Polio Vaccine Clinic Set For Sept. 19

Need New Request Slip from Parents For Second 'Shot'

The second series polio vaccine clinic is to be held in the Chelsea schools Monday, Sept. 19, according to an announcement by Dr. Otto Engleke, Washtenaw county health officer.

A clinic is also scheduled for Sept. 19 at Milan, and others are to be held at Saline, Sept. 20, and at Lincoln school—Sept. 22, according to the Health Department announcement.

All children in 2nd and 3rd grades of school in Washtenaw county will be eligible to receive the vaccine regardless of whether they received an injection in the spring, Dr. Engleke said.

Before a child can receive the vaccine at these clinics a request slip signed by the parent must be on hand at the clinic. Parents are reminded that the request slip not be sufficient to allow the child to be vaccinated at the September clinic. New request slips are being sent home with all children in the 2nd and 3rd grades.

Dr. Engleke expressed hope that these children who were not given the first injection during the spring series of clinics would take advantage of the opportunity to get the vaccine at these clinics.

Members of the Washtenaw County Medical Society are again donating their time to help conduct these clinics as well as a number of other volunteers from the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and interested people from each community.

Clinics will not be held in Dexter, Manchester, Whitmore Lake, and Stone schools since the children in these schools received their second injections before the program was suspended in the spring.

Mrs. Atkinson Quits Post with County Red Cross Chapter

Mrs. Ethel L. Atkinson, executive secretary of the Washtenaw county chapter of the American Red Cross since June, 1951, has announced that she is leaving the position, her resignation to become effective Dec. 1.

Mrs. Atkinson was instrumental in establishing the county's blood club program which now has 17 clubs in the county. She was also active in establishing a disaster preparedness and relief plan for the county.

She will be succeeded by Wilfred St. Aubin of Washington, D.C., according to an announcement by Lawrence H. Oulmet, chairman of the Washtenaw County Red Cross chapter.

One Minor Auto Accident Over Holiday

Labor Day week-end saw only one minor accident in this vicinity, according to Sheriff's Department records.

A Chicago woman, Mrs. Mary Duggan, suffered lacerations of the face and left knee when the car she was riding in, driven by her husband, Joseph, collided with the side of a car driven by George E. Young of Manchester. She was taken to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

The accident occurred at 8:45 a.m. Sunday as both cars were traveling east on US-12 and Young was making a right turn onto Fletcher road.

Sheriff Erwin L. Klager said yesterday that he attributes the remarkable safety record for the three-day holiday week-end to the well-organized plan worked out beforehand, using 14 men from the National Guard and three civilian patrol planes equipped with two-way radios in cooperation with State Police and Sheriff's Department officers.

The planes were used to spot locations where traffic jams were developing and on-the-ground officers were quickly dispatched to the scene.

Sheriff Klager said Monday traffic was not quite as heavy as anticipated, many people returning from summer stays at lakes and resorts Sunday instead of waiting for traffic jams. This helped ease the traffic situation Monday, Klager said.

Oil Well Crew Member Killed in Traffic Accident

Gerald Hamilton of Mt. Pleasant, was killed Sunday in a traffic accident in Gratiot county as he was enroute home for the holiday week-end.

Hamilton, who was 33 years old, was one of the men employed in drilling operations on the test oil well on the farm of Mrs. Herman Mohrlock, on Old US-12, west of Chelsea.

Drilling operations were halted Tuesday when all the crew attended his funeral.

Grass Lake Team Wins Softball Title

Grass Lake Merchants softball team won the Class C state title at the finals played at Petoskey over the Labor Day week-end.

Stockbridge Couple Beaten To Death

Search Underway For Escaped Jackson Prison Convict

Howard Herrick, 63, and his wife, Myrna, 62, were found beaten to death in the barn on their farm near Stockbridge at 11:25 p.m. Monday and Ingham county sheriff's officers are seeking an escaped Jackson State Prison inmate for questioning.

The Herricks, who lived alone on the farm, had apparently been killed Saturday and their bodies covered with baled hay. The escaped prisoner, Neely J. Buchanan, 30 years old, was suspected when a coverall, identified as prison garb, was found at the scene. It is presumed the slayer took some of Herrick's clothing. Money was missing from a purse but the house had not been ransacked.

It was theorized that Herrick was struck down after he drove his car into the barn at 5 p.m. Saturday. His wife was presumably killed when she went to the barn to see why her husband did not come to the house after parking his car.

The couple had evidently been beaten to death with a mechanic's hammer which was found near their bodies.

Sheriff's men started a search for the couple after a daughter of the Herricks telephoned one of her brothers, Harold Herrick of Onondaga, saying she had been at the farm Sunday and could not locate her parents. He investigated and found that the house was locked and a punket had not been fed and notified the sheriff's office.

Buchanan reportedly escaped from prison Friday in a dump truck which was found abandoned near Stockbridge later the same day. He was serving a sentence of 1 to 15 years on a breaking and entering charge.

The slain couple's family included two sons and two daughters, Harold of Onondaga, Lester of Gregory, and Mrs. Lucille Ferman and Mrs. Monnie Ferman of Williamston.

MOMS To Dedicate Memorial Fountain In New Courthouse

Mrs. Alton Hewett of Ann Arbor, chairman of the memorial committee of the Ann Arbor unit of Mothers of Men in Service (MOMS), has announced that the drinking fountain placed in the new Washtenaw county Courthouse as a memorial to servicemen, is to be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies at 3 p.m. Oct. 16. A tentative date of Oct. 2 had been announced earlier.

The drinking fountain which cost $1,250, was purchased with funds which have been accumulated since the end of World War II through money-making projects of the Ann Arbor unit, with the addition of some contributions from other organizations in the county.

New Sheriff's Deputy Joins Department

William T. Lewis, 6500 Jackson road, Ann Arbor, is to become a member of the Washtenaw county Sheriff's Department Monday, Sept. 12, according to an announcement by Sheriff Erwin L. Klager.

The new sheriff's deputy replaces Deputy Kenneth Holzapfel who has resigned after eight years with the department.

Lewis was with the Ann Arbor Police Department from Jan. 3 until Aug. 20 when he resigned to take a position as plant guard with Hoover Steel Ball company of Ann Arbor.

Malcolm Bruce Named To Fill Council Vacancy

Malcolm Bruce is to serve on the Village Council until the next village election having been appointed by Village President Maxwell G. Sweet at Tuesday's Council meeting to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Glen Hass. Bruce's appointment was confirmed by the Council.

Bruce, who is a veteran of two years' service in the U. S. Navy, is personnel director at Chelsea Spring Division of Rockwell Spring and Axle company. He has been with Chelsea Spring company for seven years.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Chelsea Kiwanis club; was active in the development of the Chelsea Community Chest, and served until recently as a member of its board of directors; and is co-chairman of the Chelsea Blood Bank of which Mrs. Dudley Holmes is chairman.

Bruce is married and the father of three children. His home is at 218 East Middle street.

Dr. Hass' resignation, submitted by letter, was accepted by the Council prior to action on the appointment of Bruce. Dr. Hass and his family have moved to the west coast.

Other business at Tuesday's meeting included presentation of an application for a building permit for a new Knights of Columbus hall on the east side of South Main street near the village limits.

According to plans submitted at the meeting, the architectural style of the new building would be in harmony with the existing residential architecture of the area.

Action on the matter was tabled until the next meeting scheduled for Sept. 12.

Treasurer Tells How County Polio Funds Are Spent

H. G. Watkins, treasurer of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has just released his financial report covering his "patron year" from July 1, 1954 to June 30, 1955.

He stated that the purpose of the report is not to solicit funds but to inform contributors and volunteer workers throughout the county how their time and dollars were spent.

According to the treasurer's report, the balance on hand July 1, 1954, was $1,670.11.

The August, 1954, emergency March of Dimes campaign netted the county chapter $9,854.38, representing one-third of the $29,203.14 collected in the county.

Of the remainder, equal amounts went to the vaccine program and to the National Foundation in New York for respiratory centers, professional education, research and the epidemic aid fund.

Washtenaw county received $25,000 from the national epidemic aid fund and also received $2,832.39 as receipts from campaigns (re-funds from hospitals).

Washtenaw county's receipts from the January, 1954, March of Dimes campaign, was $34,625.49, which was one-half of the total contributions received. The remaining half went to the National Foundation.

Thus, total receipts for the county during the year are listed at $73,082.37.

Expenditures for the year for patient care amounted to $57,312.17. Patients included 44 stricken children, 52 all-stricken prior to 1954, 910 out-patient visits and two who are still in the hospital.

Expenditures for chapter operating costs were $2,002.81, bringing the total expenditure for the year to $60,214.98, leaving a balance of $13,767.39 July 1, 1955.

WATCH OUT FOR CHILDREN—Police Chief John Carman, Village President Maxwell G. Sweet, resident controller at Chelsea Spring Division, and School Superintendent Charles A. Cameron are shown above with two blinker signals made available for the safety of school children by Chelsea Spring Division of Rockwell Spring and Axle Company as evidence of the company's interest in community welfare. Representing the company in making the presentation to the Chelsea school system was Lowell Davidson, Chelsea Spring Division plant manager. The blinkers are equipped with six-volt batteries and recharging units. Rubber-tired wheels make it easy to move the blinkers to the center of the street during the time children are going to and from school. One of the blinkers is located near the Summit street crossing and the other near Pierce street on South Main street. Chief Carman urges all drivers to be especially cautious at all intersections where school children are crossing, observing at all times the admonition to "Watch Out for Children."

Howell—The regular league season ended with a run of forfeited games as many of the teams found it difficult to field a team over this holiday week-end. The standings remained the same, with the Powerville Merchants still on top by a game with still one make-up game to go against Howell.

Chelsea—took two games to keep its title hopes alive by downing the Lansing Latin American club on Sunday, 11-7, in a free swinging game, and then knocking off Wolver-Parking on Monday, 10-0, in a pitching job by Phil Barols.

He gave up only four hits and struck out 10.

Joe Lacey batted five hits and Gus Ledwidge had four including a three-run homer as Howell overwhelmed Saline, 19-5 on Sunday. Howell had a total of 18 hits in this game, and could have saved a few for Monday's encounter with Chelsea.

Ypsi Ford Local took a pair of games to stay even with Howell in a tie for fourth place. Sunday saw them journey to Lansing to nose out Fisher Local 602, 8-6, as Dick Smith struck out 13. Two four-run innings on Monday enabled them to down the Latin Americans, 8-3.

An important make-up game is on tap this week-end, as Howell travels to Powerville to test the league leaders. Powerville needs this one to win the title outright, while it less will put them in a tie with Chelsea unless Chelsea is upset by Leslie. It is doubtful if this will occur however, as Leslie has forfeited its last five games. A win for Howell would put them in a tie for third place with Saline.

The Howell-Powerville game will be played at Powerville starting at 2 p.m. John Wellington or Bill Judd will hurl for Powerville, with Jack School on the mound for Howell.

Bee Sting Gives Husband Chance For Last Word

Lansing—A state park manager recently was called on to give a woman visitor first aid for a bee sting.
But unlike most stings, this one was inside the woman; she was talking and the bee flew in and stung her throat. It stopped her talking.
The manager pointed out that there probably wasn't much to be done for an internal sting. He suggested rest.
Cheered by the news, the woman's husband happily led away his wife. It was the first time in 10 years, he said, when she couldn't have the last word on anything.

This Nocturnal Porcupine . . .

As school starts this fall, about one Michigan child out of every ten is likely to have trouble seeing. This finding was cited as a reason for the importance of vision testing for children. The Michigan Department of Health has urged parents to have their children's eyes tested before school starts.

School Preparation Should Include Vision Testing

It is a fact that many children have vision problems that are not detected until they enter school. The Michigan Department of Health has urged parents to have their children's eyes tested before school starts. This is especially true for children who have a family history of vision problems or who have had vision problems in the past.

National Magazine Shows Local People In Feature Story

In the September issue of Town Journal, formerly the Pathfinder magazine, an article on the growing popularity of station wagons in the United States features colored pictures of station wagons owned by several Chelsea and Manchester people together with pictures of the owners and members of their families.

Warren Eisenbeiser and his son, John, appear in one of the pictures which was taken at their home at North Lake.

Manchester people included in the pictures are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton and their four sons, Gary, 13; Douglas, 11; Dennis, 8; and Stephen, 2. The picture of their station wagon and an accompanying tent was taken at Little Silver Lake.

Others from Manchester are Dr. and Mrs. Robert Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schilbe shown in a cook-out scene at the trout pond behind the Jones home, and the Luckhart family, Mr. and Mrs. Luckhart and their two daughters, Sonnie and Sue. The two girls are shown in an inflated playpen which fits into the back of the station wagon. The Luckhart family, in another picture of the series, is shown using the station wagon to bring to the barn a newborn calf born in the field some distance from the farmhouse.

State Republicans are rubbing their hands in happy anticipation of their "open to everyone" political get-together at Mackinac Island Sept. 17-18.

They watched a similar meeting with some anxiety. But as the session continued, GOP leaders relaxed.

"They are just rehearsing the same old chatter," said a leading Republican spokesman. "They just haven't got an issue and they know it. The Republican national administration has given the country peace and prosperity; provided the working man with the best income ever, and will probably balance the budget. Personal attacks on Eisenhower have been getting them nowhere, so they must scrape the bottom of the barrel for anything to criticize."

Truman's appearance failed to produce much interest, according to GOP observers. In fact, they believe that it is Democratic worry about the former President's unpredictable statements that caused him to cancel several campaign speeches this fall—not his health as was announced.

Republicans are billing their meeting as the All-Michigan Republican Forward to '56 Conference. Anyone interested in good government is said to be welcome.

Program calls for several nationally known speakers, like Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the national committee, to be present. There will be talks on foreign affairs, finance, domestic problems; panels on such subjects as mental health, education and state economy.

Subdivisions of the GOP will huddle to decide what should be done about winning the state election in 1956. Besides the State Central Committee, which will ponder the same problem, sessions have been scheduled for the Young Republicans, Republican women, Republican war veterans, etc.

"A blue ribbon slate." That's the aim of the GOP and its machinations. They are hoping to find a list of "well qualified, energetic" candidates, with irresistible public appeal. Who they will be or where they'll be found is not yet certain. In fact, recent trial balloons for candidates for the governor's race indicates that things are very much up in the air.

Peace and Prosperity for the Michigan of Tomorrow. That's the announced theme for the GOP Mackinac meeting. A necessary part of any such plan, from their standpoint at least, means the first big job to be accomplished is the organizing of their own party.

You don't need a "BUNDLE" to wrap up this BONUS-BARGAIN

Sometimes, a bargain is measured by how little you pay. Sometimes, it's measured by how much you get.

But here's one that's a whopping bargain by both measures. Because right now—for the leastest money of the year—you can buy the mostest Buick in history.

That, Mister, is because we're adding a profit-sharing bonus allowance on top of the long trade-in allowances we've been making all year.

And when we say the "mostest" Buick, we mean the most-wanted Buick ever built—the one that has broken every record in the book—outselling by far all other cars except the two most widely known smaller ones.

We mean the Buick that brings you the most for your money in terms of mighty V8 Power—of real family-size room—of bold fresh styling. The one that gives you the most buoyant ride ever born of all-coil springing.

And we mean the only car blessed by the smooth magic of Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—world's first transmission built on the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller.

Come on in. We're ready and waiting to make you the deal of your life on the most thrilling Buick ever.

into a machine that can win Michigan elections.

Organized efforts by many local groups will soon be made in a campaign to urge all eligible voters to register. This is part of a national drive, suggested by President Eisenhower, to get out the vote for coming elections.

Cooperating with the idea, Gov. Williams appointed a state committee to promote the idea through branches of their individual organizations—political, trade, civic, religious, etc.

Constitution Day, Sept. 17, will see the kick-off of the seven-day drive. The period will be called Citizenship Week. The governor has also issued a proclamation asking for wide spread participation in the promotion to insure registration of all eligible voters.

Various activities will be seen in various areas. In metropolitan areas branch registration offices will be set up, manned by firemen, policemen or other volunteers. In other localities, telephone campaigns will be organized. Bulletin boards will remind people to register. Newspapers, radio and TV will carry the message.

HUMOROUS SUGGESTION was submitted by the editor of a northern weekly newspaper in an open letter to the "New Secretary of State—Whoever You Are."

The editor referred to the running battle about the site of the jet interceptor base in northern Michigan, calling it a "Lazy Susan basis, stopping here and there." He suggested that the matter be left to the U. S. Navy. The base could then be built on an aircraft carrier, which could steam to the area which satisfied the most political pressures. Other advantages of this plan were listed: no towers; no Congressional district boundaries. In the summer it could be moved from the National Music Camp area, because, he says, no enemy would be expected to attack during "music season."

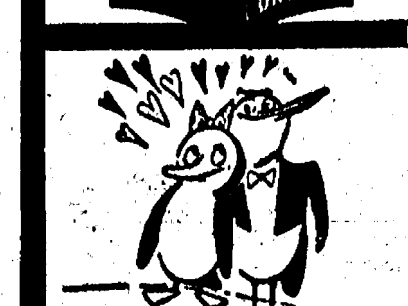

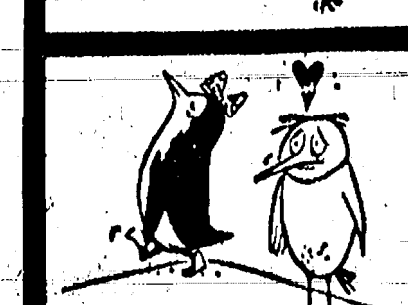

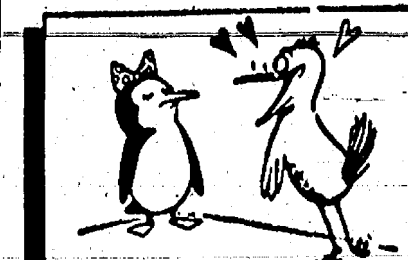

Slogans on license plates denigrating the workers of Michigan may be abandoned in 1957.

It all started when Secretary of State James M. Hare assigned a committee to a study of highway safety measures and an anonymous attorney questioned the right of the state to advertise on license plates.

Hare mentioned that the National Safety Council was recommending that states drop the slogans to make the digits more readable.

Then came the dissenters. Robert J. Furlong, executive secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council, asked Hare to spare that slogan until the facts could be gathered. He said he had a letter from the National Safety Council, denying a recommendation one way or the other on the slogans. At the moment, the issue still is unsettled.

Attend Reunion of World War II Buddies

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Heim were in Chicago the week-end of the past week and Saturday evening, Aug. 27, attended the first reunion of former members of D Battery of the 451st Infantry who had served together in Africa and Europe during World War II. There were approximately 45 men present and most of them were accompanied by their wives.

The reunion, the first in the 10 years since the men served together, was held in the LaSalle hotel and plans were discussed for holding another get-together in three years. New York was chosen as the meeting place for that reunion.

Keeping good alfalfa stands with topdressing requires a properly limed soil and a good alfalfa stand to start, caution soil scientists.

WARFARAT, new Dr. Hess rat killer, is made with warfarin, new rodenticide developed at the University of Wisconsin. Rat control specialists refer to warfarin as "the ideal poison", and report "miraculous results". Kills common brown rats, black or roof rats, also mice.
They eat it and bleed to death internally—do not become bait shy.

Warfarin is prepared bait. More attractive than a rat's usual diet of farm grains. Best way to use it is to establish rat feeding stations and keep it there until all rats are killed. Rats do not develop tolerance.

With Warfarin you can really get rid of rats and keep your farm clean.
It is a relatively slow killer. Give it a thorough trial and you'll say it's the best yet.

The Washtenaw county Sheriff's Department report for the months of July and August shows a total of $8,521.01 turned into the general fund and $2,272.00 turned into the library fund for the two months.

The general fund receipts represent fees and other revenues from service of papers, accident reports, teletype messages, transporting, board, photos and boat inspection; credit on the sheriff's budget for gas tax refund; discount on gas; policing Willow Run; and costs paid in the courts of Judges O'Brien, Deake, Urquhart and Dibble.

The library fund total represents fines paid in the courts of the four judges.

The traffic report for the two months shows 48 personal injury accidents; 122 property damage accidents; 4 fatal accidents with 4 persons killed; 105 persons injured; 309 vehicles involved; and the total number of accidents listed at 174.

A total of 427 complaints of various kinds was received by the department; 651 motorists were received and 13,030 meals served.

Traffic violations were listed at 163; and arrests, 158.

Drivers' license fees for the two months amounted to $4,664.00, according to the report.

At the Willow-Run office of the Sheriff's Department the report showed 22 arrests; 506 drivers' licenses; 154 papers served; 50 violation tickets; and 27 3-day violation tickets.

The identification bureau report shows 651 persons were fingerprinted; 45 warrants were received; 36 warrants were closed; and 69 criminal complaints were received.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This column is an informational service of the State Bar of Michigan.

A parking ticket is the worst you ever expect from the police—so you'd hardly know what to do if arrested.

Sure, I'm a law-abiding citizen and go to church every Sunday. I never intend to tangle with the police. They have a tough job, and I've never yet met the cop that I felt was overpaid; but I'm willing to let policemen perform their services on a reasonable basis.

Let's suppose, though, that a policeman did come to arrest me—OR YOU—on a serious charge. I don't know about you, but I'm certainly puzzled as to what to do!

I've read all about how the constitution guarantees me "civil rights," but I'd sure want someone in my corner—right away—who knew the ins and outs of law and what I should or shouldn't do.

At the very beginning, though, I'd have to go it alone.

So, first off, I'd want to know that policeman had good reason to be after me, and I'd ask to see his warrant for my arrest. He would have to have one (unless he had all but caught me redhanded), and he would have to show it to me within a reasonable time.

That much I know. Then, I guess I'd go along peacefully; not happily, but peacefully.

I know I've got these "civil rights" that start from the time the policeman first appears and—if necessary—follow me right through to the supreme court. But I'd want to take full advantage of every one of those guarantees.

We all know that we can't legally be forced to answer any questions or sign any papers, that we have a right to a prompt court hearing, and that we are entitled to apply for bail. We know these principles from our history books, at least, just like I know in a vague sort of way that American law assures me that I'm entitled to learn the exact charge placed against me, and to have a copy of the formal charge in writing.

It's one thing to know that I possess these rights, but it's a rare occurrence when criminal courts have a serious miscarriage of justice, and that policemen are up-right citizens earning a livelihood the hard way, with no authority or desire to harass the innocent.

It's something else to know exactly what course to take when you run smack into the law. That's when I'd call for help and secure the peace of mind that goes with being certain of a "fair shake".

Yes, sir, if a policeman came for me and had a warrant with my name on it in big letters I wouldn't give him a hard time, because he has a legal order to arrest me. He wouldn't have that warrant unless some judge or justice of the peace had been convinced by a person with firsthand information, on a signed complaint, that there was good reason to believe I had committed a certain criminal act. Or, perhaps, a grand jury had worked my case over and found enough reason for an indictment. A warrant as a rule isn't easily come by.

Even without a warrant, a police officer could legally arrest me if he had reasonable grounds to believe I had committed a serious crime, or was attempting to commit one.

Although I knew a cop was dead wrong—that I was 100 per cent in the clear—I wouldn't pull any funny stuff. Sure, I'm entitled to bring suit for damages in a case of false arrest, but again I'd want some straight advice, for chances are that almost any well-trained police officer could offer pretty strong proof that he had reasonable grounds for his action.

Something else I figured out the other day, too. With chances being that the police officer knows when he's making a lawful arrest, I could be completely innocent of the charge he was arresting me for; but if I started a hassle, I could suddenly become as guilty as you-know-what-of-a-second crime, that of resisting an officer.

Yes, I'll go quietly. Then, with my lawyer beside me, I'll let those American civil rights go to work!

Peach Orchards Found Suffering From Lack of Zinc

Defects from a lack of zinc are showing up in some Michigan peach orchards.

Michigan State University horticulturists, who have noted the lack of zinc, say you can tell the deficiency by:

Small, narrow leaves that show a lack of color between the veins. With the short and slender leaves, the shoots look as if they had been hit by a virus.

In one zinc-deficient orchard the MSU researchers found that the internode (portion of the stem between joints) length was shortened.

In western states fruit growers have been using dormant sprays of 25 pounds of zinc sulfate per 100 gallons of water to correct zinc deficiency.

Soil applications of zinc sulfate have not been completely successful, the horticulturists indicate. They say that chelated zinc offers Chemical companies have the material.

For a whipped-topping lower in calories than either whipped cream or whipped evaporated milk, MSU home economists say, use non-fat dry milk solids. To make 2 1/2 cups of topping, add 1/4 cup dry milk powder to 1/4 cup water and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Whip until it is stiff and beat in 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla. Chill and use promptly.

Your Child and Reading

By Dr. Byron H. Van Roekel
Assistant Professor of Education
Michigan State University

Some of you may have children who are in the upper elementary grades or in junior or senior high school and are not reading as well as you feel they should. In some instances these children are extremely retarded and are working several grade levels below the grade they are in. It is not difficult to determine when a child is working below grade level, but it is not so easy to determine why this happens to be the case.

The question that probably is most frequently asked in regard to this problem is, "Do you think that the child's vision might be responsible for his difficulty with reading?"

Since entire books have been written on this subject, it is possible to give only a brief answer here. Perhaps the best way to answer the question is to look at the facts.

People who have investigated this problem have usually done so by taking a number of children and classifying them as follows:

Those with normal vision; those who are nearsighted; those who are farsighted; etc. Then the investigator would determine through tests and other ways how well these children actually read. Then they compared the percentage of poor readers in each group.

Now if children with specific visual defects were more likely to have reading difficulties than children with normal vision.

These studies, in general, show that there are almost as many poor readers among children with normal vision as there are poor readers among children with visual maladjustments.

Does this mean that we, as parents, need not concern ourselves about visual difficulties of children? This is in no way implied in the research on the subject. The investigators feel that in some instances children do have difficulty with reading because of visual defects, but that in general this is not true and some authorities are of the opinion that children with visual maladjustments who are good readers would have learned to read sooner and better if their vision had been corrected before.

Hard-cooked eggs keep for hours without refrigeration, in an unbroken shell, thanks to the protection of both the shell and the paper-like lining underneath. This is a good reason to include hard-cooked eggs in your picnic basket point out home economists.

Supper sandwiches should be hearty, says Elaine Mishler, home economics staff member at Michigan State University. Use plenty of meat or cheese on each sandwich. Bread, but party sandwiches should be hearty and just as pretty to look at as they are good to eat. For these party foods, she says, to be sure to contrast fillings, shapes and garnishes and display them attractively on trays and platters.

Miss Mishler passes on some tricks in making party sandwiches. The bread should be one day old and it will cut more easily. And she adds if you cannot buy bread sliced the thickness you want, then a sharp knife and a cutting board are necessities.

Another suggestion is to cut the bread lengthwise so the spreading of the filling will be easier and you will have less slices to handle. She points out that all bread should be sliced at the same time and before any of the actual sandwich making is done. Slicing time is much faster if all but the bottom crust is removed.

To prevent bread from drying out, Miss Mishler suggests keeping slices stacked and in a pan lined with a damp cloth and covered with wax paper. Cover the sliced bread with wax paper and a damp cloth.

Butter should be creamed until it is the proper consistency to spread. Melted butter only soaks into the bread and makes the sandwiches soggy. Fillings and garnishes should be prepared ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator.

Feed sacks can now be funnied at a few cents' cost to prevent the spread of Newcastle disease.

Cracked Turkey Eggs Hatched with Aid of Scotch Tape

Lansing—The proper student of zoology might be surprised to hear that Scotch tape is necessary to his work, but such seems the case.

A mowing machine partially destroyed a wild turkey nest in Allegan county this spring and four of the eight eggs were badly crushed. All, however, were taken to the Department's game farm near Mason.

Roy M. Hunt, in charge of the farm, taped cracked eggs back together and began incubation. When the incubation period ended, five of the eggs hatched into healthy wild poults, including two of the Scotch-taped eggs.

The birds, now well on their way to adulthood, will be released in the Allegan area in the near future.

More than a third of a million people attended the Centennial Farm Mechanization at Michigan State University, August 15-20.

She points out that all bread should be sliced at the same time and before any of the actual sandwich making is done. Slicing time is much faster if all but the bottom crust is removed.

To prevent bread from drying out, Miss Mishler suggests keeping slices stacked and in a pan lined with a damp cloth and covered with wax paper. Cover the sliced bread with wax paper and a damp cloth.

Butter should be creamed until it is the proper consistency to spread. Melted butter only soaks into the bread and makes the sandwiches soggy. Fillings and garnishes should be prepared ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator.

Feed sacks can now be funnied at a few cents' cost to prevent the spread of Newcastle disease.

Supper sandwiches should be hearty, says Elaine Mishler, home economics staff member at Michigan State University. Use plenty of meat or cheese on each sandwich. Bread, but party sandwiches should be hearty and just as pretty to look at as they are good to eat. For these party foods, she says, to be sure to contrast fillings, shapes and garnishes and display them attractively on trays and platters.

Miss Mishler passes on some tricks in making party sandwiches. The bread should be one day old and it will cut more easily. And she adds if you cannot buy bread sliced the thickness you want, then a sharp knife and a cutting board are necessities.

Another suggestion is to cut the bread lengthwise so the spreading of the filling will be easier and you will have less slices to handle. ## Wild Turkeys To Be Released by Conservation Dept.

Lansing—One hundred and fifty wild turkeys will be released in two wild areas of Lake county, northwest of Baldwin, soon after Labor Day.

The birds were hatched from Pennsylvania wild stock eggs and raised at the Conservation Department's game farm near Mason.

A number of areas in the northern lower peninsula were studied as possible release points, but the Lake county sites appeared best as turkey habitat. Also, experience from past releases made by clubs, individuals and the Department in various other northern areas helped eliminate all but the Lake county region. The sites are remote, have some water and a good stand of oak trees, all of which are important for turkeys.

The releases are an extension of the Department's current attempt to re-establish the big wild birds in Michigan. Two hundred were released in Allegan state forest last year and a number of broods of young have been observed there this year.

Turkeys formerly were common in the state but disappeared about the turn of the century.

Farmers, Hunters Gather To Discuss Mutual Problems

Lansing—Both farmers and hunters have parts to play in improving farmer-sportsman relations, and neither group is without blame when those relations are seriously strained.

Dan Reed, Michigan Farm Bureau official, pointed out this joint responsibility when 250 farmers and sportsmen got together near Lapeer to discuss the problem early this week.

He said farmers often fail to call law enforcement officials when hunters trespass on their lands. Law officers cannot invoke the Horton trespass law without a request from the land-owner. When such activity goes unpunished, it serves only to deepen the wedge between the two groups.

Hunters are responsible, Reed said, for respecting property rights and for exhibiting common courtesy when hunting in farm country.

The group had a picnic dinner at the County Center building in Lapeer, was joined out of a proposed field trip, held a lively round-table discussion of their problems and concluded with slides on the state's farm-game habitat program.

Hunters came from Detroit, Pontiac, Flint, Port Huron and Monroe county. Most of the farmers were from Lapeer county.

Reed termed the meeting "another successful step toward better farmer-sportsman relations" and said that only through such individual and group action would the problem be solved.

Conservation Commissioner Frank E. Burch of Detroit, attended the meeting and spoke briefly. Parts of the meeting were filmed and will be used on the Conservation Department's weekly television show, "Michigan Conservation."
