Michigan MIRROR

by Gene Aileman

Has your home-town attracted new industries since V-J Day?

Many small towns in Michigan have.

Any traveler in Michigan who visits small towns is instantly impressed with this fact. Industrial decentralization—that $20 a week for the splitting up of big business into little business—is putting new payrolls and pep into many Michigan communities of less than 10,000 population.

Even Henry Ford II has conceded that the River Rouge plant, soon to be the stage for another costly and wasteful strike, has become too big to be run efficiently.

The snarl of city traffic does not help either. City life isn't what it's cracked up to be for both the manufacturer and the worker. Hence, the continuing trend of industry into small cities and towns.

A "Michigan Mirror" survey of these spot examples of Michigan small towns which have attracted new industries since the war:

Grand Rapids—$80,000 branch plant of the Coleman Canning Company of Coleman, Wisconsin. From 150 to 200 persons will be employed during season.

Allegan—Globe Milling Company, manufacturers of under-reaming, employing 80 persons for a $1200 weekly payroll.

Grand Rapids—Packing Material Company, making cartons and mounts for refrigerators and stoves. (Union demands for same wage scale as Detroit and Flint have resulted in plant shutdown at frequent intervals.)

Blissfield—Blissfield Manufacturing Company, employing 33 persons, makes refrigerator units.

St. Ignace—Paul Bunyan Company and Barrett Logging Company, manufacturers of FFA-approved half-log pre-cut or pre-laminated homes and producers of lumber and logs, kiln dried.

Baylond—Standard Products Company—employs 55 men and women with $3,000 weekly payroll.

Port Clinton, Ohio—The firm makes door channels for General Motors and other automobile manufacturers.

Clare—Clare Manufacturing Company, home industry which makes a sub-assembly for Ford Motor Company. Payroll for 200 to 400 persons.

Cedar Springs—The "Red Flannel Town" has a new industry, Rockcraft Inc., which moved from Grand Rapids and makes high grade wooden blocks and toy developments. Payroll for 30 persons.

St. Johns—Sealed Power Corporation with 200 employees makes piston rings. Division of Muskegon Plant. Also, Federal-Mogul Corporation, also with 200 workers, division of a Detroit plant.

Harville—A group of businessmen of Harville formed the Industrial Development association and bought five acres of land within the city limits. Building was leased to Erb & Marshall of Harville, makers of "Kenwood" women's work by Jan. 1.

Sturgis—Six new industries furnish employment for 270 persons and $12,150 weekly payroll; Grava-Flow Company, plumbing equipment; Sanitor Company, rest room equipment; Sturgis Carton Company, packing cartons; Sturgis Foundry Company, auto parts; Universal Diesel Company, diesel engine parts, and M & R Dietrich Laboratories, Inc., processed milk foods. M & R is branch of Columbus, Ohio, concern. Others are independent.

Newberry—Atlas Plywood Company, employing 120; Flint River Lumber Co., employing 40. Both are branch firms.

Michigan—Here is one of the top industrial towns in point of new industries. Listen to this: Six new industries furnish employment for approximately 500 persons; 150 new homes built during past 18 months. Municipally owned baseball, softball, football park rebuilt and lighted. Village built free. Six new business buildings in past two years.

The firms: Standard Coll Producers, radio parts manufacturer; branch of Chicago firm; Du-Wel metal products from Chicago (employs 80 men); Bangor Plas-

Face Webberville in Division Play-offs Starting Sunday

As the curtain rang down on the regular schedule of the Tri-County Baseball League it found the snarl of city traffic do not help either. City life isn't what it's cracked up to be for both the manufacturer and the worker. Hence, the continuing trend of industry into small cities and towns.

The attention is now drawn to the league play-offs between Chelsea and Webberville, starting Sunday, Sept. 4. Chelsea sports a team batting average of .317 to Webberville's .240, but Webberville has won four extra-inning hits and seven of their twelve wins have been by one run.

Bernard Andrews and Roy West are the mainstays of the Webberville pitching staff, while Chelsea lost their ace left-hander when "Lefty" Barth pulled a muscle in his arm.

The burden of the three-game series will fall on the shoulders of big Blane McClanahan, who has had an in-and-out season, and Ed Miller, a regular outfielder who manager Bill Beeman uses in relief.

Blissfield—Blissfield Manufacturing Company, employing 33 persons, makes refrigerator units.

St. Ignace—Paul Bunyan Company and Barrett Logging Company, manufacturers of FFA-approved half-log pre-cut or pre-laminated homes and producers of lumber and logs, kiln dried.

Baylond—Standard Products Company—employs 55 men and women with $3,000 weekly payroll.

AN EXPECTANT HUSH fell over the crowd gathered at the Merkel schoolhouse Friday afternoon, when Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, superintendent-manager of the County Road Commission, began to read a petition objecting to closing approximately six miles of roads in the Hanna "mystery project" area. The petition, presented at a public hearing called by the Road Commission for such a purpose, was presented by Dr. E. F. Baker of Helm road (seated on the step at right foreground), and contained the signatures of 60 residents of the nearby area. James Hendley, a member of the Board of Road Commissioners, is seated in the background, behind Mr. Hallenbeck, who acted as clerk.

Hearing Fails To Give Clue

Although it had been stated that no disclosures as to the proposed use of the land in the "Hanna Mystery" project were expected to be made at Friday's hearing, many who attended the meeting nevertheless had hoped that some inkling might be given. That they were disappointed in this respect was evident in discussions which took place on the school grounds at Prichard and Manchester roads where the meeting was held, following adjournment of the hearing. Speculations as to the future use of the land included those which had been circulating in the community the past two years, ranging from the rumor that it was to be a Chrysler corporation proving grounds, to the surmise that the hills running through the center part of the area would make an ideal spot for a nudist camp.

A few new rumors were quickly circulated through the remaining crowd when one man was heard to say "a woman just told me that it's pretty straight that General Motors is going to build a diesel plant on the project."

However, two points did come out in the hearing which may indicate or eliminate certain possible uses for the land. Fred Broesamie, Sylvan township supervisor, stated Hanna had assured him that the project will be accessible and the land will remain on the tax rolls.

It was also disclosed that the Chelsea Board of Education had been informed by Hanna to "forget about them as far as the schools are concerned," in answer to their concern.

Kiwanis Softball Team Wins State Title for 2nd Year

Scoring five runs in the first inning, six in the fourth, one in the sixth and adding another six in the seventh, the Chelsea Kiwanis softball team made short work of the St. Clair team for their victory.

Every member of the Chelsea team scored at least once and one at least one hit, as all the boys had their batting eyes sharpened.

Willard Guest had five hits, Kohnman four, and Lancaster; McLaughlin and Schneider three each. One of Schneider's was a triple with the bases loaded in the first inning to give the local club an early lead which they never lost. D. Alber had a home run for the winners.

W. Grossman, on the mound, pitched a steady game and was tough with men on bases.

Chelsea members making the trip were as follows: A. Nelson, J. Kusch, J. Niehaus, P. Sharrard, H. T. Moore, R. A. McLaughlin, K. Runciman, W. Guest, D. Alber, J. Alber, C. Schneider, C. Lancaster, V. Kohnman, and W. Grossman.

Bill Rademacher was the scorekeeper and Buddy Guest the bat boy.

A large crowd from Chelsea attended the game, after which the Chelsea Kiwanis members, their wives and friends, attended a very nice lunch as hosts of the St. Clair club.

Tri-County All-Stars Play at Fowlerville

The Western Division All-Stars continued to dominate the Eastern All-Stars as the Western won the fourth annual Tri-County Baseball league All-Star game 5-3. The game was played Friday night under the lights at Fowlerville with a capacity crowd filling every nook of the spacious stadium.

The Eastern team, under the guidance of Bill Beaman of Chelsea, started out with determination as they scored once in the second inning on Doug King's walk and Glenn Bolars' double. The Eastern made a 2-2 tie in the third on a hit batsman, base on balls and a long fly by Bill DenHouter.

The Western Stars came back to take the lead 3-2 in the fifth on singles by Ed Dunkel of Webberville and Allen Elliot of Fowlerville, and three costly errors by the Eastern infield. The Western scored the winning run in the seventh while the Eastern added one off Bob Price of Stockbridge, in the seventh.

Elliot and Price proved to be the outstanding stars of the Western Division with their classy hitting, with Doug King of Ann Arbor and Glenn Bolars of Michigan Center, swinging a big stick for the Eastern with a double and a single each. DenHouter pitched the first three innings for the Eastern and was very effective.

Mrs. Robert Clark was the former Margaret Mary Quiatt before her marriage Aug. 20 to Mr. Clark of Royal Oak. The couple will reside in Ann Arbor.

Margaret Mary Quiatt Weds Robert Clark in Salem Grove Church

Tall baskets of white gladioli banked the altar at Salem Grove church Saturday afternoon, Aug. 20, for the wedding which united Mary Margaret Quiatt of Francisco, and Robert Newhall Clark of Royal Oak.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Engle Quiatt of Francisco and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Clark of Royal Oak.

The Rev. Vern Panzer officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Earl Watch played traditional wedding music. Preceding the ceremony Walter Kalmbach sang "Ave Maria," accompanied by Miss Phyllis Kalmbach.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white figured organ-dress-over-taffeta with a fitted bodice and puff sleeves, and which featured a round neckline accented with a single strand of pearls. The full skirt had three tiers with inserts of embroidered evening tulle in short train. The finger veil fell from a crown of embroidered eyelet. Her bouquet was of white carnations, stephanotis and ivy.

The bride's sister, Virginia, was maid of honor. She chose a pink bridesmaid was Miss Doris Clark, a sister of the bridegroom. She selected a matching aqua gown. They carried harmonizing colonial bouquets of carnations, rosebuds, daphniums, and ivy, and wore colonial hats.

The groom's brother, Charles Clark, was best man. The ushers were Duane Quiatt, brother of the bride, and Keith Heiss of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Quiatt, the bride's mother, wore a gray sheer dress with white accessories and a corsage of salmon rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Clark, wore a black and white dress with matching accessories, and a corsage of white gladioli.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the Quiatt home. Miss Cecilia Clift of Indianapolis, cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Taylor Davis, Miss Eunice Schweinfurth, and Miss Rosemarie Clift served.

For their wedding trip to Crystal Lake and the upper peninsula, Mrs. Clark chose a white suit with green accessories with a corsage from the bridal bouquet. On their return, the Clarks will reside at 518 West Summit street, Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Clark is a graduate of Stambaugh High school and the University of Michigan and will teach in Milan this coming year. Mr. Clark is a senior at the university and is a graduate of Royal Oak High school.

Out-of-town guests were from Boston; Washington, D. C.; Rockford, Ill.; Indianapolis, Ind.; and St. Louis, Mich.

Miscellaneous showers for Mary Margaret were given by Miss Cecilia Clift and the WSCS of Salem Grove church. A pantry shower was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Clark, and a personal shower was given in Detroit. A stag party was given Robert Clark in Detroit on Thursday evening.

The Quiatts served a buffet supper after the reception for the Clarks, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. House and son Lynn, of St. Louis, Mich.

Rita Gross, R. Parsons Exchange Vows Sat., at St. Paul's Church

Rita Marie Gross, daughter of Mrs. Ella Gross, and Raymond Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Parsons, exchanged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony performed in St. Paul's church here at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Rev. P. H. Grabowski, officiated in the presence of members of the immediate families of the couple.

The bride wore a champagne-colored street-length dress of satin. The V-neck was finished with a rolled collar and the skirt was a full-gathered style. Her accessories were brown and she wore a corsage of Johanna Hill roses which she later pinned to her traveling costume, a two-piece white linen dress with brown accessories.

Mrs. Gaylord Green, of Ann Arbor, a sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. Her street-length dress of pink satin was styled like the bride's. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of roses.

Gaylord Green, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, was best man.

Following a week's trip in the northern part of the state, the couple will reside at 620 North Lima Center road.

The bride is a 1948 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed at Vokar Corporation in Dexter.

The bridegroom received his diploma from Chelsea High school in 1946 following two years' service in the U. S. Navy. He is now employed at the Yellow Cab company, in Ann Arbor.

WSCS Will Hold First Meeting of Season Next Wednesday Eve.

The first meeting and luncheon of the 1949-50 season of the WSCS of the Methodist church will be held at the Methodist social center, Sept. 7. The luncheon will be prepared and served by the afternoon group of the Philathea Circle.

 THANK YOU
 On behalf of all those who took part in the County 4-H Fair at Ann Arbor last week, I wish to express my sincere thanks to Clarence Trinkle, Klump, Bob Lantis and Percy Bureau for their donations of loads of gravel which they delivered to the fairgrounds. Without the gravel covering it would have been impossible to use the grounds and the fair would not have been the grand success it was.
 Everett Van Ripper.

tics, branch of Benton Harbor firm; Howard Engineering Co., from Otsego; Well-Made Garment Company, feeder branch of Chicago main factory.
 "If your town is not attracting new industry, we recommend you visit Bangor and see for yourself! These are a few examples of industrial progress in Michigan small towns.
 Other illustrations will appear in the "Michigan Mirror" here next week.
 Industry is not moving to Michigan Main street—rural communities under 10,000 population—for sentimental reasons.
 When a branch of a city manufacturing concern or a new, locally-financed industry decides to locate in a country town, the reasons are invariably based on sound economics. A stable labor supply, preferably tied to the community by worker-owned homes, is a key factor. Transportation is another. Availability of water, electricity and plant facilities are other essentials.
 Such are the conclusions of C. M. Dwight Wood, chief of the area development division, state department of economic development, and also Don Weeks, chief of the industrial development division of this agency.
 This state department, created during Governor Kim Sigler's administration, has been working with local communities for industrial surveys. A total of 175 cities in the lower peninsula are so operating. Thirty-seven industrial area surveys have been completed in the upper peninsula where 11 new industries have been already attracted.
 The principle of "self-help" is emphasized by the state department which serves only as a clearing house for efforts of Michigan communities to get new industries. An illustrated brochure was prepared recently by Yale (Michigan) Chamber of Commerce. The caption evoked much discussion. "Move here and Escape Atomic Bomb," featured the invitation.
 A "Michigan Mirror" survey has produced a variety of interesting evidence showing how many Michigan small towns have prospered through local leadership in attracting new industries. Here is another installment of examples, and a third column appears to be needed for our complete report.

 Big Rapids—Wolverine Shoe and Tanning Corporation, underwritten by local persons.

Enjoyable Tea Given for St. Mary's Sisters

Because of rain, the shower and tea given for the Sisters of St. Mary's parish by ladies of the church Tuesday afternoon was held in the assembly room of St. Mary's school. It had been planned for a party on the lawn at the Sisters' home. The shower gifts included a bountiful array of staples to stock the pantry shelves for the Sisters for some time.
 Tea was served from a tastefully appointed table centered with a low bowl of roses.
 Committee members said the shower was very well attended and proved to be a very enjoyable affair.

LABOR DAY

Parade in 1882 Was Beginning Of Labor Day

HISTORIANS divide the credit for the origin of Labor Day between two labor unions—the Central Labor Union of New York and the old Knights of Labor. Both were in existence in New York in the spring of 1882.

On May 18 of that year at a meeting of the former, delegate Peter J. McGuire moved that "a day should be set aside as a festive day during which a parade through the streets of the city would permit a public tribute to American industry."

On September 5 a demonstration took place with about 30,000 workers parading through Manhattan. A similar celebration was held the following year. In 1884 the Knights of Labor adopted a resolution declaring the first Monday in September to be Labor Day.

Various state legislatures enacted legislation creating the holiday within their state boundaries. Oregon, New Jersey, Colorado and New York passed acts in 1887. Other states followed. In 1894, congress made Labor Day a legal holiday in the District of Columbia and for all federal employees.

States whose legislatures have failed to set aside the holiday observe the day through proclamation by the governor. Labor Day is also a legal holiday in Hawaii, Alaska and several Canadian provinces. Europeans observe the holiday on the first of May as May Day.

Cows Need Some Hay Even Though on Good Pasture

Cows need hay while on pasture says W. W. Snyder, dairyman at State college.

At two times during the year the need for hay is especially great: when pastures are short in hot summer months, and when pastures are just coming in.

Scanty pasture during August will mean lower milk production, Snyder advises. Feeding hay will help hold up production. Heavy grain feeding will help but is expensive.

The dairyman reports that dairy cows may graze a full eight hours on "poor" pasture trying to find enough to eat and yet only get one-half or one-third filled. On good pasture cows will need to graze about five to six hours. Small Jerseys will eat about 30 pounds and large Holsteins about 150 pounds.

It pays to feed hay even when cows are on very good young pasture, Snyder says. Such pasture stimulates milk production but is high in water and lower in dry matter. The hay will add dry matter and the cows will maintain their body weight.

Plant Legumes on Wheat Land, MSC Expert Recommends

Farmers who are finding their wheat acreage allotment much below the acre they intended to plant to wheat this fall may find it an appropriate time to make a legume seeding. Carter M. Harrison, farm crops specialist at Michigan State college, says early August is the best time to plant to get a good stand of legumes in normal years.

Ground which was being prepared for wheat seeding this fall but which cannot now be planted because of allotment regulations, can easily be prepared for a good alfalfa seedbed, Harrison reports. A good, firm seedbed is required for an alfalfa-brome seeding. Harrison advises that the soil be tested for lime needs and that lime, if needed, be applied at once and worked in ahead of seeding time.

The best recommended seeding Standard Want Ads Bring Results.

practice is applying the fertilizer in one operation and the seeds in another. Fertilizer needs to go deep—at least three or four inches beneath the surface. About 400 pounds of 0-20-20 fertilizer for the average soils is recommended for a legume seeding.

In the seeding operations, eight pounds of good adapted alfalfa seed and four pounds of brome grass seed to the acre is adequate, Harrison suggests. Mixing the brome grass seed with about a half-bushel of oats to get better coverage. All seeds can be planted on top of the ground if the seeder is followed by a cultipacker. It is very necessary that the alfalfa go on the surface as the tiny seeds will not germinate if they get too deep into the soil.

Early August seedings usually get well established when early fall rains come and are not troubled with weed competition like spring seedings of legumes, Harrison pointed out.

Custom Rates Are Listed for Silo Filling

Custom work these days is a common thing with a large amount of silo filling by field chopping of grain, and stationary silo filling equipment.

To find the most common charges for this work, B. R. Bookhout and R. W. Christian, Michigan State college agricultural economists, queried a group of Michigan farmers about prices charged. The custom rates for filling silos with field chopping equipment were mostly on an hourly basis, varying with the amount of equipment furnished by the custom operator. When the field chopper and blower, one tractor and two wagons were furnished, the usual charge was $8 per hour. Addition of another tractor, wagon, and an extra man brought the usual charge to $10 per hour. Farmers furnishing trucks and drivers for hauling charged from $10 to $12 per hour.

Some farmers with field choppers reported separate charges for the equipment used in the field and the equipment at the silo. Usual rates were $6.50 per hour for the field work and $1 to $2 per foot of silage, depending on silo diameter.

Common rates for cutting corn with a binder with or without bundle loaders was $4 per acre. On an hourly basis, the usual charge without bundle loader was $3.50 per hour. With a bundle loader, it was $5 per hour.

Custom rates for filling silos with stationary equipment was reported commonly as $4 per hour. On the basis of height of silage in the silo, farmers charged 75 cents per foot in 10 foot silos, and $1 per foot for 12 or 14 foot silos.

Artificial Breeders Buy Top-Ranking Holstein Sire

One of the nation's outstanding Holstein bulls has become the seventh sire in the Michigan Artificial Breeders' Cooperative stud at East Lansing.

Rainbow Captain Bold is the proven sire purchased recently by the cooperative's Holstein committee from Robin Carr, Holstein breeder at Fowlerville. The bull was grand champion at the Michigan State Fair in 1947 and 17 of his daughters have completed tests showing an average production of 582 pounds of butterfat. This month this bull became the eighty-fifth in the nation to be awarded the Holstein - Friesian Silver Medal Production award by the national association. The highest producer among his daughters made 650.2 pounds of butterfat. "This bull, which will serve 100 to 150 Michigan dairy cows each week through artificial means, will allow a thousand grade or cull bulls in Michigan to be discarded," A. C. Baltzer, Michigan State college dairyman said.

Kermit Carey, Flint; Doug Piereson, Goodrich; Harold Wilson, Holt and Merrill Irwin, Perrinton, made up the Holstein committee of the ABA that completed arrangements for purchase of the bull. Rainbow Captain Bold's services will be available to members of the 141 local artificial breeding cooperatives in 70 Michigan counties. He is being housed in the barn constructed by the cooperative on land leased from Michigan State college on the college farm near East Lansing.

THIS is MICHIGAN

(Following are excerpts from a series of broadcasts entitled "This is Michigan", sponsored by the Michigan Department of Economic Development. The scripts are written by Nancy Black, in charge of radio for the department, and produced by Larry Frimlie, program director of WKAR. Fifteen Michigan radio stations are carrying this series.)

Machines with "brains" now are manufactured in Michigan!

A sickly, overworked bookkeeper invented these machines. His name was William Seward Burroughs. This man spent a lifetime working with the little box with buttons that can figure columns of figures in a split second. And . . . after establishing himself as an expert in the industry it was moved to Michigan.

Forty-five years ago . . . 1904 . . . the same year the Ford Motor Company was organized, an entire industry with 450 people and equipment, the Burroughs-Adding Machine company, moved from Missouri to Michigan.

At the turn of the century Burroughs was expanding rapidly and was experiencing some difficulty in keeping up with the demand for its products. It manufactured adding machines in which the skill of the employee played a large part.

Detroit, the new industrial metropolis of the Midwest had, as Michigan has today, a large pool of skilled workers. Burroughs needed these skills and so to minimize its growing pains moved to Michigan!

Since its move in 1904 the company has grown steadily, grown and prospered with the state. Originally employing 200, today there are more than 8,500 in their Michigan plants and offices. The major expansion of the company has been within the state and today has close to 1,000,000 square feet of manufacturing area.

Last year Burroughs paid to Michigan citizens, its workers, $40,400,000 in wages and toward the efficient running of state, county and local governments $1,156,410 in taxes.

The sickly overworked bookkeeper, William Seward Burroughs could be proud today of his idea that better accounting jobs can be done more easily by mechanical means than by hand. For from it has grown this thriving Michigan industry. Now these highly specialized machines are manufactured in Michigan where this company was moved to enjoy our tremendous industrial location advantages.

Yes . . . this is Michigan!

Doctor Advises on Hot Weather Tips

Slow down a bit and take it easy when you can, for hot weather health and comfort and for reducing the chances of heat exhaustion and sunstroke, is the prescription of Dr. Donald B. Armstrong, in charge of the health and welfare activities of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

"Getting heated up inside by strenuous exercise or violent emotion when the temperature is soaring outside is not good medicine," he warns.

Here are other tips from Dr. Armstrong on keeping up to par on sweltering days:

Keep your head covered in direct sunlight, particularly between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Wear light, loose clothing.

Drink plenty of cool water, as much as you want.

Take showers or tub baths more frequently than usual.

Eat a variety of foods, but avoid heavy meals.

Get enough sleep and rest.

BUILDING PERMITS
The following permits for new home construction were issued by the Division of Building Inspection office, Ann Arbor, during the period of Aug. 17-24:

Frank L. Brown, Manchester; Manchester-11, North of 12634 S. Macomb road; $8,000.

Total value of repairs and alterations authorized during the same period amounted to $7,500.

Winter Road Travel
Costly in Olden Days

Ann Arbor—Highway load limits during spring break-ups are a far cry from the restrictions imposed all winter on an English turnpike in 1808.

Prof. Roger Morrison, curator of the University of Michigan's Transportation Library, has just located a hand-written table of tolls for the Darlington-West Auckland turnpike, dated April 30, 1808.

There were no load limits between "the 1st of Oct. and the 1st of March" the tolls were doubled on "every wagon, wain, cart or other carriage, laden with coals or other goods."

Chelsea Firemen Enroll in Special Training Program

A state-supervised training program for members of the Chelsea fire department is to begin here on Wednesday evening, Sept. 7. All of Chelsea's 17 firemen are voluntarily taking part and will complete the 80-hour course by the end of the month. If these tests show satisfactory results the state will reimburse the village for between 40 and 50 per cent of the $120 cost of the training program. Fire Chief Thomas Young stated.

Assistant Fire Chief Ray Howard, of the Jackson Fire department, will be the instructor. A member of the Jackson department for 25 years and in charge of the rescue squad in Jackson for 14 years, he is considered well qualified to give the course of training in all phases of firefighting. His work on the rescue squad makes him especially valuable in training local firemen in first aid work and operation of Chelsea's recently acquired resuscitator.

Because of the Jackson man's working schedule the training program will be held one week on Wednesday night and the next on Thursday night, throughout the entire period.

Hanna Fails To Tell Possible Use of His Sylvan 'Mystery' Land

request for information in helping to plan school needs.

More than a hundred men and women attended the hearing which was called by the County Road Commission following receipt of a petition signed by John Hanna and his wife and 17 residents of Sylvan township, requesting the closing of five roads in the project area. Roads which Hanna seeks to have closed are Deckert, Warkley, Pritchard, Burtis, and part of Heim road.

George Gill, chairman of the Board of County Road Commissioners, presided at Friday's hearing, with K. L. Hallenbeck, superintendent-manager, acting as clerk. James C. Hendley, vice-chairman, and H. L. Frisinger, member of the Board, were also present.

The petition requesting closing of the roads was read. The clerk, but the names of signers were not included in the reading. Also read was an opposition petition, presented at the hearing by Dr. H. B. Baker, of Heim road, and at his request, the names of the 60 signers were also read. The petition included the statement that "if the project were for a worthy and beneficial purpose we should have known it long ago." It also mentioned "keeping the public blindfolded and in ignorance" of the purpose for which the land was to be used.

Hanna's answer to requests from the group that he say something, was that it was the Road Commission's hearing and he would wait for the Board's meeting to make his statements.

John Keusch, local attorney, identifying himself to the Road Commission board as president of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea, a legal representative for the E. J. Foster company, owners of a 200-acre farm in the area, a portion of which was sold to Hanna, attorney for the Chelsea Agricultural School district, and a member of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, asked that all communications received by the Road Commission in opposition to the closing of the roads be read. These included communications from the Consumers Power company, the Chelsea Kiwanis club, Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, and Chelsea Agricultural School. Also read was a second letter from Consumers Power company, dated Aug. 10, withdrawing objections because of an agreement with Hanna in regard to servicing the company's lines through the project had been reached.

David Mohrlock, who is employed as patrolman of the Hanna project, voiced an objection in regard to the Chamber of Commerce communication, saying that he was a member of the C. of C. and that the communication had not been voted on by roll call at any meeting of the organization.

Speaking in favor of the closing of the roads as requested by Hanna, were Joe Merkel and Leo Merkel, both of whom had sold land in the area to Hanna. Joe Merkel stated that "90 per cent" of the 60 signers of the opposition petition didn't use the roads in question more than once a year. He said that on a day when he was at work on Deckert road, not a single car traveled the road through the entire day. George week disagreed with Merkel, saying that the roads through the project were in much better condition for travel than the Manchester road from US-12 to Prichard road. Harrison West, of Sylvan Center, also voiced his objection to the closing, saying he used the road three times a week on trips to Manchester.

Leo Merkel, saying he had lived on his Heim road farm more than 60 years, stated as his opinion that closing the roads would not really bother anyone and that the roads would be better closed with the area uninhabited.

Henry Dancer also spoke in favor of closing the roads.

John Keusch made a motion that 90 days be given for further consideration of closing the roads and that the matter be brought up at the next meeting. Hanna objected to the motion as the "biggest landowner and taxpayer in the township." His objection was quickly followed by a question from Roy Senecal to the Road Commission members, asking and receiving verification of his statement that "a man owning a thousand acres and a man owning only an acre of ground each has only one vote."

Quigley later asked about the disposition of Keusch's motion and was told by Gill that the matter of the motion must be left to the Road Commission members who will consider it and all other matters brought up at the hearing, when a decision on the road closing is made. A transcription was made of all the proceedings at the hearing which the Board will study in making a decision, Gill said.

Others who spoke in opposition to the closing of the roads were Harold Widmayer, Leon Ludwig and N. H. Miles, the latter two moving their opposition by saying that their objections to the proposal were contingent upon assurances that the project would be beneficial to the community and that other good roads would be provided. Hanna, at this point, said he could assure everyone that the project would merit the approval of the community.

Chairman Gill said that the Road Commission intends to take plenty of time to consider the matter of closing the roads.

Elmer Mayer, supervisor of Sharon township, and Fred Broesamle, Sylvan township supervisor, were asked if they wished to speak. Mayer said he was neither for or against the closing of the roads, but it was his understanding that Hanna had offered to help finance improvement of other roads. He also said that he has confidence in the County Road Commission and feels certain that members of the Commission will endeavor to reach a decision serving the best interests of the community.

Hendley spoke briefly, saying that the fundamental purpose of the meeting was to give people an opportunity to voice their opinions on the matter, and that these opinions will be considered by the Board when it meets to make its decision.

Supervisor Broesamle was asked by H. L. Frisinger if Sylvan township had ever considered the question of passing a zoning ordinance. Such an ordinance, he said, would provide control of the use of all land in the township, including the Hanna project.

The principle theme of all objections voiced at the hearing seemed to center on the secrecy so far maintained in regard to future use of the property and its probable effect on the surrounding community. T. B. Quigley, who sold his Deckert road farm to Hanna, said "Don't close the roads until they let us know what the land is for. They've been telling us for the last two years that we'd be told what the land was to be used for. What's to prevent them from putting off telling for ten years?"

Harold Widmayer, who had expressed his opposition to the closing of the roads earlier in the meeting, spoke again later, saying "Don't do anything hastily. Once the roads are closed, they'll be closed a long time. So why not take 90 days or six months, or as long as necessary now to look into the matter more thoroughly before any action is taken to close them?"

The Hanna project, comprising almost a third of Sylvan township and containing more than 3,000 acres of land, was purchased during the past two years by John Hanna, Detroit realtor, who has consistently refused to state for whom the land was purchased and for what purpose it is to be used. His stock answer to questions has been that the project will be an asset to the community. The petition requesting closing of the five roads in the area was presented to the County Road Commission on July 29. The date for Friday's hearing on the matter was set at that time.

Mack's Softball Team Loses in Semi-finals

McLaughlin Motors softball team found themselves on the outside looking in as they lost a heart-breaker to Keyer Laundry, 2 to 1, at Adrian last Wednesday in the semi-finals of the regional softball tournament.

Each team scored one run in the fourth and Keyer added the winning marker in the fifth on a disputed play at home, for their victory.

Bob Tobin pitched a beautiful one-hit game as his teammates collected four safeties off the offerings of the laundrymen's Dick Emmons.

In the championship game Friday, Ramsey-Canfield, also of Ann Arbor, defeated Keyer, 2 to 0, in a nine-inning game at Manchester. Thus, the Ramsey-Canfield team will represent this area in the state class C finals to be held at Lansing tomorrow and through the week-end.

Kroger

One difference between old tough meat—and young, tender pork is that the old ones sink and the young ones float in a salt-water solution. On the basis of that fact Kroger Food Foundation scientists have developed a highly accurate method of determining maturity and quality of pork. This test is one of many used by the Food Foundation to safeguard the quality of food sold in your Kroger Store.

Martin Eisele Dies Sunday Afternoon at His Home Here

Martin Eisele, a resident of this community for many years, died late Sunday afternoon at his home on Taylor street. Mr. Eisele had been in failing health for the past two years.

The oldest of a family of six sons and two daughters, Mr. Eisele was born in Hatten, Alsace, on Feb. 27, 1870. He came to the United States with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Eisele, Sr., when he was 14 years old. He was married to Regina Eder in Chelsea, Oct. 18, 1898. Except for a period of 17 years prior to 1930 when they lived on the farm now owned by the Farband camp, Mr. Eisele was employed as a stone mason. He helped with the stone work on the Chelsea State Bank and the building now occupied by Frigid Products.

Survivors are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Otis Titus, at the family home, and Mrs. R. E. Malone of Birmingham; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild; a brother, Albert, of Ann Arbor; a sister, Miss Anne Eisele, of Cleveland, Ohio, and a number of nieces and nephews.

The Rosary was recited at the Staffan Funeral Home Tuesday evening and funeral services were held at St. Mary's church, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Father Lee Laige officiated. Interment took place in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Potato's Relatives—The potato, a wholesome food in itself, is a close relative of poisonous plants such as henbane, deadly nightshade, and Jimson weed.

Mrs. Knickerbocker Dies of Heart Attack While on Social Call

Mrs. Harry Knickerbocker died very suddenly of a heart attack Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Beach where she and her daughter were making a call.

She was the former Alice Caroline Baldwin and was born at the farm home of her parents, Alvin and Vivian McDavid Baldwin, on Dexter road, Dec. 20, 1903. She was a graduate of Chelsea High school with the class of 1923, attended Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti for a year and taught school for three years at the Jewett-Stone school.

She and Mr. Knickerbocker were married April 11, 1924 at the home of her parents and they lived on the Sibley farm on Sibley road five years. They then moved to the Dexter road farm of her parents where they remained for nine years before moving to a farm south of Manchester. They moved from Manchester to the present home on Freer road in February, 1946.

Mrs. Knickerbocker was a member of the Congregational church, a member of the church choir and of the Mayflower Chapter of the Chelsea American Legion Auxiliary, the Limaneers, the Lima Center Home Extension Group, the Lima-Scio Farm Bureau, of which she was secretary, and the North Sylvan Grange.

Survivors are her husband and one daughter, Audrey Ann; her mother, Mrs. Vivian Baldwin; a brother, Ivan, and a niece and two nephews of Clinton. Her father died suddenly on May 28, 1938.

and garden have always been a matter of pride with him although his daughter has had to look after the work in recent years. He still does small jobs around the yard to keep himself occupied and spends much time in pleasant weather on his front porch. He uses a cane when he walks around the yard. Until about two years ago he walked from his home to the business district occasionally. He loves to have friends drop in for a visit and is interested in affairs of the day.

He was employed for many years on the old D.U.R. line and later worked on the roads. After he became older he helped out with greenhouse work at the Ravier greenhouse then located on what is now the Sorensen place on old US-12.

His daughter, Mrs. Henne, and granddaughter, Jean Marie, came to visit him on Sunday and brought him a beautifully decorated birthday cake. He has also been remembered with a number of birthday cards from relatives and friends.
