

Michigan's perpetual jitters are not being helped by speculation as to the intentions of the State's number one vote-getter, G. Mennen Williams.

Both parties are on edge, trying to figure out what he has in mind. Will he run for re-election as governor in 1956 or will he turn his boundless loyalty on the senate chair of Sen. Homer Ferguson?

Ferguson, and his fellow Republicans, is hopping around like a cat on the stove. He is nervous—let's face it.

The Democrats also are on the edge. If Soapy decides to go for the senate, they will have to groom some strong hopeful for the 1954 gubernatorial campaign. They want to know what the tall man with the cowlick is going to do.

Williams isn't talking yet. If he runs for a fourth term he'll be bucking the odds. No governor has made it—only Groesbeck yet.

He lost Owen Clary, secretary of state, has made it clear he considers his job only a stepping stone to better fields. State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, a consistent vote-getter, is tops in experience and qualifications and may try for the governorship in 1954.

If Williams takes a crack at the senate he'll be risking all the political prestige he has garnered in the last four and one-half years. Should he lose—and there are those who feel he would have trouble in such a race—he would forfeit his gain unless a Democratic administration goes back to Washington in four years.

There's no question about it, the governor is looking at the White House. After knocking off Alger in 1952 he has a right to gaze at Washington.

But it must be remembered that a junior senator—which is what he would be if elected—is assigned to only the minor committee and rarely makes news.

If he runs for a fourth term and is elected he will be making national history. Every voter in the country will know who Soapy Williams is.

The cold dank wind of debt is fluttering up the bed clothes of Michigan schools.

It's an uncomfortable bed the schools have made for themselves but, as the saying goes, they'll have to sleep in it. Total sales tax collection of the previous year. In 1948 the sales tax diversion amendment was pushed through by the school lobby. Every teacher became a one-man pressure group, flooding the mails with beechnotes to vote for the amendment and "save our schools."

The amendment was passed.

Now John B. Martin, Jr., auditor general, predicts that Michigan schools will have to close in the next six months unless they can borrow money to stay open.

What has happened?

There just isn't enough cash in the general fund to make this mandatory payment to the schools—$25,000,000 too little cash.

Before the sales tax amendment was passed the legislature appropriated money for the schools in accordance with the amount expected to be on hand. Now it is paid by law to appropriate from the general fund an amount equal to 44 percent of the total sales tax collection of the previous year. This year it must come up with $94,000,000.

It is bound by the constitution to do this—but the general fund of the state is as empty as a copy boy's pocket.

Four years ago the general fund boasted a $34,000,000 surplus. Now it is $55,000,000 in the red.

Sponsors of the sales tax diversion amendment, of course, had no way of knowing such a situation would prevail. But it does.

In addition to the general fund appropriation—the state also kicks back one-half cent of the three-cent sales tax to the school. This, of course, will be done—the state acts only as a collection agent for the schools in this.

One-half cent also is returned to the villages, townships and cities on a per-capita basis. Townships have very small operating expenses. This in many cases the small units of government have more money than they know what to do with while the state general fund is strapped.

Attempts to divert some of township money into the general fund by retaining the earmarked funds have been stymied by Gov. Williams' veto.

Long-range program? That looks down to the state can shave and save and cut operating expenses and/or the state can collect more taxes.

This could mean the corporation profits tax, nuisance taxes on soft drinks, tourists accommodations, etc. There even are whispers of a state income tax.

Why not a constitutional convention to revise the state's taxing setup? The legislature in 1952 approved such a convention; Governor Williams vetoed the bill.

Practical result: A stalemate at Lansing.

"We have reached a point where the deficit can't go on increasing," the scholarly auditor general says. "I have scraped and gathered up every nickel I can find. We've cut down on expenses, capital outlay—everything. We are right down now where we can't find any more."

Some of our lawmakers were surprised recently when they (Continued on page nine)

Manchester's Flying Dutchmen were too much for the Bulldogs Tuesday evening as they won the game 37-28 on their own home floor.

The first period found Manchester with a slim lead of 9-6 as Red Lamb paced the Dutchmen with four points.

In the second period Chelsea came from behind to take the lead, 16-14. Neil Buehler added four points to pace the Bulldogs as the first half ended, 16-14.

Manchester racked up 11 points in the third period as they again surged into the lead, 25-21.

In the fourth quarter the Bulldogs sank only one field goal, contributed by Duane Downer, as the game ended, 37-28.

Neil Buehler paced the Bulldogs with 10 points to his credit, while Jack Eulizer sank eight points for the Dutchmen, with Jerry Fennel and Bill Aikens each contributing six points.

Manchester made seven out of 13 attempted free throws for an average of 54 per cent. Chelsea made eight out of 24 attempts for a 33 1/2 per cent.

Saturday evening will find the Bulldogs engaging Ypsilanti Roosevelt at the Ypsilanti Center gymnasium. Game time is 8:45 p.m.

Flat Rock 58,
Chelsea 41

Chelsea's basketball team lost to Flat Rock last Friday on the latter's floor, 58-41. Difficulty in getting started let Flat Rock gain a lead that the Bulldogs were not able to challenge.

Flat Rock led at the end of the first period, 17-8. They continued through the second quarter to roll up 15 points to Chelsea's 12 and lead at the end of the first half, 32-18.

Hal Goodhue and Robert Mittlestat each sank nine points for the Bulldogs, while Joe Greenwood led the Bulldogs with nine points.

Chelsea racked up eight points to Flat Rock's six in the third period, but that wasn't enough to overcome the lead and the Rams continued to lead 38-26 as the third quarter ended.

The fourth and final period saw Flat Rock add 20 points to Chelsea's 16, before the game ended, 58-41.

Robert Mittlestat led the scoring parade with 17 points, while Hal Goodhue added 15 for the visitors.

Joe Greenwood paced the losing Bulldogs with 14, ably assisted by Neil Buehler with 13.

The Bulldogs made 15 out of 26 free shots for a 58 per cent average, while Flat Rock made 18 out of 27 for a 67 per cent average.

Chelsea's Bullpups lost to the Rams' second team, 15-13. George Collins scored 15 points while Don Mathews tallied 12 for the victors. Jim Greenwood and Harold Stott each scored four points for the Bullpups.

Bullpups' First Win

Chelsea's Bullpups won their first game of the current season by trouncing over Manchester's second team, 62-36.

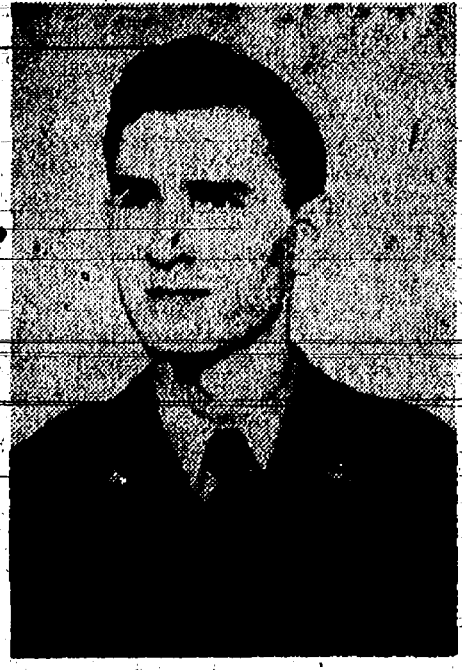

The Bullpups led throughout the game and their lead was never challenged. A switch was pulled when Gary Drassekhouse made a basket for Chelsea when his sense (Continued on page nine)

Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.—More than 8,000 pictures of every-day life from private to a four-star general and of everything from still-lives to the atomic cannon is the two-year military record of Sergeant Ralph N. Guenther of Chelsea, who was discharged here Jan. 14.

Sgt. Guenther, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Guenther, 308 Grant street, was the official regimental photographer of the Ordnance Replacement Training Center. As such he was attached to the Information and Education Office in charge of all photographic news coverage in this sprawling installation.

Attesting to the fine work the sergeant has done while in the army is the third prize awarded him in the Second Army Photographic Contest, and the many prints of his pictures hanging in offices all over the ORTC.

Inducted Jan. 16, 1951, at Fort Sheridan, Ill., he was sent to Aberdeen where he completed basic military training in the first such group to go through the Ordnance Replacement Training Center. Following this he received additional training at the Army Projector School.

A graduate of Chelsea Public High school, Sergeant Guenther was formerly employed by the Central Fibre Products company of Chelsea.

Icy Roads
Slow Traffic
in Past Week

Although the ice and sleet of the past week-end was said to be the worst to strike here in some time, no accidents were reported to the Chelsea Police department, Chief George Doe said yesterday. He said it was a record to be proud of, considering the great number of accidents all over the county and state.

Wilbert Breitenwischer, Chelsea yard foreman for the Washtenaw County Road Commission, had his workers out Saturday and Sunday. He said US-12, M-92 and all black-top roads in this area were sanded and open for normal traffic by Saturday night.

Sunday, all members of the road crew worked all day, sanding township and gravel primary roads.

Monday's snow added to the hazards of walking and driving by concealing icy patches. Breitenwischer said his men concentrated on sanding intersections, hills and curves all day Monday.

Because of the ice on side roads services at the North Lake Methodist church and St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Rogers Corners, were cancelled, and Communion and Sunday school was cancelled at Salem Grove Methodist church.

At St. John's church the annual meeting of the congregation had been scheduled for 10:30 a.m. before the 11:30 a.m. service. The meeting is to be held this Sunday.

At Bethel Evangelical and Reformed church, Freedom township, installation of officers was to have taken place last Sunday but was postponed until this Sunday because of the small attendance.

Salem Grove church held a worship service for approximately 20 members who braved the icy roads to attend; but the scheduled Communion service was postponed a week.

Chelsea churches reported good attendances in spite of the icy roads and walks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dale Rabley and son, Mikoy, of Montgomery, spent Friday at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rabley.

Rev., Mrs. Toy
Welcomed Sunday
at Open Reception

Approximately 150 men and women of the community were present Sunday afternoon for the reception in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Toy in the Congregational church parlors.

In the receiving line with Rev. and Mrs. Toy during the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Van Valkenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wacker, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Musbach, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beal and Mr. and Mrs. Walfrid Impola.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. E. W. Eaton, Mrs. R. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. R. W. Wagner and Mrs. Walter Wolfgang.

Mrs. M. J. Baxter and Mrs. M. W. McClure were in charge of arrangements for the reception.

Among the guests who attended were Rev. Toy's sons, William and Robert, of Lansing, with their wives and the former's sons, Richard and Tommy; also, Charles Thomas who now resides at the Methodist Home, Mr. Thomas was born and raised in England only one and one-half miles from Rev. Toy's boyhood home. Rev. Toy recalled that Mr. Thomas came to hear him preach his first sermon as pastor in a Detroit church some years ago.

Mrs. Toy's father, William Turner, of Lansing, was also present. Treacherous walking and driving because of the icy condition of walks and roads, kept a number of people from venturing forth, as they had planned, to attend the reception.

Rev. Toy, formerly of Hudson, took over his duties here as pastor of the Congregational church Jan. 1. He succeeds Rev. W. H. Skelton, who resigned Sept. 1 to become pastor of the Litchfield Congregational church.

Local Kiwanians
Will Sponsor New Club in Northville

Kiwanis club members were hosts Monday evening to 16 Northville business men intent on organizing a Kiwanis club in their community. The Chelsea club intends to sponsor the new club's charter.

Dr. Clarence M. Loessell, the guest speaker, was introduced by Don Alber, Dr. Loessell, science professor at Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, and a past president of the Michigan district governor, spoke of the founding of Kiwanis and the fact that Jan. 21 marks the organization's 88th birthday. The mother club was organized in Detroit in 1915. He said there are now 213,000 members in 8,500 clubs, 158 of these being in Michigan.

Dr. Loessell also officiated at a transferal induction ceremony for Rev. Thomas Toy's transfer of membership from the Hudson club. He has been a Kiwanian for 17 years.

Stockholders Re-Elect
Officers of Bank
at Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Chelsea State Bank was held Tuesday Jan. 20, annual reports showing the bank to be in "a sound, prosperous condition."

Directors re-elected are Arthur Wals, Andrew Guide, M. D., J. Vincent Burg, Howard S. Holmes, A. A. Palmer, M. D., Paul E. Mann, and P. G. Schaible.

Following the stockholders' meeting the board met to organize for the coming year and re-elected Paul G. Schaible president.

Other officers elected are Howard S. Holmes, vice-president; Paul E. Mann, vice-president and cashier; Paul F. Niehaus and Richard Kern assistant cashiers.

Police Arrest
Juvenile Gang
for Break-In

Investigation, quietly carried on Friday and Saturday by Police Chief George Doe, resulted in eventual apprehension of a group of young people who are believed to be responsible for a number of break-ins in the community and pilfering of parked cars.

Chief Doe was assisted later by Clare Oltersdorf and Gregory Katopodis, detectives with the Washtenaw county sheriff's department. The group has been charged with breaking-in at the cottages of Dr. Howard Baker and his son, southwest of Chelsea, and at the Leo Merkel home.

Arrested and held when they failed to provide $500 bond were George and Carl Young, 19-year-old twin brothers, and Alta Young, 21, their sister, also, Jared Smedley, 18.

One of the brothers, Carl, and the sister, Alta, later furnished bond and were released to appear for trial in Circuit Court Jan. 24 and Jan. 27.

A Manchester girl, Helen Snyder, had previously been released when she posted $25 cash as bond. Another youth and young girl are being sought.

Two of the youths, Smedley and George Young, demanded examining bonds which were set for today, and Young was released on $500 bond. Smedley failed to furnish bond and was remanded to the Washtenaw county jail until today's hearing.

Petty thievery from parked cars has been reported to local police for some time past and it is believed round-up of the gang will put a stop to the nuisance.

The cottages were first broken into last November and were forcibly entered a second time late in December. The Merkel house on Sylvan road was also entered at that time but it had not been determined whether anything was stolen.

Sharon Tower
Farm Bureau Group

A new Farm Bureau group was organized Jan. 12 at the Allen Alber home, choosing the name Sharon Tower Farm Bureau.

Mrs. Robert and his sister, Miss Ilse Pfeiffer, were present to assist with the organizational work, the former acting as temporary chairman.

Election of officers resulted in naming the following: Reno Feldkamp, discussion leader; Walter Haab, minute man; Jack Pfeiffer, chairman; Ellis Pratt, vice-chairman; Mrs. Ellis Pratt, secretary; Mrs. Allen Alber, committeewoman; Mrs. Raymond Jacob, Jr., alternate committeewoman; and Mrs. Walter Haab, publicity chairman.

Meetings of the new group are to be held the second Thursday of each month.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Helow with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Alber assisting; it was announced.

Talk by Manager of Ann Arbor Body

Robert Gage, Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce manager, speaking at the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday evening, told the local group a number of things the body ought to see to for the community. He was speaking on the topic, "The Place of a Chamber of Commerce in a Community."

He boldly told his listeners that before he was in town five minutes he saw that an immediate need is better street lighting at the entrances to the village.

He also mentioned the trend toward keeping stores open Friday nights instead of Saturday, and toward parking meters in all communities. He said he had never heard of a community that was sorry they had been installed.

Listing other Chamber of Commerce duties he said these included providing jobs and housing for newcomers; attracting new industries and generally making the town a better place to work in and to live in.

He stressed that a Chamber of Commerce, to fulfill its real purpose, must work for the benefit of the community in general and not as a social organization.

Thirty-six members were present at the meeting held in the dining room of the Congregational church.

Dr. Haber Lectures on Labor Relations
in Library Series

Dr. William Haber, professor of Economics at the University of Michigan, addressed the Library Lecture Series members Monday after a return trip from Washington, where he acted as chairman of the Advisory Board on Labor Security. He went directly from Chelsea to the airport to return to Washington.

At various times, Dr. Haber has been a Relief Director for Michigan, Director of Planning for the War Relocation Authority, Executive Director of the National Refugee Service, and so spoke with considerable informational background.

His general topic, "What's Ahead in Labor Relations," he labeled as particularly vital right now because (a) the growth of labor organizations as a mass movement is relatively new; (b) as a nation, we are now much more allergic to strikes than formerly; (c) in an era when most prices are based on competition, trade union wages are based chiefly on bargaining; and (d) labor relations have not been subject to legislation until very recently—the Wagner Act of 1935 introduced labor control into the field of legislation.

Dr. Haber made several interesting predictions. He sees little prospect of much change in union membership in the next few years. Large cities, large industries, are already organized, leaving only professional workers, those in the disinterested south, in small towns, in small businesses, among the unorganized.

County Shrine Club
Elects New Officers

Dr. H. R. Shipman of Ann Arbor, heads the slate of new officers of the Washtenaw Shrine club, elected and installed Thursday evening. Dr. Shipman succeeds Walter Greig of Ypsilanti, as president.

First and second vice-presidents are William Laird and John P. Montoyne of Ypsilanti. Other officers are Alton Sekeres, secretary, and E. S. Thurston, treasurer.

Members of the board of directors installed are Judge James R. Breakey, Jr., three-year term; Hugh Cooper, of Ann Arbor, two years, and Fred H. Weimann, Jr., of Ypsilanti, one year. The retiring president, Walter Greig, is an ex-officio member of the board.

Intruders Force Entry
Into Legion Home

The Legion Home at Cavanaugh Lake was broken into the past week-end. So far as could be determined, nothing had been stolen. Entrance was gained by breaking open the main door leading into the upstairs hall and then, when inside, breaking out a panel in a door leading to the recreation room.

When the intruders left they replaced the bolt that had been forced loose, locked all doors on the inside and left the building through a window, sheriff's deputies theorized.

Mile of Dimes Board
Nets $254 Saturday for Local Campaign

Total of all donations for the March of Dimes fund as tabulated here at the close of the second week of the campaign amounted to $747.40 as compared to $800 for the same period last year.

Helping swell this year's total is $254.80 which was realized Saturday from the Mile of Dimes board in charge of the Woman's Club of Chelsea. The Mile of Dimes board was in its customary place in front of the Chelsea State Bank throughout the day. The board's yield this year was an increase of $104.43 over last year's $150.17. Woman's Club members who worked in shifts at the dime board remarked later that many of those who contributed mentioned the help received by polio victims among their circle of friends and relatives from the Foundation for Infantile Paralysis as one of the reasons they wished to increase their contributions this year.

To Chelsea Spring employees went the honor of the first industrial workers group to turn in a contribution, going over the total given by the group last year.

The Chelsea Child Study club is completing plans for a one-hour "Mother's March" to take place next Thursday evening, Jan. 29, from 7 until 8 o'clock. Details of the project are to be announced next week. Mrs. Edwin Sutter is chairman of the "Mother's March" and each member of the club will be responsible for contacting her immediate neighborhood.

Dime card totals, to date, are $241.80.

In addition to the care of patients who are victims of polio, which is a nation-wide objective of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, residents of Washtenaw county receive a number of special benefits from the Foundation, according to Mrs. Herbert Sanborn, local chairman for the March of Dimes.

The Respirator Center, situated in University hospital, is one of seven respirator centers in the United States established for the care and treatment of infantile paralysis victims whose respiratory muscles have been affected.

The Chelsea March of Dimes committee, which includes Mrs. Herbert Sanborn, Mrs. Carl Beutler, Mrs. Edwin Sutter, Mrs. W. J. Grossman and Mrs. James Hough, attended the dinner meetings in Ann Arbor last week when a check for $73,000 for the respirator center was presented to Mrs. Robert McNamara, county chairman for the March of Dimes.

Last year the grant was $67,000. The purpose of the center is to save the life of the patient by providing mechanical means for breathing, such as iron lungs and respirators; to restore the life to usefulness; and to carry on research which will benefit all respirator patients by adding new knowledge and techniques.

Since all of these resources made possible by the National Foundation are immediately available to residents of Washtenaw county, victims of polio can at least be grateful that they can receive the benefits of the latest proven methods of treatment and the most modern equipment. It was pointed out by Mrs. Sanborn.

The National Foundation also gave the county chapter $6,000 in additional funds this fall to help pay half of the unpaid bills for patient care when the chapter ran out of money as a result of the epidemic last summer, she said.

Pvt. Paul G. Schaible is spending a short leave here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Schaible, before leaving for Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind., where he has been assigned after completing basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Theodore C. Slane, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Slane, left yesterday after spending a 15-day furlough at the family home here. He returns to Camp Pendleton, Calif., where he received the rank of sergeant in the U. S. Marines after returning from 30 days of maneuvers.

TV Sets Provided School for Inaugural
 Chelsea school children who remain at school over the noon hour were given the opportunity to see the inaugural ceremonies Tuesday noon because of the thoughtfulness of a local appliance store owner who supplied TV sets for both elementary and high school pupils. High school pupils were given an extra hour off so they might listen to President Dwight Eisenhower's inaugural address.

Keep in step with yourself—don't worry about the rest of the parade.

Richard Seeley Now Serving Aboard Ammunition Ship

Atlantic Fleet Service Force—Serving aboard the ammunition ship USS Diamond Head is Richard L. Seeley, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seeley, and husband of Mrs. Mary E. Seeley, of 309 Grant street, Chelsea, Mich.

The Diamond Head, recently returned to Norfolk, Va., from a cruise in the Mediterranean, made the headlines of several civilian and military publications when she brought back two rare specimens of Barbary apes from Gibraltar. The monkeys were gifts from Sir Gordon H. A. MacMillan, the Governor General of Gibraltar, who placed them aboard for delivery to the National Zoological Society in Washington, D. C.

The two Barbary apes are rare specimens of "simia sylvatica," or rock monkeys, found only in North Africa and on the Rock of Gibraltar. It is a popular belief that when the monkeys—now numbering only 45—become extinct on Gibraltar, the British fortress will lose its invincibility.

The two apes were a constant source of amusement to the crew and personnel of the Diamond Head who became quite attached to their hairy but tail-less wards.

An officer was placed in charge of the apes and dubbed with the official title of "SCABLAN," representing Supreme Commander Allied Baboons, Atlantic.

A crew member also created an "official" flag, depicting a bright yellow monkey's hand holding a half-peeled banana on a royal blue background.

Ministers Attend Pastor's Conference at U. of Michigan

Rev. T. W. Menzel of Bethel church, Freedom township, and Rev. P. H. Grabowski, of St. Paul's church, attended the meetings of the Michigan Pastors Conference in the Reichenheim building, Ann Arbor, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

The conference is an annual event, sponsored jointly by the Extension Service of the University of Michigan and the Michigan Council of Churches.

Special events were planned for pastors' wives Tuesday and Wednesday.

Rev. Allen Wehrli, professor of old testament theology at Eden Evangelical and Reformed Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo., was one of the principal speakers at the conference.

Monday noon, alumni of Eden Seminary held a luncheon in his honor at the Michigan League and Rev. Grabowski and Rev. Menzel were among those who attended.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

Lieut. Governor Clarence A. Reid

Michigan's Legislature convenes this week in what will be one of the most important sessions of modern times.

This is not a usual session in many respects. The State has a large deficit. There is the question of raising sufficient revenue to maintain State services and at the same time handle the deficit. This will be one of the last sessions of the Legislature as it now is constituted because of the reapportionment amendment approved by the voters last November 4. This problem of expanding educational and State institutions needs, particularly in the fields of mental health and tuberculosis care.

I am confident that the Legislature will meet and solve these problems for the best interests of all the people. The question of raising additional money for State purposes can be met so that the interests of local units of government and the schools, which now receive substantial amounts from the State, will not be prejudiced. Realistically, the State must have more money to maintain its operations. I am awaiting with interest the report of the Tax Study Committee which has been functioning for more than a year studying Michigan's financial structure.

As a State Senator for ten years, I was active in helping plans for expanding our educational institutions and in providing more beds for the mentally ill and tubercular of the State. Progress on this program has been made by every Legislature and plans are underway for further expansion this year.

All in all, this legislative session may well mark the turn of events in Michigan for years to come and I know that the Legislature faces its responsibilities with the determination to develop a sound, constructive program.

Pay Taxes Early, Avoid Penalties, MESC Head Advises

Nearly 30,000 Michigan employers who are covered by the Michigan Employment Security Act and also by the Federal Unemployment Compensation laws were warned today that prompt payment of their state payroll tax will save them money on their Federal Tax.

"The Federal Tax is 3% of the taxable payrolls of employers who hire eight or more people in each of 20 weeks in a calendar year," Max M. Horton, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission said today. "However, if the state unemployment compensation tax for the previous year is paid in full by January 31 each year, 50% of the Federal Tax is suspended, and the taxpayer pays only three-tenths of one per cent of the taxable payroll to the Federal Government. If the state tax is not paid or is only partly paid by Jan. 31, however, there is a 10% penalty imposed by the Federal regulations as follows: Instead of 90% of the tax, the suspension amounts to only 81%," Horton pointed out.

"Although the percentile difference is small, it could account for many thousands of dollars in the case of large employers," Horton said.

Sgt. William Schrader Dares Communists To Come Fight

With the Second Infantry Division in Korea—Sergeant First Class William Schrader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schrader, 1250 Wilkerson road, Chelsea, Mich., is one soldier who found he had to call to the enemy to come out and fight in a recent action.

Leading a patrol of 18 men on a sweep of no-man's land, Schrader, after an unsuccessful search, decided the enemy troops weren't out that night.

But before starting back to Allied lines he sent three men up to an observation position where they spotted a number of the elusive Reds.

The game began.

"We saw them and I'm sure they saw us," the sergeant said. "I stood up on the skyline and called them everything I could think of," he added, giving a demonstration that would have moved a mountain.

"They wouldn't play," he lamented. "They outnumbered us, but they wouldn't come out and fight."

A platoon sergeant with the Second Infantry Division's 9th Infantry Regiment, Schrader volunteered for Korea shortly after returning to the United States from a tour of duty in Europe.

"I never had that kind of experience with the Chinese before," he said the next day.

So many people really need sympathy you shouldn't waste any on yourself.

Good Management Will Help Prevent Mastitis in Herd

Management is more important than medication in fighting mastitis in the dairy herd according to Don Johnson, Washtenaw County Agricultural Agent. This will be stressed Feb. 3 at a Better Milking clinic at McKenny Hall, Ypsilanti, sponsored by Ypsilanti Board of Commerce.

Mastitis—germ caused—is discouraged by good management practices. Machine milking can be done daily so as to bat down "Bugs." How the cows are housed makes a big difference, particularly how they are bedded. Feed counts in the battle. Even back in the kindergarten, in calfhood, management plays a part.

For that matter, mastitis can be combated even before the future milker is born! Breeding stock from which comes the cows of tomorrow should be selected to transmit strong well attached udders that don't get bruised easily. There is evidence that some families of cows are resistant to the germ infection that causes mastitis.

The calf whose natural teat-seals are not broken by being sucked by another calf is literally sealed against germ infection. Management enters here—calves that are being fed milk should be stabled in separate pens. Or if they have to share a common pen they should be stanchioned or tied after being fed milk till the sucking urge abates.

Feeding counts. Cows fed rations good for milk production should be in top health for such rationing will be built of good quality roughage high in vitamins and energy-giving grains. The properly fed cow has under-resistance to mastitis.

The properly fed cow is not overfed, so the udder is not overworked. The properly fed cow is brought slowly to full feed after freshening; congestion is kept down.

Housing helps fight mastitis germs. Ample bedding is the big book. Udders lose vitality from contacting cold damp concrete. The "loose-handling" of udders of housing makes for less mastitis.

Maybe not important good milking management prevents the mastitis germs from invading udders. Wiping udders before milking

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

WHAT ABOUT OUR DEER?

In the wake of our first "any deer" 3-day season a great deal of public sentiment was aroused protesting the apparent slaughter of an excessive number of animals. The reaction was fully anticipated by the Conservation Department which took a terrific verbal whipping from people and press on the heels of the close of the season.

This writer joined the clamor, believing the discriminatory powers granted the Conservation Commission had been misdirected, and that the kill had been far too heavy in areas where winter starvation was not an important factor.

Our judgment was swayed heavily by the fact that we were "on the firing line" at the time, as you may well have been; too. We witnessed what looked like carnage in some areas, and came away with the fear that the herd must surely have suffered such heavy damage that some areas would be a long time rebuilding the deer population to a point where they might once again be a common sight to the delighted tourist.

The Native Viewpoint
We wept with the local populace in the week that followed, and then as the days went by a strange thing happened. A lot of deer began to show in their old haunts in areas where our own eyes had seen the herd "wiped out." Old timers scratched their chins and wondered if the deer had come out of the ground. Collected guides did a "double-take" when fresh snowfall produced a myriad of tracks as the animals moved to and from their feeding grounds. It was a time for reconsideration.

And this writer joined the disbelievers who admitted things could be worse. There seemed to be a lot of deer left, almost everywhere. They would go into the winter with a better chance of survival, some what may in the way of weather. And this year's fawn crop should be a lot healthier come next spring.

We were guilty of too hasty judgment and we had lots of company. Now we've joined the "Wait And See" Club, and hope you will, too!

Total Kill of 143,000 Reported
Our Conservation Department estimates the kill of all deer—buck, doe and fawn—at 143,000. This is far below the anticipated 200,000 which they tell us could have been killed without damaging the future of our deer herd.

So the picture looks a little brighter. Come next summer we'll probably see plenty of those bobbing white tails bounding across a field, and will turn to say, "Remember last November when we figured all the deer—around—here had been killed?" That's the way it will look in Michigan Outdoors!

with a cloth dampened with a disinfecting solution kills germs hanging around the teats. The strip cup, by revealing abnormal milk, shows up any quarter whose mastitis is starting to get a foothold. Fast milking and machine stripping encourage emptying the udder of the food that germs like—milk! Getting the teat cups off as soon as milk flow stops prevents tissue irritation favorable to germ infection. Sterilizing teat cups between cows by dipping in sanitizing solution prevents the spread of germs from cow to cow.

And, finally, management plays a part in operating the milking machine. It self. Constant watch is needed to know that the amount of vacuum and the pulsation rate is held just where the manufacturer designed his machine to best operate.

On the job management makes life miserable for mastitis bacteria.

depends first upon the possibility of a recession or a depression, and second, on whether the policy of the new administration tends to become "tougher." He foresees a negative prospect to both possibilities, and supported his reasoning with substantial evidence.

He thinks that the Taft-Hartley Act will not be repealed, but will be liberalized considerably, stating that Senator Taft himself has made some 21 suggestions in that direction.

He also stated that he foresees little likelihood of strike-restricting legislation, as that might relieve parties to a dispute of their responsibilities toward working out their own settlements.

Answering the question "Are we likely to see more strikes?" he felt that although he was on extremely doubtful ground, he could safely answer "no." Recent events look toward greater stability. Long-term contracts such as General Motors' five-year wage agreement, and a gradual slowing down of inflationary influences may well slow the race between prices and wages, and thus cut down the necessity for economic strikes.

He explained the thinking behind the recent change in the cost-of-living index figures as a sensible modernizing of the conditions that influence cost of living.

His optimistic attitude and reasonable approach made the lecture very interesting and enjoyable.

Miss M. Schairer, John Dew Married in League Chapel

Marjorie Ann Schairer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Schairer of U.S. 12 near Parker road, became the bride of John Norman Dew of Okmulgee, Okla., in a ceremony performed in the Michigan League chapel, Ann Arbor, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon by Rev. P. H. Grabowski, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace with an accordion-pleated, bouffant-effect skirt and rhinestone-accented strapless bodice over which she wore a brief jacket. Her veil was shoulder-length and was fastened to a tiny ruffled net cap. She carried white roses centered with a corsage of camellias.

Barbara Yeomans of Ann Arbor, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Raymond Schairer, the bride's sister-in-law, as bridesmaid, were gownned alike in waltz-length silk tissue shantung in a canary yellow shade. The gowns were styled with tucked bodices featuring halter necklines covered with jackets. Panels of accordion pleats were details of the full skirts. Both carried bouquets of yellow and maroon carnations.

Jess E. Dew of Tulsa, Okla., brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Dr. John Pursey of Cleveland, Ohio, Charles Schleicher of Ann Arbor, and Lloyd Schairer, brother of the bride, were ushers.

At the reception which followed in the Vandenberg room at the League, Mrs. David Brown of Ann Arbor, was in charge of the guest book. Margaret Jane Walker poured and Mrs. Frederick Steinhel cut the cake. Miss Walker and Mrs. Steinhel are both of Ann Arbor.

For going away the bride wore a navy blue wool dress and red coat. Her accessories were navy. Pinned to her coat was the corsage of camellias from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Ann Arbor High school and the University of Michigan. She is employed as a research assistant in the University Medical school.

The bridegroom, who graduated from Okmulgee High school, Okmulgee, Okla., and the University of Oklahoma, is working on his doctoral degree in chemical engineering at the University of Michigan. He is affiliated with Beta Theta Pi fraternity and Tau Beta Pi, Phi Kappa Phi and Sigma Xi honorary fraternities.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Dew spent a few days in Canada and are now at home at 120 South Parker road, Ann Arbor.

At present their chief interest is a guest list they have just started. Twenty-one guests have already signed it.

Maps of the United States, Michigan and Chelsea are being drawn by some of the students.

Enthusiasm as they are the third grade has taken a serious angle on the March of Dimes this year.

They are making shell jewelry to sell for a profit and all the money will go to the March of Dimes.

Instead of spending money for outside Saturday recreation, they are sponsoring a show of their own and will collect the money for the March of Dimes. They plan to have a ballet dance, baton twirler, a play, and singing at their show. There will be refreshments and the teachers will show cartoon movies.

Through Miss McKinney, the school nurse, they have asked for donations of books and toys to go to the hospital for polio patients.

SHOP PROJECTS

The shop is fairly bustling with excitement. The boys are turning out numerous projects of fine quality. Also the new look has been added. The Home Economics II girls are taking shop for one marking period and are making all sorts of handcraft articles. Even considering the burned eyebrows, cut fingers, and scratched arms, they are doing a fine job. In the meantime the Shop II boys are trying their hands at the latest home economics methods.

Morenci—Blanchard hospital observed its eighteenth birthday last week. It was founded by Dr. James A. Blanchard, Jan. 16, 1935. From a very small beginning, it has become today a busy and efficient operation.

Over 9670 patients have been admitted to the hospital and 1181 babies have been born there.—Morenci Observer.

Saline—The clothes collected last August by Mrs. Lawrence Deede and the Saline Observer for Korean War Orphans were delivered in time to outfit the boys for winter.

The figure was challenged by the city government and by several individuals.

Last week information coming indirectly from the Michigan Municipal League showed that the final official census figure for the city of Frankfort, Michigan, was set at 1,586, nearly a 300-increase over the preliminary figure.—Benzie County Patriot.

Frankfort—Yesterday it was announced by Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority that construction on the proposed bridge across the Straits will get underway this spring.

Brown said that he had been informed that preliminary negotiations with contractors for nearly all construction had been completed and that contractor bids indicated the financing was completely feasible.

The completion of the bridge would mean a great deal to this area as the strong possibility exists that when the bridge is completed the state auto-ferries now serving the Straits would be converted and moved to Frankfort-Memoline run.—Benzie County Patriot.

Grass Lake—The first meeting of a newly-organized Young Farmers' class was held Tuesday night in the high school farm shop.

Plans were made for future meetings as to the material to be covered and it was decided to cover the field of farm mechanics. Skills will be taught in the use of arc and oxy-acetylene welders, covering welding, brazing, hard-surfacing and cutting.—Grass Lake News.

Dexter—Frederick Walker, 83, former Dexter businessman, died Tuesday afternoon in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital after an illness of three months. His home was at 403 W. Liberty St., Ann Arbor.

A native of Germany, he was born there on Nov. 23, 1869, a son of Frederick and Margarine Zeeb Walker.

He came to Dexter as a young man and entered the bakery business. In 1900 he formed a partnership with his late brother, Gettleb, operating the Walker Bros. bakery and general store. Both men retired in 1920 and went to Ann Arbor to live.—Dexter Leader.

Rochester—As the result of a formal turning-over of all books, records, deeds, bills and assets of the seven school districts which voted on Dec. 15 to annex to the Rochester Community School District, the annexation is now complete and the Rochester Community School Board of Education has assumed responsibility for school administration throughout the approximately 56 square miles of school area with approximately 2,500 pupils.

The formality of turning over the several small districts to the larger one took place in the Rochester high school cafeteria on Wednesday evening, Jan. 7, 1953.—Rochester Clarion.

Buchanan—The first phase of a $700,000 building fund campaign for Pawating Hospital in Niles was underway this week following a dinner meeting last Thursday at the Four Flags Hotel, when it was announced that $800,000 of this sum had already been subscribed by four large corporations.—Brien County Record.

Northville—The Northville Retail Merchants Association voted Monday night to sponsor a public meeting to air the pros and cons of changing Northville from a village to a city.

The city group, which favors the change, and the Township Improvement Association, which opposes the change, will be asked to present their arguments at the meeting, which will be conducted as a public service.—Northville Record.

Milan—The first police headquarters Christmas party in the city was given Monday, Dec. 22, by Commissioner Donald S. Leonard for the headquarters staff. Coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts were served. James I. Farrington, 90, of Mooreville, who joined the force in 1889 and retired in 1934, was guest of honor.—Milan Leader.

Speed Demon

Supersonic speeds up to 942 miles an hour will be reached by whirling blades of a giant new turbine generator being built to supply additional power for Alabama. It will take an hour and a half to bring the machine to top speed; half an hour to stop it. The huge generator will furnish enough electric power to meet the needs of a city of about 200,000.

ART

The Art class has started perspective drawing. They handed in a six-week notebook including a semester book report.

Frankfort—Frankfort got a pleasant surprise this week when it learned that it was the recipient of an official gift of nearly 300 residents.

When the unofficial 1950 census figures were first released it gave Frankfort a total of 1,586 persons or a drop of 24 from the 1940 census.

The figure was challenged by the city government and by several individuals.

Last week information coming indirectly from the Michigan Municipal League showed that the final official census figure for the city of Frankfort, Michigan, was set at 1,586, nearly a 300-increase over the preliminary figure.—Benzie County Patriot.

Frankfort—Yesterday it was announced by Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority that construction on the proposed bridge across the Straits will get underway this spring.

Brown said that he had been informed that preliminary negotiations with contractors for nearly all construction had been completed and that contractor bids indicated the financing was completely feasible.

The completion of the bridge would mean a great deal to this area as the strong possibility exists that when the bridge is completed the state auto-ferries now serving the Straits would be converted and moved to Frankfort-Memoline run.—Benzie County Patriot.

Grass Lake—The first meeting of a newly-organized Young Farmers' class was held Tuesday night in the high school farm shop.

Plans were made for future meetings as to the material to be covered and it was decided to cover the field of farm mechanics. Skills will be taught in the use of arc and oxy-acetylene welders, covering welding, brazing, hard-surfacing and cutting.—Grass Lake News.

Dexter—Frederick Walker, 83, former Dexter businessman, died Tuesday afternoon in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital after an illness of three months. His home was at 403 W. Liberty St., Ann Arbor.

A native of Germany, he was born there on Nov. 23, 1869, a son of Frederick and Margarine Zeeb Walker.

He came to Dexter as a young man and entered the bakery business. In 1900 he formed a partnership with his late brother, Gettleb, operating the Walker Bros. bakery and general store. Both men retired in 1920 and went to Ann Arbor to live.—Dexter Leader.

Rochester—As the result of a formal turning-over of all books, records, deeds, bills and assets of the seven school districts which voted on Dec. 15 to annex to the Rochester Community School District, the annexation is now complete and the Rochester Community School Board of Education has assumed responsibility for school administration throughout the approximately 56 square miles of school area with approximately 2,500 pupils.

The formality of turning over the several small districts to the larger one took place in the Rochester high school cafeteria on Wednesday evening, Jan. 7, 1953.—Rochester Clarion.

Buchanan—The first phase of a $700,000 building fund campaign for Pawating Hospital in Niles was underway this week following a dinner meeting last Thursday at the Four Flags Hotel, when it was announced that $800,000 of this sum had already been subscribed by four large corporations.—Brien County Record.

Northville—The Northville Retail Merchants Association voted Monday night to sponsor a public meeting to air the pros and cons of changing Northville from a village to a city.

The city group, which favors the change, and the Township Improvement Association, which opposes the change, will be asked to present their arguments at the meeting, which will be conducted as a public service.—Northville Record.

Milan—The first police headquarters Christmas party in the city was given Monday, Dec. 22, by Commissioner Donald S. Leonard for the headquarters staff. Coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts were served. James I. Farrington, 90, of Mooreville, who joined the force in 1889 and retired in 1934, was guest of honor.—Milan Leader.

Speed Demon

Supersonic speeds up to 942 miles an hour will be reached by whirling blades of a giant new turbine generator being built to supply additional power for Alabama. It will take an hour and a half to bring the machine to top speed; half an hour to stop it. The huge generator will furnish enough electric power to meet the needs of a city of about 200,000.
