County's Salk Polio Vaccine Sufficient For Only One Day

Hope for More To Arrive Before Next Week's Clinics

The Washtenaw county Health Department announced yesterday that it now has on hand only enough Salk vaccine for one day of clinics for the second inoculations.

This will be sufficient only for those scheduled for tomorrow at Whitmore Lake, Stone school, Manchester and Dexter.

Officials are hopeful that additional vaccine will arrive in time for next week's clinics, including Chelsea. However, they have had no assurance as yet that it will be available and advise that parents contact the schools before bringing in their children for inoculations.

The Health Department has arranged to advise radio newscasters as soon as they have any definite information to offer.

The schools which are scheduled to get the vaccine tomorrow close two weeks earlier than other schools in this area and for this reason the Health Department scheduled their clinics accordingly.

Plans for make-up inoculations for children who for any reason did not receive their first inoculations at the regularly scheduled clinics now call for these children to get their first shot at their own clinic when other children are receiving their second inoculation.

Their second make-up inoculations would be given at a later date to be arranged.

The clinic here was scheduled for 9 a.m. Monday at the South Elementary school. Dr. A. A. Palmer and Dr. V. R. Hanson are the physicians scheduled to administer the inoculations at the clinic.

Winners Named In First Annual Jaycee Road-e-o

George Staffan, Bruce Hoffman, and Dave Collins were the three top scorers in the Junior Chamber of Commerce teen-age Road-e-o held on Chandler street Saturday afternoon.

George Staffan, who received the highest total score in the written quiz and skill test, will compete in the state-wide teen-age Road-e-o Saturday, June 4 at Michigan State College, East Lansing. He is a sophomore at Chelsea High school. His prize is a $25-U. S. savings bond.

Staffan showed great skill in all of the exercises, competing against 10 other contestants.

Bruce Hoffman, second place winner, and Dave Collins, third place winner, received prizes of 25 and 10 gallons of gasoline, respectively.

Prizes for this Jaycee Road-e-o will be awarded at the Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet May 24.

The winner of the state contest will join with other state representatives July 25-29 in Washington, D. C. to compete in the national teen-age Road-e-o which is co-sponsored by the U. S. Jaycees.

Chelsea Jaycees said they were pleased with the interest shown by the attendance at the Road-e-o and with the number of entrants and they are already planning for holding a similar event next year.

Senior Trip Scheduled for Next Week

Leave Wednesday For Niagara Falls, New York City

Chelsea High school seniors start on their senior trip next Wednesday, May 25, leaving here by school bus at 11 a.m. for Detroit where they will board a special train for Niagara Falls and New York City.

Accompanying them on the trip as adult advisors will be Carl Chandler and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Musser.

The party will arrive at the Falls at 7 p.m. and will walk across the famous Peace bridge for a brief visit on Canadian soil, ride the "Maid-of-the-Mist," the small steamer that sails to within a few feet of the Falls; and explore the "Cave-of-the-Winds," just below the brink of the Falls.

The train leaves at 10 p.m. for New York City where the group will spend Thursday, Friday and Saturday and return to Detroit by 9 a.m. Sunday.

Highlights of the stay in New York include visits to the Empire State building, Hayden Planetarium, Coney Island and United Nations building, and tours of Upper and Lower Manhattan as well as a cruise around New York harbor.

At 10:30 a.m. and at 8 p.m. Thursday, students may attend a television show of their choice.

Friday night, by special bus, they will be taken to the Copacabana night club for dinner, the floor show and dancing.

The school bus will meet the party in Detroit at 9 a.m. Sunday. Students who plan to spend the day in Detroit must have written permission from their parents in the hands of Mr. Chandler before May 25.

Chelsea Signs To Be Erected On Highway

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday evening, approval was given for the erection of two large signs at both the east and west intersections of US-12 and Old US-12 directing motorists to Chelsea. The signs will bear the prize-winning slogan selected in the Chamber of Commerce contest held in connection with the first October color tour here.

The slogan, submitted by Stanley Kosinski, now a Florida resident, is:

- Chelsea
- Rich in
- ★ Industry
- ★ Agriculture
- ★ Civic Pride
- ★ Scenic Beauty

Action was also taken at the meeting regarding the closing of business places during funeral services, designating for whom this will be done in the future.

As adopted, the resolution provides that all business places will close during the actual time of the funeral service at church or funeral home of all active owners of business places, professional men and active heads of corporations in the community.

During the program period Village-President Maxwell G. Sweet told of his visit to Oxford the day before in observance of Exchange of Mayors Day. He was accompanied to Oxford by Mrs. Sweet and Dr. and Mrs. Glen Hass.

Washtenaw County PTA Council To Install Officers

Mrs. Russell Bernath will be installed as secretary of the Washtenaw County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations at the final meeting of the county group, the present school year, from May 19 to 21, at the Charles McKenney hall, in Ypsilanti, tonight (Thursday).

A caterer's supper at 6:30 p.m. will precede the meeting and installation of officers.

Mrs. George McCordle of Hazel Park, founder's day chairman, will be present at the meeting.

Officers to be installed tonight, in addition to Mrs. Bernath, are Mrs. Donald Cornell of Saline, president; Mrs. Louis Vogel of Pleasant Lake, vice-president; Orville Lidgard of Milan, treasurer; and Mrs. Rosemary Wint of Whitmore Lake, historian.

Anyone in the community who has flowers to contribute for decorating graves of soldiers dead May 19 is asked to contact Mrs. John Kilmer or Mrs. George Harker of the Woman's Relief Corps, who are in charge of securing flowers for the annual decoration of graves.

Welcome Extended Exchange Mayors

Oxford Businessmen, Industries Proudly Display Their City

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell G. Sweet and Dr. and Mrs. Glen Hass were royally entertained at Oxford on Exchange of Mayors Day, Monday.

The Chelsea party was met on the outskirts of Oxford by the 1955 Indianapolis Speedway pace car in which Village-President and Mrs. Sweet were seated for the ride into town.

Councilman Hass and his wife rode in a shiny new convertible.

Public officials escorted the Chelsea people on a tour of business places of the town, one group escorting the men and another group the ladies. The ladies were taken to all the dress shops and other places of special interest to women and were presented with a lovely gift at each place. Orchid corsages had been presented to them immediately upon their arrival at Oxford.

President Sweet and Councilman Hass each received as a gift from the Oxford Chamber of Commerce a hand sander manufactured by the Synerco Corporation, one of the town's two factories. The company manufactures Ag saws and other small tools.

Also visited was the Industrial Stamping company, which is an automotive supply firm.

The Chelsea people were guests at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon which was attended by all the visitors.

Band, Luncheons, Factory Tours Highlight Day

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Pearson, Jr., who, as Oxford's village president and his wife, were guests of Chelsea Monday for Exchange of Mayors Day, arrived in town at 11 a.m. and were kept busy until evening.

Councilmen Joseph Merkel and Charles Slocum and Chamber-of-Commerce members M. J. Anderson and Charles Lancaster were the official welcoming committee and escorted the visitors on a tour of The Chelsea Standard composing room soon after their arrival.

Mrs. Donald Alber was present to represent the Chelsea Child Study club and presented Mrs. Pearson with a corsage before taking her to the home of Mrs. Hugh Sorenson for a luncheon in her honor. Ten members of the club were guests at the luncheon.

In the afternoon Mrs. Pearson, a member of the Oxford Methodist church, was shown through the Methodist Home and saw both elementary schools.

She returned to the Sorenson home and met her husband upon his return from a tour of Chelsea factories. They were guests of the Kiwanis club at the weekly dinner meeting in the Methodist church social center in the evening.

At the noon businessmen's luncheon in the Knights of Columbus hall, 80 men of the community were present to meet the Oxford visitors.

Local Merchants Offering Two-Day Bargain Festival

Visiting Mayor, Council Attend Kiwanis Meeting

Chelsea Village Council members and their wives were guests of the Kiwanis club at the dinner meeting Monday evening in honor of Oxford's village president, Ted Pearson, Jr., and Mrs. Pearson, who were in Chelsea for Exchange of Mayors Day.

Councilmen and their wives who attended are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Merkel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slocum, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Eisenmann, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Larson and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Spiegelberg.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sorenson, Verle M. King of Portage Trails Boy Scout Council, Scoutmaster Edwin Dickelman and Boy Scout committee members William Collins, Walter Schrader, Jr., Richard Cavendish, and E. S. Wilson.

Mr. J. Anderson introduced the Oxford guests and President Pearson spoke briefly. He suggested standing behind council members who, he said, are in office as a community service rather than for pay or personal gain.

Planned To Show People Benefits Of Shopping at Home

Local merchants are featuring special bargains in seasonable merchandise during a two-day event scheduled as "Chelsea's Big 77 Sale", Friday and Saturday of this week.

Advertisements in this issue of The Standard list many articles at bargain prices, including wearing apparel, household furnishings and appliances, hardware, furniture, gardening and lawn supplies, food supplies and many other items.

The event was planned to demonstrate to people of the community the many advantages of shopping in Chelsea.

Recreation Program Will Start June 20

Chelsea Recreation Council members have met twice during the past week to make plans for the summer recreation program which is to open June 20 for an eight-week period. The first meeting was held Thursday and the second Tuesday evening of this week at Chelsea Appliance store.

Alan Conklin is to be activities director for the summer, with Mrs. Edmund Kayser as playground supervisor, assisted by Nancy Atkinson.

Bruce Hoffman will assist Conklin, being assigned to the morning athletic program and the afternoon swimming program.

Additions to the recreation activities this year include shop and woodworking under the direction of Arthur Schmunk and a more varied program of small games. Also to be added is dancing.

Swimming will be confined to the Whitmore Lake beach, according to present plans, while playground activities will be held at Chelsea High school and the South Elementary school.

Alan Conklin is investigating the possibilities for competition in ball games with teams of other communities.

Fall Kindergarten Pupils To Register Next Thursday

Next Thursday, May 26, all children who will be entering kindergarten next fall should be registered by their parents. A special program for the parents and children has been arranged, according to Arthur Schmunk, elementary school principal.

Wallace Watt of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, will be guest speaker at both morning and afternoon programs for parents while the children will be entertained at supervised play.

To be eligible to enter kindergarten next fall children must have attained their fifth birthday by Dec. 1, 1955. Birth certificates of each child must be shown at the time of registration.

Rural children should be brought to school for registration in the morning. Registrations will be processed in Mrs. Joanne Gagnon's room while children will participate in a play program in Mrs. Lucile Kelly's room.

From 10 until 11 a.m. parents will attend a program which includes the talk by Wallace Watt, talks by the kindergarten teachers and the school principal and service.

Council Approves Annexation of Wilkinson Plots

At the Village Council meeting Monday evening a resolution was approved accepting petitions to change the southwest village boundary line to include certain parcels of land on the east and west side of Wilkinson street for the purpose of subdividing.

Included is the property located east of Wilkinson street to Old US-12 and extending to the west edge of the Hugh Sorenson property. The request for annexation of the property was made by the Washtenaw Development company, owned by Lloyd and Leona Heydlauff and Walter Schrader, Sr. and Mary Schrader and does not extend entirely to the Old US-12 intersection.

The approved resolution must now be submitted to the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors for action at the June 14 meeting before annexation can be completed.

Two Rural Districts Refuse Annexation To Chelsea School

Electors of Canfield school, District No. 8 Fractional, Lyndon, and McLaren school, District No. 7, Lima, turned down annexation to the Chelsea Agricultural Schools school district in elections held Saturday and Monday, respectively.

At Canfield school, where it was said only 50 per cent of the electors voted, the result was 8 "yes" and 21 "no".

Results at McLaren school were 6 "yes" and 11 "no".

DAVEY CROCKETT showed up at the Elementary PTA Penny Carnival in the person of Edmund Kayser, much to the delight of the young fry. His son, Ted Kayser, coonskin cap and all, was present to assist his father. Dudley Holmes, far left, and Jimmy Cameron, extreme right, were eagerly waiting for the shooting to start when this picture was taken.

OLD BUDDIES—Ted Pearson, Jr., left, visiting Oxford mayor, found an old friend here in Bill Schatz. They had worked together in the Universal Oil Seal Corporation plant at Pontiac from 1939 to 1943 before Bill returned to take over his cigar store here. At that time Pearson was night superintendent while Bill worked in the tool room. Pearson is now factory and personnel manager and secretary of the firm.

CHS Baseball Team Wins Two, Loses One This Week

Chelsea High dropped a close 3-1 game to Lincoln last Wednesday and won two more.

All the scoring was wrapped up in the third inning. Chelsea scored in their half as Gary Packard walked, stole second and scored on Mike Murphy's double down the left field line.

Lincoln got their three runs on three bases on balls, an error and their lone hit of the game. It was a pitchers' battle all the way as Phil Bareis gave up one hit while striking out nine and walking five. Lincoln pitcher, Tom Hudge, was equally effective as he gave up only two hits, Murphy's and Bob DeFont's single in the seventh.

The defeat dropped the Bulldogs two games behind league-leading Flat Rock.

Line score: R H E
Chelsea 001 000 0-1 2 1
Lincoln 003 000 X-3 1 0

Behind a steady four-hitter by Bruce Hoffman, Chelsea High school trounced Dundee 11-1 last Thursday. The 11 runs were the most scored by the local team this season in any one game. Hoffman, who struck out nine and walked two, lost his shut-out in the sixth as Willard Liedel doubled, advanced on a passed ball and scored on a wild pitch.

Jim Baxter lead the Bulldogs at the plate as he turned in a perfect day with two singles and two walks. He also drove in two runs.

His teammate, Mike Murphy, also had a big day, hitting a home run, a double, a single, a walk and a strikeout.

Ed Wenz, plus nine bases on loss food value.

Methodist District Forms Society To Help New Churches

Delegates from the First Methodist church joined 200 other Methodist ministers and laymen at a banquet meeting Monday, May 16 at 6:45 p.m. in the First Methodist church, Ypsilanti. It was an organizational meeting called for the purpose of forming a society for the establishing of new churches in the Ann Arbor District, securing sites for such churches, raising funds to support new churches and aid in building new churches and parsonages, church additions, and to give assistance in the settlement of church indebtedness.

The fund is to operate as a loaning agency for the financing of church property, to make appointments on all present churches for needed funds, and to promote fellowship among representatives from all Methodist churches of the Ann Arbor District.

Delegates formed and accepted a set of by-laws and named the new society, "The Ann Arbor District Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church." Dr. Donald Katz of Ann Arbor was elected president of the society. Loren Campbell of Dixboro, Ann Arbor attorney, vice-president. Mrs. Beatrice Taylor of New Boston, secretary, and Rev. William Johnson of Morenci, treasurer. Rev. LaVerne Finch of Ann Arbor, was named executive secretary.

Twenty-seven laymen and nine ministers were elected as trustees. Dwight Gahberg, James Gaunt, and Rev. S. D. Kinde attended from the Chelsea church and Rev. Louis Gaister, Charles McDaniels and Albert Schweinfurth from the North Lake and Salem Grove Methodist churches.

The new organization, in its first approved budget, set aside $5,000 for assisting in the organizing of a new church in the northwest section of Ann Arbor.

Oxford businessmen and their wives. In the afternoon they visited what is called the "travel capital of the world," the American Aggregate Co. They watched the processing of gravel on a huge scale and learned that one day's output is 100 railroad carloads and 8,000 tons by truck.

Boys' Ranch, Oakland county's project for rehabilitating delinquent boys, was also visited. William Mantus, director of the project, told Sweet and Hass that he got his start in that type of work in the Waterloo area here.

Boys' Ranch, located on a 370-acre former family estate, has five full-time counselors. Support of the project comes from civic and service organizations and from contributions by General Motors Corporation.

Tower Clock

The clock has four fine bells which sound Westminster chimes each quarter hour. For years it was wound periodically by manipulating huge weights—a two-hour job. Since Central Fibre assumed ownership of the building several years ago, a motor was installed to wind the mechanism but it was still a difficult task to climb to the tower and take care of the winding operation and the clock often showed the wrong time in spite of all efforts to the contrary.

The clock was made and installed by the Seth Thomas Clock Co., of Massachusetts.

Appearance of the tower will be further improved by the addition of an ornament at the top to replace the one removed several years ago after it became loosened.

When canning food, food specialists suggest working the blade of a table knife down the sides of the filled jars to remove the air bubbles. Add more liquid if necessary.

Entertainment included a Chelsea High school vocal quartette composed of Richard Stark, Lieke, Lichman, Eugene Setta and James Weir, with Miss Martha Smith, school vocal music director, as accompanist. The group sang "Bill Grogan's Goat" and "Aura Lee."

A quintette, called the "Row Tie Special," sang "Smile and the World Smiles With You." In the group because they were wearing bow ties were Eugene Skroyer, W. J. Grossman, John Griffin, Walter Schrader, Jr., and Wallace Wood. Mrs. P. F. Niehaus played the piano accompaniment for the group.

Kiws distributed earned awards to Boy Scouts of Troop 25 and mentioned that the Oxford village president had recently received a Silver Beaver award for his years of Boy Scout service. During a brief business session at Monday's meeting Kiwanis President Charles Cameron and Paul Mann, first vice-president, were nominated as delegates to the national Kiwanis convention to be held in Cleveland, Ohio.

Chelsea High school band, in their blue and gold uniforms, marched from the school to the business district and then played several numbers in honor of the visiting officials. The band played directly in front of the K. of C. hall.

Accompanied by Chelsea businessmen and the official committee, President Pearson toured Federal Sewer Works, Chelsea Spring Division, Central Fibre and Chelsea Products company plants during the afternoon.

Village Council members and their wives were also guests at the Kiwanis club dinner meeting in honor of the Oxford visitors.

RESIDENTS OF THE VILLAGE OF CHELSEA

Due to the overload of the Sewage disposal plant which was built to handle 250,000 gallons per day and is now handling better than 400,000 gallons per day, it becomes necessary for the Village to enforce Ordinance 26, section 2, which states that no surface or storm water, overflowage from cisterns and water from eavetroughs or roof water shall be drained into the Sanitary Sewer System. Therefore, all buildings that now have their eavetroughs connected to the Sanitary Sewer must disconnect them immediately. A survey to determine whether eavetroughs are connected to the Sanitary Sewer will be made in the near future.

Your Child and Reading

By Dr. Byron H. VanRoekel
Assistant Professor of Education
Michigan State College

One of the problems facing teachers in the early primary grades is the tendency on the part of some children, especially those that are quite immature, to reverse letters and words. Children with reversal tendencies often say "d" for "b," "q" for "p," "w" for "m," "no" for "on," "was" for "saw," etc.

A number of investigators have tried to determine why children make reversals. Some thought it might have something to do with the child's vision; some felt that it might be related to the theory that the right side of the brain controls the left side of the body and vice versa; and that sometimes there is confusion as to which side will dominate. Some looked for still other reasons.

The home can do much to help children in regard to this problem. That is why I suggest that when you read to your child, point to the words you are reading. As you move your hand from left to right across the page, he will get the idea that this is the way we move our eyes along the line of print.

Helping children learn left from right will contribute to the correction of reversal tendencies. There are many opportunities for this in the home and children learn this quite readily. For example, when children first learn to eat by themselves, they often hold the spoon in the left hand. So many times the parent will say, "Put the spoon in your other paddy or other hand."

It is just as easy to say, "You are eating with your left hand, hold the spoon with your right hand." With repetition, the child gradually learns which is left and which is right. If the child knows left from right, it is much easier for his teacher to explain left to right movement across the page than if he lacks this knowledge.

This is not to suggest that it is good to change hand preference, but rather to show how we can use situations in the home to prepare a child for activities in the school. The same thing occurs in many homes can be adapted to help children learn left from right. Many of you probably have held your hands behind your back and asked your child which hand he wants. The choice of one hand produces gum and the choice of the other, candy or some other reward. Most children indicate their choice by pointing. Next time you play this game, ask your pre-schooler if he wants the left hand or the right. As soon as you do this, you have him started in learning left from right.

Small children usually need help in the putting on and taking off of shoes or sometimes children put the right shoe on the left foot. Use this opportunity to help children learn to distinguish left and right. Say to your child, "You have your left shoe on your right foot," rather than "You have that shoe on the wrong foot."

Being able to distinguish left from right not only contributes to readiness for reading, but it also helps in learning to follow directions. Every good readiness program in the early grades includes activities designed to develop the ability to follow directions. You can give your child a good start by using opportunities such as those suggested here.

The children will be served a lunch and will be supervised in play on the school grounds during the program hour.

The afternoon session will follow the same pattern. All town children who will enter kindergarten in the fall should be registered in the afternoon.

Registration will be from 1 until 2 p.m. and the program from 2 until 3 p.m. All present kindergarten children will not attend school on that day.

ROAD GOSSIP

BY RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

THE YOUNG MAN who had just driven up in the smart red and tan roadster stepped briskly into the cool interior of the filling station waiting room and wiped his forehead with a white silk handkerchief.

"Grease it up, buddy," he called to the attendant, "and dump in about ten of gas. Check the oil, too."

The attendant nodded, and the young man slid gracefully into a wicker chair.

"Hot weather for driving," he remarked casually to the middle-aged man who sat in the chair opposite. The middle-aged man, neatly dressed and well-groomed, drew off a pair of driving gloves, produced his own handkerchief and nodded amiably.

"Come far?" he asked, his tone that of one fellow traveler who recognizes a like veteran of the open road.

"Quite a ways," the youth answered. "Old bus out there sure eats up the miles. How far is it to Bolton from here?"

"About a hundred miles. I just came up that way. You ought to make it by dark."

The young man snorted in good natured indignation. "By dark? Say, I could be there before six. How are the roads? Pretty good?"

"Fair. Nothing like the roads they have up in York state, though."

"Those that I came over today aren't anything to brag about," the youth agreed. "I sometimes wish folks around here could see the highways in our mid-western states. Make them blush for shame."

"Right you are there, brother. Ride for miles in the Middle-West and never see a hill or curve."

"Sets monotonous, though, sometimes. After a day or two of it, you're glad to get into the mountains. I'll never forget the last trip I made across the continent. Boy, it seemed good to see a hill for a change."

"I know how you feel," the middle-aged man agreed. "I guess ever one that's driven out to the Coast has had the same experience. How'd you go, northern or central route?"

"Northern going out and southern coming back. Say, there's a country for you! Texas! I like the climate. Roads aren't so good, but the climate makes up for it."

"Been years since I've been there. Fact is I've been thinking of taking a trip down that way for some time. Can't do it for a month or two, though. On my way to Canada right now. Expect to do the whole country this summer."

"Take your time," the youth advised. "Canada covers a lot of territory. Ought to plan on two summers."

The middle-aged man looked doubtful. "Well, that's funny. A man was telling me the other day I ought to see all there is to see in about six weeks."

"Ever been there, has he?"

"No. Fact is he got all his information out of catalogues put out by gasoline companies."

"Those things are the bunk. Wouldn't depend on them for a trip into the next county. Your best bet, friend, is to talk to some one who's actually done Canada and done it right."

"Been there, have you?"

"The youth smiled, slightly patronizingly, slightly indignantly. 'Just came from there, friend. Left Montreal this morning. Expect to reach Bolton by six tonight and drive through to New York before midnight.'

"You don't say! That's some driving. Believe me, I like to do it slower, see more country."

"True enough, but when you've seen all the country once or twice before, there isn't much new to look at."

"The youth stood up, restored his handkerchief to his pocket, glanced into the yard and turned to the middle-aged man with a friendly smile.

"Glad to have met you, friend. It's good to meet and talk with a fellow tourist occasionally. Broadens one's outlook about things. Maybe we'll run across each other again sometime."

"Hope we do." The middle-aged man stood up and offered his hand. "I've certainly enjoyed our little talk. I'll remember what you said about Canada."

"They shook hands and the youth slid behind the wheel of the roadster, waved in friendly fashion and wheeled out into the traffic.

The middle-aged man stood in the doorway and watched him go. "That youngster's traveled a good deal for a kid," he said addressing the attendant. "Been around a lot."

The attendant grinned. "Yeah. Around town. That's as much around as he'll get."

The middle-aged man stared. "What do you mean 'around town'?"

"I mean he's never been outside of town to my knowledge. He's a clerk at the drug store. That's the boss's car he brought up here to get greased."

The middle-aged man suddenly burst out laughing. "That," he said, "is a good one. It's too bad, Jim, you can't appreciate the joke."

"It certainly is," agreed the attendant sarcastically. "How'd you know my name was Jim?"

"Because," said the middle-aged man, "they told me at Bolton to call you Jim."

"Then you're the new assistant they were sending up?"

"I sure am. Just came in on the noon train." The middle-aged man stared off toward the drug store and smiled again. "I wonder," he said to himself, "what that kid will think the next time he brings his car up to be greased and I tell him I've never owned an automobile in my life?"

Red Wing Trainer To Address K. of C. Father-Son Meeting

"Lefty" Wilson, assistant trainer of the Detroit Red Wings hockey team, will make a personal appearance before the Chelsea Knights of Columbus Father and Son meeting at St. Mary's school gym, Thursday, May 19, at 7 p.m.

The program will include film highlights of the 1955 Detroit Red Wing Stanley Cup play-off games, plus interesting sidelights of hockey described by "Lefty." A round-table discussion will be held following the presentation.

"I mean he's never been outside of town to my knowledge. He's a clerk at the drug store. That's the boss's car he brought up here to get greased."

Irradiation Device Opens New Fields

A machine that has been termed one of the biggest advances in research equipment in recent years has been installed at Michigan State College.

It's an electron beam generator—also called a cathode ray machine—which can pasteurize food without heating. Here are a few of the already-known things the million-volt generator can do, according to Dennis E. Wiant, in charge of the device.

It can kill grain storage insects or make them sterile at a cost of about a cent and a half per ton for electric current. Scientists hope the machine may be used to help save the millions of bushels of grain stored in this country under the government price support program.

In addition to controlling insects, scientists believe the machine can prevent mold on wheat. That would mean grain could be stored at a higher moisture content and that the machine may be practical for use by elevators.

Bread treated with this machine can be kept at room temperature for many months without molding. It can increase the shelf life of beans and other products. The ray device can be used by the plant breeder to change the chromosome arrangement in seed. This can speed up research toward new varieties of plants.

Most of the departments in the School of Agriculture have set up research projects on which the machine is to be used. Investigations slated include use of the machine on:

Sugar beets in increase production of sugar, on milk and other dairy products for pasteurization, on potatoes to prevent sprouting. Plant breeders plan to use the generator in their search for better varieties of crops.

The powerful device has been installed behind two-foot-thick concrete walls in the agricultural engineering building. This is to protect workers from the rays. A heavy woven wire fence also prevents people from getting too close.

The electron beam generator, however, is less hazardous than an atomic radiation machine. The electron machine uses electricity for its irradiation energy. The atomic machine, more expensive to use, gets its energy from radioactive material. The atomic radiation is more penetrating but the device from General Electric.

The new machine will be open to the public for inspection during the Centennial of Farm Mechanization, slated for Aug. 15-20 at MSC. The institution has rented the device from General Electric.

Live Longer with More Meats, Less Sweets in Diet

A good diet might add ten years to your life. What's more, the years can be added at the prime of life—during the middle years, says Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at Michigan State College.

The first steps in making middle age longer and old age shorter, Miss Hershey says, should be taken in young adulthood. To keep in tip-top vigor, make sure you have well chosen meals throughout adult years as well as childhood.

Miss Hershey suggests that protein, ideally should be part of every meal. Studies show that protein and the B vitamins delay aging. Meat is a good source of both. Milk, cheese, eggs and fish are other good protein sources.

B vitamins, so important in delaying aging, are found in enriched flour and whole grain cereals. Keeping calorie counts low leaves little room for eating baked products, so all bread and other cereal foods we do eat should be enriched or made with whole grains.

As an adult becomes less active, less energy food is needed. But when less food is eaten, milk, meat, eggs, fruits and vegetables should not be neglected, warns Miss Hershey.

A bill now before the legislature seeking to prohibit high frequency television broadcasting for educational purposes was the discussion topic at the meeting. Mrs. Kathleen Hatt showed slide pictures of her trip last summer to the western part of the country and this was followed by refreshments served by the hosts and hostesses.

MISSION CLUB

Eleven St. Paul's Mission club members and two guests attended the regular monthly meeting Thursday, May 12, at the home of Mrs. Fred Seitz. The afternoon's work on mission projects was preceded by a short program and devotional period. In charge of the devotional service was Mrs. Louis Eppler while those who participated in the program included Mrs. Paul Seitz who read "Take Time," and Mrs. Fred Seitz who read a poem, "Mother's Answered Prayer." Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting and it was announced that the next meeting will be held June 9 at the home of Mrs. Clarence Nicolai, near Grass Lake.

BAPTISM

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robbins entertained at a family dinner at their home following the baptism of their son, Ronald Eugene, at Salem Grove Methodist church May 8. The dinner also served as a Mothers' Day observance in honor of Mrs. Boyd Robbins, mother of Donald Robbins.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Robbins and son, Michael, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robbins and son, Dale. Sunday, May 15, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robbins entertained at a birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. Robbins' mother, Mrs. Howard Hall of Lansing.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hall, Mrs. Velma Beson and son, Dennis and Millie Hall and a friend, of Ann Arbor.

EVENING PHILATHEA

Members of Evening Philathea Circle of the WSCS of the Methodist church met in the church social center Tuesday evening with the chairman, Mrs. George Atkinson, in charge of the business session. She called on Mrs. S. D. Kinde for the program and devotional service which included the story of Bishop and Mrs. Marshall Reed's recent trip to India, illustrated with slide pictures.

New officers for the coming year were installed as follows: Mrs. Henry Leggett, chairman; Mrs. Thomas Smith, co-chairman; Mrs. William Briston, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. LeRoy Hoffman, publicity chairman; and Mrs. David Mohrlock, sunshine chairman. The ceremony was concluded with a vocal solo by Mrs. Francis Smyser, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Claude Isham.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Isham and Mrs. Smyser as co-hostesses for the evening.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS

Mrs. Ruth Chriswell was hostess for a regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps, held Monday evening at her home. There were 14 members present.

Engaged

Mary Ann Wheeler

The engagement of Mary Ann Wheeler to Charles R. Eder, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Eder, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wheeler. A fall wedding is planned.

Miss Wheeler is a graduate of Chelsea High school and is now employed in the office of Federal Screw Works. Her fiancé, who is employed by Shambaugh Tile company of Ann Arbor, was a student at Chelsea High school when he enlisted in the U. S. Marines. He was in the service three years, 16 months of which he spent in Korea.

purpose are being asked to contact Mrs. John Kilmer or Mrs. George Hafner who are chairman of the project.

At the close of the meeting the hosts served refreshments.

Cards were enjoyed as the evening's entertainment and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Minnie Scripster, Mrs. Watson Hart and Mrs. Albert Ashford.

The next regular meeting is to be held June 20 at the home of Mrs. John Weber, 119 Madison street.

Legion Auxiliary Holds Mother, Daughter Banquet

The American Legion Auxiliary's Mother and Daughter banquet, held at the Legion Home Thursday evening was attended by 55 mothers and daughters.

Honored as the oldest mother present was Mrs. Harry Lyons, while the youngest mother was Mrs. Eldon Gorton and the mother with the most daughters, Mrs. William Blaess. Each was presented with a plant.

A program of vocal selections, recitations and tap dancing by the younger daughters and toasts to mothers and daughters completed the evening's activities.

Mrs. Donald Doll gave the toast to mothers and Mrs. Julius Eisele toasted the daughters.

Mrs. William Birch was in charge of the program.

MAYFLOWER CHAPTER

Mayflower Chapter of the Congregational church held a meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leon Sotter.

A one o'clock dessert luncheon preceded the business session and the program and devotional period. Mrs. Walter Wolfgang presided during the devotional service and Miss Bertha Spaulding was in charge of the program which was a continuation of discussions of India.

Participating in the program were Mrs. Henry Schneider who gave a reading pertaining to the work with illiterates being done in India by Dr. Frank Laubach; Mrs. D. I. Hoppe who spoke about the church's "Meals For Millions;" and Mrs. Walter Pienkner who discussed Dr. Paul Brand's work with lepers in India.

Miss Spaulding concluded the program with a reading, "They Told the Truth About America." Twenty-six members and two guests attended the meeting. The next meeting is to take place at the church June 10.

WOMEN'S GUILD

Mrs. Kent Walworth was a guest speaker at the May 11 afternoon meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's church. She had spoken at the May 5 Mother and Daughter banquet at the church, chiefly for the entertainment of the many children present and was invited to speak at the Guild on subjects of special interest to women. Thirty-one members and three guests were present.

Mrs. Eugene Fischer was program and devotional leader and introduced Mrs. Walworth.

She also presented Susan Schreen, daughter of Mrs. Robert Schreen, who sang a solo, "Gifts That God Has Sent." She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Carl Mayer.

During the business session it was voted to sponsor two young people of the church for the leadership training period at Camp Talahi, near Brighton, this summer.

It was also decided to postpone the June meeting one week because of school-graduation-week activities on the regular date. The meeting will be held the evening of June 15.

Mrs. Fred Seitz, who was a delegate to the Ann Arbor Regional Guild meeting at Lansing, April 28, gave the report.

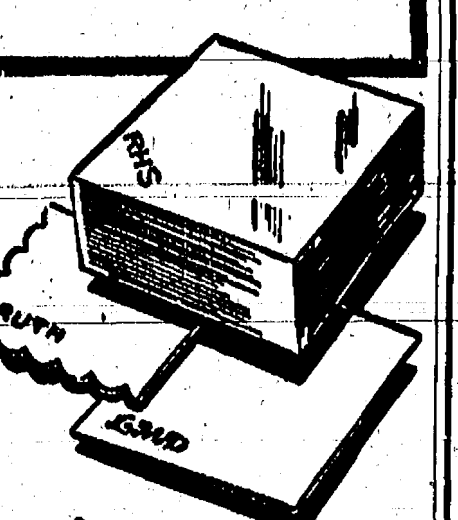

Refreshments were served in the basement dining room at the close of the meeting, hostesses including Mrs. Herbert Paul, Mrs. Bruce Penbody, Mrs. Elmer Pierce and Mrs. Charles Rabley.

Tips Offered On Growing Early Tomatoes

"Beat Thy Neighbor!" That's the first commandment for every home gardener as he sets out his tomato plants. Nothing beats the satisfaction of beating your neighbor with the earliest fruit in the neighborhood, not to mention saving on the food bill.

Here's a recipe from S. H. Wittwer, Michigan State College horticulturist, for growing the earliest tomatoes.

Get the plants transplanted now. If you have plants in the cold frame, leave the cover off the frame to let them harden. Do the same with any plants you buy in a flat from the greenhouse. Keep them in the cold frame and water them with a phosphorus fertilizer in the water.

Just a couple of days before planting put on a cup of starter solution per plant. This will give them a little push after transplanting. The ideal plant for earliest tomatoes has a solid blocky stem with dark green leaves. Some plants will have blossoms or even some early fruit already set. Some gardeners, with luck, will have some fruit by early July.

Here's another suggestion from Wittwer: If night temperatures fall below 60 degrees use a hormone fruit set spray on the flower clusters. You can get higher quality, better size, and earlier fruit if you stake or trellis your plants. Don't be afraid of late frosts. A bushel basket or cardboard box over the plants during very chilly nights will probably protect them from any frost this late in the year.

To make fluted cucumber slices, draw the stem of your fingerling onto the cucumber. Then cut it into thin slices.

MSC Centennial Will Honor Three Families

A Michigan farm family will be one of three honored jointly by Michigan State College and a national farm magazine at the Centennial of Farm Mechanization of the East Lansing campus, August 15 to 20.

Announcement of this selection will be made within a month, according to A. W. Farrall, head of the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State. Two other families, one from Pennsylvania and another from California, have already been named by the farm magazine as typifying "all that's outstanding" in today's farm and home living.

The Donald Williams family of Tunkhannock, Pa., was named in mid-May after hundreds of families were considered for the honor of representing the typical American dairy farm. Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their four daughters operate a 240-acre farm with 60 milking Holsteins.

The L. L. Schneider family of near-Sacramento, Calif., was chosen as representing one of the nation's top mechanized units of the large ranch type.

Farrall reports plans for the event which will exhibit $20,000 worth of equipment on more than 100 acres of the Michigan campus and farm in mid-August are near completion. The college auditorium will be used to house the latest developments in home appliances and equipment and will exhibit complete sets of pictures of the three families and their farms.

BIRTHS

A daughter, Kathie, was born April 28 to Dr. and Mrs. Carl Drumheller of Champaign, Ill. Mrs. Drumheller is the former Betty Pielmeier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pielmeier and granddaughter of Mrs. William Davidson.

A daughter, Mary Geneva, was born Friday, May 13, at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood.

Silo Construction Plans Offered

Planning to build a horizontal silo this spring? You can get some tips and plans for doing the job right in a new publication from Michigan State College. It's available at the county extension office.

Agricultural Engineers R. J. Breylik, W. H. Friday and R. L. Maddox discuss and illustrate the construction of the low-cost storage silo and the self-feeding labor saver. They tell how to fit the silo into the farmstead plan and to adapt it to expected livestock needs.

The publication is Farm Building Series Circular 729, "Horizontal Silos."

Dairy Scientists Convene at MSC

Scientists from 30 state research institutions and from some Canadian provinces will take part in the American Dairy Science association meeting at Michigan State College, June 21-23.

Researchers will present their latest discoveries in dairy reproduction, rumen physiology, forage use and management, genetics, milk secretion, calf nutrition and artificial insemination.

Included among the Michigan State research results to be presented will be the effects of hormones on the secretion of milk.

ready too heavy and the state agencies say they are being impaired in their functions for lack of money to operate them.

"It is to be expected," said Rep. Joseph E. Warner, (R-Ypsilanti), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Republicans on the Senate appropriations committee drew the first fire by reducing the budget of Michigan State College and ruling out the self-liquidating building program.

The State Board of Agriculture complained officially in a special emergency meeting.

Chairman Clark Brody said that "the quality of instruction will be impaired" if the budget cuts were not restored and that the building program would be needed to handle the expected influx of students.

Budget proposals ruled out specifically Michigan State's attempt to get a VHS television channel for educational purposes through a link with a commercial station.

For the next few weeks, the legislature will hear the details in letters, telegrams, public hearings.

Department of mental health was the second with complaints of cutbacks. Republicans pointed out that the budget was not cut, but actually increased from last year.

Charles F. Wager, director of the department, said there will be more than 1,100 new mental patients next year and that the budget some $4,000,000 more than last year—will not cover new programs.

The committee approved $175,000 for mental health research at the University of Michigan, a major project, but there were complaints that the money did not go elsewhere.

Taxpayers will also have their say. Gov. Williams' proposed corporation profits tax, estimated to yield $101,000,000 a year, is dead in committee. It will stay there unless resurrected at the last minute as an amendment.

The only major tax proposals now before the legislature are versions of the $30,000,000 a year business receipts tax.

"It is one of the handiest in years—those who pay the tax wrote it into bill for passage by the legislature. There have been few complaints.

"It's a good tax with a broad base, a high yield and a minimum of controversy," said Senator Carlton H. Morris, (R-Kalamazoo), chairman of the Senate taxation committee.

When the legislative session ends June 3, the issues will be settled. In the meantime anyone can watch the "Battle of the Budget," 1955 style.

For years, the proposal to abolish the elective Superintendent of Public Instruction in favor of an appointed commissioner of education has been pushed by interested parties.

The latest is Dr. Clair L. Taylor, now Superintendent of Public Instruction.

"The idea is based on the Federal system and a desire to 'take the office out of politics'."

Under the plan, the commissioner would be appointed by the state board of education, which now operates Michigan's teacher colleges.

It was also an idea of the late Dr. Lee M. Thurston, Taylor's predecessor in office. Legislators have shied away in the past because it meant one less office and most legislators are interested in affairs of one political party or another.

Michigan's official tree, the white pine, is planted on the capitol lawn.

It was done with ceremony and pomp by Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, a group of state legislators and tree experts from Michigan State College.

Just in case the original didn't make the grade, the state planted three of them.

General Dwight Beach Visits Relatives Here on Return from Korea Duty

Brigadier General Dwight E. Beach, with his wife and nine-month-old daughter, Florence, spent from Friday until Tuesday evening visiting his mother, Mrs. D. E. Beach, his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Beach, and other relatives and friends.

General Beach returned recently from Korea where he was chief of staff of the Eighth Army Forward. Mrs. Beach and children made their home in San Antonio, Texas, during his overseas service.

Following their visit here they left by plane to return to Texas where the general is to be stationed at Fort Bliss.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

after sunset is a waste of time, the biologist pointed out.

Method of Feeding

A hungry pike feeds viciously. While some fish will trail their prey for some distance in the chase before striking and taking it, the pike delivers a lethal blow with a rush. He smashes at the escaping minnow or small fish from the side holding it crosswise in his mouth, crunching it with powerful teeth to kill it. The fish is then swallowed head first. The faster the small fish is moving, the more vicious the strike which is the tip-off for anglers to keep the lure skipping along at a good rate of speed if they're interested in pike.

Spoons Best Lures

Chrome-plated spoons have taken more than half of the really big fish in the pike family, according to contest records, and the hooks must be very sturdy. Because the pike probably has the spoon crosswise in its mouth at the moment of the strike, the angler must set the hooks with an extra hard surge of the rod tip. Often the hooks will be outside the pike's mouth, and penetration effective enough to hold a large fish is difficult.

Use these tips on pike fishing this season. Maybe you'll come up with a whopper in Michigan Outdoors!

Two Children in Clarence Wood Family Born on Friday, 13th

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood, who this week are announcing the birth of a daughter, Mary Geneva, last Friday, May 13, now have three children whose birthdays are on the 13th of the month, two of these being on the "double hoodoo" date of Friday the 13th.

The two daughters share honors for Friday, the 13th birthdates while one of the two sons was born on a Tuesday, the 13th. Their fourth child, three-year-old John, was born June 19, 1952.

Janice, the oldest daughter, was born Friday, May 13, 1946, on the 30th birthday of her uncle, Wallace Wood, who was also born on a Friday, the 13th.

David, who is six years old, is the one born Sept. 13, in 1948.

Mr. Wood said it helps greatly in remembering to buy birthday gifts by keeping the 13th of the month in mind. "Every time I get near the 13th," he said, "you are reminded to take a look at the calendar and see if one of the family birthdays is 'coming up.'"

County Dental Assistants Society Meets in Ann Arbor

Antique Cars To Participate In Grand Rapids Excursion

Grand Rapids.—On May 21, approximately 100 antique cars from Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, and Ohio will assemble for the start of the first annual WOODland tour. Mr. and Mrs. James Daniels, of Chelsea, in their 1911 Buick, will be in the group.

Stations WOOD and WOOD-TV, in conjunction with the Grand Rapids chapter of the Veteran Motor Car Club of America, is planning this 90-mile week-end excursion in commemoration of WOOD's 30 years of broadcasting.

With the drivers and their guests attired in the goggles and duster outfits of the touring car era, the procession will get under way at 9 a.m. Saturday, May 21 with a live TV show direct from the parking lot.

Then, complete with police escort, the antique car caravan will travel along M-21 to Holland, and Polk's Antique Car Museum where they will be guests of Henry Polk for lunch and a tour of his museum.

That afternoon they will continue west on M-21 and then take Lake Shore Road north, past Ottawa Beach, to Grand Haven. WOOD and WOOD-TV will hold a dinner-dance for the motorists Saturday evening at the Bil-Mar Hotel where the group will spend the night.

The car caravan will follow M-50 back to Grand Rapids Sunday morning and arrive at the WOOD-TV studios for an hour-long live TV show at 1:00 o'clock.

On this program, which will conclude the first annual WOODland tour, drivers will be interviewed and a 21-inch television set awarded the driver of the most popular car. Other prizes will be given for the car coming the longest distance, oldest car on the tour, best costumes and the driver who runs into the most hard luck.

Earl Guenther Home From Army Service

Cpl. Earl Guenther, who was separated from the Army at Fort Lewis, Wash., May 3, arrived at his home here Sunday night after spending ten days vacationing in California.

Cpl. Guenther had been stationed at Fort Lewis the past 20 months after completing basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Guenther.

Neil Beach Initiated In National Honor Society

Neil W. Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Beach of Chelsea-Dexter road, is one of 219 students at the University of Michigan who were initiated as members of Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society. The initiation dinner took place Wednesday, May 11.

Chosen for high scholastic standing, the initiates were taken from the upper ten per cent of the seniors and graduate students in all fields of study.

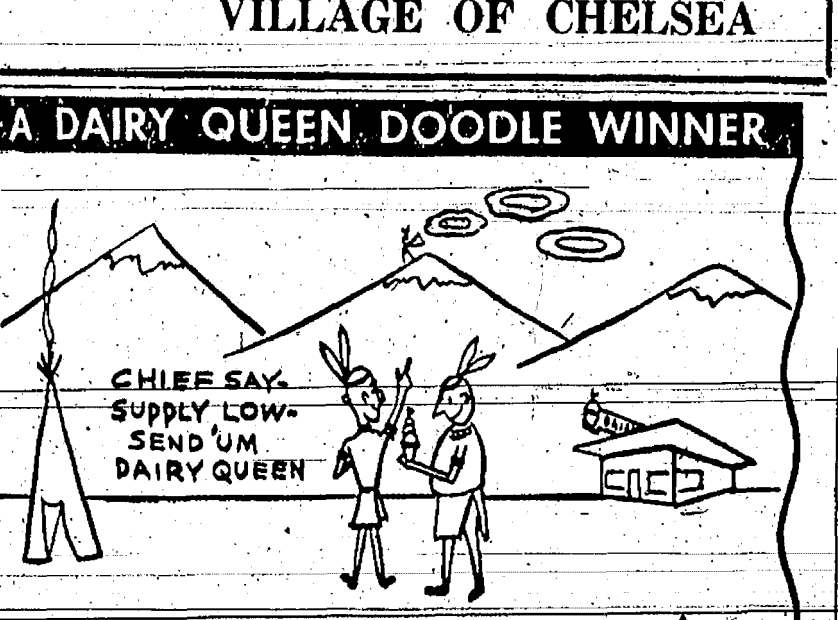

Beach is a graduate student and teaching fellow in the University's department of zoology.

Postal Service Sets Rural Mail Box Improvement Week

Postmaster Carl J. Mayer has announced that this week has been designated by the U. S. Post Office Department as Rural Mail Box Improvement Week.

When free rural delivery service was established more than half a century ago it was at first ridiculed as a foolish experiment. Patrons who received mail in those early days put up shanty posts and attached discarded kitchennapkins and old baskets to hold the deliveries. It was not long, however, until the government ordered that all mail boxes must conform to a definite standard regarding size, shape and supports.

According to present rulings, the box must be a regular mail box, authorized by the Post Office Department. It must be in good condition with a door that opens easily and a flag; must be securely attached on an upright and sturdy post and placed on the right side of the road as the carrier travels.

The box and support should be painted white with the owner's name neatly primed on the side the carrier approaches or on a strip above the box.

Keeping the approach to the box free of ruts and making the area around it as attractive as possible are suggestions from the Post Office Department. It is also suggested that flowers be set out around the box to beautify the appearance of the area.

Rural mail carriers at the local postmaster will be glad to discuss with patrons the rules and regulations regarding rural boxes.

WHILE YOU SLEEP

TONIGHT, while you are fast asleep, they'll be unloading a truck-trailer at your favorite food store—carting in the refrigerated meat, fresh, iced vegetables and fruit, and all the other choice articles of food you'll find on display when you go marketing tomorrow morning.

Food stores want their customers to have a full selection of fresh merchandise every morning—so they call on trucks to stock their shelves and counters while you and most of Michigan sleep.

Without trucks, food stores just couldn't give the customer this sort of service. Without trucks—well, things just wouldn't be the same at all in any business and the people of Michigan just wouldn't be enjoying the modern comforts and conveniences they're enjoying today.

THE PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY

IT DOESN'T ALWAYS
PAY TO BE BRAVE...

Adults too often will put on a show of courage with a "cold," rather than retire and rest—and call the Doctor. Pneumonia sometimes attacks such stalwarts.

Do not try to be brave with a "cold," however simple. Follow the well-established guidance—rest, eat a well-balanced diet, and drink plenty of water and fruit juices. If symptoms persist, call your Doctor promptly, while there is still time for treatment of the current illness and prevention of possible hazardous complications. If medicines are indicated, we will be happy to render the best in Pharmaceutical service in filling your Doctor's prescriptions.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vanderkelen

Barbara E. O'Hara Becomes Bride of Robert Vanderkelen

St. Mary's Catholic church was the setting for the wedding of Barbara Elizabeth O'Hara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. O'Hara, and Robert J. Vanderkelen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Vanderkelen, Grand Rapids. The ceremony was performed Saturday at 12 o'clock noon by Rev. Fr. Lee Laige, Rev. Fr. Coffey of the Holy Ghost Seminary, Ann Arbor, singing the Nuptial Mass and servers being Michael Cuncannan and Billy Vanderkelen of Grand Rapids. The latter is a brother of the bridegroom. Rev. Fr. Dwyer, also of Holy Ghost Seminary and Mercywood Sanitarium, knelt in the sanctuary during the service.

St. Mary's choir sang the Mass with Paul F. Niehaus singing "Ave Maria" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother."

The bride wore the Chantilly lace wedding gown which her sister, Mrs. Edward Hellmann, had worn when she was married. The lace bodice extended in deep points over the floor-length skirt and was covered with a lace jacket. The skirt itself was of nylon net over satin. Her fingertip-length veil was held in place with a pleated cap trimmed with pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, centered with a white orchid. She was given in marriage by her brother, Richard O'Hara.

Mrs. Heilmann, now of Ann Arbor, was her sister's matron of honor and Mrs. William White of Muskegon and Mrs. Jeanne Wahl were bridesmaids. They were dressed alike in champagne-colored lace gowns and jackets and carried red carnations. Their accessories, including large picture hats, were also red.

A reception for 200 guests was held from 2 until 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the American Legion Home at Cavanaugh Lake. Mrs. Ralph Phillips of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Glen Dais of Lansing, poured while Nancy Brown of Kalamazoo, Mo., kept a guest book. She is a cousin of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Donald Howard of Inkster, cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Howard, Southwick of Grand Rapids, served punch.

Plans were completed for attending Home Demonstration Day which was held in the Rackham building in Ann Arbor, Tuesday, May 17.

The club is scheduled to meet at the home of Mrs. Darwin Downer Wednesday, June 8, beginning at 10:30 a.m. for the second lesson on the topic "Curtains and Drapes."

300 Attend St. Mary's Mother-Daughter Banquet Last Week

Spring flowers, effectively arranged, were the decorations used in the dining room at St. Mary's school hall for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet Wednesday evening, May 11. Three hundred were present for the affair.

Mrs. Kathleen Hatt, president of St. Mary's Altar Society, acted as mistress of ceremonies during the program which included a toast to daughters, by Mrs. John Hummel; toast to mothers by Nerissa Klingler; hostesses by Sharon Alber; accordian selection by Carol Reith; and a French horn and saxophone duet by Barbara and Carol Hoffman.

The program opened with the song, "Tis the Month of Our Mother," by the assembly, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. V. Burg, and closed with an address by Rev. Fr. Lee Laige.

Mrs. Louis Staph and Mrs. Thomas Howe shared honors as the oldest mothers present while Mrs. Maurice Hoffman was the mother with the most daughters present (five), and Mrs. William Clark the mother with the youngest daughter attending.

Each of the honored ladies was presented with a corsage.

Chairmen of the committees in charge of banquet arrangements were Mrs. J. V. Burg, dining room; Mrs. George Merkel, program; and Mrs. J. F. Cook, Mrs. Clarence J. Fleming and Mrs. J. A. Dumouchel, who were in charge of the meal.

Boys of high school age acted as waiters at the banquet.

Brides-To-Be Are Honored at Recent Showers

Mrs. Scott Freeman and Donna Noah entertained at a bridal shower Saturday evening in honor of Mary Hanked who marriage to Richard Kalmbach is to take place May 21.

Tulips and white lilies were used as decorations throughout the home of Mrs. Freeman where the party was held.

Miss Hanked was presented with an extension card table and set of four chairs as a gift from the 25 guests present.

Sunday evening Joyce Messner was guest of honor at a shower given at the home of Mrs. Henry Fletcher. Fifteen friends and relatives were present from Ann Arbor and this vicinity.

Miss Messner, whose marriage to Roger Lee Snyder will be an event of May 28, received a number of gifts.

Mrs. Robert Shanahan

Betty Riegger, Robert Shanahan Speak Nuptial Vows

Betty Riegger and Robert Shanahan were united in marriage in a ceremony performed at 10 a.m. Saturday by Rev. Fr. Lee Laige in St. Mary's Catholic church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Riegger while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Shanahan.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of alencon lace fashioned with a fitted bodice and a full skirt which extended into a cathedral-length train. The bodice featured a scoop neckline edged with re-embroidered lace and sequins. Her bouquet was a sheaf of calla lilies.

Genevieve Wheeler, a cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, while Ruth Guenther and Doris Weber of Ann Arbor, Gertrude Liemann of Lansing, and Shirley Pierce were bridesmaids.

All were dressed alike in mauve pink crystalite gowns, having off-the-shoulder necklines. The back of the bodice on each of the gowns was trimmed with a baby doll bow from which streamers of ribbon extended to the bottom of a small train. They all wore tiny matching-colored hats.

The maid of honor carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and purple lilies and the four bridesmaids' bouquets were of pink carnations and blue bachelor buttons.

Otto Riegger, the bride's brother, served as best man, with Richard Schanz, Edwin Lantis, James McClear and Donald Hanked assisting as ushers.

Breakfast at the Knights of Columbus hall and a reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Alfred Juergens, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Fred Riemann of Howell, an aunt of the bride, poured; Mrs. Hugo Keller of Chicago, another aunt, cut the wedding cake; and Mary Hanked was in charge of a guest book.

Following a week's honeymoon in northern Michigan, the couple will be at home in Chelsea.

For going away the bride chose a beige suit with black accessories. Pinned to the jacket of her suit was a corsage of white carnations.

A graduate of Chelsea High school, the bride is employed at the Ann Arbor Credit Bureau.

The bridegroom, who also graduated from Chelsea High school, is engaged in farming.
