County Chest X-ray Survey Set for Fall

Tuberculosis is still a public health problem in spite of the fact that it can be cured in most cases, if given proper treatment," says Dr. Otto K. Engelke, Washtenaw County Health Officer.

Dr. Engelke referred to the annual report of the health department for 1954 which revealed that a total of 46 cases of tuberculosis were reported during that year, with a total of seven Washtenaw county citizens dying from the disease. A recent study of the first quarter of 1955, statistics show that tuberculosis has been responsible for one death in the county, it was said.

Tuberculosis is a highly communicable disease. Any person having tuberculosis can pass the illness along to friends and other contacts. One case in a community is often found to be the cause of infection for many other cases. Due to better methods of treatment and a more active case-finding program, the deaths from tuberculosis have been reduced at a surprising rate, but the number of cases of tuberculosis has remained almost constant.

Dr. Engelke warned against becoming indifferent to tuberculosis because of the popular belief that tuberculosis has been practically eradicated. "A few years of relaxed vigilance could destroy much of the progress that we have made in the control of tuberculosis, and result in an increased death rate as well as a substantial increase in the number of cases."

Because of this, a concentrated case-finding program will be started in Washtenaw county in October. This program will include a county-wide chest x-ray survey among the citizens. Participating in this survey will be the Washtenaw County Health Department, Washtenaw County Tuberculosis Association, Washtenaw County Cancer Society, and Michigan Heart Association and Michigan Department of Health.

Prizes Listed For Floats in Fair Parade

Don Alber, chairman of the Chelsea Community Fair parade committee, announced yesterday that prizes for floats have been set at $20, $15, $10 and $5 for first, second, third and fourth place, respectively.

He also announced that prizes are to be given for best decorated bicycles and tricycles. Prizes in each of the two categories will be $3, $2 and $1 for the first, second and third-place winners.

The tricycles will enter the parade at the Municipal building and will remain in the line of march until they pass the reviewing stand. They will leave the parade at Orchard street.

Bicycles will remain in line for the entire parade.

Alber urges all classes at the school to plan to enter floats, even though school is not in session.

Each float may enter one "queen" in the queen of the fair contest and rules state that to enter a contestant for the title of queen, a float must also be entered.

The Kiwanis club, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Chelsea Chamber of Commerce have already indicated they will enter floats in the parade.

The parade is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Aug. 20.

Livestock and agricultural exhibitors are advised to list their entries early.

In charge of agricultural exhibits are Philip Smith for this area and Richard Larson in the Dexter area.

Beef cattle exhibits are in charge of Reuben Lesser and dairy cattle in charge of William Van Riper. Paul Seitz will assist in both divisions.

Fair dates are Aug. 17-18, 19 and 20.

Farmers' Guild Local Opposes Wool Referendum

Sylvan and Lima Local 254 of the Michigan Farmers' Guild, at its July 18 meeting at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Carroll Ordway, went on record as being opposed to a proposed wool referendum.

A report on the net proceeds of the social was not yet available but the affair was declared a great success.

Proceeds are to be added to the band uniform fund.

Farmers at the meeting adopted a resolution as follows: "Resolved, that we, Sylvan and Lima Local 254, go on record as opposed to a referendum vote on wool, whereby one cent per pound be deducted from the federal government incentive payments as a national wool and mutton promotion fund. Whereas, we are now importing two-thirds of our wool from foreign markets, we feel we would be paying for promoting foreign interests and not for our own, since there is no limit on how much wool can be imported. We would favor a higher tariff on wool and the use of some of the tariff money for this purpose (the proposed promotion fund)."

In the discussion which preceded passage of the resolution it was pointed out that in 1953 the United States imported 269 million pounds of apparel wool, in addition to woolen textiles and wool in the form of pelts.

The Michigan Farmers' Guild has reportedly approved the action of the local group and adopted a somewhat similar resolution.

Wolvertons Landscape Athletic Administration Building at U. of M.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillon Wolverton have just completed the landscaping and interior tropical plantings in the new athletic administration building, corner State and Hoover streets, Ann Arbor, on the University of Michigan campus.

In keeping with the modern type of architecture, modernistic plantings of rhododendrons, azaleas, dogwood and broadleaf evergreens were used around the front entrance which is at the northeast end of the building.

At the east side of the building pizzeria, burning hush, Hicks yew and thorn are used, three distinct areas being formed by means of hedges.

The north side treatment takes advantage of a variety of yews and broadleaf evergreens.

The Wolvertons did the landscaping around the Women's swimming pool last year and have been called in as consultants on the new North Campus project.

Tower Clock in Operation After Modernizing Program

Chelsea's "town clock" is again sounding Westminster chimes each quarter-hour and striking the hours.

Workmen from the I. T. Verdin company's factory at Cincinnati, Ohio, finished installation of the modernized and electrified mechanism last week-end.

Dismantling of the clock for transportation to the Cincinnati factory began May 13 and took several days to accomplish.

Cost of converting the clock to electrically-operated mechanism has been estimated at approximately $3,000.

The clock, originally installed in the tower in 1907, is now the property of Central Fibre Products, Inc., present owners of the tower building.

The newly-installed white dials and large black numerals may be seen at a great distance.

In announcing the modernization plans in May, Harold Jones, vice-president and general manager of the plant, said that the village had agreed to furnish the power to run the clock as well as the light bulbs needed to illuminate the dials.

Entirely automatic, the mechanism is said to correct itself to show the correct time should electric current be temporarily shut off.

The tower is further improved by the application of new roofing to match the brick construction of the tower and a new ornament at the top to replace the one removed several years ago after it became loosened.

Quick Arrest Made In Case of Tools Stolen from Car

The alertness of Police Officer Don Walz resulted in the recovery of a quantity of tools stolen from the car of Ray Osterley, 110 Middle street, Saturday night, before the owner had discovered the theft.

Paul E. Hackworth of 661 West Middle street, picked up by Officer Walz for investigation when the officer noticed him carrying two tool boxes, was held for investigation of larceny of goods valued at more than $50 when the stolen tools were found in his possession.

In Municipal Court, Ann Arbor, Monday, Hackworth waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court, with cash bond set at $1,000.

Hackworth is married and the father of two small children. He is 24 years old.

Playground Activities To Be Halted Early Due to Lack of Funds

Announcement was made this week that the week of Aug. 1-5 will be the last for the morning playground activities of the Chelsea Recreation Council's summer recreation program. Shortage of funds was given as the reason for the curtailment of that part of the recreation program. It had originally been planned to carry on at the playgrounds for the full eight weeks.

All other activities will continue through the week of Aug. 8-12.

Attendance for the fifth week of the program, July 18-22, was listed as follows: morning athletic field, 105; swimming, 248; and evening activities, 142.

Mr. and Mrs. George Knoll visited their daughter and family, the Beecher Risner, Jr., in Middletown, Ohio, the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm W. Elsher of Santa Cruz, Calif., are guests of their niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schumm.

Mrs. Ray Thomas received word last week of the death of her cousin, Mrs. Marshall Gibbons, Sunday, July 17, at Selinsgrove, Pa.

County Agricultural Council Offers Free Soil Testing Service

Another Housing Project May Possibly Develop

Rumors, persistently circulating the past week regarding a grand scale housing project in the Chelsea area, have some basis in fact, according to a statement made yesterday by Alvin H. Pommerening. He and his wife are owners of the tract of land concerned.

When The Chelsea Standard called him and inquired about the rumors he said, "There definitely have been housing development negotiations for the property but agreements to date have not been signed by the owners."

The Pommerening property, with which the housing project rumor is connected, is that part of the former Pierce farm on Old US-12, beginning at the Chelsea Restaurant, extending east approximately one-half mile and north to the village limits at Flanders and Book streets.

Program Designed To Determine Need for Lime

Late in March this year, the Washtenaw county Agricultural Council conducted a free mobile soil testing program in this county. The purpose of this program was to promote the use of agricultural lime where needed and to emphasize the value of soil testing for lime requirements.

In spite of frozen ground and snow, many farmers in Washtenaw county made use of this opportunity and the Agricultural Council felt that the effort was appreciated. Comments and questions which have reached various members of the Council indicate that a similar program is needed again.

Members of the Council, including Cooperative Extension Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation District Forester—Michigan Department of Conservation, Soil Conservation Service, National Farm Loan Association, Farmers Home Administration, Production Credit Association, and some of the Vocational-Agriculture teachers, will again offer this service to farmers of the county in the near future.

In this area volunteers from the Agricultural Council will be at Chelsea High school, Home Economics room, between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m., Monday, Aug. 1, to test soil samples and make recommendations. There is no charge for this service.

Other scheduled appearances of the testing crew will be as follows:

Thursday, July 28—Stony Creek Grange.

Friday, July 29—South Lyon High school.

Monday, August 1—Dexter High school.

Wednesday, August 3—Manchester High school.

Thursday August 4—Saline High school.

About a cupful of dry soil taken from several places in a field within plow depth is required for testing. No charge will be made for testing for lime requirements and results will be available at once. Farmers wishing complete analysis for fertilizer needs may leave samples at these same places plus 50¢ for cover costs. The complete analysis is handled in the county Court House.

Between now and next spring, lime should be spread for any legume seedling to be done within the next year. Little benefit is realized from fertilizers applied on acid soils, so it is wise to apply lime, but only when and where it is needed.

AUDIT REPORT

June 30, 1955

July 11, 1955

Board of Education,
Chelsea Agricultural Schools
Chelsea, Michigan

We have examined the receipts and disbursements of the General Fund, Building and Site Fund, Debt Retirement Fund, and High School Student Funds of the Sylvan Township School District No. 1 Fractional, known as the Chelsea Agricultural Schools, for the period from June 22, 1954 to June 30, 1955. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing procedures, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. The accounting records are maintained for cash receipts and disbursements only, no balance sheet accounting being undertaken. Our examination did not include any tests of the child accounting records or state enrollment reports based on these records. In our opinion, the accompanying receipts and disbursements statements present fairly the cash transactions of the Chelsea Agricultural Schools and the High School Student Funds for the period from June 22, 1954 to June 30, 1955.

Very truly yours,
Iceman, Johnson & Hoffman

Put PTZ pasture mix in a self-feeder—
well take care of the worms from there on

PTZ Pasture Mix is salt, simple minerals, PTZ. In a self-feeder, it does a 3-in-1 job—salts the flock, helps take care of mineral deficiencies, and kills worm eggs before they have a chance to develop in the pasture.

PTZ Pasture Mix is usually all the worm control the flock needs throughout the grazing season.

PTZ is phenothiazine at its best. We can highly recommend this product for worming your flock.

they should cross at cross-

Over the years, Detroit and the state of Michigan have been highly productive sources of talent for major league ball clubs. Old Diz wouldn't be surprised to see Michigan near the top of the list as a supplier of big leaguers.Consider the Tigers' roster alone.
Seven players are of Michigan origin and still live here. Curiously, all but two are pitchers.The hurlers include Steve Gromek, born in Hamtramck and now living in Detroit; George Zuverink, born and still living in Holland;
Ray Herbert, whose birthplace is Battle Creek but now calls Detroit his home; Leo Cristante, born and still living in Detroit, and Duane Maas, born in Utica and still residing there.The exceptions are Detroit-born outfielder Steve Souchock, who now lives in Dearborn, and new outfielder Charlie Maxwell, obtained from Baltimore, who was born in Lawton and now lives in Paw Paw.Of the 16 teams in the two major leagues, only four—the two New York clubs, Kansas City and Washington—are without Michigan representatives.On the other hand, the Chicago White Sox, Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Phillies boast almost as many Michiganders as "The Tigers" do.On the White Sox squad are pitchers Ted Gray and Billy Pierce, both born in Highland Park, the former now living in Dearborn, the latter in Birmingham; first baseman Ronald Jackson, born and still living in Kalamazoo; outfielder John Golich, Detroit-born but now living in Dearborn, andinfielder Cass Michaels (out this year with a head injury), born in Detroit and now residing in Grosse pitcher Bob Miller, who still lives here; catcher Stan Lopata, born in Detroit and now living in Allentown, Pa.; infielder Ted Kazanski, now a Detroit native, and outfielder Danny Schell, who was born and still lives in Fostoria.With the Cleveland Indians are pitchers Hal Newhouser and Art

Houtteman, both born in Detroit, the former living in Franklin Hills,
the latter in Birmingham. Infielder Joe Altobelli was born and still lives in Detroit.On the Baltimore Orioles roster this spring were pitchers Duane Pilette and Bob Kuzava, born and still living in, respectively, Detroit and Wyandotte. Catcher Hal Smith winters in Lincoln Park, while outfielder Chuck Oertel spends his winters in Pontiac.For the Boston Red Sox, pitcher Ivan Delock was born in Highland while infielder Norman Zaichin was born in Detroit and now lives in Royal Oak.Pitcher Charley Templeton of the Brooklyn Dodgers was born in Detroit and now lives in Wayne.

Pitcher Bob Rush of the Chicago
Cubs still lives in Battle Creek.
Pitcher Bob Buhl of the Milwaukee

Rube Landt still resides in Allen

A wedding of interest to Chelsea friends of the bride and groom was solemnized at 7:30 Saturday evening in Bethlehem Evangelical and Reformed church, Ann Arbor. Rev. T. R. Schmale, pastor emeritus of the church, read the ceremony uniting in marriage Mary Jane Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Titus G. Schneider of Ann Arbor, and Preston D. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Brown, of Manchester.

Both the bride and bridegroom are employed by the Kroger company at West Stadium Blvd., Ann Arbor. The couple will live at 163 Orchard street here, upon their return from a week's honeymoon in northern Michigan and Wisconsin. For her wedding the bride wore white tulle with shirred taffeta

Farewell Party Honors Mrs. Hough

Mrs. James Hough, who, with her family, will be moving to Romeo, was honored at a farewell party given by the canasta club of which she is a member. The party was held Tuesday evening, July 19, at the home of Mrs. Hugh Sorensen with Mrs. John Brooks and Mrs. Loren Turner as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Hough was presented with a gift on behalf of the 12 guests present.

The gown was finished with a sweetheart neckline and a taffeta cummerbund. Her fingertip-length veil was of nylon net and her flowers were a spray bouquet of white roses.

Elsie W. Kienzie of Ann Arbor, in ballerina-length pink lace over taffeta, with a taffeta cummerbund forming bows at the back, was the maid of honor. She wore a headband of pink flowers and carried a spray bouquet of blue Horace Reed daisies.

The bridesmaids, Janice Brown, who is the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. William Paul, both of Manchester, were dressed alike in blue; their gowns styled like that of the maid of honor. They wore matching-colored flower headbands and carried pink daisies.

Katherine Schneider, of Manchester, niece of the bride, wore a blue lace dress and a headpiece of blue flowers for her role as flower girl. She carried a basket of assorted flowers. James Schneider, nephew of the bride, wore a white suit to act as ringbearer.

The bridegroom was assisted by his brother, Carl Brown of Manitou Beach, as best man. Ushers were Edison Brown, of Ann Arbor, another brother of the bridegroom, Melvin Lamb of Manchester, his cousin, and Titus Schneider, Jr., and John H. Schneider, of Ann Arbor, brothers of the bride.

At the reception, held at the home of the bride's parents, the guest book was in charge of Mrs. John Johnston of Plymouth, while Mrs. LeRoy Lamb of Manchester, Mrs. Walter Schneider of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Vernon Allmendinger of Dexter and Mrs. Max Hepburn poured and cut cake, and Norma Brown of Manchester served ice cream.

Diane S. Charbonneau Is Married Saturday In Pontiac Ceremony

Diane Sandra Charbonneau, who formerly made her home for several years with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schrader, Sr., and John C. Xenas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Xenas of Pontiac, were married at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in Grace Lutheran church, Pontiac, with Rev. Otto Schultz officiating at the double-ring ceremony. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strzeszynski of 249 Liberty street, Pontiac.

Mrs. Maynard Gesterle, of Pontiac, as soloist sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The bride's floor-length gown was of nylon net, Chantilly lace and satin. Her fingertip-length veil was held in place with a Juliet cap studded with seed pearls. Her ensemble was completed with a single strand necklace of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Carol Ann Thompson of Pontiac, a schoolmate of the bride, was her only attendant. Her gown of blue crystaletto and nylon net was in waltz length. She wore a matching hat and carried pink gladioli.

Robert Pickett of Pontiac, was best man, with Howard Guelker, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, and William Rose serving as ushers. Both are of Pontiac.

Following the ceremony, attended by 200 guests, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's mother, in French blue lace with white accessories, had a corsage of pink carnations and roses.

Mrs. Xenas wore dusty pink lace with white accessories and a corsage of Helix Time roses and pink carnations.

The bride's going-away outfit was an orchid linen suit with which she wore white accessories and a corsage taken from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return from a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside at 520 Oak street, Kalamazoo, and the bridegroom will return to his studies at Western Michigan College, where he is a sophomore.

He and the bride are both graduates of Pontiac High school. The latter attended Chelsea schools for four years during the time she lived here with the Schraders.

Guests at the wedding were from Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Bay City and from Rome, N. Y., and Fort Campbell, Ky.

Michigan Mirror

Hot weather politics in Michigan has both parties maneuvering for 1956 months before they go to the voters.

Presidential year traditions hover over the scene as Republicans and Democrats point for another election of top state officers.

Republicans rallied under a "unity banner" behind Clifford O'Sullivan, a Port Huron attorney, whom they chose as national committeeman to replace David W. Kendall, of Jackson.

Party leaders see in the O'Sullivan election a symbol of harmony they hope will carry over into the campaigns for governor, and the others. They want to avoid the wrangles of other years.

Republicans here admit their most outstanding political characteristic is intramural fighting. Candidates for governor in recent history have all survived bitter party-splitting primary battles.

Formerly they have split into factions, with influential groups following both successful and defeated primary hopefuls—fragmenting the vote.

"We must unite to defeat a very formidable opponent, the opposition party," said O'Sullivan.

Republicans hope O'Sullivan and his views are the first step in reversing the tradition.

To pick O'Sullivan, the party passed over such names as John B. Martin, Jr., former auditor-general and campaign manager for the spring campaign; Owen J. Cleary, former state chairman and ex-secretary of state; and Berry Beaman, of Parma, former finance chairman.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, a power in Michigan politics still, was credited with negotiating harmony.

He conferred with the candidates, told of the problems. Whether these talks were responsible was unannounced. But the others withdrew and O'Sullivan got the job.

Democrats, confident and well-organized, are whipping things into shape for next year, too.

Chairman Neil J. Staebler is concentrating on local party organizations, building power where the voters reside and trying a technique that Republicans have long ignored.

Democrats have Detroit sewed up with a heavy labor vote. Republicans know this and have made only passing attempts to convert the voters who work in the factories.

Tradition has it that Republicans control the outstate vote—the farmers, small cities and villages.

Staebler started in 1953 to round up an organization in the rural areas. Local Democrats, who could hold their county conventions in a telephone booth, suddenly needed to hire a hall.

"Detroit always has been strongly Democratic, but we feel that the outstate vote was a vital point for us in 1954," he said.

Both parties are wondering what Gov. Williams will do.

Up to now he has been silent, but Democrats already are grooming heirs-apparent for the governorship. Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart has been allowed to sign important bills and make speeches.

In other years, Williams was the big man in the party. Now with a seat in the state office, the party has a sprinkling of candidates for any post—all of them quite well known.

Williams has issued no inkling that he will or will not go for the presidential nomination in the 1956 Democratic convention.

He has made speeches all over the nation. He has taken on the sound of a national candidate on international and domestic issues. On the other hand, he has traveled the state as in days of yore, acting like a nominee for re-election.

The governor has given only one sign of impatience at the situation. Williams, who has said that Adlai E. Stevenson should try again, last week said in Chicago that the 1952 candidate should make up his mind for the good of the party.

Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Pennville) injected one note of humor in the seige of hot weather politics. Speaking of the legislature's relations with the governor, he led off:

"If Michigan ever has another governor."

Chaplains were asked to help keep the peace in Michigan prisons. They always have been a major part of the administration, but only within the prisons with the inmates. Now they are being asked to extend their horizons.

One of four Ionia State Reformatory rioters in June was a young tough, 19, who insisted he was ready for "graduation" to Jackson State Prison.

Digging into the records, it was found that the youth had been disowned by his family and he had not had a visitor in two years.

The new duty for chaplains: Forge links between inmates and the outside free world in an effort to give them hope.

Student Earns Perfect Grades in MSU Course

East Lansing—Gail Rita Plourde, Michigan State University student from Norway, Mich., has become the ninth student to attain all "A" grades in the two years' of work in MSU's Basic College.

Majoring in chemistry, Miss Plourde completed her Basic College and sophomore work this spring. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Plourde of Norway, and was graduated from the Norway High school in 1953.

Modern Science Finally Catches Up With Grandpa

I got put in my place the other night. Deserved it, too. My father-in-law said we were due for bad weather. "Birds are flying low," he reported. "That means a storm."

I started to josh with the old gentleman about being superstitious. Then my nephew Jim, on vacation from college, pipes up. "Granddad's right," he says.

"At least, that's what they say at school," Jim goes on. "The heavy air you get before a storm forces insects down low—so high-flying birds have to swoop along the ground if they want to eat."

Remote Telecasts Farm Centennial To Cover MSU

Visitors at Michigan State University's Centennial of Farm Mechanization will see how a modern educational television station handles news coverage outside the studio.

WKAR-TV will start its remote telecasts at the scenes of action on Monday, Aug. 15, and will run this type of show through Friday. Two complete shows each day are planned to cover every stage of the event.

The news coverage will be a regular part of "Town and Country," a new educational variety show. The show will be telecast each day from 12:30 to 1 p.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m.

From where I sit, there's probably sound reasoning back of most old sayings... back of anything people have learned to believe in. Take the idea of a stitch in time saving nine—sparing rods and spoiling children—of drinking hot milk, or a refreshing glass of beer, at bedtime. You may not hold with any of these beliefs yourself... but it's not smart to give them the "bird."

Procedure Told For Obtaining Copy Of Birth Certificate

Lansing—Copies of Michigan birth records have been available for the past 88 years, "but it's surprising how many people still don't know where or how to apply for certificates," reports Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the division of disease control, records and statistics for the Michigan Department of Health.

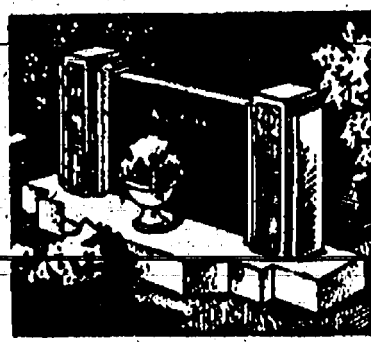

In view of the "marked increase" in requests for birth records, Dr. Leeder said the health department is eager to spell out the simple but necessary procedure in getting copies of birth records.

He said you can make application for birth records to the local registrar of the city or village in which you were born or to the county clerk's office of the county in which you were born. If it is more convenient, you may apply directly to the Michigan Department of Health. Requests should include your full name; month, day, year, and place of birth and names of your parents.

A certificate of birth registration, which is accepted for school enrollment, costs 25 cents. However, for legal transactions, Dr. Leeder said you will need a certified copy of your birth certificate, which costs one dollar.

Dr. Leeder said more than 5,400 certificates of registration have been issued by the state health department in the first six months of this year, contrasted to 3,888 put out in the same period in 1954. Snowballing school enrollments and changes in social security provisions are upping demands both for certificates of registration and for certified copies of birth records, he said.

If your children's breakfast appetite is not what you'd like it to be, try letting them play for half an hour before calling them to the table. A little exercise before eating will increase anyone's appetite.

Jean K. McClure Becomes Bride of Frederic W. Hopkins

The congregational church was the setting for a double-ring wedding ceremony at 4:30 Saturday afternoon during which Jean Kathryn McClure became the bride of Frederic W. Hopkins. Rev. Thomas Toy, pastor of the church, officiated before the altar adorned with the occasion with white carnations and with palms and white gladioli and candelabra holding lighted white candles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McClure while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Hopkins of 15410 Lakeside Drive, Plymouth.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown, elegant in simplicity, fashioned of white tulle, fitted and featuring a chapel train and frock-skirt panel of nylon tulle framed in lace-outlined panniers. Matching lace also edged the scoop neckline. Widely-tucked drop shoulders of the bodice gave a softened effect to the long slim sleeves. Her veil was of hand made Venetian lace which the bride brought from Venice, Italy, last summer. She carried a spray of gardenias with accents of stephanotis and ivy.

Bonnie F. Arnold of Belleville, sorority sister and former roommate of the bride, as maid of honor, and Nancy Atkinson, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore identically-styled, shorter gowns of white tulle and lace. The bridesmaids, respectively, stitched tuck tops framed the fitted bodices of the princess-style gowns, the skirts flaring very full from unpressed box pleats. Both wore matching petal hats trimmed with wisps of veils. Their bouquets were of white marguerite and ivy.

John M. Hopkins, of Plymouth, twin brother of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were James H. Hopkins of Plymouth, another brother of the bridegroom, Wallace Hopkins of Detroit, a cousin, and Lawrence Thomas of Ypsilanti, also a cousin of the bridegroom.

Soloist at the wedding was Mrs. J. Frederic Hopkins of Detroit, an aunt of the bridegroom. Accompanied by the organ by Mrs. Lawrence Wacker, she sang "O Promise Me" before the service, and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

A reception followed in the church parlors for the 150 guests present and later, a buffet-supper was served to 80 relatives and friends at the McClure home on Washington street.

Assisting at the church reception were Mrs. Paul Tovey of Toledo, a cousin of the bride, who poured coffee, Mrs. John Hopkins of Plymouth, a sister-in-law of the bridegroom, who cut the wedding cake, Mrs. James Hopkins of Plymouth, another sister-in-law, who poured punch, and Mrs. Jack Wellnitz who kept a guest book. At the buffet supper, Mrs. George Atkinson, an aunt of the bride, poured.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McClure wore powder blue embroidered sheer over tulle, with matching accessories. Her hat was trimmed with tiny pink roses and her corsage was of matching roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore beige chiffon and lace over tulle, a matching hat, lavender accessories and a corsage of lavender feathered mums.

When the couple left for a wedding trip through Michigan, the bride was wearing a white linen dress trimmed in navy and a navy redingote trimmed in white. Her hat and accessories were in matching navy and white and her corsage was an arrangement of gardenias from her wedding bouquet.

Upon their return Aug. 1, the couple will be living in Northville until about Oct. 1 when they will make their home at 15475 Edington avenue, Livonia.

The bride is a 1950 graduate of Chelsea High school and a 1954 graduate of Michigan State College. She was a teacher the past year in Bentley High school, Livonia.

Mr. Hopkins, who graduated from Plymouth High school in 1945 and Michigan State College in 1954, is employed as a field supervisor for Traveler's Insurance Co., of Detroit. He had served two years with the Merchant Marine and two years in the Army before finishing his college work.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included relatives of the bride from Toledo, Ohio, and Sinking Springs, Pa.

Care of nylon hose begins with their purchase, point out MSU home economists. Buy the correct size and select the best denier and gauge for your particular use.

Smoked shoulder butt should be simmered in water until tender, about 45 minutes per pound. If you like, glaze it in a hot oven for a few minutes before serving.

Rev. Charles Strait, pastor of the church at Temple, officiated at the ceremony.

Thousands To Attend Farm Tour

Speaker Charles Shuman and visits to three outstanding farms in Shiawassee county are expected to draw several thousand people to Michigan's State Farm Management tour on Aug. 4.

The president of the American Farm Bureau federation will talk on "The Key to Farm Prosperity." He is expected to outline his philosophy on price supports and other farm problems.

Mr. Shuman is a fourth generation farmer. His farm near Sullivan, Ill., has been in the Shuman family since 1863. With wide, practical farming experience and an extensive educational background, a master's degree from the University of Illinois, Shuman will speak during a noon program at the park in Corunna.

Farmers attending the tour also will have a chance to pick up new ideas from the three farms to be visited. Purpose of the tour is to exchange ideas and to show and analyze the operations of successful farmers.

The first stop will be on the 240-acre farm of Russell Jenkinson near Corunna. The 25-cow herd gives its milk through some of the latest equipment, including a modern milking parlor and a pipeline milker. Other dairymen also will be interested in the arrangement that permits the milk cooler compressor to heat the milkhouse in winter.

The second stop, on the Joe Kalisek farm, also near Corunna, contrasts with that of the Jenkinson setup. Kalisek farms 320 acres and specializes in wheat and beans. He has built up a successful farm "from scratch" without livestock.

The last farm is an example of a successful small operation. With 110 tillable acres, Clarence Ruess and wife, near Owosso, produce more than enough feed for their 25 milk cows and 650 layers. Careful management and marketing have paid off for the young couple who bought the farm from his parents several years ago.

The tour will be preceded by a farm management banquet on the evening of Aug. 3 at Owosso. Economists from several states will present the outlook for various farm commodities.

WASHTENAW COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION NOTES

By DONALD MAURER
U. S. Soil Conservation Service

This is the first of a series of weekly news-columns I hope will better tell the story of soil and water conservation progress in the Washtenaw county Soil Conservation District. I will try to report your accomplishments as we see them while visiting your farms. We know fully that we can't see all the good conservation work you farmers are doing. There just aren't that many of us. So, if you're installing some conservation practice, let us know. We'll see that the story gets to the editor.

Besides reporting accomplishments we will try to bring you up to date information on the conservation of our basic resource for national well being and prosperity—our soil. We will report activities of your Washtenaw county Soil Conservation District, the local organization that is in charge of getting assistance to farmers to help them with their conservation programs. We urge you to send us comments or suggestions you may have for improving this column.

I stopped at Warren and Leslie Eisenbeiser's farm the other day. Looked at some filling and sod-ing work Les and Warren have been doing at the upper end of some old gullies. They used their manure loader to clean up a fence row, and the soil and brush were used to fill in the gullies. That's killing two birds with one stone! Clyde Hibbs and Stan Quackenbush, our soil conservation engineers, have been working with Harold Feldkamp on a water disposal problem. Harold is planning to shape and seed a grassed waterway to handle surface run-off. A tile alongside the waterway will take care of internal drainage water. A concrete spillway will be used to safely lower the water from the waterway into an open ditch and provide a good outlet for the tile.

The Washtenaw Agricultural Council met Wednesday evening. Details for the free line service were polished up. Check "List" where in your newspaper for announcement of the service which is beginning today.

MSU Man To UN's Swiss Meeting

Dr. H. B. Tukey, head of Michigan State University's horticulture department, has been named as an official delegate to the United Nations conference on "Peacetime Use of Atomic Energy." The conference is slated for Aug. 4-20 in Geneva, Switzerland.

Dr. Tukey termed the appointment "a gratifying recognition of radio-active isotope research, involving especially leaf feeding, by able young scientists of the horticulture department." The research determined how plants take in nutrients and how much they use. Radioactive tracers were used to measure the intake.

The support rate for the 1955 crop of pea beans is 70 per cent of parity, or $7.18 per hundredweight for U. S. No. 1 grade.

Meet Your Michigan

Michigan's Red Sea: Sailors have dubbed Torch Lake in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, "The Red Sea" because its waters are actually colored red by copper oxides dumped into the lake by copper mills along the west shore.

Detroit's Tallest: Tallest structure in the Detroit area is the new WMA-TV antenna tower, completed recently. The tower rises 1,000 feet into the sky, dwarfing a shorty of comparison, the 697-foot high Penobscot Building.

Cap's Count for Uniforms: Michigan State University students responded enthusiastically to the call to have during the Civil War, the university's first graduation ceremony had to be held in the schoolhouse because the entire class enlisted in the war.

Michigan Auto Pioneer Retires After 44 Years

DETROIT—A small town boy from Ohio who grew up to become one of Michigan's most colorful automotive pioneers, has bid farewell to the industry he helped create.

Fred J. Lamborn, vice president and general manager of the Dodge Division, Chrysler Corporation, retired last week after 44 years of continuous service with Dodge Division. His current plans call for a little earnest fishing in Michigan's abundant waters, and to call on acquaintances in Ohio and Michigan.

Born in Springfield, Ohio in 1888, Lamborn has had a colorful and interesting career as a pioneer automotive production genius.

Lamborn left Springfield for Detroit in 1911, intending to work his way on a cattleboat to England. In the budding motor city however, an uncle advised him to get a job at the new plant just being built by John and Horace Dodge. He intended to stay "only for a couple of months" to earn money for his passage to England. Once he started to work, however, the youth was so intrigued by the opportunities that the two months stretched onward to 44 years.

Throughout his career he has played a prominent part in Detroit's rise as the center of automotive production. It was he who provided the intricate tools needed to produce the first Dodge cars, which Pershing used later in chase-ing Pancho-Villa and with the AEF in France. And it was Lamborn whose genius found a way to mass-produce the famous French field guns so badly needed by Pershing—a feat the French said was impossible.

Still later, in World War II, Lamborn helped build more than 400,000 Dodge military vehicles and the delicate Sperry gyro-compass.

Upon his retirement, 100 Dodge and Chrysler executives, many of whom had worked with him since the early days, gathered to pay tribute to the man who had risen from a "boomer machinist" to one of the most responsible positions in the automotive field.

Among the many gifts showered upon him by W. C. Newberg, (left) president of Dodge, and K. T. Keller, (right) Chrysler chairman of the board, was a huge cup testifying to the respect in which Lamborn was held both as a production genius, and a citizen of Michigan.

Grading Manuals

Tell Regulations

Fruit and vegetable growers can get the latest information on grading their product from several new manuals published by Michigan State University.

Authorized by Agricultural Economist George N. Motts, these extension folders summarize regulations on grading, branding, packing and selling. Separate folders have been printed for peaches, grapes, cantaloupes, pears, apples, slicing cucumbers and tomatoes. Motts also makes practical interpretations of the rules.

Industry and labor have turned politics and laws topsy-turvy in Lansing.

Republicans increased weekly benefits to idle workers from $42 to $54 maximum, keeping the $30 maximum for single men. Gov. Williams signed the bill but didn't like it.

Williams said Democratic plans would have given workers—all workers—50 per cent of their regular earnings during idle periods. Republicans say their plan already does that.

Realists and those with adding machines say both are right, except that Williams is referring to take-home pay and Republicans to gross wages.

Republicans say the benefit increase gives Michigan the "best unemployment compensation law in any industrial state." Williams calls it "pitiful" and says the average boost is 71 cents.

That part of the argument is natural.

Labor and management in Detroit by negotiating modified guaranteed annual wage settlements at General Motors and Ford, set new scenery for attitudes.

The new contracts allow idle employees to collect state unemployment benefits, then the companies add in a percentage to give the idle worker a certain percentage of his weekly wage.

There is a need for legislation to erase the ban against recipients of unemployment compensation from otherwise receiving income while idle. Republicans are in favor of the changes.

Williams hinted at the possibility of Republicans raising benefits next year, so the proportionate share of the industries will be less when the benefit claims come in.

Williams, always in favor of higher benefits, said he might be joined by Republicans in the legislature who, he claims, have ignored his appeals for increases.

"It will demonstrate again the tender regard of the Republican party for big business," he said.

The fortunate participants in the controversy are the workers. Whatever happens now, they will benefit under any version of the plan—and most workers vote on election day.

Resort areas depending upon tourists in all seasons of the year for their existence had some welcome news this week.

The Michigan Tourist Council told legislators it would use the full $44,000 increase in its 1956-57 budget for advertising and promotional activities.

Ralph W. Budd, president of Great Lakes Greyhound Lines and three-time chairman of the council, said:

"We want to assure the legislature the money will be spent as we promised when the increase was granted."

While working on the general summer tourist season at the normal concentration, the council said it would work toward extending the season in the early spring and late summer.

Another idea will be to concentrate more on winter sport areas, to make Michigan a year-round vacation area.

Michigan State College is now Michigan State University but the change still is making.

The legislature changed the name effective July 1 to give the first agricultural college in the nation the stature MSU has earned in its 100 years.

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of the new university, has ordered that stationery supplies, cafeteria dishes and other items bearing the old name be used up before the new name replacements are requisitioned.

The Alma Mater and the Spartan Fight Song have been changed to rhyme and still carry the university designation.

Otherwise, there was no celebration along the banks of the Red Cedar when the change became official.

"We've long been a university and there's little cause for celebration at getting what we deserve," said one student.

Auditor General Victor Targonski just received an unprecedented grant of legal power.

Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh ruled that Targonski could cancel an annual county land tax sale if the treasurer failed to make the bidding competitive and sell each parcel separately.

Without pointing a finger, Targonski hinted broadly that some treasurers were selling large parcels of land to friends without competitive bidding.

Kavanagh also ruled that if a tax sale were cancelled, the land would revert to the state, the treasurer and his bondman would be liable for the cost of re-advertising the subsequent sale and for the interest which the state lost by the delay.

As a crowning opinion, Kavanagh said that if treasurers failed to follow the letter of the tax sale law, a petition would be started for their removal.

IT NEVER WAS NECESSARY TO "Enjoy" POOR HEALTH...

Many people seem to "enjoy" poor health. They would not care to be without a cupboardful of odd medicines for self-treatment—some of which may not be in keeping with competent medical advice.

The better way is to enjoy good health—by careful planning. Consult your Doctor at regular intervals, more often if required. He will prescribe only the preparations that you need—preparations of the highest quality, such as those from the laboratories of Parke, Davis & Company—prescriptions which we will be pleased to compound for you. The necessity for medication will pass, and life with abundant health can become a pleasure indeed.
