Comm. Fair

Report Shows $3,000
Has Been Collected
for Site Purchase

The Chelsea Community Fair Association held a meeting Monday evening at which time Walter Harper, president of the Board, named committees for the 1951 fair to be held Oct. 4, 5 and 6.

A report on the sale of land mortgage notes was given, showing that $3,000 had been turned in. Several who are selling the notes have not yet reported the amounts taken in by them. They are urged to make their reports this week so the fair association may take over the deed.

Harry Rose, one of the fair committee members, introduced a Tecumseh man who gave a description of his rodeo show and the association voted to have the rodeo on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 4. There will be a charge for the rodeo.

It was also decided at Monday's meeting that there will be a charge for the horse-pulling contest this year. The charges were decided upon as a means of defraying the expenses of the two features.

Parking arrangements are to be the same as last year, with a 25-cent charge.

Request Parents Accompany Beginners on Opening Day

Mrs. Lucile Kelly, kindergarten teacher in the Chelsea public school, is again planning to meet with the parents of children entering the kindergarten this fall. Following the plan which proved successful last year, she is asking parents to accompany their children to school the first day and remain at school until the first session is over and they are ready to return home. Parents and children in the rural areas served by school buses are to come at 8 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 6, and parents and children who live within walking distance are to come at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. With the school census showing that approximately 70 children will enter kindergarten here this year, it is essential that parents cooperate in coming at the time as planned. Mrs. Kelly said.

Mrs. Kelly plans to serve coffee to those who come in the morning and also to those who come in the afternoon.

Because of the very large enrollment, it has been arranged to have the children play outdoors under supervision after the formalities of enrollment are completed and while Mrs. Kelly meets with the parents.

Mrs. Kelly has made a number of suggestions for preparations which may be taken care of before the first day of school. First on the list, she emphasizes that the child should be accompanied by a parent and that the child's birth certificate must be presented when he is enrolled. Children must be five years old by December 1 or they cannot be accepted. This is a state ruling and state aid money is not provided for children younger than stated.

It is suggested that all children's clothing be labeled, including rubbers and overalls. Rubbers and overalls should be large enough so children can put them on themselves. Children should not wear their best clothes to kindergarten. Mrs. Kelly said. She suggests slacks for girls and practical everyday clothing for both girls and boys.

Regular school sessions will begin for kindergartners Friday, Sept. 7. The regular morning session is from 8:30 until 11 a.m. while the afternoon session is from 12:30 until 3 p.m. The children attending the morning sessions will be returned home by bus at noon.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN believes that flood control in the mid-west depends upon the choice of congressmen. He has called for the election of more "forward-looking liberal-minded members of congress."

The President is highly critical of "shortsighted people who can't see beyond their purely local interests." He is referring in this quotation to this summer's disastrous Missouri-Kansas floods.

He criticizes congressional refusal to authorize flood control dams on the Kansas river and its tributaries.

Truman's views were expressed in a letter to C.I.O. President Philip Murray who asked him to create an emergency commission to draw up a river control program for the Missouri valley.

There may be a new price turn upward, if so, there will be two reasons: government defense spending at about $50 billion a year and outbreak of civilian production. More money in the economy and less goods set together to create a spiral. All this is in face of Truman's description of the bill to amend and extend the defense production act of 1950—the bill that is supposed to constrain inflation—as "the worst I ever had to sign."

Neither Senator John Butler of Maryland nor Senator McCarthy, his supporter, have reason to be too happy over a document issued by a senate subcommittee on the election tactics by which Butler defeated Senator Millard Tydings. Evidence is clear that a smear campaign was conducted against Tydings and the Maryland voters were told that the Tydings committee report on the state department loyalty cases showed a sympathy with Communism. The truth is, Tydings refused to convict accused persons on insufficient evidence and was punished for his fair-mindedness with a "despicable back-street type of campaign" by Butler.

The two Harrys—Truman and Byrd—are the outstanding leaders of the dissident factions in the Democratic party. Byrd is voice of the rebel southerners, an especially bitter to Truman. Byrd's continual harping upon alleged fees received by Democratic Chairman William Boyle after successfully petitioning for certain clients loans from the R.F.C. Byrd is demanding a thorough investigation of Boyle's activities and his ouster from the party leadership. He is found guilty of any political influence on the R.F.C. to obtain the loans.

Byrd, as if assuming Boyle's guilt, declares, "The time has come when this moral deterioration at Washington must stop and those guilty of such acts must be exposed and punished."

Satirizing the southern hostility to northern G.O.P. overtures, the Detroit News recently carried a cartoon, showing a composite Dixiecrat-Republican exclaiming to a psychiatrist, "I'm all mixed up! Do! When I am not hating Truman, I hate myself."

Some Republican are blaming the defection of Senator Byrd of the 90 West Point cribbers upon Truman's administration.

Besides Truman's $10-billion demand for new revenue, foreign aid authorization and regular appropriations, congress still has on the agenda:

Formal termination of the war with Germany; statutory banning of exports of military items to Russia and satellites and cessation of aid to countries making such exports; authorization of transfer of 24 destroyer escorts to France, Denmark, Peru, Uruguay, Brazil and Great Britain, which the house has authorized $5.8 billion dollar program of construction of military bases and facilities; legislation to control interstate criminal activities.

There's a report that in 1948 Senator Kefauver condemned all senate and house subcommittees. He declared he favored abolishing all such committees to keep the valuable actors out of congress and save the taxpayers money. He declared that these committees had to do something sensational and grab headlines.

For her wedding the bride was dressed in sheer white starched rayon organdy. The fitted bodice finished with a small Peter Pan collar, was unadorned except for a row of tiny buttons from neck to waistline. The full, ballerina-length skirt was trimmed with an embroidered applique in navy. Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion was held in place with a shirred bonnet-shaped headpiece of matching organdy and she carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and variegated ivy. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Raymond Schirer was her sister's only attendant. Her gown was a replica of the bride's but was belted with pink ribbon and worn over a foundation of pink silk. She wore a bonnet of pink shirred organdy and carried pink Rapture roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Sis Victoria, of Ann Arbor, assisted the bridegroom as best man. Mary Kanger, of Ann Arbor, was the soloist. Accompanied on the piano by the bride's brother-in-law, Raymond Schirer, she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A wedding dinner for the immediate family followed the ceremony. Assisting at the dinner were Janice Hashley, Esther Michelfelder and Mary Di Egidio, of Ann Arbor, and Virginia and Dorothy Barth and Mrs. Anna Barth, of Chelsea; also, Betty Johnson, of Ann Arbor, who cut the cake, and Lynette Simonson, of Saline, who was in charge of the guest book.

When the couple left for a week's honeymoon at Duck Lake, near Gobles, the bride was wearing a red faille suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white roses.

For her wedding the bride was dressed in sheer white starched rayon organdy. The fitted bodice finished with a small Peter Pan collar, was unadorned except for a row of tiny buttons from neck to waistline. The full, ballerina-length skirt was trimmed with an embroidered applique in navy. Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion was held in place with a shirred bonnet-shaped headpiece of matching organdy and she carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and variegated ivy. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Raymond Schirer was her sister's only attendant. Her gown was a replica of the bride's but was belted with pink ribbon and worn over a foundation of pink silk. She wore a bonnet of pink shirred organdy and carried pink Rapture roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Sis Victoria, of Ann Arbor, assisted the bridegroom as best man. Mary Kanger, of Ann Arbor, was the soloist. Accompanied on the piano by the bride's brother-in-law, Raymond Schirer, she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Four Roses Grow on Single Stem Several unusually lovely roses were brought into The Standard office Friday by Clarence Fleming who grew them at his farm home on Old US-12 east of Chelsea. Three large roses and a bud, all on one stem, were especially beautiful. Mr. Fleming described them as being of the variety called "Pearl". A delicate cream color, they were faintly tinged with pink on the edge of each petal. The bouquet also contained a large red bloom which Mr. Fleming said was a "Miranda" rose. 6

You can Beat the Bushes—
but you can't Beat this

If you want to know why shrewd car shoppers are saying "Smart Buy's Buick," take a look at this.

It's the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan—and it's roomier than most 4-door sedans, higher-powered than many costlier cars—and priced, as you can see, right down near the lowest.

Now, we ask you: where can you beat it for the money?

Can you beat this beauty on looks and style and rich bearing in any other car near its price?

Can you match, at the same money, the big power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine (128 hp with Dynaflo Drive*)—or the big miles-per-gallon figure it delivers with such thrills?

Can you equal this traveler's roominess in any other car of comparable cost—get full-size headroom, legroom and hip-room both front and rear in any other 2-door automobile?

Can you come even near the gentle levelness of its ride and the solid steadiness of its going—have coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube keel beneath you—except in another Buick?

And where can you top the restful ease and luxurious smoothness of this sweet-heart's Dynaflo Drive* in any other automobile at any price?

The answers, from a lot of certain-sure folks, sum up to a great big, "YOU CAN'T!"

But why take anyone else's word for it?

Come in and get your own answers. Look over this bed-rock-priced Buick—compare it with any other automobile at the same money—and you'll agree you can't beat this smartest of buys.

4 Years Ago...

July 24, 1947—

The Past Presidents of the American Legion Auxiliary have undertaken the task of making a permanent record of the men and women of Chelsea and environs who served in World Wars I and II. The completed records will be bound and placed in the Chelsea Public Library.

Maynard Knickerbocker died suddenly Sunday morning in the garden at his home on West Middle street.

Funeral services were held here at 2:30 Sunday afternoon for Mrs. George L. Leach who died Friday in Grand Rapids.

John Bauer has a force of men at work rebuilding the sidewalk in front of the Palmer-Raftrey building on East Middle street.

Chautauqua programs are being held in the public school auditorium instead of in a tent as originally planned.

Wheat threshing commenced in the vicinity of Chelsea the past week. The grain in the majority of cases is of rather poor quality, rusty, and it shrinks. The yield varies according to location and it runs from 25 to 30 bushels to the acre.

Reorganization of the local foundry formerly operated as the Chelsea Foundry and Manufacturing Co. of Michigan, The Probate Court of Michigan, has been begun this week. J. A. Merrill and Ray Whipple are the new owners.

Closing of the five-mile gap on US-12 past Chelsea was termed the No. 1 project in Washtenaw county this year by Commissioner Murray D. Van Waggoner. US-12 now a three-lane pavement all the way from Jackson to Ann Arbor with the exception of the Chelsea gap where right-of-way negotiations have delayed construction.

Thirty-four years ago, July 30, 1903, John Viel, of Lyndon, in Dick Clark's marsh, picked 148 quarts of huckleberries in six hours and floated his basket around on a plank at that.

34 Years Ago...

Aug. 2, 1917—

The National Process Fuel Co. of Chelsea, with offices in the Moffatt building, Detroit, have purchased of Receiver Whitney, the National Fuel Co. property and have commenced remodeling the plant and expect to begin making peat fuel about Sept. 1.

A fire in Freeman and Runciman's store Monday night might have had serious results had it started later in the evening as there was a serious shortage of water in the village reservoir. Because of the extremely hot weather the demand for water had been so great that the village tank was almost empty. The main from the wells to the reservoir is too small and this matter should be remedied by the village council before it is too late.

Just 25 years ago, Aug. 2 and 3, 1892, St. Paul's church gave concert which netted the society nearly $100; also, the township board had just made arrangements with A. W. Wilkinson, to manage the town hall in all matters relating to foreign entertainment.

Wenk Bros., of Freedom, township, on Tuesday drew two new Red River Special grain separators to their home from the Michigan Central depot here. The gentlemen lost their threshing outfits in the recent tornado.

Tramps and beggars have been getting very bold recently, and in several instances have threatened housekeepers with violence if their demands for eatables or money are not complied with.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Carrie Brown, Marcellus, Mich.: I remember about 80 years ago men drove through the country buying wood ashes. They were called "ash carts." The ashes were to make soap. They always paid with tin ware no money. Later, my mother saved ashes and made her own soap. Never saw any toilet soap until years later, then it was a pink soap with strong perfume.

From Mrs. C. A. Wheeler, Hannibal, Mo.: I remember when grandmother made cornmeal mush in the big iron kettles, and stirred it with a wooden spoon for supper. Any left over was fried for breakfast next morning.

From Mrs. Georgia Fowler, Somers, Iowa: I remember when as soon as the threshing was done in the fall, we took a clean bed tick out to the straw stack and filled it with nice clean straw. That was to be our only mattress until next threshing time, but with a feather bed on top of it, we thought it was fine.

From E. C. Wyatt, Elkins, W. Va.: I remember when cooking was done over an open fire, and biscuits and corn pone and salt bread were baked in an iron oven with a long handle and covered with an iron lid with a rim around the top to hold live coals. Pots were hung on iron chains with hooks at each end. The chains were chiled trammels. One end was hooked over an iron bar called a lubber pole, while others were fastened to an iron bar called a crane which could be swung around in any position.

From Mrs. Lily S. Radley, Pearis, Ill.: I remember when women wore their watches attached to a long gold chain with a plain gold slide on it having jewel sets in the slide. These watches were worn in their belts or in a little watch pocket sewed on their dresses.

Chelsea WTCU

The Chelsea group of the Women's Christian Temperance Union met at the Methodist Home Monday, Aug. 13, for a regular meeting. Mrs. Mary Pearce Tandy, of Gregory, presided and Miss Cora Simpson, of the Home, presented the devotional service. District and county officials of the WTCU were present. Mrs. Thompson, of Ann Arbor, district president, reported on the Union's departments, institutes and convention and also mentioned the speech and poster contests, which evoked the interest of the group.

Mrs. Tandy told of work being done in the schools of Fort Myers, Fla., under a WTCU project called "Alcohol Education." The aims of the educational project are to teach pupils the many uses for alcohol outside the body and to show them that when alcohol is taken into the body it always affects the brain first, thus causing many of today's accidents.

The memory of the late Mrs. Harvey Pearce was honored by singing her favorite hymn, "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee." The song was sung following the reading by Mrs. M. J. Betz, of excerpts from a letter Mrs. Pearce had written.

but you can't Beat this

If you want to know why shrewd car shoppers are saying "Smart Buy's Buick," take a look at this.

It's the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan—and it's roomier than most 4-door sedans, higher-powered than many costlier cars—and priced, as you can see, right down near the lowest.

Now, we ask you: where can you beat it for the money?

Can you beat this beauty on looks and style and rich bearing in any other car near its price?

Can you match, at the same money, the big power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine (128 hp with Dynaflo Drive*)—or the big miles-per-gallon figure it delivers with such thrills?

Can you equal this traveler's roominess in any other car of comparable cost—get full-size headroom, legroom and hip-room both front and rear in any other 2-door automobile?

Can you come even near the gentle levelness of its ride and the solid steadiness of its going—have coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube keel beneath you—except in another Buick?

And where can you top the restful ease and luxurious smoothness of this sweet-heart's Dynaflo Drive* in any other automobile at any price?

The answers, from a lot of

Report from Washington

By Congressman George Meader

Washington, D. C.—For five important reasons, the new federal tax bill should not have been adopted by the House of Representatives recently.

These reasons were presented in a speech which I made during debate on the bill. I voted for recommendation of the bill to the Ways and Means Committee, and, when that motion failed, I voted against adoption of the tax bill.

First, the bill was presented prematurely.
Second, it was offered under a gag rule prohibiting any member of the House from attempting to perfect or improve it through the normal legislative process of amendment.

Third, it is another step toward totalitarian, socialist control of the national economy.

Fourth, it is deceptive, unfair, and conceived in political expediency and favoritism to certain economic groups and discrimination against others.

Fifth, it contributes another powerful underlying force to the basic causes of inflation.

The tax bill is an instance of getting the cart before the horse. The Congress has accepted the President's challenge to squeeze water out of the budget requests, and in 10 appropriations bills which have been before the House and two in the Senate cuts have been made totaling $1,818,978,740.

The House of Representatives has authorized appropriations totaling $13,018,172,594. Still to be considered are the President's $3 1/2 billion dollar program for foreign military and economic aid, a defense measure totaling 6 1/2 billions, State Department appropriations of $283,886,476, and 55 1/2 billions of Defense Department appropriations. These total $10,783,886,476.

No one can now predict precisely by what amount the Congress will reduce these estimated expenditures, yet the tax bill determines how much money will be raised before we know how much we are going to spend.

Of course, should the taxes raised exceed the expenditures, the surplus could be applied in reducing the Federal debt. But a period of increased defense expenditures is not the time to add additional burdens to the economy for redirection of the public debt. And not even the proponents of the tax bill have advocated debt retirement as a basis for the proposed confiscatory increase in taxes.

"Pay-as-you-go" in the current fiscal year is the maximum that has been advocated.

The gag rule under which the bill was presented—and against which I voted—prevented 422 of the 435 Representatives from participating in the raising of revenue. The tax bill was shoved down the throats of the House members by 13 majority members of the Ways and Means Committee on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

The responsibility of a Congressman, elected as the spokesman and agent of his constituents, calls for far more than the rubber stamping of the action of a small group of Representatives, no matter how wise or able they may be. The gag rule is defended as necessary to prevent delay in passage of the tax bill and to protect Representatives from the pressure of interests who desire favored treatment of their particular industries or businesses. This is no valid reason for disenfranchising those upon whom the Constitution placed the responsibility of adopting national policies. It is a confession of weakness in the Congress to contend that its members must be protected from the pressure of representatives of economic classes and groups.

The effect of the tax bill is to enhance and expand the influence and control of the Federal Government, and, particularly, the executive branch, over the national economy.

This bill proposes to drain into the coffers of the Treasury more than 28 per cent of the national income. We have arrived at this point slowly and by stages, but this bill, like the straw that broke the camel's back, suddenly brings the realization that we have moved from a free economy, in which the American people, by and large, directed their own livelihoods, into an economy in which important decisions are made by the bureaucrats and departments in Washington.

Under this bill, the American people will be working for the executive branch of the National Government. They will have become the slaves, not the masters, of their Government. It represents the conscious, intentional effort to acquire more of the powers of authoritarian bureaucracy by those in Government bureaus and departments who hold themselves better equipped to make decisions than either the people or their elected representatives.

The bill is a deceptive and immoral device unworthy of the American government which, in its conduct, should espouse standards of morality and fair dealing equal to those it establishes for the governed.

It withholds taxes from those known to be not subject to the tax, in the full knowledge that, through inertia or ignorance, claims for refunds will not be made. It imposes a tax which, on the surface, seems to be paid by business enterprises, in the full knowledge that this tax will be passed on to the consumers.
Through omission to tax and through manipulation of excise tax rates, it favors groups and interests conceived by the Administration to be politically advantageous and detrimental to other groups regarded as of little political importance. It contains a philosophy punitive of the industrious, the thrifty, the energetic, and the enterprising. It is an attack upon the free enterprise system.

The tax bill is inflationary. The propaganda that it will be a depressant factor on the inflation which has resulted from profligate national policies is false.
It is said the bill will drain off purchasing power from the consuming public. Actually, it will drain off that portion of the purchasing power which most likely would go into savings and investments. The money will be spent, whether it is in the hands of the American people or in the hands of the Government. The Government will spend it all, whereas, in the hands of the people, at least some of it would be saved or put to work in the expansion of productive facilities.
