Adult Classes Set For Second Group To Begin Monday

Additional Classes May Be Started If Interest Is Shown

On Monday, Jan. 10, the second group of classes in adult education will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

Typing will again be offered. A number of people have requested the opportunity of continuing the typing class and a number of new people have asked to be allowed to join the class.

Sewing and tailoring will be combined into a single class in an effort to meet the needs of both the inexperienced and a experienced sewers.

Cabinet-making and wood re-finishing are being combined into a single class in order to satisfy the interest of both groups.

The above three classes are scheduled to begin next Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The prospects for starting a class in china-painting in the near future look very promising. Any one interested in china painting should contact High School Principal John Griffin at the high school in order that his name may be added to the list. As soon as a sufficient number of people are recruited, such a course will be started.

Again, Griffin emphasized that the faculty members are eager to offer any course in which sufficient interest is shown. Adult classes can begin at any time and continue for as many weeks as it takes to cover the subject.

The first adult driver training class has been extended an additional seven weeks, making a total of 15 weeks. The second adult driver training class is scheduled to begin the week of Feb. 21 and will run for 15 weeks. The fee for driver training is $15.00 and for all other classes it is $4.00.

"Interest has been expressed in bookkeeping, philosophy, tax law and community courses, but as yet it is not sufficient to warrant starting such courses. We hope that in the near future some of these additional classes may be started," Griffin said.

"It has been suggested that we offer an introductory course in geology," he continued. "The course would be thoroughly illustrated with color slides, models, and rock and mineral specimens. Discussions would include the following topics: What is Geology? The Role of the Geologist; Rocks and Minerals; The Land Disappearing? Studies of Rivers and Streams, Oceans and Lakes; The Work of the Wind, and Earthquakes; The Foundations of the Earth—The Building of Mountains and Plateaus; The Mining of Metals (including oil and water); The Geology of Michigan and Early Life on the Earth. With the recent discoveries of oil in the Chelsea area, everyone should make an effort to know more about the earth on which they live.

"Again, I would like to say that we are eager to provide instruction in any subject in which sufficient interest is shown. These courses can be started at any time. Please let us know your interest by returning the adult education form on page five of The Standard," Griffin concluded.

County-Wide Meet Set To Discuss Fairgrounds Issue

Further discussion of the county fairgrounds issue took place at the Chelsea Community Fair Association meeting in the Municipal Building Tuesday and plans were discussed for attending a county-wide meeting on the question at Pittsfield Grange hall, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 18.

It was emphasized yesterday by Wallace Wood, Chelsea Community Fair Association president, that the Jan. 18 meeting should be attended by every interested person in the county.

At Tuesday's meeting, Lloyd Grau was appointed secretary of the Chelsea Community Fair Association, completing a total of officers, which includes Wallace Wood, president; William Pritchard and LeRoy Heller, vice-presidents; and H. T. Moore, treasurer. Tentative dates for the 1955 Chelsea Community Fair were set for Aug. 17 to 20. The earlier date was selected to take advantage of warmer weather.

William H. Seitz Named to St. Paul's Church Council

William H. Seitz was elected a member of the church council at the annual meeting of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church Saturday morning. He succeeds Lawrence Dietle, whose term had expired.

Lorenz Wenk was re-elected to succeed himself and at the first meeting of the new council Sunday was re-named to his former office as financial secretary.

Wilbert Breitenwieser was re-elected council president; Roy Bertke, secretary; and Luther Kusterer, treasurer.

Seitz was elected vice-president of the council when the group met Sunday to organize for the year.

DISASTROUS CHELSEA FIRE—On a Friday shortly before Christmas in 1908 or 1909, the Holmes & Walker stores on East Middle street burned to the ground, together with all their bazaar and hardware stock. The double store, two stories high, was in the location now occupied by the Municipal building. As recalled by Frank Fenn, the second floor of the building housed a tin shop operated by Jacob Heffer. At the right of the picture is the present Kantlehner Jewelry store, then operated as a haberdashery by Ed. McKune and George Kempf. The Chelsea Standard office is at the left of the burned building, in its present location. Next to it was the old Raftery tailor shop, and east of that is the building now occupied by Dr. Victor Hanson. At the time of the fire, either Jacob Heeselschwerdt operated a restaurant in that location or Mike Shaver had his harness shop there and the Chelsea band practiced in the second floor rooms. The brick home shown at the left, now the home of Mrs. P. M. Broeseamle, was then known as the Gorman house.

Lower Wheat Prices Seen for New Year

Michigan State College agricultural economists see farm prices for wheat in Michigan about 20 cents under the loan value for the remainder of the 1954-55 season. If prices approach the loan value ranging from $2.18 to $2.34 in Michigan—growers will start to sell.

Michigan State College farm economists point out that farmers who have wheat in good condition and in good storages will find it advantageous to use the government support program. The application deadline is Jan. 31.

For 1955 support prices will be not less than $2.06. If yields on the allotted 55 million acres are average, the production will equal the quantity of wheat used and exported this past year.

Better Egg Prices Seen for Next Year

The outlook for poultry and poultry products shows the effects of low prices this year. Here is the nutshell picture:

EGGS: After a dismal year in 1954, prices of eggs are expected to be relatively higher through most of 1955. This price increase is expected, in turn, to increase supplies of eggs and hence bring lower prices in December, 1955. From March to October next year, the price of eggs will be an average of 5 per cent higher than this year, MSC agricultural economists estimate.

BROILERS AND FRYERS: The usual variations in the prices of these products is expected. MSC agricultural economists estimate the same price pattern that existed in 1954 will carry over into 1955. This means strong demand for broilers the first of April and in July and early August will again occur. They estimate a weak demand in the fall months.

TURKEYS: The turkey feed ratio is less favorable than last year. Agricultural economists predict a reduction of 10-15 per cent in turkeys raised in the U. S. in 1955.

Survival Is Not All

Tremendous gains have been made over the years in the skill and knowledge of the medical profession. Curing disease, accomplishing surgical miracles, and the discovery of new drugs can be classed as one of the wonders of the world.
But—survival is not all. Even though broken bodies can be mended and diseases cured, what about the broken spirits and mental anguish caused by financial strain due to accident and illness? You and I have seen it time and again.
My Company, Woodmen Accident, has been furnishing protection against financial losses due to accident and sickness for 64 years. Such protection for you or your family costs only pennies a day! Let's talk it over—

Expect Coming Year To Prove Better For Dairy Producers

A strengthening of fluid milk prices in 1955 is foreseen by Michigan State College agricultural economists in their farm outlook for the coming year.

Based on a leveling milk production and a strong demand for dairy products, except butter, the economists say that fluid milk prices should average 15 to 20 cents a hundred pounds above those paid in 1954. Producers who ship milk to manufacturing plants will receive about the same prices in 1955 as in 1954.

What does the economic picture hold for the average dairyman? Basically, it means that he can look forward to another year in which high costs will put a squeeze on profits, the economists say. From a farm management standpoint, efficiency would seem to be the important consideration. Farmers are striving to increase efficiency by boosting cow number, producing more feed per acre, and by cutting down their labor requirements through more labor-saving equipment. Twenty to thirty cows seems to be the goal of many dairymen.

The MSC agricultural economists see little reason to expect that dairymen will change in its relative profit position compared to other farm enterprises. Looking beyond 1955, manufactured milk markets are apparently in for a period of change as they continue to fight the battle of vegetable-vs. animal fats.

In areas like Michigan, however, where large fluid milk markets are available, the future isn't so dark for the dairymen. Continued population growth, high consumer incomes and possible increases in milk consumption per person all point to an expansion in demand for fluid milk.

Procedure Told for Holding Moisture In Stored Pop Corn

When pop corn doesn't pop, it's not always the fault of the corn; it might be with the way it was stored.

The amount of moisture in the kernel is important, explains S. T. Dexter, professor of farm crops at Michigan State College. Pop corn pops by explosion; when it is heated steam forms in the kernel and explodes it. So when there is too little moisture, not enough steam is formed and there is just a small explosion or none at all.

Too much moisture in commercially packaged pop corn is seldom found because the corn loses its moisture to the air during storage. This loss of moisture often happens in homes where the air has a low relative humidity.

When one cup of pop corn is popped, Dexter says it should have a popped volume of 30 cups.

Pop corn should ideally have 13 to 14 per cent moisture. Dexter tells how to store pop corn so it will have this amount. Make a saturated salt solution by adding more salt to about a cup of water than will dissolve. Cut several strips of blotter about an inch wide and about a foot long. Soak the strips in the salt solution.

Roll each strip like a jelly roll and tie with a string. Put two or three of these rolls in a tight container with the pop corn. This will keep the right moisture content. The blotter rolls should stay moist unless the corn is very dry. Then, you may need to re-soak the blotters.

When corn is popped, it should pop all at once and about 98 per cent of the kernels should explode, says Dexter.

Phoenix — The Grand canyon of the Colorado is 278 miles long, about 13 miles in width at one place and has a maximum depth of about 6,000 feet.

Canning Vegetable Demand To Be Good

The carry-over of canned vegetables from the 1954 pack is expected to be smaller than for 1953, say MSC agricultural economists. Therefore the processing demand for vegetables is likely to be more active in 1955 than 1954, especially for green peas. However, carry-over of snapbeans and corn may be larger in 1955.

The Michigan onion crop is 29 per cent below 1953 and opened at 50 cents a 50-pound sack above last year's prices. The price is expected to remain above last year through the March delivery.

The dean of Michigan prisoners,
 Tony Duley, is starting his 48th year behind bars for a 1907 murder
 in Oscoda.
 He has long since been eligible for commutation of his sentence toward freedom. He is 39 years old.
 Now feeble and frail, Duley has been promised a home for the rest of his days by a South Haven family, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Baron, who became his first visitors in 10 years in 1952.

There have been roadblocks to Tony's release, but he is still hopeful. Prison officials say he has paid his penalty and law enforcement officers have no objections to his release, probably in June.
 Until then, Tony is "just waiting for another chance," hoping it won't come too late.

Michigan is rallying its people for the annual week in which the state's products are promoted,
 from the crops grown on the farm to the automobiles built in the cities.

Veterans organizations and the state's 1,200 service clubs are the latest to pledge their help. Merrill Graham, of Concord, is chairman of the Michigan Week Council of Service Clubs. A regular speaker before service clubs and a Michigan booster, he said: "We want to mobilize the service clubs throughout the state as a tremendous force in the 1955 Michigan Week Campaign."

"Michigan Week (May 15-21)
 is intended to build loyalty and pride in our state and greater knowledge of its wonderful advantages. We want to mobilize every county."

Graham started work on his part in the project with top men from the following clubs: Zonta International; Kiwanis International;
 Altrusa International; Michigan
 Association of High Twelve Clubs; Toastmasters International; Michigan State Exchange Club; Civitan International; Optimist International; Lions clubs and the Michigan Pilgr Club.

State government reform movements under the "Legislative Commission" have taken a new turn.
 After five years the State Legislative Commission on State Government Re-organization disbanded, turned over 30 reports to the full legislature.

"Our job is finished and it's now up to the legislature," said Senator Frank Andrews (R-Hillman).

Reforms in every major facet of government were proposed in the study which started with researchers who dug out the facts and passed them on with recommendations to a citizens' advisory committee.

The group of citizens—all leaders in labor, industry, education and business—worked over the reports from the researchers and passed on the modified recommendations to the legislative group.

Lawmakers gave the reports a third screening, then recommended
 them as statutes.

Major reforms have been few and far between, but both Democrats and Republicans agree that those which did become law
 have made state government
 more efficient and have realized some economies. "An example is the records center, which saves office space and makes old records available in a central filing system," Andrews said. "This alone is saving thousands of dollars each year."

Among important recommendations ignored so far by the legislature are abolition of the elective auditor-general in favor of a legislative auditor; the centering of all administrative power in the governor.

Andrews said he would ask for a special legislative committee to press for all the reforms recommended by the commission.

Prison inmates were given a testimonial turkey dinner for working overtime to finish a $45,000
 farm dormitory at Jackson State Prison. The building was one of several spread over the prison system to ease the overcrowding crisis.
 Prison officials wanted the building completed before the first of the year. They used inmate labor to trim the costs and to speed up the work.

By working overtime and during lunch periods and on their
 "free" days, the more than 30
 prisoners finished the job well ahead of schedule. "They worked hard for us and we want to show them that we appreciate it," said John J. Spencer, assistant charge of institutions.

Feed, Grain Outlook Is Good

The U. S. feed grain supply will be ample for the 1954-55 feeding season, predict Michigan State College agricultural economists. But feeders will use the entire 1954 production and draw 100 to 200 million bushels of corn from storage.

Drawing seed from storage means that there will be insufficient stored grain, not under loan or purchase agreement to meet the feed deficit. Therefore, except for a short period during the December 1954, harvest period, feed grain should sell generally at prices in line with the corn support price—or near $1.60 a bushel.

The record soybean production may not filter down to the farmer in lower prices. Though prices for soybean meal are expected to be lower than a year ago, the cost to farmers will be $80 to $85 a ton, if bought at elevators in ton lots. This doesn't look like the year to lay in several months supply ahead, unless prices break sharp from the expected levels.
