THIS WEEK IN Washington

SPECULATION in Washington as a result of bitter partisan debates in the congress has the arm of whether President Truman would veto the proposed control bill and the revised "interim" tax bill and whether or not a "fireside chat" to the people would ease the political pressure on the administration as a result of GOP charges of laxity in pre-Korean war preparations.

Despite charges of administration blunders, whether true or untrue, the barking and "ph-on-hypocrysy" appeared in the deliberations of congress, was tending to hamstring the administration efforts in carrying on the Korean war and defense security and efforts at combating Russian propaganda on the floor of the United Nations security council at Lake Success.

In the name of politics, congress is handing the President a control bill so fraught with restrictions as to make it right impossible at administration. As this is written there was conjecture as to whether or not the President would accept the measure. At the same time, the congress made no secret of its haste to pass the draft law and to get men into military service as fast as possible. It was averse to drafting dollars, business and industry to pay the price in a comprehensive tax bill.

The senate changed radically the controls bill passed by the house, acting on several of scores of the President in administering the emergency measure. One amendment proposed by Sen. John W. Bricker of Ohio makes it mandatory on the part of the President to control wages and prices in all industries and on all commodities if he deems it necessary to control in one industry or one commodity. In other words, if the President and his advisors believed it necessary to control prices on soy beans or automobile wheels to prevent inflation or runaway prices on those two items, it would be necessary for him to institute price and wage controls on everything. Another amendment proposed by Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado specifying that the secretary of commerce should handle the entire allocation and priorities program. The administration wanted it left to the President to decide which agency would handle particular allocations. It appeared likely that at least this Johnson restriction would be stricken out of the bill in conference.

Instead of giving the President authority to regulate speculation of the commodity exchange, the senate adopted an amendment giving the commodity exchange themselves authority to police speculators.

The senate passed the perennial federal highway bill after topping off approximately $359,000,000 in authorizations at the expense of the secondary and urban road program. Total bill authorizations passed by the senate were $1,138,000,000, while the bill passed by the house carried authorization of $1,293,000,000. President Truman had asked the bill to be cut a total of $240,000,000 for the two-year period ending June 30, 1953, but the senate went on to slash $119,000,000 more out of the bill, after completely eliminating a new formula for distribution for roads adjacent to large cities in the inter-state highway system.

As it went to the conference the bill provided authorization for fiscal 1952 and 1953: $225,000,000 for primary roads; $135,000,000 for secondary roads; $112,500,000 for urban roads; and annual expenditures of $40,000,000 for forest highways; $10,000,000 for park roads and trails; $13,000,000 for park ways; $6,000,000 for Indian reservation roads and $5,000,000 for emergency highway repairs and construction; $4,000,000 for the inter-American highway; $10,000,000 for roads to military installations; $5,000,000 for roads on public domain and $3,500,000 for the Tongass forest roads in Alaska.

The motion to slash $130,000,000 from the secondary or farm-to-market road authorization was made by Senators Harry Byrd of Virginia and Styles Bridges of New Hampshire. It remains to be seen whether the appropriations committees will actually furnish the money.

Fight in the emergency tax bill was over an excess profits tax fea-

Lyndon Farm Bureau Picnic Held Sunday

The Lyndon Farm Bureau annual picnic was held at Clear Lake county park Sunday, Sept. 10, with 45 members and friends partaking of a pot-luck dinner at two o'clock. Quite a commotion occurred just before dinner. Five persons had just seated themselves, all at one side of the table, when the table tipped over, spilling food and dishes all over them. Several women suffered bumps and bruises and some dishes were broken.

After the dinner the meeting was called to order by the president, Edward Bradley, for election of officers.

Preceding the election, Mrs. Mary Daniels recited three poems which were greatly enjoyed by her audience.

It was announced that the next regular Farm Bureau meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bradley, 118 North Pleasant street, Jackson Oct. 13.

REV. ROBERT H. HARTER

James, Leader of the Jerusalem Church

Lesson for September 17: Acts 13: 13-20; Galatians 2: 9-12

Memory Selection: James 1: 22

IN THE GREAT CONTRAST between his early and later life, James may remind us of the two preceding lessons. Like Peter and John Mark, James made good in his later life. Jesus had four brothers and at least two sisters. One brother was James. He and others of the family did not at first realize the greatness of their brother. Not until after the resurrection did they become Christians.

James became known as the Just. As head of the mother church in Jerusalem he had the opportunity of making a decision that saved Christianity from being a small Jewish sect. Twenty years had passed since the resurrection. The church in Antioch had some Gentile members. A discussion arose as to whether or not the Jewish rites, still followed by Jewish converts, should be imposed upon Gentiles. The Antioch Church sent Paul and Barnabas to inquire of the mother church in Jerusalem.

James handed down the decision that Jewish rites should not be required of Gentile converts. They were to abstain from pollution of idolatry and gross immorality. Though James never quite overcame his Jewish prejudices, the decision he handed down freed the Christian church to begin its career as a world-wide church.

Let us in our churches today be firm and uncompromising in the fundamentals of our faith, but let us be tolerant in non-essential things.

replace your old hand-lighted water heater with a Gas Automatic

Now is the time to modernize by replacing your old side arm water heater.

Gas will automatically keep your tank full of hot water at all times.

You save gas three ways with a gas automatic water heater. The insulated tank keeps the water hot longer. The gas turns off automatically when the tank is full of hot water. The water heats faster — no lime-encrusted coils to retard heating.

You save, too, all those tiresome basement trips to light the old-fashioned heater and turn it off again.

See your plumber, dealer or the Gas Company. Remember, a GAS automatic water heater costs less to buy, less to install, less to operate.

Kiwanians Converge on Grand Rapids for State Convention

THEODORE H. FENSKE

Chelsea's Kiwanis club will be represented at the 1950 convention of the Michigan Kiwanis district to be held at Grand Rapids Sept. 17 to 20, club president, H. T. Moore announced today. More than 100 clubs, with a total membership of nearly 7,000 business and professional leaders, will send delegates to the four-day meeting.

Delegates who will represent the Kiwanis club of Chelsea at the convention will include P. S. Holmes and Paul F. Niehaus.

The convention's program will feature a speech by Theodore H. Fenske of St. Paul, Minn., who is associate director of field operations for the University of Minnesota Department of Agriculture.

Robert F. Weber of Detroit, an executive in the lumber business and governor of the Michigan Kiwanis district, will preside at the convention, which will include committee conferences, a discussion of plans for the coming year, and election of officers.

Mr. Fenske, who is a vice-president of Kiwanis International, will serve as the official representative of the community service organization for the convention. He is the author of the widely-used textbook, "Arithmetic in Agriculture," and is a district chairman for the Boy Scouts of America.

Tri-County Baseball

a single by Stan Hyst, and two walks and a hit batsman. They continued to take advantage of Roy West's wildness by scoring twice in the second on another single by Hyst, a base on balls and a triple by Carl Bowles.

Webberville tied it up in the sixth when Sam Green drew a walk on an error and West hit one over the centerfield fence for a homerun. This ended the scoring until the ninth when Webberville staged a three-run outburst featuring a two-run single by West.

The game appeared to be safely tucked away, but with one out in the last of the ninth, Moe Miller doubled, Zeke Vogt singled and Hank Green drew a walk. With bases loaded, Mary Groatie popped out. Don DeForrest batted for Hyst and popped one to the third baseman but everyone was safe as Bernard Andrews dropped the ball. Ford Gillis walked to force in a run and Bowles singled to break up the ball game.

It was a thrilling game, with both teams fighting hard all the way. Hank Green, who relieved Zeke Vogt in the ninth, got credit for the win, 8-7.

In a surprise move in the second game of the series, Manager Don DeForrest started Green, and it proved a wise move as Green set the Webberville hitters down with four hits and was never in trouble to take the game, 6-0 and the championship along with it. Thus in two days, Green received credit for both games.

Fowlerville scored two in the fourth and three in the fifth with their final run coming in the seventh on a homerun by Ford Gillis. Most of the way it was a good pitchers' battle between Green and Bernard Andrews who gave up only seven hits but received some poor support from his mates. Green struck out eight and walked three with but two Webberville men getting as far as third base.

Infirmary Auxiliary Refurnishing Lounge

During the summer months the Washtenaw County Infirmary Auxiliary has been busy repainting and re-decorating a large room at the infirmary to be used by the residents as a lounge and television room. Drapes have helped greatly in transforming the former bare room into a pleasant place where residents may enjoy the television programs or where they may read—or just relax in comfort.

The Auxiliary plans to purchase new furniture for the room when the fund begun for the purpose reaches proportions allowing its purchase. Donations have been received for the fund from various groups, the latest being $25 from the Junior Red Cross of Slosson Junior High school of Ann Arbor.

The Word "Thug" Is Not Modern Slang—It comes from the name of a confederacy of professional murderers, who terrorized India for 700 years. They worshipped "Kali Ma," the Hindu goddess of destruction, and assassination was a religious duty. The order was unspooled between 1830 and 1840 and later stamped out. Sylvan Farm Bureau Asks Speed Control

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Caspia were hosts for the Sylvan Farm Bureau meeting held Friday evening at the Caspia farm.

Following a report by William Pritchard on his committee's investigation of possible traffic controls at the intersection of US-12 and 92, a motion was passed to draw up a resolution to be sent to the State Farm Bureau headquarters so that petitions may be drawn up and distributed to the various Farm Bureau community groups for signatures, thus signifying their desire for establishment of a speed control zone on US-12.

Election of officers was held resulting as follows: Walter Wolfgang, discussion leader; Gordon Van Riper, chairman; William Pritchard, vice chairman; Mrs. Kathleen Hatt, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Everett Van Riper, group insurance chairman; Doris Whitaker, roll call chairman; Norman Hinders, minute man; Mrs. Anton Nielsen, news reporter; William Pritchard, program chairman; Mrs. Walter Wolfgang and Mrs. Leon Sanderson, Farm Bureau Women's committee; Calvin Clark, delegate to Lansing Farm Bureau convention; Reuben Lesser, candidate for county director.

Mrs. Wolfgang reported on a meeting of the Farm Bureau Women's committee meeting she attended and following the close of the business session the business served lunch and a barn dance was enjoyed. Music for dancing was furnished by Fred Gentner and Henry Orbring.

"It's a small world" they always say and we can say it and mean it with Television doing its daily stint in homes from coast to coast. Take for instance, the United Nations' telecast. They make it possible for Mr. and Mrs. America to entertain delegates right in their own living rooms. The world situation thus becomes more understandable and closer to each of us. We can take part in the arguments and decide for ourselves from the speeches of the delegates just which road is best to take on the international scene. Yes... no doubt about it... TV is making for a better informed America more and more every day.

BLOOPERS are the blunders that happen in TV production. They land the audience a laugh. But they have a tendency to increase the viewer's appreciation in directors and producers. If you want increased pleasure from television, be sure to see the new Westinghouse 16" rectangular screen set. It tops them all for good reception and long-range satisfaction. Better Buy Buick!

YOU CAN SEE here how smart it is—don't have to be told that it's the most quickly identified car on the road today.

You probably know that the engine under that broad bonnet is a Fireball straight-eight valve-in-head engine and a lively stepper in any company.

You can check the abundance of its room by the simple expedient of taking the family and trying out its spaciousness at the nearest Buick dealer's—and a very few minutes on the open road will satisfy you that all-coil springing, low-pressure tires and Buick's torque-tube drive really do produce a ride that is matchless for its soft comfort.

BUT RIGHT NOW, it may be that the money angle is the thing uppermost in your mind, and on that we'd like to make two points:

All our records go to show that this is the most economical Buick ever built. It is easy on gas, on oil, on tires, on upkeep.

And if you choose it with Standard or ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Four-way FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

That's right—Larro feeders are getting extra weight per bird by feeding Larro Broiler Feed in both forms—mash and pelleted.

Start with the mash. Then, at the end of the fourth week, begin scattering pellets on top of the mash each forenoon and afternoon. Use quantities the birds will clean up in about 30 minutes. It sharpens their appetites—puts on 4 to 8 ounces more per bird—more than pays for the extra time involved. Larro feeders are getting 3½-pound birds in 12 weeks.

Street Work Is Completed for This Year

Lynn W. Kern and Anton Nielsen, councilmen, who are on the street commission for the village, announce that the 1950 street improvement program is now completed. The street work in Chelsea, they pointed out, was handled somewhat differently this year, the bulk of the appropriation for street improvement being used for large-scale improvement on Wilkinson, Chandler, Washington and Buchanan streets. Other streets in the village were repaired and improved, most of this work being done with the aid of local street employees. The T. P. Flynn company did the major improvement jobs. Nielsen and Kern stated yesterday that they feel the streets of the village are now in very good condition.

The Rains Came...

Rain and more rain, with intermittent thunder showers, has been the order of the day for the entire week throughout this part of the country. While lightning Monday caused the loss of a barn and 50 tons of hay on the Kennedy farm and caused some damage to telephones in this area, the damage here is slight compared to some other communities. In Flint, for instance, and in parts of Detroit, flooded basements over wide areas have caused considerable inconvenience and real damage. Heavy rains were accompanied by hail in some sections of the county the first of the week and there were reports of broken windows in the Salem area.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

the government's long-range forecast for August was badly off.

When Michigan's 1,815,000 school children returned to classes this fall, they found 15,000 will have only half-day classes because of crowded conditions in the buildings.

Another move has been made toward the completion of the $4,000,000 eight-story state office building. The sum of $38,000 has been appropriated for completion of plans and specifications.

Bad as war news may seem, things don't look altogether black. Michigan divorce rates have dropped 60 per cent since 1944. Marriages dropped too, but now only 51 per cent of every 1,000 are divorced. It was 10.2 in 1944.
