Washington

EVERYTHING that has happened in Washington recently has been tempered or stepped-up by the war in Korea. Most significant was the shelving of the tax bill by the senate which would have slashed excise taxes by about a billion dollars and the unanimous endorsement by the house foreign affairs committee of the administration's full request for $1.2 billion dollar arms aid program for nations resisting Communism.

But in the face of President Truman's request for an appropriation of $99 million for a new "campaign of truth" against Communism throughout the world, the senate by a 23 to 83 vote—well over a two-thirds majority—voted down a fund bill for the Voice of America program.

Except for the vote on FEPC, the backbone of the President's civil rights program was defeated by a southern-Democrat-Republican coalition. It appeared that the Democrats were drawing nearer together on party unity than the Republicans on the basis of test votes. These votes showed the Democrats were standing together on an average of 82 per cent of the time while the GOP minority showed only 72 per cent party regularity.

While there was some criticism of the administration and the President from sources whence criticism would come in any eventuality, among the responsible leaders on both sides of the political fence there is almost unanimity in support of the President and his stand on the Korean question. Unfortunately, this does not include the two principal leaders of the GOP in the senate, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who heads the GOP policy committee, and Senator Kenneth Wherry, the senate GOP floor leader.

Had this country defaulted on its given word as did Russia in Korea, then probably the Soviet puppet North Korean government would never have dared to invade the Southern Korean Republic beyond the 38th parallel. But this nation has a reputation for keeping its word with other nations and, insofar as Korea and the United Nations were concerned, we promised that once the South Korean republic was established under a national plebiscite for self-government, we would withdraw our army of occupation at a given time. We kept our promise, leaving the South Koreans approximately a billion dollars worth of war equipment, arms and ammunition.

From a military standpoint this country cannot throw into the Korean front the men and materials necessary to hold in check the teeming millions in Japan. The alternative is to rush these men and arms from Pearl Harbor and from continental United States which is 7,000 miles away. In the meantime we are fighting only delaying actions in Korea until we build up an invasion force, and that takes time.

Neither can this nation, according to proposals advocated by some senators, such as Homer Capehart, Republican of Indiana, recruit a Japanese army, nor use the divisions offered by the Chinese Nationalist government. To do so would be open invitations for a Russian and Chinese Red invasion of Japan.

In the meantime, although President Truman has declared there is no necessity for instituting rationing, some sections of the country are starting a hoarding drive and are buying up food stuffs, tires, batteries, and other commodities expected to be in short supply. As a matter of fact, there is no indication that these supplies will be in short supply and the only factor that will make them short is this same practice of hoarding.

As one official in the Pentagon remarked, "Suppose I went out and bought up a set of extra tires. One thing is certain, if rationing and priorities are necessary, then gasoline will be among the first. Then where would I go on my new tires?"

As this is written President Truman was expected to go before the American people and tell them exactly the position this country holds in the Korean situation and what is to be expected from the home front.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

*Elijah, a Courageous Prophet.
Lesson for August 6: 1 Kings 18: 30-35.*

Memory Selection: 1 Kings 18:21
ELIJAH THE TISHBITE came out of the hills of Gilead, of race and parentage not known, to confront Ahab, the king of Israel, in his wickedness. Ahab had married the notorious Jezebel, daughter of Sidon's king. She was a patron of Baal and through her influence the worship of Jehovah almost ceased in Israel.

After three years of drought, sent by Jehovah, a crisis came. Elijah led Ahab, the priests of Baal, and a host of people to the top of Carmel for a test between Baal and Jehovah. It was agreed that he who answered by fire would be declared God. The priests of Baal called upon him from morning until noon, when Elijah mocked them, and then into the afternoon, but no answer came. Then Elijah repaired the broken altar of God, laid the wood and the bullock thereon, and then called upon the name of Jehovah. The fire fell, consumed the bullock and the altar and licked up the water in the trench. And all the people fell on their faces and declared Jehovah to be God.

The test on Carmel and all the ministry of Elijah may well serve as a temperance lesson. The prophet came on the scene when the nation was sodden in iniquity, denounced the people for their sins and urged them to return to Jehovah. Like Elijah, we must realize and acknowledge the many evils of our time.

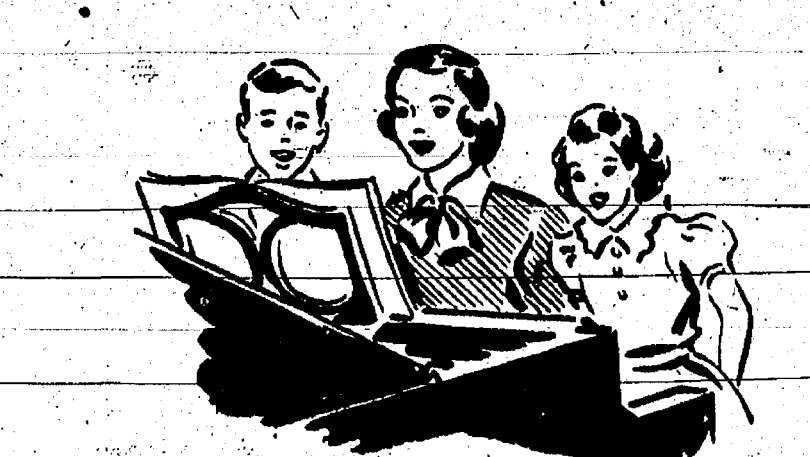

The "peavey" one of the most useful of logging tools, was invented in 1855 by Joseph Peavey, a Stillwater, Main, blacksmith.

...and no hot water

It's time to replace the old hand-lighted water heater with a gas AUTOMATIC that never lets you run out of hot water day or night.

You'll save time, temper and all those trips to the basement to light the heater and turn it off again.

You'll save gas, because the insulated tank keeps the water hot longer. You'll save gas, because it turns off automatically when the tank is full of hot water. And the new, improved burners heat water faster with less gas — no lime-encrusted coils to retard heating.

Replace your old heater with an automatic gas water heater — see your dealer, plumber or the Gas Company.

A News Flash!

—Five Years Ago
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—President Truman and Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson announced development of an atomic bomb revolutionizing warfare and the first use today against Hiroshima, Japan, when one of the bombs was dropped. "An impenetrable cloud of dust and smoke" masked the target. The bomb was more powerful than 2,000 tons of TNT, more than 2,000 times the blast power of the largest British blockbuster. Size of the bomb and its carrier were not indicated. Truman says even more powerful forms are in production. 3

The table, where the bride-to-be and her party were seated, was centered with a huge flower-decked umbrella and a complete bridal party composed of life-like 20-inch dolls representing a bride and groom and their attendants.

Married Day Evening

MR. and MRS. ROBERT GROSS

In a candlelight ceremony at St. Paul's church at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, Joanne O'Dell became the bride of Robert Paul Gross, son of Mrs. Ella Gross, of Lima Center and Frank Gross of Manchester. Rev. P. H. Grabowski officiated in the presence of approximately 125 guests. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Dell.

Before the ceremony, Paul F. Niehaus sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." The organ accompaniment was played by Carl Mayer.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of white satin and Spanish lace, fashioned with a bodice of the satin trimmed at the shoulders with lace-trimmed folds of the material. The full skirt was finished with a train of tiered lace extending from the waistline. Her lace-trimmed veil of illusion was held in place with a lace bonnet trimmed with seed pearls. She carried white roses and ivy arranged in a bouquet finished with white satin streamers.

Judy Vermeulen of Grass Lake, as the bride's only attendant, wore a gown of mint green organza over taffeta, styled with a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves and tiers of the material from the waistline to hem at the back to match the style of the bride's gown. Her bouquet was of white carnations and ivy finished with mint green ribbon. She wore matching mitts and a picture hat.

Donald O'Dell and Carl O'Dell, brother and cousin of the bride, respectively, were the ushers while Leroy May was best man.

A reception was held in the church hall immediately after the ceremony. Mrs. Frank Gross, Jr., of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Raymond Parsons poured and Mrs. Marion Dietz cut the cake. Marjorie Proctor was in charge of the guest book.

Following a week's trip to northern Michigan, the couple will be at home, after Aug. 7, at 232 South street.

For going away the bride wore a pink dressmaker's suit. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of white roses from her bride's bouquet.

For the wedding the bride's mother wore navy with white accessories, while Mrs. Gross was in pink with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

The bride and bridegroom are graduates of Chelsea High school. She is now employed in the office at the Federal Screw Works, and he is with the Michigan Moulded Plastics company of Dexter.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride included a miscellaneous shower given by Judy Vermeulen, Mae Slane and Mrs. Marion Dietz at the home of Mrs. G. May; another by Mrs. Ruth Schiller, Mrs. Raymond Parsons and Mrs. Frank Gross, Jr., at the Schiller home, and one by Mrs. Hershel O'Dell, aunt of the bride.

Television is not only serving to keep the family at home together, but it's revolutionizing the way we live.

American living room furniture dealers are enjoying their biggest boom in years.

And furniture designers are having a hay-over the new designs for the TV living room. Now there's a chair with a snap-on tray for Pop when he can't leave the boxing matches for dinner. There's an easy-sit glasscock for Mom, for quick watches between busy household tasks. And for Junior, they've designed a Hobby horse chair, so he can get his exercise right along with Hopalong Cassidy. So . . . thanks to TV the American parlor is really getting LIVED IN. And that's pointing in a mighty good direction.

We know a little girl who refuses to go to the movies unless her parents let her she's going to see Television. My how things have changed. One thing sure . . . there's never any change in the quality of our television service . . . and our line of sets. We have a fine selection of Westinghouse 16-inch screen sets. They're tops in quality and reception! We give expert follow-through and installation service. So NOW'S the time to call on CHELSEA APPLIANCES, 115 Park St. Phone: 3063.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mary V. Kensen of Defiance, O.: "I remember when I was a girl I used to get up at 3 a.m. on Mondays to do the laundry for a family of eight. The washing was done on a washboard and the ironing was done with a hand-iron. I took several days as everything was started in those days. Every morning I made all the beds, cleaned and dusted the house, baked the bread, cakes and pies, cooked and served all the meals, washed all the dishes, scrubbed the kitchen floor and board sidewalks and outside toilets, answered the doorbell and minded the kids. He only one afternoon off a week. Earned $1.50 a week."

William R. Stagg,
Register of Probate.

From Mrs. Mary Stewart of Chicago: "I remember when girls pierced their ear lobes by threading a darning needle with silk, holding a bar of laundry soap back of the lobe and pulling the thread through. Several times a day the thread was pulled to keep the hole open. Many times severe infection resulted. It always cleared up without the doctor."

From Mrs. M. L. Davis of Milton, Vt. to Mrs. Mary Stewart: "I remember those once-popular expressions you recalled recently. Here's one you may remember: 'You're big enough to go to meeting barefoot.' It was the first thing to say to some boy who was growing too fast."

From Mrs. Mary Stewart: "When a young man came home with a new hat, it was jokingly referred to as a 'skimmer', a 'katie', a 'beany', a 'sky-pie', a 'bowler', a 'topper' or a 'bandage'."

IS KOREA ANOTHER FEINT?

THE RUSSIANS have 125 army divisions ready for action. They have 350 long range bombers capable of dropping bombs anywhere in the U.S. They have three planes to our one and are manufacturing three to our one. They have about 278 submarines. To oppose a Russian advance across Europe, the French have six divisions, the British one and the Belgians one. In other words, the Russians and their Asiatic allies can walk across western Europe in a few weeks time. When they have done so, the eastern hemisphere will be beyond our help and we will face the world alone.

It does no good to scream about past errors. Current and future errors are what we the people must put a stop to. In the opinion of many we have only one chance to save Europe when and if the Russians decide to march. Maybe we have already lost that chance! We must help the Anti-Communist government of Spain fortify the Pyrenees, build airfields and arm themselves with the most modern equipment. If we can do this in time, the Russians probably won't take the chance of attacking our allies in Europe because the U.S. would have plenty of room and provisions in Spain to assemble its forces and eventually defeat them.

There is a theory that the threat of atomic bombing will deter a Red march to the North sea and Gibraltar. In all probability they would have reached their objective before we could make up our minds to use this type of warfare. What use then to atomize Moscow only to have our own cities destroyed. We still couldn't land troops in Europe. No—they have got to realize that the Spanish and—of necessity—retreating French armies are prepared to hold them at the Pyrenees.

Who is holding up this help to Spain? The great consideration today is self-protection regardless of the feelings of anti-Franco groups. The Russians may be feinting in the east in preparation for the march west.

Larro Calf Builder Grows BIG COWS BIG PRODUCERS!

GRANDDAM	DAM	DAUGHTER
(NOT LARRO-FED)	(LARRO-FED)	(LARRO-FED)
1270 lbs. at 2 years 4 months	1490 lbs. at 2 years 7 months	1720 lbs. at 2 years 10 months

Here's Proof: AN ACTUAL GRANDDAM—DAM—DAUGHTER CASE HISTORY

Look at the increased weight of the Larro-fed second and third generation Holsteins above. That means additional milk because animals with greater roughage capacity can produce more milk. That means the daughter-in-the-above study should produce at least 2500 lbs. more milk than the granddam. That's why profit-wise dairymen raise their calves on Larro "Farm-tested" Calf Builder. They know it develops big, healthy milk producers.

REST FOR THE WARRIOR—During a lull in the bitter exchange of blood and bullets for Korean ground, an exhausted U. S. soldier stretches out on the muddy battlefield upon a makeshift mattress of straw. He'll sleep, with rifle ready for instant use, until the next call to combat against the relentless armored foe.

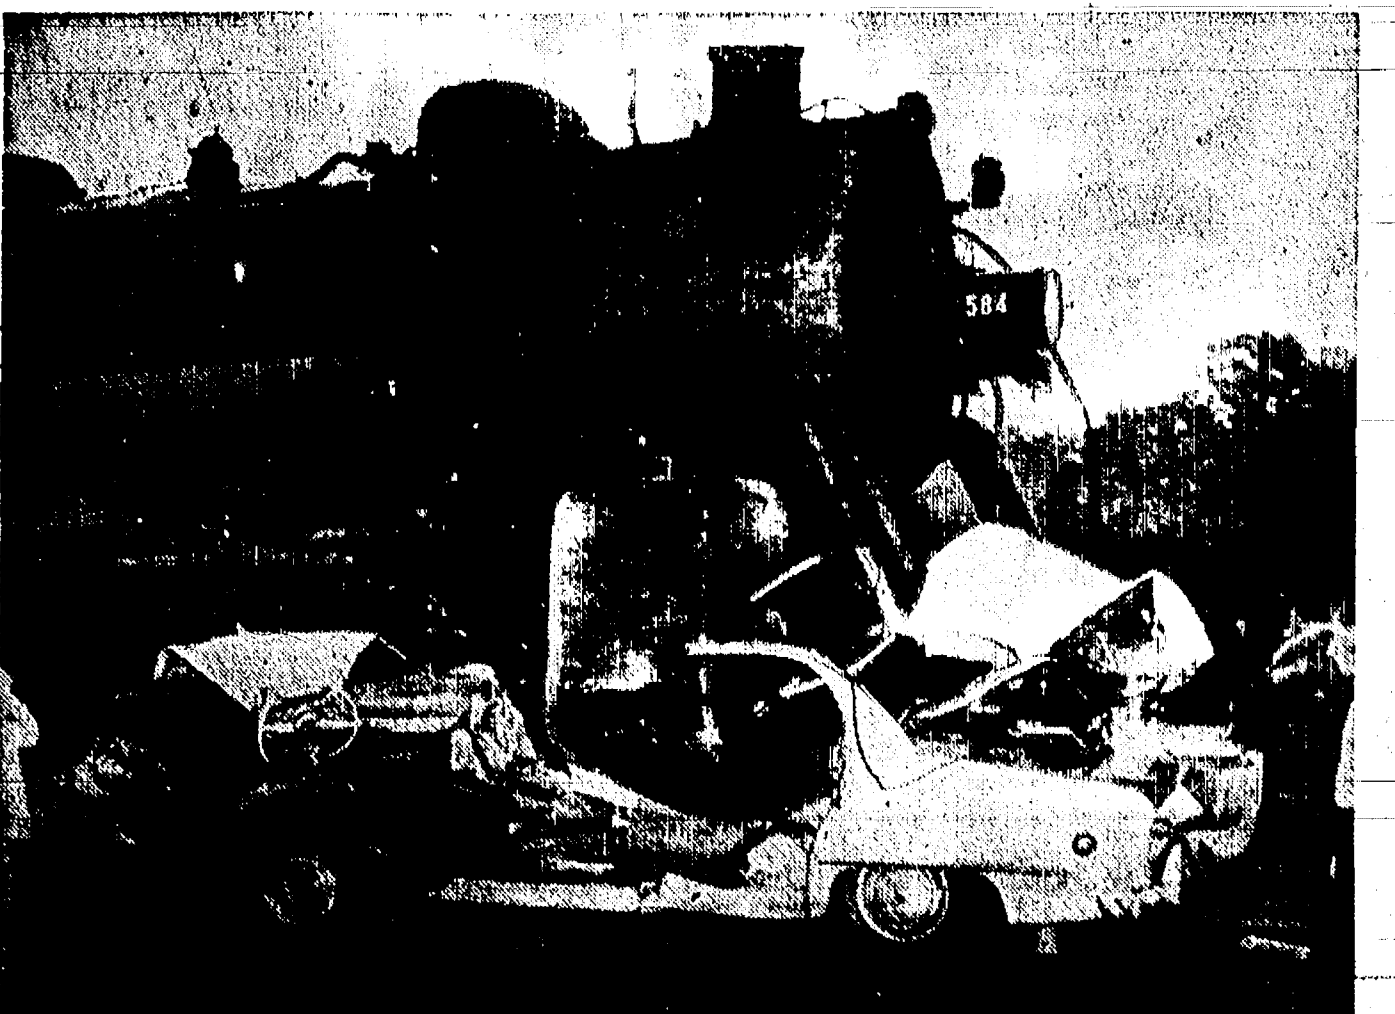

THEIR FAVORITE YANK—Four teen-age youngsters, with ball in hand, converged on Yankee pitcher Ed Lopat in New York's Yankee Stadium. The N. Y. hurler reached for his pen and prepared to autograph the ball but there was no room for his signature. Boys of the Big Brother movement had already penned the baseball, naming Ed their favorite Yankee player residing in New York.

ONE WAY TO FARM—Winston Churchill supervises operations on one of the three farms he owns at Chartwell, England.

"EAR-BANGER"—U. S. mortar crewmen in Korea hold their ears as they send their deadly missiles whistling into enemy lines. At right a communications man checks fire results with an artillery observer up front. Packages of C-rations, familiar to millions of ex-GI's, can be seen in foreground.

DISPUTED PASSAGE... A safety lesson—showing what happens when a car disputes the right-of-way with a train. This auto collided with a New York Central passenger train in Golden Bridge, N.Y., and was dragged 300 feet along the tracks. Andrew Natale, 54, Brooklyn plant manager, and his wife, Lily, 54, were killed. Workmen used acetylene torches to cut the auto from beneath the train, which was delayed about two hours. The motorists were delayed indefinitely.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"I Knew It Must Be A Lot Of Sunk When They Told About Trees Large Enough To Drive A Car Through!"

N. Main Street Bridge Still Is Promised

Village President M. W. McClure was assured last week by officials in the State Highway Department office at Lansing that the North Main street improvement and new bridge construction here is still on the active list of the department.

The assurance was given in a telephone conversation. McClure was told that the matter of letting the contract is now in the "hoppers" of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads at Washington and is being processed as fast as conditions warrant.

Some observers believe present war conditions might hold up the bridge construction if use of steel should be curtailed by the government.

Originally, State Highway officials had expected to start construction of the bridge about last fall, but Federal road authorities would not approve the location downstream as planned by state officials, thus delaying the start of construction work. However, plans have now been approved and letting of the contract awaits action of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

combating Williams if the governor does not come around to their line of thinking.

The above news story from Grand Rapids is quoted as proof that Michigan Democrats, like Michigan Republicans, have their own internal family rows. It is interesting to observe, however, that the charges by Edgcomb—as president of Michigan Truman clubs—were also made by Republicans in the 1949 state campaign for state highway commissioner and state superintendent of public instruction.

We have a hunch that Edgcomb's attack on the ADA will intensify the Republican assault against Williams on the grounds that he is "unduly" influenced by "fifth column" socialists who pose as Democrats. The Detroit Democrat has furnished new ammunition.

Stanley Knickerbocker has returned home from St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, where he had been a patient since injuring his arm three weeks ago.
