Michigan MIRROR

By Gene Alleman

Governor Williams is not Mich- igan's first governor to enjoy talk- ing at luncheon and dinner, but at festive dinners and dinners, he is the answer to the prayers of the people. He is the one who is used to thrive on these things even while the legislature was thrashing about at Lansing. Williams stuck to the job faith- fully while all arguments in the house and senate were in town- ship and county for a speaking engagement that resembled a barn- burning trip. Like Sigler, he pre- pares travel by airplane.

The governor's staff is now con- sidered that many voters prefer to have their governor "work at the desk." Result: Fewer speaking en- gagements are being booked for "Bossy" next fall. The governor and his family are residing during August at the governor's home on Mackinac Island.

When to call the legislature into session is a decision yet to be made. The governor insists Michigan should enact a new tax immediately if it is to avert fi- nancial chaos next spring. He is vigorously for a corporation income tax rather than a personal income tax, and defends his pro- posal as not favoring a "soak the rich" levy.

Even if the legislature were to adopt a flat personal income tax, says the governor, taxpayers would soon favor a graduated in- come tax by constitutional amend- ment.

Victor Knox, speaker of the house of representatives, is con- sidered a tax expert. He would approve a tax best or a new tax unit actual need had been demonstrated. A treasury deficit will furnish such proof, says Knox. This reasoning influenced Republican legislators, he said re- cently, to sidestep the issue of new taxes until 1950.

If this strategy is adhered to, Republican legislative leaders will avoid 1950 to see how much mon- ey is needed and then cut the tax accordingly. To do anything now, say the argument goes, is to guess at a future development.

But 1950 is also re-election year for many legislators, as with state- wide officials. To impose a new tax in an election year is re- sisted by some as something next to political heresy.

The more the Republicans wait, the more their opponents are go- ing to lambast the party for pro- tecting big corporations from a war of their profits. Governor Wil- liams wishes to put the G.O.P. on the defensive. 1950-51 is the time for a tax consistently in 1949.

A week or so ago we had the opportunity to swing into the Upper Peninsula as far west as Mar-quette and Escanaba. Everywhere we were asked about Secretary of State Fred A. Alger Jr. and the prospective candidates for governor in the Republican pri- mary next spring. Also: "Is Dr. Alger going to run for governor in 1950?"

Aside from saying that Alger, like and loves are all definitely interested in the nomination, we managed to stay neutral. Partly, politics have no place in this street column. But the in- quiry does show an interest or an- dency of Republican observers.

Another point: Harry F. Kelly, a possible candidate. Would a "third term" issue lessen his pop- ularity with Michigan voters? That is something for the League to talk about this year.

Cooperative efforts to curtail Michigan's highway traffic jam- ming are beginning to bring dividends. In three consecutive months a decline in traffic deaths has taken place. Maxwell Halsey, executive secretary of the Michigan state highway commission, reports the objective is to make high- ways more safe for children. More than 4,500 children were killed or injured in Michigan traf- fic accidents last year.

R. Walz's Memory To Be Honored at DAV Convention

In a special prayer for the war dead of Washtenaw county which is to be given at the national convention of the Disabled American Veterans at Cleveland, this week, the name of Reynolds Guy Walz, killed at sea in 1943, is being used to symbolize all of the county's war dead. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, national DAV commander, is to preside at the memorial services in which more than 1,500 DAV chapters will participate. The Chelsea boy's name was submitted by Washtenaw's DAV chapter No. 13.

The convention began Sunday and continues through Saturday, Aug. 20.

The Chelsea serviceman was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Walz.

Born Oct. 7, 1925, he enlisted in the Navy in August, 1942, and lost his life in the Pacific Theater, May 25, 1943. During his ten months in the service he had earned the World War II medal, the American campaign medal and the Asiatic-Pacific campaign medal.

In addition to his parents, there are two surviving brothers, Donald and John.

Fire Dept. Answers Two Calls Saturday

The Chelsea Fire department was called out twice on Saturday. In the early morning a call was answered from the Bohnet residence on Orchard street where a mattress and bedding were destroyed by fire in one of the apartments.

The evening alarm was turned in when a car belonging to Virgil Morris, 538 North Division street, Ann Arbor, was afire on Bush road in the Waterloo area.

Thomas Young and William O'Dell also made one run with the rescuator during the evening. Their home on US-12 to relieve Mr. Treacart's breathing just before his death-Friday evening.

Saturday Proclaimed as Forget-Me-Not Day

Village President M. W. McClure has proclaimed Saturday, Aug. 20, as Forget-Me-Not day in Chelsea. We can show our gratitude to our disabled veterans most effectively by contributing to the sale of this flower.

Children 12 years of age and over, are invited to assist the Disabled American Veterans and Auxiliary in this welfare fund drive. Headquarters will be in the Municipal building.

Public Library Board Welcomes Gifts But Asks for Truly 'Useful' Articles

Over a period of more than 17 years the Chelsea Public Library has been the recipient of many gifts. These gifts have included money, books, furniture, pictures, magazines, ideas, and even hours of work.

During the library's early years every book of any age or condition was gratefully received because it could not be put on the library shelves. George Wahr of Ann Arbor, generously bought them, giving not less than five cents per volume. This seems like a small sum but the library operated then with volunteer help and a very small budget. Since the library is now tax-supported this practice has been discontinued, and books which are unsuitable in various ways must be disposed of in various ways. Some of the best go to the American Legion hospital in Battle Creek; some to camps, and a large number have to be carted away as waste paper.

A great number of books are brought to the library too old to be of use, as there are very few books published before 1920 which can be placed on the shelves. Of course, books of historical material

Friends Remember Miss Lizzie Mast on 84th Birthday

Miss Lizzie Mast, a former Chelsea resident, who now makes her home at the Evangelical and Reformed Orphans' and Old People's home in Detroit, celebrated her 84th birthday there on Sunday, Aug. 7. Friends in this vicinity remembered her with cards and messages of congratulation and good wishes.

Miss Mast has been a resident of the Home since May 27, 1941, when the institution was still located on West Grand Boulevard. The new building, located on West Outer Drive, has been her home since its dedication in 1946. For several years after going to the Home to live she spent some time each summer with friends in Chelsea and vicinity. She is now confined to her room most of the time because of a heart condition.

Miss Mast will be remembered by many of the older residents of the community who knew her when she was a child.

Letter To The Editor

Ann Arbor, Michigan August 15, 1949

To The Editor:

Chelsea is a progressive little town in many ways. The business section looks prosperous and neat with trash cans placed along the streets lettered "Help-Keep-Chelsea-Clean." Homes are attractive and lawns are well-kept. A casual visitor is impressed with the efforts made to make it a good place to live and work.

Even so, I would like to point out two things in Chelsea's "front yard" that need attention. The first is the village dump south of town on the old Manchester road. It mars the beauty of what was once a nice little wildlife refuge. Tins, cans, papers, trash, discarded tires and other unsightly refuse litter the place, with little or no effort made to cover them. Rats scurry over the debris. True, some of the oily waste and combustible materials are burned, but the odors and smoke are far from pleasant. You can't see the dump as one drives along the new Manchester road for the Good Lord has provided a screen of trees and shrubs. Nevertheless, the people living along the old road are entitled to consideration.

Of course the dump is small and, if continued, would soon be filled, but in the meantime perhaps the land owner could furnish fill dirt and the village use it to keep the refuse covered in a more creditable manner. It is high time that Chelsea and Sylvan township join hands in acquiring a satisfactory site for the sanitary disposal of garbage and refuse.

Another "front yard" matter of pride to the Chelsea community is the hodge-podge development of residence and business establishments along the north side of US-12 west of the Manchester road. Opportunities were present when US-12 was re-located to keep the highway attractive, yet there now appears to be very little effort made toward orderly development. What is happening here might well happen along other highways bordering the "Hanna Mystery Project" when it ceases to be a mystery.

Would it not be well for Sylvan township and Chelsea residents alike to initiate action through zoning to protect existing property values and insure themselves in the future against undesirable land uses.

Let's keep Washtenaw county clean and beautiful.

Very truly yours,

George D. Hurrell,

Director, Washtenaw County Planning Commission.

Police Receive False Report of Accident Late Sunday Night

The Chelsea police telephone operator received a call at 11:30 p.m. Sunday night reporting an accident at the intersection of old and new US-12, west of Chelsea. When the police officer on duty, Frank Reed, investigated, he found no such accident and, in addition, the man whose name was given as the party who telephoned, was found to be home and asleep at the time the call was made.

Police emphasize that fictitious calls, such as this proved to be, can cause much harm. The police officer might be delayed in answering a really urgent call for assistance because of such a fictitious report.

Police and fire alarm telephone numbers are not to be called, police say, except for the legitimate purposes for which they are intended.

Arraigned in Court on Disorderly Charge

Police Officer Frank Reed reported on Monday that Edward Risner and Ole Risner, whom he had arrested in Chelsea at 1:15 a.m. that day, were arraigned in Municipal court in Ann Arbor, later, on charges of being drunk and disorderly. The former paid a fine of $10 and also a $10 cost as the alternative to a 10-day jail sentence, while the latter paid a $10 fine and $15 costs and was placed on six months' probation, according to Officer Reed.

KIWANIS

Nan Kyung Koh, who is the nurse at the Cedar Lake Girl Scouts camp this summer, was the speaker at the Kiwanis club meeting Monday night. Here from her native Korea for special study at the University of Michigan, she is a doctor and gave a very interesting talk on the government and the people of Korea.

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Mohrlock and son Richard, spent the week-end with Mrs. Michael Mohrlock at her home here.

Cedar Lake Camp Polio Victim Dies

Judith Bailey, the 11-year-old Ypsilanti girl who became ill while at the Cedar Lake Girl Scout camp during the week of Aug. 1, died Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 1, at University hospital, Ann Arbor, of poliomyelitis. Her illness was diagnosed as polio two days after she had left the camp when becoming ill.

The girl's parents who survive, are Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bailey of 215 N. Summit street, Ypsilanti. Also surviving is a brother, Richard Bruce.

On recommendation of Dr. Otto Engleke, director of the Washtenaw county Health department, camp spokesmen said all campers who had been at the camp the week of Aug. 1, when Judith became ill, were excluded from the camp for the final period.

All new campers were at Cedar Lake for the final camping period which ends Sunday, Aug. 21. Camp personnel will be at Cedar Lake two days after all campers have gone to clean up and close the camp for the year.

Make N. Main Survey for Paving Work

Surveyors from the State Highway department are now making a survey of North Main street in accordance with plans announced last week by spokesmen for the department office at Lansing in a telephone conversation with Village President M. W. McClure. The survey is in preparation for plans for letting the contract for the paving and curbing of the street. It was announced last week that the contract is to be let late this summer or early in the fall.

Supervisors' Hold Annual Picnic at Dexter-Huron Park

Eugene Elliott, president of Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti, was the speaker at the annual supervisors' picnic held Sunday at Dexter-Huron county park. President Elliott's talk was on the subject of education.

City and village officials as well as past and present supervisors, from all over the county attended the event.

Elected president of the picnic for next year was William R. Kelley, supervisor of East Ann Arbor. Elmer Mayer, Sharon township supervisor was named vice-president, and Harry Cole, former Lodi township supervisor, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Election Date on Bond Issue Is Changed

The date for the election on the school bond issue has been changed. It was announced this week by school officials. Originally scheduled to be held Sept. 14, the Board of Education of the Chelsea Agricultural school has set Oct. 12 as the date for balloting on the issue.

The change in date was considered by the board to be advisable for the purpose of providing sufficient time to familiarize people of the community with the proposed issue.

The delay in holding the election will have no effect on the date of the bond issue, should it be approved, as no appropriation can be made for 1949 at this date.

Three of the six rural schools for which the Board of Education had advertised for sealed bids, were sold after the bids were opened at the board's meeting last Wednesday evening. Bids on the remaining three schools were rejected.

Sold were the Stapish school, to Ben Stapish, Howe school and grounds to John Meinel, and Irvin school to James Hendley. The rejected bids were those for the Lyndon Center, McIntee and Merkel schools.

The decision to sell the six schools was made by the board some time ago to eliminate the expense of up-keep and insurance on the buildings. The buildings have been

THIS is MICHIGAN

Following are excerpts from a series of broadcasts entitled "This is Michigan," sponsored by the Michigan department of economic development. The series are written by Nancy Black, in charge of radio for the department, and produced by W. K. R. Fifteen Michigan radio stations are carrying this series.

From a wife's complaint about pushing peas through a sieve has grown the world's largest baby food industry located in Michigan. Just 21 years ago in Fremont, Michigan, Dorothy Gerber complained to her husband about the time she spent each day trying to mash their baby's vegetables. Dan owned a small canning plant at his little Michigan community and she suggested to him that he take some of the food there and run it through the mashing machines.

Dan was skeptical about this venture but tried it after he himself struggled with the baby's food. Soon he realized the potential baby-food demand and marketed it nationally receiving much opposition from retailers and friends. They thought he was crazy to try such a thing but 21 short years have proved how wrong public opinion can be to a new idea.

The rolling land of the fertile farm section around Gerber's home plant in Fremont, Michigan is a remarkable combination of sandy soil and black loam. Thanks to this green peas, carrots, beans and spinach flourish close by the celery and onions of the mucklands. Most of the 3500 residents of Fremont work at Gerber's through all or part of the year and profit directly or indirectly from the enterprise. The baby food has crowded everything else out of the Michigan plant and today Gerber's is the leader in the $125,000,000 baby foods industry.

Last year Gerber paid over two million dollars in wages to Michigan citizens. They paid $500,000 in taxes to improve Michigan's state and local governments. They bought 4,000 acres of agricultural products from Michigan farmers. This industry starting from nothing but a wife's idea, last year, had over $39,000,000 in sales.

All proving—that pushing peas through a sieve was no joke! Yes—This is Michigan!

Cool Hens Produce Better in Hot Weather

Summer ventilation of poultry houses is often neglected with resulting lost egg production, say Michigan State college extension poultry specialists.

If flock owners are to get the best performance out of their flocks special attention should be given to opening every window, door and slot wide during hot weather. Shade should still be provided.

Collecting eggs frequently in hot weather is another important job. Quality is rapidly lost unless eggs are gathered and placed where they will cool to the proper temperature. Frequent marketing will also help make sure the consumer gets a quality product.

Greyhound
The name of the greyhound does not refer to the color of the dog, says World Book encyclopedia. It comes from the Icelandic word grey, meaning dog.

SHORT STORY

The Lucky Prize

By MARION WALLS

FRED slapped the water from his hat, carefully removed his rubbers before stepping inside on the immaculate floor. It was good to be home, to be facing a relaxed evening while the storm lashed the outside world.

"Allie!" he called. The muffled reply sounded like: "where else would I be, but in the kitchen?" Pushing open the door, Fred sniffed appreciatively and kissed his wife. "Apple pie!—Hummam! The boys home yet?" he inquired, glancing at the headlines.

"Ralph is. But Jack won't be home—they're having some kind of banquet at school."

Allie observed: "It's too bad they have such a bad night for the bingo party."

"Hummam... The pie smelled delicious... Approaching gripped him. "What bingo party?"

Ralph barged in and his mother gave the boy an amused glance. "Your father has the queerest memory. If it were a wrestling match or a ball game— Looking at Fred: 'The bingo party I bought the tickets for last Monday. We have to go tonight.'"

He hedged. "Why do we have to go? You bought the tickets, that was the main thing they were interested in."

"But I like to play!" she insisted. "They have the grandest prizes—and you know how lucky I am!"

"Thinking of the warmth, the unread magazines, Fred reflected unhappily that Allie might be lucky, but he most certainly was not.

For Fred it was a particularly dull evening. He got no pleasure at all from pushing little wooden squares around on a piece of cardboard, and certainly no material gain came his way. Empty-handed, after two hours of tiresome effort, he looked across the room to find Allie triumphantly gathering up a set of glass ash trays and a string of plastic measuring spoons.

"I told you I was lucky!" she crowed, ignoring Mrs. Deerfield who was struggling past her with a set of glass crystal boudoir lamps.

Allie chattered happily all the way home; the rain had stopped and a half moon was struggling to come through the clouds. "Of course, we had plenty of ash trays, but they'll save me the expense of buying something the next time I entertain the club."

As they rolled into the drive Fred saw people standing on their porch. "Gosh—Allie—look! Do you suppose there's been a fire?" He slammed on the brakes.

"Oh, Mrs. Jenkins!" That was Mrs. Haggerty who lived next door. "Oh—if you'd been home!"

Apprehension gripped him. "What happened?? Is it the—is it the boys?" began Allie fearfully.

"It's the phone! The Lucky Number program! They called your number and if you'd been home—they were going to give you a thousand dollars! I bet on your door, thinking maybe you didn't hear."

"No," said Allie, slowly. "We weren't at home tonight."

"With head high, she marched past into the house."

Fred put away the car. A thousand dollars, just for staying at home, being comfortable! Going in the house, he didn't bother to wipe his feet. Allie was in the living room, the prizes nowhere in sight.

"Luck always hits twice," she said loudly. "Even lightning hits twice in the same place sometimes. Why some people say what happens once will happen three times. You can't tell, can you, Fred?"

"Nope," he grunted, easing out of his shoes.

Allie leaned forward eagerly. "We'll stay home every night—maybe they'll call again—they could do it, couldn't they, Fred?"

He thought of the happy evenings at home which now confronted him. "Why sure they could!" he agreed heartily. Again: "Sure it could happen again!"

He reached for a magazine, leaned back. He didn't know when a thousand dollars he hadn't gotten had ever bought as much.

Hens Need Water To Produce Eggs

Keeping plenty of water before the laying flock is important on summer days, say extension poultrymen at Michigan State college. High egg production increases the need for water since eggs have a large water content. Poultry are known to increase their water consumption when the temperature climbs.

Because water is so necessary in a good poultry program and because it adds to the labor when carried to the hen house, the poultrymen advise running water where it is possible. A number of fountains and watering devices are on the market or the farmer handy with tools can construct his own.

Forest and woods fires annually destroy enough timber in the United States to make 5,700,000 tons of newsprint.

First Tin Can Patent
An English inventor patented the first tin can in 1810. This "casserole" was cut out and soldered by hand and a circular hole was left in the top. After it was filled, the hole was closed by soldering on a tin plate disc. An expert could produce five or six cans per hour. Since that time, continued improvements in can making have advanced the number to 20,000 per hour.

Summer Session Ends, Tempo at U-M Slows

Ann Arbor-End of the Summer Session has brought a period of semi-quiet to the University of Michigan.

Activities in the research laboratories, several conferences and the Law school will keep the campus from taking on a completely deserted attitude. The tempo will step up again Sept. 19, when Orientation Week begins with registration for the Fall semester starting Sept. 21. Classes will open Monday, Sept. 26.

Law school summer courses run until Aug. 27, two weeks longer than the regular session. Michigan bar examinations are scheduled at the Law school on Sept. 14 to 16.

Enjoy Vacation Trip in Western States

Mrs. Hurschel O'Dell and daughter Janet, have just returned from a month's vacation in California, where they visited the former's sister, Mrs. Vincent Hale and family.

Some of the highlights of their trip were their visit to Will Rogers ranch in Santa Monica; a motor trip into the Sierra Madre mountains, and afternoons at the beaches. They attended the baseball game, "Out of This World Series," between the Andy Russell "Sprouts" and the Frank Sinatra "Swooners." Movie stars participated as players. They attended Ken Murray's "Blackouts of '49," starring Marie Wilson.

They went sight-seeing in Tijuana, Mexico, and visited the famous San Diego zoo. They also attended several radio broadcasts, lunched at the Brown Derby and other noted places in Hollywood and Los Angeles. They saw many film folk during their stay.

Among the interesting places they saw enroute were Boystown, Nob. They brought home many lovely gifts and souvenirs for their family.

Married in Evening
Ceremony, July 30

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hicks, who were married Saturday, July 30, in Zanesville, Ohio, have returned from their wedding trip and are now at home at 6312 Knox avenue, Chicago. Mrs. Hicks is the former Marilyn Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex W. Lyons, of Zanesville, Ohio. The family resided in Chelsea for a number of years before moving to the Ohio city during the past year.

The singling marriage service was read by Dr. William F. Schuler in the Forest Avenue Presbyterian church, in Zanesville, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Candelabras holding lighted tapers were used on the altar which was banked with palms and white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring long, tapered sleeves and a V-shaped neckline at both the front and back, outlined with a wide tucked collar. The skirt, with side fullness emphasized, extended into a circular train. She wore a fingertip-length veil of silk tulle held in place with a tiara of rhinestones and seed pearls, and carried a white prayer book covered with white roses and streamers of stephanotis.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Paul Olson, of Fort Wayne, wore a light blue tulle gown having a fitted bodice finished at the neckline with a deep, tucked collar. The skirt was very full. Matching blue mitts and a pink tulle open crown picture hat completed her costume and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations with a rose center.

William Lyons, brother of the bride, was best man, while Robert Swallow, of Alliance, Ohio, and Rex Jenkins of Alexandria, assisted as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lyons wore a brown crepe dress with light brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother in navy with matching accessories, wore a corsage of white roses.

Assisting at the reception which was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately after the ceremony, were Mrs. Glenn B. Taylor and Mrs. Dale Rex, of Caldwell, Ohio, and Mrs. James Hackett, of Alexandria, Ohio.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school and International Business college, Fort Wayne, Ind., and for the past three years has been employed by an accounting firm in Fort Wayne. She is a member of Xi chapter of Sigma Phi Gamma sorority.

Mr. Hicks served three years with the U. S. Army. He attended International Business college, in Fort Wayne, and Central Radio school, Kansas City, Mo., and is now employed by the Wisconsin Central Airlines in Chicago.

Positions Open for Navy Aviation Cadets

Air-minded young men who would like to winter in the South this year should look into the U. S. Navy's Flight Training program. It was suggested today by Lieutenant Commander Arthur J. Schultz, Jr., USN in charge of Naval Officer Procurement in Detroit.

Selected candidates will be sent immediately to Pensacola, Fla., the Navy's "Annapolis of the air" for 18 months of intensive flight training. These fledgling pilots will use the best planes and the most advanced equipment that money can buy. After graduation as flying Ensigns, they will wing their way over the U. S. Fleet in fast jet fighters and bombers.

Single men, between 18 and 27, in good physical condition, who have completed two or more years of college are eligible to apply as Naval Aviation Cadets. Full information may be obtained at 949 Book Building, Detroit.

Wool Value Is Cut by Weeds, Burrs
Burrs and weeds are common in late summer and can mean a loss in wool quality unless care is taken, says Graydon Blank, extension sheep specialist at Michigan State college.

Permanent pastures should be checked for burdock and similar weeds. If the sheep come in contact with burrs and other foreign material, their wool will be burry and seedy. This type of wool is discounted on the market.

Come see this Stunning New Buick SPECIAL—big in room, big in valve-in-head straight-8 power, easy to manage in size and price

Yes, we know it looks like a lot more money.
That stunning new front end — those graceful, tapering fenders — those bigger interiors and high-visibility windows add up to a car you'd expect to wear a pretty fancy price tag.

But come in and see for yourself how right we were when we said this new beauty was priced right down your alley.
Come try the comfort-patterned seats, handle this easily managed wheel, lift the hood and see the bonnet-filling valve-in-head straight-eight power plant you command, measure the shorter bumper-to-bumper length.

Then do a little hard-boiled matching-up of price tags.
In particular—compare this beauty with the sixes—and ask yourself why you should pay for straight-eight power and not get it.

You have, remember, three smart body types to choose from—the tidy, three-passenger Coupe shown here, a neat 2-door, six-passenger Sedan and a smart 4-door Sedan with the roomiest interiors ever found in a Buick SPECIAL.
They're going fast, as you might expect. Getting a firm order in is a smart move just to insure early delivery.

How about dropping in—the first minute you can?

Mast Birthday...

tedious trip back to the store, Miss Mast would give the forgotten items to another customer who, she knew, would see the one who forgot at the Sunday morning church services. Thus, she said, wallpaper was often delivered at Sunday morning church services, sometimes before those who purchased it had even discovered they had forgotten to pick up part of their order at the store the day before.

Her home in Chelsea, for many years, was in the house now remodeled and occupied by Herschel Watts at 133 West Middle street. The house was built by her parents, John George and Louisa B. Mast, in 1879. While the house was being built the family resided in a house that then stood where the Michigan Bell Telephone building is now located. The elder Masts, following their marriage, lived for a time on South Main street, and it was there that Miss Mast was born on Aug. 7, 1866.

Miss Mast had one brother, George, and a sister, Minnie. George, and a sister, Minnie, had been dead for a number of years and are buried in the family plot in Oak Grove cemetery. Her closest surviving relatives are several cousins, including Mrs. William Schiller, who lives about ten miles east of Chelsea. She also has a number of more distant relatives, some of whom reside in Detroit and often go to visit her at the home.

fic accidents last year," says Halsey.

Does your community need a hospital? The Federal government will pay one-third of the cost of construction, providing the local community raises the other two-thirds. This aid is limited to about $11 million dollars for Michigan.

Hugh J. McQuirk, Wisnawski, appointed director of the state office of hospital survey and construction, reports that seven projects are now under way and three more will break ground next fall. The ten hospitals and hospital additions will add 1,000 beds to Michigan's facilities.

Duane Gentner Victim of Light Polio Attack

Duane Gentner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gentner, 262 Harrison street, was reported on Wednesday to be the second case of polio in the Chelsea area and the sixteenth in the county. His mother announced a mild case on Tuesday by the attending physician and it was thought hospitalization would not be necessary unless he became worse, his mother stated.

The case was verified by the Washtenaw County Health department office Wednesday morning, at which time it was stated two new cases had been reported on Tuesday in Ann Arbor. No other county cases were reported on Tuesday, it was said.

Duane is a junior at Chelsea high school and had begun football practice in preparation for the fall season. His mother said, at present, his mother said, was that his illness might prevent his playing this year.

Competition in the finals consisted of 32 acts, made up of dancers, pianists and other musical numbers, presented by contestants from Monroe, Lenawee, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Golf Tourney

The Foster brothers continued to prove they are the men to beat for the Chelsea Golf championship. Dud seems to be outshining his older but more consistent brother Bob, by blasting Al. Kaiser 6-5 and then beating highly favored K. McManis 7-5. In this round he had three birdies in the first nine holes to really take the wind out of McManis' sails. His next opponent will be the winner of the Pat Brazil-Joe Policht match.

Bob played his usual good golf by downing a very tough competitor, B. Barlow, 3-2. He will play the winner of the C. Rowe-N. Phelps match next.

Claire Rowe had a very exciting match with J. Miller last week. He was five holes up on Miller with six to play when Miller really got hot to win numbers 13, 15 and 16 before driving his ball into the gulley on number 17 to lose 8-1.

The first flight has finally got underway and here are some of the results:

Reid won over B. McClanahan, 20 holes, 1 up.

Daniels won over A. White, 3-2.

Evans won over Lawrence 3-2.

Because of illness, Ed. Miller, Sr., had to forfeit to D. Kolb.

Matches now in progress are Reid and Daniels, Devine and Evans, Kolb and Colquhoun, and Hale against the winner of the Eisenberger-Hoppe match.

The championship consolation flight will have Tuttle vs. J. W. Hale; J. Miller vs. Hopper; Burnett vs. Kaiser; and Dave Colquhoun vs. Ludtke.

Junior Baseballers

Are Again Victors

Chelsea's junior baseball team entered in the Junior Tri-County league and sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis club, won from Grass Lake, 28-3, Tuesday night under lights at the local athletic field. The game had been postponed from Saturday.

This victory is Chelsea's eighth consecutive win and totals their nine winning games for this season with no defeats.

Chelsea made 28 runs, 16 hits, and no errors. Grass Lake made 3 runs, hits, and 7 errors.

Bruce Hoffman and Phil Bareis pitched for Chelsea, with Bareis getting credit for the victory. Each struck out five batters. Grass Lake pitchers were Brown and Studly.

Hits were made by Phil Bareis (9), Denny Murphy (3), Alfred Knickerbocker (3), Neil Buehler (2), Bill Clark (2), Bob DeFoni (1), Bruce Hoffman (1), "Skip" Wheeler (1), and Richard Bareis (1). Players other than those making hits were Mike Murphy, M. Stapish and Freddy Petch.

A home run was hit by Alfred Knickerbocker with two runners on base; a triple was hit by Bill Clark; doubles by Neil Buehler and Bill Clark. Alfred Knickerbocker pulled himself out of a 10 strikeout batting slump.

Mike Murphy played his first game, stealing five bases. Chelsea had a total of 19 stolen bases.

The line-up was shifted with two of the regular players gone. Roy Petch was absent for this game, and Larry Hulce has ended his vacation in Chelsea and returned to his home in Rosecommon.

Murphy played second, and Buehler, shortstop, Knickerbocker playing third base.

Coaches for the game were Maurice Hoffman and Paul "Jerry" Nicholas. Maurice Hoffman is also the manager. Paul Hoffman acted as umpire.

This Saturday Chelsea goes to Manchester to play their team.

No Developments in Road-Closing Case

There have been no new developments in the situation regarding the proposed closing of six roads in the John Hanna project southwest of Chelsea, according to spokesmen in the County Road Commission office yesterday.

Friday, Aug. 26, at 2 p.m., a meeting is scheduled in the Red school on Manchester road to give interested persons in the area an opportunity to be heard on the subject. The hearing date was set by the Board of County Road Commissioners following receipt of a petition on July 29 requesting the closing of Decker, Prichard, Burtis and Warthley roads and part of Heim road.

Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, superintendent of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, has stated that if no objections are offered by persons who might be affected, the roads may be legally closed.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Young spent Thursday in Detroit, their daughter, Cynthia, remaining for a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCarthy, until Sunday. The McCartys, with their daughter, Connie, accompanied Cynthia home on Sunday and spent the day here with the Youngs.
