Road To Be

Fixed This Summer,
Balance Next Year

Plans for resurfacing 3.9 miles of the Chelsea-Manchester road this summer now seem assured after representatives of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and the Michigan State Highway Department gave their approval after inspecting the stretch Monday afternoon.

2-Hour Parking

Police Chief George Doe stated this week that the two-hour parking limit in the business district is to be strictly enforced beginning Monday, June 4.

ernoon. The men were accompanied by Howard Minier, superintendent-manager for the Washtenaw county Road Commission. Minier said the federal and state representatives advised changing a few minor details of the plans he submitted and when these are completed the plans will be sent to Lansing for final approval. When approval is granted bids will be taken for the job and it is hoped to have the resurfacing completed by September 1. Minier has been pushing for action while other road work in the area is underway and equipment of possible bidders is still in the vicinity.

The stretch of road which would be blacktopped this summer begins at Pleasant Lake road and continues north to a short distance this side of the intersection of the road with the highway. The base was constructed and gravelled during the past two years. Minier said that if the project is completed this summer it might be possible to finish the remaining portion to the intersection of U.S. 24 next summer. The road base on this stretch has not yet been completed.

WANTED, A STRONG WEIGHT LIFTERSylvan Center
Grads Return
for Reunion

A pot-luck dinner at 1:30 o'clock opened the 24th annual reunion of former pupils and teachers of Sylvan Center school, held in the schoolhouse last Sunday. Because the president, Nelson West, of Ypsilanti, could not be present until later in the afternoon, the meeting was in charge of the vice-president, Harvey West, of Albion.

A program was given as follows: Song "America," by the assembly; prayer, by William Haffey, of Jackson, reading "Raising Up Edgar," by Miss Minnie Allyn; recitation by Judy Welch; dialogue, "A Stitch in Time," by Audrey and Janice Welch; Loretta and Deloris Schmitz and Janet Talbot who later sang a song, "Home On the Range," solo "Stars of Heaven," by the assembly; recitation "Pocket Pants," by Ralph Fletcher; skit, "The Scandal," by Mrs. Ola Hillinger, Mrs. Willis Heydlauff, Mrs. George Knoll, Mrs. Harrison West and Audrey Welch; piano selection, Joyce Smith, of Ypsilanti; and solo, by Hazel Haffey.

Schuyler Foster, presently of Dexter, addressed the group and spoke of his memories of the past when he was a teacher in the district. He also spoke of the present consolidated school unit describing it as a success. He said, however, that he believed rural school buildings such as the one at Sylvan Center, ought to be retained as social centers instead of being sold for other purposes and asked the group to pass a resolution in favor of the idea.

The program chairman for next year's reunion on the fourth Sunday of May, 1952, are Mrs. George Knoll and Audrey Welch. The table committee includes Mrs. Harrison West and Mrs. Rachel West.

Officers elected are Harvey West, of Albion, president; Nelson West, of Ypsilanti, vice-president; Minnie Allyn, secretary; Fred Haffey, treasurer.

The 60 guests present at the reunion were from Ypsilanti, Jackson, Albion, Ann Arbor, Rosebush, Dexter, Pontiac, Chelsea and Sylvan Center.

Poppy Sale Nets
Organizations $320

The veterans' organizations of Chelsea realized a total $320.26 from the sale of poppies on their annual Poppy Day last Saturday, according to reports of chairman of the sale, The VFW Auxiliary chairman, Mrs. Ren Hutzel, said her group received a total of $102.45 and Mrs. Merle Barr, Sr., reporting for the American Legion Auxiliary stated that $217.81 was the total count for her organization.

JOHN L. FLETCHER CONFINED

John L. Fletcher is a patient at Ardmore hospital in Ferndale where he was taken after becoming ill while visiting at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Keith McKenney, in Birmingham. John E. Fletcher of Atlanta, Ga., is spending some time here because of his father's illness.

Central Fibre Employees, Management
Present $1,043 to Cancer Fund

At the annual dinner for Central Fibre company employees last Saturday a check for $1,043 was presented to Mrs. Ren Hutzel, Chelsea's chairman of the Washtenaw county unit of the American Cancer Society. The check was a joint contribution from the employees and the management.

In accepting the check Mrs. Hutzel said that the very generous contribution more than made up for the disappointing result of the recent Cancer drive in Chelsea when less than $200 was raised.

The presentation of the check was made on behalf of the management and employees by Blane McGanahan, toastmaster of the evening.

Dr. Harry Nelson, a member of the National Board of the American Cancer Society and who contributes two days a week to work on cancer research, spoke in regard to the Cancer program which he summed up under three headings: (1) education, (2) research and (3) service. He said education leading to the early detection of cancer is of utmost importance in the saving of lives.

George Edwards, former president of the Detroit City Council and general chairman of the Cancer drive in Detroit in 1949 and 1951, also spoke at the dinner.

Guy Nunn, news commentator, in his talk before the group, advocated co-operative credit unions to provide financing for workers. Webb Magnor, UAW-CIO representative in this area, also advocated a credit union. The hope was expressed that management and labor at the Chelsea Fibre plant might be leaders in this area in working out a plan for organizing such a credit union here.

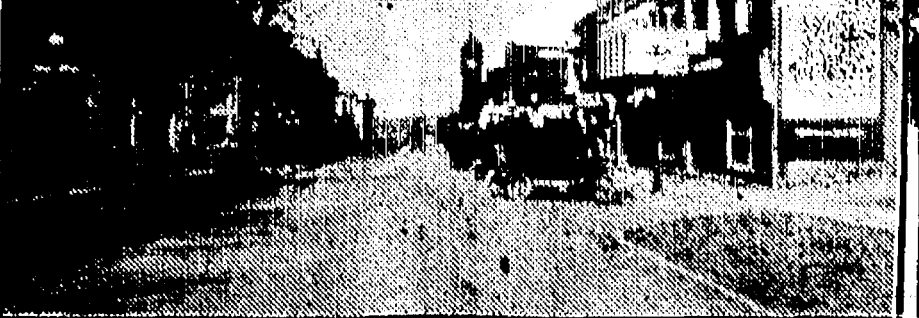

It was brought out that there are now 365 co-operative credit unions in Michigan and 13,000 in the United States.

Donald Bacon, president of the Fibre company, addressing the group, said he was proud of the workers for their generous support of all worthy causes and especially for their support of the Cancer program.

Harold Jones, vice-president and general manager of the firm, traced the progress of the company since its organization in 1920 as well as in the past nine years since he has been associated with it.

Others who spoke briefly included Richard Ambrose, a sales representative for the Fibre company, and Harold Marsh, a member of the bargaining committee.

The dinner was held in the dining room of the Congregational church. Ladies of the church prepared and served the meal.

CHIMES HEARD AGAIN—Probably quite a few persons will be able to determine just when the above photo from our files was taken. As it is seen now the Tower building at the north end of Main street was a prominent landmark at that time and the clock in the belfry may be identified. At the present time the clock is again sounding its pleasing chimes every quarter-hour, thanks to the Chamber of Commerce which has sponsored the project.

Flowers from War Hero's Grave

At a season of the year when decoration of all graves, and especially those of soldier-dead, is the concern of individuals and patriotic organizations all over the nation, vandals saw fit to desecrate the grave of Lt. Eugene Czapla in East Cemetery, Grass Lake. Rare shrubbery and tulips which Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Czapla had planted to beautify their son's burial plot, were dug up and carried off sometime between Monday and Wednesday of last week. The Czaplas discovered the theft when they went to the cemetery Wednesday.

As a result of the incident the Grass Lake township board has offered a reward of $100 for the apprehension and conviction of any person stealing from graves in either East or West cemeteries of Grass Lake.

The Jackson county Florists' Association, learning of the theft, replaced the stolen tulips and the grave was nicely decorated for Memorial Day.

Lt. Czapla lost his life Dec. 17, 1916, while serving in the Air Force. He had served as a pilot in European combat zones for eight months during World War I. Following his honorable discharge he re-enlisted and at the time of his death was stationed at Scott Field, Ill. He lost his life when the plane he was flying exploded in the air.

Tower Clock
Again Chimes
for Village

Many complimentary remarks have been heard the past two weeks regarding the town clock chimes which again ring out the quarter hours after being silent for about seven years. The clock is located in the tower of the Federal Screw Works building on North Main street at the railroad.

Reconditioning of the clock began a month ago after the Chamber of Commerce president, Howard Plinto, appointed a committee to take charge of the project. The Chamber of Commerce had voted to sponsor the project. Cost of the job, in parts and donated labor, would amount to approximately $200 to date, according to Ferd Merkel, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee. Others on the committee are Loren Turner and Hugh Sorenson. Merkel said this week that William A. Thomas adjusted the chimes and Joseph C. Dreyer did the mechanical work in getting the clock and chimes running again after being out of operation so many years. Merkel said they found the gears in very good condition. All the gears are bronze, he said.

Merkel said the first job his committee had to contend with after getting permission from the Federal Screw Works to work in the tower, was to clear the place of a 7-year accumulation of dead birds and refuse. The next move was to find and stop up the holes through which the birds gained entrance.

The mechanism of the clock itself was then thoroughly cleaned, oiled and adjusted. The dials were replaced but the numerals have not yet been repainted. Merkel said this would require the services of a steeplejack and funds for this are not yet available. A 300-watt bulb was installed to light the dials at night.

The clock is operated by weights and is wound by turning a crank by hand. The clock and the chimes are wound separately.

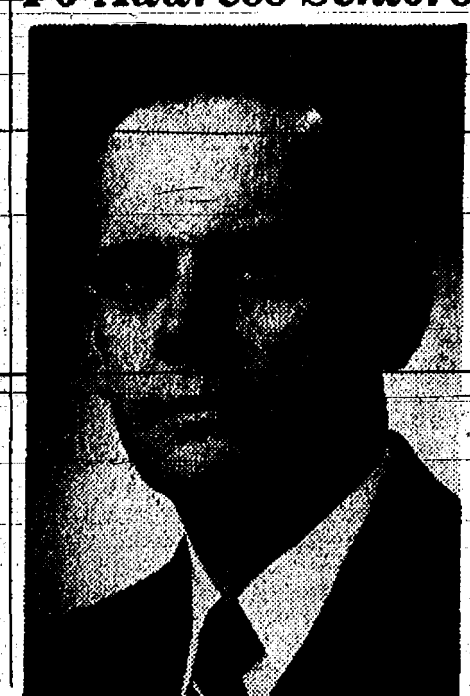

Marion Longworth, who operates his plating works in part of the building, has volunteered to go up into the tower each week and keep the clock wound.

The clock stopped Saturday morning and committee members went up to investigate. The mechanism was started again and has been running since.

The clock with its Westminster chimes, has been a town fixture since late in 1906 or early in 1907 when it was brought here from the Seth Thomas clock works in Massachusetts on order of the late Frank P. Glazier. It was installed at the time the building was put up for the Glazier Stove Co. after fires had destroyed the former wooden buildings. The plant had been operating here in 1891.

The value of the clock and chimes at that time was said to be $10,000. At today's prices it would be several times that amount.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Turner were in Stockbridge Monday evening for the graduation of their niece, Mervyn Rank, at Stockbridge High school.

To Address SeniorsDR. LAWRENCE E. VREDEVOE*Main Street
Railroad Crossing
Being Improved

New York Central railroad crews are putting in new switches east and west of the Main street crossing in preparation for the removal of all but the two main tracks and one spur to the Spring plant.

The old "bean track," so called because it formerly served the old beanhouse yards, will be taken out. This is the track at the north of the main tracks. The east-bound switch has already been moved west of the Main street crossing and this will eliminate the extra track at the south side of the main line.

Another switch remains to be installed west of the Hayes street crossing and this will practically complete preparations for the removal of all but the three tracks that are to remain on Main street.

The old tracks that are to be eliminated will not be removed until work on the pavement begins in order that the street may remain open to traffic as long as possible, according to John Giffin, supervisor of tracks for the Jackson-Detroit section.

Giffin said the work has been delayed somewhat because of shortage of help and because it is a slow operation but it should be completed in plenty of time so the pavement can proceed on schedule.

Work on the pavement hinges on completion of the bridge at the North Main street entrance to the village.

Ed. Risner is a patient at U. of M. Hospital, Ann Arbor, where he underwent brain surgery last week Tuesday and Thursday. Members of his family reported yesterday that he was much improved.

Merkel said the first job his committee had to contend with after getting permission from the Federal Screw Works to work in the tower, was to clear the place of a 7-year accumulation of dead birds and refuse. The next move was to find and stop up the holes through which the birds gained entrance.

The mechanism of the clock itself was then thoroughly cleaned, oiled and adjusted. The dials were replaced but the numerals have not yet been repainted. Paul L. Proud, Jr., was elected president of the chapter's board of directors at the Red Cross' annual dinner meeting. He succeeds Cecil O. Creal in the post.

Other board officers are William T. DeBarn, vice-president; Lawrence Quinnet, treasurer; and Mrs. Walter S. Pomeroy, secretary.

New board members are Dean R. W. Bunting, Dr. Margaret Bell, Wagor A. Glas, Harold L. Haines, Herbert P. Wagner and Arthur Wood, all of Ann Arbor; Mrs. George D. Adams, Dexter; and Leigh Beach of Lima township.

Others are Eugene B. Calder, Jr., and Mrs. Frederick J. Peters, Jr., both of Ypsilanti; Mrs. Pauline C. Life, East Ann Arbor; Jesse H. Haines, Augusta township; Mrs. Alvin Marsh, Seco township; and Mrs. Walter D. Mohrlock, Chelsea.

Mrs. Clayton Parr, Manchester township; Miss Edith Steere, Pittsfield township; Mrs. John Van Aken, Salem township; and Mrs. George Wilbur, Superior township, complete the list.

Besides the officers, the executive committee is composed of Haines, Calder, Mrs. Clifford Schreiner of Ypsilanti, Miss Steere, Mrs. S. Beach-Conger of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Adams, Dean Bunting and Mrs. Life.

The new executive secretary, Mrs. Atkinson, will arrive here June 19 to begin her duties. Before her present position in San Antonio, she had been executive secretary of the Moorehead, Minn., Red Cross chapter.

Mrs. Malin was given a set of matched luggage by Red Cross volunteer workers, officers and staff in appreciation of her 10 years of service.

"Mr. Creal spoke briefly on the 70th anniversary of the founding of the American Red Cross on May 21 and the establishment of the Washnaw branch in 1917. C. W. Kramer, chairman of the Manchester branch since 1917, and John D. Lawson, treasurer since 1917 of the Milan branch were presented service pins, along with Miss Marian Farrell, who has been treasurer of the Manchester branch for 28 years.

The Southern Kingdom.
 11 Kings 18: 1-7; Isaiah 37: 36-38.
 Memory Selection: Psalms 46: 10.

IN THE DIVISION of the kingdom of David and Solomon, the Southern Kingdom of Judah had several points of superiority over the Northern Kingdom. Judah had the reigning house of David, which kept the throne until the end. Jerusalem was a strong city for a capital. Within it was the magnificent temple. It is not strange that the Southern Kingdom endured for more than a century after the downfall of the Northern Kingdom.

While there were wicked kings who did evil in the sight of the Lord, there were several great rulers in the succession of David. Prominent among these was Hezekiah, the "good king." He cleansed the land of idolatry, and even destroyed the brazen serpent, that Moses had lifted up in the wilderness, because it had become an object of superstitious veneration. Hezekiah boldly resisted the Assyrians, and God delivered him from the host of Sennacherib before Jerusalem by a dread visitation that destroyed the troops.

Greater than Hezekiah was the mighty prophet Isaiah. Tireless in his efforts to preserve the nation, he was especially active against alliance with Egypt, not only because it was the land of his people's bondage and should have been abhorrent but also because dependence upon an earthly power would supplant trust in Jehovah. Let us in our own needs today learn to trust God above all.

Kalamazoo Girl
Glen W. Hafley

Glen William Hafley and his bride, the former Elizabeth Anne Gates, of Kalamazoo, are making their home at 318 Forest avenue, Ypsilanti, following their return from a honeymoon trip to the Smoky Mountains. They were married in the First Presbyterian church in Kalamazoo at 11 a.m. Saturday, May 19. Only the immediate families were present. Rev. Charles Johnson, pastor of the church, officiated.

The couple was attended by Mary Neal, of Kalamazoo, and the bridegroom's brother, Don Hafley. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Edna G. Wildermuth, in Kalamazoo.

Three Receive
Scouting Awards

Alfred Knickerbocker received a Life Scout badge and Douglas Kolb and Bill Moody each received a Star Scout badge at the Boy Scout Court of Honor in Ann Arbor last week Wednesday evening.

Marilyn Eschelbach,
Robert Fischer
Exchange Vows

The marriage of Marilyn Elaine Eschelbach and Robert Fischer was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners, Rev. M. W. Brueckner, pastor of the church, officiated. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. A gown of candlelight satin with a cathedral-length train was chosen by the bride for her wedding. A ruffled net yolk trimmed the bodice which fastened with a row of tiny buttons down the back. Her fingertip-length veil was trimmed with a scattered arrangement of white lace medallions and pearls. It was held in place with a headband of satin. White roses were arranged on the white prayer book she carried in preference to a bouquet.

Her sister, Wanda Eschelbach, as maid of honor, wore aqua tulle with a full skirt and cape of marquisette. She carried a nosegay of aqua daisies and yellow roses and wore matching daisies wreathed in her hair.

Julie Eiseaman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Eiseaman, and a niece of the bridegroom, wore yellow organdy trimmed with white lace for her role as flower girl. She carried a miniature nosegay of baby orchids and yellow daisies. Thomas Brewster, of Ann Arbor, and James Stewart, seated the guests and Joseph J. Fischer, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Ann Emerick, of Ann Arbor, another niece of the bridegroom, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Ralph Baumbach, of Imlay City. Before the ceremony, Mrs. Baumbach sang "Our Wedding Prayer" and during the rites sang "The Lord's Prayer."

MICHIGAN MIRROR

● In 1950 the nation had 25,103 medical students enrolled — 101 more than in 1949. Despite military demands the 72 four-year medical schools are continuing to accept only one of every 3.6 qualified students who apply.

Says Dr. Hugo Asch, Kalamazoo: "It seems today that all the institutions want is bigger and better buildings... I feel that what we need rather than more facilities is better use of the present ones and sounder judgment in choosing our medical students." He blames AMA.

● A new state office building may be nearer than we think. State administrative board has ordered vacating of homes on the site of the new structure—just west of the capitol building. It is expected to cost $5,000,000.

● Say FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, looking at Detroit: "While the Communist party has not yet launched a program of sabotage it is a fact that every disciplined member of the party has been called upon to prepare himself to meet any emergency and to be prepared for organized violence."

Not enough managements have progressed beyond the "night watchman" form of security.

● Bigger and plainer reflecting highway signs are being installed and are expected to increase safety for Michigan motorists and visiting tourists.

● And an outstanding tourist season is expected by Michigan resort operators. The trend will be to short trips of distance requiring not more than one or two days' travel. Already state park attendance is up 50,000 with same license sales 12 per cent over same period last year.

PATENT MEDICINE

The army ought to take over one or two of these new patent medicines. If they are as good as advertised, soldiers primed with them should be able to clean out Korea in half a day.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. Philip McGibney and Mrs. Verne Buehler and daughter, Barbara, entertained at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening, May 22, for the pleasure of Muriel Wheeler. Refreshments were served after the honor-guest had opened her gifts.

DISCOLORED GLASS flower vases can be cleaned by filling them with a solution of warm water, baking soda and a few potato peelings. Let this remain for several hours, then rinse in clear warm water to which ammonia has been added.

A novelty hanging vine can be grown from sweet potato by planting in a hanging basket or pot of sand or sand loam and watering occasionally. The leaves are dark green and resemble certain types of ivy.

The top of a pineapple planted in a pint jar of water will soon sprout and grow roots and will give you a plant resembling a palm.

Ferns will grow better if you give them certain foods occasionally. Two chopped raw oysters put in the pot with ferns every two weeks helps. Teaspoon of castor oil at the roots every three months is helpful, or two tablespoons of olive oil, at the roots once a month, are good.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Shrimp Curry (Serves 4)

1 cup rice
1 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups boiling water
1 can condensed cream of chicken soup
1/4 cup light cream
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 pound fresh shrimp, cleaned and cooked
Wash rice; drain; add salt to boiling water; then rice and cook until tender, about 20 to 30 minutes. Drain. Combine chicken soup, cream and curry powder. Add shrimp and heat thoroughly. Serve over hot fluffy rice.

Cold tea makes a good fertilizer for house plants. Another mixture can be made by adding a teaspoon of ammonia to two quarts of lukewarm water and using it on the plants once every two weeks.

To keep flowers fresh, use one of the following in the water: a piece of sugar, a drop of spirits of camphor, common table salt, a few slices of soap, one half teaspoon of baking soda or a tablespoon of powdered charcoal.

With cut flowers can sometimes be revived if you drop an aspirin tablet in fresh water into which you've placed the flowers.

In 1949, only 41 per cent of the U. S. population was rural, compared with 85 per cent 100 years ago.

Vows Spoken at Salem Grove Ch.

Mildred Anna Notten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Notten, and Chester L. Davis, of Flint, spoke their marriage vows at three o'clock Saturday afternoon in Salem Grove church. The bridegroom's father, Rev. E. O. Davis, officiated at the ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

The soloist was Duane McKeechie, of Flint. Accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Vern Panzer, he sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of white satin styled with a lace yoke and small Peter-Pan collar. The sleeves were full-length and ended in a pointed outline. The full skirt extended into a long train adorned with insertions of lace. A white satin, pearl-embellished headpiece held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a white orchid and lilies of the valley atop a white Bible.

Her cousin, Mrs. Linsey T. Davis, of Clawson, was the matron of honor. Dressed in a full-skirted gown of orchid satin finished with a net yoke, she wore a headpiece of yellow flowers and carried an arm bouquet of yellow gladioli.

Donna Lou Kambach, in yellow satin and carrying orchid gladioli, was a bridesmaid. She wore a matching-colored flower headpiece. Ruth Ann Sexton, a flower girl, wore a Nile green satin gown styled like the other attendants' gowns.

Linsey T. Davis, the bridegroom's brother, was best man, and another brother Bill R. Davis, of Hillsdale, was an usher. Dean Schweinfurth, a cousin of the bride, was the remaining usher. Approximately 125 guests attended the reception immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Bill R. Davis poured and Charlene Mertz, of Mt. Pleasant, was in charge of the guest book. Others assisting at the reception were Ann Feldhaus, of Jackson, Mrs. Austin Artz, Mrs. Glenn Rentschler, Mrs. Rudolph Rohde, Mrs. Lynn Dancer, Mrs. Dillman Wahl and Mrs. Walter Bohne.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Notten wore a street-length dress of powder blue with a lace top. Her accessories were navy and white.

The bridegroom's mother, in a dark blue, flower-print silk, also wore navy and white accessories. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of Grass Lake High School and attended Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti. For the past year she was a teacher in the public school at Munith.

A graduate of Dundee High school and Western Michigan College at Kalamazoo, Mr. Davis now teaches mathematics at General Motors Institute of Technology in Flint. He served in the armed forces for three years.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Canada and Niagara Falls, the couple will be at home at 8298 Miller road, Swartz Creek.

Report from Washington

By Congressman George Meader

Washington, D. C., May 30—America has just observed another Memorial Day, dedicated to commemorating the soldiers and sailors who have died to preserve this nation. Never has there been a Memorial Day when there was so great a need to consider the real meaning of the occasion.

Memorial Day does not alone pay tribute to the sacrifice of individuals or the struggles and the successes of armies and navies. The true commemoration is of the great purpose for which those both dead and living fought—the preservation of the finest way of life yet devised upon this earth.

Since World War II, the successes won at such tremendous cost by the heroes of that and previous wars have been dangerously jeopardized by the course which the United States has followed in its foreign affairs.

Today, again, Americans are fighting and dying in Korea for the goal of man's freedom. There is strong indication that the United States may find itself drawn into battle also in the Near East.

where the vast Iranian oil deposits have become the basis for British-Russian contest.

There is strong conviction among members of both parties in both Houses of the Congress that the insecurity of the United States and of American ideals in the world today is the result of unwise, inept or misguided operation of the State Department. Similar uneasiness among citizens throughout the nation was evidenced in the tone of the protest which resulted from the dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur.

On the day of General MacArthur's dismissal, the Republican conference of the House of Representatives unanimously resolved that the military and foreign policy of the United States be investigated by the Congress.

Thus far, this investigation has consisted wholly of the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committee hearings. These have been confined to the Korean war and the circumstances surrounding the discharge of General MacArthur. There has been no indication that this investigation poses to explore the broad field of military and foreign policy and the functioning of the State Department.

Last week, 43 first-term Republican members of the Congress joined in a petition urging the removal of General MacArthur as Secretary of State. The petitioners stated that the improvement and strengthening of the State Department, and the ending of vacillation and mismanagement in the conduct of American foreign affairs—is an excellent one. But the method employed is merely waste motion.

The Congress is powerless to remove an official of the executive branch of the Government, except by impeachment on the strength of evidence of treason, high crime or misdemeanor.

Investigation, however, is a power which is presently available to the Congress. This fact was recognized in the resolution adopted by the Republican conference. It also has been recognized by the first-term Republicans, who, in addition to their demand for the removal of Secretary Acheson, have appointed a committee to work out a suggested course of action for recommendation to the Republican conference of the House. I am working with this committee on a recommendation for a thorough investigation of the State Department.

In the past decade, there have been five Secretaries of State—Cordell Hull, Edward R. Stettin, James F. Byrnes, General George C. Marshall and Dean Acheson. Each, upon assuming office, indicated intention of modernizing and improving the State Department. Yet today the State Department is just about the same as it always has been.

The responsibility for the State Department, the size of the State Department, and the difficulty and complexity of the problems with which the department must deal are such that any Secretary of State must be guided by the factual information, the opinions and the recommendations of subordinate officials. Simply changing the Secretary of State and leaving the department unchanged gives only an illusory promise of improvement. The philosophies and policies which emanate from the department must of necessity be the composite product of the organization far more than the work of the Secretary.

If the principles which the United States exemplifies are to survive, if those we honor on Memorial Day are not to have made a futile sacrifice, and if we are not to continue to add countless thousands to their numbers, the time has arrived to find the answers to the many questions which have arisen concerning the operation of the State Department.

What effect do the notoriously involved and cumbersome administrative methods of the department have on its effectiveness in world diplomacy?

What of the character and ability of the men who must make the department's decisions? Has the State Department been staffed with individuals inclined to theorizing and abstract thinking and

CIVIL DEFENSE

Standard Training Is Needed By Civil Defense Volunteers

By Walter A. Shead

(This is the fourth in a series of five articles on the civilian defense program.)

AUTHORITY in the line of command for the tremendous civil defense army needed in case of full scale war stems from the President, through Civil Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell, to the 48 state civil defense directors and down the line to the appointed officers in cities, towns and counties throughout the nation.

National defense against atomic, biological and chemical warfare rests upon thorough training to start in a civil defense staff college to be established for top civil defense planners and administrators. The college will serve as a source of all latest information. Regional technical training centers are also planned where this civil defense training programs in the states and local communities. The technical centers will be staffed by thoroughly trained men and women in the physical and social sciences of the technical and special training necessary. Standardization is a prime factor for successful mutual aid and mobile support which require a force of uniformly trained civil defense workers.

Graduates of the federal technical training centers will train other civil defense workers and trainers within the states, who, in turn, will train the local volunteers. Under the program, two kinds of training will be provided—general and specialized. General training will consist of instruction in basic subjects to include fundamental principles of organization and operation, basic first aid and improvised rescue operations.

The American Red Cross, officials of the public health service and other organizations concerned with health services will conduct certain phases of specialized training such as first aid and nursing training. Many medical officers of the military service, public health services, the veterans administration and other organizations have taken specialized courses in defense against atomic warfare and these will be asked to assist in the training program.

Already, in the atomic warfare field, 148 physicians from 38 states have taken courses given by the atomic energy commission in cooperation with the national security resources board. Similar courses for nurses have been started. Other courses either federal, state or local, will be available for dentists, veterinarians and other professional and technical people working in health services. State health officials have taken courses in radio-

Mex Ferguson Visits Walter Trinkle Home
Mex Ferguson, of West Branch, paid a surprise visit here Monday afternoon to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Trinkle, where he roomed in 1940 and 1941 while employed at the Chelsea Products plant. He was a supper guest at the Trinkles' and in the evening called on Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Zieglerman and spent the night with out-of-town friends. He returned Tuesday morning and was a dinner guest at the Trinkle home prior to his departure for home Tuesday afternoon.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Bert Risor, Barberton, Ohio: I remember how the pupils in the county school which I attended visited other schools to attend a "literary." We would ride in a bob sled with straw on the floor and kept warm with lap robes. The school house was lighted by kerosene lamps in brackets on the walls with reflectors behind them. The program consisted of dialogues, recitations, and it usually ended with a "speldown" between the two schools.

From James Black, Ada, Ohio: I remember 60 years ago when father would take me and get my leather boots long about last of November. How sore my feet would be, but not just that, they had to last until April or May. Never got any socks, but boy, was I proud! Could go out to Grass Run and skate. Don't know how many times would break through. Never got a cold, never sick. Dr. Walters gave father quinine powder once awhile.

From Mrs. Henry Adamson, Ishpeming, Mich.: I remember not so long ago in 1900, cream was five cents a pint. No one was fined for speeding. Nobody was ashamed to walk. Vitamin gauges were unknown. Only small boys wore shorts. Nobody was told, "The line is busy." Nobody cared for the price of gasoline. Farmers came to town for their mail. No one had to look for parking place.

From Mrs. Ed Beach, Sparis, Wis.: I remember when Barnum and Bailey's circus headquarters were in Baraboo, Wis. They had taken the big elephants to the portage in the Wisconsin river for a bath. What a time trying to get them out! They just made the big parade which was soon to start.

From C. E. Pleas, Chipley, Fla.: I remember when shoe sales were nailed on with wooden pegs and all merchants kept a rasp on their counters to cut the tips of the pegs off on the inside soles before delivering them.

Similar courses for nurses have been started. Other courses either federal, state or local, will be available for dentists, veterinarians and other professional and technical people working in health services. State health officials have taken courses in radiological monitoring which included many aspects of the civil defense program.

Similar training courses will be available for biological warfare against humans and animals, against chemical warfare and against biological warfare against crops. Courses in these subjects will have three prime aspects—detection, treatment of casualties, and methods of decontamination. Training will be available for nurses, first aid and home nurses, radiological monitors, auxiliary sanitary personnel and auxiliary laboratory workers.

For large segments of the general public, the major type of training will be in the category of first aid—what to do first in any of the fields of civil defense. The goal is 20,000,000 trained first-aiders in a 22-hour course which will also include training in special weapons defense and in procedures for treating minor illnesses in time of emergency when physicians will be overburdened with casualties.

Every state will operate under a uniform system of organization, equipment and procedure. Establishment of control stations in strategic areas, of first aid stations and the implementation of all necessary ambulances, hospitalization, fire fighting equipment and a score of other defense mechanisms will be taught. It is estimated that approximately 35 per cent of surviving casualties in an atomic bombing burst would require transportation by litter to first-aid stations, hence the importance of first aid work. As an example, if there were 40,000 injured survivors, about 13,000 probably would have to be carried by litter. Another 27,000 could walk, or would be taken to first aid stations by other means.

So the most important function is in first aid training, since even firefighters, rescue teams, police, engineers and other personnel, first to contact the injured, would be called upon for first aid to casualties.

So every individual should watch for announcement of establishment of regional training centers.

CIVIL DEFENSE

Standard Training Is Needed By Civil Defense Volunteers

By Walter A. Shead

(This is the fourth in a series of five articles on the civilian defense program.)

AUTHORITY in the line of command for the tremendous civil defense army needed in case of full scale war stems from the President, through Civil Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell, to the 48 state civil defense directors and down the line to the appointed officers in cities, towns and counties throughout the nation.

National defense against atomic, biological and chemical warfare rests upon thorough training to start in a civil defense staff college to be established for top civil defense planners and administrators. The college will serve as a source of all latest information. Regional technical training centers are also planned where this civil defense training programs in the states and local communities. The technical centers will be staffed by thoroughly trained men and women in the physical and social sciences of the technical and special training necessary. Standardization is a prime factor for successful mutual aid and mobile support which require a force of uniformly trained civil defense workers.

Graduates of the federal technical training centers will train other civil defense workers and trainers within the states, who, in turn, will train the local volunteers. Under the program, two kinds of training will be provided—general and specialized. General training will consist of instruction in basic subjects to include fundamental principles of organization and operation, basic first aid and improvised rescue operations.

The American Red Cross, officials of the public health service and other organizations concerned with health services will conduct certain phases of specialized training such as first aid and nursing training. Many medical officers of the military service, public health services, the veterans administration and other organizations have taken specialized courses in defense against atomic warfare and these will be asked to assist in the training program.

Already, in the atomic warfare field, 148 physicians from 38 states have taken courses given by the atomic energy commission in cooperation with the national security resources board. Similar courses for nurses have been started. Other courses either federal, state or local, will be available for dentists, veterinarians and other professional and technical people working in health services. State health officials have taken courses in radiological monitoring which included many aspects of the civil defense program.

Similar training courses will be available for biological warfare against humans and animals, against chemical warfare and against biological warfare against crops. Courses in these subjects will have three prime aspects—detection, treatment of casualties, and methods of decontamination. Training will be available for nurses, first aid and home nurses, radiological monitors, auxiliary sanitary personnel and auxiliary laboratory workers.

For large segments of the general public, the major type of training will be in the category of first aid—what to do first in any of the fields of civil defense. The goal is 20,000,000 trained first-aiders in a 22-hour course which will also include training in special weapons defense and in procedures for treating minor illnesses in time of emergency when physicians will be overburdened with casualties.

Every state will operate under a uniform system of organization, equipment and procedure. Establishment of control stations in strategic areas, of first aid stations and the implementation of all necessary ambulances, hospitalization, fire fighting equipment and a score of other defense mechanisms will be taught. It is estimated that approximately 35 per cent of surviving casualties in an atomic bombing burst would require transportation by litter to first-aid stations, hence the importance of first aid work. As an example, if there were 40,000 injured survivors, about 13,000 probably would have to be carried by litter. Another 27,000 could walk, or would be taken to first aid stations by other means.

So the most important function is in first aid training, since even firefighters, rescue teams, police, engineers and other personnel, first to contact the injured, would be called upon for first aid to casualties.

So every individual should watch for announcement of establishment of regional training centers.

Rochester—From the enterprise, thrift and hard labor of Lysander Woodward and his immediate descendants, plus the foresight and civic pride of this family of pioneers who settled in Rochester over a century ago and did all they could to build up Avon Township, plus the will of Eva Woodward Parker, a daughter of Lysander Woodward, this community received an $80,000 public library on Wednesday, Memorial Day, when the building was dedicated and the key turned over to the Avon-Township Library Board.

Henry W. Axford, sole executor of the will of the late Eva Woodward Parker, said that Mrs. Parker left the income of her estate to Miss Mary Walters, a colored servant in the Parker home and a typical Southern Mammy, for the duration of her lifetime.

She made a bequest of $25,000 to Milton Woodward, a nephew who lives in Detroit, and a number of other bequests of a personal nature, but directed that upon her death the residue of the estate was to be used to build a library building on the site purchased by the township from the Briggs estate in 1928 when the Avon-Township Public Library was first established and the first library board elected by the people.—Rochester Clarion.

Just "Can't Get Over"
Easy's Fence

Few years ago, Easy Roberts took a lot of kidding when he planted that hedge of Multiflora roses — along his property line. Folks said he was getting pretty high-falutin'.

But today plenty of people who laughed at the idea slow down when they drive by Easy's place — just to look at those roses. Most beautiful sight you ever saw.

Practical, too! The hedge is a good four foot high now, and at least five foot thick — even a shoat couldn't get through that prickly mass of shrubbery. Best of all, it cost less than ordinary fencing. (Might be well worth your while looking into.)

From where I sit, there's no sense in looking down on something just because it's different from what we like. For instance, some people think ice-cold lemonade's the best "cooler-offer" on a hot day. Some of us would rather have a glass of beer. The important thing is not to "hedge ourselves in" against other people's ideas and preferences.

Mr. Stair continued upward in the publishing business until he sold the Detroit Free Press to John S. Knight in 1940.

Mr. Stair remembered his home town through the years, presenting the town with Stair Auditorium and the Stair Public Library. He also gave $28,000 for a new gymnasium in 1942.—Morenci Observer.

JOURNALISM DANCE

Last Friday night was the scene of the last all-high party of the season. The Journalism Club sponsored a no-refreshment, no-entertainment dance in the gymnasium. The evening's main diversion was dancing, which everyone enjoyed. Although it was a warm evening, everyone attending had a swell time. This dance was a sort of farewell dance for the seniors, since this probably was the last dance they would attend during their high-school days. We will all miss the seniors very much next year at our school dances.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council decided to renew its membership to the National Association of Student Councils for the year 1951-52. It was also decided to discontinue sponsoring a foreign school. The final plans for the High School Picnic were discussed and accepted.

PROTECTION

The desire for Protection provides the motive for men joining together in a common cause. It inspired the establishment of our Free Government.

Throughout the ages mankind has been seeking protection—for self, for loved ones, for the right to live as the Creator intended man to live.

The desire for Protection inspired the establishment of the Michigan Milk Producers Association thirty-five years ago—protection for worried dairy farmers and the public which is so dependent upon them.

Through their organization, members of the M.M.P.A. have built a solid foundation for Michigan's Great Dairy Industry. Sixteen thousand of them working together as a unit provide millions of city dwellers with a constant supply of the most vital of all food products—pure, fresh milk—every day in the year, at an equitable price.

Through their cooperative activity every member also is protected—he knows he has a market for all the milk he produces with prompt payment guaranteed and at the price which the quality of his product justifies.

Such cooperative effort provides the utmost of protection for all concerned—it is in large measure responsible for the month of June being proclaimed throughout the land as DAIRY MONTH in recognition of the dairy industry's great contribution to the health and happiness of all Americans.

Loaded Gravel Truck Dumped in Lake as Bridge Collapses

Harold Messner, driver of one of Klumpke Bros. gravel trucks, escaped with minor cuts and bruises on his arm when the gravel-filled truck tipped over on its side Thursday morning after a bridge at Crooked Lake gave way.

Gravel had previously been dumped across the bridge to the island without mishap. The loaded truck had almost gained the opposite bank when the bridge underpinnings gave way causing the truck to tip over. The cab landed on the bank while the body of the truck and its contents went into the water. Messner was able to get himself out of the cab without help.

Klumpke Brothers' crew of workers got the truck out of the water Thursday afternoon. The bridge was repaired and was back in use by Tuesday of this week. Douglas Hoppe lives on the island at the lake.
