Gridders Earn Victory over Flat Rock

Team Travels to Stockbridge Friday For Final Game

Chelsea High Gridders traveled to Flat Rock last Friday night for a game which was a 20-0 victory. In a series dating back to 1940, the Bulldogs defeated Flat Rock on the home field for the first time. It was only Chelsea's fourth win over the Rams who have always been troublemakers.

The Bulldogs kicked off to Flat Rock and on the first play, the Rams looked like they would conquer their home field edge. Quarterback Bob Stevens threw a pass in the flat to end Greg Hatcher and the fast end sped down the sideline 65 yards for the touchdown. Byron Good's placement kick was good and the Bulldogs realized they had a battle on their hands.

Following the kick-off, Chelsea could not gain and were forced to punt. The Rams drove down field to Chelsea's 30 where they lost the ball on a fumble.

The recovery seemed to perk up the Bulldogs as they started to march. Ten plays later the Bulldogs scored as quarterback Hugh Weinberg slipped over from the two-yard line behind good blocking by Jay Ferguson, Joe Bauer and Neil Palmer. Weinberg fumbled on the extra point attempt and the Bulldogs still trailed 7-0.

Following the kick-off the Rams scored a touchdown. Weinberg's fumbling penalty slowed them. Then George Collier broke through to nail the Ram passer and Flat Rock was forced to punt.

Moving rapidly, the Bulldogs drove to the Ram ten. With second and eight, one of the most unusual plays of the season or any season occurred. Quarterback Weinberg and fullback Ted Nixon collaborated on a beautiful fake before Weinberg pitched the ball out to Johnny Jones. Nixon was tackled by a host of Rams who thought he had the ball. However, the referee was also fooled and blew his whistle thinking the play was over.

In the meantime, Jones sped over for what should have been the touchdown. However, the whistle nullified the run.

Not to be denied, Weinberg called for the identical play to the other side and pitched out to Jim McLaughlin. This time the official ruled that he had the ball and the Bulldogs had their second touch down. Nixon cracked up the middle for the extra point and Chelsea led 13-7.

Flat Rock came back with another strong passing attack and moved to the Bulldog 10 with the aid of a pass interference penalty. On the last play of the half, Flat Rock passed in the flat but Odie Richardson made a crashing tackle on the pass receiver that stopped a sure Flat Rock score.

The second half was a different story as the Bulldogs controlled the ball and allowed the Rams to complete only one pass.

Chelsea took the second half kick-off and drove in for the score as Jones swept his own right end for five yards behind good blocking by Don Mashar, Nixon and McLaughlin. McLaughlin cracked over for the extra point.

In the fourth quarter the Bulldogs threatened often but could not score as two T.D.s were called back because of clipping infractions. Defensively Ken Bauer, Don Harris and Glen Weir turned in fine ball games.

The victory allowed the Bulldogs to climb into a second place tie with Lincoln in the final standings. The B-2 league record is the best compiled by the local team in the past five years.

This Friday the Bulldogs travel to Stockbridge for the season's final game.

Soil Samples Tested for Lime Requirements

Response of farmers to the free soil testing program conducted by the Washtenaw Agricultural Council was "disappointing," according to a report from the Agricultural Extension office at Ann Arbor. Locally, only a dozen samples of soil were brought in during the four-hour period the testing unit was at Chelsea High school Monday.

The soil testing was offered chiefly to discover the lime requirements of soils in the area. Complete analysis for fertilizer requirements was also available for a nominal fee.

Similarly disappointing results were also encountered Thursday at Saline and Friday at Manchester. Only 20 samples were brought in at Saline. At Milan, however, approximately 70 samples were tested Wednesday of last week.

The soil testing program was concluded this week with visits to Dexter, Tuesday and South Lyon Saturday. Results at these locations are not yet available.

Legion Post, Auxiliary Host District State Police

Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, American Legion, and the Legion Auxiliary were host and hostess groups for the meeting of the Second District, Department of Michigan, held Sunday at Chelsea High school.

Guest speaker at the dinner served at 12:30 p.m. was Judge James R. Breakey, Jr. His talk centered on the activities which are to take place today in connection with Boys and Girls' County Day at Ann Arbor. County Day, held each year during American Education Week, is customarily highlighted by visits to courts of Ann Arbor to observe trials. Also visited are various county government agencies.

The business sessions of both men's and women's groups were held at 3 p.m. The Auxiliary met in the study hall at the school and the Legion held its meeting in the Legion Home at Cavanaugh Lake.

Mrs. Ruth Chiswell of the local Auxiliary, presided at the afternoon session for the first time in her capacity as president of the Second District. Mrs. Grant Schooley is district secretary.

Arthur Klump of Dexter, recently installed as district committee chairman, presided at the men's meeting. A feature of the day's sessions was presentation of the Vern Kelley trophy to the Morenci Post for having the highest percentage of blood donated to the Legion Blood Bank of the district.

The next joint meeting of Post and Auxiliary members here is scheduled for tonight when Veterans Day and the birthday of the Legion Auxiliary will be observed. The celebration includes a dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the Legion Home.

Bank increases savings account interest rate

Beginning Dec. 1, Chelsea State Bank will increase its interest rate on savings accounts from the present one per cent to two per cent, according to an announcement made yesterday.

State Police To Interview Applicants

A Michigan State Police recruiting team will visit Chelsea on Saturday, Nov. 20, to interview applicants in connection with the current drive to obtain 200 additional troopers authorized by the special session of the state legislature.

The team will be located at the Municipal building from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Its two recruiting offices of the Jackson post will be present to handle details.

The recruiting team will also be at the Town Hall in Manchester, Monday, Nov. 14 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. and at the city offices in Saline on Tuesday, Nov. 15 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Of particular interest to young men is a new salary increase approved by the State Civil Service Commission. Training school pay has been raised to equal that received by the State Police by a full grade increase and there is also a general increase covering all brackets.

The range is $151 every two weeks, beginning with training school, up to a maximum of $192 in the trooper ranks. Likewise, the maximum is attained at the end of four years, or a year less than formerly. In the past, training school pay has been $116.

In addition to salaries, troopers receive approximately $75 a month for subsistence. They also are given their uniforms and traveling expenses and two paid vacations a year.

To be eligible, a candidate must be between 21 and 29 years of age, inclusive, not less than five feet, nine inches in height and in good physical condition. He must be of good character and have a high school education or its equivalent. Married as well as single men are accepted.

The visit of the recruiting team has been especially arranged so that young men may learn at first hand what a real opportunity this is to join a career service, said Sgt. John Horvath, commander of the Jackson Post. "They may also inquire at any State Police post or talk to any State Police officer."

Applications must be in by Nov. 30. If sent by mail to the Civil Service Commission in Lansing and postmarked by midnight of that date, they will still be accepted.

The recruits will be quickly as possible put into service as quickly as possible. The legislature authorized more State Police manpower to combat the highway accident rate through increased traffic law enforcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Quintan of Detroit, went Tuesday with their aunt, the Misses Margaret and Anne Miller.

St. Paul's Church Begins Basement Improvement Job

Excavation work was started Monday for the basement improvement project at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church. Volunteer workers under the direction of James Young, are doing the work of removing the necessary dirt from under the main section of the church.

The present coal furnace is to be replaced with a gas heating plant. An incinerator will also be installed.

The additional space made available by the excavation will be utilized for a sound-proof nursery room and enlarged kitchen space and Sunday school facilities.

Also to be constructed is a stairway leading from the front entrance hall of the church to the new part of the basement.

Frank L. Bevier of Ann Arbor, is the contractor.

Estimated cost of the improvement project is approximately $15,000.

Citizen's Advisory Committees Being Formed for School

A nucleus for a citizen's advisory group has been formed to work with the Chelsea Agricultural Schools Board of Education in planning for new high school facilities here.

The group was brought together for the first time Tuesday evening and chairmen were appointed to head five committees as follows: S. H. Booker, chairman; W. E. Langer, information and publicity; Ray Langston, building; Carl Candler, curriculum needs; and Mrs. Russell Bernath, fact finding. Committee chairmen will be selecting other individuals to work with them.

Board members who will be working with the five committees are: Whitaker, finance; William Kolb, publicity; Howard Plinto, building; Dr. J. V. Fisher, curriculum; and Earl Beeman, fact finding.

Need for a new high school is considered urgent since present accommodations are inadequate. A 14-acre site for the proposed new high school is located directly south of the six acres in the present athletic field, giving a total of 20 acres in the proposed site.

The present high school building on Harrison street was built in 1910, date of construction of the older section of the building, facing East street, being about 1875.

The Wexner road mishap resulted in hospitalization of three people, Mr. and Mrs. Addison Harmon and Ollie Kiser. Harmon reportedly suffered face and knee injuries; his wife, lucetions of the left arm and three fractured ribs and fractured pelvis; and Kiser, knee injuries.

According to police records, the car in which the Harmons were riding, driven by Mrs. Harmon, belonged to Walter Morkel, used car dealer, and the Harmons were giving it a trial run. The Kiser car, headed south, reportedly failed to negotiate a curve, ran off the road and then across the highway.

Both drivers were ticketed, according to Chelsea police records. Kiser was cited for failure to have his car under control, and Mrs. Harmon for not having her driver's license with her.

The second accident Saturday night involved two cars headed west on US-12 and a third car parked off the highway at Lima Center.

Series of Accidents Over Week-End Hospitalize Three

A car driven by Warren D. Kiser, 24, of Chelsea, struck and landed upside down below the highway when he lost control of it after he had started a turn and then changed his mind. The car was headed north on Waterloo road at Beaman road when the accident occurred at 10:30 p.m. Friday. The driver and a passenger, Jim Freick, were not hurt, according to police records.

Earlier Friday night, at approximately 9:15 p.m., Danae Kiser missed the turn at the New York Central crossing at Four Mile Lake and severely damaged his car when it struck the tire and axle of the truck. Three of the tires were flat in addition to the other damage. The terminal box for the crossing lights was broken off but the lights continued to operate.

Saturday night, two accidents again occurred in this area, the first at 6:30 p.m. on Wexner road and the second on US-12 at Lima Center at 9 p.m.

Council Accepts Bid For Flanders Area Street Construction

Storm Sewer Job Postponed Pending Further Study

Proposed storm sewer installation in the Flanders area in the southeast section of the village was the subject of lengthy discussion at the Village Council meeting Monday evening.

Village President Maxwell G. Sweet urged referring the matter back to the public works committee for further study, while Councilmen Charles Slocum and Joseph Merkel were for immediate action which would lead to acceptance of a bid awarding the contract, and having the work done at once. At this time council members had not seen the engineer's plans for the project.

It was brought out that the engineer's plans had been drawn up for distribution to prospective bidders at the next Council meeting to receive for bids. These plans had been sent to the village clerk Tuesday of the week before Monday's meeting.

In recommending that the Council reconsider the Flanders area storm sewer project Sweet read into the record an explanation of his stand on the matter as follows: "Being fully aware of the need for street improvements in the Flanders Area and furthermore, being also fully aware of the responsibility the Village government has for making these improvements as possible, I cannot lend support to this particular Flanders Street project because of the following particulars being unresolved at the time this council voted to advertise for bids:

1. What provisions should be made for the new High School to be erected in this area?

2. What is the drainage district to be served by this facility?

3. How can the drainage system making it possible to dump water at the run-off point where the new run-off is to be employed nor to increase the flow of water where the present run-off exists. What protection can be obtained when well adjacent to the land owner on whose property the water is being dumped from denying the village the use of his land?

4. The first storm sewer drainage systems designed for the Village by the engineer designing the Flanders area drainage system was determined inadequate by the village. At the time it was decided to advertise for bids plans had not been furnished. What assurance can be had that the Flanders job done by this same engineer will be more satisfactory than the Sor-enog job?

5. Who should pay for this improvement, the people receiving the benefit for the drainage system or all the taxpayers in the village?

6. What provisions are being made for growth and more intensive use of this drainage system?

Since I am eager to have this drainage system installed and an improved road in this area, and I am also anxious to have it done properly, I urgently request that a motion be made referring this entire issue back to the public works committee for further study covering the points listed above and any other facets of this problem that make themselves apparent.

Also read by Sweet at the meeting was a letter from John H. Plock, Washtenaw county drain commissioner, regarding the Sor-enog subdivision storm sewer system. In the letter, Plock stated that the capacity of the proposed Sor-enog system varies from one cubic foot per second at the upper end to seven cubic feet per second at the lower end. He further quoted figures showing that a 20-acre subdivision storm drain can be expected to outlet about 20 cubic feet of water per second, thus implying that a seven cubic foot capacity is insufficient.

Representatives of Chelsea Construction company, promoters of the subdivision, present at the meeting Monday, offered to pay half the cost of "an adequate outlet" extending from the subdivision to the creek west of Wilkinson street if this and certain other proposed changes will fulfill requirements for the system's approval by the village.

Returning to the question of the Flanders area project, Councilman Joseph Merkel made a motion to accept a bid for the storm sewer as the work could be done immediately, before street improvement is done and before winter weather sets in, and then plug the outlets until such time as easements were secured and other matters pertaining to the project were cleared up. However, Merkel's motion was not supported.

Three responses to advertisement for bids for the Flanders area storm sewer and grading work had been received. During the discussion at the meeting one of the bidders, Kenneth Wilkinson of Jackson, requested that his bid be disqualified upon receipt since he had no wish to become "involved in a controversy."

Also eliminated was the firm of Dunnigan Brothers of Jackson who had submitted a letter stating the company "is too busy at present" to undertake the job.

The only remaining bid was that of Tom Robinson of Jackson. Final action on the proposal at Monday's meeting was acceptance of the Robinson bid for excavating, grading, sand cushion and gravel surface for the streets in the Flanders area with the provision that the storm sewer portion of the bid was not to be accepted "at this time."

Councilmen had expressed concern that freezing weather might damage new curbing installations in the Flanders area if street grading is not done immediately.

WASHTENAW COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION NOTES

By DONALD MAURER
U. S. Soil Conservation Service

Three years ago Clarence Winkler started planting the first of nearly a mile of multiflora rose for a living fence on his 240-acre Sharon township farm. Today the rose averages about four feet in height. Winkler believes that which he planted the first year will now hold sheep.

The multiflora rose fence was part of the complete soil and water conservation program. Clarence worked out for his farm with technicians of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District.

The fence, excellent cover for songbirds, quail, pheasants, and rabbits, forms an almost permanent livestock barrier. Winkler points out that planting is relatively simple. One man with a tractor and plow can plant up to one-half mile of the rose per day.

Winkler was furnished the rose plants by the Game Division of the Michigan Department of Conservation. He is cooperating with this agency for improving game conditions on his farm.

Donald Maurer, local soil conservation technician, points out there is no problem of the rose spreading into cultivated or pastured fields. It will reach a maximum height of about eight feet and will cover a strip about eight feet wide. Maintenance costs to keep the fence stock tight are expected to be very low. Winkler, gazing at the miles and miles of fence on surrounding land, is enthusiastic about the future of the shrub.

According to Maurer the rose is suited to a wide range of soil conditions. He feels nearly every farmer could profit by the use of a living fence of multiflora rose on his farm.

The record for Burmeister's cow, Leo Bur Abbecker Sylv, is as follows: 10,072 lbs. milk, 606 lbs. butterfat, milked 2 times daily, 865 days. Average quarts daily: 21. Age when record began: 5 years 8 months.

Macomber's cow, Rustle Mutual Countess, has a record of 14,838 lbs. milk, 482 lbs. butterfat, milked 2 times daily, 295 days. Average quarts daily: 22. Age when record began: 4 years 9 months.

Spike's Green Aero Ormsby Burke Paula shows a record of 14,020 lbs. milk, 481 lbs. butterfat, milked 2 times daily, 295 days. Average quarts daily: 22. Age when record began: 4 years 9 months.

Michigan State University supervised the weighing and testing of the milk for this record and it is a part of the Herd Improvement Registry Department of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America in Brattleboro, Vermont. This program is designed to give an official production record on every cow in the herd every year so that wise selection for increased efficiency can be made.

Most corn picker accidents are with the husker-rolls and stalk ejectors, according to Richard Pfiner, farm safety specialist at MSU.

A dog's teeth are unlike a human's. They do not have pulp and nerves and, therefore, are not susceptible to cavities. If a dog breaks a tooth, it does not decay, but wears smooth.

A white man—Etienne Brule—reached Michigan's Upper Peninsula in 1818, two years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 67

In the absence of the president, Doni Jo Boyer, Judy Miller took charge of the meeting of Girl Scout Troop 67 Wednesday, Nov. 2. She is vice-president of the troop.

Girl Scout calendars were distributed at the meeting and it was explained they are to be sold at 30 cents each, and the money is to be turned in at the next meeting. All Girl Scouts present worked on tenderfoot requirements.

TROOP 68 GIRL SCOUTS
Nancy Carter brought the refreshments for the meeting Tuesday.

Child care badge work was discussed and it was decided to do work for the sewing badge also. The sewing project will be started next week.

BROWNIE TROOP 49
Potato porcupines were made at the meeting of Brownie Troop 49 held at South Elementary school Thursday.

Games were played and a hike was planned for today's meeting. The hostess for the meeting Thursday was Sandra Gieske.

CUB SCOUTS
Cub Scouts of Den 3 joined the boys of Den 6 for their cook-out meeting at the home of Mrs. Duane Weiss, den mother of Den 6. Present with the boys of Den 3 were Mrs. William Hitchingham and Mrs. John Stoffer.

Because of bad weather, the cook-out held Nov. 2, took place in the Weiss' garage. There will be no meeting of Den 6 this week.

Deer Hunters Urged To Report Area Kills To Conservation Dept.

Lansing—Deer hunters who kill a buck near Chelsea or elsewhere in southern Michigan are urged to phone the Jackson District Conservation Headquarters near Jackson.

The Chelsea hunter can call this Conservation Department office collect at Jackson, State 4-3188.

A game biologist will go to the hunter's residence or a locker plant weigh the deer, measure its antlers, and determine its age.

Even if the deer has been cut up before the biologist arrives, he can still obtain valuable information from the head alone.

This study, now in its fifth year, shows conclusively that the well-fed bucks from southern Michigan farmlands are larger and develop bigger antlers than northern deer of the same age. It is normal for southern deer to develop six point racks and a dressed weight of 130 pounds when only a year and a half old. Most northern yearling deer are only spikehorns and weigh less than 100 pounds dressed out.

This reflects poor winter food conditions and browsing out deer yards in much of the northern deer range.

Potato Warehouse On Kuehmann Farm Destroyed by Fire

Thursday afternoon, at 2:15, Chelsea firemen were called by the Manchester Fire Department to assist in fighting a fire at the Kuehmann potato farm warehouse on Esch road. The Chelsea fire-fighters remained for three hours. Holes in the roof were later covered and it was believed the damaged building and its store of potatoes would be saved but at 1:30 a.m. Friday, fire again broke out and the entire building, together with its contents, burned to the ground.

Delegates Attend VFW Sixth District Rally at Monroe

Chelsea people who attended the Veterans of Foreign Wars Sixth District Rally at Monroe Sunday afternoon are Mr. and Mrs. Mac Packard; Fremont Boyer who is commander of Chelsea VFW Post 4078; Mrs. W. L. Geer, president of the local VFW Auxiliary; and Mr. and Mrs. Ren Hutzel.

Mrs. Hutzel, a past Department of Michigan president and present publicity director for the state Auxiliary, was the official department representative at the Monroe meeting.

Membership campaign reports given at the meeting showed Chelsea's VFW Auxiliary with 40 percent of its 1955 membership goal, to be first in its class which includes eight VFW groups in the 50-100 membership division. As a result of being in first place Mrs. Geer, president, and Mrs. Packard, membership chairman, of the Chelsea Auxiliary, each are wearing the district's membership pins for the month.

In a report of the local Auxiliary's recent activities it was announced that a card party held Saturday evening at the IOOF hall was a success and the proceeds are being added to the Auxiliary's Chelsea High school fund.

The fund is being accumulated for the purpose of sending the Chelsea band to participate in the annual competition to be held in June 1956, at Bay City. Winning band in the competition is customarily awarded a $500 cash prize.

Prizewinners at Saturday's party were Mrs. Joseph Laban, Ren Hutzel, Mac Packard, Clair Smith and Mrs. Dorothea Hart.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the party were Mrs. Byron Smith and Mrs. Mac Packard.

The next regular meeting of the local VFW Auxiliary is to be held at IOOF hall Monday, Nov. 14, at 8 p.m., with Mrs. Byron Smith as chairman.

The major savings in bulk handling of milk is in receiving room costs.

Hog prices will likely move lower until they reach a low of $13 or $14 a hundredweight in early November, reports Dale Butz, MSU farm economist.

Extension Clubs Show Craft Work At Annual Tea

A total of 231 women of the Chelsea-Manchester area attended the Home Extension clubs' craft tea held Wednesday, Nov. 2, at Sharon Town Hall. The tea, an annual affair, provides an occasion for extension club members to see extra craft projects of the various clubs in the area. The crafts are special interest lessons in addition to the regular ones planned for all clubs during the year.

This year District IV, which includes the Chelsea area, and District V of the Manchester vicinity, combined their annual tea and held it at Sharon Town Hall. Plans for the affair were completed by Mrs. Mary Clark, senior Home Extension representative, and Mrs. H. G. Gage, junior representative of District IV, and Mrs. Eugene Huber and Mrs. D. Mackintosh, senior and junior representatives, respectively of District V.

Lima Center Extension club members were responsible for the table centerpiece at the tea, combining fall colors by means of chrysanthemums, effectively arranged in conjunction with lighted green candles. The table cover was white linen.

Mrs. Anna Brown, Washtenaw county Home Demonstration agent, and past county chairmen were among those who poured at the affair. There were 134 women present during the afternoon.

For the benefit of those who could not attend in the afternoon, the tea was continued from 7 until 9 o'clock in the evening and attendance during the evening was listed at 97.

Clubs that prepared exhibits for the day included Beacon Light, with an array of homemade slippers; Chelsea Homemakers, seed pictures; Delhi, shoestring purses; Freedom Ideal Homemakers, table centerpieces; Lyndon, easel set and gift boxes; Manchester, novelties in Christmas decorations; Rogers Corners, Christmas gift suggestions; Sylvan, ricrac ideas; South Bridgewater, pencil painting; West Bridgewater, table decorations; and South Sylvan, ceramics.

All exhibits were reportedly of much interest to the women who attended but outstanding in attracting interest, in view of the approaching holiday season, were an exhibit of cake decorating entered by Lima Center club, and an array of Christmas cookies and recipes by Iron Creek club.

New Mental Health Research Institute Started at U. of M.

Ann Arbor—A new type scientist has invaded the University of Michigan.

Called "generalist" (as opposed to specialist), the new scientist is interested in a general theory which will explain why man behaves the way he does.

Dr. James G. Miller, recently appointed Chief of the U. of M.'s new Mental Health Research Institute, says that the group he will head is composed of investigators from several academic fields, all working together on human behavior.

A psychiatrist, as well as former chairman of the University of Chicago, Department of Psychology, Dr. Miller explains the term, "generalist."

"In the sense in which the family physician must be acquainted with the whole field of medicine, so the behavioral scientist must acquaint himself with many different viewpoints of mental health research."

The group consisting of Dr. Miller, Dr. Ralph W. Gerard, and Anatol Rapoport, will be members of the research section of the U. of M. Neuropsychiatric Institute, under the directorship of Dr. Raymond W. Wagoner.

States Dr. Wagoner, "Because modern man seems to know more about things than about himself, legislative support for research in the field of human behavior is not only unique, it should produce some needed solutions to the problem of mental health."

The Michigan Legislature appropriated $175,000 to establish the Mental Health Research Institute at the University.

Behavioral scientist include physicians, biologists, and social scientists. They also work with engineers, mathematicians, and physicalists.

Dr. Miller and his associates formed a Committee on Behavioral Science in 1951 at the University of Chicago as the result of a casual question which an atomic physicist asked.

"Why, I wonder," asked the physicist, "hasn't the same intellect which fashioned the atomic bomb been as successful in helping man live a healthy, creative life?"

"That was a serious and annoying question," declares Dr. Miller, "so a group of us decided to try to find an answer."

"We reasoned that if there are laws of nature capable of being controlled by the physicist, then these must be related to laws of human nature capable of being understood by social scientists."

In effect the behavioral scientists agreed among themselves that there are laws which explain human activity just as there are laws which explain a falling apple or a speeding automobile.

Dr. Miller, the engineer's ability to determine how much stress and strain a steel bridge can withstand. By similar methods of reasoning more is being learned about man's ability to withstand emotional stress, he declares.

Behavioral scientists he continues, seek laws and theories which can be applied just as productively to the world of people as they are now being applied to the world of machines.

"We don't mean that man is a machine," he states. "But we are Interested in why some machines seem almost human and why some humans act like machines?

The new-menter health research chief indicates his group will concentrate primarily on research in mental health, rather than on the treatment of specific emotional diseases. "We are seeking explanations and causes, and we hope that this research will directly help improve the care of the mentally ill patient," he adds.

The new U-M investigators will establish laboratories similar to those found in the physical sciences, so that the laws of human behavior will be studied under rigid scientific conditions.

Methodist Youth Groups Join in Harvest Festival

Approximately 175 young people from 15 Washtenaw county churches attended the fall Harvest Festival-Sunday, Nov. 6, in Chelsea.

Car loads of home canned and commercially packed foods brought by the several Methodist Youth Fellowship groups were displayed in various booths at the 3 o'clock session at the Methodist Home. The food remains for use at the Home.

The theme of Thanksgiving was carried out in much of the decorating.

First award for the most attractive booth went to the Chelsea church. The booth featured a horn of plenty banded by stalks of corn and was designed by Evelyn Ann Moore. Second place went to Ypsilanti and third to South Lyon. The most valuable display was Saline. Next came Ann Arbor West Side and South Lyon, third.

A committee headed by Mrs. J. R. Fisher of the Home made the decisions as judges.

The Sub-District Cabinet met at 8:30 p.m. and planned the next Rally for Feb. 12 in Ann Arbor.

The youth groups toured the Home members for a hymn singing in the chapel at 4:30. Mrs. Mildred Cheever of the Home staff, accompanied the group singing at the organ.

At 5:30, supper was served in the Methodist church social center, with general arrangements made by Mrs. Dwight Gadsbury. Several women of the parish assisted in the kitchen and dining room. Rev. Louis Claster of Salem Grove gave the invocation.

The evening worship service was held in the church with Donald deppeson of Saline Sub-District chairman, presiding. Scripture was read by Kathryn Wardman of Ypsilanti and a responsive reading and prayer was in charge of Martha Morton of Ann Arbor.

The Chelsea Gorman Band played sacred selections and the choir sang "Rock of Ages." Rev. S. D. Kintle is the Sub-District Youth Counselor.

State Inspector Demands Full-Time Matron at County Jail

A communication from W. H. Nestle, state inspector of jails, read before the Washtenaw county Board of Supervisors at the Nov. 8 meeting, stated that it will be necessary to employ a matron for full-time duty at the jail.

The letter from Nestle reads as follows:

"I inspected the Washtenaw county jail on Oct. 14, 1955 and found Sheriff Klinger doing an outstanding job in the overall supervision of his jail; however, there is one item that is very serious and therefore I feel it necessary to call it to your attention. Now, it shall be necessary that you have a matron on duty at the jail 24 hours of each day and she is to have possession of the keys to the women's quarters. This was made necessary when the Sheriff was moved from the jail, as the Sheriff's wife and a matron around the clock. This is very necessary for the protection of the county and the officers operating this institution."

DOGS

By Farley Manning

COLD DOGS

Everyone who has studied dogs knows they are extremely adaptable to various climates and living conditions. Indeed they have to be, because they have followed man to every corner of the world. Dogs have shown an amazing ability to get along in very hot or cold weather and recent studies show that dogs actually undergo physical changes to gain better protection against extreme temperatures.

One study in England indicated that Eskimo dogs can withstand a temperature of 22 degrees below zero Fahrenheit and still maintain their proper body temperature and adjust to the extreme cold.

The U. S. Army showed that dogs can readily make physical adjustments to high altitudes and cold weather. This took place at Camp Hale, Colorado, where the altitude is 9,000 feet and temperatures drop to 25 degrees below zero. Twenty-two German shepherds were involved in the test.

At first the dogs' coats were not heavy enough to keep them warm but within two weeks their trainers noticed that they were growing profuse inner coats, like those found on the various types of sled dogs. The paws of the dogs also became tough and hard after living in that snowy location. The officers in charge soon found that the dogs were not much bothered either by altitude or cold. They observed that the red cell count of the dogs' blood increased the longer they remained high above sea level, and this helped them maintain their stamina and general health.

Oddly enough, it was found that the same small of the dogs were impaired under those conditions and that dogs as well as men are subject to snow blindness. Nature and the adaptable dog, however, may well take care of these drawbacks if given sufficient time.

For '56

New Sweep-ahead styling

New Sizzle to match

The 1956 Buick SUPER 4-Door Riviera

WHAT YOU SEE pictured here is Buick for 1956—and from the gleam of that "V" grille to the sassy slant of the tail fins, you can see it has no equal for gorgeous good looks.

But what you see from the curb is more than matched by what you feel at the wheel—and that's gospel.

For this Buick gets its zoom from a mighty 322-cubic-inch V8 engine lofted to a new record high in power and compression—and from a spectacular new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

What's new in the '56 Dynaflo is this: in the first inch of pedal travel—and not with wide-open throttle—your Buick moves from standstill to cruise with silk-smooth, instant and certain getaway.

But comes a sudden need for safety-surge action to get out of a tight spot—and you floor the pedal-to-switch the pitch of this airplane-inspired transmission. Instantly and smoothly, you're at full-power acceleration—a thrill beyond words.

There's a lot more we could tell you about these great new Buicks—about brilliant new interiors, a superb new ride with a safer "sense of direction," and new safety features everywhere you look.

But the best way to get the whole story of the best Buick yet is right at the wheel of one of these '56 beauties. So drop in this week and do just that.

Best Buick yet

as much as she enjoyed coming to our school and telling us about her homeland. Here are some of the answers to questions asked her.

In 1525 Spain conquered El Salvador, which has very rich soil due to volcanic ash. Their main products are sugar cane, cocoa, coffee. El Salvador's capital is San Salvador. Miss Miranda said 'San' means 'Saint' and 'El' means 'the'. Boys and girls in El Salvador play football, baseball, basketball, and volleyball just as we do. They have dances, movies, and radios for entertainment. They lack television, but are working for it. The language is chiefly Spanish. The religion is chiefly Catholic with some Baptist. Miss Miranda is a Protestant. There are nice paved roads and telephones in El Salvador. The school lasts from February until November, which is the winter or rainy season. They have several colleges and universities. American money can be spent there. They have about the same animals that we have, and Miss Miranda has a big pet. The president's term is six years. Their foods are the same as ours with the addition of tortillas and frijoles and tamales. In their schools they wear a special uniform and their girls don't wear lipstick or smoke cigarettes very early.

BAND HONORS SENIORS

Tomorrow, Nov. 11, the band will perform its last halftime show of the season at the Stockbridge game. The Stockbridge and Chelsea bands will do a combined pregame playing of the national anthem. The theme for this show is "Dancing through History." The show will start with an Stockbridge and Chelsea band. Then the band will go into its dance routines leading off with a Minuet in G by Mozart; then they will do a waltz to "Melody of Love"; and to the tune of "Little Liza Jane" a square dance will be performed. The last dance the "Bunny Hop" will be done. This show is dedicated to the seniors for whom this will be the last show. The seniors are Bernice Miller, David Briston, Llewellyn Lehman, Arlene Paxton, Dick Stark, and Bill Geddes.

JUNIOR BAND KEEPS BUSY

The junior band is practicing a program which it will present in the near future to the High School Band Boosters' Club. Among the numbers they are working on are "Frosty the Snowman" and "Evan-geline Overture."

The band has also recently acquired a new book of marches on which they are working very hard.

GAA CELEBRATES FUN NIGHT

The GAA held their Fun Night last Thursday, Nov. 3, after school. They played basketball, ping-pong, and shuffleboard. The supper, which was prepared by Beth Irwin and was held in the Home Ec. Room, included sloppy joe, potato chips, milk, and ice cream. The next GAA fun night will be a Christmas program.

MAJORETTES AND DRUM MAJOR DO WELL

Three majorettes and a drum major, Becky Shane, Audrey Musolf, Monica Smith, and Hubert Brown, are all new this year. The majorettes' uniforms are white skirts with blue v-neck sweaters bearing large C's, and white boots. They also wear white angora mittens and hats. Hubert, who wears a white uniform and black boots, has done an outstanding job during his first year with the band.

Needlework Guild Ingathering Set For Next Friday

Friday of next week, Nov. 18, the Chelsea chapter of the Needlework Guild of America, Inc., will have its annual ingathering of household linens and children's clothing. The event takes place from 2 until 4:30 p.m. and will be held on the third floor of the Municipal building. A tea will be held in connection with the event.

All people of the community are invited to attend the ingathering, whether or not they are members of the Needlework Guild.

Membership requires no dues or obligations other than the contribution of two similar articles of clothing or household linens. Especially needed is clothing of all kinds for the five to ten year age group.

It has been found during the past few years that this age group is more in need of proper clothing to wear to school than any other.

People designated as "money members" are also needed.

Money contributed is used to buy the more expensive items, such as shoes, gloves, coats and jackets which are not customarily contributed. In addition, these items must be individually fitted and for this reason, it is impractical to do otherwise than purchase them outright for the persons who need them.

Mrs. H. T. Moore, president of the local Needlework Guild group, said that the generous amounts of clothing, towels, washcloths and other household items received at past ingatherings here has never been sufficient for the need.

Everything contributed here is used locally with the exception that in case of national emergency the local group might be called upon for assistance. Such a case occurred recently when an appeal was received for relief of hurricane sufferers in the eastern part of the country and a cash donation was sent. Thus the demand is always larger than the ingathering.

Seventeen groups of 15 members each are already formed here. Each group is headed by a director and includes 11 clothing and household item memberships and two money memberships.

Directors, in addition to the officers, are Mrs. Winifred Coffron, Mrs. G. Schable, Miss Nina Belle Wurster, Mrs. Richard Riemenschneider, Mrs. David Strieter, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Alvin Vail, Mrs. Joseph Merkel, Sr., and Mrs. J. V. Burr.

Officers, who also are directors of individual groups, are Mrs. H. T. Moore, president; Mrs. John Fischer, vice-president and publicity chairman; Mrs. Elton K. Musbach, Mrs. William Geddes and Mrs. E. W. Eaton, vice-presidents; Mrs. D. L. Galtberg, secretary; Mrs. William Storey, assistant secretary; and Mrs. Robert Wagner, treasurer.

For information regarding membership or contributions, any of the directors may be contacted.

Chelsea, England, Seeks Funds To Aid In Restoration of 18th Century Organ

During the past week, Village President Maxwell G. Sweet received an appeal from F. A. Pichaud, vicar of Christ church in Chelsea, England, for possible financial aid in restoring the church's 18th century organ, said to be one of the finest in existence. In his letter, the vicar states that the organ, built in 1779 by the famous George England, is threatened with ruin because of unexpected dry rot plus the wearing out of the movement. To repair it in such a way as to preserve its original beauty-of-tone, a total of $12,000 must be raised by the end of the year.

Of this amount $5,000 has been raised by its 385 members but they are unable to raise the remainder in the length of time available.

Vicar Pichaud says in the letter that he has therefore taken the step of letting music lovers in other Chelsea throughout the English speaking world know about the dangers to this fine old instrument, so that if they wish, they can help to preserve it. We know from past experience that there are people in other Chelsea who remember us and we hope to welcome some of them to our church in the future.

Donations should be sent to the Hon. Treasurer of the Organ Fund, Hon. Sir Albert Napier, K.C.B., M.C.V.O., C.C., 10, Cheyne Gardens, Chelsea, London, S.W.3, England.

President Sweet's reply to the vicar reads as follows: "Dear Vicar Pichaud: A few weeks ago I received an official notice of your Chelsea which I read with interest. Being only slightly aware of the influence your city has had on our Chelsea and other Chelseas in the United States, I was glad to be reminded that we have a cultural heritage which could be made to enrich the lives of all our people.

Your letter of Sept. 22, 1955, wherein your work of restoring your eighteenth century organ was outlined was also read with considerable interest.

"I am taking this problem to the people of our community with the hope that we can be of assistance. Furthermore, it is my wish that this may give us the opportunity to get better acquainted with the original Chelsea and its people."
