Child Study Club Plans Formation of Second Group

A special Child Study Club meeting is being held tonight at the home of Mrs. Richard Riemen-schneider to discuss the formation of an additional Child Study group in Chelsea.

Mrs. Cecil O. Creal and Mrs. Louis Holloway, of Ann Arbor, past presidents of the Michigan Child Study Club Association, will be present as guest speakers.

For tonight's meeting were announced after the regular meeting of the Chelsea club Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Nelson Kreider.

The program period at the meeting was given over to a discussion of summer camps, summer recreation programs, social clubs and the good accomplished by each as well as points that were questioned.

Mrs. Malcolm Bruce, Mrs. Karl Koenigster and Mrs. Louis Burghardt gave the talks on the four topics.

Mrs. Hugh Sorenson, an associate member of the club, was named as the club's representative to attend a Community Chest luncheon planned here.

Other business included reports of the Nov. 4 state convention at Alma, given by Mrs. John Albers and Mrs. William Blaess.

The club meeting was opened with roll call and reports on the town of "Household Gadgets."

The hostesses for the meeting, in addition to Mrs. Kreider, were Mrs. P. E. Sharrard and Mrs. William Blaess.

Conservation Dept. Requests Report on Area Deer Kills

Lansing—Sportsmen who shoot buck deer near Chelsea and in other south-central Michigan areas during the Nov. 15-30 season are being asked to call the Rose Lake wildlife experiment station near Lansing.

The Chelsea area hunter can phone the conservation department station collect at Lansing, FE 8-8888. A game specialist will then go to the hunter's residence, weigh the deer, measure its antlers and determine its age.

If the deer has been cut up and cannot be weighed, biologists can still secure valuable information from the head alone.

"Last fall we examined 78 bucks shot within 50 miles of the station," Dr. C. T. Black, station head, says. "This fall we hope to examine at least 100, now that more persons know the job we are trying to do in these south-central counties."

Deer checks by station biologists have been made in this area since 1951 and have helped both hunter and conservation department gain a better picture of the southern Michigan deer herd.

In general, southern Michigan deer average 30 pounds heavier and have antlers three to four points larger than deer of the same age from the northern poor food areas.

GEORGE ROOTS RESIGNS AMERICAN LEGION POST

George Roots has resigned his office as commander of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 81, giving ill health and the press of other duties as his reason.

At the regular meeting of the Post Thursday evening, William Blaess, first vice-commander, was elected to the post of commander and Paul Maroney was named to succeed him as first vice-commander.

Henry Schumacher left by plane Tuesday night for Lakeland, Fla., where he will spend the winter.

Community Chest Plans Being Studied

Kiwanis Club Names Committee To Help Investigate Proposal

At the Kiwanis club meeting Monday evening, Warren R. Daniels explained the possibilities for establishing a Chelsea Community Chest and the club then went on record with approval of a proposal to make a study of the situation.

Karl Koenigster, Paul Mann and Robert Foster were named as a committee to investigate the possibilities and be prepared with a report to be given at a community luncheon in the Methodist church, Dec. 1.

The luncheon is to be attended by representatives of several local plants and other interested persons in the community.

It was announced that next Monday's meeting will be the annual Octogenarian Night and 12 men of the community more than 80 years of age, will be guests of the club.

Don Alber, as program chairman, introduced N. J. Prakkien, an Ann Arbor Kiwanian and manager of the Ann Arbor branch of the Michigan Bell Telephone company, who explained the coming telephone number changes which will go into effect here at midnight Nov. 14.

Mrs. J. E. Lampkin, using oversize dial equipment to demonstrate the method of dialing.

Honore Lickly and Irving Sherrard, of the Dexter Kiwanis club, were guests at the meeting Monday, which was held in the social center of the Methodist church.

Consumers Power Completes Move to New Sub-Station

Consumers Power Co. crews finished the three-week job of transferring the company's equipment to the new sub-station the past week-end. The final hook-up was accomplished between 2:30 and 6:00 a.m. Sunday, during which time all power was shut off in the community.

The new outdoor-type sub-station which will serve the community is located just north of Lincoln street, between Grant and Garfield. It is designed to convert 46,000-volt power to the 2,500-volt current used by Chelsea Electric and Water department for supplying Chelsea customers.

The new installation was constructed to serve the community following sale of the brick building on South Main street to Federal Screw Works for possible future expansion. The building was formerly used as a sub-station of the old D-U-R interurban line and was taken over by Consumers Power company in 1928.

While the work of moving and installing the equipment in the new sub-station was in progress, a portable sub-station, mounted on a truck trailer, was parked in a temporarily fenced-in area in front of the old sub-station. The mobile unit, which was used to supply power to homes during the changeover, kept inconvenience to customers at a minimum, and the necessary shut-off period was planned for a time when it would cause the least inconvenience, also.

Moving of the mobile sub-station and all other equipment was begun as soon as the job was completed here.

Distribution of TB Christmas Seals To Start Nov. 16

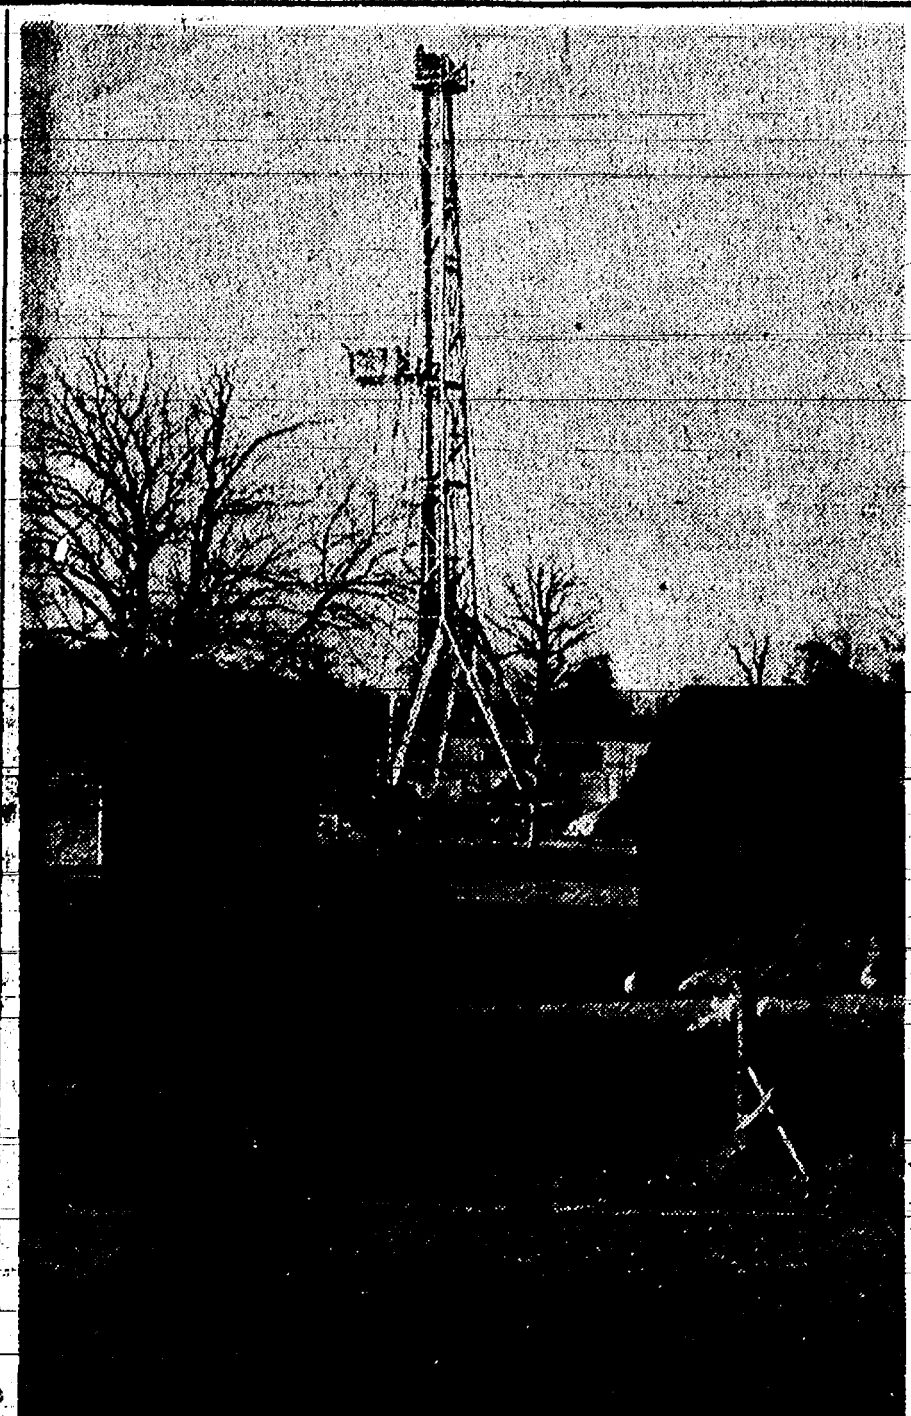

A life-saving caroler will be abroad in Michigan this Christmas season. This cheerful carol singer is featured on the 1953 tuberculosis Christmas Seal, announced today by the Washtenaw county Tuberculosis Association.

Symbol of the fight against tuberculosis, the new Christmas Seal features the face of the singing child wearing red mittens and an old fashioned green stocking cap and muffler, and holding an open book of carols.

According to Mrs. Warren Daniels, Chelsea Seal Sale chairman, the Christmas seals will be delivered to homes of county residents beginning Nov. 16. Holding hopes of the state and county for the prevention of tuberculosis, each Christmas seal mailing will include a special appeal from Frederick N. McOmber, Ann Arbor, president of the local tuberculosis group.

Mr. McOmber said Michigan records show that an estimated 6,200 persons in the state now have active TB unknown to themselves. Because each case of active TB is a danger to everyone, Mr. McOmber said purchases of 1953 Christmas seals can be termed an act of "self defense against tuberculosis."

Mrs. Daniels is Chelsea's representative on the Board of the Washtenaw county Tuberculosis Association, as well as the Chelsea Seal Sale chairman, and participates in the year-around program of the association.

LIMA TEST OIL WELL—Tuesday night, core drilling had reached a depth of 3,200 feet in the test well on the Edwin Horn farm on Waldo road. Drilling through limestone the past two weeks, workers have been drilling an average of about 70 feet per day for the two weeks, but have not yet produced anything that appeared to be oil. The well is being drilled for the Sun Oil Co.

County Traffic Counts Show Sharp Increase in Travel

Results of traffic counts on Washtenaw county roads were released this week by the Washtenaw county Road Commission which has been conducting a survey to determine the number of vehicles using the county's road system.

The survey shows that traffic on county roads varies from 12,833 on Packard road in a 24-hour period to about 20 cars per day in the Sharon Hollow area of Sharon township.

A total of 288 traffic counts have been taken throughout the county during the past year. According to Howard G. Minier, Road Commission manager, the figures have been used to help plan the road construction program. The information is also being used in the present time in an analysis of motor vehicle accidents within the county, Minier said.

A sample of counts taken in the Chelsea area is listed with the name of the road, followed by the number of vehicles in a 24-hour period in 1952, the number for a similar period in 1953, the number and per cent of increase as follows:

Plan for Township Agricultural Agent Is Rejected by Lima

Architects Discuss Tentative Plans for New School

At a meeting of the Chelsea Agricultural Schools Board of Education Tuesday evening, a resolution was approved which allows the advertisement of bonds for sale to obtain the $198,000 voted by electors for a new elementary school.

The board also passed a resolution to borrow $25,000 against anticipated state aid payments to tide the district over until tax payments begin to come in.

In other action, a request of Eugene Shroyer, band instructor, was approved for his attendance at the American Midwest National Band Clinic in Chicago, Dec. 9, 10, 11 and 12.

John Lattin, architect with Lewis C. Kingscott and Associates, met with board members Tuesday evening to go over tentative plans for the new elementary school. Numerous suggestions were made to him by board members and these will be included in preliminary drawings which he will submit at a special meeting Nov. 19.

Dystrophy Victims To Be Aided by Fund Collection

Mrs. T. R. Cash of Ann Arbor, president of the Washtenaw county chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., has announced that the local chapter will carry on a concerted community drive from Nov. 2 through Thanksgiving to carry on and expand research projects and assist local muscular dystrophy victims.

The organization, begun three years ago by a small group of determined parents, presently has grown to more than 100 chapters which, through public contributions, have enabled the granting of $682,370 to 35 leading medical schools and hospitals for carrying on research into the disease, Mrs. Cash stated.

Richard Fowler, 7, of Apollo, Pa., has been selected as 1953 Poster Boy by the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., for the national fund drive to symbolize the more than 100,000 American youngsters who suffer from this crippling disease, according to Mrs. Cash.

Mrs. Cash said there are two children in the Chelsea area afflicted with the disease and the association is doing everything possible to benefit them.

Campaign headquarters is located at 1628 Broadway, Ann Arbor.

World Community Day Attended by 90 Local Women

Ninety women of the community were present for the World Community Day service, held Friday afternoon in the Congregational church. The service was sponsored here by women of the Congregational, Methodist and St. Paul's churches.

Miss Doris Harpole, assistant director of the Student Religious Association of the University of Michigan, was the speaker. She pointed out that the goal of lasting peace has its beginning in the heart and mind and actions of each individual.

Miss Harpole placed most of the responsibility for action toward peace objectives on people "on this side of the world" to offset events "on the other side of the world," which have started wars.

Theme of this year's World Community Day service—throughout the United States was "Building Lasting Peace."

The entire offering of $54.55 received at the service will be sent to national headquarters for the purchase of household linens for overseas Christian centers.

Any expenses of the meeting here will be shared by the women's organizations of the three sponsoring churches.

Tea was served in the church parlors at the close of the service.

The lace-covered table was centered with an arrangement of aqua and gold chrysanthemums. Mrs. S. D. Kinde and Mrs. Thomas Toy poured.

Firemen Begin Tour of Industrial Plants

Chelsea firemen toured the Chelsea Spring plant Tuesday evening as part of their regular monthly meeting. Officials of the firm accompanied the firemen who were shown around the plant in groups of five.

The Spring plant tour was the first of a series which will take firemen to all industrial plants in the community in the next few months.

Purpose of the tours is to have firemen become familiar with the layout of the plants and also to check for adequate fire protection. Fire Chief Ted Balmer said after Tuesday's meeting.

Proposal Defeated in Advisory Vote Taken Wednesday

Farmers of Lima township attended a meeting last night in Lafayette Grange hall at Lima Center to act on the experimental project of appointing a township agricultural agent to assume duties on a township level in the same way that Donald Johnson does on a county-wide basis.

Following extended discussion, the 35 taxpayers present voted 17 for and 18 against the proposal. The vote is not a final decision on the matter, according to committee members, but was taken for the purpose of getting an expression of opinion from the farmers who would be affected.

Those interested in getting Lima to take advantage of the plan to try out the township agricultural agent system, insist they will continue their efforts to get their neighbors to see the advantages they themselves believe the plan would provide.

Most of those who voted against the proposal stated it to be their belief that a township agricultural agent is not needed.

Donald Eppelheimer, present agricultural agent, stated the county was recommended for the position in Lima township pending approval of the plan at last night's meeting.

The township agricultural agent plan is being instituted in five representative Michigan counties on a five-year experimental basis and is being financed by a Kellogg Foundation grant to Michigan State College. For the five-year period, the townships receive financial assistance on a graduated scale under provisions of the grant.

If, at the end of the five years, they decide they wish to keep on with the plan, they assume the entire cost themselves.

Single townships in Calhoun, Tuscola, Lapeer and Kalamazoo counties have already approved the plan and have begun operation under a township agricultural agent whose work is correlated with the county as an associate agricultural county agent.

Lima township was the last to act on the proposal of the five townships chosen by Michigan State College for the experiment.

Each of the townships was chosen for a special type of farming, Lima being singled out as Washington county because it is predominantly agricultural with a minimum of non-farm residence.

Lima has a record of outstanding cooperation with the Washtenaw county agricultural extension office and this was taken into consideration when making a choice of the townships to be included.

The topography of the township, with its gently rolling, uniform farm land, its large percentage of tillable soil, mostly Miami loam, and its general farming practice, all entered into the consideration of its choice for the project.

The township's farming is predominantly general dairy, livestock, small grain and grass.

Plans for last night's meeting were completed at a meeting of a committee of Lima township farmers held Tuesday, Nov. 3, at the Harold Gross home near Dexter. Also present was County Agricultural Agent Donald Johnson.

Committee members are Clarence Reddeman, Walter Wolfgang, William Van Riper, Philip Peck and Harold Gross.

Groundwork for a township agent project in Washtenaw county was begun months ago with approval of the plan by the Board of Supervisors.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Pluck, who left last month on a trip through the west and southwest, are enjoying the tropical scenery in Mexico at present.

Self-Service Long Distance Telephone Service Inaugurated in Birmingham

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company, on Nov. 20, will inaugurate a plan at Birmingham which will make it possible for telephone users in that community to dial their own long-distance calls to many points all over the country.

Under the plan, Birmingham customers will be able to dial direct to more than 13,000,000 telephones in the metropolitan areas of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Baltimore, San Francisco, Milwaukee, New Haven (Conn.), Newark, Washington, D. C., Sacramento, and Oakland.

A revolutionary method of speeding long-distance service, customer toll dialing was first inaugurated in Englewood, N. J., two years ago.

Birmingham was chosen as the second community in the nation to come under the plan because it is served by a particular type of central office equipment which is readily adaptable to long-distance dialing. Further, Birmingham customers, the company said, place a high percentage of toll calls not capita—and to a wider range of cities throughout the country than do subscribers in many exchanges.

Automatic accounting equipment will register each step of a customer long-distance call for billing purposes.

Key to the long-distance dialing plan is what telephone engineers call a "4A Toll Crossbar Machine." One of these huge—almost human mechanical brains—has been installed in Michigan Bell's headquarters building in Detroit. When a call is dialed into it, it automatically searches out an available circuit and rings any telephone in most of the nation's major cities in a matter of seconds.

In addition to making it possible for Birmingham customers to dial long-distance, the 4A machine permits Michigan Bell operators to dial more toll calls directly through the assistance of an intermediate operator. It also guides calls originated by operators all over the country to the proper telephone in Detroit, Lansing, Saginaw, Flint, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Grand Rapids, Pontiac, Petoskey, Kalamazoo, and other outside exchanges.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

By Clair L. Taylor, Superintendent of Public Instruction

Teen-Age Driver Safety Conferences are the newest development in a program designed to reduce death and destruction on the highways. Traffic experts for a long time have pointed to our teen-age drivers as having the worst records. Actually, it is not known for certain that this is true because accident facts show that the age group 20 to 25 has more accidents than the teen-agers. It has not been completely settled which group deserves the title "worst" on the basis of miles driven. All are agreed that working with youth will pay the richest dividends in the long run. Now the idea has been developed for teen-agers to hold their own driver safety conferences where they plan the program, study the problems, and then make recommendations for solving them.

One or two states have held state-wide conferences. The Safety Education Committee of the Department of Public Instruction has recommended another plan which is being followed in Michigan. There will first be regional conferences sponsored by local groups. These in turn will elect delegates to a state conference which will be held in February, 1954. The State Safety Commission and the Youth Advisory Council will sponsor the state conference in cooperation with the schools.

Three regional conferences have already been held in Michigan and some of the recommendations made by teen-agers are quite startling. One group recommended stronger law enforcement policies for teen-agers, making the claim that the police were too easy on them; another group would tighten the regulations for the issuance of operators' licenses. All recommended good high school driver training programs for all teen-age drivers. These conferences, while run by youth, have a few adult advisors and every case the teen-agers are surprising the adults with the thought and consideration they give to the problem of reducing highway accidents.

No. 1: Watch Out For Sand Lot Ball Players

Whenever you spot a vacant lot with youngsters practicing football, look out. Get your foot on your brake and prepare for an emergency stop.

The future football star who dashes into the street to retrieve that long punt or pass may be too preoccupied to worry about traffic.

If he suddenly backs in front of you it may be too late for a warning. The best of your horn. Parked cars could limit your dodging.

Whether you hit him or not may depend entirely on how quickly you stop.

Unless you have slowed down to under 20 you may be in real trouble. Even when you will go 20 feet while you react to the situation and slide another 20 feet before you stop.

Chief Geo. W. Doe today announced a series of ten safe-driving lessons dealing with pedestrian safety. These are being run by the Chelsea Standard as a public service to assist in saving the lives of local residents while they are on foot in traffic.

"All motorists and pedestrians are urged to study the illustrations which will be shown in the series because they represent the most common types of difficulty which result from mixing the man on foot with the man on wheels in the traffic stream," the Chief said.

The big Trek to the North land is beginning. The Deer Hunters' big moment is at hand...

"In traffic it's what you don't know and don't understand, and therefore not prepared for, that gets you into trouble," he added.

According to Chief Doe any motorist or pedestrian who learns these ten lessons will be much less apt to become involved in a pedestrian accident than a person who has not thought out these practical driving and walking situations.

This is the season of the year when several dangerous conditions "gang up" on motorists and pedestrians. If it is twice as hard to drive safely at night then it must be three times as hard to drive equally safely when it's dark and raining. And it's probably four times as hard to drive equally safely when it's dark and snowing and the pavement is icy. The smart motorist takes these into account and looks harder, tries harder, and cuts his speed when conditions are against him.

In calling upon all motorists to cooperate with the pedestrian protection program the Chief said, "Just remember, there's an awful difference between banging up a fender and hitting a pedestrian."

High School Grads Now Eligible for Air Cadet Training

For the first time since World War II, a young man with only a high school education can be a pilot to fly the latest jet planes of the United States Air Force, or become an Aircraft Observer skilled in a technical specialty such as navigation, bombardment, radar, electronics, aircraft performance engineering, and armament operations.

The United States Air Force no longer requires a college education as an entrance requirement for Aviation Cadet training. The fact that high school graduates can now apply and become Aviation Cadets in the United States Air Force has not basically altered the original "Stay in School" advice to those who aspire to Aviation Cadet training. However, the absence of such educational background does not bar the apt high school graduate from a chance to become a flying officer in the United States Air Force.

Aviation Cadet training classes begin every two weeks, the entire training program lasting for 14 to 18 months. Successful completion of the course brings a second lieutenant's commission, and a career as a rated flying officer of the United States Air Force.

The United States Air Force Aviation Cadet Selection Team Number 403, located at Selfridge Air Force Base, Michigan, can give full information to any young man interested in flying training.

The third battle of Savo Island later called the "Battle of Iron Bottom Bay," was fought on the night of FRIDAY THE 13th, November, 1942. There were 19 American ships engaged in the battle.

The FLETCHER was the last of 19th ship in the American battle line. Bow numbers of the FLETCHER were 448 which totals 42.

The FLETCHER that night became the only U.S. Destroyer ever to sink a Japanese heavy cruiser unassisted (this was done with Torpedo attack made behind a smokescreen laid down by the FLETCHER) the FLETCHER also received credit for assisting in sinking a Japanese light cruiser by gunfire.

The FLETCHER was the only U.S. ship not damaged by enemy action that night.

The FLETCHER went through the rest of the war in the Pacific and ultimately earned 13 battle stars.

The FLETCHER was named after Rear Admiral Frank FRIDAY Fletcher. This coming November 13, 1953, the 11th anniversary of the battle. It is also a FRIDAY THE 13th.

Bell Telephone Co. To Start New Dial System in Detroit

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company will inaugurate a regional dialing plan on Dec. 1 which will make it possible for Detroit telephone users to dial direct to more than 60 communities in southeast Michigan, including Chelsea, and to some adjacent Canadian points.

N. J. Prakken, manager here for the company, said the regional dialing plan for Detroit would include the area encompassed by Port Huron on the north, Ann Arbor on the west, and Flat Rock on the south.

Key to the plan is a standardized metropolitan-type telephone numbering system inaugurated in Michigan several years ago. Under this system, all telephone numbers will eventually carry a central office name followed by five numerals. Thus, for example, Woodward 3-1234 is a typical number in Detroit, while YUkon 2-1234 and NORmandy 3-1234 are typical numbers in Port Huron and Ann Arbor, respectively.

As additional exchanges in the southeastern section of the state begin dial operation under the metropolitan type numbering system they will be included in Detroit's regional dialing area. Among the larger exchanges to be added to the plan next spring are Flint and Monroe.

Another integral part of the regional dialing plan is an automatic billing machine which makes a complete record of each direct-dial toll call, including the length of conversation and other information from which monthly bills are prepared. If the called number is busy or does not answer, the automatic equipment will note that fact and no charge for that call will be made.

Only station calls can be dialed direct under the regional dialing plan. Person-to-person, collect, public telephone and other calls requiring special attention will continue to be handled by operators.

Deer Hunters May Register To Get Emergency Calls

The Michigan State Police and the State Conservation Department again will offer a free registration service for deer hunters who desire to be notified in event an emergency occurs at home.

A hunter desiring to avail himself of the service should register at the State Police post or Conservation headquarters nearest his camp. Before leaving home he should inform his family or office at which station he will register.

Should there be an emergency, those at home need only call their nearest State Police post or Conservation headquarters and give the name of the station at which the hunter is registered. The message will then be radioed and delivered by either a State Police or conservation officer.

The service also operates in reverse. Should a hunter become lost or suffer an accident, his home or office can be promptly notified.

The service covers genuine emergencies only and is not offered where regular communication facilities can be used without delay.

Each member of a hunting party should register, giving an accurate description of the location of his camp. When hunters move from one camp to another during the season the station at which they are registered should be notified.

For the convenience of hunters, registration cards will be available on the state ferries at the Straits.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Advocates claim this system is the only method to keep voters close to their government.

Opponents assert that county agencies could maintain an equally desirable relationship with the voter, perform more and improved services, and for less money.

What's more, they say, the change would permit a fairer distribution of tax money returned to local governments under present state law.

● Facts and figures from the State Aid Survey show that 85.7% of Michigan's population is in township areas; 64.3% in cities. Cities and villages produce 85% of all taxes, but receive back only 80% of diverted funds. Looking at it another way, townships raised 5.1% of the taxes to be diverted, received 19.6% of the money diverted. This contrasts with cities which supply 91.5% of the taxes, receive 75.3%; and villages supplying 3.4% and receiving 51%.

● Supporters for both sides of the fight are hard at work. Politicians are sizing up the contest and wondering how it will affect voting. Observers are preparing to watch as interesting a struggle as has occurred in a long time.

You'll hear much more about the value and drawbacks of township government—and soon.

● Are there strings attached? That seems to be the question both Michigan State College and University of Michigan officials are asking themselves—but very quietly. On its face, the idea submitted by Gov. Williams that a trophy be presented each year to the winner of the MSC-U. of M. football game looks like a fine idea. But college people are wondering and stalling while they try to decide the answer.

● Before accepting the trophy idea, college officials want to know more about it. Although they do not admit it publicly, it's certain they want to know whether the award will be known as the Governor's trophy or as the Governor Williams trophy. It's understandable that they would want to keep individual names out of the tremendous interest in the annual MSC-U. of M. classic.

● "It's a very fine idea," said an MSC representative. "We'll discuss it in the college athletic council. U. of M. authorities were cooler but they also agreed to consider the proposal."

Gov. Williams thinks this year is a good one to launch the trophy because it's the first game played with State a member of the Big Ten.

● Michigan won honors at the National Future Farmers convention in Kansas City this month. A Marquette youth, David Boyne, was elected national president; the Cassopolis chapter was awarded the top Gold Emblem rating while Owosso and Williamston were awarded Silver Emblem ratings; Rollin Blosssey of Williamston was winner of a Star American Farmer award for the central region and a check of $500; his father, Clarence Blosssey, was presented with an Honorary American Farmer Degree.

● Competition was keen for these honors. FFA has 8,500 chapters and gave out 97 emblem awards. Rollin Blosssey's distinction was won from a field of 368,000 members. Only five were selected.

34 Years Ago...

Thursday, Sept. 25, 1919—

Autumn arrived on schedule time Sunday, and the equinoctial storm came with it.

Wesley Smith, who has been in the Michigan Central train-dispatcher's office at Detroit for the past month, has returned to his position as operator here.

The peculiar cloud formations preceding the storm of Saturday afternoon, caused many of our citizens to speculate on how long it would take them to reach the ceiling. The clouds were moving in all directions and it surely did look tough for the cyclone insurance companies, but the whole business was done. From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sheriff's "Push" Pulls a Vote

Was talking with our newly elected Sheriff Williams the other day. He told me about a fellow who stopped by his place late one night just before election.

"Heard a knock at the door," he said. "Fellow I never saw before. Told me his car went dead down the road and would I give him a shove. My boy, Flip, and I went out to his car with him. We're all set to push when he steps on the starter and the motor turns over."

"Well, Flip and I just stood there when the fellow leans out the window and says, 'Just wanted to make sure you're the right man to vote for.'"

From where I sit, the fellow who's quick to lend a hand makes any community a better one. But you don't have to run for office to prove you're a good neighbor. One way I know is just to have a little regard for the other fellow. Whether your neighbor likes beer or buttermilk, don't try to push him to your choice. Just give him your "vote of confidence."

We want your used car business, and some day we hope to sell you a new car or another used car. And we want your service business, too!

"But," you say, "granted that you Ford Dealers have reputations to uphold, granted that your mechanics and service facilities make it easier to put your used cars in good shape—how do you compare in price?"

Let us give you some facts and the answer will be obvious. Ford Dealers handle used cars and trucks as a service to customers who trade them for new cars. When we get overloaded with trade-ins, our capital is tied up. Like everyone else, we have to pay our bills. So we must always offer used cars at rock-bottom prices to keep things moving.
