Waterloo Area Color Tour To Be Pushed by Chamber of Commerce

Travel Agencies Expected To Help Publicize Event

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday evening, approval was given for promotion of a color tour in this area in October as part of a plan designed to put Chelsea on the map as a beauty spot of Michigan and call attention to the fact that it is called the gateway to the Waterloo Recreation Area and to the nearby lake area.

M. J. Anderson is chairman of the committee working on the color tour project. Others on the committee are Lowell Davidson, Charles Lancaster and Chamber of Commerce President Paul Mann. Publicity offered in automotive publications and on television sportmen's programs is expected to bring large numbers of people to this area for the tour.

The same committee is also delegated to see to posting appropriate signs at entrances to the village.

Approximately 40 members and guests were present for the meeting which was held in the Congregational church dining room.

Peanut Sale Staged To Benefit Local Underprivileged

Saturday afternoon, Kiwanians and their wives will be selling peanuts on the downtown streets in observance of National Kids' Day. Kiwanians are also selling the peanuts at their booth at the Community Fair during the four days of the annual event.

Proceeds of the peanut sale remain in Chelsea for the Kiwanis club's work for underprivileged children of the community.

National Kids' Day, sponsored by Kiwanis International, was instituted six years ago by Jimmy Fidler, the movie star.

Karl Koenigster is chairman of the project this year for the Kiwanis club of Chelsea.

National Kids' Day is observed throughout the United States, some communities staging special entertainment for children and others planning events to raise money for the children's work of the Kiwanis clubs.

Council OKs Plan To Clean Letts Creek

Step Undertaken To Improve Drainage In Wilkinson Area

The need for improving drainage in the village, particularly in the Wilkinson street area, was discussed at some length at the Village Council meeting Monday evening and it was decided to advertise for bids for cleaning Letts Creek. The drain is to be cleaned from the railroad, at a point directly north of Wilkinson street, east across Main and McKinley streets to a point 100 feet beyond the municipal sewage disposal plant.

It was also decided to advertise for bids for an addition to the Electric Light and Water Department garage on North street. The addition would almost double the capacity of the present building.

Also discussed at Monday's meeting was a proposed retirement system for village employees. Comments indicated a general belief that the village has a responsibility to its employees and a serious study of retirement provisions is to be made. Questions to which answers will be sought are whether the village can afford the plan financially, who would be eligible and conditions required for eligibility.

Committee Formed To Work For Action on Waterloo Road

Group Will Present Problem To Supervisors

Saturday's meeting in the gymnasium at Chelsea High school, sponsored by the Sportsmen's Club of Detroit for a public discussion of the Waterloo road improvement that Lyndon township will end on an optimistic note. The farmer-sportsman group seemed satisfied with a decision that committee be appointed to take the matter to the Washtenaw county Board of Supervisors, the committee to include two sportsmen, two farmers, a Chelsea man and a Conservation Department representative.

The suggestion for this plan of action came first from at least two men in the group and then was advocated in a summary of the meeting by James Kelly, Ann Arbor attorney, who had been asked to act as an impartial chairman for the evening.

In his closing remarks, Kelly said the discussion at the meeting seemed to indicate that the farmer group and the sportsman group were willing to cooperate; that the farmer group's decision to close their lands to hunting for the purpose of interesting sportsmen in their efforts toward road improvement had accomplished its purpose since the sportsmen were now definitely interested; and, he "would like to see a committee appointed, as recommended, to go to the Board of Supervisors with the road problem."

Earl and Leigh Beaman were appointed to act on the committee as representatives of the farmer group, with Clarence Staphis as an alternate. The sportsmen's group representatives named are J. Ed Sumner, president of the Chelsea Rod and Gun club and Harry Wiley, Sr., Tri-County Sportsman's Club President, of Ann Arbor.

The Chelsea Chamber of Commerce was to be asked to name a member to work with these appointees, along with someone to be suggested by the Conservation Department.

After repeated mention by some of the so-called "farmer group" that "no one was present from the county," W. F. Verner, county treasurer, was recognized by the chairman and given the floor. He stated that he was a county official and was present to answer any questions he could. He pointed out, too, that Sylvan Supervisor Vilba Gage and Lyndon Supervisor O. S. Beaman, both present, might also be considered county officials.

Verner was one of those who suggested that the proper way to proceed in the matter of the road improvement sought, was to appoint a committee to officially contact the Washtenaw county Board of Supervisors.

He said, "I am certain the Board will give the matter earnest consideration."

J. Ed Sumner backed up the other man who mentioned appointment of the committee as a plan of action. He declared he had personally called on James Hendley, president of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, and that Hendley had suggested the appointment of a five-man group to go to the Board of Supervisors. Sumner stated that Hendley

Changes Suggested In Proposed Village Zoning Ordinance

More than double the number present at any previous public hearing on the proposed Chelsea zoning ordinance attended the hearing Tuesday evening. Suggestions were made by representatives present for possible changes in one and two-family home zoning areas and also changing the limitation on heights of buildings in industrial areas.

The business area and industrial areas were included in suggested re-zoning in the proposed ordinance before the first public reading which probably will take place the middle of October.

Adult Education Courses Considered If Interest Is Shown

It has been announced that the Chelsea Agricultural Schools Board of Education will consider institution of an adult education program if sufficient numbers of adults in the community are interested. At least ten people must be enrolled in a course before it will be offered.

A form to be filled out by interested adults appears in this issue of The Chelsea Standard and should be sent to School Superintendent Charles S. Cameron as soon as possible.

The courses would be offered on a tuition basis with the fees ranging from $4 to $10 per course. Class meetings would be held once a week for two hours, the night to be established later.

Some suggested courses are art, painting, physics, chemistry, English, French, mathematics, physical education, home mechanics, wood refinishing, typing, shorthand, driver training, etc.

Other courses could be offered if a sufficient number were interested.

TENDER STEAKS are a promise to those who attend the auction of the beef shown above at the Community Fair tonight (Thursday). The steer, which was donated by Ezra Lesser, was slaughtered by Max Ziegler of Dexter, who is shown above with the carcass. Lloyd Heydlauff cut and wrapped the meat in five and ten pound packages which is the way it will be offered those bidding on it tonight. The meat has been inspected and passed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture meat inspector working out of Ann Arbor so the public is assured of the highest quality.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams who were hospitalized at Port Huron following an automobile accident are now recuperating at the homes of their son and daughter.

Mrs. Williams was released almost three weeks ago and went to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Louis Fryzelka, in Toledo. She had sustained a broken arm in the accident.

Mrs. Williams was released a week later than his wife and he has been staying at the home of his son, Robert, at Gillett's Lake.

St. Mary's Pupil Escapes with Bruises In Crossing Accident

Gail Hoffman, seven-year-old pupil at St. Mary's school, suffered bruises of the head and face when she ran into the side of a car in front of her home on Pierce street Tuesday afternoon. The car was driven by Geneva Howard of 322 Pierce street, according to police reports.

Police Chief George Doo commented later that serious injury of the child was averted only because the car was moving slowly. He said it was gratifying to note that most drivers seem to be exceptionally careful where children are crossing the streets since school opened this year.

The mishap occurred at 8:45 Tuesday afternoon as the little girl was crossing the street to go to her home at 115 Pierce street, between South Main street and Taylor street. Her injuries resulted when she ran into the rear fender of the car, according to the police report.

The child is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hoffman.

Mrs. Rose Edwards of Ann Arbor, was a Sunday dinner guest of Mrs. Emma Seitz. Evening visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Howell and family of Jackson.

Legion Officers Installed Saturday In Public Ceremony

William Blaess, commander of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, American Legion, and his staff of officers for the 1954-55 year were installed Saturday evening in ceremonies conducted by Lenawee County Voture of the "40 at 8."

The installation ceremonies took place at the Legion Home at Cavanaugh Lake and were attended by a large crowd of Legionnaires and guests. The public had been invited for the installation and for a social hour which followed.

Many out-of-town Legionnaires were present including Second District Commander Phil Perkins of Jackson; Bill Buettner, past Washnaw county commander and chairman of the Second District Blood Bank; Rudy Scherberg, commander of Erwin Priesskorn Post No. 46 of Ann Arbor; and Louis Schneider of Tecumseh, long prominent in Legion circles of the state, who headed the steering committee at the state convention at Grand Rapids, and at the national convention in Washington, D. C., this year.

The new officers will preside at the next regular meeting of the Chelsea Post on Oct. 7.

Grid Team Wins Opener From Dexter

Chelsea High footballers started the season on the right foot last Friday by outlasting a stubborn Dexter team, 9-7.

The first quarter was slow, with neither team being able to gain much ground. Chelsea got a break when Dexter mishandled the punt but could not move the ball.

Early in the second quarter Dexter was pushed back by a clipping penalty and forced to punt from their own 16. The right side of Chelsea's line, led by Joe Bauer, broke through and blocked the punt, sending it into the end zone where it was recovered by Dexter, giving the Bulldogs two big points on the scoreboard.

Following the kick-off, Bud Ringe passed beautifully to Ralph Orving and Ralph reached the Dexter 18. Ted Nixon smashed for four yards. Butch Downer sped wide and picked up two. Jim McLaughlin burst through on a quick-opener behind Bob Keezer's block to reach the five. Nixon then carried it over in two plays cracking through holes opened by Jim Hough, Jay Ferguson, Bob Keezer and Gary Packard. Nixon carried over on the extra point and Chelsea had a 9-0 lead at half time.

Following the intermission, Dexter received the kick-off and marched 58 yards to score. Most of the yardage was gained wide around Chelsea's ends.

The rest of the game was a defensive battle with neither side moving the ball too well. Chelsea did penetrate to the Dexter 15 but a fourth down pass fell incomplete.

Coach Al Conklin was particularly pleased with the punting of Ted Nixon who got off several fine kicks. Jay Ferguson at center turned in a good game, as did Jim McLaughlin and Don Mshar. Ferguson, McLaughlin and Mshar were playing in their first varsity ball games.

Coach Conklin was also pleased with the defense, except for the lapse in the third quarter. Bob Keezer, Ron Satterthwaite, Jim Speer, Nixon and Jim Hough turned in fine defensive ball games. Co-captain Phil Barels missed the game because of a severe bruise on his elbow.

This week, Friday at 7:30 p.m., the Bulldogs will entertain Flat Rock's Rams in the Huron League opener for both clubs.

Relatives here have received local newspaper accounts and pictures of the recent eastern hurricanes from Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Knickerbocker, now living at Newport, R. I. Their home was not in the main path of the hurricane but they were without electricity for two days, they wrote.

The Knickerbockers moved to Newport in July after Mr. Knickerbocker was transferred by the Philco company from Great Lakes, Ill. They had made their home in Waukegan, Ill.

Saturday afternoon the big feature will be the parade. Set to begin at 2 p.m., it will include approximately 20 antique cars, other antique vehicles, new cars, farm machinery, bicycles and several bands in addition to a number of floats, according to Walter Harper and Ted Balmer, who are in charge of the parade arrangements.

Anyone planning to participate in the parade is to be at Chelsea High school between 1:00 and 1:30 p.m. and the committee will assign them their positions in the line of march.

The parade will begin promptly at 2 p.m.

Crowning of the 1954 "Queen of the Fair" with Village President Maxwell G. Sweet doing the honors, will take place during the grandstand program Saturday evening. Until yesterday, Governor G. Mennen Williams had been expected to crown the queen.

The program will be concluded with the giving away of prizes offered by merchants of the community. This popular feature is being resumed this year after a lapse of one year.

Tickets for the drawing may be obtained in all business places offering prizes. It is stressed that no purchase is necessary in order to sign one of the cards. All that needs to be done is to go into the store, sign one of the tickets and drop it into a box that is provided for the purpose.

Midway attractions at the fair include merry-go-round, ferris wheel, thrill rides and the customary amusements.

Daily radio broadcasts are being made directly from the fairgrounds.

son and Ingham) and estimates of three contractors averaged $16,100 per mile. He suggested that $14,000 of the total cost could be saved on "cutting the estimate of black top costs." His figures, he stated, would bring the estimate to only $18,000 per mile or a total of $282,000 for the stretch of road in question.

J. T. Wilkinson, regional chief of the Conservation Department; Charles M. Leeson, regional parks and recreation supervisor, and Laurence Dayton, regional game supervisor—all of Lansing—were present and answered questions pertaining to what help might be expected from the Conservation Department. They repeated what had been stated during the past year by spokesmen for the Conservation Department, that the department is not a road-building agency except in its own parks and some access roads and the Waterloo road does not fit into either category since it is a county primary road.

Sgts. Zeeb, Lantis Home on Furlough Before Discharge

Marine Sergeants Walter Zeeb and J. Neil Lantis are home on 30-day furloughs before going to Quantico, Va., to receive their discharge after three years of service. Both returned recently from a year's service in Japan.

The two servicemen enlisted at the same time and remained together for the greater part of the three years. The exception was a short time while Lantis was stationed in Virginia and North Carolina.

Before going to Japan they were stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif. Lantis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lantis, now of Napoleon, while Zeeb's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zeeb.

The Zeebs' son, Charles, who spent the summer at home here, returned to his studies at St. John Seminary, Plymouth, the week before his brother arrived on furlough.

The Zeebs' daughter, Rose Ann, who had been employed in Baltimore, Md., the past two years, returned home Monday of this week. She is now staying in Grass Lake where she will be employed and is making her home there with her sister, Mrs. Frank Novess.

Unwritten Laws of the Road

Sponsored by the Chelsea Police Department in cooperation with the State Safety Commission.

Expert drivers never pass unless they have time to get well beyond the car they're passing before they have to turn back into the right-hand lane. An oncoming car has to be a long way off.

"Cutting in" on the driver ahead is like threatening to bump into a wall. He wants to move over but he's afraid of spilling it. The driver ahead hates to slam on his brakes for fear of being hit from the rear — he hates to avert right for fear of hitting a rough shoulder or taking to the ditch.

When passing never turn in front of a car until you can see it in your rear vision mirror.

Sgt. Burg Home Awaiting Discharge

Sergeant Jerome Burg who has served in Korea the past 16 months arrived in Seattle, Wash., last Friday and sent a telegram to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Burg. They believed it would be approximately 10 days before he could possibly arrive in Chelsea but at 7 a.m. Tuesday they were happily surprised when he telephoned them to pick him up at the depot here.

Crowded conditions at Fort Sheridan, Ill., because of the large number of arrivals for processing, made it expedient for officers to give many of the returning servicemen passes to go to their homes for a few days and then return for their discharge.

Sergeant Burg was to return to Fort Sheridan today and expects to be discharged by next Tuesday.

Snowflakes always have six sides.

Sgts. Kosinski, W. Schrader Home For Reassignment

Master Sergeants Billy Kosinski and William Schrader arrived here Friday night from Fort Benning, Ga., to visit their parents and other relatives.

The former will spend a 30-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kosinski before going to Germany where he is to be stationed for three years. This will be his second tour of duty in Germany during his ten and one-half years in the service. His previous service there was from 1947 until 1951.

Sergeant Schrader is leaving today to return to Fort Lewis, Wash., after completing 16 weeks of study in the advanced NCO school at Fort Benning.

He and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schrader, Sr., with Mrs. Robert Strouse and son, David, of Pontiac, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Newcombe in Bay City.

He has been serving as a corporal in the Signal Corps of the Army, Headquarters of the Western Area Command, under Major Gen. Miles Reber, and stationed for the past 16 months at Kaiserslautern, Germany. He was on the ship "General Darby" when it arrived in New York harbor Sept. 4, and he then flew to Fort Sheridan, Ill., where he received his discharge. He joined his wife and daughter, Lynda Kay, at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlosser of Lima Center road, where they will be until next week. The Dunkelbergers will then move to Surgis to make their home. Mr. Dunkelberger, a licensed funeral director before serving in the United States Army, will assume management of the Moon Funeral Home in Surgis.

Everyone interested in the society is invited to attend, it was announced. Those who attend will bring their own basket lunch and the society will serve coffee.

"Old Gardens of Southern Michigan" will be the subject of a talk to be given by Harlow Whittemore, professor in the department of landscape design at the University of Michigan.

inated the deficit and will have a surplus. The statement made a wonderful target for his opponents. Several newspapers, well known for their editorial about the "we" Columnists and editorials pointed out that the governor should be careful about claiming credit for the surplus. Republicans stated that the surplus resulted "not because of Soapy, but in spite of him."

Facts were on his side. Two major accomplishments are considered responsible for the fact that Michigan finally beat its financial problem.

One is the Business Receipts tax. This law is responsible for an increase of some $30 million per year. When it passed through the legislature in the final hectic days of the 1953 session and with the masterful, if high pressure, maneuvering of Sen. George Higgins, the governor refused to sign it.

Williams wanted a plain corporation profits tax and would settle for nothing less. But he couldn't veto the proposed tax without forcing a special session of the legislature which might override him anyway. So he made sure people knew he didn't like it; permitted it to become law without his name.

Second reason the budget balances is that appropriations were greatly reduced from what the governor requested in his message. Now that the surplus exists, Republicans, who passed the tax and reduced his recommendations, ask: How come Soapy is claiming credit for this?

In an effort to calm the storm, the governor was quick to explain that his reference to "we" was meant in the sense "we the people of Michigan." He was ready and willing, he said, to give credit to administration heads who effected economies in state operation and to legislators who worked out the program.

But the governor said that he felt that he too had played an integral part in the activity and was responsible for some of the credit for the accomplishment.

A knotty problem for the Highway Department is developing as a by-product of the Straits Bridge. It's the matter of a four lane north-south highway to enable people to drive to Mackinac with less difficulty.

Present Highway Commissioner, Charles M. Ziegler, has little quarrel with the idea if someone could figure out a way to finance it without disrupting long range plans his department has painstakingly worked out. Root of the trouble lies in the fact that alert communities see the super highway as a future

Agricultural Council Benefit Each Other By Working Together

Bob Hall, treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association, office in Ann Arbor, is a member of the Washtenaw Agricultural Council. Last week he explained in this space just what the National Farm Loan Association is and what it does. Someone on the council asked him why in the world he was a member - being a "banker," so to speak. Here's his answer:

"Better farming, which should be encouraged through coordination of the service, is council members have to offer ought to help farmers pay off the loans we make to them. I'm here to find out what Soil Conservation Service can do to help a farmer and what value or use a woodlot has on the farm. If I believe in the work of Don Maurer, of the Soil Conservation Service, or if I think Ray Meier, the District Forester, knows what he is doing, I'll be apt to recommend that some of our borrowers get in touch with those two - in order to make a better income on their farms and pay off their loans sooner.

"Then again, if Don Maurer knows how I make loans - and under what circumstances - he may be able to tell some of the farmers he works with how to finance big drainage problems - or similar expensive jobs. This will result in more work for Soil Conservation Service, more work for the forester, and more for me, all for the benefit of the local farmers."

The same holds true for all members of our agricultural council. All in all, it is hoped that Washtenaw County farmers will get real benefits by following a woodlot management plan or adopting recommended soil conservation practices, that farm income may be increased to such an extent that the farmer is better able to pay off any loan granted.

According to police records the front of the Rudd car and the rear of the Wood car were damaged but no one was hurt.

project that will come sooner or later. They are anxious to have it come sooner—and in their own vicinity.

Proposed routes receiving support at present are US-131, running through Grand Rapids, Cadillac and Kalkaska; US-27 from Coldwater through Marshall, Charlotte, Lansing, St. Johns and straight north; one running north from Battle Creek to M-66, one from Detroit along much of US-23 through Dearborn, Pontiac, Flint and Saginaw.

At present there are no plans in the Highway Department for a four lane highway along any of these routes all the way to the Straits. Indications are that Commissioner Ziegler will continue his previous policy of spreading out with an eye to emergent needs caused by congested traffic conditions.

The problem of how to spend the money is not an easy one. Ziegler considers that it is better to attempt to improve roads in the many areas that supply the financing than it is to build enormous highways at great expense that will benefit a limited number of drivers.

Despite the dramatic appeal of the north-south highway, routine car counts show that there are many places in the state that are in much more serious need of attention. These include areas in central and southern Michigan.

Ziegler says he is aware of the traffic projections of experts. If estimates prove to be correct, he will adjust his plans accordingly. But before his department spends millions of dollars on a four lane highway, he wants to be sure he is built where that expense proves it will do the most good.

Cost of county government has increased $2 per person in the state. John B. Martin Jr., auditor general, said that it costs the "average" individual $26.78 for county services in 1953 compared with $24.97 in 1952.

Martin said there is a wide range of costs when counties are considered separately. It costs $19.91 to service a resident of Bay county, compared to $30.01 in Keweenaw. If costs of operating parks were deducted from the total, the cost there would be only $68.96 per person.

Administrative expense for county court houses also vary according to Martin's report. It runs as low as $8.04 per day in Delta to $10.28 in Keweenaw.

Lowest per capita costs for medical assistance, health and wealth was found to be Ionia county with $3.52; highest was $18.55 in Keweenaw.

Texas has more railroad mileage over 16,000 miles than any other state.

In going through the Panama Canal one travels a little more than 50 miles.

Livestock Outlook Meet To Be Held In Ann Arbor

On Sept. 27, starting at 8 p.m. at Washtenaw Farm Bureau Store, 407 North 5th Avenue, Ann Arbor, a Livestock Outlook meeting will be held.

Every year this has been one of the most interesting meetings. They have been interesting because of the good attendance and questions asked by the farmers. Of course, Don Stark, Economics Specialist and Bill Finley, Animal Husbandry Specialist always do a good job. They'll be there and what they plan to cover might best be stated in the following questions.

1. What's the comparative position of the beef cattle industry today?
2. Drought conditions have been evident in sections of the U.S. What has this done to the cattle business?
3. Will this be a good year for the livestock farmers?
4. Production costs remain high. How will this affect cattle feeders?
5. Can I buy feed and make a profit feeding?
6. How will 1954 feed production affect feed prices?
7. Is feed production average, below or above?
8. What is likely to happen in feed prices?
9. Shall I buy feeder cattle early or late?
10. What advantage is there in livestock feeding in 1954-55?
11. What to look for in a market.
12. How can I keep my feeding costs down?
13. Are markets using the new hog grades?

No Such Thing as 'Bluebird,' Says Prof.

Ann Arbor—A bluebird? There is no such thing, according to Olin S. Festing, Jr., professor of ornithology at the University of Michigan's Biological Station on Douglas Lake.

According to the professor, a bluebird's really brown, its feathers just reflect light so as to give the effect of blue coloring. As proof, he wet a blue feather and it came out brown!

"Actually," he adds, "the only true colors in bird feathers are red, yellow and brown, all the many different hues come from combinations and reflections."

These bright impressions are used by the males as a "means of advertising their availability," the professor says.

Crops Specialist Advises Against Third Hay Cutting

Should a third cutting of alfalfa be harvested for hay in Michigan? The yield and location of the alfalfa field and the need for more winter feed should be weighed in making this decision, points out Milton Erdmann, farm crops specialist at Michigan State College.

Most alfalfa hay yields from three cuttings in Michigan are small, he notes. The third cuttings usually yield only about one-half as much as the second cuttings. Alfalfa that yields about 3 tons per acre for two cuttings will give about a half ton, or less, on the third cut.

In extreme southern Michigan, cutting alfalfa between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15 may damage the stand for the next year. A third cutting in this area is safer before Sept. 15 or after Oct. 15.

In central Michigan, September is the critical period when alfalfa should not be cut or closely grazed. May can be harvested after Oct. 1 in this section of the state.

Erdmann doubts the value of going to the expense of harvesting this third small crop of alfalfa hay unless winter feed is in short supply. The yield is too small. Weather conditions are far from ideal for curing hay in the late fall.

Probably the best way to use this late season alfalfa growth is if it is needed for feed to graze it, the farm cropsman suggests. Late fall pasture can be taken off without injuring the stand and there is no harvesting expense.

Even at $18 a hundredweight, the cash-hog ratio should be favorable and hog raising profitable, MSC agricultural economists assert.

Man's first weapon in warfare was the slingshot.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

By Clair L. Taylor
Supt. of Public Instruction

If any teen-ager or young adult asks the question, "What should I do that will guarantee me a good home, a good car and money to travel?" my answer would be: stay in school, or in case he is a drop-out, go back to school.

I presume that some would say that would be my answer simply because I head the public school system of Michigan. Actually, the answer would be the same if he asked leaders in business industry, labor, agriculture or the heads of our armed services. For practically every job today the first question asked of the young person is "Are you a high school graduate?" and for practically every executive position the question is "Are you a college graduate?"

It has been true for the past several years that practically any youngster of high school age could find a job of one type or another; many of them have been pin-setters, others have been car-hoppers at drive-ins and some have been gas station attendants.

A study made by the United States Navy shows that the average earnings of the high school graduate are nearly double that of the average person who quits school.

Michigan, through its legislature and "school" organizations, has held an enviable place in relation to all states in the matter of its high school graduates. Nation-wide, only 50 out of each 100 youngsters complete high school. In Michigan 75 out of 100 graduate. That is still not good enough.

The 25 per cent who represent the drop-outs are in reality short changing themselves. I do not hold youth entirely responsible. There should be encouragement on the part of parents, friends, officials and other responsible persons.

I urge every high school in Michigan to take what we like to call "summer round-ups." Find out where these boys and girls are who failed to appear in school this fall; urge them to return.

It will be the single greatest factor in giving them a rich, wholesome life.

Slugger Wins the "Home" Game

Slugger White, the home town's star hitter, dropped by his Mom, day to talk baseball, and to "tell one" on himself.

Seems Slugger had been baby-sitting. "I was doing just fine," he said, "until it was time for a 'change.' I called Mom for advice. Still didn't get it right. Then Dad set me straight."

"Place the diaper like a baseball diamond with you at bat," he said. "Fold second base over home plate, and pin first and third base on home plate. That did it—with no errors!"

From where I sit, Slugger's Dad had the idea. Often, like his Mom, a lot of us tend to give advice in our terms without considering the other fellow's way of doing things. Even in choosing your favorite beverage, it's best to think of your neighbor. If you like tea, and I prefer a temperate glass of beer, we should both "play the game" and try to understand each other's point of view.

Miniature figures of a teacher and pupils added to the effect. A school bell was rung to call people to dinner and the entire assembly sang several choruses of the song, "School Days."

Each of the members seated at the birthday table was presented with a pencil and also received a gift from the Chelsea Home Friends of the Methodist Church. The group also provided candy mints which filled individual nut cups at each place.

Club and Social Activities
AFTERNOON PHILATHEA
Wednesday, Sept. 15, the afternoon group of Philathea Circle of the WSCS of the Methodist church met at the Methodist Home for a planned luncheon meeting. There were 15 members and two guests present. Hostesses were Mrs. M. J. Betz, Mrs. Mildred Cheever and Mrs. Lee Weiss.
Arrangements of nasturtiums centered the tables and marked each person's place at the table. The luncheon was served in the assembly room.
The devotional service was presented by Rev. S. D. Kinde and included hymns and a discussion of the story of the condemned woman from the old Scripture version of John VIII, verses 1 through 11. Mrs. Cheever played the accompaniment for the hymns.
Rev. Kinde introduced Mrs. Francis Smyser who presented the program topic, "Shall A Christian Tithe?" Mrs. Smyser served as program leader in the absence of Mrs. Kinde who was to be in charge but had been called to Saginaw because of the illness of her father.
Mrs. Calvin Summers presided at the business meeting.
Mrs. Cheever, who becomes the new assistant to Rev. M. J. Betz, superintendent of the Home, showed Philathea members the new chapel and played the chimes for their pleasure. A tour of the Home concluded the gathering.
At the next meeting, Oct. 20, at the home of Mrs. Peter Boehm, Mrs. Clinton Stevens will be the co-hostess.
Largest Clam
The geoduck is the largest, edible clam on the West Coast of the U. S.
NEEDLEWORK GUILD
A meeting of the Needlework Guild was held in the Chelsea Public Library at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday and plans were discussed for the annual fall ingathering to be held the end of October.
New members of the Needlework Guild are desired and it was again emphasized that membership requires only that two new garments of any kind be contributed.
Money membership is also welcomed. Those who for any reason find it inconvenient to purchase articles to contribute may give money which will be used to buy shoes and other items as needed. Everything contributed locally is used in this vicinity. In case of fire and other disaster or where there is need the clothing is immediately available for emergency help.
School clothes of all kinds are most urgently needed; it was pointed out.
Anyone interested in enrolling as a member should contact Mrs. Elton Musbach who is in charge of membership.
CHELSEA HOMEMAKERS
Chelsea Homemakers Extension club members held their election meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lavena Wenk.
Mrs. Wenk was elected chairman of the group and Mrs. Ed Gilson was named vice-chairman. Others are Mrs. August Dyer and Mrs. Robert Hochman, project leaders; Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Donovan Sweeney, community chairman; Mrs. Winifred Coffin, reporter; and Mrs. Kathleen Hatt, recreation leader.
Apron patterns were exchanged by the 10 members present and the entertainment feature of the evening was provided by Mrs. Ed who showed travel slide pictures. The hostess served refreshments. The next regular meeting is to be held Oct. 11 at the home of Mrs. August Dyer.
600 Poisonous Snakes
There are about 2,000 kinds of snakes, 600 of which are poisonous.
