Natural Gas Available for Heating Uses

Ban Lifted Friday Ends Restriction in Effect since 1946

Gas for heating was made available for Chelsea residents when the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company request was granted Friday for lifting the restrictions on adding new space-heating users and industrial and commercial users. The State Public Service Commission, in granting the Consolidated Gas company's request, lifts restrictions on the use of gas which have been in effect since 1946.

Because it now appears that the new Michigan-Wisconsin pipeline will be completed by Dec. 1, the company filed its petition on Monday and asked for prompt action on its request in order to permit notification of customers of the availability of gas; also, to permit the acceptance and processing of applications in time so that prospective users may install heating equipment in readiness for use.

It was previously believed that the pipeline could not be completed before next spring.

Granting of the request affects gas customers of the Michigan Consolidated Gas company in the Detroit, Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Mt. Pleasant, Big Rapids, and Greenville-Belding districts. Chelsea is part of the Ann Arbor district.

In advising prospective gas-heating customers on the procedure for installing gas-heating equipment here, the local office of the company states that application must first be made at the company's office and that the equipment purchased for installation must have the American Gas Association testing laboratory listing or approval. It is also necessary to have a city permit to install gas-heating equipment.

The gas-heating equipment to be obtained by the heating contractor, and the equipment must be obtained from and installed by a dealer. The Gas company does not install the equipment.

It was pointed out by members of the Public Service Commission that the company must have the right to curtail industrial and commercial plant use of gas in the event of a shortage so that householders may be protected.

Will Enforce Restrictions on Parking

At the Village Council meeting Monday evening an ordinance was adopted regulating the use of the sanitary sewer system, as recommended by W. F. Shepard, chief of the Michigan Department of Health.

Mr. Shepard, chief of the Section of Sewerage and Sewage Treatment, Division of Engineering, of the Michigan Health department, made his recommendation for such an ordinance here after a visit to the sewerage disposal plant several weeks ago. At that time the plant was temporarily out of operation because of quantities of waste oil passing through the sewer. Oil and similar industrial wastes interfere with the purifying action of the disposal plant. The ordinance, as discussed, is printed on page two in this issue of The Standard.

The Village Council, at Monday's meeting, also, ordered immediate, rigid enforcement of the two-hour parking limit in the downtown area. It was stated by village officials that because many businessmen have been in the habit of parking their cars in the business district, parking space for shoppers has been decreased. Others who have ignored the two-hour limit also contribute to the parking problem here, they said. Rigid enforcement of the two-hour limit, it is believed, will materially help to relieve congested parking conditions.

Hospitalization Plan To Be Offered Locally

Residents of Chelsea and vicinity will be canvassed during the week of Aug. 8, for enrollment in a hospitalization plan, sponsored by Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association through the W. W. Becker Agency, Detroit, according to an announcement made this week.

According to spokesmen for the company, their plans include either individual or family group protection, with any hospital in the world being acceptable.

Grass Lake Blasted by Independents

By "BILL" SCHATZ

Featured by two vitaminized home runs contributed by Ed. Miller and Blaine McClanahan, the Chelsea Independents continued to steam roller their struggle hold on first place in the Tri-County baseball league by defeating the Grass Lake team 12-6, Sunday, on the vanquished team's home field.

"Fire Chief" Stan Policht had a field day, collecting four hits out of five times at bat, and thus equalling Ed. Adams' flashy hitting in a previous game.

This proved to be a free hitting contest with the local boys outlasted the opposition to win. Neither starting pitcher could get the route, "Lefty" Barth starting for Chelsea and being lifted in the third in favor of Ed. Miller who finished the game. Barth, however, gets credit for the win.

A couple of errors did "Lefty's" cause, no good, allowing a couple of potential runs to score. But as the Independents were leading 5-3 at the time, it gave Ed. Miller a nice margin to work on when he replaced Barth.

Taylor, of Grass Lake, received a severe shellacking before he was pulled and replaced by Bahnmiller.

Each member of the Chelsea aggregation got at least one hit. The Lakers were a much improved gang as far as hitting was concerned, Sunday but they just lacked theumph to put them in a winner's circle.

With three more games to go it looks like a cinch for the Independents to cop divisional championship honors the same as they have done in past years.

Next Sunday the Independents take up their old feud with the Saline hopefuls, here at 2:30 p.m. This game will probably be featured by arguments if it runs true to traditions.

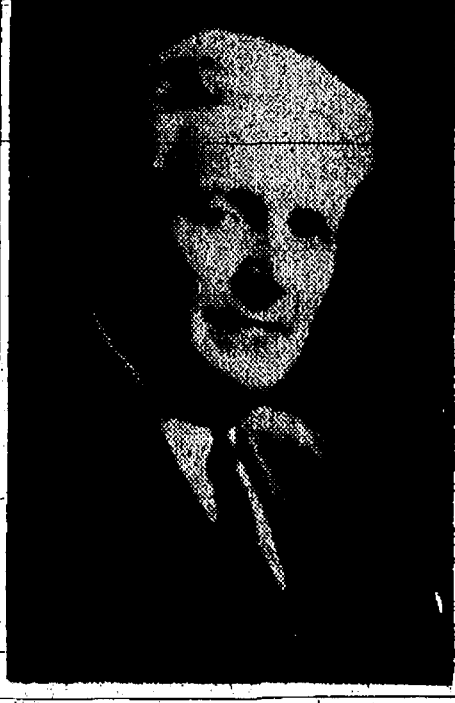

Accident Results in Reckless Driving Ticket for One Driver

Police Officer Frank Reed reported a property damage accident at 11 p.m. Saturday, at the intersection of Middle and Main street, with involved cars being driven by a Grass Lake man and Albert Hayek, of Pierce road, Chelsea.

As reported by Officer Reed, the car driven by Hayek, a 1936 four-door Pontiac, was turning left into West Middle street and collided almost head-on with the 1937 Chevrolet tudor being driven by Hayek.

Crossed the intersection by Jack W. Corey, of Grass Lake. Hayek was given a reckless driving ticket.

Black-White Cattle Show Held Thurs.

Seventy head of thorough-bred Holstein cattle were entered in the Washtenaw-Black and White show held Thursday, July 28, at Green Acres farm, 465 Freer road, with Lowell Spike and R. N. Frisinger as hosts.

It was estimated that about 200 people attended the annual event and one spokesman estimated that the number attending may have been closer to 300 if the total included those who came and went throughout the afternoon.

Members of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce were in attendance at the show. A supply of 20 gallons of lemonade, furnished by the Wayne-Washtenaw Holstein Breeders' Association, was consumed before the lunch was finished, and 10 gallons of ice cream, furnished by the Michigan Milk Producers Association of Adrian, was also consumed.

Following the basket lunch at noon was the exhibiting of cattle, with Herbert Miller of Williams acting as judge, and Russell Miller, field man for the national association, announcing the different classes and handing out the award ribbons.

Grand award winners were as follows: Senior and Grand Champion Bull—Sumner of Adrian Farms, 5-year-old animal shown by Jack Budd of Belleville, receiving the blue ribbon as first in his class and the purple grand champion ribbon.

Junior Grand Champion Bull—Ray Ullman farms of Manchester, receiving the blue ribbon as first in his class and the purple ribbon. Herdman was C. Lorch who flew from Minnesota for the show and who had been with the Ullman farm three years ago.

Senior Champion and Grand Champion Cow—Ullman farms, Manchester, with a 5-year-old. This cow also won award for being the best buttered cow in the show.

Junior Champion Female—a senior calf exhibited by Jack Budd.

surviving members of a class of 17 pastors who graduated in 1899 from Wartburg Seminary at Duquesne, Ia. Rev. Brueckner is the only one of the four still actively engaged in his profession. The other three are retired.

Rev. Brueckner was born at Pine Hill, Mich., on April 4, 1877. He attended Wartburg college at Waverly, Ia., before entering the seminary. He was ordained in Toledo, in St. James Lutheran church where he began his ministry and where he remained until 1911.

When he became pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church in Alpena during his pastorate in Alpena the present church building was erected. Also during his pastorate there, for the period from 1919-1922, he served as president of the Michigan district of the American Lutheran Church.

He came to the Rogers Corners church as pastor in 1926. Under his direction the congregation has just completed a $7,000 remodeling program and built a new $35,000 parish hall.

Rev. Brueckner has always taken an active interest in community affairs and has made many friends not only among his parishioners but in the entire community. He has always been actively engaged in the work of promoting youth work in the church.

Rev. Brueckner has two sons who have entered the ministry. Rev. Bruno Brueckner, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church at Capac, and Rev. Ted Brueckner, pastor of the Lutheran Church of Our Saviour at San Bernardino, Calif. Two of his daughters have married ministers. Esther, whose husband is Rev. James Hunter, associate pastor of Mt. Zion Lutheran church, in Detroit; and Irma, who married Rev. Herbert Schaefer, she and her husband are now missionaries in South India.

There are also another son and daughter, Moritz, of Detroit, and Johanna, now Mrs. Robert Warren, of Toledo. All the children, with the exception of Mrs. Schaefer, will be present with their families, at Sunday's celebration.

Rev. and Mrs. Ted Brueckner and their children, Teddy and Pamela, of San Bernardino, Calif., are spending part of their vacation here.

The program closed with the formation of the living circle. A baseball game was then enjoyed between the boys and their fathers, the score being 5-3 in favor of the fathers.

The Cub Leaders' Pow-Wow is to take place Aug. 8 in Ann Arbor, and on Aug. 12 there will be a meeting of don mothers at the Willard Pension home.

First Local Case of Polio Is Reported

David Kniesly, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Holton Kniesly, was taken to U. of M. hospital, Ann Arbor, on Monday afternoon as Washtenaw county's eighth case of polio during the present season. He was considered to be seriously ill, his mother stated on Tuesday evening. He was being aided in his breathing with a respirator.

The Washtenaw County Health department office informed The Standard Tuesday morning that two new cases of polio had been reported in the county. One of the cases was in Ann Arbor and was reported Monday, while the other was in the country, with a Dexter township address.

The latter case (presumably the Kniesly case, although not confirmed by the Health Department), was confirmed as polio Tuesday morning, the Health Department stated.

The Knieslys live on Hankard road and have a Dexter postoffice address.

Hearing To Be Held Friday, Aug. 26 at Red Schoolhouse

The Board of County Road Commissioners on Friday was in receipt of a petition requesting the closing of approximately six miles of roads in the John Hanna project area southwest of Chelsea.

The petition bore the signatures of 17 Sylvan township residents in addition to those of Hanna and his wife. Only seven signatures are required on a petition of this kind, according to Road Commission spokesmen.

Roads affected are Deckert, Prichard, Burtis and Warthley roads, and that part of Heim road to the west edge of section 34 which almost reaches the intersection of Sylvan road.

Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, superintendent-manager of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, stated Monday that such a petition, when properly presented, must be acted upon by the Commission, which accordingly has set Aug. 26, at 2 p.m. as the date for a hearing. The hearing is to be held at the Red School on Manchester road at Prichard road. This will give all interested persons in the community an opportunity to be heard. If no objections are offered by persons who might be affected, the roads may be legally closed, Mr. Hallenbeck said.

Three notices of the hearing must be posted and owners of all adjoining land must be notified by registered mail so they may appear if they wish.

John Hanna, Detroit real estate man, has acted as purchaser of the tract of land comprising more than 3,000 acres and extending from US-12 to the southern edge of Sylvan township, between the Manchester road and Sylvan road. This is the area in which the five roads are located. Property on both sides of the five roads in question all is included in the land purchased by Hanna, and for that reason, it is expected no objections to closing them will be forthcoming.

Mr. Hallenbeck also said Monday in amplifying a Road Commission statement that if the five roads were closed, as petitioned, people of the area west of the "project" should be assured of improvement of other roads, Mr. Hanna having offered to give a substantial amount of money toward such improvement. Mr. Hallenbeck particularly mentioned Sylvan road, south of Heim road, as being in special need of improvement.

If the petition to close these five roads is granted there will be a connecting road between the Manchester road and Sylvan road from US-12 to Lehman road.

When asked what the property was to be used for, Mr. Hallenbeck said that Mr. Hanna repeated that he could not reveal that information, but he could assure everyone that it would be an asset to

KA-CHOO!

Old Hay Fever's Done Got You

Every year around this time somebody comes up with an idea or a device to help hay fever sufferers, most of them keep right on suffering despite everything.

Latest gadget is a sort of pollen barometer which can tell you where to go to keep your adenoids in place. It will indicate where the irritating pollen is most scarce.

Already it has determined one fact: The central states are no place for the hay fever victim when the rag weed starts to get ragged. "Arrange to take your vacation beginning the last week in August," is the recommendation of Oren C. Durham, chief botanist for the Abbott Laboratories of Chicago.

And then hit for the hills—the Pacific Northwest, if possible, he said. Of 20 national parks tested for rag weed pollen, Olympic, Mt. Rainier, Glacier and Crater Lake parks showed up as being the least offensive.

"Rocky mountain parks are quite good for hay fever sufferers, too," Durham said, "along with Southwest parks and the upper Great Lakes."

The pollen detector showed that irritating pollens abound in full strength in the middle states from the second week in August through the first of September.

Although the new pollen recorder, representing five years' research, is not intended for home use, there's no reason why you couldn't set one up in the front yard if you care to keep tab on just how miserable—or well—you ought to feel according to the amount of pollen that is lurking about.

patients who have nothing to wear when they are released from the hospital.

Regarding Britain's social-political conflicts, Hansen reported: "The central question of our time, the relation of the state to the individual, remains unanswered—how to combine social action by a government with the individual initiative and basic human freedoms which are vital to free and democratic living. If the English can get the one without losing the other, there may evolve a third force, midway between Soviet state compulsion and American competitive enterprise. If they find they can't combine the two, steps taken will not be easily retraced."

Hansen wrote from London, first stop of the Town Hall group on a visit of 12 world capitals to exchange views with government leaders and to sponsor Town Hall broadcasts in the host capitals to demonstrate "democracy in action" to the peoples of other countries. Represented on the tour are the American Legion, AFL, CIO, Lions, League of Women Voters, and other American organizations. The Eagles are the only fraternal organization included in the party, headed by George V. Denny, Jr., Town Hall moderator.

In London, Hansen reported the group held discussions with government leaders, attended a night session of Parliament, and were guests at a London Rotary luncheon.

"The days when England was the industrial workshop of the world, importing foodstuffs and raw materials and selling manufactured goods to a non-industrial world are over," Hansen stated. "England's capital plant is seriously damaged. Much of its overseas income is gone. Most of its productive equipment is obsolete. The dollar crisis, which has had the headlines here, is part and parcel of England's efforts to adjust to a changed world picture."

The Marshall plan is helping Britain's economy, but other measures are needed, Hansen declared. "Evaluation of the pound, currently urged by America, would help more," he added. "Increasing the output per man hour, replacing obsolete machinery, cutting costs and getting management, labor and government cooperation will have to come if Britain's position in world trade is to hold up."

Britain's socialized medicine plan is a highly controversial subject with her citizens, Hansen pointed out, but he said that "it is generally admitted that prepaid medical care is here to stay."

"Having had a taste of free dentures and free physician service and free operations, the British man on the street wants more of it," he said. "The most recent addition is free suits for hospital

Report Given Eagles on Conditions in England as Viewed by Visitor on Tour

First-hand observations of conditions in present day England were transmitted to Chelsea Eagles in a letter received by Harold Bair, secretary of the local aerie, from Robert W. A roller skate forgotten on a stairway — a bicycle draped across the sidewalk — a back yard tussle between your boys and neighbors — a golf drive that got away — a pet dog with a taste for postmen's calves... any one of these could result in a costly injury; end up as a court judgment devastating to your family's financial security. What the Logger Leaves
The slash which the logger leaves has long been a problem of great concern. What to do with the tree tops has been debated throughout the entire history of lumbering, for slash is a highly combustible forest fire fuel. Fortunately, there is a growing realization that slash disposal is a necessary part of the forest protection program.

New Drug Hard on Bugs
A new drug made from corn cures some skin infections by giving bacteria indigestion, according to Dr. Morris Green of University of Pennsylvania. Recent biochemical research has revealed that the drug, tetracycline, prevents a great many microorganisms from digesting sugar and related substances essential to their nutrition by interfering with their ability to utilize some of the B vitamins.

Water Pollution
The two main sources of water pollution in the United States are (1) municipal—sewage and public wastes dumped into streams, lakes and rivers without being put through modern and effective treatment, and (2) industrial—various types of discharges into the public waters without adequate treatment to reduce their poisonous effects.

Putting a "Punch" in Lunch
Packing a lunch that "picks a punch" and avoiding that day-to-day sameness is a problem of many homemakers. Aim always to include something crisp, something juicy, and one hot, one sweet, one tart or salty, and one colorful food, advise nutrition specialists. Each lunch box should contain one third of the food supply for the day for the person who eats it. Lettuce put in sandwiches is likely to wilt and is better when wrapped separately.

SHORT STORY

Nancy, Don't Fret
By ELLIS E. BALDWIN

I HAD just put little Caroline to bed, hoping she'd sleep through until morning when shuffling down the sidewalk came Gus Olson. "I saw him before my young doctor-husband did. Gus was the first half of a patent medicine testimonial before the great transformation. His face resembled a cathedral gargoyle. His stomach ailment was known all over town, still he swore he would never go to a doctor. 'Not one of them would be able to help me,' he boasted."

When Gus retired from the railroad he took up his post on his porch, hating every passerby to discuss his symptoms.

Panicky, I realized if Charlie should prescribe something that didn't cure, Gus with his porch features would spoil the doctor's chances for building a practice.

"Charlie," I said breathlessly, "I'll tell him you have an emergency. Go out and hitch up Dinah." I'd stopped counting the times Charlie harnessed the horse to roll out of the yard like he was headed for a fire. "It's exciting for the neighborhood kids," Charlie would chuckle. It didn't mean a thing. The doctor was just putting on an act. Half an hour later you'd hear the crunch of the wheels on the driveway.

Charlie was saying, "I'm fed up with whirling dervish rides. Dinah, the neighbor, are starting to wonder where I go."

GUS was walking slowly, hunched over, hand on his stomach. "I found myself clinging to Charlie's hand like a drowning woman."

"Let go of me, darling," the doctor said almost angrily. "I must greet our new patient."

I whispered desperately, "Darling, you just can't face this old gossip."

Suddenly the doctor was calling out, "Good evening, Mr. Olson. Won't you come in?"

It took Gus a long time to tell his story. I heard the doctor clear his throat a number of times while he let Gus recite his history. Then Charlie began using those long technical terms he'd been boning up on these nights when he held office hours and no one came in. "All of a sudden, I heard Gus shout angrily, 'Listen here, Doc, you can't tell me that.' Goose pimples popped out on my arms. Charlie couldn't afford to get Gus down on him."

Then Charlie's voice droned on seemingly unperturbed by Gus shouting. From where I sat I couldn't make out what he was saying. It seemed hours before the office door swung open.

"You're kind of young," Gus was

Neighbors Stage Harvest 'Bee' To Help Hatt Family

A "harvest bee," such as was staged on the Hatt farm south of Chelsea last Friday afternoon, has probably not been equalled in this community for some time. The "bee" was held to assist Harley Hatt in harvesting 60 acres of oats and 22 remaining acres of wheat, following the death of his brother, Wilber Hatt, with whom he had been farming the 868-acre Hatt farm.

Farmers from the surrounding community brought their combines and started in about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. A number returned to finish the job on Monday. Nineteen men attended the "bee," some running combines, and the others assisting Harley Hatt to bin the grain. The wheat yield proved to be very good, but the oat yield was light.

Those who assisted with this neighborly project were John Brooks, Gordon Van Riper, Walter Eschelbach, Erwin Lounsbury, Don Keizer, Loren Hinderer, Rohn Miller, Jerry Wixom, Everett Van Riper, Lowell Spike, Warren Spaulding, Elmer Lindow, Roger Smythe, Ralph Erke, Roland Waltrous, Sylvester Weber, N. H. Miles, George Steele and Latham Scott.

Junior Leaguers Win from Dundee, 8-3, in Fifth Victory

Chelsea's team in the Junior Tri-County Baseball League, sponsored by the local Kiwanis club, defeated Dundee by a score of 8 to 3 last Wednesday at 8:00 p.m., under the lights at the local athletic field.

Dundee scored two runs in the second inning and one in the third. Chelsea scored four runs in the second inning, one in the fifth, and three in the sixth.

This win made their sixth consecutive victory.

More than 100 persons represented Washtenaw county at Farm Family Progress Day yesterday at East Lansing, according to Clayton C. Ingerson, FFA County Supervisor, here.

The all-day meeting was conducted by the Farmers Home Administration, and was attended by FFA families, committeemen, USDA County Council members, and friends throughout the state. The crowd was estimated at about 3,500 people, the largest ever present for an FFA event in Michigan, Ingerson said. Michigan State College was host to the assembly.

Three Washtenaw county families were among the approximately 280 county Progress Day winners honored at the meeting.

Each received a Certificate of Award for outstanding achievement in the farm, family, and community living, since becoming associated with the Farmers Home Administration. The winners from this area, two of whom were in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Jay Bradbury, RFD 1, Dexter; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Proctor, Chelsea; and Mr. and Mrs. Everett G. Van Riper, of Chelsea.

The speakers on the program were Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State College, and Dillard B. Lasseter, FFA national administrator. The general theme of the meeting, which was held in Jenison Field House, was "Progress Through Planning."

Both speakers stressed good farm and home practices as the best means to achieve an independent, comfortable life on the farm.

Who pays the cost of running the local housing authority? The administrative overhead is covered by money obtained from bonds and rentals.

How much can Michigan get of the federal housing aid? Not more than 10 per cent may go into any one state.

Farm housing benefits are also available. In fact, submarginal farms (those which are not self-supporting) may obtain an outright gift from the Great White Father. A fourth of a billion dollars has been set aside for housing loans to farmers who cannot get private loans.

In 1929 the Federal government spent $1.3 billion on goods and services; $5.2 billion in 1939; $21 billion in 1948, and an estimated $28 billion in 1949. The 1950 spending will be close to $30 billion with a treasury cash deficit of $5 to $8 billion.

Well, there it is! The public housing program in a nutshell. If your community is interested, officials may write the governor's office at Lansing for details.
