

There are plenty of issues in Michigan. Right now the corporation profits tax that Governor Williams has long espoused is indicative of the basic differences of Democratic and Republican views on taxation.

Truck Driver for Detroit Newspaper Killed on US-12

Harold J. Evans, who was employed by a Detroit newspaper, died of injuries received when his truck went out of control after a collision with a passing truck, crashed through seven guard rails and down a steep embankment into a field.

The accident occurred about 12:45 p.m. Thursday on US-12, about 500 feet east of the Old US-12 intersection near the Chrysler Proving Grounds property, west of Chelsea.

Evans' death was attributed to a crushed chest. He died at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, where he had been taken by ambulance.

The report of the accident, given by Police Chief George Doe as the sheriff's deputy who was called to the scene, indicates that Evans lost control of his truck when the left rear end was struck by a truck traveling in the same direction and driven by Samuel D. Mast of Middlebury, Ind.

Mast was reportedly attempting to pass Evans' truck at the time. The right front end of the Mast truck was damaged. After leaving the road the Evans truck turned right side up. Evans had been thrown out and it is believed the vehicle rolled over him inflicting the injuries which caused his death.

Both trucks were headed west with Evans' small truck loaded with newspapers he was transporting to the various towns on his daily route. The Mast truck was loaded with empty chicken crates.

Mast was taken to Ann Arbor to make a statement to the prosecuting attorney. Evans had been living in an apartment at a Cavanaugh Lake cottage. His home address was in Ferndale.

The body was taken to Detroit and funeral services were to be held there.

Farmer Seriously Injured as Tractor Runs over Shoulders

Edwin Knecher of 9840 Seio Church road, had his shoulders crushed and suffered multiple bruises and possible internal injuries when his tractor ran over him at his farm about 9 a.m. Monday.

He was cranking the old-type tractor when it suddenly started, knocking him to the ground and passing into a nearby shed which it smashed.

Knecher's two-year-old grandson, Ernest Gardner, was with him at the time of the accident and he was warned the youngster a moment before that he must keep out of the way. The precaution is credited with saving the child's life.

The injured man was taken to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

Knecher is a brother of Mrs. Clarence Bahmiller and Mrs. William Lutz of Chelsea.

Mrs. A. L. Steger, Mrs. L. P. Vogel and Mrs. Clarence Vogel were dinner guests Tuesday of Mrs. R. E. Jolly at her home in Farmington.

Recreation Program Ends Season

Average Attendance of 839 per Week Proves Popularity

The Chelsea Recreation Council has just completed another successful summer program for the children of our village.

This year, as in past years, the Council continued its morning program for small children at the high school playground, while the athletic field was the center of activity for older boys and girls in the morning.

The afternoon swimming program was continued as in previous years, alternating between Big Portage Lake in Jackson county and Whitmore Lake. This year, because of the greater preference shown for Whitmore Lake, it was attended three days each week.

The Council expanded its program this year by introducing an evening program at the athletic field from 6:30 to 8:30. This proved very popular with the youngsters of the community, as shown by the large number attending.

The Council has introduced many new games this past season at the athletic field, changing the idea that the athletic field activities were principally baseball. Horse shoes, basketball, golf putting, ping pong, checkers, and softball were the new games introduced, while volleyball, croquet, and badminton programs were expanded.

The baseball program was changed this year by adding the intermediate League (14-year-olds and under) to the Juniors League (12-year-olds and under) and the Midgets League (12-year-olds and under).

Various tournaments were held and champions crowned in the following: horseshoes, Neil Buehler; ping pong, Bruce Hoffman; golf putting, Hugh Weinberg; basketball, Neil Buehler; and horse shoes, Neil Buehler and Bruce Hoffman.

Twenty-one children received Red Cross life-saving certificates by satisfactory meeting the standards set up.

All phases of the program were well attended, with the evening program being the most popular. The eight-week program had a total attendance of 8,710 for an average weekly attendance of 839.

Next year the Council plans to expand the program further by adding the following games to the many popular ones which were offered this year: Chinese checkers, bean bag toss, dart-baseball, and a ring toss.

Wirt S. McLaren, Former Chelseaite, Ends Show Career

Wirt S. McLaren, formerly of Chelsea, who has been manager of the Michigan theatre in Jackson for the past 22 years, tendered his resignation Saturday, ending 49 years of theatre work.

He began business for himself in the old Princess theatre here in Chelsea in 1905 and had been connected with theatre work before that, having promoted stage shows in the Sylvan Opera House located in the Sylvan Town Hall.

Although talking pictures were the latest minute improvement of the times when he opened the Michigan theatre in 1930, he recalls that he had experimented with "talking picture" effects in the old Princess theatre here, located in the building which is now the north showroom of Market Bros. hardware store.

Since then he had owned or managed a number of theatres before opening the Michigan. These included the Colonial, Majestic and Capitol, in Jackson, the Dawn theatre in Hillsdale, and the Rialto in Charlotte.

Earl E. Hoffman, manager of the Capitol theatre the past five years, has been appointed manager of the Michigan theatre, succeeding McLaren.

Charles P. Slane and Marshall Canine were retired last Friday under Chelsea Spring's automatic provision for retirement of employees. Both have been watchmen at the plant.

Slane has worked for the company since July 6, 1936, while Canine has been employed since July 11, 1939.

Both said this week that they plan to take it easy for a while. Slane plans leisurely visits with his son, Charles, and family at Rochester, Ind., and his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Carmean, in Sibley, Ind., and another sister, Mrs. Anna Taylor, of Quincy, Mich., in a week or two, he said.

Canine's home is at 541 North Main street, while Slane lives at 206 North street.

Pvt. Sumner G. Oesterle has completed Army basic training conducted by the Third Armored Division at Fort Knox, Ky., and is now an instructor in the auto-motive mechanics school there. He was in charge of the service department at Harper's Garage here prior to entering the army Feb. 27, 1952.

Tri-County League Wins All-Star Tilt

The Tri-County All-Stars defeated the Central League All-Stars, 5-1, at Owosso, Sunday, to even the series at one game each for the year. In the previous meeting the Central League won, 3-1.

The Tri-County pitchers limited the Central League to three hits but walked 12 to keep themselves in trouble most of the afternoon. In the third and the eighth, fine fielding plays got the visitor's pitchers out of trouble.

The Central League scored their only run in the sixth on a walk, two wild pitches and a fielder's choice.

Next week the regular season comes to a close in the Tri-County League with Williamston at Ann Arbor in the game that will decide first place. In the other game Webberville will be playing at Chelsea.

Junior Baseball Teams Conclude Summer Activities

The Chelsea Juniors won two games last week to end up in second place in their league.

Vandercook Lake was the Juniors' first victim by a score of 6-2. Phil Boreis pitched no-hit, no-run ball in the four innings that he worked. Bob White replaced him in the fifth inning and also pitched no-hit ball up to the seventh inning.

With two out in the seventh, and two strikes on Bob Sanford, the Vandercook batter it seemed as if the local lads would have a no-hit game, but he became the spoiler by lining a single into right field. Joe Sweeney then tripled to score Sanford with the first Vandercook run. Sweesy scored on a Chelsea error for the second and final Vandercook run.

Last Friday our local Juniors played Stockbridge at the Athletic Field and defeated them by a score of 5-1.

Stockbridge scored their run in the first half of the third inning when Bill Lockwood hit a home run. In the bottom half of the third inning Chelsea scored two runs on singles by Neil Buehler and Bob White and a triple by Phil Boreis. Chelsea added another run in the fifth inning on singles by Bob White and Phil Boreis and a Stockbridge error. Chelsea's last two runs were scored in the sixth inning when Bill Clark and Bruce Hoffman hit singles and Bob White hit a triple.

Bob White and Phil Boreis shared pitching duties for Chelsea.

Baker Road Crash Fatal to Fred Cox

Vincent Merkel of 7660 US-12, formerly of Chelsea, suffered severe injuries to his right arm and other cuts and bruises when the car in which he was riding was involved in a crash at Baker and Marshall roads at 9 p.m. Saturday. Driver of the car, Fred C. Cox, who lived in one of the cabins on the Merkel place, lost his life.

According to reports of the accident, the car, a convertible, was traveling on Baker road, toward Dexter, when the crash occurred. The car rolled over and over for 200 feet before coming to rest bottom side up. Both occupants had been thrown out in the meantime.

The Cox car and another driven by Carl Baker of Ann Arbor and headed in the same direction, had collided glancingly. The Baker car landed in a field. Baker and his wife, riding with him, were uninjured.

Born June 23, 1928, in Springfield, Ill., Frederick C. Cox was a son of William G. and Lulu Taylor. He served in the U. S. Navy from July 1945 until Aug. 1946, and had been employed at the Industrial Technics plant on US-12 near an Arbor.

He is survived by his wife, Helen, and two children, Donna and Steven; his mother, Mrs. Fred Ridgway, of Riverside, Calif., the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Taylor, of Springfield, Ill.; two brothers, Sgt. Otto L. Cox, in Japan, and Sgt. William Grover Cox at San Francisco, both in the Army; his father, and three sisters, Mrs. Ellen Hogue of Hazel Park, Mrs. Eugene Furline, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. William Manley, of Sherman, Ill.

Funeral services are to be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Staffan Funeral Home here, with Irving V. Shepard, lay pastor of St. James Episcopal church, Dexter, officiating.

Burial is to be in Oak Grove cemetery here.

Hospitalized After Car Leaves Highway

Henry Romine, 13375 Old US-12, was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, for treatment of a severe head cut after his car ran into a telephone pole on Old US-12, east of Chelsea, at 5:45 p.m. Saturday.

Romine had failed to negotiate a curve in the road just east of the Freer school. The impact broke the telephone pole and severely damaged his car.

He was kept in the hospital overnight for observation, a precaution because of possible internal injuries.

Others in the picture are Roselyn Durham, DuPont High school, Belle W. Va., and Silvio Egizli, Iron Mountain High school. The three-week workshop, which annually attracts more than 50 teachers, is designed to train teachers in the economic structure of American Democracy.

Detailed Plans Complete for Opening of School on Sept. 4

Junior and senior high school pupils who have not registered previously may do so Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 27, 28 and 29, in the office of the high school principal, John Griffin.

Following the plan as carried out last year, they are asking parents to accompany their children to school the first day and remain at school until the first session is over and the pupils are ready to go home.

Parents and children in the rural areas served by school buses are to come to school at 9 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 4, and parents and children who live within walking distance are to come at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

With the school census showing that approximately 98 children will enter kindergarten this year, it is essential that parents cooperate in coming at the time planned. Coffee will be served parents at both morning and afternoon sessions.

Because of the large enrollment, it has been arranged to have the children play outdoors, under supervision, after the formalities of enrollment are completed and while Mrs. Kelly and Miss Latinen meet with the parents.

The teachers have made a number of suggestions for preparation of children which may be taken care of before the first day of school. First on the list, they emphasize that the child should be accompanied by a parent and that the child's birth certificate must be presented when he is enrolled.

Children must be five years old by Dec. 1 or they cannot be accepted. This is a state rule and state aid money is not provided for children younger than that.

Teachers also suggest that all children's clothing be labeled, including rubbers and overshoes. The latter should be large enough so the children can put them on themselves. Children should not wear their best clothes to kindergarten, the two teachers say. They suggest slacks for girls and practical, everyday clothes for both girls and boys.

Regular school sessions will begin for kindergartners Friday, Sept. 5. The regular morning sessions will be from 8:30 until 11 a.m., while afternoon sessions will be from 12:30 until 3 p.m. The children attending morning sessions will be returned home at noon.

This year there will be two morning classes and two afternoon classes in kindergarten.

Football Candidates Asked To Obtain Physical Examination

Alan Conklin, the new football coach at Chelsea High school, a graduate of Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, and a veteran of two years service in the armed forces, will have six letter-winners around which to build the local school team this fall.

HAROLD E. SPAULDING ENTERS POLITICS

I've never cared much for politics but this political mess in November has got me all excited.

I never could understand why a politician would spend $50,000 to get himself a $10,000 job for a few years; however I'm a small town boy and am willing to learn.

I've decided to run for U. S. Senator. I'll be too busy delivering new Chevrolets to make speeches, but my platform is just as slippery as my opponent's and they can't out-promise me.

PLATFORM OF HAROLD E. "PAPPY" SPAULDING

1. I'm agin all politicians who don't own a Chevrolet. Chevrolet has been the successful candidate for 1st place each year for 21 years. A politician in any other car will come in 2nd or worse.
2. If elected to the office of U. S. Senator next November I will give a new Chevrolet to everybody who votes for me.
3. I believe, if I am not elected, weeds will grow waist high on North Main Street... wheat will sell for 10c a bushel, and the police action in Korea might turn into a regular war.

Area Black-Top Roads To Be Seal-Coated

Bids for 4,000 tons of cover stone for seal-coating operations in this vicinity were let Monday by the Washtenaw county Road Commission, Howard G. Minier, manager for the Road Commission, announced yesterday. The only bid received was from the gravel firm of Whitaker-Gooding of Peckins road, south of Chelsea. The bid was for $1.40 for the material called pea stone. The cover stone is to be used by the Road Commission on Old US-12, Cavanaugh Lake and Pleasant Lake roads, mostly. Road Commission crews will be doing the work Minier said, although if it becomes evident that crews were "being crowded for time," some of the work might be let on contract. The seal coating is scheduled to be completed by Sept. 15. Minier stated.

Frankfort—What was anticipated to be a huge local cherry pack ended this week with about a 50 per cent pack.

The reasons the cherry crop was labeled disastrous this year included the extremely high winds which badly bruised a large share of the crop and made it unfit for picking or packing, the low price which began at five and one-half cents per pound and then after the damage was surveyed was raised to only about six cents per pound, and finally, the unfamiliarity of all parties with the state cherry grading law which was enforced this year for the first time.—Benzie County Patriot.

Saline—Kenneth Schultz, 1408 Charlton avenue, hopes to organize a chapter of the Kiwanis club in Saline. The local club will be sponsored by the Ann Arbor Kiwanis, of which Schultz is a member. If the necessary 25 members can be raised.—Saline Observer.

Manchester—Donald C. Weed has resigned his post at Manchester High where he was principal for the past 14 years and a teacher for 23 years, to become principal of Keego Harbor high school. At Keego Harbor he will succeed Carl H. Biefeld.

Regret at the principal's leaving was expressed by F. M. Reck, president of the school board, who said Mr. Weed will be greatly missed, but that the board could not stand in his way to accept an advancement.—Manchester Enterprise.

TELEVISION DISCOVERS MAIN STREET You'll Be Speaking of 'UHF' in Future

(This is the third in a series of four articles on the coming of a national television service.)

A new technical phrase is being projected into the national vocabulary. It is "Ultra-High Frequency" and it is the operative phrase in a government plan to extend television beyond major population centers into the farms, ranches and small towns of America.

To the scientist, Ultra-High Frequency (UHF) means a section of the radio spectrum. Another name for the spectrum is radio air waves. The air waves, of course, belong to the people, and it is the job of a government agency to divide among various private and government services wireless channels in which to transmit information electronically.

The services to which the government entrusts the public's air waves include police radio, television (in the Very High Frequency, FM broadcast, civil radio, amateur radio, government wireless, maritime wireless, ship stations, coastal stations, maritime navigation, general navigation, radar, air navigation, airport control, industrial, scientific and medical wireless devices.

Fixed Channels

Each of the services has fixed "channels" in the air waves and cannot intrude upon its sister services. With television, the number of channels used today is not sufficient to carry video signals to every part of the nation.

Since the inception of commercial TV, telecasts have been beamed over 12 channels in the relatively limited Very High Frequency section of the air waves, but with new stations mushrooming around the country, the Federal Communications Commission decided it had better call a halt before TV signals began bumping into each other. Its decision was prompted by the realization that two television signals transmitted over the same channel within range of one another will collide and thus "wash up" the home viewing screen.

The one unoccupied section of the spectrum which promised plenty of room was UHF. This was the area in which scientists and engineers of the Radio Corporation of America began looking for new television channels.

"Up until RCA engineers began looking into it," according to O. B. Hanson, vice president and chief engineer of the National Broadcasting Company, "the UHF was the Antarctic of the air waves. Everybody knew where it was on the map of the radio spectrum, but nobody had much practical knowledge about it."

This plunge into the upper frequencies was doubly necessary because television is a great space grabber. A television picture requires much more "information" to be transmitted electronically than a radio broadcast. As a matter of fact, a TV station requires 600 times as much room in ether as a radio broadcast station; it uses a band width of 6,000,000 cycles (6 megacycles) compared to 10,000 cycles for standard radio broadcast.

Equipment Developed

Out of years of extensive research and field tests, equipment was developed which made UHF practical.

It was found that UHF stations, properly situated and properly operated could furnish home viewers a picture that equaled in clarity and definition the standard VHF picture.

It was found that present home television sets could receive UHF telecasts through the addition of a simple "tuner" and that receivers could be built to receive both UHF and VHF telecasts.

It was found that the enlistment of 70 new UHF channels for television would permit an orderly expansion of the VHF service without fear of station conflict.

These findings provided the basis of the FCC's plans to license nearly 2,000 new stations throughout America.

To the people who will receive this new service, various considerations will govern their selection of home equipment.

In some areas, under the FCC plan, only UHF channel will be received. Present set owners, who have perhaps been picking up a distant VHF signal, will be able to purchase a simple and inexpensive fixed channel tuner to go with their present sets.

For residents of areas where several UHF channels can be received, full range tuners have been designed.

In many new television areas, the projected coverage will include both types of service. And combination UHF-VHF sets are likely to be the industry's answer. These sets will probably gravitate toward the major population centers since the allocation plan envisages both services in all but three of the country's 50 major market areas.

In addition to tuners and combination sets, the public will probably have an opportunity to purchase various types of antenna for UHF reception. In the course of engineers designed numerous effective receiving antenna of remarkable varied shape. One of the simplest is known as a "bow-tie" and looks just like an enlarged version of this male neckwear. Another is known as a "Double V", and consists of two sets of dipoles (metal rods cut to a critical length) attached to a pole in the form of two Vs. There is a parabolic antenna, with metal bars attached to a curving semi-circular shaft, and there is an antenna with the colorful name of "Vagi."

These are the antenna which in a few years might dot the rooftops of farms and ranches and city residences. When new stations begin to go up, the industry will undoubtedly standardize on a few of many experimental antenna models, giving full consideration to both performance and sightliness.

The industry has already made formidable gains in overcoming the problem of designing UHF station transmitters with sufficient power to provide required-area coverage. The first test models were one kilowatt, but units of from 10-12 kilowatts are now being tested.

Ample Power

New gain antenna have also been developed, and the industry is looking toward UHF antenna that can radiate 200 kilowatts—more than ample power to meet nearly all conditions.

Of course, the UHF service has its limitations like every other service. UHF transmissions, like VHF, are dependent on line of sight between transmitting and receiving antennas. In addition, they are more directional and the location of transmitter sites is of prime importance. Mountains, hills and other physical impediments can block effective transmission.

In addition to promising television to presently vacant areas, UHF offers new hopes for thousands of set owners who live in "fringe" areas. These areas are on the outskirts of the effective telecast coverage from present VHF stations.

To obtain a home picture in these fringe areas, towering antennas are frequently required, and often the pictures are too faint and "noisy," and lack the contrast required for enjoyable home viewing.

New stations are the obvious answer to fringe viewing, but if they are VHF stations they might conflict with the signal, however faint, from the more distant VHF transmitters.

With UHF, however, new stations with new channels can go up in the very shadow of existing transmitters and a clear, bright picture can be enjoyed by everyone.

fed daily, the length of the feeding season and the amount of forage to be stored. Mature animals need about one cubic foot of silage per day if considerable hay is fed with it, or up to two cubic feet or more per day if little or no hay is fed. Well-compacted silage will average about 49 pounds per cubic foot.

The county agent has further suggestions for farmers who want to use a trench silo.

First Plans

The first chemical coke plant in America was built at Syracuse, New York, in 1869, largely to obtain ammonia. The coke and recovered gas were used as industrial fuels.

County Agent Gives Tips on Trench-Type Silo

A properly constructed trench silo is a satisfactory substitute for the conventional upright silo even though trench silos are not as efficient in preserving silage. Washtenaw county Agricultural Agent Don Johnson, points out:

A well-drained site is the first requirement for a trench silo. U. S. Department of Agriculture and Michigan State College specialists say that if there is a gentle slope, the trench may be dug the desired depth at the upper end and the excavated dirt used to build up the sides at the lower end. On a level site, the trench may be below the natural ground level if suitable drainage to a dry well can be provided. In this case both ends of the trench should slope sufficiently to permit driving through the trench.

On poorly drained ground a trench may be built above the natural ground level by constructing stone or concrete walls with heavy footings backed up by wide, thoroughly compacted dirt banks, Johnson says. For any type of trench silo, stone or concrete approaches should be provided to permit the silage to be hauled out or self-fed in all kinds of weather.

In deciding on the size of a trench silo, farmers should take into consideration the size of their herd, the amount of silage to be

1952 elections will find most voters interested in State personalities than in platforms.

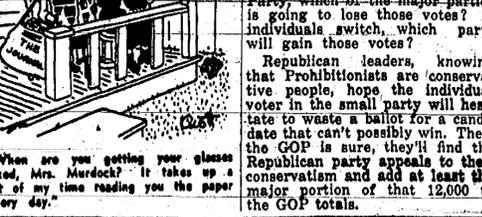

The Prohibition Party will be on the Michigan ballot this fall. Although for the record, they maintain they're in the race to win, few of its own members are so naive as to believe that they can actually out-poll the two major parties.

But the Prohibition Party may play a more important role this year than it has since the days of Prohibition.

The reason is pure mathematics. The "experts" around the Capitol—real or self-styled—think that there will be about 12,000 voters roughly classified as "Prohibition party votes." This 12,000 might well be the decisive margin in as closely a fought campaign as this one already shapes up to be.

If they vote for the Prohibition Party, which of the major parties is to lose those votes? If individuals switch, which party will gain those votes?

Republican leaders, knowing that Prohibitionists are conservative people, hope the individual voter in the small party will hesitate to waste a ballot for a candidate that can't possibly win. Then, the GOP is sure, they'll find the Republican party appeals to their conservatism and add at least the major portion of that 12,000 to the GOP totals.

"All my life I've wanted to own a Buick"

Power Steering on the Roadmaster and Super

Power Steering now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

It seems that owning a Buick is something that a lot of folks dream about—plan for—and finally do. We say that because, so many times, they say so in words like those above. Those words make us happy, of course—happy to know we sell a car which means so much to those who own it. But they make us feel just a little bit sad as well—sad to realize all the years of fun such folks have been missing for no good reason at all. For the fact is this: If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick. You can afford the thrill of bossing around that big Fireball 8 Engine that purrs forth a mighty flow of power. You can afford the gas bills—as any owner of a 1952 Buick will tell you—because that high-compression, valve-in-head marvel gets a lot of miles from a gallon of fuel. You can afford the extra luxury of a real million dollar ride—the silken smoothness of Dynaflo Drive*—the extra room and comfort and style that have put Buick popularity right up at the top of the list, next to the "low-priced three." So if you want to own a Buick—there's just one thing to do: Come in—pick the one of your choice—and let us show you how close the figure that goes on the bill of sale comes to what you'd pay elsewhere. As we've said before, your first car can be a Buick. Why not take the Big Step right away—today?

Equipments, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

THE INSIDE STORY

of easier forage handling

With row-crop attachment, the Allis-Chalmers Forage Harvester quickly turns a field of corn into a silo full of top-quality winter feed. Stalks are cut by the heavy-duty sickle, then fed from the specially designed hopper straight into the chopping cylinder. Uniform length of cut is maintained and the wide cylinder gives extra capacity. Curved and spiralled knives—power-sharpened right in the machine—cut cleanly and throw each knifeful into the trawled wagon. Let us show you the inside story of a lower cost, time-saving harvest of all silage crops.

Attachments are also available for harvesting all standing grasses and legumes, and for windrowed crops.

THE CENTRAL IDEA

Biggest Diesel fleet saves you money!

- 1794 DIESEL UNITS are pulling for you on New York Central. Another 153 are on the way to join this largest diesel-electric fleet owned by any railroad. Their efficient power... working long hours, saving on service and fuel... helps keep rail rates far below most prices.
- THE DOLLARS AND CENTS of what modern rail efficiency means is well illustrated by this family dinner. Since 1946, the price of this meal has risen from $2.37 to $5.16. But the rail freight part of that cost has gone up only 3¢... from 15¢ in 1946, to 18¢ in 1951!
- RAILROADERS SHIP IT! Diesel-electric power and other efficiencies help them enjoy 143% higher average wage rates than during the 1935-39 period. Last year, New York Central paid $468,600,000 in wages. And most of that was spent in towns like yours along the line.
- SO WHEN YOU SEE a New York Central diesel at work, remember it's a sign of progress. Progress that means good wages... efficient service to your community... at rates that are a bargain compared to most things you pay for. That kind of progress is the CENTRAL IDEA!

New "Early Red" raspberry lengthens season, boosts yield

A new red raspberry variety, named "Early Red," has been developed at Michigan State College's South Haven Experiment Station, after 20 years of breeding and testing. The "Early Red" starts producing berries early in the season when the crop is small and prices are usually higher. Plants are upright, tall, vigorous, hardy and very productive. The berries have good flavor and a long ripening season. They withstand canning without crumbling and freeze as well as Latham raspberries. For more information, call your County Agricultural Agent.

"Daddy Longlegs" guards the nation

This curious-looking device is a "thermistor." It's a speck of metallic oxide imbedded in a glass bead half the size of a grain of rice (or smaller). The bead thermistor controls and measures the flow of electric current in radar sets used to guard the nation's defenses. It's also used in telephone equipment. Developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories and made by Western Electric Company, the bead thermistor is an example of the precision accuracy which has helped give America the finest telephone service in the world.

DEATHS

Mrs. Stanley Lusty

Mrs. Stanley Lusty died of a cerebral hemorrhage Saturday at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, after becoming ill at a cabin at Schooley's where she and her husband had spent the night. They had been in Dexter to arrange for the disposal of furniture and household goods belonging to the estate of Mrs. Lusty's parents, the late Michael and Elizabeth Kelly.

Sheriff's officers began an investigation when bruises were found, after her death, on her arms and shoulders. Lusty, a former resident of the Chelsea area, explained that he had helped her back to bed after he woke up at 5 a.m. and found her lying on the floor beside the bed, and then went back to sleep. When he awakened again later and found her in a semi-conscious state he called an ambulance and had her taken to the hospital. Lusty was to be questioned again later in the week.

Mrs. Lusty was a teacher in the Detroit public schools. She was the former Mary-Kelly. She and her husband have lived in Detroit since their marriage Feb. 14, 1942. Funeral services were scheduled to be held at 10 a.m. yesterday in St. Joseph's Catholic church in Dexter with Rev. Fr. Charles Walsh officiating. Burial was to be in Dexter.
