By DWIGHT GADD

Saline's Hornets sank their stingers deep in the Chelsea Bulldogs last Friday night at the local gym as they hung up a 49-25 victory to remain tied with Milan for the league lead.

Chelsea just didn't have enough height to combat the tall Saline team. Four of the Hornets' starting five were six feet or more in height and they controlled the game all the way, with the exception of the first period.

Each quarter found the other's defense a little tougher in the first quarter, with Chelsea coming out on top of a 6-5 score, thanks to Dave Crocker's five points.

Chelsea continued to battle the invaders nip and tuck for the first half of the second stanza, but Saline pulled away to a 19-13 lead at the half and Chelsea never seriously threatened after that. Saline led 29-18 at the end of the third quarter, and at the finish, 49-25.

Dave Crocker, Chelsea center, paced the Bulldogs' attack with seven points, but the high scoring honors went to Wayne Clements, Saline pivotman, who split the meshes for 17 points.

Chelsea got a little consolation by winning the consolation game, which is to be held at Michigan Center this year.

There are six teams entered and four of the six have good records, so the games should be interesting. Chelsea, Michigan Center, Manchester, Brookline, Napoleon, and Hanover-Horton, form this year's tournament card. Chelsea plays Manchester in the first game of the tournament at 7:30 p.m., March 3; a week from tonight, and Michigan Center engages Brookline at 8:00 p.m. Hanover-Horton and Napoleon drew first round byes and on Friday night will play the winners of the first night's games.

Next week this column will carry more complete details of the tournament.

Funds To Buy Resuscitator Being Sought

A resuscitator has been on display this week in the Michigan Consolidated Gas company's window on Main street and has attracted considerable attention.

The machine has been brought here through the combined efforts of the Kiwanis club, the Chamber of Commerce and the Chelsea Fire department, who plan to solicit donations for the purchase of a resuscitator to be kept in readiness for emergencies.

The resuscitator on display here is for one person only, but the one the committee hopes to be able to purchase will take care of two persons at the same time.

The machine would be kept in the fire hall and would be available to police in answering emergency calls as well as to the fire department on all calls.

A demonstration of the resuscitator is to be given in the Fire Hall Friday night and all interested persons are urged to attend.

The demonstration will show the proper treatment to be administered in cases of drownings, electrical shock, heart disease, and for persons overcome by gas, carbon monoxide or by smoke at fires. The demonstration should prove of much interest to everyone in the community.

Chelsea ABA Chapter To Hold Annual Meeting Friday Eve.

The Chelsea Artificial Breeders' Association will hold the annual meeting Friday, February 25, at 8 p. m., in the Municipal Building.

PTA Groups Meet Jointly To Observe Founder's Day

A joint meeting of the Elementary and High School P. T. A. was held at the High School Wednesday evening, Feb. 18. The purpose of the joint meeting was to commemorate the P. T. A. Founder's Day.

Mrs. Stanley Real, president of the Elementary division, opened the program in the gymnasium with a talk on the history of the P. T. A. movement from its beginnings to the present time.

Miss Belle McKinney, county health nurse spoke on the subject of communicable diseases, the immunization program in Washtenaw county, and child health.

An interesting skit, "Do Unto Others," was given by the following High School students: Hazel Hatley, Joyce Umstead, Craig Nelson, Helen Jarvis and Joyce Crawford, with Phyllis Kelly acting as the announcer.

This was followed by movies shown by Walter Mohrlock. The pictures were taken on his recent Canadian-moose-hunting trip.

Lunch was served to the seventy-four members and guests present by the committee with Mrs. Russell McLaughlin as chairman.

The program was followed by a social hour and a dance.

The Bulldogs travel to Lincoln Consolidated tomorrow night for the final game of the league season. Chelsea will be favored to win this game.

The Bulldogs are tied with U. High for third place and this game will decide their final standing, so let's have a large crowd there.

On March 3, 4, and 5, Chelsea will play in the District Tourney which is to be held at Michigan Center this year.

World Day of Prayer Will Be Observed

The World Day of Prayer will be observed in Chelsea in a special union service at St. Paul's church Friday, March 4. As previously mentioned, this day is being observed the first Friday of Lent by millions of women in more than 70 different countries.

Along with the observance of the World Day of Prayer, an unassociated free-will offering has arisen, inspired by faith and the desire to help. With increasing fervor and widening united vision this offering has grown yearly. In the United States alone, $195,000 was contributed in 1948. This money is used to finance international mission projects throughout the world. One of the outstanding gifts is to eight Christian women's colleges in China, India and Japan. Some of the money is also used to help orphans in the United States.

The prayer service at St. Paul's church March 4, will be a very special occasion as it is hoped to have several foreign students now studying at the University of Michigan, join in this worship.

These students will give first-hand information on the united Christian effort for world peace.

It is hoped that all Protestant women of Chelsea will set aside March 4 as a special day of prayer. If it is impossible to join in the fellowship of the union service, it is hoped a few moments may be set aside for a private word of prayer.

The doors of all Protestant churches will be open at noon, Friday, March 4, to welcome any person desiring to observe a private moment of prayer in the sanctuary.

Friendly Bell Will Ring...

Significant interests arise to our attention as the people of the First Congregational church celebrate one hundred years of life and service in the community of Chelsea.

One of these centered in the fellowship dinner on Friday evening. Another arose in the Sunday afternoon gathering when cordial conversation prevailed; when congratulations and felicitations were given the pastor and people in the work of reconstruction and facilities of the present church-building. Mrs. Morrow and I were present at both of these functions and we were deeply impressed and inspired.

That which many of us will cherish is the carefully delineated history of the church to the present. It is interesting in its human aspects. It is profound in its divine content. And no small part in the church's spirit and work has been intoned by the bell since the time when in great interest to the people who viewed its installation it has pealed the faith of the church, symbolically, week after week, year after year. What the installers conceived as pattern to the bell's mission they certainly inscribed on it: "I praise the True God, I announce the Sabbath; I call the people, I arouse the indolent." Great history, living history is made only in the faith that causes people to "praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow."

What those churchmen feared back there, we confess has occurred in our time. They feared that God might lose out as the major emphasis in the church and in society. All too evident has been the tendency to turn attention to man and his exploits and to regard God on a secondary basis. In our humanitarian and scientific views of life we have bogged down and God does not have the pre-eminence in our thinking he had in the thought-life of those of other years. But at this they warn us and counsel and inspire us.

Works reflect faith. How persistently has the faith of this church been translated into action. The faith has involved God, the supreme Person, and persons of all ages, and substance, and morale, and consecration, and service. The faith couldn't be confined, but it moved out and on to heaven people without the membership and caused an upthrust of spirit in kindly feeling, neighborliness, helpfulness—what make for a vital congregation and a worthwhile community. It is that faith that moved the heart of Jesus Christ "who went about doing good."

This is not a sermon. But one couldn't be a dreamer—even in the sense of the "Beautiful Dreamer, Awake Unto Me!"—and miss the impact of the faith that led this Congregational church over those one hundred years. It is marvelous. And as it has been that the faith has remained regnant notwithstanding depressions, loss, three major wars in history, so the church shall go forward with the Christian belief for the sustaining of its life and for the recovery of genuine history in the century ahead. Yes, the friendly bell will ring and perform its mission.

Rev. Orville W. Morrow,
Pastor, First Methodist Church.

VALENTINE PARTY
On Monday, Feb. 14, the children of Jewett-Stone school entertained their mothers and Miss Belle McKinney, the county school nurse. A sweet-less dinner was planned by the teacher, Mrs. V. Whipple, and the pupils. The foods were chosen from the "basic seven." The mothers brought the foods all prepared for the dinner.

The objective in having a sweet-less dinner was to show mothers and children that a delicious and wholesome dinner could be prepared and enjoyed by having no sweets but the natural ones that are given in the "basic seven."

A playette showing how a dinner could be planned from the "basic seven" was given by the children after the dinner hour.

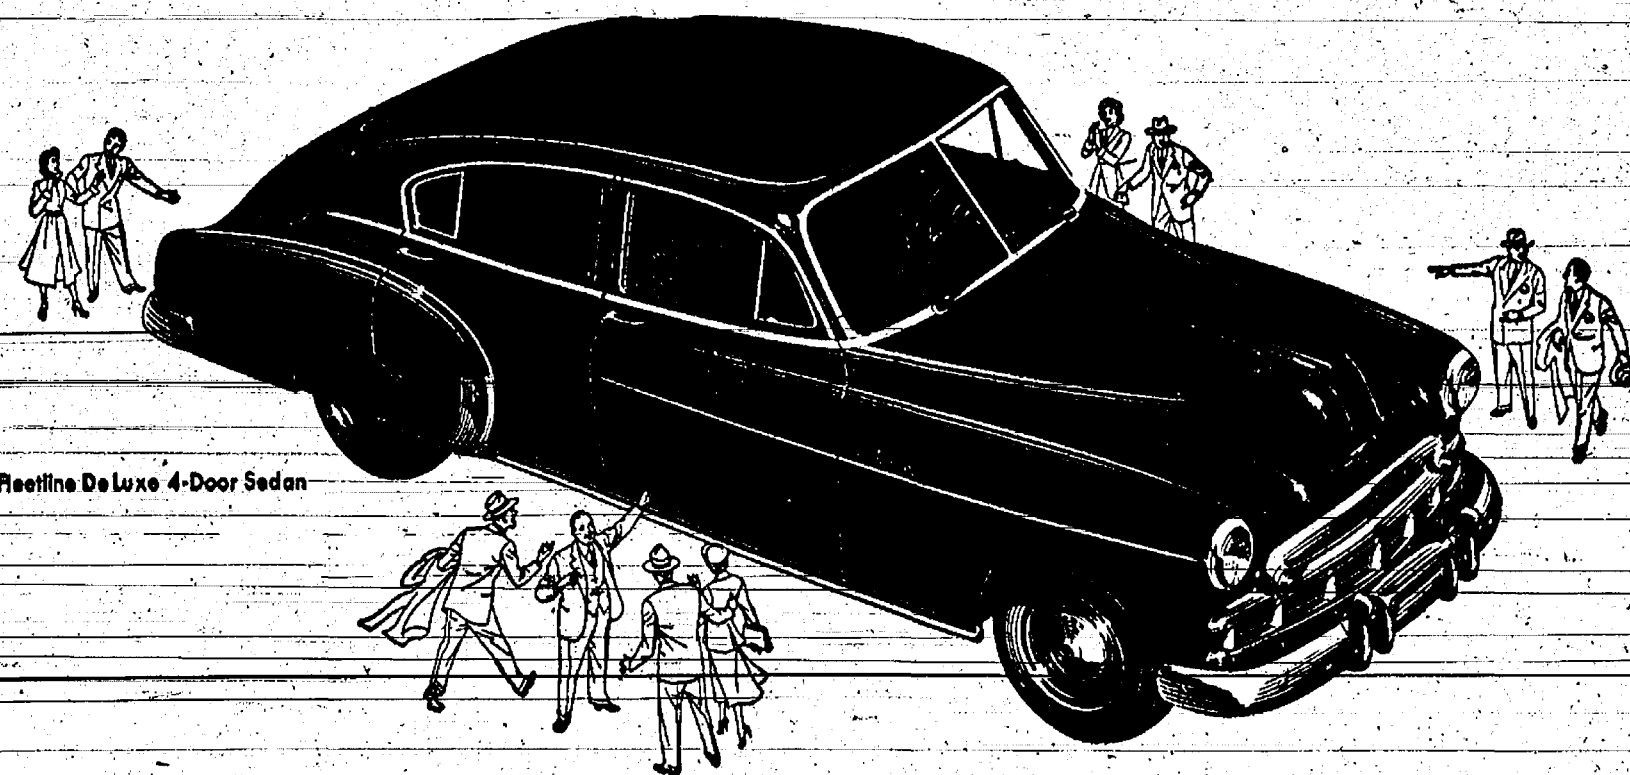

Nurse McKinney gave an interesting and informative talk on "Communicable Diseases." Each mother was given the privilege of asking any question she wished then Nurse McKinney departed to make other visits and the party continued by all joining in the games in which prizes included cookie cutters.

The "postmaster and his helpers" opened the mail box and soon the Valentines reached their destinations.
All departed thanking each other for the lovely afternoon together.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pielmeier of Ann Arbor, were Sunday evening visitors at the Pielmeier home here. Tuesday afternoon and evening Mrs. Walter Pielmeier, of State College, Pa., who spent the past two weeks here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson, was a guest of the Pielmeiers.

What Is More Important to You Than LIFE ITSELF?

When life hangs in the balance in the very desperate cases where respiration has stopped, such as drowning, carbon-monoxide poisoning, electric shock, strangulation, and asphyxia of the new-born, it produces respiration mechanically at normal rhythm, reliably, effectively and safely...

THE RESUSCITATOR!

ASK YOUR DOCTOR!

The operation of this modern automatic Resuscitator is based upon a thoroughly tested and physiologically sound principle. It is accepted by the Council on Physical Medicine of the American Medical Association for use by trained lay organizations rendering First Aid. Modern medical research has proven that your First Aid or Rescue Squad is not fully equipped unless prepared to administer artificial respiration mechanically. The portable E & J unit embodies all the ruggedness necessary for equipment being carried on mobile apparatus and also provides the same delicate operation as found in the E & J's being used in thousands of hospitals every day for the resuscitation of newborn babies.

To Be Placed with the Fire and Police Departments

AUTOMATICALLY ADJUSTS ITSELF TO ANY SIZE LUNG
AND A NEAR NORMAL RESPIRATORY RATE

Due to the principle of fixed pressure the Resuscitator automatically adjusts itself to the volume of the patient's lung whether it be a tiny premature infant or a large adult.

The instrument automatically inhales and exhales for a non-breathing patient, at a near normal rate and supplies oxygen at the same time. It will breathe at the rapid rate of a newborn baby or the slower rates of a child or adult patient.

This marvelous instrument of mercy is on display at the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. office, 103 N. Main street, and will be demonstrated at the Chelsea Fire Hall in the Municipal building beginning at 7:30 p.m. Friday evening, Feb. 25, by an authorized factory representative. WON'T YOU COME?

All are invited. Men in the factories, send your representatives. Farmers, send yours. The committee solicits your indulgence on this urgent and vital need. Strictly a local community endeavor, it stays in your community for your protection and for your safety.

G. P. Staffan Honored with Surprise Party

George P. Staffan was honored with a surprise party at his home Monday evening in celebration of his birthday.

Guests were eight old friends who enjoyed an evening of cards. On Sunday, a family dinner was given in his honor. All members of the family were present except the son, Frank, of Ann Arbor, who was enroute home from Florida. He came Monday evening to help celebrate his father's birthday.

money saved during the war out of booming tax revenues. A state building program was also launched.

If there has been an "alarming waste of public funds" since 1945, where was the legislature all this time? And why didn't the Republican governors do something about it?

As we see it, the Senate resolution typifies the current frustration at Lansing. A constitutional amendment, requires diversion of 76% of sales tax revenues back to local governments. Inflation has brought higher prices; higher prices require more dollars to buy the same services and products; more dollars mean more taxes or curtailed spending.

Since the legislature has no control over how most of the state revenues are to be spent, the result is a pretty pickle, any way you slice it.

Sombody is going to be hurt. The only question is: Who it is going to be?

SENIOR SCOUTS

The Senior Girl Scouts met Monday night with their leader, Mrs. Lesser. The girls worked on their badges, and during the business meeting they discussed their transportation to the YMCA in Ann Arbor. They also discussed meeting with another Girl Scout group in the near future.

Lunch was served by the week's committee.

Joan Shutes Is Bride of Otto H. Kruse in Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Joan Shutes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Shutes, became the bride of Otto H. Kruse of Ann Arbor, in a ceremony performed by Rev. W. H. Skentelbury in the Congregational church at 8 o'clock Saturday evening. The candlelight service was witnessed by about one hundred relatives and friends of the couple.

The altar decorations were large bouquets of white snapdragons and gladioli effectively arranged before the tall candelabras which held the lighted, white tapers. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown, fashioned of white satin, featured a scalloped panel down the front, a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. The skirt ended in a medium train. Her finger-tip-length illusion veil was held in place with a tiara of orange blossoms. White rosebuds and stephanotis, finished with white satin ribbon streamers in which rosebuds were knotted at intervals, composed her bridal bouquet. She wore pearls belonging to her mother, to complete her costume.

Miss Jean Eisenhower of Jackson, a cousin of the bride, was her maid of honor, while another cousin, Mrs. Thomas McClellan, of Chelsea, and Miss Elaine Schmid, of Ann Arbor, were the bridesmaids. Miss Eisenhower wore a gold satin gown made with a full skirt and a fitted bodice finished with a matching bertha collar.

The bridesmaids' gowns were of green satin.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids all wore headpieces of yellow roses and white carnations and carried bouquets of tall stems of yellow carnations.

Robert Kaimbach, of Ann Arbor, was best man, and Robert Yakely and David Kluge, also of Ann Arbor, were the ushers.

Mrs. L. A. Wacker played the traditional wedding music. She also played the accompaniment for the soloist, Thomas Lyons, who sang "Because," preceding the ceremony.

In the receiving line with the bride party was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. William Thomas, of Royal Oak. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kruse, of Ann Arbor.

At the reception which followed in the church parlors, Mrs. Robert Kaimbach and Mrs. Donald Doll poured and Mrs. Henry Orling, Jr., was in charge of the guest book. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Lynn Eisenhower, of Jackson, helped cut the wedding cake.

Following a two-weeks' honeymoon in Florida the couple will reside in Chelsea temporarily. For traveling the bride chose a teal blue gabardine suit and a tweed topcoat. Her accessories were in red and she wore a corsage of white rosebuds.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school. She attended Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor Business college. She is now employed in the purchasing department of the University of Michigan.

- VS. -

Chelsea as a

As a Village, Chelsea:

1. Pays a township tax.
2. Has only one (1) representative on the County Board of Supervisors who represents Chelsea as well as the township.
3. Has two (2) assessors.
4. Has two (2) Clerks.
5. Has two (2) treasurers.
6. Has two (2) places to register.
7. Has two (2) places to vote.

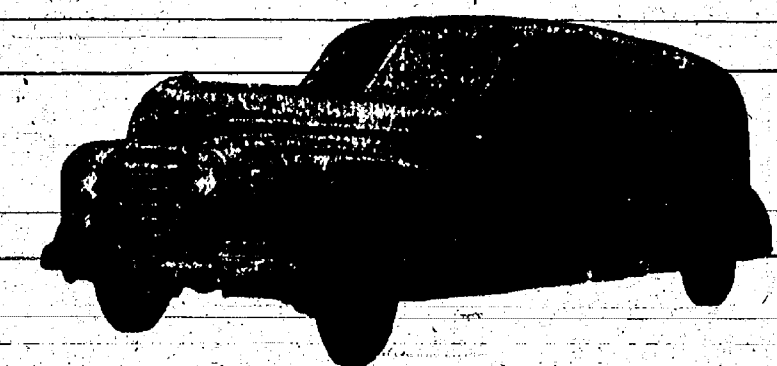

With all of these duplications there is much confusion and added expense.

As a City Chelsea Will:

1. Pay no township tax.
2. Has only one (1) representative on the County Board of Supervisors, representing Chelsea entirely. The county pays their expense, consequently there is no additional cost to Chelsea.
3. Have only one (1) assessor.
4. Have only one (1) clerk.
5. Have only one (1) treasurer.
6. Have only one (1) place to register for all elections.
7. Have only one (1) place to vote for all elections.

Chelsea will eliminate all of the duplications and confusion it has as a village. Will have a stronger voice on the County Board of Supervisors. All at less cost. The township tax will be eliminated.

Tomorrow night the final game of the regular basketball schedule will be played at Lincoln Consolidated school.

The District Tournaments will be held March 3, 4, and 5, at Michigan Center.

Mr. Johnson will attend the regional meeting of school superintendents Feb. 27 through March 2, in St. Louis, Missouri.

Next week is the last week of the fourth marking period, and report cards will be handed out March 9.

A Junior High party will be held tomorrow night.

THE MAGIC OF GLASS
A very unusual assembly was presented Feb. 16 in the gymnasium by Louis Hart, who is a glass blower.

It was amazing what Mr. Hart could do with a small piece of glass. He turned a long, yellow glass tube into a pitcher five inches high. A beautiful flamingo was produced from another blue glass tube.

While he was performing these bits of magic, Mr. Hart related many interesting facts about the development of glass to the audience. Some of this information was taken from the book "Five Thousand Years of Glass." Although there are many stories about the origin of glass, it is Mr. Hart's own theory that the discovery of glass was an accident. He thinks it probably took place during a process of making iron in which some lime was used. Of course, glass wasn't always as clear as it is now. Three thousand five hundred years ago it still had a yellowish tint. Even during Roman times clear glass was not yet developed, for the Romans used crystal.

The students enjoyed this assembly very much and would like to have Mr. Hart come back.

SPEECH CLASS AT PTA

"Who will shorten my trousers?" This question brought very unexpected results when father asked it of his family on Christmas Eve.

This was the theme of the Speech Class play, presented to the PTA last Wednesday.

Tom Harden (Craig Nelson) came home Christmas Eve with a new suit. When he asked his family who was going to shorten the trousers, they all had very good excuses as to why they couldn't. How eventually the whole family managed to shorten the pants, provided a very amusing plot to a very nicely executed play.

SEEING IS BELIEVING

The Journalism club's question of the week was, "If you were a member of the School Board, and could recommend only one improvement for next year, what would you recommend?"

Some of the suggestions were quite large orders, such as a new school building. Others thought of some really constructive ideas that would add a lot to the school. Some of these were: non-leaking ceilings, a permanently repaired gym roof; temporary class rooms to combat the crowded conditions; a special room for movies; a better and larger library; a larger commercial room and a lunch room for rural students.

A few pupils took this question to include academic schedules. They wanted special periods for band and chorus so that subjects wouldn't conflict, and a better physical education program for all students.

These are but a few of the suggestions, but at least the School Board will know some of the things that the students think desirable for school improvements.

SOPHOMORES PLAN PEP MEET

An old time picture of Chelsea's basketball team was portrayed in the Sophomore pep meeting last Friday morning. The team seemed lively, but we can't quite comprehend how they could be in those baggy pants. Spring is coming, but weren't those baseball uniforms rushing the season?

Then was heard a rousing cheer from the Bloomer Girls. It seems they are planning to do the unit on fish next. The girls reorganized the cabinets and kitchen units.

The Home Ec. III girls took a tour of the Botsford Tile company in Ann Arbor, last week. They were shown china and glass-ware. They have just finished the unit on hope chests, and are now starting the unit on successful marriage.

HOME EC. FIELD TRIP
To end the study of china, glass-ware and earthenware, the Home Ec. III class took a field trip to Botsford Tile company in Ann Arbor.

Many beautiful sets of china dishes and blown glass were on display. The girls spent most of the time roaming around the store viewing the many delicate figurines, vases, and pieces of china ware. Many questions about designs, grades and makes of china and glassware, were asked and answered.

FFA
At a meeting of the FFA boys Feb. 18, it was decided that the first-year boys, or Greenhands as they are called, would not get jackets until they earn a letter.

The FFA boys are planning a trip to Yellowstone National Park. The District contest is to be held on March 1, at Saline.

The class and the teacher would like to express their appreciation to the parents in helping to distribute the many valentines in both classes.

FIRST GRADE
Monday, Valentine's Day, the first-graders had a lovely party. Mrs. Fogg, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Hagen, Mrs. Geske, and Mrs. Irwin furnished the refreshments. Friday, Gail Evans had a birthday. She brought cup cakes for all the children.

slow with each team making one point. In the fourth quarter Saline came to life. With a minute to play Chelsea was ahead four points. Then Saline made two quick baskets and the score was tied. With the gym in an uproar, Chelsea took the ball in the center, but was unable to score as the whistle blew to end the game. The referee then ruled the gym was in too much of an uproar and the last 15 seconds had to be played again. There was a great deal of tension as Chelsea again took the ball in the center. As the whistle blew the second time to end the game, the ball was spinning around the rim of the basket but then fell out. The score remained a 12 to 12 tie. Both teams played good games and should be congratulated!
