Legislators convene in Lansing this week to consider Michigan's business for the coming year.

As always, there are problems to solve; decisions to reach; politics to determine. Public needs are many and varied, and the legislature is expected to deal with problems of this season, lawmakers have good reason to feel encouraged over progress made during 1953.

Taxpayers can relax this year, for the first time in many months, without worrying whether they will be affected by a new tax.

"Financial condition of the state is good," said Auditor General John B. Martin. "During the previous 12 months, Michigan has dug itself out of its monetary mess and now expects to pay all its bills on time, including those due schools and other local governments."

Schools were swamped with increased enrollment resulting from babies born in the post-war period. There were problems to deal with high schools for students in rural areas, elementary students in most areas, teacher payrolls generally.

Enrollment went from 1,190,000 to 2,250,000, an increase of 60,000. These additional children required 2,000 additional teachers and 2,000 additional classrooms.

Older teachers were brought back, special teaching certificates were issued; the new, partly state-paid pay scales were increased to an average of $4,000 per year to encourage teachers to remain in the profession.

College enrollment in 1953 increased about 12 per cent to 100,000, a total demanding more building by educational institutions.

Birthrate continued up last year; the death rate decreased. Michigan citizens, as a group, were healthier.

An all-time low was realized in deaths—less than nine per 1,000 people. Maternity deaths dropped to the lowest ever—less than .5 per cent per 1,000 live births. There was virtually no change in the infant death rate.

About 180,000 babies were born in Michigan during 1953, going 2,165 more than 1952 record high of 177,835.

The marriage rate declined somewhat, but the divorce frequency also fell off.

A $28 million building program saw 26 buildings completed and work started on 10 more.

The Lewis Cass building, which was ruined by fire and water in 1951, was ready to accommodate many of the state offices forced to seek temporary quarters at that time. A second state building named in honor of Steven T. Mason, was also completed and immediately occupied.

Hospitals and schools make up the majority of other structures on the list. Fifteen are already in use as additions to mental institutions. Wayne county has a new $4 million medical science building in Detroit; Michigan College of Mines at Houghton and Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette have additions to the campuses.

Highway construction, a field that dropped behind during the war and was never able to catch up, totaled $37,650,000. Contracts for this amount were let in 1953. Sixty-seven new bridges and 51 railroad crossing flashers were built, and 24 crossings reconstructed.

There were 108 miles of concrete pavement installed during 1953. Surfacing, smoothing and rehabilitating completed on hundreds more.

Peoples' pocketbooks as well as that of the state, showed promise. The balance sheet accumulated during 1953.

Budget year in the last 10 was experienced by the state banking department. Some 114 state banks were authorized to complete contracts totaling $9,119,200. Six new banks were chartered; 17 branch offices established; 26 new small loan offices licensed.

Total resources of Michigan's 884 banks and trust companies, including their 191 branches amounted to an estimated $3,650,000,000, about $27 million more per month over 1952.

An increase of $860,000 in earnings from state investments was reported by Treasurer D. Hale Brake. These funds earned about $5,800,000 last year alone. By re-investing monies from auto licenses and liquor transactions, the treasurer was able to help establish this record.

About 300,000 winter visitors are expected to leave some $30 million at northern Michigan winter resorts this season according to Robert J. Furlong, executive secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council.

Over $216,000 last summer alone in income from the 38 ski centers. Capital is investment of resort owners in winter recreational facilities, says Furlong. Municipal and community skating rinks or toboggan slides.

Among more spectacular attractions, is the 100,000 gallon, heated, outdoor swimming pool at Boyne Mountain Lodge, completely new ski resort was built in the Missaukee.

Team Scores
Sixth VictoryFace Crucial Game
Friday Evening
Against Dundee

The Chelsea Bulldogs scored 41 points in the last half to chalk up their sixth victory without defeat, and their fourth in Huron League play for this season, when they downed Ypsilanti Lincoln, 55 to 41, at Ypsilanti, last Friday night.

The Bulldogs will have their "show down" battle with undefeated Dundee Friday night, Jan. 15, at Dundee.

Faced by Neil Buehler and Bob Bertke in the first period, the Bulldogs took a 16-8 lead.

The Ypsilanti Raisersplitters made things uncomfortable for Coach John Magiera and his charges in the second quarter, as they outscored our local lads, 16-8, to make the half-time score read 24-24.

Lincoln scored first, to open the third period and take a 24-24 lead, but, at this stage of the game, Bruce Hoffman, Bob Bertke, Bud Ringe and Bob White hit from the field for Chelsea to give the Bulldogs the lead they never relinquished. The score at the end of the period was 44 to 31, in favor of Chelsea.

In the fourth period, with Bruce Hoffman, Bob Bertke, Bob White, Neil Buehler and Dave Elkin contributing scores, the Bulldogs continued their red-hot pace to score 21 points to the Raisersplitters' 10, and make the final score read 65-41.

High-point men for Chelsea were Bob Bertke, 20 points; Bruce Hoffman, 16 points; Bob White, 14 points; and Neil Buehler, 8 points.

The defensive play of Bud Ringe was outstanding for Chelsea. He held the Ypsilanti Lincoln star, Jerry Krueger, to three field goals, before fouling out late in the third period. Dave Elkin replaced Ringe, and permitted the Ypsilanti star to only one field goal, while he scored two field goals himself.

Bob Bertke and Bruce Hoffman, as they have done all seasons far, once again controlled both backboards for Chelsea.

The Bulldogs made 17 out of 22 free throws for a phenomenal shooting percentage of 77.3.

The Chelsea Bulldogs won their sixth straight game in the preliminary encounter by a score of 64 to 29. The Bulldogs were paced by Billy Roberts and Donat Mahar with eight points each.

Methodist Church
Plans for Annual
Free Seat Dinner

Plans for the annual "Free Seat Dinner" were outlined Monday night at a meeting of the Official Board of the First Methodist church. The dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., Jan. 28.

This annual affair dates back to the time when the church changed from charging pew rent to free seats for all. An offering taken is used largely toward the asking of the Detroit Methodist Conference.

Miss Mabel Fox was appointed adult program chairman, and Charles Cameron chairman of the children's program. The WSCS serves the meal. Ray Schairer and members of the finance committee, assisted by Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor of the church, will be in charge of publicity.

In keeping with the "Go to Church" campaign of the church, emphasizing church attendance from New Year's to Easter, the pastor has planned a series of sermons as follows: Jan. 17, "Methodists Believe in God the Trinity"; Jan. 24, "Methodists Believe in Salvation from Sin"; Jan. 31, "Methodists Believe in a Christian Experience"; Feb. 7, "Methodists Believe in Christian Perfection"; Feb. 14, guest speaker, to be announced; Feb. 21, "Methodists Believe in the Stewardship of Life"; Feb. 28, "Methodists Believe in the Kingdom of God."

The Feb. 7 service will feature the reception of new members into the church, Rev. Kinde announced today.

William Wilkersons
Are Parents of
New Year's Baby

Chester has a 1954 New Year's baby, probably the only one in Washtenaw county, but no announcement had been made of the birth until last Thursday when the mother, herself, called and calmly mentioned the fact.

The baby is Cheryl Diane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wilkerson; and was born at the family home, 764 Flinders street, before the mother could be taken to a hospital. The Wilkersons have two other children, both of whom have "special" birth dates, which seems to be becoming a tradition in the family. The oldest son was born on a Friday, the 18th, and the other was born on April Fool's day.

First Mad Dog
in Nearly Six Years
Reported in County

Washtenaw County's first mad dog report since June of 1948 was received by the County Health department Jan. 9, from the School of Veterinary Medicine at Michigan State College. The dog, a one and one-half-year-old Springer Spaniel, was the pet of George Schrieber on the farm of Theron Schrieber at 2070 Wagner road, Ann Arbor, RFD 3.

An infected wound about the ear of the dog led health officials to the speculation that the animal had been attacked by a rabid dog from outside the county during the hunting season. The rabies was of the "dumb" type. No people or animals were bitten by the sick dog before he was taken to East Lansing. The rabies report was made by the Michigan Department of Health Laboratories.

The County Health department officials wish to remind dog owners that vaccination before Feb. 28 is compulsory before a license can be purchased; for all dogs except those in commercial kennels. A clinic to vaccinate dogs not taken to private veterinarians will be held at the Town Hall in Chelsea, Thursday, Jan. 28 from 7 until 9:30 p.m., and in Lyndon Township, on Friday, Jan. 29, from 7 until 8:30 p.m. The clinic is sponsored by the County Veterinary Medical Association and the County Health department. A fee of $1.50 will be charged for each dog.

At the present time the chapter is caring for 112 patients, 70 of whom are patients from past years.

Cost of a hospitalized polio patient varies, but is estimated at $26 per day. This includes braces, crutches, and physical therapy. It does not include special nursing, which is a large item in the budget for a polio patient. If a patient is very sick, and is in a respirator, constant attendance by a nurse must be provided. This cost for nursing is between $30 and $45 per day, depending upon whether one nurse can care for two respirator patients at the same time.

It is the policy of the National Foundation and of the local chapter to provide whatever the patient's doctor believes necessary for treatment and the patient's comfort, and particularly to do everything possible to return the patient to a normal life. Mrs. Sorenson said.

Regarding the books of the local chapter, Mrs. Sorenson reported that, although specific amounts paid for a given patient must remain confidential, the check book of payments made to the hospital and to nurses, and all other items of expenses, are open to the public. This material is at the State Savings Bank in Ann Arbor, in the office of J. Wayne Meadows, treasurer of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Mr. Meadows is a member of the State Savings Bank.

All banks throughout the county are cooperating with the local chapters in collecting the filled dime cards. In the Chelsea area the Chelsea State Bank will accept the filled cards and take care of them for the local campaign, Mrs. Sorenson said yesterday.

The cards, without postage, may be taken to the bank at any time, and handed to any of the clerks. Those that are sent through the postoffice must have stamps affixed.

To Continue Work
Now in Progress

Last year the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis aided six polio patients in the Chelsea area, according to Mrs. Hugh Sorenson, chairman of the Chelsea March of Dimes campaign. Although there was only one new case reported in Chelsea, Mrs. Sorenson pointed out, there were five patients from past years, who received physical therapy or needed operations as a result of polio.

Physical therapy and proper braces and crutches are very important in some polio cases, the chairman said, and treatment, especially of children, may have to be continued for years. Sometimes several operations are necessary over a long period.

In 1953, the Washtenaw county chapter spent $29,870 for patient care, and has approximately $10,000 in outstanding bills for patients. Mrs. Sorenson reported. The $1,761 on hand is earmarked for nursing care, and outstanding bills will be paid from 1954 March of Dimes contributions.

At the present time the chapter is caring for 112 patients, 70 of whom are patients from past years.

Cost of a hospitalized polio patient varies, but is estimated at $26 per day. This includes braces, crutches, and physical therapy. It does not include special nursing, which is a large item in the budget for a polio patient. If a patient is very sick, and is in a respirator, constant attendance by a nurse must be provided. Fourteen residents of the Methodist Home were honored at a group birthday party during the group dinner hour Tuesday. The group of ladies, all of whom have birthdays in January, includes Mrs. Phoebe Ross who will be 100 years old Jan. 19, and Mrs. Ella Snowden who will be 93 tomorrow.

Mrs. Ross was at the special table reserved for birthday celebrants but Mrs. Snowden has been confined to the Home hospital.

The table centerpiece, in recognition of the century of life lived by Mrs. Ross, was centered with a replica of a covered wagon drawn by horses. Gold candles, gold, brown, green and white decorations, on the birthday cake, gold nut cups, and a bouquet of heather and snow in white, yellow and lavender all helped carry out the decorative theme.

Seated at the birthday table were Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Alice Begole, Mrs. Fannie Buell, Miss Mae Louise Clark, Mrs. Minnie Fisher, Mrs. Frances Fellmy and Mrs. Lettie Mastin.

Mrs. Lillian Brown, another resident whose birthday occurs in January, was visiting friends and was not present for the birthday dinner and six are confined to the Home hospital. ## To Observe 100th Birthday

Mrs. Phoebe Ross

Methodist Home
Resident To Pass
Century Mark

Mrs. Phoebe Ross, a resident of the Methodist Home the past eleven years, will be 100 years old Tuesday, Jan. 19. A cheerful, happy person, she has an infectious laugh and sparkle in her eyes that belies her great age. She seldom misses a meal in the dining room and delights in furnishing special treats for other residents, for the employees and especially "her superintendents" as she refers to Rev. M. J. Betz, superintendent of the Home.

Rev. Betz said, "We believe perhaps the secret of her longevity is her faith in God and people and living a life of helpfulness to others and doing it cheerfully."

Born at Oxford, Mich., Jan. 19, 1854, she remembers well the Indian chief known as White Horn, and his grandson, Half Foot. She tells that they were entertained often in her home.

Mrs. Ross related that the chief, having heard them and others at family and group prayer services, asked if his people might join them and so it happened that people came, regardless of creed or color. Later the Union Church was built and the meetings were held there until the Union Church was built. When the present Farmington Methodist church was built, Mrs. Ross and her sister, Mrs. Rhoda Roche, gave a memorial window in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Sherman.

The parents were born at Lyons, N. Y. Mrs. Sherman being the former Loretta Ward.

Mrs. Ross' husband, David, to whom she was married May 12, 1884, died on Christmas day, in 1928. They had made their home in or near Farmington for many years and Mrs. Ross lived a remarkably active life in her home and church.

Friends of Mrs. Ross said she told them, at the age of 89, that she believed she "was slipping a little" and "should go to the Methodist Home at Chelsea." Her sister, Mrs. Rhoda Roche, who is 15 years younger, had already entered the Home at that time and is still living there.

When Mrs. Ross entered the Home July 28, 1943, she came with the remarkable, lifelong record of perfect health.

She is the donor of the public address system at the Home, having given it in honor of Rev. and Mrs. LeRoy Lord, a former superintendent of the Home and his wife.

Mrs. Ross also furnished a sun parlor in the Kimball wing about five years ago.

U-M Professor
Concludes Library
Lecture Series

Dr. Richard C. Roys, associate professor of English at the University of Michigan, told a Chelsea audience Tuesday, Jan. 5, that through his years of teaching he had reached the considered conclusion that there should be intelligent censorship of literary publication and presentation. Earlier, he said, he had believed there should be no censorship, but has changed his mind. This, in spite of the fact that censorship almost never accomplishes its purpose, but serves instead to call attention to, and give moderate success to, works which might otherwise be considered unimportant, mediocre, or even downright dull.

He gave illustration after illustration of ordinary books and plays which have been skyrocketed to fame through censorship troubles based on moral, political, or religious grounds; and declared that we must expect a continuing or running competition between the "sophisticates" on the one hand and the "puritans" or "puritans" on the other. He left his audience with the feeling that the whole matter of literary censorship was quite unimportant, and was a matter of much ado about not much of anything.

U-SHAPED STRUCTURE
To Contain 8 Rooms
with No Corridors

Plans submitted by Louis C. King, architect, for the new elementary school on McKinley road were approved at a special meeting of the Chelsea Agricultural Schools Board of Education Wednesday, Jan. 6.

The new school, as planned, will be U-shaped with two wings of four rooms each connected across the south end. At the south will be a good-sized community room which will be available for group meetings and which may be used without entering any other part of the school.

The south portion of the U-shaped structure will also contain a multi-purpose room approximately 60'x40' in size, health room, work room, teachers' room, office, office storage, kitchen, boiler room and vestibule.

There will be no corridors, the classrooms in the two wings being so arranged that passage from one to the other is possible across the ends of the rooms.

The classrooms in the wing nearest McKinley street will be the first and second grade rooms, the 30'x40' kindergarten and a sound-proof music and art room at the north end.

The west wing will house the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Each two rooms will have a separate entrance and separate boys' and girls' toilet-room facilities.

General style of the construction will be similar to the elementary school on Pierce street.

Floors will be of asphalt tile with quarry tile in rest rooms and entrances. The inside wainscoting will be of finished brick with the remainder of the walls of smooth block. Above the windows there will be glass block and a new type of skylight of glass block will be used. The glass block reflects heat but admits light.

Radiant-type heating will be used.

All classrooms in the new school will be approximately 30'x30' in size.

At the Board of Education meeting Tuesday, Jan. 12, matters pertaining to the installation of sewer, water and other facilities for the new elementary school were discussed as well as proposed construction of a foot bridge across the creek at the north edge of the village on McKinley street and stairs pertaining to the present bridge.

Attending the meeting were Supervisor Elba Gage and Dr. P. E. Sharrard of the Sylvan Township Board, John Kousch, the school board's attorney, and Howard G. Minier, Washtenaw county Road Commission manager, all of whom had been invited by the school board to be present.

Further discussion of the matter of facilities for the new school will take place at a planned meeting of the Board of Education, Sylvan Township Board and Chelsea Village Council. Date of the meeting has not yet been fixed.

Hearing Set on
Proposed Village
Zoning Ordinance

Jan. 25, at 7:30 p.m., has been announced as the date for a public hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance of the village of Chelsea. The meeting will give property owners of the village an opportunity to look over the ordinance and participate in a discussion led by R. C. Eastman, Ann Arbor architect and zoning authority.

It has been explained that neither the provisions of the ordinance nor the districting on the map are final but representing the collective thinking of the Village Council up to this time.

Depending upon the needs of property owners as they are expressed at the public hearing, changes in both the provisions and districting will be possible.

The meeting will be held in the Council room of the Municipal building.

Delores Carol Zahn,
Norman Houk Wed
Saturday Evening

Delores Carol Zahn became the bride of Norman Charles Houk in a wedding ceremony performed in St. Thomas Lutheran church, Freedom township, at 8 o'clock Saturday evening. Rev. R. W. T. Bierlein officiated.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Rudolph Zahn and the late Mr. Zahn. She was given in marriage by her brother, Rudolph Zahn, Jr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Houk, of North Lake. He recently returned from army service in Germany and is now employed at Chrysler Proving Ground.

White slipper satin, trimmed with imported French lace, and white, not-fashioned-the-bride's gown. Matching lace also trimmed her fingertip-length veil which was held in place with a pearl tiara. Her bouquet was of white carnations and pompons.

The maid of honor, Lella Trinkle, and the bridesmaid, Olive Ann Reddeman, wore satin gowns of blue and lime green, respectively. Miss Trinkle carried yellow carnations and white stevia, and Miss Reddeman an all-white bouquet of carnations and stevia.

Arlene Zahn, in a gown of blue, ninon over satin and carrying white carnations, was her sister's junior bridesmaid and another sister, Rose Ann Zahn, in blue satin, was the flower girl. A cousin of the bride, Billy Schneider, of Manchester, was the ringbearer.

Gerald Wenk and Roy Guenther were ushers. The bride's mother wore a dress of blue satin and the bridegroom's mother was in black. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Approximately 125 guests attended a reception held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother. ## INSIDE THE CAPITOL

By Charles M. Ziegler,
State Highway Commissioner

Everybody is talking about roads and their importance in our daily lives. 25tf

Everybody wants roads that will adequately serve the requirements of transportation for both business and pleasure. 25tf

Everybody talks about the weather, too, and there is nothing that can be done about it. 25tf

It is different with roads—something can be done about them. In 1947, an exhaustive engineering analysis of Michigan's highway system was completed by the Michigan Good Roads Federation to determine the highway needs of the state. 25tf

Based on this study, the Legislature enacted new highway laws in June, 1951, and provided additional revenues by increasing the gasoline tax from 3c to 4 1/2c per gallon and by increasing the weight tax on heavy trucks. 25tf

It was contemplated that these additional revenues would finance a road improvement program which, in 15 years, would make our roads adequate. However, changing economic conditions have devaluated the dollar, with resulting higher costs of highway construction. Also, traffic volumes have increased far beyond estimates, particularly commercial vehicles in the traffic flow. 25tf

It is now urgent that our highway needs study be brought up to date in line with present economic conditions. Concerted efforts are being made to get legislative action next year, to restudy road needs in light of today's costs and traffic volumes, and to develop new plans for financing the programs needed to modernize the city streets, county roads, and state trunklines of the state. 25tf

Public support of these efforts is one way that something can be done about roads, even though we must take the weather as it comes. 25tf

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

NEW ARCHER'S SPORT

Between 30,000 and 40,000 bowhunters in Michigan are probably on the verge of a mass discovery of new sport in their field. While they're going after big game—deer and bear—they're swinging their sights downward a little these days in an effort to extend their hunting season—and their target is the fast-footed cottontail rabbit! Archers gathered recently at the Ferris Farm near Perry for a test of their skill—and the results prove conclusively that Michigan bunnies are in for a lot more exercise, and a slight decrease in population at the hands of these amazingly accurate sportsmen.

Beagles Used in Chase

The first step in the organization of such a hunt is the selection of an area where rabbits are reasonably plentiful. Farm country spotted with numerous small swales or swamps is best. If you choose, a large swampy terrain the cottontails will simply run circles around you—circles so big you won't get close enough to shoot.

Next, get together with a Beagle club. The Beagle-hound is very popular in Michigan, and owners are generally affiliated with a club group. Always anxious to display the prowess of these colorful hunting dogs, owners will be found co-operative.

Special Game Heads Required

The sport will probably set up a few rules for the chase, not the least important of which is the arrow. The sharp-pointed field arrow will simply run circles around you for safety's sake—and because it is not as effective on small game. Best arrow is tipped with "game-head"—a flat rubber head which kills or stuns instantly by concussion, and travels only a short distance at top velocity.

We're sure to see a lot more of this sport in the months ahead in Michigan Outdoors.

Technique Simple

The procedure when properly handled calls for a group of as many as a couple of hundred archers to surround the small swamp or swale—and then release the Beagles. Soon those hounds will give tongue and rabble will start bounding around the swale ahead of their pursuers. Archers spotted along the edge will get plenty of shooting as the cottontails zig-zag past—and it takes SOME shooting to hit them on the run!

In a demonstration of the sport at the Ferris Farm about 100 bowmen were in the field. More than half of them got shooting—and plenty of excitement was evident. The hunt ended up with a rabbit for the pot, and the vow that "next time, Br'er Rabbit, look out!"

Frequent Oil Changes Protect Engine...

When was that last oil change? Last month? Last week? Actually should be every 1,000 miles. Constant grind of driving "breaks down" oil's efficiency causing excess engine wear. Let us drain the crankcase and refill it with fresh, clean Good Gulf oil... and change the oil filter too. So, play safe! Drive in today and say, "Check the oil!"
