

Michigan MIRROR

By Gene Allaman

Michigan's tourist industry, second only to California and New York, is headed for an excellent season in 1950.

Such is the forecast of Robert Furlong, secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing.

But Furlong does attach a big asterisk to his forecast. He says Michigan will have plenty of competition for tourist dollars, both from other states in this country and from countries abroad.

Michigan is to get its traditional slice of the 1950 tourist dollar. Owners of resorts, motels, cottages, amusement centers and others in the industry must upgrade their facilities in every possible way.

Put into specific illustrations, this calls for installation of running water in cabins, for example; greater emphasis on hospitality; entertainment for the family.

Frank Davis, secretary of the West Michigan Tourist Association, Bay City, recently completed a survey of 550 resort operators in western and central Michigan.

He reports that a Michigan vacation in 1950 will cost about the same as a year ago. The average housekeeping cottage rents for $20 a week with a range from $20 to $125 a week, depending on location and facilities. The American plan resorts average about $25 to $35 a day with a range from $15 to $25.

The EMTA's new 1950 tourist booklet, "It's Playtime," is jam-packed with happy ideas for family vacations in western and central Michigan.

Chester C. Wells, secretary of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, Grand Rapids, recently released his "Carefree Days" lure book for 1950. It is a companion book to the East Michigan edition.

Prominently displayed is a calendar of events in West Michigan. Here is proof supreme that Michigan is vacation-conscious in planning entertainment for tourists.

Beginning with the National Trout Festival at Kalkaska, the calendar presents a long list of events such as Holland's Tulip Time Festival last week, Traverse City's National Cherry Festival July 5-7, Harbor Springs' Indian naming ceremony July 22, Charlevoix's Venetian Night July 30, Grand Haven's Coast Guard Festival August 1-4.

The calendar is climaxed with Cedar Springs' Red Flannel Festival, heralding opening of the traditional deer hunting season on November 15.

June-sized is George Stedley's 152-page "Lure Book" of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, Marquette, also recently distributed to the tourist trade.

This edition offers a detailed map of each county in Michigan's north country, beyond the Straits of Mackinac. Michigan citizens who have never visited the Soo Locks have a thrill coming. And that goes, too, for the remainder of this once-called "wilderness" area now accessible by air as well as highway. The Copper Country and its Keweenaw peninsula and Porcupine Mountain State Park offer grandeur on a scale that surprises every traveler.

Verily, Michigan has much, much to offer its own citizens with recreational attractions. For a beautiful peninsula, look about you!

A. C. Elmer, state park chief, reports that all 60 state parks and recreational areas will offer some combination of picnicking, fishing, swimming, camping, boating, hiking, riding, stables, nature study and playgrounds.

Campers will pay a daily fee of 50 cents beginning June 15. This fee is already charged in national parks.

Last year's park attendance was a record 13,000,000. More than 5,000,000 visitors concentrated in four parks — largely a matter of habit.

Get a copy of the official state highway map. It contains the location of all parks and recreational areas and the highways leading there.

Bulldogs Win Two Games This Week

By DWIGHT GADD

Chelsea High's Bulldogs blazed their way to two top-sliced victories over the past week-end as they shut out Vandercook Lake 8-0, last Friday here at home, and then blasted the Flying Dutchmen of Manchester, 15-5, on their home field last Tuesday.

Friday's game with Vandercook was another spotlight-pitching performance by Marty Tobin, backed up by some steady hitting by Johnson, Heydlauf and Crocker. Tobin allowed but two hits while walking one and striking out 11, and the three men mentioned collected six of the nine Chelsea hits.

The Bulldogs notched their first two runs in the bottom of the first on hits by Johnson and Heydlauf, plus an error and outfield fly. They added the third run in the second on an error and a single by Tobin, and their fourth came in the third on Crocker's nifty and two more errors.

Chelsea failed to score in the fourth and fifth, but in the sixth they doubled their runs to take a very safe, comfortable margin. Singles by McClellan, Johnson and Heydlauf, an error, and Crocker's triple, accounted for the four runs and made the final score, 8-0.

As the Stars and Stripes dips in tribute to those who died, and the bugle blows its mournful "taps," we pause to honor once again the brave sacrifice of those who fought so gallantly to preserve the freedom we hold dear. Let us honor them in the only way they would understand — by practicing the democracy they fought to maintain.

MEMORIAL Day

Lyndon Roads To Receive Dust Layer

Calcium chloride dust layer was applied this week to M-92. The work was done by county road crews at state expense.

Calcium chloride treatment of all roads in Lyndon township is to be applied at the township's expense as soon as the chloride is received. Supervisor Homer Stofor announced last night. The Lyndon township board decided on the action at a meeting held Thursday evening of last week.

Stofor said. This is the first year that Lyndon township has undertaken the general dust-laying project at township expense.

In Sylvan township the calcium chloride treatment will be applied in front of homes at property owners' expense. Orders for the calcium chloride treatment should be turned in at the Chelsea yards on West Middle street, as soon as possible. Payment for the amount of treatment ordered must accompany the order. Any number of feet of road will be treated, with 300 feet being the minimum order accepted. County road crews and equipment will do the work.

Normally, two or three applications of the chloride are necessary during the year.

Supt. Manager Kenneth L. Halenbeck said yesterday that the county road commission is hoping soon to blacktop the balance of Wexner road from M-92 north to the Waterloo road. The blacktopping cost will be shared by Lyndon, Dexter and Sylvan townships in accordance with an agreement to that effect reached some time ago by the three townships.

Leland Kalmbach Elected President of Mass. Mutual

Leland J. Kalmbach, since 1948 vice-president and director of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company, was made president of the company at a meeting of the board of directors at Springfield, Mass., on May 19.

Kalmbach succeeds the late A. T. Maclean who headed the company since 1945. He is the ninth president of the company which has been in business 99 years. The company was organized May 15, 1851.

Kalmbach is said to be one of the country's best known and most highly regarded actuaries and life insurance company officers. Prior to his affiliation with the Massachusetts Mutual company on Jan. 1, 1948, Kalmbach was with the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind., for 24 years. He was first vice-president and a director of the company at the time he resigned.

Kalmbach was born in Chelsea, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kalmbach. His father was a lawyer here for many years prior to his death. His mother resides at 415 West Middle street. He is a graduate of Chelsea High school and the University of Michigan. His wife, the former Letha Alber, also is a former Chelsea girl. They have one son, Dohn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Graham and son, of Clearfield, Pa., left Tuesday after spending several days here with Mrs. Graham's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. David Lacey. Additional week-end guests were Mrs. Lacey's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Bayers, of Belding. Also guests for Sunday dinner were Mr. and Mrs. John Hude and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Regner.

VFW Poppy Sale Will Be Held on Streets Saturday

On Saturday, the VFW Post and Auxiliary will hold their annual sale of "Buddy Poppies" on the streets of Chelsea.

In announcing the date for this annual event, Mrs. Ren Hutzel, poppy sales chairman, reminds people of the community that of the 10 million American veterans of all wars and campaigns, nearly 100 thousand are now in hospitals. For many of these thousands, she said, the war truly will never end. The VFW is pledged to spend the proceeds of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies for certain protective purposes only.

Mrs. Hutzel stated, "and these purposes are very clearly defined. Thus anyone who contributes toward the success of the VFW-sponsored poppy sale is assured that the money will be used for these express purposes and nothing else."

As listed by Mrs. Hutzel, poppy contributions must be used only as follows: (1) for the aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans, their dependents or widows and orphans; (2) for maintenance or expansion of the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids; (3) for hospital or individual assistance and entertainment for needy veterans and service patients and their dependents; (4) for rehabilitation, welfare and service work including liaison service with the VA; (5) for necessary expense for military funerals of deceased veterans and for acquisition, improvement and maintenance of burial plots and decoration of graves of veterans and servicemen.

Concluding her request for support of the VFW-sponsored "Buddy Poppy" sale, Mrs. Hutzel said: "Remember the men who can't forget! Buy a Buddy Poppy on Saturday."

Kiwanians Told How To Relax, Enjoy Their Lives

Jerry Vanek, a member of the public relations department of the Standard Oil company of Detroit, spoke to Kiwanians Monday evening on the topic "Relax — What's Your Hurry?" Saying that it was his opinion that needless worry about past events which cannot be remedied and possible future events which may never happen is the root of much of the health and trouble which people experience. He said too many persons "carry lumber on their backs" to build bridges across streams they never reach.

He concluded his well-received talk with what he described as ten commandments for a full and happy life. These were as follows: (1) Enjoy life, have fun, and be alert and interested in the present; (2) Take pride in your job or, if that's not possible, hunt another; (3) Face facts! Don't let things "get you down"; (4) Know your own good points and develop them; (5) Plan for the future with confidence; (6) Be dependable; (7) Do away with grudges and fault-finding; develop a cooperative spirit; (8) Look into your environment and habits and gain and keep control over your emotions; (9) For relaxation do what you like best to do; (10) Develop the power to believe — have faith in yourself, your fellowman, and above all, in God.

Overnight guests Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beutler were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ives, of Detroit.

Fibre Fetes Employees Sat. Night

Workers Start Drive To Benefit Local Cancer Campaign

George Edwards, former president of the Detroit City Council and at present general chairman of the Cancer Fund drive for Detroit, was the featured speaker at the annual Central Fibre company's dinner Saturday. The dinner, for all employees of the company and their wives or husbands, was prepared and served by the Ladies' Guild of the Congregational church in the church dining room. Members of the Men's Club of the church assisted in the dining room. Approximately 150 employees and officials of the firm and their guests attended the dinner.

Donald Bacon, president of the firm, welcomed the group and acted as master of ceremonies. He called on a number of those present for extemporaneous remarks.

GEORGE EDWARDS

Among those who spoke briefly in humorous vein were Harold Jones, vice-president of Central Fibre; Frank Wynn of Detroit, publicity director of UAW-CIO; Harold Marsh, UAW-CIO representative for the Jackson area; Webb Magnus, UAW-CIO representative in this area; and Woodrow Gullett, president of the Central Fibre division of Local 437, UAW-CIO.

Mr. Edwards, in his talk, told of the tremendous toll of lives resulting from cancer, saying that if last year's figures can be taken as a measure, 200,000 people will die of cancer in the U. S. this year.

The tragedy of this toll is evident, he said, when it is realized that approximately one-third of that number could be saved if people could be made to understand the importance of seeing their physician for regular check-ups and to be examined immediately if there is the slightest possibility that pre-cancerous conditions might be suspected. He explained the four point cancer program, dividing it as follows: (1) research, (2) education, (3) detection, and (4) patient service.

As a result of his graphic description of the cancer situation a drive for funds for the present cancer campaign is being carried on this week throughout the plant. Mr. Bacon, himself, is backing the drive and was instrumental in securing Mr. Edwards as the dinner speaker.

On Saturday Edwin Beutler and Mrs. Carl Beutler were callers at the Earl Knickerbocker home in Manchester. On Monday they attended the funeral of Mr. Beutler's sister-in-law, Mrs. Nellie Knickerbocker, of Manchester and in the evening, Mr. Beutler and his son, Carl, visited his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lemm, of Jackson.

Life-Long Resident Dies Friday at Charlotte, Texas

Mrs. Phillip Henry Riemen-schneider, life-long resident of this community, died Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William H. Steinman, in Charlotte, Texas. She had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage the previous Friday. Mrs. M. W. McClure, her daughter here left for Charlotte by plane on Monday and remained there until after her mother's death. Mrs. Riemen-schneider had spent the winter with Rev. and Mrs. Steinman in Charlotte and had been planning to return to Chelsea soon.

She was active in church and community affairs in this vicinity throughout her lifetime. She was a life-long member of Salem Grove church and acted as recording steward of the church for approximately 25 years. She taught in the primary department of the Sunday school until she was almost eighty years old. A charter member of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church (now the W.C.S.S.) she missed only four meetings in a period of 34 years during the days when the group was known as the Ladies' Aid. Those who knew her best said there was never a call for help from community or friends to which she did not immediately respond and that she went out to nurse the sick at any time, day or night, whenever she felt she was needed.

Mrs. Riemen-schneider was also a charter member of the Ancient Order of Gleaners and of Cavanaugh Lake Grange, having assisted in the latter's organization in May, 1902, under the direction of George T. English. She became secretary of the Grange when it was organized and served in that capacity continuously for 47 years. She resigned at the October 4, 1949 meeting prior to leaving for Texas on October 8.

The former Lydia Kruse she was a daughter of Rudolph and Wilhelmina Nicolai Kruse and was born on the Kruse homestead on Tottenham road on December 10, 1883, the oldest of a family of nine children. She was married to Mr. Riemen-schneider on February 16, 1887, at her parents' home and they went directly to their new home on Lowry road at Cavanaugh Lake where they resided until moving to the home at the south side of the lake, on Cavanaugh Lake road, in 1925. The Lowry road home, occupied by her son, Walter Riemen-schneider, and his wife, was burned last winter.

Survivors, in addition to the two daughters, Adolph, Arthur and Stanley Hewett, of Royal Oak, Willo and Charles Steinman, of Charlotte, Texas, and Jean McClure; also, one great-grandchild, Philip Dane Hewett, of Royal Oak. Mr. Riemen-schneider died February 13, 1941 and an older daughter, Mrs. Katherine Hewett, died June 27, 1931.

Prayer services at the Miller Funeral Home at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday preceded the funeral services held at 2:30 p.m. at the Salem Grove Methodist church. Rev. Ernest O. Davis, of Addison, former pastor of the church, officiated and was assisted by Rev. Vern A. Panzer, present pastor. Burial followed in Salem Grove cemetery.

R. B. Dexter Buys Kolb's Grocery

R. B. Dexter, owner and operator of Dexter's Meat Market, purchased Kolb's Grocery, located in the same store building, from W. G. Kolb, on Monday of this week.

Mr. Dexter who has been in business in Chelsea since 1929, will open a newly-decorated store Friday. New lighting fixtures will be installed by the opening date and the store will operate under the name of Dexter's Pure Food Market. They will carry a complete line of groceries and meats, according to Mr. Dexter.

Mr. Kolb's plans are indefinite at present.

Three Suspects Are Held in Burglary of N. Lake Store

Frank Reed, local police officer, apprehended three suspects in a North Lake robbery about 3 a.m. Sunday and held them until sheriff's deputies from Ann Arbor arrived.

Officer Reed was notified by radio to go to the scene after residents had noticed a car stop at the Douglas Fraser real estate office at North Lake, and called Ann Arbor sheriff's officers. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Houk and their son, who live across the road from the Fraser office, were said to have been instrumental in bringing about the speedy capture of the trio of suspects. Mrs. Houk called the sheriff's officers and kept them posted as her husband and son watched the men's actions and relayed the information to her.

The men arrested are Alfred Tulguste, Alex Szczechowski and Carl Feikert, all of Detroit.

Officer Reed said one of the men, on the pretext of being sick, took a typewriter out of the car, dropping it about ten feet from the car. A baseball mitt found beneath the car, was believed to have been taken from the office. It was reported that $18 had disappeared also.

Mrs. Kathrine Hawley and her daughter, Dorothy Eismann, spent the week-end at Bay Village, Ohio, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kramer. Miss Isabel Barthel accompanied them to Vermilion, where she remained to spend a week-end with a brother, Frank Barthel, and family, and then returned home with the Chelsea ladies Sunday evening.

United Memorial Services will be conducted at the Methodist church next Sunday morning from 10 to 11. Rev. P. H. Grabowski will deliver the sermon. The choir of the Methodist church will present music in line with the occasion, accompanied by Fred Thompson. Rev. Orville W. Morrow is chairman of the meeting and Rev. Wm. H. Skeltonbury will read the Scripture.

Reverend Morrow, speaking of this annual occasion, said "This union service next Sunday has long standing in this community. It is a most fitting way for a Christian community to carry on in order to perpetuate the rich and meaningful memory of those faithful people who sacrificed their lives for the freedom of this nation. It instills in our hearts nobility in our citizenship. It causes us to thoughtfully and prayerfully beseech the favor and guidance of our Divine Heavenly Father who overrules in this nation and in all nations."

"Next Sunday, at 10 a.m.," he continued, "how right it shall be for children, youth, and adults to throng the house of prayer to really remember the cost of this country's liberty and peace. How excellent for us to so participate knowing that we of this day are uniting to perpetuate a practice that has kept us in humble gratitude for all that has been done for us as a people and to pass on so well-meaning a custom for God and country."

Welcome is extended to all interested persons.

At this service members of the three participating churches, Congregational, St. Paul's, Evangelical and Reformed, and Methodists are asked to bring their usual offerings which will be turned over to the treasurers, respectively, of their own churches.

American Legion Poppy Day Sale To Be Saturday

Millions of Americans will wear bright red poppies Saturday to honor the memory of America's dead in the two world wars. Women of the American Legion Auxiliary will be on the streets here early in the morning with baskets of the memorial flowers to pin on the coats of passers-by.

More than 35 million crepe paper poppies have been made for the Auxiliary by disabled veterans for this year's observance of Poppy Day, according to Mrs. Paul Maroney of the Auxiliary.

Employment for thousands of disabled veterans confined to hospitals or unable to do other work has been provided by the Auxiliary's poppy-making program. The work has given these men the encouraging experience of earning money again and has filled empty hospital days with interesting, beneficial activity.

Poppies to be distributed here have been made at Veteran hospitals where patients have worked in their beds and in the occupational therapy shop. The flowers are life-like replicas of the European wild poppy which Col. John McCrae, Canadian medical officer, made into the war memorial flower of the English-speaking world with his poem which begins:

In Flanders fields the poppies blow

NEIGHBORS AND THEIR TRACTORS lined up with Spencer Boyce as they made ready for a wholesale attack on the Boyce fields in preparation for planting Boyce's corn crop last Wednesday. Robert Shanahan (at left), organized the "bee" as a neighborly gesture to Boyce who was injured in the woods several weeks ago. Others in the picture are Howard Boyce, Arthur O'Connor, Duane Noah, Robert Boyce, George Goodwin, Lawrence Shanahan and Spencer Boyce. Boyce's sister, Mrs. Mary Clark, who lives at the family home with him, prepared and served a hearty dinner to the workers. With some of the men working Saturday and others on Monday of the previous week, they also sowed oats for Boyce. A similar "bee" with 16 tractors in operation, was held this week Tuesday at the Walter Eschelbach farm. Eschelbach has a foot in a cast following injuries received two weeks ago in a tractor accident while preparing to sow oats.

Library Board Wonders About Wisdom of Continuing Local Lecture Series

"Should the lecture series be continued?" is one of the problems facing the Library Board. Originally undertaken as part of the adult education program, the series is now self-sustaining only with the addition of gifts from interested persons; hence, the question of its continuation appears.

A good library program is more than the abundance of reading and reference material made available to the public, according to spokesmen on the Library Board. A

Mrs. Andrew Leland, den mother of Cub Scouts Den No. 11, and Mrs. G. L. Staffan, who has been her assistant, were hostesses for an outing Friday evening. The affair was in the nature of a farewell party as Mrs. Leland is resigning and Mrs. Staffan will take over the duties of den mother for the remaining few weeks until the Cubs become Scouts.

The outing included a visit to the U. of M. museum; movies at Kellogg auditorium at the University, depicting scenes in Yucatan and Peru, and a stop at Angell hall observatory where all had an opportunity to view the planets Saturn and Mars through the telescopes. Refreshments concluded the outing.

Those who were in the group were Mrs. Staffan, Mr. and Mrs. Leland, George Staffan, John Howe, Jimmy Geer, Buddy Guest, Richard and Eleanor Leland and Byron Pearson.

BASEBALL . . .

Tuesday's game at Manchester was no contest any way you viewed it, and it saw Chelsea score their largest total of the year in the 19-5 win. The Bulldogs scored in every inning but the second and fifth, and the final score would have been higher undoubtedly except for the fact that Coach Ned Stuits used 17 men in an attempt to keep the score down and let some of the faithful reserves play since they hadn't seen much service this year.

Chelsea's scoring was too often to mention it all blow by blow. They scored one in the first, four in the third, seven in the fourth, two in the sixth-and-five-in-the-seventh. They clubbed out 14 hits and were helped by six Manchester errors.

Manchester collected three hits off Tobin in the six-innings-he toiled and got single runs in the fourth and sixth. Sammy Misalides made his first appearance on the mound in the seventh, but his own wildness and errors, allowed Manchester three runs on no hits. Rhees, Manchester shortstop, got two of the three hits off Tobin, a triple and a single.

In the hitting department for Chelsea, Tobin was the big stick as he pounded out two home runs in four trips to the plate, while Stan, Knickerbocker, got 4 for 5, two of them being doubles, and Crocker collected three singles in four trips.

Tomorrow night the Bulldogs wind up their 1950 schedule with a game under the lights at Dexter. They already hold a victory over the Dreadnaughts this year, a 12-0 decision in their third game of the season.

than Sunday evening each week.

Club and Social Activities

WRC SOCIAL PARTY

Fourteen members and five guests attended the WRC social party held Tuesday evening, May 23, at the home of Mrs. P. M. Broesman.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and games were the evening's diversion.

SHOWER

Joyce Crawford and Marjorie Proctor entertained at a dinner Saturday evening for the pleasure of Marjorie Shelly, who is to be married next month. Following dinner the party of six returned to the Crawford home for a social hour.

The bride-to-be was presented with a gift from the group. Others in the party were Beverly Booker, Marlene Heydlauf, and Thelma Ferguson.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club of Chelsea held its final meeting of the current season on Tuesday evening, May 23. This was an out-of-town supper meeting.

After the business session, Mrs. Warren Daniels showed pictures of the trip she and her husband took early this spring. The pictures showed scenes at Hot Springs, Ark., Texas, Arizona and California, all of which were entertainingly described by Mrs. Daniels. While at Hot Springs, the Daniels met Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Walker and the latter, also a member of the local club, gave a most interesting account at Tuesday's meeting of the methods of administering the mineral baths at the Springs.

An amusing touch to conclude the current year's activities was cleverly worked out with each member receiving as a gift, appropriately wrapped, a left-over article from the recent rummage sale.

At the close of the meeting the retiring president, Miss Mabel Fox, turned the gavel over to the newly-elected president, Mrs. Wallace Franklin.

Private Car Travel

Traffic consultants estimate that in a city of 1,500,000 persons, the citizens pay 120 million dollars each year for private car travel, but only 18 million dollars for motor bus, trackless trolley and street car riding.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS

The Woman's Relief Corps, in keeping with the annual custom, is in charge of arranging bouquets for the decoration of servicemen's graves on Memorial Day. Other service organizations in the community will send representatives to assist in the task of preparing the bouquets. This is to be done Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the Agriculture room at the High school.

WRC spokesmen request that anyone having flowers to contribute will please bring them to the Agriculture room Monday evening.

SHOWER

Mrs. John Dvorak and Mrs. Fred Seeley, Jr., entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of the latter Thursday evening in honor of Betty Piper, a June bride-to-be. Twenty-one guests were present.

HONORED BY GOOD-WILL

Mrs. Adolph Eisen, of Detroit, sister of Miss Lillie Wackenhut and a former Chelsea resident, was honored at the May Day breakfast of the Woman's Association of Good-Will Industries in Detroit as being the only living charter member of the association. Mrs. Eisen is a former president of the association and was made president emerita at the May Day gathering. Copies of the resolution naming Mrs. Eisen to this honor were ordered sent to the members of her family and to the board of directors of the association.

"Spoiling" Children

Although many parents feel that they will "spoil" their children by responding to their slightest wail, an infant under four months or so needs so much close contact with his mother that his demands for handling or rocking should never be brushed aside. A sick baby, or one who has been hard to nourish properly, needs all the satisfaction and comfort possible.

'Soil Surgeon' Says Seedbed-Making Boon Performs Multiple Work, Cuts Time in Half

A new, efficient device for producing finer, smoother seedbeds is the "Soil Surgeon" now on the market.

Designed for use in a plowed field only, the device does the combined work of a double-disc, spiked-toothed harrow and a float—and manufacturers declare it gives the farmer a finer, smoother seedbed in half the ordinary time.

The exclusive use of the soil surgeon after plowing does not turn up dormant weed seeds or plowed-under vegetation, thus giving a cleaner growing crop and richer soil. It levels the ground, fills all air pockets, and seals the moisture.

in 12 Weeks!

A baby chick will increase its hatching-weight 2900% in the first 12 weeks. At 6 to 8 weeks of age it's still growing at a tremendous rate. That's why it's so important to feed Larro Chick Builder straight through this entire period of rapid growth.

In the Larro Pullet Plan, there is no change to a lower protein growing mash—no chance of a nutritional set back that can cause poorly developed egg-making ability when the pullets are housed.

Don't gamble future egg profits to save a few cents on feed! Follow the Larro plan right through. Start chicks right—build better layers. Get the facts and you'll get Larro. Come in now.

CHEM EXCURSION

On senior skip-day the remaining five pupils in the chemistry class unexpectedly "took off" for Murder Mountain. The class piled into Mr. Benjamin's car at the beginning of third hour.

From the top of the mountain much of the surrounding area could be seen—Clear, Pond Lily, Sugar Loaf and Lehman Lakes—and the towers from Cement City, Jackson and Ann Arbor.

The purpose of this excursion was to obtain sample rocks for analysis later on in class. Mr. Benjamin convinced the group that Murder Mountain was formed by glacier many thousands of years ago.

The sixth grade is planning a day when they will invite all the sixth graders from the Pumpkin college, Sylvan Center and Riemenschneider schools to visit them. The class has planned a special program.

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

On Eighth-Grade Day, May 17, 28 pupils from other schools came for the day.

After Mr. Johnson and Mr. Cameron had talked to the group the pupils visited second- and third-hour classes. Then everyone went to the athletic field for lunch.

After lunch the group played softball. In the evening a supper was furnished by the present eighth graders. Then the present seventh grade gave a dancing party in the gym from 7 to 10. The eighth graders wish to thank the seventh grade for giving the dance.

Rural Tele-news

CHAMPION—Even if a champion caller could shout loud enough to talk to a person in California, it would take his voice about 2 hours and 40 minutes to reach there. When you talk between Michigan and California by telephone, your voice travels the distance in a tiny fraction of a second. And it can be heard as well as though you were face-to-face with a person out there.

THE FEWER THE BETTER—No more than 8 parties on all rural lines is Michigan Bell's goal. But to reach it will require lots more equipment and facilities. Money to pay for those facilities must come from investors, who will put their savings in the telephone business only when it's earning a reasonable profit. So, it's a good thing rural telephone customers to have Michigan make a fair profit.

THERE'S COMFORT IN CALLING—The daughter of an Upper Peninsula farmer, attending a Michigan college, was taken ill and ordered to the hospital. Her roommate notified her family. The farmer and his wife, naturally, were worried. But they solved the problem by having the roommate call them Long Distance "collect" each evening. That way, they kept tabs on their daughter's condition until she was well again. Freedom from worry is worth many times what a Long Distance call costs.

U-M "Small" Despite Size, Student Says

Jack Edman (inset) is a senior at the University of Michigan from Oxford, Mich. He is pictured against the newest map of the campus. Although he came to the University from one of Michigan's smaller communities, Jack declares he has never felt "lost" among 21,000 students. He cites an eight-point plan which keeps the University decentralized despite its rapid post-war growth.

Ann Arbor—There's no feeling of being "lost" among 21,000 students on the University of Michigan campus, according to the president of the senior class in the University's School of Business Administration.

Jack R. Edman feels he is qualified to speak objectively about the over-all size of the University since he came to the campus from Oxford, a town of 2,144 in the northern portion of Oakland county.

"Each student quickly fits into his own segment of the University isomorph as the educational process is concerned and becomes more or less unaware of the throngs of students around the campus," Edman contends. "The exception, of course, comes in attendance at athletic events, but in the everyday attendance at classes the total size of the student body is rarely felt."

Like many another student who has enrolled at the University, Jack came with a warning from his high school teachers that the Michigan faculty would provide him with a real test of his ability to learn. Jack accepted this as a challenge and has found that a proper diligence in study has made it possible for him to more than meet the standards.

Just how does the University manage to keep each student from being acutely aware of the rapid post-war growth? Jack believes it is accomplished as follows:

1. Divide the educational offerings into 14 schools and colleges plus some allied institutes. The largest units in turn divide themselves into departments.
2. Provide an orientation and counseling system for new students. The orientation program makes the new student fully acquainted with the campus and the counseling system gives both freshmen and sophomores a chance for individual attention on the subjects to take and in solving any problems that might arise.
3. Provide special counseling for juniors and seniors, including advice on the choice of occupations.
4. Provide living accommodations for freshmen in University managed residence halls. In addition to providing companionship with youths of similar ages, the residence halls supply additional counseling and help in forming good study habits.
5. Provide opportunities for additional friendships through membership in fraternities and sororities.
6. Limit the size of classes in the freshman years. For example, classes in freshman English range in size from 16 to 25 with an average enrollment of 22. The smaller classes permit a considerable degree of individual attention by the instructor for each student. The University hopes also to reduce the sizes of many of the upper classes.
7. Provide a student health service to give good medical attention for the students, thereby making available additional personal attention.
8. Encourage an extensive program of student activities, including religious organizations. This provides still more ways for students to make new acquaintances.

"Combine all of these and the effect is to achieve many of the advantages of the smaller college amidst an environment of great scholars and a strong educational stimulus for all students," Jack asserts.

Union Pension Plans No Substitute for Social Security, U. of M. Prof. States

Ann Arbor—Union pension plans are not substitutes for a sound national social security program, according to William Haber, professor of economics at the University of Michigan.

Practically all shortcomings of collective bargaining pensions can be avoided by a public retirement program, the economist writes in the May issue of the "Michigan Business Review." Current social security provisions are inadequate, he states, but House of Representatives Bill 6090 offers substantial improvements.

Pensions established through collective bargaining should supplement social security payments, Professor Haber contends.

Six major problems are presented by private pension plans, he pointed out:

- (1) Collective bargaining plans tend to immobilize the labor force by tying workers to security benefits. A certain amount of changing from one job to another is healthy for industry as well as the workers, he says. An adequate national pension program would continue to keep the working force mobile.

(2) On the average, 26 years have been added to the life of Americans and in 1949 Americans, on the average, live to the age of 69.

"Our objective ought to be to increase employment opportunities for older people. Any policies which are likely to induce early retirement or to 'compel' retirement will lead to a reduction in the national income and in our ability to finance the cost of pensions which, in the final analysis, come out of production," Professor Haber says.

(3) Collective bargaining pensions may discourage the hiring of older workers because of the greater pension liability an employer would have to assume.

(4) Many pension plans are financially unsound and the actual amount of security they provide is questionable. "The 'promise' to pay can be made good only if the firm is still in existence and making profits."

(5) Some funded pension plans might consume a great part of corporations' working capital. Such funded plans present an investment problem of finding sound securities for pension reserves, the University professor believes.

(6) Workers in marginal industries or where labor organizations are weak will not be covered by collective bargaining pension plans. Professor Haber believes that as many as three-fourths of the workers of this country will be in this group.

All these problems can be overcome through a widened national social security plan, Professor Haber writes.

The "Michigan Business Review" is published quarterly by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Michigan School of Business Administration.

'Wolverine State' Is a Misnomer, Says Wayne University Biologist

Wayne University coeds, Betty Schumacher (left) of Plymouth, and Ruth Swatek, of Grand Haven, admire the wolverines at the Detroit Zoological Park. The spectators are separated from the two curious animals, not by obscuring bars, but by a protecting moat, just beyond the grassy bank.

If Michigan is the "Wolverine State", someone had better tell the wolverines.

According to Dr. Charles W. Creaser, chairman of the Wayne University biology department, there are no wolverines living wild in Michigan, and there is even some question as to whether a wolverine ever was a voluntary resident of the state.

Shunning the state which gave them fame, the wolverines chose for their home the rough, barren country further north, though their cousins of the weasel family, the martens, found Michigan's pine forests to their liking. It is the Arctic and sub-Arctic regions of Canada, Scandinavia, and Russia, and the Black Forest of Germany, which wolverines prefer.

European naturalists refer to the namesake of our state as "gluttons", and well they may. With appetites never satisfied, wolverines dig animals from the earth to devour them, greedily eat the kill of other creatures as vultures do, steal bait from snares, and devour trapped animals.

A full-grown wolverine, about the size of a small Airedale, has coarse, dark fur, with occasional yellowish-white chest spots. Its color and bushy tail give the wolverine an attractive appearance, which belies its personality. Actually the beast is snarling and ill-tempered, with a nasty disposition.

Few wolverines have been captured alive and kept under observation, Dr. Creaser says. One of the few live exhibits of the animals in the Midwest is to be found at the Detroit Zoological Gardens, often visited by Wayne biological students.

Police Are Checking Bad Brakes

Cars being driven on the streets of Chelsea in unsafe mechanical condition were cited today by Village Police as the target of the State Safety Commission's May program of traffic safety education.

"Keeping your car in good, safe repair," the police said, "is very similar to keeping your teeth in good condition. Everyone agrees that it is important, but when it comes to having a check-up it is far too easy to delay the inspection until it feels like there might be something wrong."

That "something" when it comes down to the maintenance of your car, according to the police, may result in a brake, light, or steering failure that could send you to the hospital—or worse.

Of the 28,500 accidents that resulted in one or more deaths in 1948, police said, "an unsafe vehicle was involved in about 3,700 of them. That amounts to about 13 per cent of the total fatal accidents."

The State Safety Commission has its slogan during this May program of traffic safety education, "Police Are Checking Brakes." The project is sponsored on a national scale by the National Safety Council and the activities of the program in Chelsea are being coordinated by the Chelsea Police Department.

"Unsafe car condition," police said, "is extremely dangerous even when no other factor is involved. Couple bad brakes or an out-of-alignment steering mechanism with speed too fast for conditions and you have all the ingredients of an accident—a bad one!"

Check today for such weaknesses as brakes that are not equalized, fail to hold, or that must be jammed to the floor board; headlights that are aimed too high, too low, or are cock-eyed; and for tires with cuts and fabric breaks that might blow out at any time.

As the State Safety Commission and the National Safety Council put it: "The safer your car . . . the safer YOU are!"

Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seitz were Mrs. Lydia Zahn and Charles Zahn of Freedom township, Mr. and Mrs. George Herter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fiegl, Fred Zahn and Miss Clara Zahn, of Lodi township, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kleinschmidt, of Saline, and their son, Walter, of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Visel and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kern and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Taylor and daughters, all of Saline; and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Drow and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Partott, of Detroit. Sunday evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Visel and daughter, of near Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Katie Schlee and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herter and son, of Lodi. Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stierle, of Ann Arbor, were callers.

Nourishing Desserts Build Family Health Just as Other Foods

AS DESSERT at your home something that's used just as a filler, to take up that empty space at the close of a none too hearty meal?

Or, is it well designed to do its share of assuming some of the nutrients should belong in the balanced diet?

If you can't answer the question, then look to the desserts of the past week. If they were all starchy foods lacking in fruit or berries, milk and eggs, they are not being planned with the health of the family in mind.

It's all very well to serve cakes and pies, but desserts should also include plenty of fruits and milk and eggs to be truly health-building. When youngsters skip their milk, refuse their eggs or turn thumbs down on breakfast fruits, include these in luncheon and dinner desserts.

HOMEMAKERS WHO SAY these are not interesting desserts should take a look at the side of health building dessert recipes in today's column. They're tops in appetite appeal and just as high in vitamins, proteins and minerals.

Candied Fruit Cup (Serves 4-6)
3 to 4 oranges
1 cup crushed pineapple
1/4 cup broken candy minis

Add candy minis to pineapple. Chill together. Section oranges removing all membranes. Like dessert—dishes with orange sections and place pineapple-candy mixture in center. Serve chilled.

Orange Custard (Serves 6-8)
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup sugar

hour or until firm. Serve with partly frozen whipped cream.
Toasted Pears (Serves 6)
6 large fresh pears
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup melted butter
2 1/2 cups corn flakes

Sauce:
1/4 cup confectioners' sugar
1 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Peel, halve and core pears. Dip at once into lemon juice in which sugar has been dissolved. Dip in melted butter. Roll in crushed corn flakes. Arrange cut side up on a shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°-375°) for 20 to 25 minutes, or until pears are tender but not soft. To make lemon cream sauce, beat confectioners' sugar into the sour cream and flavor with lemon juice.

Fruit Marlow (Serves 6)
1/2 pound marshmallows, quartered
1 cup strong hot coffee
1 cup whipped cream
1 1/2 cups fruit cocktail, drained

Dissolve marshmallows in coffee in top of double boiler. Cool until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in whipped cream and drained fruit cocktail. Pour into sherbet glasses and chill.

Caramel Baked Apples (Serves 6-8)
6-8 medium apples
1/4 cup seedless raisins
3 tablespoons enriched flour
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
1/4 cup water
1/2 cup orange juice

Wash apples and core. Pare about one strip around top. Place in deep baking dish. Fill centers with raisins. Combine flour, sugar and cinnamon. Cut in butter with pastry blender or fork. Add walnuts. Sprinkle crumb mixture over apples. Pour over water and orange juice. Bake uncovered in moderate oven (350°) one hour, basting occasionally. Serve with cream.

Apricot-Marshmallow Betty (Serves 6-8)
1 pound (3 cups) quartered dried apricots, cooked
5 cups toasted white bread cubes
1 pound (about 16) marshmallows, quartered
1 cup liquid from apricots
1 1/4 teaspoons grated lemon peel
2 tablespoons lemon juice
3 tablespoons butter

Alternate layers of apricots, bread cubes and marshmallows in greased 6x10-inch baking dish. Top layer should be bread cubes. Heat apricot juice to boiling; add lemon peel and juice and butter; pour over. Bake uncovered in moderate oven (350°) about 35 minutes. Note: Add four cups water to dried apricots, cover, simmer tender.

Stewed pears will take on a festive touch if you serve them with chilled custard and then top with meringue, browned until golden. Mix some herbs with bread or cracker crumbs before breading veal or other meats.

Fried sausages are just as good with fried pears as with apples. Fry the pears in the sausage drippings just as you would the apples. Smart garnish for a fish dinner: tiny red beets, cooked and chilled, served in salted sour cream.

Why "Moose" Changed His Mind

Last week, parents were calling Moose Jackson on the phone—and kids were hooting at him in the streets. All because Moose fenced in his field near the depot, where the kids like to play ball.

Moose got sore the way folks acted—refused to budge. Then Doc Sherman, who likes to play center-field himself sometimes, decided to "use a little psychology."

Over a friendly glass of beer at Andy's Garden Tavern, Doc says, "Sorry this came up, Moose. We were thinking of asking you to umpire—what with your professional experience and all." (Moose used to play a little semi-pro ball.)

That did it! Next day Moose put up a stile over his fence. In return, the kids promised not to cause any damage. From where I sit, when you try to understand the other fellow's point of view—like his personal preference for beer or coffee—and then take into consideration the will of the majority, why, things seem to go better all around.

Memorial Day Is Aftermath Of Civil War

OUT OF THE GREAT STRUGGLE between the union of the states and the southern Confederacy has come Memorial day—the most reverent of all American holidays.

Memorial day originated in the south, when the ladies of the Confederacy brought flowers to the graves of both Union and Confederate soldiers.

Later, in 1888, General Logan, national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, set aside May 30 for honoring those who died in the war between the states.

During the 61 years that followed General Logan's inauguration of Memorial day, the ranks of dead comrades have swelled to include the fallen soldiers of all wars. Gradually the custom has extended to include all graves, and Memorial day now is not only a day of patriotic commemoration, but of personal and family dedication as well.

Although Memorial day is a legal holiday in most of the United States and its possessions, it is not universally celebrated on May 30. Southern states, with the exception of Virginia, have their own days for honoring the dead. Memorial day is observed on April 29 by Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi, and on May 10 in North and South Carolina. Memorial day in Louisiana and Tennessee is June 3.

Like most of our holidays, a part of Memorial day can be traced to ancient times. Solenn rites called "Zoa" were performed over graves in ancient Greece, and the Romans had a similar feast called "Parentalia." Flowers which bloomed on the graves were believed to be an omen that the soul of the deceased had found peace in the next life.

Other countries have days set aside to honor their dead. French cemeteries bloom with flowers on "Jour des Morts," and the Roumanians remember their dead on the "Eve of the Trinity." In the East Indies and parts of China, graves are decorated on a special day called "Ching Ming," or "Festival of the Ghosts."

The Chelsea Girl Scout Council meeting was held at 1:30 Thursday afternoon in the Municipal building with the president, Mrs. Lyman Walker, presiding. Mrs. Jo Fowler, camp chairman, announced that tuna fish cans, one-pound coffee cans and large potato chip cans are being sought for use at the camp.

It was also announced at the meeting that a day camp training meeting is to be held June 22 at Ypsilanti and on Friday, June 23 there is to be a Camp Board supper at Cedar Lake camp which all Girl Scout workers are invited to attend. The supper will be potluck and will begin at 7 p.m.

The Court of Awards, originally scheduled for June 9, has been postponed.

On Saturday, June 17, the pre-camp opening at Cedar Lake will take place. Anyone interested may attend and remain overnight. Council members announced.

Last week the girls scouts finished their First Aid badge by having a review of some of the things they learned. They divided off into groups of four. Each group picked one of the girls for a victim and cared for her. The scouts greatly appreciated Mrs. Calhoun's help with their badge.

It was decided not to hold a Court of Awards in June. Instead we are going to hold a picnic for the whole family.

Mrs. Edmund Kayser has invited us out to her house for Saturday, June 3. We all were very glad to accept the invitation.

Need License
To Care for Children

Because many people do not understand that they must obtain a license if they wish to care for unrelated children in their homes the Washtenaw County Children's Services, operating under the direction of the Michigan State Department of Social Welfare has released the following state:

"It is necessary for all persons who care for children unrelated to them, either for day or full time boarding care, to have their homes licensed by the State Department of Social Welfare. This is in accordance with Act 47, Public Acts of Michigan, 1944 (first extra session)."

Any person who opens his home to one or more minor children not related to him, for periods of four hours or more per day, for two consecutive weeks or more, is considered to be operating a boarding home for which it is necessary to obtain a license. There is no charge for this license.

At that time to be done is to make application for such license to the Washtenaw County Children's Services, 304 North Huron, Ypsilanti, Michigan. The telephone number is Ypsilanti 5388.

Boarding homes must meet certain requirements as to cleanliness, sanitation and comfort as well as character, habits, health and reputation of members of the family who wish to board minor children.

The law is not entirely new, having been in effect since 1913 as a licensing law. The present form of the law is in force since the 1944 passage.

Its sole purpose is protection of the welfare of all minor children who cannot be cared for in their own homes. Minor children, for purposes of this law, are children up to 17 years of age.

"YOU HARDLY KNOW THE ROAD IS THERE!"

You won't be the first to say that—not by a long shot.

One of the first things you notice, when you step from another make of car into Buick, is the wonderful difference in the Buick ride.

There are good technical reasons, if they interest you...

Soft coil springs all around, the gentlest type of spring man knows how to make.

A stout torque-tube, acting like the husky keel of a battleship to steady the whole carriage.

Low-pressure tires on wide,
Safety-Ride rims, that stop heel-over and sway on curves.

Firm, sure, quick-acting shock
absorbers, promptly snubbing
the after-bounce of the bigger bumps.

The important thing is what these all add up to.

Freedom at last from jounce and jiggle. A level, floating, road-free passage over almost any kind of road, with even the worst of them tamed and gentled as never before.

Add Fireball power to all this
—the roominess of wide, deep seats—the lightness of Buick controls and the liquid silkiness of Dynaflo Drive*—and you have a car just too good to miss.

Come try one, won't you? Your Buick dealer will be delighted to demonstrate without obligation —delighted to show you that if you can afford a new car, you probably can afford a Buick.

SAWFLY LARVAE HATCHING.
Reports have just been received from two sources that the pine sawfly larvae (Neodiprion sertifer) are beginning to hatch. It might be advisable to be on the look-out for this insect according to Ray E. Pfeifer, Washtenaw county Farm Forester, who reports that they will be found feeding on red, Jack, and Scotch pine. Early control can be handled by hand spraying with lead arsenate or DDT (5 per cent), in case the owners are interested.

Poor Risks
Chicks suffering from parasitic diseases and nutritional disorders are poor risks for vaccination. For this reason, the condition of the flock should be investigated before vaccination is attempted. The advice applies to all four poultry diseases against which vaccines have been developed: fowl pox, laryngotracheitis, Newcastle disease, and infectious bronchitis.

The American Way

The words "Michigan" and "fishing" are practically synonymous at this time of the year. And after an exciting day's fishing, it's the "American Way" to enjoy a glass of cool, refreshing Michigan brewed beer to top off the day.

For beer is the kind of beverage Americans like. It belongs... to pleasant living, to good fellowship, to sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it, this too, belongs... to our own American heritage of personal freedom. Beer Belongs... Enjoy It
