

Bridge Work Delayed by U. S. Agency

State Highway Dept. Still Promises Job Will Be Completed

Contacting the Michigan State Highway Department by telephone last Thursday, Village President M. W. McClure learned that the reason for the delay in beginning work on the proposed new bridge at the north end of Main street is that the Federal Bureau of Public Roads will not approve the location as proposed by the State Highway Department last summer. The Federal Bureau objects to the proposed location of the bridge on the grounds that the proposed location downstream, west of the present bridge, would not fit in with plans for a possible diagonal re-routing of M-92 to the northwest to meet the Workmen road intersection, the Highway department spokesmen told Mr. McClure.

Highway Department engineers are now working on compromise plans which, they hope, will meet with the approval of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads in time for work to begin on the bridge in the spring. The proposed new bridge will serve the new highway, it is said, when it is built, and for this reason must be erected in a location that would fit in with those future plans. Highway Department officials state.

Police Open Drive on Drunk Driving in Holiday Period

Chester police announced today that final arrangements have been completed for the intensive public educational program during the last two weeks of December to reduce the terrible toll of accidents due to drunk driving. The program, which has been held with the owners of bars and taverns within the area and they have agreed to support the program by placing a safety message on each table in their establishment. These will be in the form of a place card carrying the message "If You're Driving, Take It Easy."

At the request of the "Table Toppers," arrangements are being made to have an officer in uniform visit each establishment selling liquor by the glass. These calls will be made at least once during the last two hours before closing time each evening for the last two weeks of December, police stated.

The Michigan State Liquor Control Commission is placing 18,000 posters in all bars, taverns and pool-hall liquor stores, 17,000 of the smaller posters will be placed in each bar (two to a bar), and 1,000 large posters in retail stores. They carry the message "Drunk Drivers Lose Their Licenses."

Commenting on the urgent need for this program, Chelsea police pointed out that last December in Michigan, 18,657 accidents injured 3,061 persons and killed 106, of which 17 were killed during the last two weeks. They call upon all motorists to cooperate with the law enforcement agencies and the bar and tavern owners for a year with much less trouble than last year.

Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Brueckner were in Toledo on Monday. Mrs. Brueckner spent the day with their daughter, Mrs. Robert Warren, and family, while Rev. Brueckner attended an executive board meeting at the Orphans' and Old Folks' Home. The meeting was called to consider the building of a new home for the Orphans' building.

Letter to the Editor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was brought in to The Standard office by a long-time resident of Chelsea who, although he prefers to remain anonymous, wanted to let others know how he feels about Chelsea; his home town.)

Do you ever stop to think what a fine little town this is we live in? A really nice town. And so it is, with its well-kept homes and streets, fine stores—and speaking of stores, this observer has been "doing" the business places this past week, and has been amazed to see the wonderful stocks these enterprising merchants have assembled for your pleasure and to make your Christmas shopping easier for you. Stocks are remarkably well selected and displayed to an advantage. Cheaper too, than in larger towns, where overhead expenses are heavier. Why, then, spend the extra time and money to go out of town to shop when we can do so well at home?

Chester gives most of us our opportunities to earn our livelihood, why not do all we can for her? Here we have hardware and furniture stores, all nicely stocked; drug stores which carry fine cosmetics and other toilet articles; dry-goods stores, men's shops, appliance shops with all kinds of modern mechanical helps for home-work, and specialty shops where you get really good selections.

There are also jewelry and gift shops, and variety stores of the dime-to-a-dollar variety. And we have splendid food markets, stuffed with good things to eat. You'll find a shop or service to satisfy most every need.

With all these riches available, why should anyone wish to shop away from home. Let's keep our money and our influence and our business where it will do all the most good.

I like my town. I take an interest in it.

Do you?

A Loyal Chelsea Booster.

Telephone 'Extended Area' Service To Include Manchester on Toll-Free Basis

Final preparations now are being made by the Michigan Bell Telephone company for the inauguration of extended area telephone service between Chelsea and Manchester at exactly 12:01 a.m., Tuesday, Dec. 20, Nicholas J. Prackner, manager, announced today. At that time, the necessary equipment with which to operate the calling system between the two communities will be "put into operation." No special ceremony to mark the occasion has been arranged because of the time element, he said.

When the new service is introduced, customers in Chelsea will be able to make calls without toll charge to Manchester, as they can now make them to Ann Arbor under the extended area plan. Beginning at the same time, customers in Manchester will be able to call Chelsea without paying toll charges as they also can Ann Arbor.

Manchester is being added to Chelsea's flat rate calling area at no extra cost to subscribers in this community, Prackner said. Although the inauguration of extended area service between Chelsea and Manchester will enlarge Chelsea's calling area to a total of 17,454 telephones, the flat monthly telephone rates customers now pay will remain the same as those which went into effect last year. The flat toll charge now applying on calls from Chelsea to Manchester will be completely eliminated when the "cut-over" takes place. To make calls to Manchester, customers in Chelsea will dial the code 442, followed by the number of the telephone they wish to reach. To reach Chelsea, customers in Manchester will dial the code "6," followed by the number of the telephone they wish to reach.

Prackner has predicted that extended area telephone service between Chelsea and Manchester will be as popular as at other places in Michigan which already have received it. The company reports that the volume of traffic between exchanges connected by the plan increases from 200 to 700 per cent.

County Red Cross Commends Chelsea on Veterans' Xmas Gift Contributions

Mrs. G. H. England, vice-chairman of supply, of the Washtenaw county chapter of the American Red Cross told Mrs. Leigh Palmer, Chelsea Red Cross unit chairman, on Tuesday that the response to the appeal for gifts for veterans at Percy Jones hospital, in addition to the individual gifts and those given Tuesday night by the Chelsea Club Study club and the Women's Club of Chelsea, cash donations of $25 each were received from the following: Central Products Co., Chelsea Spring Co., Chelsea Milling Co., and Federal Screw Works. Mrs. England said Tuesday that she was purchasing suitable gifts that day with the cash so that they would be ready to turn in yesterday, the day which had been announced as the deadline date for these gifts.

The gathering of these gifts for veterans at Percy Jones hospital at Battle Creek, is an annual project of the Red Cross units in this area.

Their aim is that no veteran of World War I or II or casualties among draftees since the close of the war, now hospitalized at Percy Jones, should be forgotten on Christmas day.

The Community choir of Dexter, under the direction of Gilbert Vickers of the University of Michigan, will present their Christmas concert Monday, Dec. 19, in Copeland auditorium, at 8:15.

Extensive preparation has been made for the success of the holiday presentation. The selections are of a sacred nature and the choir is being trained by the director, A. Capella, work entirely without accompaniment. Outstanding solo work will be the feature of the evening.

The choir extends a special invitation to all Chelsea people who wish to attend.

Local Churches Plan Annual Christmas Programs, Beginning Next Sunday

The Congregational church and the Methodist church will have their Sunday school Christmas programs at the same hour next Sunday evening, Dec. 18. The programs in both churches will begin at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. At the Congregational church in the sanctuary will be a Christmas sing. This will be followed by a Christmas film in the church dining room. Refreshments will be served by the Dorcas Chapter. The program is for the children and their parents and friends. Afterwards, the Pilgrim Fellowship will hold its Christmas party.

At the Methodist church, all the departments of the church school will participate in the program and there will be a dedication of a White Gift. Representatives of a White Gift. Representatives of the Story Teller's League of Ann Arbor, will be present to tell stories, one of which will be the story of "The Littlest Angel." The junior choir of the church will make its first appearance at Sunday's program and will sing Christmas carols.

Later, there will be treats for the children and a visit from Santa Claus while the Wesleyan Circle will serve tea for the adults present. An invitation is being extended to all members and their families to attend the Christmas program and party.

At St. Paul's church, members of all departments of the Sunday school, assisted by Rev. P. H. Grabow, will take part in a candlelight program, "The Light of the Ages." The candlelight program will be preceded by a short program by the Beginners' department, under the direction of Wilma Paul, Peggy Schable and Helen Vail. The Beginners' department will also take part in the candlelight program.

The children of St. Mary's parish will enjoy a Christmas party in St. Mary's hall Thursday evening, Dec. 22. The party, which is being sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, will begin at 8 p.m. Movies are to be shown and Santa Claus is to appear with gifts for each child present.

Former Chelsea Boy Is Winner of Nobel Award

It is interesting to note that the University of California professor, Dr. William Francis Glauque, winner of this year's Nobel Prize for chemistry, lived in Chelsea when he was a boy and attended the Chelsea Public School. He lived here for several years while his father was freight agent for the Michigan Central railway, and he and Earle Schumacher, another local boy, now of Maplewood, N. J., who has made a reputation for himself at the Edison laboratories in New Jersey, were neighbors and playmates. While on a lecture tour to the west coast last spring, Mr. Schumacher spent some time with Dr. Glauque at his California home.

Frank, as Dr. Glauque was known here, is the oldest of a family of three children. He has a sister, Isabel, and a brother, Harry. With their parents, they lived in the house on South Main street now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mayer, while the Schumacher family lived in the house next door, where Mrs. Anna Kalmbach now resides. Members of the Glauque family moved from here to their former home at Niagara Falls, Canada, more than 35 years ago, friends of the family here said. The father died about that time. Dr. Glauque's mother is now living in California.

The Nobel Prize for chemistry was awarded Dr. Glauque (properly pronounced "Gloque") for his contributions in the field of thermodynamics. He is credited with figuring out a new method of cooling almost to the point of absolute zero, which authorities have calculated to be 459.688 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit. Dr. Glauque and his assistants have achieved a temperature of 459.644 F., using his now famous magnetic cooling method. A group of Dutch scientists, using his method, is reported to have reached a low of 459.681 F., while several other groups, all using Glauque's method, have reached a low of 459.681 F., while several other groups, all using Glauque's method, have reached a low of 459.681 F.

The studies of Glauque and his co-workers in the field of thermodynamics are said to have been instrumental in making longer wearing rubber, improved glass, better gasoline, stronger steel, etc., by providing basic information for industrial and scientific processes of manufacture.

The Nobel Prize which Dr. Glauque receives, includes a $50,000 cash award, family friends here report.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ahemiller are leaving this week for St. Petersburg, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

Sylvan Mystery Project Still Unsolved After Assurances that It Will Be 'Beneficial'

Hearing on Closing of Roads Fails To Disclose Any Plans

George Burke, prominent Ann Arbor attorney, represented John Hanna, self-described as the "absolute owner" of the "mystery project" land southwest of Chelsea, at the Washtenaw County Road Commission's hearing in the Sylvan Township Hall Friday afternoon. The hearing, adjourned the previous Friday because all of the Road Commission board members could not be present, was called to give people in the community an opportunity to be heard on the matter of closing the western end of Heim road as petitioned by a number of Sylvan township residents.

Saying, "I assure you the request is reasonable and should be granted," Burke continued that he did not like secrecy himself and wished he could tell everyone to what use the land would be put but that it was "top secret."

He did say, however, that the ultimate use of the land would not be inimical to the public good; that it was to be "utilitarian" and "to the public interest." He also said the project "will not be detrimental or contrary to the welfare of Sylvan township or its residents." When the question of the one of the former residents of the area who sold his farm to Hanna two years ago, said that "if the project is going to be such a good thing, why didn't they come out and tell it," and "how did people know whether they could rely on statements that the project would not be harmful," Burke said, "Most people take my word and you are going to have to take it now."

Burke had previously said the area was not to be used "for the United Nations, for the Vatican or for an atomic bomb project." At another point he said "it's not going to be a concentration camp." Leo Merkel spoke in favor of closing Heim road, which he said is very infrequently used. He said that during a 24-hour period recently not one car besides that of the mailman's had traveled over the road.

A letter from the Chelsea Agricultural Schools superintendent, Albert C. Johnson, opposing the closing of Heim road, was read into the record, and John Keusch, local attorney, representing the Board of Education of the district, verbally entered his client's objections. The objections were based on the ground that the Board of Education would have no access to the district's property (the Merkel school on Heim road) if the road were closed. The Merkel school became part of the Chelsea Agricultural Schools school district when reorganization of the district took place almost three years ago. Keusch said the Chelsea Agricultural Schools Board of Education was opposed to the road closing at this time and would remain opposed unless it were demonstrated that closing the road was for a need greater than the question of Burke's brought out the fact that the school is not now in use and that at one time it was offered for sale. Keusch answered that the school was not now on the market and that it was necessary to keep the school in reserve for possible use until a new school is built in Chelsea. Three of six rural schools in the district are now in operation, Keusch said.

Keusch also entered objections to the closing of Heim, Burtis and Pritchard roads on behalf of another client, the E. J. Foster estate, saying these roads were needed for marketing and other activities connected with operation of the estate's Sylvan road farm.

At the hearing, Henry Heim, a resident of Heim road, presented to the Road Commission a petition opposed to the closing of the five roads which John Hanna and his wife and 17 Sylvan township residents had petitioned the Road Commission to close last summer. The petition Heim presented in opposition bore 214 signatures of residents of Sylvan and Sharon townships. A hearing on the question of closing the five roads was held on Aug. 26, at the Red school on Manchester road at Pritchard road. The five roads in question are Heim road (with the exception of the portion mentioned in the recent petition), Burtis, Warthley, Pritchard and Decker roads.

James Hendley, vice-chairman of the Washtenaw County Board of Road Commissioners, questioned everyone who spoke at the hearing in opposition to the closing of the roads. He made it a point to bring out whether the speaker used the road in question and, if so, how often. This gave listeners the impression that the Road Commission might base its opinion in regard to closing the roads on use or non-use of the roads rather than concern itself with possible use of the land adjoining the roads.

John Brooks, Jr., Manchester road farmer, asked for an explanation of the $40,000 offered by Hanna to the Road Commission if the roads were closed.

Hanna said it was to help replace the roads which would be closed. He said no roads could be closed, but it was planned to build a road "on our own section" and "dedicate it to the public." In answer to another question Hanna said that the project property extended to the Sylvan township line at the south and that he also "owned some land in Sharon township." When asked where a road would be built Hanna replied that any road would be put where the Road Commission says.

George Gill, chairman of the Board of Road Commissioners, presided at the meeting. He said that most people he had talked to objected to the closing of the roads because they have not been told what the area is to be used for and why the use of the land would make it necessary to close the roads.

At one point in the hearing John Keusch asked Hanna point-blank if he is the owner of the project land and Hanna said yes, I am, not been conveyed to someone else and Hanna answered that it had not been. Each then asked if Hanna would be willing to repeat that statement under oath and Hanna replied in the affirmative.

Whether it was the presence of the eminent attorney from Ann Arbor appearing for Hanna which had a sobering effect on the assembly, or whether the 75 or 100 residents of the community felt that the petition presented by Henry Heim to the Road Commission to give their opinion on the matter more eloquence than words at the hearing, as one speaker implied, the fact remains that the meeting was much quieter than the Aug. 26 hearing held at the Red school.

The Road Commission adjourned the meeting to take the matter of closing the roads under advisement.

A County Road Commission spokesman said Wednesday morning that no action had yet been taken by the Commission following Friday's hearing.

Crewman Injured as County Truck Is Struck from Rear

John H. Stoffer, 237 Adams street, an employee of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, suffered a dislocated right shoulder about 10 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 6, when he jumped from the rear of a county road truck a moment before a station wagon, reportedly traveling 40 miles per hour, crashed into the rear of it. Stoffer was shoved forward into the sander attached to the rear of the truck which was driven by LeRoy Satterthwaite.

The station wagon, a 1948 Willys, driven by Montell Britton, 171 North Fourth avenue, Ann Arbor, was completely demolished, as was the sanding mechanism on the truck. The truck itself was not damaged.

Britton suffered head bruises and cuts on the head and face. Clarence Ross, 331 Beakes street, Ann Arbor, a passenger in the station wagon, received a broken nose, head injuries and leg cuts.

The accident occurred on US-12 about a quarter of a mile east of M-92. Police Officer Frank Reed was called to the scene to investigate.

Albert C. Bachman expects to be released from St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, next week after being in a patient since Nov. 30 when his hand caught in the buzz saw he was operating while sawing wood at his home. As a result of the accident, Mr. Bachman lost half of one hand.

AFTER GRADUATION

Children always seem to have great ambitions. Before entering school they have already decided to be doctors, ministers and famous pianists; however, when they enter high school these aspirations are modified. They decide to work at the local dry goods store, or to take the job offering the most pay. Although some of them had formerly planned to go to college, during their high school career they think not enough money is available, their grades in school were too low, or they say that it would be too much trouble.

The first reason, I can understand. Many parents cannot afford to send their children to college, but unless those children are obligated to support their families they can go through college without their parents' help. I know that it's easy to say, but that it's not so easily done.

If one has enough ambition, however, earning his way through college is far from impossible.

Students' grades generally need not be low. Teachers do not give poor grades to pupils who exert a little brain energy when they open a book, so if a pupil's marks are below the "C" level, it's usually because he doesn't try.

If you have decided that you wouldn't make the grades, cross that anti-college reason off your list and try your hand at working.

The last reason also can be understood. If I felt that going to college was too much trouble for the effort, I most certainly would not enter, but if I really wanted to go to college, even though my parents wouldn't help me with my expenses, and though my marks were definitely on the brass standard, I would attempt my purpose.

Although I might have to quit college six months after, I certainly wouldn't admit defeat before I entered.

Then, too, if a student simply has no desire to go to college, there is no reason why he should be expected to further his schooling. He can acquire many things of more importance by getting a job and mixing with other people, or by traveling. He can obtain information in everything he undertakes to do.

Whether or not one goes to college makes little difference in one's future happiness. Success depends on the person. If you've always had a secret desire to be an artist or a writer, why don't you paint or write? Why must a person work at a job he despises?

Of course, the reply is to obtain money, but why don't you at first do what you'd really like to do, and then, if you discover that you will never be happy in this position, try something else, whether it is acting or dish washing. When you graduate, students, go to college if you wish, dig ditches if you want to or be a lawyer if you like that profession, but do what you want to do. Don't be influenced by others, or feel that you're unworthy of your position, or that your position is unworthy of you. Don't be a stock broker and then regret the rest of your life that you hadn't taken up the life of a diamond cutter.

DIARY OF AGGIE CULTURE

Monday, Dec. 5—After an exciting week-end (Gee, he's handsome) I came back to my studies. I got a lousy mark on my economics test. Guess I should have stayed home Sunday night and studied.

Tuesday, Dec. 6—It seems the people around me in study hall talk too much. Result: I alone, must stay after school tonight. What a life, you just can't win.

Wednesday, Dec. 7—Sneak attack today, report cards were given out. Oh well! E for excellence I always say, now to convince my parents of that fact.

Thursday, Dec. 8—Tripped the light fantastic this noon, and I do mean tripped. Just because I dance on my own feet, why should everybody else? Now you know why everybody says I have flat feet.

Friday, Dec. 9—I am waiting for Ezra (my one and only) to call for me in his limousine and take me to the senior play. On second thought I better put my boots on, that car is older than I am (and then some), and I will probably have to walk.

Saturday, Dec. 10—The gang went roller skating in Jackson. As a result, I am now eating my meals standing up—poor skates (ahem). Oh well, I guess I won't be another Gloria Nord when I grow up.

Sunday, Dec. 11—I went to church. It seems terribly strange but everyone in the choir was singing off key except me.

Monday, Dec. 12—I saw the funniest football game tonight, the Chelsea FFA played Manchester. Maybe it was supposed to be a basketball game, as it was played in the gym. They could have fooled me. Ezra was tackled, and the referee gave him a free shot; he made a touchdown, I mean a basket.

Tuesday, Dec. 13—Chelsea played Manchester in a rip-roaring old basketball game. Some of those basketball players were so handsome, and they had such cute legs too. After I got home from that game, I was so hoarse I could hardly talk; it must have been caused by that three-minute speech I gave in school today.

Wednesday, Dec. 14—As if I weren't tired enough today, some joker put the lock on my locker backwards. Desperately trying to get my locker open in time to get my coat, talk to Ezra and still make the school bus, I lost my pet fingernail (wonder if I can sue the school?).

NOON HOUR PROGRAM

The noon hour, at Chelsea High begins at 11:25. All girls who do not go home for lunch must eat in the study hall, and the boys eat in the agriculture room. No boys are allowed in the study hall until 12:00 and then for study only.

Students who go home for lunch are not to enter the building until 12:20. If any student who eats his lunch at school leaves the building for any reason, he must also stay out of the building until 12:20. No one is to leave the building by way of the gymnasium door.

On Thursday of each week there is a student dance in the gymnasium from 12:00 until 12:25. Students who attend these dances are to act like ladies and gentlemen or they will have to be discontinued.

People who go home for lunch are invited to these dances as well as those who eat at school.

On Monday and Friday from 11:30 until 12:00, the girls who eat at school are given the privilege of playing basketball. They must wear gym shoes or heavy socks so they do not mark up the floor which has just been refinished.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the FFA boys use the gym from 11:30 until 12:00 and the boys who eat at school may play basketball on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 12:00 until 12:20.

The ping pong set is open for use any noon on the stage. The balls must be secured from Mr. Stuits, the noon hour advisor.

SHORT STORY

The Master Mind

By G. R. HEINTZMAN

SAM SHAPIRO was down to his last two bits. As he walked away from the poolhall he tilted his hat down over one eye and muttered—unkind words about all poolplayers and their descendants down to the third generation. Into Sam's fertile mind came the 64-dollar question: How was he going to hoist the two bits into a decent roll?

Sam didn't know exactly. Yet somehow he had always managed to stay in the dough, right from the days when he used to shoot marbles with the boys until later in life when he graduated to the poolroom. Sam attributed his success to his great ideas. He also held the firm opinion that everything in this world was a racket.

Sam pulled up his hat and scratched his noggin. Idea No. 1 was to drop over to Joe's lunch room and mediate on ways and means. Idea No. 2 was to put what ever be ate on the cuff.

Sam smiled. He took the quarter from his pocket and began flipping it in the air. Just as he passed the Banker's Trust building he missed a catch and the coin fell. Before he could recover it a strange hand darted out from one side and picked it up. Sam turned quickly and saw a pleasant-faced beggar with a tin cup, sitting on the bank steps. "You missed the cup, sir," the beggar said smilingly, "but I don't mind reaching—not for a quarter."

SAM'S EYES popped. He stared at the quarter. Only a fool would try to snatch two-bits from a beggar's tin cup on a busy street. He wished "it was dark."

Sam scratched his noggin but all was quiet. The beggar's cheery voice spoke again. "You seem to be thinking, son," he said. "Will you tell me your name?"

"Sam Shapiro," Sam snapped. He hadn't thought of an angle on how to get his quarter back. He was mad.

"Sam Shapiro is a nice name." There was a strange quality about the beggar's voice. But Sam was not one to appraise matters like that. He even failed to notice that the beggar had produced a check book and fountain pen and had started to write. He tore off a check made out to Sam Shapiro $100. He handed it to Sam. "Don't ask me the reason, son," he said. "Just walk into the bank and cash it. It's good."

Sam took a squint at the check and his eye riveted on the signature. He saw idea No. 3 right there in that signature. Everybody knew that E. Wilson-Dodds was president of Banker's Trust. And already Sam could see Mr. Dodds' face when he informed him that a screwball beggar was outside handing out checks with Mr. Dodds' signature. It should be good for a five-spot at least.

INSIDE the bank, Sam stepped up to a cage marked "Paying Teller" and held out the check significantly. "I'd like to see Mr. Dodds about this."

"Mr. Dodds is out," said the teller. He took the check with a courteous smile. "It won't be necessary to see Mr. Dodds about this," he said. "If you can identify yourself I'll cash it for you."

Sam gasped. He couldn't figure out the game. Nevertheless they weren't going to catch him napping. "I'm not trying to cash this check, pal," he said. "I'm only trying to inform you that there is a screwball outside writing checks with Mr. Dodds' signature on them."

The teller laughed out loud. "It's quite all right, sir. That was Mr. Dodds! He often wondered if there was such a thing as charity in this modern world. So today he put on that disguise and decided to give $100 to the first 10 people to have pity on him. . . . And let me congratulate you, sir! You are the first person to cash a check."

The business meeting was then called to order by the chairman, Mrs. George Beeman. Minutes were read and approved. A skit was read by Miss Frances McIntee and Mrs. Howard Boyce, pertaining to the lesson on "Wills and Testaments." Then the leaders, Mrs. Henry Prim and Mrs. Guy Barton, gave the lessons. The motion was made that members reveal their mystery sisters in December at the Christmas party next year.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Justin Wheeler on Jan. 12.

ST. PAUL'S MISSION CLUB

Mrs. Adolph Duerr was hostess for the Christmas meeting of the Mission Club of St. Paul's church. Ten members and three guests were present.

Mrs. Louis Eppler led the opening devotional service and the following program of readings was given: "Good Memory Rules," by Mrs. Duerr; "Christmas Bells," by Mrs. Alfred Lindauer; "Wrapping the Christmas Presents," by Mrs. Fred Sager; "Signs of Christmas," by Mrs. Fred Seitz; "Christmas Giving," by Mrs. John Gesterle; "New Christmas," by Mrs. J. N. Strieter. Christmas carols, sung by the group, completed the program.

The secretary, Mrs. J. N. Strieter, read a report of the projects the club members had participated in during the year which included work on layette articles for the Women's Guild quota of layettes for the World Service project; donation of a quilt and a member of books to the Emmaus Home at St. Charles, Mo., seven scrapbooks and a hand-knit rug to the Evangelical Orphans' and Old People's Home in Detroit; six dolls, completely outfitted, and two scrapbooks for the children's ward at Deaconess hospital, Detroit; and six dolls, toys for boys, card booklets and rolled bandages for a mission station in the Ozarks. The club also made cash donations of five dollars each, to the Ft. Wayne Orphans' Home, the Detroit Orphans' Home and a missionary project at Tacoma, Washington. Christmas gifts were exchanged and then Christmas refreshments were served by the hostess. The table centerpiece and decorations throughout the living and dining rooms carried out the Christmas theme.

The WSCS of the Methodist church met at the church Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 7, at 2 o'clock. Following the opening prayer, vocal selections were presented by Mrs. L. H. Walker and Mrs. D. L. Gaddery, and by 12 girls from the High School. The latter sang "Holy, Holy, Holy."

Business conducted at the meeting included voting to send money to the girl in India who has been supported during her period of nurses' training by the local WSCS.

The girl will graduate this year and the WSCS plans to support another girl for similar training.

Mrs. James K. Daniels reviewed the story "Tranquil Beasts," taken from a collection in the book
"Holy Hedges."

Plants which had been grown from one leaf and which were cared for the past few months by individual members in their homes, are now ready for their intended use as Christmas remembrances to shut-ins of the WSCS. Scrolls prepared to be sent with the plants were inscribed at the meeting, with a message from each member present. The plants and scrolls will be delivered to WSCS shut-ins by members of the society.

Fifteen ladies from the Methodist Home were specially invited guests at the meeting.

An invitation was extended at the meeting to all members and their families to attend the Christmas program and tea at the church next Sunday, Dec. 18, beginning at 5 p.m.

Central Circle served the refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting.

RED CROSS FIELD DIRECTORS SOLVE SERVICEMEN'S PROBLEMS

Red Cross services to the armed forces are available wherever U. S. servicemen are stationed. Here a Red Cross field director goes right to a young sailor at work on his ship for the facts he needs to help solve a problem.

The sailor was young. He had finished his home leave in a southern coastal city and was heading back to his California base.

He said goodbye to his parents and to an older brother, a marine veteran just returned from service. Then he left by bus.

A few hours later the older brother was killed in an automobile accident. The family appealed to the Red Cross to locate the younger son so he could return home.

Within a short while a Red Cross chapter secretary along the route intercepted the bus, broke the news, and helped the lad get started back home. There the chapter got in touch with the field director at the west coast base and verified the facts for the commanding officer who was being asked to extend the sailor's leave.

Once or more every minute, around the clock last year, the Red Cross performed some service for members of the military forces and their families. Among the nearly three quarters of a million cases handled, a large percentage involved supplying verified information concerning home conditions requiring emergency leave or extension of leave. While the Red Cross cannot grant leave to a serviceman, military authorities depend upon its post field directors and the network of chapters for reports of conditions underlying such leave requests.

Field directors in 364 military installations and hospitals and 1,059 itinerant and sub-stations in this country and abroad aid servicemen with personal problems that range from babies and budgets to helping straighten out delays that hold up pay or family allowances.

The serviceman has his family problems, marital difficulties, financial strains, and family illnesses—all disturbing to morale.

Field directors, providing 24-hour service at military installations, are pretty much in the same situation as the family doctor. They are routed out of bed at all hours to face any one of a hundred complicated problems. Sometimes it may be to get a report on the condition of a critically ill member of a soldier's family, or to lend him money for an emergency trip home, or to find housing for a family unexpectedly arriving at the post.

Whatever the problem, the serviceman feels free to turn to the Red Cross for help, knowing that he will find a sympathetic friend in the man wearing the Red Cross uniform.

Riemenschneider on the subject of the trip she and her husband recently took to the west coast.

CENTRAL CIRCLE

Mrs. Watson Hart, Mrs. John Kilmer and Mrs. Fred Brossamie were hostesses for the meeting of the Central Circle of the Methodist church, held Thursday, Dec. 8, in the church dining room. Refreshments of coffee, ice cream, cookies and fruit cake were served at a long table which showed to advantage the tastefully arranged Christmas decorations.

During the business meeting it was voted to give the WSCS 50 dollars on the Circle's assessment for the year.

Mrs. Harry Litteral presented the devotional service and read the story of Christ's birth. This was followed by Christmas songs sung by the group and a much-enjoyed piano solo, which was a medley of Christmas music, played by Mrs. Minnie Brossamie.

Mrs. Florence Howlett very interestingly described a Christmas pageant she witnessed about 25 years ago when she was the guest of the Charles Winans family while Mr. Winans was American consul in Prague, Czechoslovakia. The Christmas pageant was held in the village where the Bohemian reformer, John Huss, was born in about the year 1370. This was about 40 miles from Prague, Mrs. Howlett said. The pageant included a long parade of floats, all float carrying the large Communion cup used by John Huss and kept in the village through the years since he was burned at the stake in 1415 for his religious beliefs and teachings. Each float in the parade was drawn by oxen, was much enjoyed by the group, or at a dinner given Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ashfal. MORE PEOPLE HAVE BOUGHT CHEVROLETS than any other make —just as they have done during the total 19-year period, 1931 to date!

THE men and women of America know value when they see it. Consequently, they are purchasing more Chevrolet passenger cars than any other make... and more Chevrolet trucks than the next two makes combined... thereby placing Chevrolet first in sales this year, just as they have done for the total 19-year period, 1931 to date.

Naturally, we and all Chevrolet dealers are deeply appreciative of this overwhelming tribute of preference; and we join with Chevrolet in pledging to do everything possible to give you greater and greater value in the months and years to come.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

is still going on, and it illustrates some of the perils in the road for streamlining state government by increasing authority of the governor.

Physicians of Michigan are planning an aggressive campaign in 1950 against the issue of "socialized medicine." The Michigan State Medical Society was a pioneer among state groups in publicizing the benefits of private medicine. Now through the American Medical Association Michigan physicians and surgeons will oppose compulsory health insurance as proposed at Washington by the national administration.

Commercial advertisements on street parking meters have been proposed in Detroit. James H. Garlick, member of the Detroit City Council, said he thought motorists were confused enough by instructions on the meters.

How law-abiding are Michigan citizens? The State Corrections department reports that an average of one out of every one thousand Michigan residents was convicted of a major criminal offense during 1948.

Lower taxes in suburbs of Detroit have attracted industries away from Detroit, away from Detroit's metropolitan area. Regional Planning Commission.

An illustration of how social problems inevitably result in requests for more state spending is afforded by the current efforts of Governor Williams to reduce the number of sex crimes in Michigan. It is now proposed that $187,617.00 be made available immediately from a special $500,000 legislative fund for emergency needs. This money would be used to establish a sex deviate clinic in Detroit.

Attorney General Stephen J. Roth has ruled that the State Highway department cannot accept bids on the $4,314,000 ice-breaker ferry for the Straits of Mackinac. He declared the contract had to be let by the Department of Administration, an agency controlled by the governor.

THE HI-LIGHT

BLACK MAGIC
Everyone from six to sixty was thrilled by the exciting performance of "Bobo, the Magician." Bobo made things appear and disappear right before their eyes.

Even though everyone thought he knew exactly how "Bobo" did the tricks, he was always fooled. This only goes to prove the old proverb, "The Hand is Quicker Than the Eye." It must be magic!

KEYHOLE ATTRACTION
Something new! Something different! That was the basis of the assembly presented by the Senior play cast last Wednesday, previewing their great hilarious comedy, "Inner Willy." Previewed from each act were given. Before the assembled group of high school students, the three old maid aunts, (Peggy, Pat and Linda), proceeded to give Willy (Corky), his daily cod-liver oil, and invite toothless Marybelle Turner (Marilyn) to the house where he was forced to ask her to the graduation dance. Then pretty Carol Martin (Joan) entered the scene and Willy, with the help of his "inner man" (John Popp), shyly made love to her (if putting his arm around her may be called love). When Stanley Clark (Bob) heard about Willy asking his girl, Carol, to the dance, he was very perturbed—enough to challenge delicate Willy to a fight. However, Willy, to the surprise of his three aunts, gently, but firmly, informed them that he needed three coragases for the dance. Many laughs and chuckles were heard from the student body but the climax of each scene was left for the students to discover when the curtain went up Friday evening!

behaviour of Chelsea students at the Vanderhook Lake game, while Mr. Stuits and Mr. Magiera discussed the team's possibilities at the Dexter game that night.

After several cheers from the cheerleaders, Virginia Quilist played the school song.

SAFETY PROGRAM
The grade school and junior high were pleasantly entertained by Jerry McSafely and his master, Sergeant Wayne Fernelius, at an assembly last Friday, Dec. 9. Sergeant Fernelius, a ventriloquist, and a member of the Detroit police force, presented a very fascinating safety talk and later introduced the group to Jerry McSafely, a wooden dummy, who charmed the boys and girls with his songs and chatter. The program was presented through the courtesy of the Ford Motor company and Leigh Palmer, local dealer.

Organizations...

THE DEMOCRATIC POWER
The Student Council decided it would pay for the High school Christmas tree.

There is an extra fund in the central treasury which may be used for something the school needs.

The Council would like to have a blind speaker come and talk to the school on his life since he has been blind. He will bring his seeing-eye dog with him, and a donation will be collected.

ATHLETIC BOARD
The Athletic Board has decided to have an honor award for the most improved player on the basketball team. The boy's name will appear on the gold square at the bottom of a plaque. It has been assumed by the Board that, by the presentation of this award each member of the team will work hard for improvement.

HI-Y CONFERENCE
C. Johnson, C. Holiday, B. Kossika, R. Guenther and D. Seelye represented the Hi-Y club at the Hi-Y legislature held in Lansing, Dec. 9 and 10.

The club prepared the following bill to be presented at that time to the legislature: "Compulsory Safety Inspection of Licensed Motor Vehicles."

Section I—The people of the State of Michigan enacted, effective Jan. 1, 1950, all motor vehicles licensed to operate on the public highway of the State of Michigan must be submitted to an inspection by a duly appointed agent of the State of Michigan at intervals not to exceed once every six months.

Section II—Inspection should include the following: lights, brakes, steering mechanism, tires, windshield wipers, visibility, or any other condition which in the opinion of the inspector would make it unsafe to drive.

Section III—Professional mechanics approved by the sheriff's department in each county. Any professional mechanic will be eligible upon approval of the county sheriff.

Section IV—Upon approval by the inspector, each vehicle is to be issued a certificate of the approval to be placed on the lower right hand corner of the windshield.

HOME EC II and III
Wednesday evening the Home Ec. II and III girls gave an informal styling of the clothes they made in their clothing projects. The girls invited their mothers. Refreshments were enjoyed by all.

BAND
Band members have received their tickets to sell for the coming Christmas concert, Monday, December 19. Tickets may be obtained from any band member.

PROJECTION PERFECT
The Physics class had a movie on the principles of the lever. Gears that run machines are examples of levers. The movie showed how gears were made to reduce friction to a minimum and how they are used to run machinery. The movie was produced by a teaching company and showed the importance of good lubricants.

L. Eisele—"Mary Belle was best."

B. Wolfe—"Too much make-up, but otherwise it was good."

Judging from these and other comments, the play was a huge success.

Energy Potential
Among the potential sources of energy, hydroelectric—the work in which watershed development is specially interested—ranks first in most of the world. Present output in kilowatt hours is only 4.3 per cent of that potentially available for development. These resources are greatest, and yet least utilized, in the less-developed area of the world. For instance, Africa, with 41 per cent of the world's total potential hydroelectric resources is utilizing a negligible amount of this potential.

ST. MARY'S School Notes

JERRY McSAFETY PROGRAM

On Friday afternoon, Dec. 9, Sgt. Wayne Fernelius of the Detroit police department presented his famous Jerry McSafely program. The sergeant was accompanied by Wm. Kurtz of the Palmer Motor Sales.

OPEN HOUSE
On Wednesday, Dec. 7, the children of St. Mary's school invited their parents to visit school from 1 until 3 o'clock. At this time school was in regular session and the parents had an opportunity to witness some of the work being done. More than 50 were in attendance.

In the latter part of the afternoon the children gave a short program and this was followed by a tea prepared by Mrs. Norbert Merkel assisted by Mrs. Arnold Steger, Mrs. Robert Howe, Mrs. John Glick, Mrs. Wm. Kolb, and Mrs. F. W. Merkel.

A SCHOOL DAY
"What did you do in school today, Willie?"

"Oh—we had a spelling test," is Willie's informative reply.

"Anything else?"

"Sister talked about the missions and there was reading and arithmetic."

The wee Willies and small Suzys seem to have a special faculty for giving parents as little information as possible about their school work. Steady questioning may provide the parents with a list of the day's subjects, but seldom do they learn what their offspring do during the 320 minutes in class each day.

Twelve subjects are taught in the elementary grades at St. Mary's school. They are: Religion, English, social studies (history, geography, civics), reading, arithmetic, Devotional Religion, spelling, handwriting, music, art, health and etiquette.

Major subjects are taught for an average of 40 minutes each day, and minor subjects for 20 minutes per day. None of the 320 minutes is wasted; there is an assigned subject for each period, whether Willie is in the first grade or the eighth.

Winter Bicycling
One of the major tire companies has produced a snow tire for bikes which is a junior version of the automobile snow tire. It has heavy studs in both tread and shoulders.

In selecting cantaloupes, give attention to the scar at the stem end of the fruit. It should be slightly sunken, smooth and well caloused; any food specialists at Michigan State college. The vine-like netting should be full and rounded. If the melon is ripened, the netting will be coarse.

680 Pounds of market broiler per ton of feed!

That's right—Larro feeders are getting extra weight per bird by feeding Larro Broiler Feed in both forms—mash and pelleted.

Start with the mash. Then, at the end of the fourth week, begin scattering pellets on top of the mash each forenoon and afternoon. Use quantities the birds will clean up in about 30 minutes. It sharpens their appetites—puts on 4 to 8 ounces more per bird... more than pays for the extra time involved. Larro feeders are getting 3½-pound birds in 12 weeks.

The Dutchmen's second team proved to be more successful than their big brothers, as they won over the Bulldogs by a score of 25-24.

Throughout the varsity game the ball changed hands constantly and it was such a close game all of the way that it was hard to predict the outcome until the last three remaining minutes of the game.

Dave Crocker was high scorer throughout the evening, with 17 points. Harold Breitenwieser led the Dutchmen with 12 points.

Tomorrow night (Friday) Vandercook Lake will play on the local floor, thus providing the Bulldogs with an opportunity to avenge themselves for the defeat they received from Vandercook Lake two weeks ago when the final score was 26-22.
