CHRYSLER TEST TRACK BUILT FOR SAFETY—Scientifically designed for maximum safety, the 4.7-mile concrete oval track at the new Chrysler Engineering Proving Grounds enables scores of uninterrupted performance tests to be made under ideal testing conditions on Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler cars. The six-lane oval is engineered for safe speeds up to 140 mph, even in the banked curves, with no side-thrust. Engineers use the track to study fuel economy, acceleration, steering, durability and many other characteristics under severe driving conditions. Here, a new car undergoing tests is shown in one of the steeply banked turns on the six-lane oval track. The angle on the parabolic shape of the track varies from 2 to 35 degrees to assure perfect banking for various speeds in the different lanes. Hand paving was required on much of the track to assure the extreme accuracy needed.

FORERUNNER OF MODERN PROVING GROUNDS—One of the earliest test tracks in the automotive industry is recalled with the opening of Chrysler Corporation's new 4,000-acre Engineering Proving Grounds at Chelsea, this week. In 1915, Dodge built an oval track, shown above, and a steep incline of heavy wooden planks, adjacent to its Detroit plant where every vehicle produced could be tested before shipment from the factory. The shiny, new touring cars were checked for engine and brake performance on the hill and driven for speed on the circular track surrounding the test area. At the new Chrysler Proving Grounds a single car may be put through as many as 200 separate performance tests.

Special Program Held Wednesday Dedicating New Proving Grounds

Special Train Met Here by 17 Buses To Transport Guests

Chrysler Corporation's 4,000-acre Engineering Proving Grounds, the automotive industry's newest and largest car and truck testing center, went on preview showing yesterday with a special dedication program for top newsmen representing newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations throughout the United States.

The new Chrysler Proving Grounds was the scene of an all-day series of special events, including the first action demonstration by the experimental Chrysler gas turbine engine, three attempts for speed and endurance records on the 4.7-mile Proving Grounds oval track, displays of precision car and truck driving by nationally known experts, and demonstrations of the most modern and complete automobile and truck testing facilities in existence.

Special Entertainment Listed
Among personalities featured in the demonstrations are the two-time Indianapolis Speedway race winner, Bill Vukovich, and the other three drivers among the first four finishers in this year's 500-mile race, Jimmy Bryan, Jack McGrath, and Troy Ruttman; Speedway President and General Manager, Wilbur Shaw; Champion Women Drivers, Betty Skelton and "Sammy" Chapin; the stunt-driving thrill shows of Joey Chitwood and Irish Jim Horan, plus other recognized driving experts.

Appearance of the Chrysler gas turbine-powered car is significant in automotive history. It marked the first time that this long-sought-for source of automotive power had been demonstrated in action in a standard American passenger automobile. The gas turbine engine is installed in a 1954 Plymouth Belvedere sedan.

Turbine-Powered Car Shown
For its demonstration the turbine-powered car was driven on the oval test track in a series of maneuvers demonstrating its agility and general performance characteristics. Upon completion of the runs the gas turbine engine was displayed for detailed examination by the writers and cameramen.

Attempts to shatter speed and endurance records were made by Chrysler's new 24-hour stock car, by the four Speedway race drivers in the same cars they drive at Indianapolis on Memorial Day, and by Betty Skelton in a Dodge Firearrow experimental "idea" car.

The Chrysler New Yorker was out to establish a new 24-hour endurance stock car record. Betty Skelton, noted actress and car driver, was seeking a closed track record for women in an experimental Dodge Firearrow sports car powered by a 150-horsepower Red Ram V-8 engine.

The last time Betty Skelton went after a speed record in a Dodge she established a world mark at Daytona Beach, Fla. Driving in the 200-254 cubic centimeter class, she traveled the Flying Mile at 105.8 mph during the annual February time trials.

Stunt Drivers Entertain
Other special demonstrations were scheduled for the Proving Grounds dedication, including an exhibition by the stunt teams of Joey Chitwood and Irish Jim Horan. They used Dodge and Plymouth cars to perform their daredevil acts which have made them spectacular attractions at fairs throughout the country.

Safe driving presentations were made by both DeSoto and Plymouth. The 22 safest taxicab drivers in the country were brought to the Proving Grounds by Plymouth for a special ceremony, and DeSoto blew out tires on a fleet of cars traveling at high speeds to show how power steering and safety rim wheels help prevent accidents in emergencies.

A parade of all Chrysler Corporation experimental "idea" cars was another highlight. Heading the 10-car caravan was the DeSoto Adventurer II, displayed for the first time.

Tours of the Proving Grounds test areas and facilities were part of the dedication day activities. Regular testing procedures were demonstrated at the test pit, the water bath, the concrete oval test track, at special steep incline grades and on the 8.4-mile gravel endurance road.

Elaborate Preparations Required
Preparations for the mammoth dedication program have been underway for months. More than 160 Chrysler-built automobiles took part in the program on the concrete oval track, and there were an additional 84 automobiles used for the tour of the Proving Grounds area.

Transporting the press visitors the 60 miles from Detroit to the Proving Grounds was a sizeable task. Chrysler arranged for a special 10-car passenger train complete with press facilities including typewriters. A fleet of 12 buses in Detroit and 17 buses at Chelsea supplemented the special train.

A special grandstand was erected adjacent to the oval test track with seats for 800 people to view dedication activities at the track.

Minor Accidents Reported, No One Seriously Injured

Donald E. Robbins sustained cuts about the head when the car he was driving east on Old US-12, went out of control and turned over in the ditch on the north side of the road. The mishap occurred at 4:40 p.m. Saturday, approximately 500 feet east of the South Main street intersection.

Tuesday morning, a car being driven east by Claire Chatel of Flossmoor, Ill., and a station wagon headed west and driven by Norman Hinkle of Jackson, side-swiped each other as both drivers frantically tried to avoid an accident.

As reported to sheriff's deputies who policed the accident, Miss Chatel had attempted to pass a truck ahead of her just as the truck turned out to pass a car. To avoid hitting the truck and to avoid hitting the westbound lane.

Henkel, noting her predicament, drove his station wagon as far to the right as possible and avoided a head-on collision.

No one was hurt but the left front of Miss Chatel's car and the entire left side of the station wagon were severely damaged.

The accident occurred a short distance west of Lima Center.

RALPH OWINGS

ROBERT WHITE

Ralph Owings, Robert White Represent Legion, Kiwanis at Annual Boys' State

Ralph Owings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Owings, Sr., and Robert White, son of Mrs. Laurene White, are Chelsea representatives at the 27th annual Wolverine Boys' State which begins today on Michigan State College campus, East Lansing.

The annual event is sponsored by the American Legion, Department of Michigan.

At a meeting Sunday of the American Legion Second District at the Legion Home in Ann Arbor, Owings was nominated and his nomination supported as a candidate for election to office as governor of Wolverine Boys' State.

More than 1,000 boys are attending the eight-day session which closes Thursday, June 24, and at noon that day the entire assembly will march into Lansing to visit the Capitol.

Following the pattern of former Boys' State sessions, the boys will set up city and county groups and establish a mythical "49th state" patterned after Michigan's constitutional form of government and will form two political parties. State officials, including a "governor" will be elected and the Boys' State "governor" and his staff will "take over" the operation.

Unwritten Laws of the Road

Sponsored by the Chelsea Police Department in cooperation with the State Safety Commission.

Passing on a curve is like walking into a dark theater on a bright day—you can't see what's ahead of you. And you can't see what's about to come around that curve. "Blind" curves on state highways and on some county highways have life saving yellow lines. Less important ones may not. Move gradual curves make passing dangerous with both cars at high speed.

Once you get on the wrong side of the pavement you're in trouble if a car comes around the curve toward you. Both dodging and braking are harder because centrifugal force is pulling your car either left or right. The possibilities of collisions, head-on, side-swipe, rear-end, or losing control are very great.

Supervisors Ask for Test on Use of Tax Equalization Base

At the regular meeting of the Washtenaw county Board of Supervisors, held Tuesday, June 8, a resolution was passed requesting the prosecutor's office to test the opinion of the attorney-general regarding the use of state equalized value of property rather than the present county equalized figure as a basis for levying taxes.

The Board of Supervisors' resolution to test the opinion was passed unanimously.

Attorney-General Frank G. Millard, in a ruling announced May 23, stated that counties having school districts which overlap adjoining counties must use the state equalized valuation for levying uniform rates of taxation for all purposes. The new system, according to the ruling, is to become mandatory Jan. 1, 1955.

Washtenaw county is one of 67 of Michigan's 83 counties affected by the ruling and members of the Washtenaw county Tax Allocation Board, after deliberating the question, are of the opinion that the ruling cleared the way for use of the state figure this year.

Since the attorney-general's opinion holds that the 15-mill tax limitation on the state equalized valuation is mandatory because it was made a part of the constitution by a vote of the people, during the depression years, the Washtenaw Tax Allocation Board decided it must abide by the state ruling.

As explained by William F. Vernon, county treasurer and chairman of the Allocation Board, that body, in deciding on state equalization, did so not because of personal preference but in accordance with what it deemed its duty in compliance with the state constitution.

Also a factor in making the decision, Vernon said, was the fact that the Allocation Board had received a ruling in November, 1953, that the state equalized valuation figure was to be used for levying uniform rates for school purposes in the school districts. The later ruling of May 23 makes the uniform rate mandatory for all county purposes, as well.

Other members of the Tax Allocation Board are J. Martin Rempp, county auditor; Julius W. Haab, county superintendent of schools; Lawrence Thomas, a municipal official at Ypsilanti; Herman F. Folger, Ann Arbor editor, and Albert Blashfield, Ann Arbor attorney and member of the Ann Arbor Board of Education.

Washtenaw county's 1953 tentative tax budgets for county and school purposes had already been submitted to the Allocation Board for examination before the attorney-general's ruling was announced and each taxing unit is permitted to raise only enough money to cover its budget as approved by the unit, itself.

This means that if the state equalized valuation is used, the rate will not exceed 4.33 mills for county taxes and 10.67 mills for tax allocations to school districts to raise the same amount of taxes as the 6 mills for county purposes and 10 mills for school purposes would amount to, using the county equalized valuation as a base.

State equalized valuation for Washtenaw county this year is $335,150,000 while the Board of Supervisors' county equalized figure is $250,000,000.

While the taxes paid this year by individual taxpayers will be approximately the same whether state or county equalization is used, there is a possibility that increases may result in future years, as need arises, although there is a difference of opinion on the matter.

The attorney-general's opinion on the state-county equalized valuation question was sought to clarify a technicality arising from the fact that many school districts lie in two counties. These are called fractional districts. This creates the possibility that a resident of a school district living in one county may be required to pay a higher proportionate share of the district's taxes than residents of the same fractional district in the adjoining county.

According to principles of the state constitution, everyone living in the same taxing district must pay taxes on the same basis; thus, the constitution is being violated if tax rates are unequal. State equalization, it was pointed out, is the only solution to the problem in counties having inter-county school districts.

In the event of any action regarding the legality of the attorney-general's opinion, the Board of Supervisors would be represented by the prosecuting attorney, while the Washtenaw county Tax Allocation Board would be represented by the attorney-general's office. Both boards operate under state law.

In taking the action of putting the matter into the prosecutor's hands the Board of Supervisors chose to test the question directly to the attorney-general's office rather than exercise its right of appeal to the County Allocation Board and, if still not satisfied, then to the State Tax Commission.

Members of the Washtenaw county Tax Allocation Board met recently with supervisors of the seven townships in the Stockbridge school district, one of the county's fractional districts, and the supervisors voted 4 to 3 to use state equalized valuation as the tax base in the Stockbridge district.

On the other hand, Oakland county, another county involved in a Washtenaw county fractional school district, has declared it will use the county equalized figure, thus creating a problem there.

Other counties which are involved in the fractional school district situation with Washtenaw county include Lenawee, Jackson, Livingston, Ingham and Wayne.

Waterloo Pupils Enjoy Bob-Lo Trip

Mrs. Elizabeth Gadd, teacher at Waterloo school, her eighth grade pupils of last year, the four eighth grade graduates of this year and the rest of the 21 pupils of the school enjoyed a trip to Bob-Lo Friday, June 11. They were accompanied by ten of the pupils' mothers.

This year's graduates of Waterloo school are Donna Louise Klink, Donna Mae Walz, Thomas Dault and Warren Lelsinger. They were honored at a community supper and had a commencement program with Herbert Heuman, a Jackson attorney, as speaker.

Wanda Johnson, only eighth grade graduate of Palmer school, participated in the graduation ceremonies at Waterloo school.

Donna Louise Klink and Donna Mae Walz had identical averages for the year and were co-valedictorians of the class.

The youngest president ever inaugurated was Theodore Roosevelt at 42, and the oldest, William Harrison at 68.

Furious Wind Storm, Rain Cause Damage Saturday Evening

The heavy wind and rain storm which struck the county at 10 o'clock Saturday afternoon forced the cancellation of the commencement exercises at the University of Michigan, but many telephones in the area out of commission temporarily, caused damage to trees and flattened out wheat fields.

In Chelsea, five large trees were blown down. One in the front of the Ford Merkle home on South Main street, fell across the road. Trees were down in front of the Glenn McClellan home on Elm street, at the Olen Hart home on McKinley street, the John Keusch home on Washington street and in the yard at the Walter Trinkle residence on Wilkinson street.

The south and west part of the village were darkened when lightning came in on a line and blew a fuse in a switch box on West Middle street near the Bell Telephone building. A transformer was burned out on West Summit street near St. Mary's school.

Service in the south part of the village was restored in approximately 10 minutes, but the west side of town was without electricity for one and one-half hours.

Two Democrats File For Nomination in August Primary

Candidates for county treasurer and drain commissioner today entered the Democratic primary, to be held Aug. 3. Previously two candidates had announced for sheriff, one for register of deeds and one for state senator, on the Democratic ticket.

Today's entrants are both from Ypsilanti. Harry E. Norton of 114 South Adams street, for drain commissioner, and Garvin J. Brasseur of 980 West Cross street, for treasurer. Both are making their first race for political office.

Norton, a bricklayer, is a native of Ypsilanti and has lived at the Adams street address since 1930. From 1911 until 1930 he pursued his trade in Ypsilanti. He is a member of the Bricklayers' Union, affiliated with the AFL. Mr. and Mrs. Norton have two married sons.

The Democratic candidate for the treasurer nomination, Brasseur, was born in Afton, near Cheboygan, and graduated from Onaway High school. He attended Michigan State Normal College three years and completed his course in natural science at Michigan State College.

Brasseur spent three years in the Field Artillery, his overseas service being in the Pacific Theatre, including Guadalcanal and the Philippines. Entering as a private, he rose to the rank of second lieutenant and was administration officer.

Since 1938 the Brasseur family, including Mrs. Brasseur and their three children, have made their home in Ypsilanti. After the war Brasseur was a foreman at Kaiser Frazier and since 1947 he has conducted his own nursery and landscape business in addition to being foreman of Department 50 at the Ford plant in Ypsilanti. He is active in the Ypsilanti Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Knights of Columbus.

Investigation of a reported break-in at the Hughes Brothers service station on US-12 Sunday night, June 6, has brought to light the fact that the incident was not a real break-in, after all.

According to police records, James Hughes, one of the partners, without notifying the others, removed the tire and wheel which had been reported missing. He then turned it over to Clarence Push who needed it for his car so the two could start on a trip to Indiana.

After their return from Indiana Saturday, the two were held for a short time for questioning, bringing to light the following explanation.

Discovering the need for the tire as Push and Hughes planned the outstate trip, Hughes went to the service station to get it. Arriving there after the station was closed he found the lock on the door had been changed and his key did not fit, so he broke a rear window to gain entry, secured the tire and wheel, he was after and then left on his his trip.

When the station was opened Monday morning and it was discovered the window was broken and the tire and wheel were missing, the matter was reported to the police and the investigation set in motion.

Richard Schneider Honored for Work With Boy Scouts

Richard Schneider, student at Michigan State College, was cited by Troop 24 of the Chief Okemos Council last night for outstanding service to the Boy Scouts of America. Richard was presented with a wrist watch suitably engraved at a Court of Honor dinner held at Marble school in East Lansing.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Schneider, of Chelsea. James Apple, Chairman of the Troop Committee and Professor of mechanical engineering at the college, stated that Richard's unselfish devotion and unceasing effort with the troop has been responsible for the tremendous accomplishments noted. Among those listed were Boards of Review, courts of Honor, a Patrol Leaders' Training Course, a national inspection, campfires, several projects, as well as numerous other activities.

Richard, who joined the troop in February, has been in the capacity of acting scoutmaster. Waldo Kenerson, Advancement Chairman and professor of civil engineering, stated that in this short time the work done by Richard is almost unbelievable in its scope. The troop has been organized for this record by the Council office.

The troop is not the only activity in which Richard finds time to take part. He belongs to the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity, national service honorary; the Order of the Arrow, national camping honorary; the Christian Student Foundation, interdenominational church group; and many other campus activities. He is registered with the local scout troop as an assistant scoutmaster.

A few weeks ago he announced his decision to enter professional scouting as a career upon completion of his college studies. This summer he plans to be a counselor at Camp Nissokone near Oscoda.

The dinner, attended by about 125 people, was planned as the final activity for the summer. A number of people from Chelsea were guests of the East Lansing troop. Among these was Richard's mother, Mrs. Lewis Schneider.

Democrats File as Candidates for State Representative Posts

Democrats will qualify in the Aug. 3 primary to enter the November election for both Washtenaw County state representative posts. John Weber, Carr of Ann Arbor filed Tuesday for 1st district representative and Aloysius "Ollie" P. Minick of Willis, filed for 2nd district representative, in Washtenaw county.

Carr, a research engineer at the Willow Run Research Center, is seeking office for the first time, though he has been active in the Democratic party and was one of the managers for the successful race of Jack Garis for supervisor this year. With his wife and two young children, Carr lives at 1121 Bydging road.

He came to Ann Arbor in 1946 to enter the University after service in both the Army and Navy during World War II. He spent 18 months in the Pacific Theater as electronics officer aboard an aircraft carrier. Born in North Carolina, he studied at Duke and Michigan universities and holds a Ph. D. degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Since 1946 he has resided in Ann Arbor except during his graduate work at MIT.

At the Research Center, Carr is in charge of a group of 25 people using a giant electronic brain calculating machine, the MIDAC. In Ann Arbor he is a member of the Ann Arbor Civic Forum, the Citizens Council and the National Association for Advancement of Colored People. He took an active part in the Democratic campaign against the Ann street city hall site until provision could be made for housing residents and business firms.

Seeking the representative post for Washtenaw county's second district, Mr. Minick has operated a grocery store in Willis for the past 25 years. He lives at 10059 Willis road, in the village, with his wife and three children.

Born in Warren, Minick attended district school in Augusta township, and Ypsilanti Central High school. He has been active in Democratic party affairs and has been Democratic candidate for clerk of Augusta township.

Proving Grounds Film Shown Kiwanis Club

Charles Cameron, program chairman for Monday's Kiwanis club meeting, showed a film provided at his request by the public relations department of the Chrysler Corp. of Detroit. In the film, activities at the Chrysler Proving Grounds were shown.

Lowell Davison announced during the business session that the pricing and merchandizing committee for the coming Kiwanis rummage sale would begin its task on the accumulated items last night.

An interesting feature of the evening was a report by Harold Jones of a Kiwanis meeting he attended last week at Petersburg, Va.

Success Story

---AND A GOOD TIP FOR YOU

WHEN it comes to sales, every car maker aspires to be up at the top of his price class.

Which is only natural. Popularity like that means success.

We know, because for years Buick has held such an envied position—the unquestioned sales leader in its class. And with good reasons in styling, room, power, value.

But today, folks like you have pushed Buick success even beyond such bounds.

Today, the top sales standings of a full generation have been changed.

Today, latest sales figures for the first four months of 1954 reveal this phenomenal fact:

In total national volume, regardless of price class, Buick is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

That's a tip too good to pass up.

That's the tip-off that Buick must have the hottest styling of the times and the sweetest performance of the year.

More important, that's the tip-off that Buick prices are well within the reach of more and more people—and that such prices buy a lot more automobile per dollar.

So why not look into the tomorrow-styled Buick that puts you so far ahead today?

Come in, or phone us this week for a demonstration. Then you can judge for yourself that Buick really is the beautiful buy—by far.

Buick Sales are Soaring!

Chelsea Homemakers Extension club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Rowe, with 12 members and guests present. The lesson "Your Clothes and You," was presented by Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer.

A picnic was planned to be held the evening of July 12 at Dexter-Huron park.

SYLVAN FARM BUREAU

At the Sylvan Farm Bureau meeting, held Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Heydlauff, the evening's discussion topic pertained to possible measures for bringing greater safety to Michigan highways.

Some of the suggested measures are speed limits on rural roads; compulsory inspection of motor vehicles; and a possible "Crusade for Safety" campaign.

Also on the program was a report of the Farm Bureau Women's Committee meeting at Pittsfield Grange Hall Thursday, May 27. The report was given by Mrs. Leon Sanderson and Mrs. Walter Riemenschneider, who passed on interesting items of a report of last summer's meeting of Associated Country Women of the World at Toronto, given at the May 27 meeting by Mrs. Sherman Richards, chairman of District III, of which Washtenaw county is a part.

Mrs. Richards' report, according to Mrs. Sanderson and Mrs. Riemenschneider, mentioned the amazement of women from other countries at the Toronto meeting over the fact that the long United States-Canada border has no barricades. The principal theme at the Toronto meeting pertained to the many years of peace between Canada and the United States.

Thirty members were present at the Farm Bureau meeting Friday. Lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Heydlauff, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heller.

This was the final meeting of the current year with the first meeting of the 1954-55 year scheduled for September.

Altar Society Plans

'Hobo' Party for August Meeting

A "hobo" party at the home of Miss Nina Greening at Clear Lake, was planned at the regular meeting of St. Mary's Altar Society, held Wednesday evening in St. Mary's school hall. The "hobo" party will be held some time in August; the actual date to be announced later.

Mrs. Kathleen Hatt, Altar Society president, appointed Mrs. Joseph Laban, Mrs. William Weber and Mrs. George Hafner as a nominating committee for the fall election of new officers.

It was announced that Mrs. Glen Hass has been appointed Red Cross chairman and Mrs. Norbert Merkel, co-chairman, in the Southwestern Deanery. Mrs. Hass reported that migrant workers in the Bluefield-Deerfield area are badly in need of clothing and other items, including cooking utensils and religious articles.

Mrs. Keith Boylan gave a report on the success of the recent Cana conference for married couples, held in St. Mary's parish. Other business included voting contributions to St. John's Seminary at Plymouth, and the Chelsea Education Council. It was also voted to make a contribution to help defray expenses of the recent Marian Year celebration in Detroit.

Colored travel pictures were shown by Mrs. Hatt and this was followed by refreshments served by the month's committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Karl Riegger.

During a discussion led by Mrs. J. V. Burt, it was brought out that St. Mary's church, as one of the churches dedicated to the Blessed Virgin, has been endowed by the Pope for this year, known as Marian Year, with special indulgences and people may gain these by making visits or pilgrimages to St. Mary's.
