

PLAN NEW GRADE SCHOOL FACILITIES

GM Livonia
Fire Causes
Lay-Offs HereSpring, Products
Hit Hardest by Production Halt

The disastrous fire which destroyed the transmission plant of General Motors Corporation at Livonia last week is beginning to affect employment in local factories.

At Chelsea Spring, approximately 18 per cent of their normal force of 280 to 310 employees have had to be laid off because their customers in the automobile industry cannot accept delivery of the springs made here until the General Motors transmissions are again in production.

At Chelsea Products company, where power take-offs are manufactured, 43 employees are to be laid off this week for the same reason.

Central Fibre Products had not yet felt any effects of the General Motors work stoppage, and Federal Screw Works officials in charge of employment records were in Detroit and could not be reached.

Chelsea Manufacturing Corporation has laid off 80 men, but the lay-off has no connection with the General Motors fire. Company officials said a 60 per cent reduction in their customers' schedules is responsible. The lay-off is expected to be in effect until the end of the year.

Shipping at educators has been carried on for years by newspaper editors who charge that school people hold "closed corporation" meetings and adopt other methods to prevent the public from knowing what is going on in the school system.

Educators, on the other hand, have directed some blows at editors, too. For years they have claimed that newspapers oversensationalize school difficulties in which schools become involved; that they often overlook the solid worthwhile developments.

The "enemy" camps, however, had two friends. They were Otto Kline, then head of the School Administrators Association, and Louis J. Hyman, vice-president of the Michigan Press Association.

They decided that a joint meeting of school administrators and editors might create better understanding between the two groups. Such a session was arranged by Mr. Hyman with the aid of the Michigan Press Association and Michigan school men. It was held in January, 1952, at Grand Rapids. Several newspaper editors and school men were present.

So enthusiastic was the reception of the results that Dr. Francis Chase, of the Michigan Education Center of the University of Chicago, a Kellogg Foundation-supported research group, suggested that still greater benefits might come about if the two associations would unite in an investigation to discover these two points.

How people get information on education is the question.

Answers to these questions in education, will probably be applicable to other fields," stated Dr. Chase.

Vital effects will be felt by all agencies dealing with the public if results from this study bring even one half the potential visualized by those working in it.

The survey has been given an important title: Michigan Educational Communications Study. Prof. E. J. McIntyre, assistant head of the journalism department at Michigan State College, is coordinator. He is assisted by a board of daily leading high school superintendents, several department heads at MSC and Dr. Chase.

Diré notes to impress the public of facts vital to society is realized by educators who watch the skyrocketing birth rate. They know provisions must be made now if tomorrow's school children are to receive sound education. School men know the public must realize the urgency of this problem if money is to be voted for more schools.

John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, forecasts two million more residents in Michigan by 1970. Best available figures show that 1952's college enrollment of 94,000 will more than double in the next 17 years.

Ten million dollars a year should be spent on a building program starting now," says President Hannah, "rather than letting the problem magnify through delay."

If solutions can be found to the educator's problem through the efforts of the Michigan Educational Communications Study, then those who look for big things to result in the world of public administration will not be disappointed.

Everett School
Electors To Vote
on District Division

Residents of the Everett school district will vote tomorrow night on the question of dividing the district for annexation to Chelsea and Manchester districts.

The division line, as approved by Chelsea and Manchester school boards at a recent meeting with Washtenaw County Board of Education, includes Grass Lake road from the west edge of the district to the Chelsea-Manchester road, then south to the section line and east to the end of the district.

All property on both sides of Grass Lake road and all property north of the dividing line will be added to the Chelsea district and the remainder to the Manchester district, if voters give their approval tomorrow.

DAV Flowers
Will Be Sold
This Week

The blue forget-me-nots, which are the official flower of remembrance of the Disabled American Veterans organization, will be sold on the downtown streets in Chelsea Friday evening and all day Saturday, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Warren Ross of Ann Arbor, senior vice-commander of the DAV Auxiliary of Washtenaw County Chapter No. 18, Disabled American Veterans.

The blue forget-me-nots will be carried in attractive grey baskets featuring the national colors of red, white and blue. Members of the Chapter and Auxiliary, and children of members over 12 years of age, will assist with the sale and will be stationed throughout the business district.

Mrs. Ross explained that every cent contributed during the forget-me-not sale is used in service work for needy Washtenaw county veterans and their families. A large proportion of the fund goes toward the very helpful work of visitation and service work.

The need for this visitation work will be greatly increased because of the new VA hospital in Ann Arbor which the local Auxiliary will be visiting with gifts of cigarettes and other items for the comfort and pleasure of the patients.

Mrs. Ross said approval for holding the forget-me-not sale here was given by Anton Nielsen, village president.

Red School Being Prepared for Use
at Fairgrounds

The Chelsea Community Fair Association held a meeting Monday evening in the Municipal building to continue general planning for the coming fair which is to be held Sept. 28 through Oct. 4. The fair was earlier than in the past several years.

Announcement was made that the Red School building which the Fair Association purchased recently, was moved to the fairgrounds during the past week and workers had begun laying the wall for the basement. The building is to have rest rooms installed and will also provide office space for fair personnel.

The Fair Board has announced plans to serve meals in the building during the fair and the proceeds will be used to cover the cost of moving and equipping the building. A well is also being driven.

Named as a committee in charge of readying the building in time for the opening of the fair were Everett Van Riper, Reuben Leaser, John Elder and Floyd Rowe.

Several decisions were reached at the meeting, including the one to charge 25 cents admission. It was provided, however, that all school age children, including those in high school, are to be admitted free.

It was also voted unanimously that each exhibitor of livestock will be permitted only one entry in each section. This includes beef cattle, dairy cattle, horses, sheep, swine and poultry.

Arrangements were made to have radio broadcasts directly from the fairgrounds during the event. Another meeting is scheduled to be held in the Municipal building Tuesday, Sept. 1, at 3 p.m., and all committeemen and directors are to be present. Any interested people of the community are welcome to attend.

Board Vote Favors
Building New School
North of Railroad

If Chelsea elementary school-age children are to be provided facilities to attend classes in the fall of 1954, additional classroom space should be arranged for immediately, it was decided at the meeting of the Chelsea Agricultural Schools Board of Education Monday evening. The four-board members present went on record with a motion that "the board plan a new elementary school on a site north of the railroad tracks."

A motion was also unanimously passed to engage Lewis C. Kingscott & Associates, Inc., of Kalamazoo, as architects. Representatives of the firm are to draw up tentative plans for eight rooms before next Monday evening when a special meeting is to be held to continue preliminary planning in an effort to submit the question to electors of the district as soon as possible.

For a building program to be completed before school opens another year, it is imperative that speedy action be taken at this time, it was pointed out.

Lewis C. Kingscott & Associates, Inc., were architects for the present elementary school.

The board's approval of building a separate school in the northern part of the village followed suggestions offered by Wilfred E. Clapp, an assistant superintendent of public instruction in the educational organization and plant division of the State Department of Public Instruction, who was present.

He told board members that addition of more rooms to the present elementary school, completed last year, is inadvisable for several reasons. The principal reason, he said, is because the building is already as large as educational authorities recommend for elementary children.

Then, too, he said, an elementary school should ideally be as close to the children's homes as possible.

School census figures had been used to prepare a spot map indicating where all school children of the community are living. This map shows a large number of elementary children.

FFA Leadership Training Camp Held at Wolf Lake

The fourth annual Future Farmers of America Regional Leadership Training Camp got underway Monday, Aug. 17, and continued through Aug. 26 at the Boy Scouts Camp on Wolf Lake, Jackson county.

Regional camp officers who were in charge of conducting the business of this year's camp are: president, Roger Missimer, Reading; vice-president, Lloyd Grau, Chelsea; secretary, Gene Stalens, Morpelt; reporter, Arnold Girbach, Saline; sentinel, Norman Stoll, Dexter; and treasurer, Duane Roberts, Airport.

Every year the officers of the individual FFA chapters spend three days at the leadership training camp for the purpose of learning new ways and means of helping the members of their chapters carry out their many activities through the coming year. They are taught to be better leaders in their schools and communities. All of the boys are given full schedules of activities, which include officer training, group leadership, special activities and recreation.

Some of the recreational activities were softball, volleyball, track, and swimming—contests. Tournaments were held in each to decide the champions. All of the boys seemed to be learning many new ways of doing things and had fun doing it.

Total enrollment at the camp was 142 FFA officers and advisors representing high schools from Monroe, Washtenaw, Lenawee, Hillsdale and Jackson counties. The chapters who represented were as follows: Saline, Napoleon, Parma, Chelsea, Springfield, Britton, Monroe, Onsted, Airport, Dexter, Hamover, Blissfield, Milan, Litchfield, North Adams, Morenci, Manassett, Hillsdale, Tecumseh, Romulus, Ida, Summerfield, Jonesville, Camden, Parma, and Grass Lake.

This year the boys had the pleasure of meeting and talking with John Pickett, British Exchange Youth, who talked to the boys about the farm life of his country.

At the conclusion of the camp period, officers were elected. Officers for next year's camp are: president, Carl Cornstubble, Parma; vice-president, Bruce Zorman, Jonesville; secretary, Dean Shipley, Camden; treasurer, Dale Hessel, Schwartz; Napoleon; reporter, Walt Carlson, Summerfield; sentinel, Anthony Korigan, Milan; advisor, Clifford Walsh, Parma.

Firemen, Neighbors Battle Peat Blaze in Huckleberry Marsh on Proctor Farm

The Chelsea Fire department was called to the Kenneth Proctor farm on Hopps road, west of Chelsea at 11:55 a.m. Tuesday when a smoldering marsh fire on the Will Sanderson farm spread to the Proctor huckleberry marsh and threatened to destroy the entire growth.

Fire Chief Ted Balmer said it would be practically impossible to pour in enough water to quench the blaze which had reached the peat bogs and was burning as deep as two to four feet in the ground. Nothing short of a flood rain would be of any effect in extinguishing the fire, he said.

The fire in the Sanderson marsh, believed to have been started by discarded cigarettes which smoldered unnoted, had been burning for several days.

Trenches had been dug around the fire in an effort to keep it from spreading. However, a shift in the direction of the wind fanned the fire, giving it added life, and it spread to the huckleberry marsh on the Proctor farm and burned there unnoticed until it became a raging blaze Tuesday.

The Chelsea firemen remained on the scene for several hours and one truck went out again in the evening. Neighbors from miles around rallied around to try and bring the blaze under control and keep it from spreading. Approximately six acres was burning Tuesday evening.

James Lee of the Jackson conservation office, came out and suggested ways of fighting the blaze. Conservation Officer Donley Boyer was also on hand, as well as Darrell Kniss, predatory animal control officer.

Fire Chief Balmer called the Cassidy Lake fire crew Tuesday afternoon and the men worked most of the afternoon.

The conservation men brought a quantity of the Conservation department pump cans which hold five gallons of water which can be sprayed by hand. Firefighters were using them at close range.

Firemen poured on 1,500 gallons of water from Chelsea's two trucks when they went out at noon and kept pouring on more water in the evening.

Lack of rain has made the grass and brush so dry that it was burning like paper. Sparks from the blaze kept starting new fires across the breaks dredged out by bulldozers.

NATURE'S SCARCE WEAPON AGAINST POLIO

When polio is around, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these four precautions: Keep clean, don't get fatigued, avoid new groups, and don't get chilled. If polio does strike, call your doctor, follow his advice, and then contact your local chapter of the National Foundation.

Conservation Department Offers Free Seedlings, Shrubs for Game Habitat

Farmers living south of highway M-20 should act now to take advantage of the Michigan Conservation Department's offer of trees and shrubs without cost.

According to Donald R. Johnson, County Agricultural Agent, the planting stock is offered for fall or spring planting without charge under the Conservation Department's game habitat improvement program. The seedlings include pines, spruces, nut trees and a variety of shrubs.

The county agent points out that, at the request of the landowner, a farm planner from the Conservation Department will inspect the farm and determine what can be planted to improve the land for wildlife. The planner's recommendations generally tie in with soil and water conservation practices.

Trees and shrubs may be recommended for eroded hillsides, in gullies, along pond or marsh borders, along edges of woodlots, and windbreaks. While growing, pines and spruces offer protection to wildlife, but after a period of years the trees can be cut and sold for Christmas trees.

Southern Michigan farmers who would like to take part in the program may get additional information by writing to the Game Division, Michigan Conservation Department, Lansing 18.

Forest planting stock order blanks are available from the County Agricultural Agent, Donald R. Johnson, Court House, Ann Arbor.

Pvt. Gerald Herrick left early Wednesday morning to return to Fort Bliss, Texas, after spending a ten-day furlough here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Lounsberry.

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gear-shift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response — right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

Keeps its value better than any other car!

Used car dealers report that Fords return more of their original cost than any other car—
and there are 41 reasons why:

Take power. Ford's two high-compression engines are real leaders in their class. Ford's the only car in the low-price field to offer you the smooth power of a V-8 engine. And no other car in any field has so modern a Six.

Take build. Ford's one-piece Crestmark body gives you style-setting beauty with rugged "built-in" underneath. Where many other cars are bolted, Ford's are welded hull-tight to keep out rust-causing weather and dirt.

Take ride. Ford's wonderful, new ride reduces front end road shock up to 80%. And Ford's new, more responsive spring and shock absorber action gives you the comfortable easy ride you want without gas-eating extra weight.

Take savings. Ford's economy-minded Automatic Power Pilot saves you money on every gallon of gas. It automatically adjusts carburetion, ignition and combustion to make every drop of gas ("regular" at that) work its heart out.

Take visibility. Ford gives you the "all-around" view you need in today's fast-moving traffic. A curved one-piece windshield, car-wide rear window and large "picture windows" all around make sure you have Full-Circle visibility.

Take drives. Only Ford in its field gives you a choice of a completely automatic drive, Fordomatic, the finest, most versatile automatic you can buy... fuel-saving Overdrive... or easy-shifting Conventional Drive.
