ST. MARY'S School Notes
REPORT CARDS AND STANDARD TESTS
 St. Mary's school elementary pupils are nearing the half-way mark for the year. They have completed another portion of the school term and have taken report cards home for the second time.

ST. MARY'S School Notes
 During January, students in grades five through eight in all the parochial schools will be taking standard tests. The playground grapevine whispers that these tests are "terrible." In reality, they are merely standard examinations by which each pupil can check his standing with his own previous standing on the same tests. The standard tests, used in schools throughout the country, check the skill subjects—reading, arithmetic, English and spelling.

ST. MARY'S School Notes
 Standard tests are given each January and June. On his individual progress chart, the pupil marks the grade level which he reaches on the tests. From the combined results of report card and progress chart, parents should have a fairly good idea of their youngster's scholastic standing.

ST. MARY'S School Notes
 If a child has been consistently low in one or more subjects so far this year, his mark is not going to take a sudden upward bound without some outside help. Outside of school hours, his teacher will be pleased to confer with parents on a means of bolstering ailing marks.

The Hi-Light

Edited by the Journalism Club of the Chelsea Public School

The boys' basketball team will play at Milan tomorrow night and will play Flat Rock here Jan. 20. The Grade PTA will meet the evening of Jan. 18.

Next week is the last week of the first semester. Report cards will be handed out Jan. 25.

IDLE GOSSIP
Did you hear about...? Be quiet while I tell you what she did. Perhaps you're wondering what this is all about. Well, it is just old fashioned gossip—what Mr. Webster defines as "idle personal talk" or "groundless rumors".

Did you ever stop to think how unkind it is to spread unfair rumors about other people? Undoubtedly, most of us do not, because there are few of us who would purposely hurt people's feelings to amuse others. Even if rumors are true, it isn't necessary or wise to spread them or make public announcements.

If you have ever played the game "gossip" and discovered how tales grow as they are passed along from one person to another, you know what happens in the end. The story has little sense or resemblance to the original, or else it is twice as bad as it started. This should be lesson enough for all of us. If you would only place yourself in the position of the person you may be talking about, you would discover the situation was not very pleasant. Therefore, why do something to someone else, who wouldn't want done to yourself? That is a sensible enough conclusion, isn't it? Many times gossip could be prevented and discouraged to a large extent by us: if we refuse to talk about others, others are less likely to talk about us. Mr. Webster also defines a "gossiper" as "one who runs about and tattles". Few of us like to be referred to as tattlers, but that is really what we are when we gossip.

A good thing to remember when you are tempted to gossip is, "If you can't say something good about a person, don't say anything at all!"

Students, we of the Journalism class aren't publishing these articles for you to glance over and forget. They are written in an effort to bring out some of the social problems of our school. They present problems which face all of us in the world today, and which work towards ill-feeling. School and its atmosphere would be a much happier environment, we assure you, without gossip.

Assemblies...
ALARMING
"This assembly is to be about the new trophy that the basketball team was awarded during the tournaments at Albion," said Peg Schable, the announcer. She then called upon Mr. Mageria who spoke about the team's success over Parma and the winning of the trophy.

He called on Mr. Cameron in order to present the trophy to him. Mr. Cameron accepted the trophy on behalf of the school. He expressed his appreciation and then informed the students that this was the first trophy Chelsea High had won since about 1938.

BIOGRAPHIES
In the year 1931 on July 20 the people of Chelsea gathered on Wilkinson Street observing something red flying through the sky. As the object came closer some one yelled "It's David Myers!" From that day on the name stuck. At the age of five years he started school and has been at it ever since. Like most boys, sports play an important part in his life. If he didn't have a football in one hand, a basketball in the other and making tracks like a streak of lightning, he wouldn't be David Myers.

Any food that can be digested ranks high with him. The movie "City Across the River" seems to be his favorite and when Dave hears "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" he's in another world. Dave does not believe that Chelsea should have a curfew because the students' parents should keep them home at night. He also believes if a fellow is going out for sports he should get an allowance.

Dave has acquired many friends during his journey through school and they are with him success. "Who likes football," the movie "It Happens Every Spring," the song "Forever and Ever," and cherry pie? Of course his name is Bill (Koselka). Bill was born on May 4, 1932 in Dearborn. He attended the Milford High School before coming to Chelsea. In school here he has been active in football, track, band, Hi-Y, and 4-H, and was treasurer of the Hi-Y Club. Bill speaks for the other boys too when he says that he doesn't believe that Chelsea needs a curfew, but that they will get in at a reasonable time. He thinks that students should earn their spending money to learn its value. Bill's pet peeve is people that are late. His ambition is to be an agricultural engineer.

Movies...
Both art classes recently saw a movie entitled "Sculpturing Can Be Fun." This movie was especially interesting to Art I. They are starting a new unit in soap carving. Art II is beginning a unit in lettering.

"Images in Ivory" described and showed clearly how simple it is for the untrained boy or girl to carve lovely things from an ordinary cake of soap. "Can You Read Shorthand?" was shown to the shorthand class. The movie would have been worthless to people who cannot read shorthand, because it was written in that medium.

The Kindergarten and First Grade visited the zoo by way of a movie entitled "Animals in the New York Zoo." The movie showed the wild animals in the zoo and the food fed them. The zoo does its best to imitate the natural surroundings of the animals. Some of the animals in the zoo are: seals, elephants, tigers, giraffes, rhinoceros, bears, buffalo, monkeys, gorillas, hippopotamus and many others.

THE PINK BALL
Why couldn't there have been snow when this dance was given its above name? This dance was different from past dances in numerous ways. For instance the girls could ask the boys of their dreams, but the girls had to pay all the expenses of the evening. Most girls feel that it was well worth the price.

The decorations were very well liked by all who attended the dance. The stage was decorated with various sizes of bobbing pink balloons. Around the dance floor sparkling tinsel hung down from the balcony with pink balloons between and also pink streamers.

For refreshment the Journalism Club served cake with pink frosting and strawberry ice cream. Later on in the evening a few high school students showed their talent. Pat Murphy and Don McClear combined their voices in a vocal duet, and Norman O'Connor and Virginia Quilatt both gave some very nice piano solos. The music for dancing was obtained by the old, faithful high school phonograph. The old saying "All is Well that Ends Well" was carried out to perfection.

Organizations...

STUDENT COUNCIL
At the last Student Council meeting it was decided to charge fifteen cents and invite grades 4-12 to the assembly on Friday, Jan. 17. After the assembly, the high school students should remain in their seats until the lower grades have left and until the high school is dismissed.

Jan. 25 is the date for the boy and girl discussions. Stanton Walker was appointed to be in charge of the new shades is the gym to be used for movies and assemblies.

FFA
The agriculture boys will be selling farm magazines. The FFA's first team basketball played the school's second team last Friday.

The boys are planning their annual visit to Farmers' Week at East Lansing.

HOME EC
The seventh grade homemaking girls have begun food unit, entitled "Junior High Cooking Club" and will be learning some basic fundamentals. Homemaking girls II are working on their grooming unit, which is entitled, "Plain Jane's Change," in which they will be studying things to help their personality, manners, and care of their skin, hair, hands, etc. Selecting clothes for themselves will be part of this unit.

Homemaking II girls have been working on their script for the radio program on Jan. 9. It concerned their present unit of work, "Buying and Care of Clothing." Homemaking III girls are still working on the unit entitled "Vocations for Girls." They have had a number of resource people in to talk to them.

During Christmas vacation some of the college girls spoke to them on their college courses. They were Joanne Moore of Michigan State Normal College, Marcelline Hinderer of Michigan State College, and Margaret Dumouchel of Cleary College.

NURSING CAREERS FOR GIRLS
On Thursday, Jan. 6, the nursing profession was discussed. Miss McKinney, our school nurse, and Miss Mae Edna Doyle, director of the Practical Nurse Training Center at Jones School in Ann Arbor, spoke to the class.

Miss McKinney spoke about the training needed for the professional nurse and about possibilities in Public Health Nursing. Miss Doyle of the new center for training practical nurses, explained that it is open to all women between the ages of eighteen and fifty. The school provides a one-year course including theory and hospital practice. When a girl completes the course she is able to serve as a nurses' assistant and receive three-quarters of the salary a professional nurse would receive on the same job. At the present time there are eight schools in Michigan, the one in Ann Arbor being the newest. It was an interesting and most formative talk.

Grade News...

KINDERGARTEN
Last Wednesday the kindergarten girls had "dolls' day." Everyone brought her favorite or Christmas doll and then each girl made a place setting for tea for her doll. Thursday was "boys' day" and the boys brought their favorite Christmas toy. They had a good time sharing and exchanging toys.

CARO'S NEW ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, shown above, is drawing school officials from all over Michigan to look at it. It has nine school rooms and a cafeteria, holds 315 students, and it cost only $82,000—about half what brick construction would be, according to construction experts. In the middle of the H-shaped structure are the wash rooms, principal's office, supply room and heat control room. The walls, roof and windows of wing at the left, which is 212 feet long by 28 feet wide, were erected by eight men in three days.

Caro Built Grade School from Steel for about Half Price

Labor Saving Made
Cost only $82,000

A new elementary school which is described as meeting all educational standards as well as being approved by the state fire marshal, has recently been completed in Caro at a cost of $82,000, exclusive of desks, tables, supplies and the heating plant. Heat for the school building is supplied from a separate power house which also supplies heat for the near-by high school building.

The building, a one-story, H-shaped structure, has all-steel framing, siding and roofing. There are nine classrooms to accommodate 315 pupils. One wall of every room is solid window from a height of three feet above the floor to the ceiling, and has a row of smaller windows high on the opposite wall to overcome shadows. For fire protection each room has two exterior doors. Other features are separate automatic ventilator systems for each room, separate thermostat for each room, green blackboards, fluorescent lighting, soundproof interior walls, insulated outer walls, pastel interior decoration, floors of extra thick asphalt tile over concrete, sheet rock interior finish using a new type of taping and filling between sheets to eliminate cracks, and ceilings of special ceiling tile.

One wing of the H-shaped building is 212 feet long by 28 feet wide, while the other is 188 feet by 28 feet. The center connecting section contains the principal's office, supply room, heat control room and five washrooms.

The new building also contains a cafeteria.

The $82,000 cost of the steel-type construction is said to be approximately one-half of what the cost of brick construction would have been. Labor saving is a big item in keeping down the cost of the building. The walls, roof and windows of the 212-foot wing were put up by eight men in just three days. The foundation and concrete slab floor had previously been laid. The exterior walls are steel panels 16 inches wide and one-sixteenth of an inch thick. They are painted white, while the roof is red.

Lee Thurston, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the state of Michigan, was reported to have praised the new elementary school building during an inspection tour. Superintendents and school officials from a number of communities throughout the state have visited and inspected the school building.

School teachers are quoted as saying they think the school is fine, and the school superintendent reportedly said, "So far, we have not found any drawbacks, and it has many features that are a definite improvement over the conventional school. Our only problem is to find time to show the building to the other school board members who come almost daily from all over the state."

The cost of the Caro school is said to be approximately $7.50 per square foot of floor space.

Married men should be masters in their own homes or know the reason why, states a writer. At least most of them know the reason why.
