Independents Lose Game to Williamston

Local Ball Team Now in Fourth Spot in League Standings

Last Sunday at Williamston, the Chelsea Independents suffered their fourth loss of the season, 8-5. Don Alber pitched for Chelsea and gave up 11 hits as his teammates were able to collect only seven hits off starter Oscar Dunckel of Williamston. It was the second time this year that Williamston has defeated Chelsea. The other loss came earlier in the season by a score of 7-3.

Chelsea scored first in the second inning when Oscar Hansen singled into right field to score Jerry Lehman who had previously walked and moved down to second base on a fielder's choice. Williamston came right back in their half of the same inning to score four times on two hits, four bases on balls and one error. They scored again in the fourth and added two more runs in the fifth before they wound up their scoring with another run in the eighth inning.

The Independents tallied their second run in the fifth inning when Oscar Hansen scampered in from third on an infield grounder. In the eighth inning Chelsea scored their last three runs when with two out and Dick Merkel on second, Jerry Lehman singled to left field to score Merkel. Don McClear then sent a three-to pitch back to the outfielders for a triple which chased Lehman home. Don was then scored by Oscar Hansen's second single of the afternoon.

Hitting honors of the afternoon went to Oscar Dunckel, the Williamston pitcher, who collected three hits, walked once and drove in two Williamston runs in five trips to the plate.

Chelsea is now in fourth place in the standings with a 5-4 average in the won-lost column.

Gravelled Parking Lot for Pierce Park Nears Completion

Parking space for 18 cars will be available at Pierce Park when grading and graveling is completed this week. The parking lot is the contribution of Irwin Klump who is donating the gravel and all the labor for the project.

Another recent contribution for the park is a fine teeter-totter donated by Mr. and Mrs. Otis Titus.

Chamber of Commerce members and their families and friends are holding their annual picnic at the park this afternoon and evening. Those who attend will bring their own basket supper.

A ball game between two picked teams of players selected by John Magiera, Recreation Council program director, and a horseshoe pitching contest are scheduled events.

Camp Crile Will Hold Open House

Camp Crile, on the Sullivan farm, North Territorial road, said to be the only camp in the world for epileptic children, is planning an open house to be held next Thursday afternoon.

Myron Poe, camp director, invites all interested persons of the community to attend.

Poe, a teacher in Boynton school, in the southwest section of Detroit, said this week that applications from approximately 100 children who wished to attend the camp had to be turned down this year and that future plans for the camp include building a recreation hall and four or five cabins for boys and girls when finances permit.

The camp is financed entirely by the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, Inc., which was founded by Mrs. Frank J. Crile of Detroit, in 1937. Mrs. Crile became interested in epileptic children when her daughter was principal of the White public school for epileptic children, on Charles street, in Detroit.

At that time children, teachers, and the principal slept at the school five nights a week, in addition to being present for the regular school sessions. The White school is still the only known public school in the world exclusively for epileptic children.

While epileptic children from all over the state are accepted at the camp, 80 per cent of them come from the Detroit area, Poe said. They range in age from six to 16 years.

Mrs. Crile's plan for a camp for epileptic children resulted when she found such children were not provided for in other camps. The project is financed entirely by means of private contributions and benefits from bazaars and dinners put on by the society. The society also conducts a drive for contributions each year but no public or state assistance is received.

Camp Crile operates for eight weeks each summer. The camp opened this year on June 21 and the fourth two-week camp period will be concluded Aug. 19.

The staff includes Mrs. Lillian Funderburk, director; Adolph Koss, a Detroit school teacher and psychologist, as senior boys' counselor; his wife, Edna Mae, as senior girls' counselor; and Mrs. Katherine Poe, wife of the director, resident registered nurse. Mrs. Poe was formerly head nurse and supervisor of nurses at Children's hospital in Detroit.

Activities at the camp are all directed toward proving to the epileptic children that they can do what other children do, with the exception of swimming. There is no lake on the camp property. The camp program is aimed at overcoming emotional problems brought about by the attitude of parents and society in general. Parents of epileptic children often make one of two serious mistakes, Poe said. Either they pamper and spoil the child, or they reject him. At the camp, a special effort is made not to pamper the children, but to counteract the home pampering by teaching the children to do everything possible for themselves.

In their protectiveness toward epileptic children, Poe stated, parents do so much for them that they cannot even tie their shoe laces or dress and shower themselves when they arrive at camp. The children are thrilled, he said, when they learn to dress themselves and find out they can go on long hikes.

One seven-year-old girl, who is a partial paralytic, hiked seven miles, although at home she was so pampered that she was not allowed to walk at all without assistance. She pleaded with camp officials to "my Mommy I can walk by myself."

Leonard Reith, who owns a farm about four miles from camp, has given the camp children free run of his place. Many of the city children see ducks, chickens, farm animals, and corn and wheat fields for the first time in their lives. The children enjoy rowing on the lake and are amazed when they see where country children attend classes. They have a small zoo where they keep toads and frogs they find on their hikes.

Perry Noahs Observe 60th Anniversary

The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Noah was observed at the Wood family reunion held at their home at North Lake, Sunday. Present for the occasion were members of the family from Wayne, Muskegon, Lansing, Mt. Pleasant and this vicinity.

The oldest member of the group was Mr. Noah who is 84, while the youngest was his great-grandson, Floyd Boyce, four-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Boyce.

Officers of the Wood reunion for the coming year are Oscar Wood of Muskegon, president, and Mrs. Holton Knisely of North Lake, secretary-treasurer.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Noah, a granddaughter, Mrs. Erle Stewart, of Ann Arbor, had baked a five-tiered anniversary cake trimmed in gold.

The Noahs have made their home in the North Lake area their entire married life. For the past 40 years they have lived in the house where Mrs. Noah was born 79 years ago. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. William Wood.

Mr. Noah was born at Stanton, near Greenville.

The Noahs operated Noah's Store at North Lake for 20 years before retiring about three years ago. They are members of the North Lake Methodist church.

Members of their immediate family who were with them at their anniversary celebration included their son, Laurence; their two daughters, Mrs. Floyd Boyce and Mrs. Holton Knisely; their ten grandchildren, and four of their nine great-grandchildren.

Jr. Baseball Teams Lose Three Games

The Grass Lake Midgets gained a split for the season against our local lads by winning Friday's game by a score of 18-3. Chelsea had defeated Grass Lake earlier in the season by a 3-0 score.

Loren Keizer, with three doubles and a single in four times at bat, was the hitting star for Chelsea.

Jim Baxter and George Mayer shared pitching honors for Chelsea.

The Midgets play at Vandercook Lake tomorrow at 6:30 p.m.

Summer Recreation Champions Crowned

Hugh Weinberg survived a field of 21 contestants to be crowned the Summer Recreation Program golf putting champion. The record for the six-hole putting course is held by Robert Bertke, with 11 strokes.

Neil Buehler eliminated Denny Murphy in the finals for the horseshoe championship. Sixteen contestants were entered in this tournament.

Bruce Hoffman defeated Neil Buehler in the finals of the ping-pong tournament, to be crowned champion. A total of 12 contestants entered this event.

Frank Wise of 2614 Henry road, near Rivers Junction, died of a heart attack as he was driving along US-12, east of Erzer road, about 6:45 Sunday evening. The car left the highway and ran 200 feet into the field on the north side of the highway before his wife, riding with him, was able to stop it.

County Convention Delegates Selected by Ballot This Year

Washtenaw county voters this year for the first time elected delegates to the county conventions from candidates they themselves had nominated. Both the Democratic and Republican parties nominated their candidates for county delegates by petition instead of by precinct caucuses as done in former years.

The Republican county convention will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Aug. 12, at the Washtenaw county Court House. Sylvan township delegates are Mrs. Mabel Holmes and Paul Maroney for Precinct II, and Leigh Palmer and William Schatz in Precinct I.

The newly-elected delegates to the Washtenaw Democratic county convention will meet Wednesday, Aug. 13, to perform their first official duties in the Democratic county convention, to be held at the Washtenaw county Court House at 9 p.m.

In the contest for delegates to the Washtenaw county Democratic convention from Sylvan township William Rademacher leads in Precinct I with five votes. In Precinct II there was a tie with one vote each for William Rademacher, Edwin Easton, Henry Ahmeritzler, Dona Joseph and Robert Howe. The board of county canvassers will give the final decision when they meet, probably today.

Primary Balloting Sets Records

DeVine Named by County Republicans in Heated Contest

Fred M. Alger, Jr., is the Republican party's candidate to run against Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the Democratic candidate for re-election in the November general election.

John W. Connelly, the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, will be opposed by Clarence A. Reid, Republican, in the lead race. Reid was showing yesterday afternoon continued through the remainder of tabulation from state precincts still to report.

Balloting all over the state was exceptionally heavy for a primary election, although the percentage of registered voters who exercised their right to cast their ballot probably averaged less than 50 per cent.

The 660 voters who went to the polls Tuesday in Sylvan township are approximately one-third of the total number registered here. Walter F. Kautlehner, Sylvan township clerk, estimates that the registration in the township at this time is approximately 2,000.

Charles Potter won the Republican nomination for U. S. senator, and Blair Moody is the Democratic candidate.

Incumbent George Meader received overwhelming majorities over Arthur Lophire and Norman Sulfer for the Republican nomination as congressman. The name of John P. Dawson, the Democratic party's only candidate in the primary election, will appear on the November ballot as the party's candidate opposing Meader.

John L. Osborn (R) and Laurence Oltersdorf (D) are the candidates for sheriff; Luella Smith (R) is unopposed for the office of county clerk, and Edmond F. DeVine (R) won the nomination for the office of prosecutor. Louis C. Andrews is the Democratic candidate.

Other candidates named Tuesday are George N. Higgins (R) and Leonard D. Bennett (D), for state senator; Joseph E. Warner (R) and Viola B. Blackenburg (D), state representative; William F. Vermer (R) and Richard K. Weber (D), county treasurer; Thomas Fitzgerald (R) and Mary Ellen Kirk (D), register of deeds; Murray J. Knowles, Jr. (R), and Roy Merrill (D), drain commissioner; and Edwin C. Ganzhorn (R) and William H. Dickson (D), coroner.

Ann Arbor voters defeated the proposal which would have put a 10 per cent municipal tax on admissions for amusements and sports where admission prices amounted to more than 26 cents. The vote was No. 5727, and yes, 3311.

Workman Uninjured in Fall from Roof

Merle Wieland of Jackson, fell approximately 24 feet from the roof of the Burghardt Funeral Home, landing on the cement walk leading to the front door, and escaped with a few cuts on his arms and legs and some bruising. The mishap occurred at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Wieland is employed by the Chelsea Lumber, Grain and Coal Co., as a roofer. He was taken to a Jackson hospital for x-rays which disclosed no serious injuries and James Daniels, of the Chelsea Lumber, Grain and Coal Co., said yesterday that he understood Wieland was planning to be back at work today.

Edward Hafner Reports to Kiwanis on Boys' State

Edward Hafner, who attended the American Legion's Boys' State at East Lansing in June under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis club, gave an interesting report of his experiences there at the Kiwanis club meeting Monday. Listed high among the benefits of such an experience for himself, as a boy from a small town, was the fact that he learned to adapt himself as one of the large group of boys from all over the state, assume his proper share of responsibility and get along with others.

He was elected to the Board of Review in the mythical "Taylor city" to which he was assigned. His "city" tied for second place on merits and won the right to appear in that order in the parade to the Capitol, a highlight of the week's activities.

James Liebeck, program chairman for the meeting, introduced Tom Davis, an employee of Federal Screw Works, who showed unusually fine colored pictures he took on a recent trip through Mexico.

St. Paul's Votes To Continue Schedule

At a congregational meeting following the morning service at St. Paul's church Sunday, members voted to continue the present time schedule whereby Sunday school is held at 9:30 a.m. and church services at 10:45.

The schedule has been in effect since Feb. 1 on a trial basis following action taken at the annual congregational meeting Jan. 1.

County's 21st Case of Polio Reported

Washtenaw county's 21st case of polio was reported Tuesday morning to the Health Department office in Ann Arbor. All the cases, to date, have been in the eastern section of the county, none having been reported from the Chelsea area, according to the Health Department.

The case reported Tuesday was that of Earl Navarre, nine years old, of East Delhi. There was no paralysis, according to the report.

Retired Physics Professor, Wife Move to Chelsea

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Plemeier, formerly of State College, Pa., moved Thursday to the new home on East street between East Middle and Harrison streets, which they recently purchased of Clarence Ulrich.

Mr. Plemeier has retired after serving as professor of physics at State College for the past 32 years. The Plemeiers' daughter, Mary Lou, is spending the summer at a Synouse, N. Y., camp, where she is a counselor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Culp and daughter, Carolyn, of Grand Lodge, visited Mrs. Culp's mother, Mrs. Edwin Koebbe, at her home here.

Giant Earth Mover

A huge earth mover, to be used for grading work on the speed test track to be constructed at the Chrysler Proving Grounds, arrived here via New York Central Railway Monday. With the aid of a matching-sized pusher power unit, the huge shovel can scrape up a capacity load of 42 cubic yards of earth and deposit it wherever it is required. (An average truck of the size used by road crews in this vicinity carries approximately five cubic yards.) The huge unit is the largest piece of such equipment in this part of the country. The earth mover, the property of Holloway-Thompson Contractors of Detroit, who are to do the grading for the track, is rated at 50-ton capacity load, and weighs approximately 40,000 pounds as shown here, without the pusher unit. The 4.7 mile high-speed oval track which the Chrysler company is building is to be the largest and fastest car and truck testing track in the world when completed. The track is being designed for speeds of 140 miles per hour without any side thrust on the curves. This will necessitate 11.5 degree banking modified Allison aircraft engine which burns propane fuel. The tires, approximately seven feet in diameter, are size 30.00x38 and cost about $3,500 each. The unit as shown in the picture sells for about $65,000 and the pusher unit even more. The track on which this equipment is to be used, is to be graded and gravelled this year and the concrete pavement will be laid next year, according to Chrysler spokesman.

Frey Reunion
 The annual Frey family reunion was held at Pierce Park Sunday, with the 71 members present coming from Jackson, Manchester, Chelsea, Dexter, Ypsilanti, Brooklyn, Sharon Hollow, Plymouth and Great Lake.

Oldest member of the group was Mrs. Carrie Rank, 85, and youngest was Lawton Allen Gross, six-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gross, of Dexter.

During the program period Mrs. Clarence Gieske of Sharon Hollow, read a history of the Frey family. Officers elected are Walter Frey of Manchester, president, and Mrs. Donald Weed, also of Manchester, secretary-treasurer.

The 1953 reunion is to be held at the home of Adolph Gross, near Dexter, the first Sunday in August.

Guests from Ohio
 Mrs. Harry Torrance and daughter, Mary Margaret, of Lancaster, Ohio, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Colquhoun Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Mary Margaret remaining until Monday. She returned to Lancaster with her fiancé, Bill Williams, of Cleveland, who came Monday to take her home. They were accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. Isabel Torrance, who is spending this week in Lancaster.

Also a guest at the Colquhoun home from Wednesday until Monday was Miss Nance Roberts of Detroit.

The Colquhouns left Tuesday for a three-week vacation in Maine.

Luckhardt Reunion
 The Luckhardt family reunion was held Sunday at the Clarence Trinkle home with 75 relatives in attendance, including two guests.

A pot-luck luncheon was served at noon. A fishing pond was enjoyed by the children, and the adults played various games.

DINNER PARTY
 Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Colquhoun entertained at a dinner party at their home Thursday evening for the pleasure of Mr. Colquhoun's cousin, Mary Margaret Torrance, of Lancaster, Ohio, who was the house guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Colquhoun. Guests at the dinner included George Leigh Palmer and the Colquhoun's house guests, Patricia Vandenberg and Don Welday, of Detroit.

Additional evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Cennard and son, Michael Timothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Bonniwell, of Ann Arbor.

Miss Vandenberg and Mr. Welday left Saturday after spending a week here with the Cameron Colquhouns.

CARD OF THANKS
 I am taking this time to thank my friends and neighbors for the lovely cards and flowers; also the Lutheran Sisters and the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's church for their remembrances which I received at the hospital and since my return home.

Mrs. Fred Sager.

Married in C.
 Miss E. Campbell Becomes Bride of Paul E. Mann

The First Presbyterian church at Caro was the setting for a wedding of interest to the many local friends of the bridegroom, Paul E. Mann, cashier of the Chelsea State Bank. His bride, the former Elizabeth Jean Campbell, will be a teacher in the third grade of the Chelsea school in the fall.

The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with Rev. Albert C. Kunz, pastor of the church, officiating in the presence of 200 guests.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Rockwell M. Kempton, organist of the First Congregational church of Saginaw, played Parker's "Wedding Song," "Reverie," by Dickinson; "Romance Sans Paroles," by Bonnet; and Wagner's "Eisa's Bridal Procession to the Minster," from Lohengrin. Mrs. Kempton also played Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the wedding party entered and took their places. She played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the recessional.

Candelabras, bearing lighted white candles, together with palms and white gladioli, were the altar decorations.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Campbell, of Caro, wore a ballerina-length gown of satin, lace and tulle. Satin was used for the strapless bodice which was topped by a short jacket with a fichu of wide lace. Matching lace formed a wide band at the hem of the full skirt which was fashioned of tulle. Tulle and satin formed the cloche to which was fastened her shoulder-length, tiered veil of French tulle. An arrangement of ivy, centered with a white orchid, was her bridal bouquet.

Anne Campbell, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a ballerina-length gown of coral nylon tulle. She wore a matching stole over the strapless bodice and completed her costume with a cloche of matching material. Her bouquet was formed of ivy, tied with coral satin ribbon.

Christine Nil, a niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl, wearing for the occasion a yellow nylon tulle dress and carrying a nosegay centered with yellow roses.

Earl Mann of Manchester, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man; white another brother, Will Mann, also of Manchester, and the bride's brother, Douglas Campbell, of Ann Arbor, seated the guests.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's parents had entertained out-of-town guests at a luncheon before the wedding.

After Aug. 10, the couple will be at home at 20151 Old US-12. When the bride and bridegroom left, after the reception, for a Canadian honeymoon, the bride was wearing a knit suit in an aqua shade with which she used brown accessories.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Mann of Seline.

VACATION TRIP
 Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chapman and son, Larry, and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Satterthwaite and sons, Duane and Lee, spent last week at Buff Creek Lodge, near Barton City. Tuesday and Tuesday night guests of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Toivo Rihimaki and daughter, Shirley, of Chelsea, who were enroute home from the upper peninsula. Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eschebach joined the Chapmans and Satterthwaites for the remainder of the week, and Saturday they all visited Mackinaw City. They returned home Sunday night.

While the Chapmans were away their daughter, Mrs. Howard Baker, with her husband and son, Steven, of Ann Arbor, stayed at the farm. Their guests there for part of the week were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bartel and daughter, Lynn, of Ann Arbor.

Miss E. Campbell Becomes Bride of Paul E. Mann
 The First Presbyterian church at Caro was the setting for a wedding of interest to the many local friends of the bridegroom, Paul E. Mann, cashier of the Chelsea State Bank. His bride, the former Elizabeth Jean Campbell, will be a teacher in the third grade of the Chelsea school in the fall.

The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with Rev. Albert C. Kunz, pastor of the church, officiating in the presence of 200 guests.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Rockwell M. Kempton, organist of the First Congregational church of Saginaw, played Parker's "Wedding Song," "Reverie," by Dickinson; "Romance Sans Paroles," by Bonnet; and Wagner's "Eisa's Bridal Procession to the Minster," from Lohengrin. Mrs. Kempton also played Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the wedding party entered and took their places. She played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the recessional.

Candelabras, bearing lighted white candles, together with palms and white gladioli, were the altar decorations.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Campbell, of Caro, wore a ballerina-length gown of satin, lace and tulle. Satin was used for the strapless bodice which was topped by a short jacket with a fichu of wide lace. Matching lace formed a wide band at the hem of the full skirt which was fashioned of tulle. Tulle and satin formed the cloche to which was fastened her shoulder-length, tiered veil of French tulle. An arrangement of ivy, centered with a white orchid, was her bridal bouquet.

Anne Campbell, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a ballerina-length gown of coral nylon tulle. She wore a matching stole over the strapless bodice and completed her costume with a cloche of matching material. Her bouquet was formed of ivy, tied with coral satin ribbon.

Christine Nil, a niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl, wearing for the occasion a yellow nylon tulle dress and carrying a nosegay centered with yellow roses.

Earl Mann of Manchester, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man; white another brother, Will Mann, also of Manchester, and the bride's brother, Douglas Campbell, of Ann Arbor, seated the guests.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's parents had entertained out-of-town guests at a luncheon before the wedding.

After Aug. 10, the couple will be at home at 20151 Old US-12. When the bride and bridegroom left, after the reception, for a Canadian honeymoon, the bride was wearing a knit suit in an aqua shade with which she used brown accessories.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Mann of Seline.

TRIPLE STRENGTH

NEW Allis-Chalmers SHARES

Allis-Chalmers have the extra-strength design shown here. The white dotted line shows shape of an ordinary plowshare. Allis-Chalmers adds extra steel and reinforces the share in a straight line behind the point.

- Point reinforced with hard metal for greater strength.
- Greater thickness throughout—plus extra thickness of hard facing at point of greatest wear.
- Submerged melt welded for greater strength. Welds are stronger than the original metal.

DEATHS

George Van Heusen

The body of George Van Heusen, 76, a Chelsea resident many years ago, was brought here from Grand Rapids for burial in Oak Grove cemetery. Interment here took place July 24.

Mrs. Mary C. Berger

Mrs. Mary C. Berger, who had resided at the Chelsea Methodist Home since April 10, 1948, died there Thursday afternoon at the age of 85 years. She came to the Home from East Detroit.
Born Nov. 27, 1866, in Detroit, she was a daughter of Casimer and Ann Margaret Reuter Laitner. She was married Nov. 12, 1896 to Herman A. Berger. He died Sept. 6, 1932.

Survivors of Mrs. Berger are a sister, Mrs. Ida V. Cave of Birmingham, and three brothers, Samuel C. Laitner, in California, and Cass and G. A. Laitner, of Detroit. Funeral services, with Rev. M. J. Betz officiating, were held in the Methodist Home chapel at 9:30 a.m. Monday. Interment was in Clinton Grove cemetery, Mt. Clemens.

Camp Crile . . .

Their hikes provide the opportunity to cut grasses which they use in their handicraft lessons when they weave place mats, door mats and other related articles. Other handicrafts include metal tooling and wood carving. Their hikes take them to nearby lakes where they are allowed to go in wading under the strict supervision of three adults. Swimming is out of the question because of the danger of drowning if a seizure should occur while they were in the water.

In cooperation with "Nick" Nicholas, director of the Detroit Presbytery's camp on Joslin Lake, a group picnic is being held today. Several other inter-camp activities have been enjoyed. Camp Grindley is an inter-denominational, inter-racial camp supported by the Presbyterian church.

Eighteen children are at Camp Crile at one time, this being considered the capacity load at present. They are housed in the former Sullivan farm house, which has nine rooms downstairs and six sleeping rooms upstairs. The original house has been expanded to include a 20x25-foot kitchen, a craft room and storage room, and modern shower room and toilet facilities.

Scott Freeman at North Lake, frequently provides treats for the children at Camp Crile, according to Poe, who said the Freeman store is headquarters for all food supplies used at the camp.
