

● Governor Williams reports an expected deficit of $80,000,000 by 1952. He figured a deficit of $21,311,831 at the end of the last fiscal year, $50,597,835 at the end of the current year and $79,997,835 at the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1952.

He boosted the '51-'52 budget from $204,900,000 to $204,400,000 for civil defense ($6,000,000) and for state office building repairs ($3,500,000).

● Michigan has taken at least one step to halt the diminishing number of physicians in the state by offering reciprocity to Canada in licensing of the profession. The state has agreed to admit all graduates of Canadian medical schools and those deemed by Canadian provincial boards to Michigan. The one-year American training period usually required of "foreign" doctors.

● The "little Hoover commission," must recently under fire for being a "theorist organization," has made its first official recommendation. A bill repealing the law making the state police commissioner removable only by the supreme court is the upshot.

● Highly skilled designers and production engineers are being recruited from Michigan by defense contractors from all over the country. The labor cannot be bagged, competing in the labor market with government funds, offer fantastic salaries—salaries so huge few men can afford to refuse.

● And this state still has its own little labor problem in the search for experienced men for new defense contract plants. Factories are sponsoring schools and short courses to speed up the training of skilled operators.

● The sudden flow of women back into the assembly lines, however, has halted. The first flurry of defense work pulled several thousand back, but the babushka brigade never reached World War II proportions.

● The house of representatives has passed a bill making it illegal to hunt on property without the owner's permission—a law long sought by the state's farmers.

● Since June 1, 1950, wholesale prices increased at a rate of two per cent a month; prices received by farmers have risen during this period by 24 per cent. Inflation definitely is on the march and there is little evidence to indicate it will be halted in the remaining months of this year.

● By the end of 1951, according to economists, prices received for products sold from the farm will probably have increased 10 to 12 per cent over current prices while prices paid will have gone up only 7-8 per cent.

● How to build more cars with less steel may be demonstrated by Michigan's auto industry after April 1. That's when the 20 per cent steel consumption cutback becomes effective. They will do it by producing a greater proportion of their lighter-weight models.

● Latest twist in civilian defense is the "alert" card. Brig. Gen. Lester C. Maitland, Michigan CD director, will distribute them. They describe air-raid warning signs and give instructions for self-protection in case of enemy attack. The cards are printed so they may be cut into wall cards and tacked up in homes or buildings.

● Michigan now has more than $2,000,000,000 in defense contracts. So rapidly have the orders rolled in that the predicted labor shortage during conversion has not occurred. The contracts should require two years to complete. Henry C. Markle, executive director of the Michigan unemployment compensation commission, says the state still is not loaded to capacity from a manpower standpoint.

● Reapportionment comes up again. This time Sen. Graydon R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek) has a plan to reshuffle rural and city (Continued on page ten)

County Roads
Reported To Be in Good Condition

Supt.-Mgr. Howard Miner, of the Washtenaw county Road Commission, said yesterday that spring's entry last week Wednesday, trailing a chilly 18 degrees, was a "good" sign for the roads. "Soupy" and muddy again when the frost leaves the ground. Before the freeze-up last week, he said, last year at this time. He said roads were in fairly good condition compared to what they were in roadbeds now have re-frozen to the top of the ground, and settling the roads, Miner stated.

Routine hauling of gravel to fill in holes in roads all over the county and patching blacktop pavements is the order of the day at present for county highway employees, according to Miner. He said he has been busy getting into the road work here since former Supt.-Mgr. Kenneth L. Halenbeck left to take up his new job with the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority but he hopes soon to make an inspection of roads in this area.

Council To Prosecute
Persons Defacing
Public Rest Rooms

The public rest rooms in the Municipal building have been freshly painted during the past week and the Village Council has decided to offer a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of defacing the walls or in any way contributing to the destruction or marvelling of this village property.

Scribbling of all kinds, including obscenities, have for some time been the cause for complaint in both the men's and women's rest rooms and Chelsea police have now been instructed to clamp down on any offenders apprehended.

Station Wagon
Delivered To School

The Ford station wagon, ordered several weeks ago by the Chelsea Agricultural School Board of Education, was put in use immediately to provide noon transportation for kindergarteners. The station wagon is also to be used for transportation of pupils in the Sugar Lake area where it has been impracticable to transport children by school buses. Smaller groups in other areas in the district will also be served by the station wagon.

To Visit Europe

Paul D. Rogers, of Chicago, spent the Easter week-end here with his father, D. L. Rogers and is sailing April 4 on the French liner Degraze, for a two-months' vacation in Europe. He plans to visit points in France, Italy, Scotland, Denmark and Sweden and possibly England. His return trip will be made on the French liner Liberté.

Former Publisher of Chelsea Standard
Dies in Clinton Home

Emil H. Ahrens, who died last Friday at the Tibb Nursing Home near Clinton at the age of 81 years, was the publisher of the Chelsea Standard for about six months in 1922. He purchased the paper from Mr. W. McClure who had then published it for about two years. Ahrens sold the business back to McClure after six months.

During his career as newspaper publisher, he owned papers at various times at Morenci, Tecumseh and Clinton.

Mrs. Ahrens died in 1945 and Mr. Ahrens had made his home with a daughter, Mrs. L. A. Van Gieson, in Tecumseh.

Artz, apostles; Wilbur Beeman, who takes the part of Christ; Donald Hart, as Peter; and Wilber Hitchcock, Richard Vicary and Donald Beeman, apostles. Others who take part in the play are Georg Pluck, Duane Marsh, Richard Menge, Welton Bohne, Leigh Beeman, Orson Beeman, Jr., Shirley Marsh, Yvonne LeVan, Margaret Vicary, Muriel Pluck, Nadine Artz, Daisy Beeman, Dee Elta Parshal, Leona Beeman, Annabelle Woolley, Joyce Harr, Martha Davis and Betty Wahl. April 8 the play will be given in the Unadilla Presbyterian church and a Stockbridge appearance is also being arranged.

Confidence Expressed
by School Officials

Chelsea's school superintendent, Albert C. Johnson, was in Adrian last Thursday afternoon, after the close of school here, to attend a meeting of school superintendents of schools from Hillsdale, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw counties. The group discussed the recent disclosures of school membership roll "padding" for the purpose of securing more than a full share of state money.

Specifically mentioned in recently publicized statements was Herbert A. Bearss, superintendent of the Litchfield schools, who allegedly used the names of migrant workers' children on the school membership rolls for the express purpose of obtaining added state money for the school district. Bearss has since been dismissed and an investigation of the Litchfield school records is being made.

During the questioning of various persons in the Litchfield case someone reportedly said that the purpose of padding membership rolls was "common." This immediately brought emphatic denials from all sections of the state.

At Thursday's meeting of superintendents in Adrian the school officials present drew up the following statement:

"There has been reported, through the press, a Michigan School district where the membership rolls have been padded for the purpose of securing additional funds with which to operate the schools.

"The purpose of this padding was not for personal gain but to secure additional revenue for the operation of schools in a district where financial support has been inadequate to meet the needs of school children of this area. While school men recognize the need for greater financial support, they do not condone any illegal act to secure such support. The Superintendents of Southeastern Michigan would welcome an inspection of their Child Accounting records by the State or by any other organization who may wish to verify their accuracy.

"This group has complete confidence in the integrity of the County School Administration of Hillsdale County. Likewise, we have equal faith in the efficiency of the State Department of Public Instruction and endorse the leadership of Dr. Lee M. Thurston, Superintendent of that Department."

Superintendent Johnson, commenting on the situation yesterday, explained that reports on school memberships are given in the state by local districts during the summer. These reports are accepted as accurate and school money is disbursed accordingly. The policy of the state in handling this money, Johnson said, has been to use as little as possible for administrative purposes, thus leaving as much as possible for the use of the schools. If each report of school membership handed in were to be thoroughly investigated as to accuracy, the cost would be immense, Johnson said. It is very probable that such an investigation, as much as it would be, would disclose one or a negligible number of discrepancies.

Johnson said Chelsea school records are complete for all years since he became superintendent in 1938.

His A.B. and A.M. degrees were earned at the University of Michigan and his Ph.D. degree at the University of Chicago.

Freedman is the author of a number of technical articles appearing in sociological journals. He is a fellow of the National Council on Religion in Higher Education.

His A.B. and A.M. degrees were earned at the University of Michigan and his Ph.D. degree at the University of Chicago.

Waterloo Group
Continues with Passion Play

A total of 2,000 persons have already seen the Passion Play put on in various churches in the vicinity by young people of Waterloo. Under the direction of Georg and Muriel Pluck, the play has been given nine times, the latest showing having taken place Easter Sunday in Salem Grove Methodist church. April 8 it will be given at the Unadilla Presbyterian church.

It is also to be given at the High School gymnasium in Stockbridge.

The success of the production has been almost phenomenal. People who have seen it report the players' performances to be excellent.

Two performances were given last week in the Waterloo church. The group has practiced three evenings a week since Christmas. It was impossible to accommodate all the people who came and approximately 150 were turned away, Pluck said yesterday.

A second performance was given Saturday evening at Grass Lake where the group made its first appearance of the season on March 12. The first showing was in the Federated church and Saturday's appearance was at the Grass Lake Methodist church.

Nursing Class Series
Formed by Red Cross

Three Red Cross Home Nursing classes have been organized in Chelsea in connection with the Civil Defense program and are meeting in the Municipal building. More can be organized at any time, according to Mrs. John L. Fletcher, chairman of the program here. An evening class, which at present is filled, meets from 7 until 9 o'clock each Monday and afternoon classes are in session from 1:30 until 3:30 each Thursday. There is still room for several enrollees in the afternoon groups.

Anyone interested in joining one of the classes may contact Mrs. Fletcher by telephoning 7641.

There are six lessons in the course and any person enrolling for the course must attend six meetings if they are to be eligible for a Red Cross certificate in home nursing. Approximately 150,000 such certificates have already been issued. It is permissible for enrollees to make-up one lesson if necessary.

The three groups now started on the courses have state nurses for ten persons in each. More than fifteen cannot be accepted in one class.

Mrs. Herbert Sanborn is the instructor of the classes now in training.

The aim of the Civil Defense program is to have a home nurse in every family as a means of security not only for the family itself, but for the entire nation. The course gives practical training in bed bathing procedure, taking temperatures properly and many other phases of nursing care. The course is more extensive than lessons given in the past and is recommended as a means of promoting community and family health.

Two Convicted of
Coed Rape-Slaying

Valorous Joe Mattheis and Ray Lee Olson of Vicksburg were found guilty last Thursday of the murder of Carolyn Drown. Nine men and three women were on the jury in the Kalamazoo county circuit court where the trial was held. Jurors deliberated only 35 minutes. The trial had taken two weeks.

Carolyn Drown, of Stockbridge, was strangled November 26 after she had been forced into a car when she left a snack bar in the campus district at Western Michigan college, Kalamazoo. She had just returned to Kalamazoo after spending the Thanksgiving holidays at her home in Stockbridge. Her body was found a week later in a field.

Conservation Director
Dies of Heart Attack

P. J. Hoffmaster, Michigan conservation director since 1934, who died of a heart attack as he returned to his Lansing office after lunch Monday, March 19, was buried Friday. Funeral services were held in Lansing and were attended by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, former Michigan governor, Harry F. Kell and prominent conservation department officials.

Hoffmaster had been with the State Conservation Department since 1922.

He has been credited with the success of the state park system project and with being largely responsible for the Michigan department's high rating among the states in the nation.

Fire Call

During the high wind Friday night the Chelsea fire department was called to the George Bauer home in Lyndon township because of a chimney fire. There was no damage.

Miss Hilda Gross is a patient at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

Brings Throngs Out
for Easter Services

Chelsea churches were thronged with worshippers for all the Easter services last Sunday and for the special services on Maundy Thursday and Good Friday.

At the candlelight service at the Congregational church Thursday evening eight young people were confirmed and became members of the church. These are Ronnie and Darrell Satterthwaite, Sally Vogel, Connie Steinbach, Robert White, Robert Keizer, Larry Chapman, and Bud Ringe.

The confirmation service was followed by reception of ten additional new members of the church and a Communion service during which 111 persons received Communion.

Eighty-eight members of the Methodist church participated in the Communion service Thursday night and five new members joined the church.

St. Paul's church held Communion services Thursday evening and again on Sunday, a total of 290 persons partaking of the Lord's Supper. Thirteen adults and the seven members of the confirmation class were accepted as members of the church at the Easter service.

At St. Mary's church 450 persons received Communion. High Mass was held at 8 a.m. and Low Mass at 10 a.m.

Good Friday services were held at St. Mary's church from two until 8 o'clock and a Union service was held from 1:30 until 3 at the Methodist church.

The weather Sunday was clear and chilly, just above freezing during the day and somewhat before the freezing point during the early morning and late evening.

Soil Conservation
Applications Now
Being Accepted

At the last monthly meeting of the Washtenaw Soil Conservation District board of directors two new applications for assistance in soil conservation planning were approved for Gordon Gill and Ivan Galpin.

Farmers interested in securing assistance in soil conservation may make application at the soil conservation office, located in the Court House building.

The Washtenaw Soil Conservation District will be hosts to directors for the regional meeting of directors to be held later this year, and plans are being made for this program which will bring the soil conservation officials to Washtenaw county.

An air tour of the county was discussed by the directors, in order to study soil conservation needs and the progress already being made on farms in this area.

Directors meet the second Wednesday evening of each month in the Agricultural Extension Office, Court House, Ann Arbor.

Spring Vacation

Chelsea's schools will have their spring vacation from the evening of April 6 (next week Friday) until the morning of Monday, April 16, Superintendent Albert C. Johnson has announced.

MOBILIZE FOR DEFENSE

Norman Rockwell's striking portrait of the Red Cross soldier for emergency action is particularly significant in these troubled times. The Red Cross has a big share in the nation's defense responsibilities.

Cottonseed Current reports indicate a short supply of cottonseed for next year. Rain in many areas of the Cotton Belt has damaged the seed, lowering their value for planting. This fact coupled with an increase in acreage for next year, is expected to result in a severe shortage of good planting seed. -37

NEW MASTITIS TREATMENT

For udder infusions, to treat cases of acute mastitis, we recommend Dr. Hess MASTITIS OINTMENT (Penicillin-Dihydrostreptomycin Ointment-Veterinary).

This new Dr. Hess product contains both penicillin and streptomycin, which gives it a wider range of effectiveness than penicillin alone. Some mastitis organisms are not killed by penicillin.

Each tube contains 150,000 units of penicillin and 100 milligrams of streptomycin. This higher potency formula prevents development of resistance in the germs causing mastitis.

Dr. Hess MASTITIS OINTMENT comes in tube with applicator tip (no syringe needed). Each tube contains 7.5 grams. One tube is a dose for an infected quarter.

The other day we got to thinking about how many shut-ins there are in Chelsea, and all over the country for that matter. What an exciting thing television is to these folks who don't get around much. Just imagine how a whole new world opens up for them—a world that we take for granted—being out and in it all the time. When people who are ill or old get a chance to watch TV, it diverts their attention, makes them think less of their illness and more about what is happening on the screen in front of them. It's relaxation and pleasure for the harassed head of the household and his hard-working lady, too. So, if you have shut-ins in your family, or if you feel the need of letting down and relaxing yourself, then Television is the thing for you. It's the new treatment for a nervous society.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

HIGHLIGHTS of the week in the nation's capital included senate passage of the 18-year-old draft act and universal military training and a continuation of the highly controversial senate probe of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Only five votes were registered against the draft and UMT bill. They were: Senators Welker (Republican), Idaho, Dirksen (Republican), Illinois, Jenner (Republican), Indiana, Schöppel (Republican), Kansas, and Langer (Republican), North Dakota. The measure provides for a universal draft of men at 18 years for 24 months and for a universal military training program to begin after the emergency. The measure also sets a maximum of 1,000,000 men on the armed forces. Present goals of the defense department is for a service force of 3,600,000 men. The limitation amendment was accepted on a 49 to 41 roll call vote.

Because the price of tin has soared from 75 cents a pound to $2.00 a pound, the national security resources board ordered the general services administration to cease buying tin for stockpiling "until prices reach a reasonable level." A report of the senate armed services committee said: "The American taxpayer is weary of being gouged for the privilege of obtaining from some of its allies the raw materials with which he is expected to supply the food and armament needs of the non-Communist nations in the event of another all-out war. If we cannot obtain tin at reasonable prices, we must seriously reconsider our policies with respect to this metal. The battle against inflation is also part of the fight against Communism."

Public hearings continued on alleged mismanagement of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation with new charges and much conflicting testimony over inquiry into the big lending agency. Some members of congress became involved in the inquiry as the testimony was taken behind closed doors.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wahl of Clinton, were Saturday evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wahl. Mr. and Mrs. Dillman, Wahl and daughters, Loretta and Leah Jane, of Clear Lake, were Sunday evening guests.

Included were Senator James Murray of Montana, who was alleged to have interested himself in a loan to a Miami hotel for which his son was an attorney. Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin was brought into the picture in the inquiry into the huge loan to the now defunct Lustron Corporation, which is alleged to have paid Senator McCarthy $10,000 for a pamphlet on "How to Own a Home" and used as a sales promotion by the corporation.

McCarthy also was charged by witnesses with having "borrowed" money from Carl Strandlund, head of Lustron Corporation, to bet on horse races at the Pimlico race track in Baltimore.

Strandlund, however, the incident occurred at the Lustron track instead of Pimlico, and that he took up one check and merely cashed it. A larger one for McCarthy, Rep. Frank W. Boykin, Alabama, came into the picture when Chairman Fulbright of Arkansas said the committee would investigate a publicized report that Boykin sought to influence a $1,700,000 loan to the Mobile Paper Company at Mobile, Ala., with which Boykin's son is affiliated. In the meantime, members of the RFC board have denied any "wrong doing" or that White House secretaries actually influenced any decision on loans. Senator Murray said he treated the case in which his son was implicated as he did any other case. Senator Murray said a complete summary of congressional action in connection with the RFC by letter, telephone or interview and that all be put in the record. According to information, the RFC has on file about 900 letters from members of congress from both parties seeking loans for various firms throughout the country.

In connection with the draft bill, Chairman Clegg of North Carolina of the house agricultural committee said a policy statement by General Hershey, director of selective service, has clarified a confused situation as to drafting farmers. Mr. Clegg said General Hershey had made it clear local draft boards have "both the authority and the responsibility to defer agricultural workers."

Sunday afternoon and evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Moore were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pliker and children, Marian, Bob and Jim, of Sylvania, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Campbell and children, Nan and Jack, of Toledo.

Assemblies . . .

The enforcement of school rules was the subject of the assembly called last Thursday morning in study hall, with Mr. Cameron acting as the main speaker. Some of the rules to be enforced were as follows:

1. No gum chewing will be allowed at any time in the school building.
2. All papers must be discarded in a waste basket, not thrown on the floors or stuffed into the desks.
3. Passing notes, particularly in study hall, must be stopped. If any one is caught writing notes, he will be expelled from school.

If any of the students are tardy to their classes without a good excuse, the teacher of that particular class can send the student to study hall.

5. Students who eat their lunches at school must see that garbage gets into waste baskets.
6. When students individually or in groups are in the halls during the school day, they must be quiet.
7. No unnecessary noise should be created between classes.

These are just few of the rules which were stated. If anyone is caught breaking them, he will be punished.

Report from Washington

By Congressman George Meador

Washington, D. C., March 28, 1951—A situation which is shocking even to one hardened by revelations of stupidity, waste and mismanagement in governmental affairs was revealed in the hearings last week of the Hardy Subcommittee of the House Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments, of which I am a member.

It is the story of how three men with $800 obtained a defense production loan of $7,800,000.

The Hardy Subcommittee is exploring the exercise of powers granted by the last Congress in the Defense Production Act to stimulate industry in defense production. These powers cover the issuance of certificates of necessity and the granting of loans for defense facilities.

A certificate of necessity permits a manufacturing or mining concern to accelerate the rate of amortization of facilities for income tax purposes. A building or machine, under normal circumstances, might be estimated to have a life of twenty years; so one-twentieth of its cost could be charged up each year as an expense of the business. If that for defense work, the owner is permitted to write off the cost in only five years, at the rate of one-fifth each year. This advantage is, of course, intended to encourage the construction of facilities necessary for defense production. Defense production loans are intended to help provide these facilities.

Up to Feb. 23, 3,319 applications were made for certificates of necessity totaling $10,475,000. There were issued 447 certificates totaling three billion dollars. Defense production loans granted numbered 19, aggregating $45,000,000.

The Hardy Subcommittee has concentrated its attention upon one loan and certificate of necessity—to the Hazelton Steel and Tubing Corporation of Hazelton, Pennsylvania.

This is a new company. It has no plant, and never has been in business. The owners are Benjamin S. Dowd, president and treasurer; Martin G. Charles, vice-president and secretary; and James H. Hopkins, vice-president. They have invested in the Hazelton Steel and Tubing Corporation just $300. Dowd, $300, and Charles and Hopkins each $150. They own all the stock of the company. Dowd was to receive a salary of $40,000 a year and Charles and Hopkins, $25,000 each. These salaries were carried on the company books as an indebtedness to the three men since October 1, 1950.

These men applied for a defense production loan and a certificate of necessity, to build a new steel mill. They were granted a loan of $7,800,000 by the National Production Authority, with the provision that they were to obtain an additional $1,000,000, which would be subordinated to the Government loan.

This additional $1,000,000 did not come from their own resources as an addition to the $600 of their own capital investment in the company. Instead, they went to oil concerns interested in purchasing the steel pipe and tubing which the Hazelton Steel and Tubing Corporation proposed to produce. The oil concerns agreed to advance the $1,000,000, to be returned to them in the form of tubing and pipe.

The Hardy Subcommittee questioned the Government officials who had approved this loan. They are: Manley Fleischman, Administrator, National Production Authority; Frank R. Creedon, Assistant Administrator, Facilities Construction Bureau, National Production Authority; Arthur J. Bulger, Deputy Assistant Administrator, Facilities Construction Bureau; Harvey M. Harper, Loan Division, Facilities Construction Bureau; and William Davlin, Assistant to the Assistant Administrator, Facilities Construction Bureau.

The man primarily responsible for the Hazelton loan was Mr. Harper. In answer to my questions at the Subcommittee hearing, Mr. Harper admitted the following:

He had no information about the credit of the three men other than that contained in an RMC examiner's report.

He did not know the men personally, had never heard of them before, and they were not recommended by anyone in whom he had confidence.

He made no investigation of them as to their credit, experience or ability.

All of the information supplied to him by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which investigated the loan and recommended that it be denied, indicated that these men were not capable of building the plant and producing the products.

He substituted his judgment for that of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with no more information on which to base his decision than that supplied in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's adverse report.

Chairman Hardy summed up his reaction to this testimony in a comment which I feel sure reflects the views of the entire Subcommittee: "As a matter of public policy, I just want to review what the government is doing here for three individuals and ask whether that is a matter which is the type of policy which should be a part of our way of doing things."

"Here is a case where three individuals put up a total of $800 to finance a venture under which they cannot lose anything and which, if they had the ability to operate satisfactorily and do operate satisfactorily for a period of five years, means they will come out with a plant more than 90 per cent amortized and they will be made multimillionaires."

Is that a policy which the government should pursue as a general practice?"

Mrs. J. Lewis Wahl spent Sunday afternoon with her mother, Mrs. Frances Briston, and other relatives in Dexter.

Science
Question

Q: Do the poles of the Earth move?

A: Yes, but only over an area about 50 feet in diameter. The movement is principally a combination of two separate motions. One shifts the pole each year over a narrow ellipse about 30 feet long. This is probably due to seasonal changes, which vary the amount of ice and snow in different parts of the Earth and also cause large changes in air pressure on certain areas. The other movement, attributed to some lack of symmetry of the Earth with respect to the axis around which it spins, carries the pole in a circle 26 feet in diameter every 433 days. Since latitude is a measure of the distance of a place from the poles, there is a variation in latitude, and the motion of the poles is determined by six international observatories in various parts of the world. These make continual and very accurate latitude measurements.

Q: How is it that some bacteria can live without oxygen?

A: All organisms do need oxygen in order to build the protoplasm which is their living substance. Many plants and animals (such as ourselves) utilize atmospheric oxygen to burn food substances and supply energy. However, the process of burning or "oxidation," may go on without free oxygen. It may be supplied, instead, from chemical compounds where the oxygen is combined with other elements. The "anaerobic" (non-air-living) bacteria get it from such sources.
