the newest machine to serve as a protection from frost will be on exhibit. With a powerful infra-red ray warming only the plants or trees instead of the whole outdoors, crops are protected from cold. When used in groups each machine protects about an acre of space.

The machine is the result of three years of intensive work of two organizations, Michigan State college and the Agricultural Industrial Foundation of the Detroit Board of Commerce. The two groups worked together for several years exploring methods of combating frost before producing this generator for heat energy, transforming the energy into infra-red rays and distributing the rays to a certain area. The rays, when directed toward the earth, tend to compensate for the loss of heat from the earth due to radiation. Unlike many heating principles, infra-red energy does not appreciably heat the air through which it passes, but travels in waves until it strikes the plants or trees to be protected. The machine has been tested in nine different sections of the United States. As freezing weather visited these localities, the machine proved satisfactory.

Saturday and next Monday will be Dollar Days in Chelsea, when Merchants will offer exceptional bargains.

At the recent public sale of the household goods of the late Kathryn Hooker, a clock of the pioneer days was one of the articles that was placed on sale, that has again fallen into the possession of a descendant of the donor. When the Michigan Central railroad station was built in 1850 Elisha Congdon, who was one of the founders of Chelsea, presented to the railway company a clock that is yet doing duty as a timepiece. Mr. Congdon and his brother James, who was the other man that founded Chelsea, also donated the land that is owned by the M. C. here. Mrs. Guy Hulse of Lima, a great-granddaughter of Elisha Congdon, is the new owner of the clock, and as it was the first timepiece placed in the new station, she values it very highly as a relic of pioneer days. The McKune residence on South Main street was the home of her great-grandfather during his lifetime.

Purchase of the Imperial Bearing company of Detroit, by the Hoover Steel Ball company of Ann Arbor, promises to be a boost for Chelsea as the Chelsea branch will be opened in a few weeks after having been shut down for several weeks. The purchase of the Imperial company by the Hoover company, at a cost of more than a half million dollars, means practical new industry for Ann Arbor. The new acquisition will be moved from Detroit to Ann Arbor and it is expected the present force of 250 men at the plant there will be doubled within a short time. Merger of the two companies ranks the Hoover company as one of the greatest, if not the largest, ball bearing manufacturing plants in the world. The Hoover Steel Ball company was founded in Ann Arbor, Mar. 1, 1913, and has been one of the leading manufacturing concerns of the city and foremost among steel ball plants the world over. The factory was moved to Ann Arbor from Chelsea, where L. J. Hoover, the founder, had purchased the bankrupt ball bearing plant of the old Flanders Mfg. Co. The factory remained in Chelsea for about three months before it was moved to Ann Arbor. L. J. Hoover was active in the administration of the plant up until his death in 1918. Since that time H. D. Runciman, a native of Chelsea, has been general manager.

George Merkel of Sylvan, who threshed his grain crop on Thursday of last week, has the banner yield of wheat so far as has been reported. From 20 acres he secured 664 bushels of wheat. That wheat can be successfully grown in Michigan is quite evident, as this yield is about what was the average when the farmers made it the principal crop years ago.

Chelsea schools will open Monday, Aug. 31, at 8:30 a.m. The following is the faculty for the year of 1914-15: F. Hendry, superintendent; Leona Belsler, principal; Ruth King, Mildred Daniels, Jean Grover, Ella Hewes, assistants in high school; Grace Wals, 8th grade; Ethel Beth Dowsow, 7th grade; Florence Howett, 6th grade; Ella Maroney, 5th and 4th grades; Mary Koch, 6th and 3rd grades; Pearl Freeman, 2nd and 1st grades; Ethel Davidson, 1st grade and kindergarten; Imabelle Markey, music and drawing.

Considerable complaint is being made at the advance in prices on all kinds of goods since the beginning of the war in Europe. The Standard has taken pains to secure prices on some of the staples at retail during the Civil War. The prices quoted are absolutely as made in August 1864, and in August 1914. They will undoubtedly prove of interest to our readers and are as follows: Best prints, then 65c yard, now 75c yard; second quality prints, then 55c yard, now 65c yard; very best apron gingham, then 60c yard, now 10c; second quality apron gingham, then 55c yard, now 6 1/2c; overall or denim, then 75c yard, now 20c yard; peppercorn, 36-inch, unbleached cotton, then 75c yard, now 25c; hops bleached, 36-inch cotton, then 75c yard, now 10c; Masonville bleached 36-inch cotton, then 80c yard, now 11c; 1 1/2 yard wide sheeting, then $1.85 yard, now 30c yard; coats 200-yard thread, then 22c, now 5c.

Duck, Pheasant Hunting Seasons Open October 15th

The need to choose between duck and pheasant hunting at noon on opening day, and a half hour earlier daily start, distinguish the 1948 duck season from that of a year ago. The conservation department reports the season again is 30 days in length, Oct. 15-Nov. 13, with the same duck limit as a year ago—four a day, eight in possession, only one of them a wood duck.

The bag limit on geese, again four a day and four in possession, is liberalized to the extent of permitting two of the four to be either Canada or white-fronted geese, or one of each, where a year ago only one of these was permitted in the day's bag. Ross' geese, a western species, again is protected.

The bag limit on coot has been cut from 25 to 15, and hunters who take rails (other than Sora) and gallinules will have to count them in the same bag limit of 15. Rail and gallinule shooting—more important in other states with fewer ducks in their marshes—in Michigan is limited to Oct. 15-30. Sora rails have a separate bag limit of 20.

Woodcock hunters, who normally get their timber doodles when hunting ruffed grouse, will have to remember that their season in the lower peninsula ends Nov. 3, two days before the last grouse shooting. In the upper peninsula the two seasons coincide, Oct. 1-20.

Long on Looks - and actions too

YES, you make a mighty handsome picture, sweeping down the street in this sleek and neat-lined carriage.

You look super and feel super—because what you've got your hands on is not only a fashion plate, but a very Super-door too.

Your hand on the wheel rests over light and easy because this beauty tracks so true, obeys so readily your slightest guidance.

Your steady foot can get an instant crescendo from the quiet purr of a full power plant that patiently content with you want to take it easy—and beaver-eyed the instant you signal for action.

Big soft billowy tires mounted on the widest rims in the industry lay a feather pillow over the roadway's rough spots.

Soft deep springs of coil steel soak up shocks and blows that spell jarring jolts and jounces in lesser vehicles.

Power flows with a special silkiness from which engine sensation is eliminated by special Hi-Poised engine mountings not found in any other automobile on the market.

When you want to loaf, you loaf in deep content. When you want to go, you go with a surge of thrilling power that won't be denied its place at the head of the procession.

Fun? Of course it's fun to travel in Buick SUPER fashion.

It's the fun of traveling in style, traveling in comfort, traveling with adventuresome dash.

What's holding you back from seeing your Buick dealer and getting an order in—with or without a car to trade?

BUICK alone has all these features

Gov. Sigler Will Address Michigan Kiwanis Gathering

Prominent leaders in American and Canadian government will address delegates attending the 1948 convention of the Michigan Kiwanis District, Sept. 5 to 8, at Sault Ste. Marie.

Dr. P. E. Sharrard, president of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea, said today that Paul Martin, minister of National Health and Welfare for the Dominion of Canada, and Governor Kim Sigler of Michigan, had accepted invitations to participate in the annual meeting.

The speaking program will also feature the appearances of Al. R. Cox, Canton, O., business leader; Walter J. L. Ray, prominent Detroit banker, both members of the board of trustees of Kiwanis International, and Ben Dean, Grand Rapids advertising executive and former president of the community service organization.

The convention will observe International Night Monday evening, Sept. 6, at Puller Stadium in Sault Ste. Marie, with Mr. Martin sharing speaking honors with Gov. Sigler, Dr. Sharrard said. Both governmental officials are expected to cite the friendship of the United States and Canada as an outstanding example of international good will.

James W. Robertson, Sault Ste. Marie, governor of the Michigan Kiwanis District, will preside at the convention, which is expected to attract delegates from 96 clubs, embracing a membership of nearly 7,000 business and professional men.

Delegates who will represent the Chelsea Kiwanis club at the convention include Anton Nielsen, John Keuch, and Dr. Sharrard.

New Product Keeps Potato Sproutless

Problem of Storage Now Aided by New Methods

The sprouting, shriveling and softness of potatoes when kept at room temperatures now can be prevented with use of baraprot. The treated potatoes remain firm, practically farm-fresh, and not only cook but also taste better. The product is equally effective on certain other root crops such as beets, carrots, turnips and rutabagas.

The active ingredient is methyl ester of naphthalenesulfonic acid. When applied to the potatoes as a dust, it vaporizes and literally "gets into their eyes," keeping them from sprouting. Feeding tests have shown that the chemical imparts no harmful effect. Tests have been conducted for the past five years at leading agricultural experiment stations.

By this treatment the potatoes may be kept at ordinary room temperatures without sprouting and without formation of reducing sugar. Ordinarily potatoes are held below 45 degrees and shrink 5 percent in weight, developing reducing sugars which affect color and taste.

KNOW YOUR BREED
Percheron

The Percheron horse originated in La Perche, a province near Normandy, France, and was imported into this country in 1838. Readily gaining in popularity in America, it is still the most widely used draft breed in the country.

The Percheron is an unusually active horse, but never-the-less is an easy keeper. He is clean-legged, black or dapple-grey and of marked tractability and intelligence.

Our Trip Through the Rocky Mountains

By MRS. TRUMAN LEHMAN

We have just returned home from a 3,000 mile trip through the Rocky mountain region. We left on a Saturday morning, going by way of Highways US-6 and 84. We visited the capitals at Des Moines, Iowa and Lincoln, Nebraska, on our way.

The corn in Iowa was very big and we saw fields after fields of corn. We crossed the Mississippi river near Davenport, Iowa.

We passed through Boys' Town, Nebr. This surely is a beautiful place. There are many large buildings and nice homes for the boys.

The city of Omaha, Nebr., is built on hills. About 100 miles farther on, the houses were very far apart and about half the land is big hills and deep gullies. There are few trees, only those growing along the creeks.

We entered Colorado on Monday afternoon. In the eastern part of Colorado many of the fields were being irrigated. The crops were good there.

We entered the mountains shortly after we left Loveland, Colorado. Soon we plunged into the depths of Thompson canyon, with its picturesque cliffs; then on to Estes Park, which is a vast mountain bowl ringed about with snowy peaks. From Estes Park the road leads to Rocky Mountain National Park and climbs to Deer Ridge to start on the section known as the Trail Ridge Road. This is a black-top road which is quite wide. It leads up over the highest ridge of 12,183 ft. altitude, offering views of the wildest mountain scenery on the continent. We could look down at one point and see Iceberg Lake.

The road leads past Grand Lake, on the western edge of the Park. This lake is a beautiful scene, being surrounded by heavily timbered hills.

At one place along the road we saw a beautiful rainbow. It seemed to start in the valley and form a huge ring in front of the mountains.

We stayed at a town named Granby, on Monday night, Tuesday morning, the top and back windows of our car were covered with a heavy coating of ice.

From Granby, the road goes on toward Denver through the great mountain amphitheater of Middle Park. We passed through a beautiful valley to Berthoud Pass. From here, we could see the beautiful Red Mountain. From Berthoud's summit we could see Crater mountain. Many of these peaks were partly covered with snow. We were within ten feet of snow at one time in the mountains. There were many lovely waterfalls among the rocks.

Leaving here, the road descends to the valley of Clear Creek and on to Idaho Springs, a famous mining district. There are many mines along this road, including the new Urad molybdenum mine. We traveled on through the Denver Mountain Parks to the city of Denver, itself. From Denver we went to Colorado Springs and to the Garden of the Gods. In the Garden of the Gods, the red sandstone formations, formed by the mysterious hand of nature into many fantastic shapes and sizes, are surely beautiful to behold. The rocks forming the gateway rise to a height of 800 feet. Through these portals appear the snow capped summit of Pike's Peak. This garden was a tribal meeting place of the Indians, and it was here that they held their religious ceremonies. Truly, as one stands amid these wonders of Nature, he feels that he is standing in the presence of the Eternal.

The mountains are fascinating and awe-inspiring and one could spend many months in this region and still not see all the wonders it contains.

We started home on Wednesday morning, taking highway US-24 all the way to Fort Wayne, Ind. In Kansas, we were told that the wheat crop was very good this year, yielding about 45 bushels per acre. There were many thousands of bushels of wheat in piles on the ground because there was no place to store it.

We arrived home Friday night. —Mr. and Mrs. Truman Lehman.

what the little refugee told the American couple

During the war a little girl from the poorer district of London was welcomed into the home of a couple here in the states for protection against the bombing. It had been a long time if ever since Hildy had had a bath, and her foster parents put her through a rigorous schedule of nightly latherings. She stood it stoically for a few nights, but one evening when she had been well soaped and soused, she protested: "You folks don't want a refugee, What you want is a duck."

MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY

Most children though enjoy baths, especially in Ann Arbor homes where instant hot water is available at all times, thanks to the automatic gas water heater. Frequent baths are healthful for both children and adults. An automatic gas water heater is the No. 1 home convenience. See your plumber, your dealer or the Gas Company about an installation.

Michigan Designs New Bug and Weed Killer

To meet the need for a light-weight sprayer to apply 2,4-D to lawns, pastures, cornfields and garden patches, this relatively inexpensive and easily-operated apparatus has been constructed at Michigan State college.

Sprayer mounted on cultivator as designed by Michigan State college.

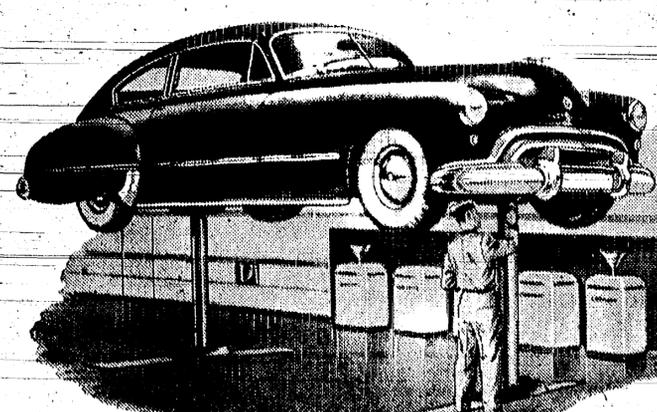

status has been constructed at Michigan State college. The spray boom is made of one-eighth inch pipe, connected to the tank by a length of rubber hose. An automobile gasoline filter removes particles of dirt which might clog the nozzles.

Hot-Weather Care of Poultry Is Essential

Hot weather always brings problems of poultry management, but good practices will solve most of them successfully. Feed your flocks freely to keep up high egg production and to keep pullets growing rapidly. Have plenty of fresh water available for them at all times. Provide plenty of shade. Make use of good pastures, where possible, to help keep feed costs down.

He became a naturalized citizen of the United States in 1925.

Funeral services are to be held at 10 o'clock this morning (Thursday) at St. Mary's church with Father Lee Laige officiating. Burial is to take place in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Kiwanians March in Organizations' Parade

Monday night at 6:30, Kiwanians, with other organizations of Chelsea, met at the Municipal building and went to Ann Arbor by automobile to take part in the Civic Organizations Day parade. They met with other Chelseaites at the corner of Ann and Main streets and then marched to Ferry Field where they heard Governor Siger speak and later enjoyed roast beef sandwiches and coffee.

Tomorrow night, Friday, Aug. 20, at 7 o'clock, Ann Arbor Kiwanians are coming to Chelsea to play a game of softball with the Chelsea Kiwanis club at the Athletic Field.

VFW Auxiliary Gives Vets Hospital Party

Mary Kniss, Dorothy Lentz, Myrtle Price and Janet Hutzler, members of the Chelsea VFW Auxiliary, and two guests, Mrs. Morris Klingler of Merrill, Wis., who is spending some time at the home of Mrs. Hutzler, and Josephine Hochrein, attended a hospital party sponsored by the VFW Auxiliary. The party was given for about 40 veterans at the hospital at Ypsilanti, on Tuesday, Aug. 17.

Also present for the party were four ladies from the Graf-O'Hara Auxiliary of Ann Arbor; five members and a guest of Auxiliary 2408 of Ypsilanti, and several from Milan representing VFW Auxiliary No. 1224.

A five o'clock supper on the lawn had been planned for the veterans, but because of a heavy shower there at that time, the tables had to be set up inside. The ladies served potato salad, baked beans, "hot dogs," lemonade, ice cream and cake and passed out cards and cigarettes. They also brought with them about 200 magazines which were distributed to the veterans.

The Collegians played very well Sunday and gave McClanahan good support all the way. Leon Marsh caught his usually fine game and handled "Mac" superbly—and after not catching at all for two weeks because of a broken finger which
