

WINDOW SHOPPERS EVENT SCHEDULED

Entries Urged
for Lighting
Contest Here

Several Chelsea homes have already been listed as entries in the Christmas home lighting contest sponsored by the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce.

David Strieter, chairman of the project, urges everyone who wishes to participate to send in their entry blanks, properly filled out as soon as possible.

He emphasized that it is not necessary to have the lighting display in place before the entry form is sent in. He and his committee wish to get their list of entries ready well in advance, if possible.

Rules of the contest state that lighting entries should be in operation from Dec. 18 through Jan. 1, with judging by impartial persons to take place at 6:30 p.m., Dec. 22.

Outdoor lighting only will be considered in selecting prize winners. However, inside lighting, visible from the street and forming and over-all effect in conjunction with the outside display, will be taken into consideration by the judges.

Eligibility and originality are qualifications that will be weighed in choosing the winning entry, so no great expense need be involved in preparing the displays, Strieter said.

First prize in the contest is $15, while second and third prizes are to be $10 and $5, respectively.

Although only residential lighting is to be eligible for competition, the committee said they are hoping merchants in the business district will again cooperate by decorating their store windows effectively.

Entry blanks are to be found in this issue of The Standard.

Mrs. George McClure, now of Pinckney, is a patient at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

Norman Hinderer and Reuben Lesser were in town Wednesday morning of last week exhibiting a 400-pound black bear that Hinderer had shot Saturday, Nov. 30.

Hinderer was hunting at the Genkhe club near Hubbard Lake, Alcona county, as Lesser's guest.

Hinderer said the bear was a trophy of his first shot in 14 years of hunting. He plans to have the huge head mounted and have a rug made of the animal's pelts.

He struck the bear with three shots out of five he fired, Hinderer said. It took him and five companions to drag the prize the one-half mile from the swamp where it was shot to the club camp where the men made their headquarters.

Others with him included Martin Miller, Alfred Eismann and Lesser, of this vicinity, and Irving Ill of Ann Arbor.

Lesser brought back a 76-pound doe that he shot at Hubbard Lake on the all-deer day, Dec. 1.

Others at the camp who got does that day include Miller, Eismann and Ill.

Earlier in the season Reuben Lesser, Jr., got a six-point buck there, as did his cousin, Max Ziegler, Jr., of Dexter, and Waldo Eismann of Ann Arbor.

Marshall F. Richards, a former high school principal and a teacher of vocational agriculture at Chelsea, is now with Ruth French, realtor, in Ann Arbor, as farm salesman.

During the past three years Mr. Richards has been a teacher of farm veterans under the G. I. Bill. In his work he was responsible for making soil tests, land use surveys, and farm management analyses on many farms in Washtenaw county.

Mr. Richards lives at Honeybrook Farm, 6400 Jackson Road. The retail farm market which has been developed there will be turned over to a manager.

Ruth French, realtor, will expand its services to offer complete farm management analyses, farm appraisals, soils tests, and land use surveys, according to an announcement made yesterday.

Cassidy Lake
To Construct New Recreation Hall

Cassidy Lake Technical School is to have a new recreation building to replace the one destroyed by fire about a year ago, Capt. C. D. Miles, school superintendent, announced this week.

Plans for the building were approved on Tuesday of last week and construction is to begin immediately. The state legislature, at its last session, approved an appropriation of $100,000 for the new building, Miles stated.

Gerald Carr, maintenance superintendent at Cassidy Lake, is to be in charge of construction.

The architect, Howell Taylor, of Ann Arbor, drew the plans which were approved by the State Building Division at Lansing, Capt. Miles stated.

Capt. Miles said the building is designed to provide room for all types of recreation and will include a gymnasium 96x68 feet in size; a modern 31x13 foot stage which will be enclosed and sound-proofed by means of a movable partition for use as an extra game room.

When not in use as a stage, an assembly room which will accommodate 150 people; library, office and storage space; showers and locker rooms, and all space necessary for a well-planned recreation center.

Over-all size of the L-shaped building will be 146 feet 4 inches by 130 feet 8 inches.

A game room, the length of the gymnasium, located at the north end of the building, will be so arranged that it may, if desired at a later date, be divided by means of movable sound-proof partitions for simultaneous use for games, television and other activities.

Outside construction will be of red shaded brick and tentative plans are for white window and door trim.

The roof on the main portion of the structure will be gabled in keeping with the general architecture.

CHRISTMAS WANTS were explained to Santa Claus by several hundred excited, starry-eyed youngsters Saturday as the jolly old man from the North Pole made his second stop of the pre-Christmas season here. Reuben Lesser and M. W. McClure, Chamber of Commerce committeemen shown above, were on hand to assist Santa as he announced the winners of The Chelsea Standard Christmas Coloring contest and awarded prizes to the winners. Another coloring contest is being sponsored this week by The Standard with prizes to be distributed by Santa this Saturday. Cartoons for this week's contest are scattered throughout The Standard. The toy tractor shown above will be awarded to some lucky child on Saturday, Dec. 19, as a part of the Chamber of Commerce Christmas Shoppers' program.

Kiwanis Told
of Life Among Italian People

Immanuel Johnson, a Fenton Kiwanian and long-time friend of Anton Nielsen, Chelsea Kiwanian president, was guest speaker at the local Kiwanis club meeting Monday evening in the social center of the Methodist church.

Johnson had recently returned from Milan, Italy, where he had spent a year as a paint technologist setting up plant production standards, chiefly in automotive work.

Johnson said he spent four months in 1950 in Italy and returned there in September, 1952, remaining until September of this year.

His description of the life and customs of the people, learned while living with them, proved interesting to Kiwanians. He said there are great numbers of unemployed people and the country's borders would make the land a fertile spot for Communist infiltration.

Johnson's description of traffic in Italy was especially amusing. He said there are no traffic regulations and the driver with the loudest horn is the one that gets the "right-of-way."

Among the announcements made at the meeting was the one that a dinner for presidents-elect of Division VI clubs is to be given Monday evening, Dec. 14, at the Methodist church, with the Chelsea club as host.

Dec. 21 was announced as the date for the annual Ladies' Night Christmas meeting.

Charles Lancaster and Luther Kusterer were appointed co-chairmen of the annual Kiwanis amateur show scheduled for Feb. 27.

Louis Burghardt, Luther Kusterer, William Collins and Rev. Thomas Toy were appointed as a committee to check and investigate possible Christmas basket recipients.

A guest of School Superintendent Charles Cameron at Monday's meeting was Arthur Schunk, elementary school principal.

Pvt. Don Schrader of Fort Knox, Ky., spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schrader, St.

Committee Named
To Study Charity
Fund Campaigns

Voluntary fund drives in the community the past three years are to be the subject of a thorough study by Harold Jones, Stuart R. Booker and Paul Mann, according to a decision reached Tuesday evening by a committee of eight appointed at a kick-off luncheon meeting held Dec. 1.

The Dec. 1 meeting, held at the Congregational church, was sponsored by the Women's Club of Chelsea for the purpose of promoting possible formation of a Community Chest program here.

Others on the fact-finding committee named at the Dec. 1 meeting are Mrs. Daniels, Anton Nielsen, Robert Foster, Jolly Gullett and William Radenmacher. Radenmacher was named chairman of the group and the Dec. 8 meeting was called to lay plans for a thorough study of the local situation. It was held in the directors' room at the Chelsea State Bank.

Aim of the three-man fact-finding study committee is to obtain "a factual measure of the situation. This is to be achieved by compiling a list of all voluntary fund drives of all campaigns for funds here the past three years and then tabulating the information as a basic means of enlightenment for the committee and the general public.

Answers to two specific questions will guide the fact-finding committee and the study committee in their efforts toward forming an organization for combining voluntary fund drive solicitations. The questions to which answers are being sought are: (1) "How do the majority of givers and giver groups feel about the situation?" and (2) "How do the separate benefiting agencies feel about the situation?"

Rademacher stated after the meeting Tuesday that the committee would welcome suggestions from any interested people of the community. He asked that anyone who had any special ideas on the subject should contact him and he would bring the suggestions to the attention of the committee at a meeting of the group planned for Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m.

As a result of suggestions offered at the Dec. 1 meeting, Harvey Lixoy and Ishmael Picklesimer, of the UAW-CIO, were included on the original fact-finding committee and were present at Tuesday evening's meeting.

Color Contest
for Kiddies
Is Repeated

Prizes in the first of two Christmas "Coloring" contests sponsored by The Chelsea Standard were awarded by Santa Claus when he made his second pre-Christmas visit to Chelsea Saturday afternoon.

Winner of first prize on cartoon number 1 was Pamela Kuschmaul, while second and third prizewinners were Kathy Horste and Lauren Boyer.

First prize for cartoon number 2 went to Linda Blases, while Jeff Seney received second and Sandra Osborne, third prize.

Other winners are as follows: cartoon number 3: Tommy Sharard, first; Jack Crawford, second; Elizabeth Ann Bower, third. Cartoon number 4: Sandra Gieske, first; Valerie Burghardt, second; and Sharon Mappan, third. Cartoon number 5: Kristy Kayser, first; Jeffrey Clinto, second; Connie Scripser, third.

In addition to the prizes in the contests, each child who visited Santa Claus received two scratch pads as a gift.

Cartoons for the second contest are in this week's issue of The Chelsea Standard. Five cartoons are scattered throughout the paper and are numbered 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10.

Rules are simple, prizes being awarded for neatness, accuracy and wise choice of color.

All entries must be in Santa's special mail box in front of the post office steps or mailed directly to "Christmas Coloring Contest, Chelsea Standard, Chelsea, Mich." in time so Santa Claus can have them picked up at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. His helpers here will arrange to have the entries judged so Santa Claus can award the prizes when he arrives at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Children through seven years of age may enter the contest and may enter one of all the cartoons in this week's issue of The Standard.

Children should be sure to write their name, address and age in the space provided on each cartoon. The cartoons may be sent by regular mail but must have postage on the envelope and be mailed in regular post boxes. They may be mailed free if dropped in Santa's private red mail box.

Children are also reminded to be sure to put their name and address on letters they write to Santa Claus if he is to know where to send replies. Santa has promised to answer each letter he receives but he is handicapped when children do not sign their names or give their addresses.

Lt. Jack Merkel
Home from Korea

Lt. Jack Merkel was to receive his discharge from the U. S. Army at Fort Sheridan, Ill., Tuesday and is expected to be visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ferd. Merkel, some time this week. Following his discharge he planned to join his wife and the baby son, John Stephen, he hadn't yet seen. They have been staying with Mrs. Merkel's parents, Judge and Mrs. Robert Gable, in Fremont, Ohio.

Lt. Merkel returned to the United States from Korea on Thursday of last week.

Merchants To Give
Many Free Prizes in Big Treasure Hunt

Window Shoppers' Day, being held this Friday and Saturday, Dec. 11 and 12, will give everyone in the Chelsea shopping area a chance to receive valuable free prizes which merchants are offering, without any strings attached, to all readers of The Chelsea Standard. Planned on the pattern of a treasure hunt, the rules are very simple.

The treasure hunt works as follows: Each copy of The Chelsea Standard this week is numbered. The number will be found in a box at the bottom of this page.

Your copy of The Standard, bearing this number, should be taken along Friday or Saturday on the shopping tour.

Each participating store will have gifts in the window and these gifts will be numbered.

When a window shopper finds a number on a gift in the store window which matches the number on his copy of The Standard, all he needs to do to claim the prize is to enter the store and present the matching number.

There is nothing to buy—nothing to do except find the number in the store window that matches the number appearing on your copy of The Standard.

The treasure hunt begins at 10 a.m. Friday morning and prizes must be claimed by the time the stores close at 6 o'clock Saturday.

BASKETBALL ...

This Roosevelt game was the Bulldogs' finest defensive performance of the season. Robert Barkley played an outstanding game for Chelsea in holding eight-foot-eight-inch Jim O'Dea of the Roosevelt team to 10 points, and scoring six points himself.

Bob White was the sharpshooting star for Chelsea, with 20 points; followed by Bruce Hoffman with 12, and Neil Buehler with 11.

The Bulldogs won their fourth game of the year by a score of 32 to 27. Donald Mahan and Billy Roberts paced Chelsea with 14 and 9 points, respectively.

The Bulldogs are idle this week. Their next game will be Friday, Dec. 18, against Saline, on the local floor.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

duction; the Ishpeming-Negaunee area where a huge new body of iron ore is being worked.

● Detroit's prosperity resulted from Upper Peninsula raw materials, claimed the publisher; Detroit, must be remembered, produces nothing except the goods manufactured from the raw materials it imports.

"The oil, gas, coal and cement, as well as copper, iron and timber that have played such a large part in the growth of Detroit and other down-state centers were not produced in those cities, but the use of those products of nature, along with those of the Upper Peninsula, are the things that have contributed materially to making Detroit great."

● Other industrial centers received similar admonishing by Publisher Rice.

"The fact that manufacturers are concentrated in a compartively few places in Lower Michigan does not necessarily make these cities the benefactors of the State."

Grand Rapids, with its pride in its furniture industry, was also a target. The "factories merely shape into merchantable form the products that come from the forests north of the Straits," Rice reminded.

● "In conclusion we humbly suggest that you don't sell the Upper Peninsula short. None of us is self-sufficient but all of us are apt to minimize the contributions that our neighbors are making to promote the projects in which we are personally interested."

"As Mae West would say, 'Why don't you come up and see us sometime?' Maybe if we knew each other better, the future relationship would become less strained."

● The "poor country cousin" role, which non-metropolitan people, particularly in the far north, feel assigned them, is an extremely touchy matter. That there are few denials about such an opinion by those in metropolitan districts does not help matters.

● Sentiments of a different flavor than those often expressed in the heavily populated sections are provided for examination by the Houghton newspaper editorial. The argument that financial support received in one part of the state from another is not charity but a fair expenditure is supplied with some facts to support it.

● If tax diversion changes, are considered at the coming legislative session, study may result in a new attitude which will find more general acceptance by the people of Michigan.

It may be discovered, as it has when other "touchy" questions have been closely examined, that the accurate appraisal lays somewhere between the positions taken by opposing factions.

Cyclone Fence To Enclose Road Commission Yard

Work was started this week on the construction of a six-foot, cyclone-type fence to enclose the Washtenaw county Road Commission's Chelsea yards.

The Chelsea yard has a frontage on west Middle street of approximately 500 yards. This includes the property of Mrs. Thomas Howe, acquired during the past year. Mrs. Howe retains a life lease on her home, located on the site, and the fence will circle around the house and then continue west to the end of the yard line.

It is estimated it will require approximately 1,720 lineal feet of the fencing to enclose the yard. Cost of the project will be approximately $3,700. The Cyclone Fence company of Detroit, was awarded the contract for the job.

There will be two 32-foot, double-swing gates to accommodate road equipment and a walk-in gate to provide entrance to the yard at the office building. The office building formerly housed an automatic laundry business and was remodeled after the county acquired the property.

At the north side, the fence will begin at either side of the garage building.

Three strands of barbed wire are to be added to the top of the six-foot, link-type fence.

To Be Honored at Open House

Mr. and Mrs. John Bruestle

Mr. and Mrs. John Bruestle, who now make their home at 112 McComb street in Manchester, will hold open house Sunday in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruestle have lived at the Manchester address since June, 1952, moving there from the Bruestle homestead on Sharon Hollow road, Sharon township. They had lived on the homestead farm 41 years.

Mrs. Bruestle is the former Emma Klumpp and was born Sept. 11, 1883, on the farm of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Klumpp, on Washburn road, about a mile from the Bruestle homestead where she and her husband lived so many years.

Mr. Bruestle was born at Bridgeport, Oct. 15, 1876, and came to Sharon township with his parents when he was three years old.

The Bruestles were married in Francisco by Rev. Jacob Graber, who was pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church and the Sharon Evangelical church. The Bruestles were members of the Sharon church which disbanded some years ago. Mrs. Bruestle was the organist and her husband served as church custodian. When the Sharon church closed, Mr. and Mrs. Bruestle joined St. John's at Francisco and have now transferred their membership to Emanuel, Evangelical and Reformed church in Manchester.

They attended the Crafts school on Jacob road, as children.

Following their marriage, Dec. 9, 1903, they made their home on Mrs. Bruestle's parents' farm before moving to the Sharon Hollow road farm.

The open house honoring the couple was arranged by their family which includes two daughters, two sons, eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The daughters are Mrs. Erwin Hiet and Mrs. Martin Slane, of this vicinity, while the sons are Emil Bruestle of Pontiac, and Harold, of Ann Arbor.

Another daughter, Mrs. Alma Wahl, died in 1938 at the age of 24 years.

4-H Youth Exhibit Livestock at Detroit

Among the Washtenaw county 4-H club members who exhibited at the Junior Fat Stock Show in Detroit this week are Marjorie Bradbury, Suzanne and Billy Nixon and Arlene Lesser.

Marjorie entered a pen of three fat lambs and the others exhibited steers.

Accompanied by 4-H club agent Frank Gendron and Hon. Dem. construction agent Anna Brown, the county group left Tuesday to register their entries.

The show was scheduled for yesterday and the fat stock auction is being held this afternoon. The show and auction took place at the State Fair grounds.

Last night the young exhibitors attended a banquet in their honor at a Detroit hotel.

tural style of other buildings on the grounds. This part will be 22 feet high at the eaves.

The new recreation hall will be located directly north of the recently-completed chapel and the main office building.

The chapel was built by the youths at the school and was financed by gifts and contributions received from churches and other organizations where they put on musical programs over a period of about five years.

Approximately 175 youths between the ages of 17 and 22, are the normal population at Cassidy Lake. Housed in cabins on the grounds, they are first offenders who are brought to the honor camp under the system designed to keep first offenders from close contact with hardened criminals in prisons.

The Cassidy Lake school is a branch of the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Benter, of Detroit, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowe.

Methodist Church Centennial Observed with Special Services

NEW CHANCEL—Coinciding with the celebration Sunday which marked the 100th year of service to the community by the Methodist church, was the dedication of a newly refurbished chancel shown in the above photo. A total of $7,500 in memorial furnishings have been installed to start the church into its second century here.

The Methodist church was filled to capacity for the Sunday morning centennial service, the auditorium of the church, as well as the League room being needed to accommodate present and former members and other guests.

Dr. T. Otto Nall, editor of The Christian Advocate, Methodist Church paper, as principal speaker at the morning service, emphasized that the church is always a place where man and God meet. He explained that there is a horizontal and a vertical approach to religion, the vertical causing people to look directly up to God, while the horizontal approach affords a look across the community and the world and results in acts of Christian service.

Dr. Nall congratulated the local church on being a vital part of the community for 100 years. The 3 o'clock service featured homecoming, informal laymen's program, with Rev. S. D. Kinde, present pastor of the church, presiding.

The program opened with a hymn sing of old favorites and Dr. Nall read the 100th Psalm and offered prayer.

This was followed by a vocal solo, "Rejoice and Sing," by Jay Thompson.

Guests were introduced and given an opportunity to reminisce. Among these were Mrs. C. S. Kistley of Jackson, widow of Rev. Kistley who was pastor of the Chelsea church from 1922 until 1926, and Mrs. Fred Mumby, whose late husband was pastor here from 1933 until 1942.

Schuyler P. Foster of Dexter, oldest former member present, and Mrs. Florence Howlett, oldest active member of the local church, took part in an exchange of remarks which added a humorous touch to the festivities. Both have been members since 1885, although Mrs. Howlett joined approximately six months earlier than Mr. Foster.

Rev. Thomas Toy of the Congregational church was present to extend greetings on behalf of himself and his church.

None of the former pastors of the church was present but greetings were read from Rev. and Mrs. Orville Morrow of Saginaw who were here from 1947 until 1950, and from Rev. and Mrs. F. Matthews of Flint, who were here from 1931 until 1933.

Greetings were also received from Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Ives of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Beth Holledge of Muskegon, and a number of memorial floral gifts were sent. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Palmer, now of Memphis, Tenn., sent flowers in memory of Mrs. Palmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Prudden, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin I. Gaunt sent flowers as a memorial to their son, Edwin Ives Gaunt.

In memory of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Wood, active members of the church during their lifetime, their daughter, Mrs. George P. Staffan, and Mr. and Mrs. G. Staffan sent flowers, also.

The history of the local church was read by Miss Mabel Fox and the history of the WSCS of the church was presented in playlet form by Mrs. Lillian Brown, Mrs. Nellie Kelly, Mrs. L. H. Walker and Mrs. Harry Litteral.

Mrs. D. L. Gadberry read a history of the Youth Fellowship group; Mrs. Francis Smyser gave the choir history, and Mrs. Lula Bahmiller told of the beginnings of the Cradle Roll and gave the history of the Sunday school.

The program closed with a readings by Mrs. Maxwell Sweet, "Looking Forward To The Future," and songs by the assembly and the choir.

A display of old hymnals, Bibles, pictures and other items proved of interest to those who attended the centennial services. Among the items were pictures of the first church which was destroyed by fire in 1899 and early pictures of the present church.

Of special interest was a Chinese Bible which had belonged to Judson Collins, first Methodist missionary to China, and a native of this vicinity. The Bible is the property of Mrs. Leigh Palmer.

Another item of interest was the silver trowel used by the late Mrs. Frank Glazier in laying the cornerstone of the Methodist Home.

Approximately 235 people attended the planned pot-luck dinner served in the church dining room following the morning service.

U. of M. Professor Talks on Japan at Library Lecture

On Tuesday, Dec. 1, Dr. John Hall discussed the contrasts in Japan between the East and West. Dr. Hall was born in Japan and has spent much time in the Far East. He is now a professor at the University of Michigan.

He said that we have been associated with the Far East in war, though we still do not have too great an understanding of it. He believes the American people are very interested and are trying to learn about Japan.

Dr. Hall explained that Japan has a great historical background. Many years ago Japan had a civilization as advanced as ours. The great changes taking place in the West at this time changed all this. With the West's great gains, such as the industrial revolution and scientific development, it began to assert its authority over the East. The West dominated the seas and set up great colonial empires. However, in the 20th century the Oriental people began to make great gains. Their educational system was improved and in some instances political freedom was gained. These changes took place very rapidly. After World War II the effects of Communism became evident and a clash between communism and democracy arose.

Dr. Hall showed many slides on Japan which is a beautiful country, having many gardens and ancient feudal estates. There is a clash with the modern Western influence in big buildings and in dress. However, the Japanese people are very aware of their history and have many festivals. They have built many temples to both Buddha and Shinto. There is a small shrine in almost every home. The Japanese live on small farms. The population is very dense; therefore, cultivation is very intensive.

BEHIND THE IRON CURTAIN
"Russia or Europe?" asked Mr. John Shraeff of Chelsea High students. This man who has just returned from his fourth post-war trip behind the iron curtain, invited students to choose their topic. Russia was selected.
Mr. Shraeff discussed language, nationalities, living and working conditions in Russia and compared them with ours. He also discussed the fact that Communists do not accept the church, and persecute people who do. The Roman Catholic is the most disliked religion, though Protestants, Lutherans and Methodists are not popular either.

Communism may be true, where no one can own land, even that on which his home is located, or it may be a sort of pseudo-communism where the state takes all the land, and redistributes it. He did not think that Russia is likely to fight, even with the new weapons. He spent the afternoon in class discussions with various groups.

Organizations

STUDENT COUNCIL
The Student Council decided a representative of each grade will make a gift box to place under the Christmas tree. The price set for the gifts is from 50 cents to $1.00. The dance committee requested permission to hold an assembly explaining party rules. They would also like to gain more school support for dances.

GAA
The girls' basketball team opened their season with a game with University High Tuesday at Chelsea.

LATIN CLUB
The students are giving reports on their posters which they placed in the store windows during National Education Week. The club is learning to sing many Christmas carols in Latin.

HI-Y CLUB
On Dec. 3, 4 and 5, Jim Boyer and Don Foster attended the Hi-Y Tri-Y State Legislature in Lansing. The boys met with YMCA heads to find out how each organization is run, then took over state offices for the three days. The Hi-Y club sponsored a dance after the Chelsea-Roosevelt basketball game. They appreciated the good conduct the students have been showing after these games.

BAND
The band is currently working on its annual Christmas program to be presented Wednesday, Dec. 16 at 8 p.m. One of the numbers the band will play is "Panis Angelicus" by Franck. During the concert season the band is making it a point to play music by better known composers.

JOURNALISM CLUB
The Journalism club met Wednesday, Dec. 2. They discussed the Christmas issue of the "Bull-dog," and some people received special assignments.

Activities
PHYSICS FIELD TRIP
On Wednesday, Dec. 2, members of the physics class went on a field trip to the University of Michigan, leaving at 9 a.m. and returning at 12:30 p.m. The class went to the University Physics building and listened to a lecture by Dr. Barker, who later conducted the class on a tour of the physics laboratory. All information gathered from the lecture and tour was about physics and will later be of great help to the students of that class.

ART CLASSES
Art students are busy working on Christmas decorations which are to be used on the stage for the various programs. Art II students have completed their book covers. They are now starting a project which consists of painting the windows of the art room.

HOMEMAKING
Home Ec. I is working on Christmas projects. Some of the things they are making are place mats, stuffed animals, aprons, rock dolls, and bedroom slippers. Home Ec. II is also working on Christmas projects. They are doing such things as painting glasses, making dishes from paper mache and painting on place mats and napkins. Home Ec. III has just finished a unit on clothing and will soon decide what they will work on next.

Grade News

KINDERGARTEN
The kindergarten classes are decorating their rooms for Christmas, making gifts and Christmas cards, and looking forward to the Christmas parties.

SECOND GRADE
Mrs. Marian Elsemann substituted for Mrs. Elsie while she was having conferences with the mothers of her pupils. The class will miss Billy Marquet who has moved to Detroit, and Jane Cogswell who has moved to Cheesaning. They are, however, very happy to welcome Leona Hanson from Saginaw and John Brown from Manchester, as new members of their class.

EIGHTH GRADE
Grade eight has recently enrolled Norman UHF, recently from Detroit.

11th GRADE
Grade 11 has been enlarged by the coming of Norman Phelps from California, and Lester Wahl from Grass Lake.

Movies
The following movies were shown during the week of Nov. 30-Dec. 4.

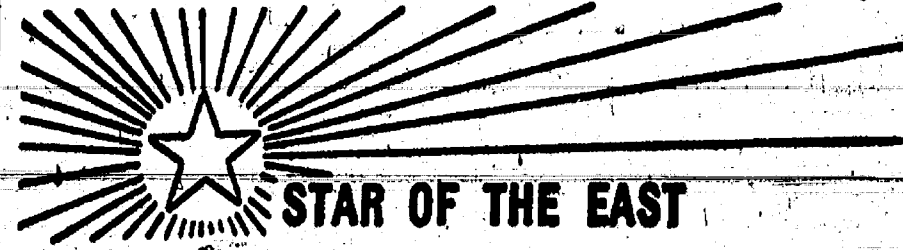

Monday—"Friend In The Cupboard" was shown to the Home Ec. I classes. The law class and the civics class saw "The Challenge."

Tuesday—The Speech classes and the English 9 class saw the movie, "Using Your Voice." The chemistry class saw "Precisely So."

Wednesday—"The Human Skeleton" and "The Frog" were shown to the biology and general science classes.

Thursday—The American government class saw "Our Basic Civil Rights."

'Snapdragon' Popular
A game called "snapdragon" was very popular at Christmas time in England more than 200 years ago. To a limited extent it is still played in some parts of England, as well as in America. The original game called for a quantity of raisins to be deposited in a large bowl or dish. Brandy or some other spirit was then poured over the fruit and ignited. At a given signal, the participants attempt to snatch a raisin from the blazing bowl.

Star of the East, that long ago
Brought wise men on their way
Where, angels singing to and fro,
The Child of Bethlehem lay—
Above the Syrian hill afar
Thou shinest out tonight, O Star!

Star of the East, the night were drear,
But for the tender grace
That with thy glory comes to cheer
Earth's loneliest, darkest place;
For by that charity we see
Where there is hope for all—and me.

Star of the East, show us the way
In wisdom undefiled
To seek that manger out and lay
Our gifts before the Child—
To bring our hearts and offer them
Unto our King in Bethlehem!

My little house of muted gray
With bands of silky white
Is snug in its nest of green,
Its blinds are color-bright.
They twinkle in the early dawn
And when the sun is high,
They smile with friendliness and cheer.

At all the passersby
A red or green, maybe a blue
Another's choice might be;
Give me my blinds of color hue
That smile when you come back to me.

Social Service Committee Invites Others To Help

The Social Service committee has set Thursday, Dec. 17, beginning at 7:30 p.m., as the date for wrapping Christmas gifts which are to be distributed to needy children of the community. The gift wrapping project will be carried out in the workroom at the Chelsea Public Library.

Speaking for the committee, Mrs. Paul G. Schable said, "Last year the work was done by the Woman's Club alone, but with the fine participation of the entire community, we feel there might be others who would like to share in this part of the task."

The committee has announced that an invitation is extended to all interested persons to be present at the library the evening of Dec. 17 if they wish to participate.

The Social Service committee has set itself the goal of providing some new clothing as well as a toy or doll for every needy child under 12 years of age, and a basket of food for every needy family in the community.

Individuals and organizations of Chelsea who wish to give Christmas gifts to one person or an entire family were asked to report to the committee what their contribution was to be. The committee then was in a position to suggest where the gifts would do the most good.

To assure adequate and fair distribution of the gifts, a carefully checked list of families in need has been compiled by the committee. Mrs. E. W. Easton, Mrs. Paul Maroney and Mrs. Schable.

Sunday guests of Rev. and Mrs. S. D. Kinde were Dr. and Mrs. T. Otto - Nall of Chicago, Ill., Charles Kieveland of Iron Mountain, and Rev. and Mrs. Grant Vessel of Ypsilanti. Guests one day the past week were Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Kinde of Battle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gaunt returned Saturday from a four-week vacation at Fort Myers, Fla., and New Orleans, La.

Mrs. Russell Altstaetter spent two days last week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Thad Wardwell, in Williamston.
