Bulldogs End Season with 6-3 Record

Defeat Stockbridge In Final Game for 12 Seniors on Team

Chelsea High gridders closed their final season with a non-league victory Friday evening, 19-0, over Stockbridge. The victory enabled the Bulldogs to finish with a 6-3 season record.

The game also saw the finish of the high school grid careers of 12 seniors, all of whom were instrumental in the team success this season.

Chelsea won the toss and returned the opening kick off to mid-field. On the first play, John Jones broke through a hole opened by Bud Guest for ten big yards and the march was on. Five plays later Jim McLaughlin cracked over from the five for the first of his three touchdowns. On the extra point attempt the Bulldogs were offed and after the penalty pass play from Weinberg to Glenn Weir was incomplete.

The next time the Bulldogs gained possession they marched 64 yards with halfbacks Jones and McLaughlin alternating in carrying the ball. Jones smashed over from the one-yard line for the touchdown. McLaughlin cracked over for the point after.

The third score came just before the end of the first half. Quarterback Hugh Weinberg dropped back, faking a pass, and then handed off to Jim McLaughlin who dashed around his right end aided by blocks by Ted Nixon and Jones. Once in the secondary Jim cut back and outraced all Stockbridge defenders to cover the 67 yards for the T.D. Capt. Ted Nixon was stopped on the extra point attempt. Score at half-time: Chelsea 10, Stockbridge 0.

If the Chelsea rooters had any doubts as to the outcome of the game they were quickly reassured in the third quarter as the Bulldogs struck explosively for two quick scores.

First, John Jones intercepted a pass on his own 40 and returned it 60 yards for the T.D. Capt. Ted Nixon's block cleared the way for Jones on one occasion, while Johnny jumped over one man on the way to the end zone. Nixon cracked over on the extra point.

A few minutes later the Bulldogs scored after recovering a Stockbridge fumble. Weinberg hit big Don Mahar with a pass and after Mahar was pinned near the sideline he lateraled to McLaughlin who sped the ball back 35 yards to score, the entire play covering 45 yards. Again Nixon rammed over for the extra point. Reserves took over for the Bulldogs and gave up two T.D.'s by Fred Mills in the fourth period on runs of 40 and 45 yards.

In between Stockbridge scores the Bulldogs scored one also as sophomore John Eisenbeiser went 19 yards for the Bulldogs' longest T.D. scamper of the year. A fine job of faking by right halfback Jerry Smith, plus good blocking by Paul Weber, Tim Schulze and Bob Fischer, enabled Eisenbeiser to break up the middle and scoot all the way untouched. Jones' attack placement kick was wide.

With two minutes remaining the Bulldogs seniors returned to action and the offense took on a new look as linemen Joe Bauer, George Collier, Jim Keizer and Neil Fahnner took turns carrying the ball for the first and only time in their high school careers.

In addition to these seniors Capt. Ted Nixon, Jim McLaughlin, John Jones, Don Mahar, Glenn Weir, Jay Ferguson, Kenny Bauer, and Howard Brown all played their last game for the Blue and Gold. All turned in fine performances in their final game.

Alfred Knickerbocker Wins Cross-Country Run at Olivet College

Alfred Knickerbocker won the 4.1-mile collegiate cross country meet at Olivet College Saturday, according to information received here. He led the field from the start, his time for the run being listed as 24:10 minutes.

Spectators at the event included the Maurice Hoffman family who were visiting one of the daughters, Rose, a student at the college.

Knickerbocker is also to be a contestant in the annual Thanksgiving meet to be held at Jackson.

Firemen Called To Fight Truck Tractor Blaze

At 12:20 p.m. Friday the Chelsea Fire Department made a run to Old US-12, west of Chelsea, where the tractor of a truck was seriously damaged by fire. The cab of the tractor was destroyed.

Owner of the vehicle is Robert Winnick of Wagner road, Ann Arbor. According to Fire Department reports, Winnick had parked the truck trailer and was on his way to a Chelsea garage with the tractor when it caught fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dancer spent Sunday at Whitmore Lake as guests of their daughter, Mrs. E. Fulk.

Mrs. J. J. Barcia is a patient at Herrick hospital, in Tecumseh.

Washtenaw To Join Inter-County Road, Water Authorities

Approval of a proposed six-county road commission and an inter-county water authority was voted at the November meeting of the Washtenaw county Board of Supervisors. Roll-call vote showed 21 for and 4 against joining the commission and 17 for and 8 against the authority proposal.

Representatives of the six counties are scheduled to meet in Detroit Dec. 1 with the road subcommittee of the Inter-County Supervisors Committee.

Thanksgiving Union Service Scheduled

A Union Thanksgiving service will be held Wednesday evening, Nov. 23, beginning at 7:30 p.m., in the Methodist Home chapel. It was announced this week by Rev. Thomas Toy, pastor of the Congregational church, is to deliver the sermon.

Other pastors of the community who will participate in the service are Rev. P. H. Grabowski who will read the Scripture, John E. Lee, lay vicar of St. Barnabas Episcopal Mission, who will deliver the invocation, Rev. S. D. Kinde of the Methodist church, the invocation, and Rev. Louis Guster, the benediction.

Rev. M. J. Betz, superintendent of the Home, will preside and music will be provided by the Home choir, with Mrs. Mildred Gheever acting as organist.

Funds Sought For Muscular Dystrophy

Thanksgiving week has been set as the time for the national drive for funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Members of the association have said that no doubt the first question asked is "Why did not Muscular Dystrophy join the Communist drive in Chelsea?"

In response to the question the national organization lists a number of reasons why groups are not permitted to join in local Community Fund drives, perhaps the principal one being that the Muscular Dystrophy Association is a comparatively new organization and needs extensive publicity which it is felt it would not receive if it were included in a group of others receiving benefits.

A resolution urging all Americans to unite in support of the 1955 national campaign for muscular dystrophy was passed unanimously by governors of all 48 states at their annual conference held recently in Chicago. The resolution cites "First, the gravity of the disease, muscular dystrophy, from which more than 200,000 Americans, most of them children, are crippled and dying. Second, for the first time there exists for these tragic victims a hope for the effort of Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., which seeks the cause and a cure through scientific research clinics and also seeks to aid in the care of patients through clinics."

"We, the subscribed governors of the states and territories, request all citizens within our respective states and territories to join with us in supporting the work of M. D. A. of America and to serve as volunteers in raising funds to conquer yet another menace to the health and welfare of America's children."

There will not be a house-to-house canvass in Chelsea to collect funds, but citizens will receive letters through the mail, asking for a contribution.

Contributions for muscular dystrophy are carefully expended as follows: medical research—a comprehensive program of scientific research, aimed at finding the cause and cure; clinics—expert medical advice, therapy treatment, etc.; patient service—local chapters throughout the country giving service to the patients through wheel chairs, braces, lifts and other needed things; muscle research—help to be built at New York hospital—to serve as general headquarters for amassing, coordinating and evaluating data on M. D. and other muscle diseases, as well as laboratories and equipment for research; so that the greatest assault ever launched against muscle disease may go forward.

Seventy-five percent of the money goes to the National Foundation devoted mainly for research. Twenty-five per cent goes to the local county chapter and is used to help local patients. No office or office force is maintained. Help is voluntary.

Perhaps to some people the term muscular dystrophy is still unfamiliar. What is it? It is, thus far, an incurable and advancing disease that attacks the muscles, weakening and making them useless. In time the victim becomes crippled and helpless. Patients (Continued on page eight)

Polio Vaccine Available for Youngsters

Announcement has been made by Dr. Otto K. Engelke that children aged 1 through 14 years and pregnant women are now eligible to receive Salk polio vaccine which is purchased by federal and state funds. The vaccine is to be administered by private physicians for a nominal fee. No clinics are being scheduled.

Cards were to be distributed through Chelsea schools yesterday and today and are to be sent directly to the family physician as soon as possible. The physician will then arrange to secure the necessary vaccine and notify the applicant when the vaccine may be administered. School children will take home cards for their younger brothers and sisters while pregnant women will apply to their own physician for cards.

The county medical society has suggested that physicians charge for the service be $2 per injection; however, anyone who cannot pay that amount is to make the fact known to his physician so other arrangements may be made.

Dr. Engelke said that after first injections have been given to all priority children and pregnant women requesting them, the vaccine will be distributed to doctors for second injections on the basis of the number of first injection report cards received.

Third injections will follow county wide completion of second injections.

Dr. Engelke has explained the present vaccine program in a letter which accompanies the cards distributed to school children. The letter reads as follows:

"Dear Parents:

"Under national and state laws recently established, polio vaccine is available to permit physicians to give first injections to children from 1 through 14 years of age who have not already been vaccinated in schools or elsewhere. This vaccine has been purchased with state and federal tax monies. The passage of these laws has made a new registration necessary."

"Please completely fill in the card—enclosed with this letter—to receive polio vaccine, mail or deliver the card to the physician of your choice. He will need the card when he requests vaccine for the children he has arranged to vaccinate."

"Your taxes have purchased the vaccine. Your physician will make a charge for giving the vaccine to cover his services and overhead expenses. There may be a few families who cannot afford to pay these charges. This should be discussed when arrangements are made with your physician."

Washtenaw County Medical Society has received that no child shall be vaccinated because of inability of parents to pay for these services.

"If you do not want your child to receive polio vaccine, please check the card as indicated as soon as possible and return it to the school."

"If you are unable to make arrangements with a physician for the proper place and promptly return it to the school."

"You will be notified by your doctor when vaccine is available for the additional injections required."

"Please do not fold or mutilate the card. Print all names and other information carefully so that records will not be confused."

Baptist Church Plans Homecoming To Mark Fifth Anniversary

Chelsea Baptist church will observe the fifth anniversary of its founding with a special homecoming service to be held Sunday, Rev. Ray Grindall who organized the church, will be guest speaker at the morning service which begins at 11 o'clock.

A pot-luck dinner will be served at noon and will be followed by a program in the church at 2:30 p.m. Guest speaker at this service to be Rev. Ray Grindall, pastor of Bible Junction Baptist church. Special music is planned for the afternoon program.

The present pastor of the Chelsea church, Rev. David A. Wood, will speak at the evening service to be held at 8 o'clock.

All former members and friends of the congregation are invited to attend the services, the pastor has announced.

1956 License Plates Placed on Sale At New Branch Office

Wallace Wood has been appointed Chelsea branch manager for the office of the Michigan secretary of state according to an announcement made Monday by James M. Hare, secretary of state. Announcement was also made that 1956 license plates are now on sale at Wood's office on the second floor at 104 South Main street, corner of West Middle street. Office hours are from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Miss Erma Graber of Detroit, spent several days this week with her mother, Mrs. L. P. Vogel.

CHURCH BASEMENT EXCAVATION—Men of St. Paul's church have volunteered to excavate the remainder of the basement preparatory to finishing it off for enlarged classroom and kitchen facilities. This picture shows Olsen Hart, William Beach and Norman Elsemann, a part of the crew hard at work Monday evening with picks and shovels. Although it's a back-breaking job the volunteer crews are having plenty of good natured fun along with the work. James Young is in charge of the excavating crews who hope to complete their work in about a week.

Ex-Serviceman Tells Kiwanians of Trip to Holy Land

Billy F. Williams of Denver, Colo., who is visiting Eldon Moore and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Moore, was a guest at the Kiwanis club meeting Monday evening. The dinner meeting was held in the social center of the Methodist church.

Williams, who is enroute home after serving with the U. S. Army in Germany while Eldon Moore was in service there, described a tour to Jerusalem which he took while on a furlough. He was introduced by Moore, also a guest at the meeting.

Another guest was Willard Gullett, a senior at Chelsea High school. Reports given at the meeting stated that the Kiwanis Halloween party for children Oct. 31 and the public pancake supper Nov. 7 were both successful projects of the club. Approximately 450 people were served at the supper.

At a board meeting held since the last regular meeting three weeks ago, Paul F. Niehaus was re-elected secretary of the club to complete the slate of officers, headed by Paul Mann as president. The new officers take over their duties in January.

At the meeting Monday evening a telephone call was received from Kiwanians Paul Mann, Charles Cameron, Russell McLaughlin and P. E. Sharrard who were at a Kiwanis meeting in Tawas City. They were at Tawas City awaiting the opening of the deer-hunting season the next day and were "other Chelsea Kiwanians" were also at the meeting there.

Youth Sentenced for Robbery of Bauer Service Station

James T. Colvin has been sentenced to spend a year in the Washtenaw county jail at Ann Arbor, having pleaded no defense to the charge in Circuit Court. He has been in jail since August and he will receive credit for the time spent there.

Colvin was placed on probation for five years and was ordered to pay fine and costs of $200.

He was picked up here Aug. 17, a few minutes after the Police Department had been notified that Bauer's service station cash register had been robbed of cash and checks amounting to slightly more than $100.

A. H. Kuhls Visit California Dairy Exhibit

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kuhl and their daughter, Kay, were among dairymen and their families from all over the nation who took a look at their own exhibit in Disneyland Park, Anaheim, Calif., Nov. 10 and saw how "Today's Food" is made.

Members of the National Milk Producers Federation, holding their annual meeting in Los Angeles, included a tour of the park in their program.

Dairy farmers, through the American Dairy Association, have an exhibit in the Tomorrowland section of the park. In addition to telling the story of milk from the cow to the consumer's table, visitors have an opportunity to roasting themselves at a modern milk and ice cream bar which is part of the display.

Bank Christmas Club Savings Paid Out

A total of 254 Christmas club savings accounts were carried at Chelsea State Bank the past year, according to bank reports.

The accounts are paid off each year in time for Christmas shopping and are in the process of being closed out now. Mailing is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 25.

Needlework Guild Annual Ingathering Set Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon, from 2 until 4:30 o'clock, the Chelsea chapter of the Needlework Guild of America, Inc., will hold its annual ingathering. The affair will take place on the third floor of the St. Paul's church and will include a tea. Everyone in the community is invited to attend and see the display of household linens and children's clothing contributed by Needlework Guild members.

Everything contributed here is used locally and experience of the past two years has shown that while the ingathering here has been generous, there has never been a sufficient amount for all local needs.

Drive Underway To Aid County's Retarded Children

The National Association for Retarded Children which represents more than 44 local affiliates in communication in the United States, is having its fund drive from Nov. 14 through Nov. 23. The aim of the organization is to bring help to retarded children through research, education and services.

The Washtenaw chapter of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children is hopeful of a good response to the drive. A school for trainable, retarded children of the county is to be opened in January. The Ann Arbor Salvation Army has offered facilities for the classroom and through the members of the Ann Arbor branch of the International Council for Exceptional Children, professional screening of children to attend will be accomplished, and a teacher selected.

Melvin C. Pierce of Ann Arbor, is honorary fund drive chairman for Michigan. Pierce is a member of the board of the Michigan Society for Mental Health and is also Child Welfare chairman of the American Legion.

Jack Benny, radio and television comedian, is national, honorary chairman of the drive. In accepting his appointment he stated that many major health problems have been overcome, but only where there has been participation by a large segment of the population. He concluded that there is no reason that the cause, cure and prevention of mental retardation among children should not be found.

Different degrees of retardation make different types of care necessary. Those who are dependent retarded must have constant supervision, while the semi-dependent can learn self care and useful work under supervision. The marginal independent can acquire enough schooling to meet daily needs, but need special guidance and counseling.

Return envelopes are being mailed to all residents of Washtenaw county which contain a message explaining the need for local support.

Local county chairman for the fund raising is Mrs. John Francis of Grass Lake High school and received a bachelor of science degree at Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti.

Lightning Bolt Burns Out Transformer Sunday Evening

All street lights except those in the downtown section of the village were put out of commission Sunday night when lightning blew out a fuse holder and burned out a transformer at the sub-station on Van Buren street. The bolt struck at 9 p.m.

Because it would take several hours to repair the damage and it would have been almost daylight by that time, it was decided to wait until morning to begin work.

Enlarged Off-Street Parking Areas Being Prepared for Use

Bob Bycraft Reports Season's First Deer Kill

First to call in a report on getting a deer Tuesday, the opening day of the present season, was Bob Bycraft who came into town shortly after 8 o'clock with a 7-point buck weighing 205 pounds. He had downed his prize on the road in the Waterloo area at five minutes before 8 o'clock. By noon Tuesday Conservation Officer Donley Boyer had reports of six deer being taken in the vicinity and at 10 a.m. yesterday the count for the stay-at-home hunters reached a total of 15. Sales of hunting licenses at three local outlets by yesterday morning were listed at 335.

Vern Hefley telephoned home Tuesday night from Indian River to say that he had shot a buck at 7 a.m. at Black Lake, 30 miles away.

Santa Visit Is Scheduled Next Week

It's getting near the time for Santa Claus to make a pre-Christmas visit to Chelsea for the purpose of finding out what children of the community would like to receive as gifts for Christmas and the committees of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce have arranged for him to be here at 2 o'clock Friday, Nov. 25.

Before then, however, his special mail box will be set up in front of the post office and children may place letters to him in this box without postage. He will pick up mail on his visit here and each letter will be answered by mail. After he picks up his mail at the post office on his first visit Santa will go to the Sylvan Town Hall which will be heated and decorated for the occasion. He will talk to the children there and find out what they want for Christmas.

This year, Santa Claus will have time to make weekly visits here as in the past, but will return again Dec. 23. At that time he will award the holder of the lucky ticket a push pedal toy automobile as a gift provided by Chelsea merchants.

Tickets for the automobile will be handed out by Santa Claus on his first visit here Nov. 25. After that, the only way tickets may be obtained is by sending letters to Santa Claus. The tickets will be enclosed in his replies so it is doubly important that children request a gift to give their return address when they write to Santa Claus.

In order that there will be time to send replies and tickets, Dec. 19 has been set as the deadline for letters to be sent to Santa Claus. Chamber of Commerce preparations for Christmas include the purchase of five additional strings of colored lights to be strung across the downtown streets. It is planned to add strings each year until the entire downtown section is included. The additional strings this year will be placed on North Main street beyond Middle street and on South Main street near the post office.

New Carpeting Being Laid in Methodist Church

New carpets for the aisles of the nave of the Methodist church and for the League room or narthex are being laid this week. The project was started a year ago with funds being raised jointly by the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Finance Committee.

The Ladies' offerings this year were applied to this fund. A committee from the WSCS made the selection of materials to match carpets laid in the chancel two years ago. The committee was composed of Mrs. Maxwell Sweet, Mrs. James Daniels, Mrs. S. D. Kinde, Mrs. Lyman Walker, Mrs. Jay Weinberg, Mrs. Calvin Summers and Mrs. Russell Baldwin.

The Methodist men held a work bee Nov. 8 to widen the central aisle of the church 18 inches, with that amount of space being taken from outside aisles. The new arrangement gives ready access to the chancel and altar area of the church and will make the planning for weddings and other services easier.

Phyllis Kalmbach Earns Master's Degree from U-M

Phyllis Kalmbach has been awarded a master's degree in education from the Horace Rackham Graduate School at the University of Michigan. She has been a kindergarten teacher at Trumbull school in Jackson, the past three years.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kalmbach, she is a graduate of Grass Lake High school and received a bachelor of science degree at Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti.

Record Number To Show Stock At 4-H Event

The climax of the year for many Michigan 4-H Club members will come with the Detroit Junior Livestock Show, slated Dec. 6-8 at the state fairgrounds coliseum.

Market beef steers, fat lambs and hogs will come from 32 counties in the Wolverine state to make the show the largest in its 20 years, says Maurice Hill, assistant state 4-H Club leader at Michigan State University.

Animals will be entered on Tuesday, Dec. 6. On the following day they will be judged. And on Thursday they will be sold to the highest bidder during an auction at the fairgrounds coliseum.

The event is open to the public without charge. It is sponsored by the Detroit Junior Livestock society headed by Charles E. Scott, manager of the Detroit Stock Yards.

Firemen Called Twice Wednesday Evening

Chelsea firemen received two calls within a half-hour early Wednesday evening.

The first call, shortly before 6 p.m., was the result of a brush and slabwood fire at the Michigan Hardwood company's sawmill in the woods on Lehman road, south of Chrysler Proving Ground, and the second was to the corner of Grant and West Summit street where an electric wire was shorted and giving off sparks.

Improved Lots Will Help Ease Parking Problem

Don Smith of the Michigan Municipal League, was a guest at Tuesday's Chamber of Commerce meeting, having been invited to attend and answer questions of members regarding procedure for changing from village to city form of government.

Among reports given at the meeting was one pertaining to the progress of improvement of off-street parking facilities. The report was given by James Daniels for the Chamber of Commerce committee, working with village officials on the parking problem. It was brought out that extension of the area leased from the New York Central Railroad west of Main street has been approved and village maintenance crews have removed trees, leveled and graveled the area and installed lightning facilities.

Also reported was the fact that the fill project on the so-called Winters lot on West Middle street has been completed in preparation for a proposed parking area.

M. J. Anderson gave a report of the annual meeting of the Southeastern Michigan Tourist Association at Dearborn which he and Anton Nielsen attended Wednesday, Nov. 9.

At the Dearborn meeting, Anderson was requested to act as a member of a panel of ten and report on the fall color-tour project of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce.

Business at the local meeting Tuesday included setting up the program of store hours for the coming Christmas shopping season. It was announced that stores will remain open evenings—Monday, Dec. 12; Monday, Dec. 13; and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Dec. 21, 22 and 23. These evening store hours are in addition to the customary Friday evenings of Dec. 9 and 16. Stores will close at 6 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 24, which is Christmas Eve.

Tuesday's Chamber of Commerce meeting was held in the dining room of the Congregational church.

Recruit Team To Explain Higher Pay

New higher pay scales will be explained in detail by the Michigan State Police recruiting team which will visit Chelsea on Saturday, Nov. 26, to answer questions and assist in filling out application forms of young men interested in becoming troopers.

A state police interview being conducted to obtain 200 more troopers authorized at the special session of the legislature to fight the highway accident toll.

Applications close Nov. 30. Those sent by mail to the State Civil Service Commission Lansing and not marked by midnight of that date will be accepted.

Although men interested may call at a State Police post at any time or talk to any State Police officer, the recruiting team visit has been arranged for their convenience. The team will be at the Municipal building from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and recruiting officers of the Jackson Post will be present to handle all details.

Of importance to prospective applicants is a substantial increase in pay in all brackets. In addition, the pay while in training school has been raised to equal that received the first year by a trooper.

The former training school pay was $116 every two weeks. It is now $151 and ranges up to $192 in the trooper rank. The maximum may be reached at the end of four years, or a year less than formerly.

Troopers also receive approximately $75 a month subsistence pay, their traveling expenses and their uniforms.

The State Police is a career service and members are eligible to retire on a pension of half-pay at the end of 25 years. The pension also goes to widows.

Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 29, inclusive, not less than five feet, nine inches in height, and have a high school education or its equivalent. Married men as well as single are accepted.

"Here is an opportunity for young men to enter a career that gives them and their families security," said Sgt. John Horvath, commanding officer of the Jackson Post. "It is a fine profession and young men concerned with their future should not overlook inquiring about it. This is a real chance for them."

U-M Offers Advice For Parents with Jangled Nerves

Ann Arbor—Nerves kind of shaky because your children are always battling? A sensible, unemotional approach to a problem which is common to most families the country over is presented in a University of Michigan Extension Service pamphlet entitled, "So Your Kids Fuss and Fight," offered at five cents per copy.

Planned to help the parent get a sane perspective of the matter of quarreling, the pamphlet contains some of the reasons for wrangling and squabbling, a look at the kinds of scrapping and fussing that is going on, and ways in which parents have successfully handled the problem.

Other pamphlets for parents or parent groups available at the Extension Service are the magazine "Parents Exchange" (10c), which in its coming issue tells how one family handled the crisis that arose when the 17-year old son asserted his right to be treated as a young adult; "When There's Work To Do" (5c); "When Your Good Child Seems Bad" (5c); "Our Children and Sex" (20c).

Leaflets may be ordered from the University of Michigan Extension Service, 4824 Administration Building, Ann Arbor.

Geneticists Predict Man of Tomorrow May Be Inferior

First Lansing—The theory that modern medicine and careless breeding may produce a race of inferior humans in the future finds support from a Michigan State University scientist.

Dr. G. Bernard Wilson, associate professor of genetics at MSU, says there is general agreement among leading geneticists in support of the theory.

Its most recent expression was by Dr. Hermann J. Muller, Indiana University's Nobel Prize-winning geneticist, who foresees a "Utopia of inferiority" in the future.

In an article in Scientific American, Dr. Muller noted that modern medicine keeps alive many persons who once would have died of inherited defects before they grew old enough to become parents. He said man could avoid a gradual downbreeding of the race by increased awareness of his "genetic responsibilities," but that there are few signs of such awareness yet.

Dr. Wilson, member of the Michigan State staff since 1948, agrees with the author that civilization has created genetic hazards.

Wilson says, "The population frequency of mutations from sources other than radiation. The caffeine in coffee and tea, many items in common usage, and thousands of chemicals now used, are suspected of containing mutagenic agents, but as yet have not been tested for genetic dangers."

"Mutations in the human structure are increasing," Dr. Wilson concludes, "but to what extent no one knows."

Flight speeds as high as 7500 miles-per-hour will be explored by scientists at the University of Michigan with a hypersonic wind tunnel now under construction on the University's new North Campus.

Proper Pre-Natal Care Could Prevent Many Baby Deaths

Lansing—A baby has his best chance to live through the first crucial weeks of life if the mother is under a doctor's care throughout pregnancy, and if careful plans are laid in advance for the baby's birth and his care at home.

This was the advice passed out to prospective parents today by the Michigan Department of Health, which said that while tremendous gains have been made in reducing infant deaths, "hundreds of Michigan babies die needlessly each year."

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner, said that of 4,795 infant deaths in 1954, about four out of ten occurred on the first day of life, and seven out of every ten during the first four weeks of life.

The Commissioner reported "prematurity"—arrival of the baby before he is due—contributed to about half of the infant deaths recorded in the state.

He said: "In attempting to reduce the number of infant deaths caused by premature births, we cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of early and good care of the mother before the baby comes."

"When the mother is under a doctor's care during pregnancy, and when the baby is given close medical supervision, especially in those first days and weeks of life, the odds for survival are high."

Dr. Heustis added that while constant research has brought steady improvements in the care which can be offered new mothers and babies in hospitals and at home, the advances are meaningful "only if parents take the fullest advantage of what modern medicine can offer."

MSU Distributes White Pines to Schools, Clubs

Michigan State University this year distributed 2,448 white pines, the state's official tree, to schools, cities, clubs and other public organizations. Occasion was the University's centennial year.

Dr. P. A. Herbert, director of the institution's conservation division, selected the tree because it was the state's most important source of lumber in Michigan's early history. Last spring, the legislature designated the white pine as the state's official tree.

The white pines were purchased by the institution for ornamental use and were distributed by the conservation nursery under the direction of W. Ira Bull.

Hog marketings are expected to continue their increase with the high week probably coming in late November. Prices are now at the lowest point of the past nine years.

Police Chief Carman Attends Command Officer Training Course at MSU

Police Chief John Carman attended a command officers training school course at Michigan State University from Monday through Friday of the past week.

Operation and function of police work and direction of police personnel were some of the subjects covered. Lecturers included noted criminologists and law enforcement officials from various parts of the country.

Also the subject of study was the recommended handling of juvenile problems.

Officials who completed the course of study were given certificates.

Dignity Was Lost When President Boarded Wild Steed

Ann Arbor—In the eyes of at least one soldier of the Grand Army of the Republic, dignity went out the window when the President of the United States clambered aboard his horse to review the troops in November, 1861.

In a letter, now in the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan, to a relative in Decatur, Mich., Charles B. Hayden, a second lieutenant in Company I of the state's 2nd Regiment, wrote:

"The grand review must have been exceedingly interesting to the President. His horse had to go at a keen run. One hand hold of the bridle, the other convulsively clutched in the mane of his horse. . . . never relaxed its hold except for a moment to crowd his hat further down over his eyes."

"His long legs were well clasped around the body of his horse, his hair and coat tails horizontal. He looked as though he was determined to go through if it killed him but would be most almightily glad when it was over."

The President, of course, was Abraham Lincoln.

Lt. Hayden, who was in formation with regiment, added, "I would gladly have given $10 to have been loose so that I could have seen the whole spectacle."

Cow Vacation Proves Profitable, Say IBM Figures

As dairymen have long suspected, cows do produce more milk and butterfat if they have at least six weeks to two months of rest between lactations.

That was proved from a summary of records on 8,500 dairy cows. The figures were compiled by IBM machines from dairy herd improvement records at Michigan State University.

Extension Dairyman Larry Johnson reports these comparisons on the results of various rest periods for cows:

Holsteins dry less than two weeks produced 347 pounds of butterfat and 9,511 pounds of milk. Those dry two weeks to a month, 390 pounds of butterfat and 10,888 pounds of milk. Cows dry four to six weeks, 404 pounds of butterfat and 11,218 pounds of milk. And those dry six to eight weeks, 410 pounds of butterfat and 11,687 pounds of milk. Figures for other breeds are in the same proportion, according to Johnson.

The average was slightly higher for cows that were given eight to 10 weeks' vacation. But, Johnson indicates, the difference probably wasn't great enough to pay for the extra feed needed.

Michigan ranks first in the growth of turkeys. More than half of the entire U. S. turkey crop is grown in the state.

PERSONAL NOTES

Albert Ashel returned home Wednesday from St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, where he had been a patient for four weeks.

Mrs. Douglas Schlueter of St. Louis, Mo., arrived Sunday night for a visit at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. P. H. Grabowski.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer visited Sunday at the home of the former's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Woods, near Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Kalamazoo spent Monday here and visited Mrs. Smith's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Weinberg, her sister, Mrs. Effie Gage, and Mrs. Gage's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Elsmann. Also a guest at the Elsmann home was Mrs. Elmer Pierce of Lima township.

Sgt. and Mrs. W. Petsch Home on Furlough From Service in Germany

Sgt. and Mrs. William Petsch arrived Thursday at the home of Mrs. Petsch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williams to begin a two-week furlough. They had just returned from Mainz, Germany, where Sergeant Petsch served almost three years with the U. S. Army. At the conclusion of their visit with relatives here they will go to Colorado Springs, Colo., where Sergeant Petsch is to be stationed.

Mrs. Petsch is the former Shirley Williams.

Rev. and Mrs. M. G. Osterle and son, John, of Pontiac, visited relatives here Sunday.

Mrs. Elba Gage and Miss Lillie Wackenhut visited Mr. and Mrs. Don Labo and daughter at their home in Flint Sunday.

Bert Conlan returned Saturday to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, and is still a patient there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Wenk, with their son and daughter, Frederick and Alice Ann, called Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fulford, in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Emma Seitz, with Mrs. Rose Edwards of Ann Arbor, returned Wednesday night of last week from a two-week trip to Florida. They were guests for several days at the home of Mrs. Marie Smith in Bradenton and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartman, who have the state capital as a boy's home and at Lake Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kelly, En route to Florida and return they visited many points of special interest.

SALEM-GROVE

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Austin and children, of Grand Lodge, spent the week-end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Geske.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ferguson of Pontiac and Miss Jenn Almond of Ann Arbor, spent Sunday at the home of Albert E. Forner, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Green and family, of Detroit, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Proctor.

Legion Officers Join Huge Parade Honoring National Commander

Charles Spencer, commander of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, American Legion, Charles Smith, district vice-commander, and William Blass, Washtenaw county Legion commander, massed colors with Dexter Legion members as the Dexter-Chelsea color guard which was honored by being chosen to lead the fifth division of a huge parade held Saturday in Battle Creek to honor the newly-elected national American Legion commander, J. Addington Wagner.

Commander Wagner had returned to his home in Battle Creek Friday from Gettysburg, Pa., where he had visited following his election at the Miami, Fla., Legion convention.

Approximately 50,000 people watched the parade which took two and one-quarter hours to pass. Accompanying the Chelsea men to Battle Creek for the event were Mrs. Charles Smith and children, Mrs. Charles Spencer and son, Bruce, Mrs. William Blass who is president of the local American Legion Auxiliary, and Mrs. Lyle Christwell who is Second District president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

MAYFLOWER CHAPTER

Mayflower Chapter of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational church had a dessert luncheon in the church dining room at 1:30 p.m. Friday preceding the regular November meeting.

The afternoon meeting was opened with a devotional service by Mrs. M. W. McClure in which she addressed the topic, "Brotherhood."

In keeping with Veterans' Day, formerly known as Armistice Day, Mrs. Franklin VanValkenburg, program leader, related the history of the day and of the United Nations.

BAPTISM

Kim Annette Kessler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kessler of Manchester, was baptized Sunday in Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church at Manchester, with Rev. Karl H. A. Rest officiating. The baby's sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winans.

Following the service the Kesslers entertained at a dinner at their home, guests including Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winans and children, Mrs. Kessler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Vail, and Mr. Kessler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kessler of Manchester, and his brothers, Peter and Richard, also of Manchester.

HELPING HAND CLUB

Thirteen members of the Helping Hand club were present for a pre-Thanksgiving dinner Tuesday at the home of Mrs. P. M. Brynsmale.

The afternoon was spent playing cards.

Wayne University in Detroit was named after General Anthony Wayne.

EVERYTHING YOU DO!

FROM THE MOMENT you awaken until you go to bed, almost everything you do is closely dependent upon the operation of trucks. In fact, even while you're asleep, trucks are working for you. (Beds arrive by truck, too, of course.)

Without trucks, your favorite food market would have empty shelves. Without trucks, you wouldn't find gas stations located conveniently almost everywhere you turn. Without trucks, the building of new homes, factories, and stores would slow to a walk and businesses of all kinds everywhere would suffer.

Sooner or later, everything you eat, wear, or use depends on trucks for transportation. Eventually, everything has to get to you—the consumer. So, when you consider that trucks haul three times the tonnage handled by all the other forms of transportation combined, you realize how very important they are to you!

Pennsylvania Bill Seeks To Control Roadside Business

Although business along America's busy highways is growing steadily, and now accounts for an estimated $12 billion slice of the country's annual economy, legislation aimed at controlling and even eliminating such business has been cropping up more and more frequently.

Supporters of the legislation are primarily interested in further beautification of highways.

Opponents of the movements have, of course, other considerations. They point out that roadside business is an important and integral part of America's economy, directly and indirectly furnishing millions of jobs; that surveys indicate the public appreciates the services of roadside businesses; and that traffic authorities testify that diversions at the sides of highways are actually safety aids, preventing "highway hypnosis." Statistics support these views.

Based on various reliable surveys, businesses operating along the country's highways today have a payroll of more than 2 million persons and payrolls are more than $4 billion.

Damage such a section of the country's economy, say those who oppose the esthetic movements, and considerable damage to the nation's current booming economy would result. The basic battle lines are drawn and Earl W. Wolfe, Harrisburg, Pa., parking lot and motel owner and a leader of opposition to a Pennsylvania bill that would control roadside business and the advertising on which it depends, has summed up the opposition to such legislation.

He says, "No group has the right to endanger the livelihoods of others for so-called 'esthetic' reasons. No proof of public distaste exists. On the contrary, all surveys have indicated that the public appreciates the services of roadside businesses."

Turkish Towels
Must Be Durable
To Withstand Wear

Pulling and tugging seems to be part of life for every Turkish towel and washcloth. Because of this, homemakers should choose durable towels that can take the strain of family use and frequent laundering.

Along with being durable, Cecilia Roach, instructor in textiles, clothing and related arts at Michigan State University, declares that towels should also be absorbent.

You can feel how absorbent a towel is by the loops. They increase the surface area and therefore the amount of moisture the towel can absorb. The loops, or pile, should be thickly packed and about 1/2 inch long. Shorter loops don't add much absorbency and longer ones are likely to catch and pull out.

The loops may be single or double. Double loops have two strands of yarn and, of course, are more absorbent. Miss Roach cautions that double loop towels should have a stronger background warp.

For durability the weave of a towel must be firm and close. A twill weave is stronger than the plain or basket weave; this can be checked by holding the towel up to a strong light. The selvedge and hems are also an indication of a durable towel. Check for a good firm selvedge on both sides and see that the row edges are turned under at least 1/4 inch and sewed with close stitches and fine, strong thread.

Miss Roach adds that proper care can lengthen the life of your towels. Don't let them become too soiled. When washing, rinse them thoroughly and hang colored towels in the shade. Never iron them, but shake the towels before hanging to dry and again when folding.

With its diversity of fruit crops, southwestern Michigan is often known as the "Fruit Basket of the Middle West."

A flame-resistant finish for cotton cloth has been developed by the Department of Agriculture Research laboratory in Louisiana. It will be some time before the materials finished with the process will be available for homemakers' use. When they are, it will mean cotton cloth that is more fire-resistant and lighter in weight. The fire-resistant material will be used for work garments, military uniforms, camp outfits and upholstery and curtain fabric.

PILGRIM CHAPTER

Mrs. Robert Shears and Mrs. Edward Visel were co-hostesses for the November meeting of Pilgrim Chapter of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational church. The meeting was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Shears.

The devotional service on the topic, "What We Have To Be Thankful For," was presented by Mrs. Evan Knott.

Mrs. Visel was in charge of the program period and gave a cake-decorating demonstration. The cake was later served with the evening's refreshments.

Dec. 8, the group will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Philip Vogel. This will be the Christmas meeting and each member will bring a one-dollar gift for exchange.

Ten members were present for Thursday's meeting.

FRANCISCO HOME DEMONSTRATION GROUP

Francisco Home Demonstration Group met Nov. 11 at the home of Mrs. Austin Ariz. Plans were made for the Christmas party Dec. 8 and the afternoon's lesson was "Knocking on Copper" with Mrs. Horace Robinson and Mrs. Wayne Harvey as leaders.

SHARON TOWER FARM BUREAU

Ten families were represented at the meeting of Sharon Tower Farm Bureau, held Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haab.

The evening's discussion on the topic "Farm Bureau Benefits To Farmers," was led by Glen Feldkamp.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party scheduled to be held Dec. 10 at Sharon Town Hall.

ST. PAUL'S MISSION CLUB

St. Paul's Mission club, with eleven members and three guests present, met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Mayer.

Principal activity of the afternoon was the packing of two large boxes of Christmas gifts for a mission station in the Ozarks in Missouri and for the Emmaus Home for Epileptics at Emmaus, Mo. The boxes included clothing, bedding, stuffed toys and other items made at meetings throughout the year.

The meeting was opened with a devotional service given by Mrs. Louise Epler and a brief program of readings as follows: "Dear God, In the Garden," by Mrs. Fred Seitz; "Hide Not Your Light," by Mrs. Mayer; "Reward," by Mrs. Herbert Paul; and "The Year," by Mrs. Paul Seitz.

The next meeting will be the Christmas party to be held Dec. 8 at the home of Mrs. Ola Hilsinger.

LYNDON FARM BUREAU

Lyndon Farm Bureau members met at Lyndon Town Hall Friday evening.

Plans were completed for a Christmas party to take place at the next meeting, Dec. 3.

CUB SCOUTS

Cub Scout Pack 125 will hold a pack meeting at South Elementary school at 8 o'clock this evening. A new pack will be given and new Cub Scouts will receive bobcat pins.

DORCAS CHAPTER

Dorcas Chapter of the Congregational Women's Fellowship met Thursday evening at the church, hostesses for the meeting being Mrs. Lewis Bernath and Mrs. Claude Ellis.

A short program of games followed the devotional period which was in charge of Mrs. P. E. Sharard.

LIMA CENTER EXTENSION CLUB

Wednesday, Nov. 9, Lima Center Extension club held an all-day meeting at Lima Center Community hall. Hostess for the day was Mrs. H. G. Gage. There were 12 members and three guests present.

The day's lesson on making purses was given by Mrs. LaVerne Coy.

An afternoon meeting is to be held Dec. 14 at the home of Mrs. Herman Hasley as the club's annual Christmas party. Members are requested to bring Christmas table centerpieces; also, small articles for the patients at Ypsilanti State hospital.

"Mystery sisters" of the year will be revealed at the meeting by means of an exchange of Christmas gifts.

JERUSALEM EXTENSION CLUB

Jerusalem Extension club, at a meeting held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Albert Hinderer, saw a cake decorating demonstration by Mrs. Dorothy Frederick of Lodi township.

Other activities included a short discussion on the making of drapes, led by Mrs. Virgil Hines.

Mrs. George Erke will be the hostess for the Christmas meeting to be held at her home, Dec. 20.

Present at Tuesday's meeting were 13 members, four guests and three children. Among these were Mrs. Louise Hinderer who was back with the group for the first time since her long illness, and Mrs. Donald Bauer who is a new member of the club.

SOUTH SYLVAN EXTENSION CLUB

Mrs. Joseph Merkel, Sr., entertained members of South Sylvan Extension club at her home Thursday, Nov. 10, with 14 members and two guests present.

The lesson on the care of electrical equipment, begun at the October meeting, was completed by Mrs. Alfred Juergens.

Announcement was made of the club's Christmas project which will be providing two food baskets for needy families. Members are to bring articles for the baskets to the Dec. 8 meeting which is to be held at the home of Mrs. William Reule.

Club members were also told that an invitation had been received to attend the Needlework Guild tea in the Municipal building Friday afternoon.

CHAT 'N' SEAU

Chat 'n' Seau, with 22 members and one guest present, met Tuesday evening at the home of the Misses Nina Belle Wurster and Nina Crowell. Acting as co-hostess with them was Mrs. Chandler Rogers.

The opening devotional service centered on the Thanksgiving theme and included the 100th Psalm and an Edgar Guest poem read by Mrs. Martin Steinbach and prayer by Miss Minnie Allyn.

Mrs. Leon Shutes, program chairman, had asked Mrs. M. W. McClure to show pictures of a trip to the western part of the country which she and her husband enjoyed the past summer. The pictures, together with interesting comments by Mrs. McClure, provided enjoyable entertainment according to reports of the meeting.

Dec. 20, at 6:30 p.m., was announced as the date for the annual Christmas dinner for Chat 'n' Seau members. The affair will be in charge of the officers, Mrs. D. A. Riker, Mrs. M. J. Baxter and Mrs. Emer Lindemann, assisted by Mrs. Charles Williams and Miss Nina Belle Wurster. The dinner will take place at the church.

ST. PAUL'S WOMEN'S GUILD

The Women's Guild of St. Paul's church, with 35 members present, held the November meeting in the church hall Wednesday afternoon of the past week. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Philip Seitz, Mrs. William H. Seitz, Mrs. Adolph Steinaway and Mrs. Oscar Stierle.

In keeping with the Thanksgiving theme, "Horns of Plenty" filled with all sorts of vegetables and encircled with evergreens, were used as table centerpieces. Chrysanthemums added to the colorful decorative scheme in the dining room where refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Howard Flintoft, president of the Guild, presided during the business session and Mrs. Carl Mayer was program leader.

Assisting Mrs. Mayer in presenting the topic "Man and God in the City" were Mrs. Oscar Lindauer, piano accompanist; Mrs. Thomas Rust, Mrs. W. B. Trinkle and Miss Cora Feldkamp, costumed as Salvation Army singers, who sang "Throw Out The Lifeline." Mrs. Herbert Paul, in charge of the literary program, read "Our Mission to the City."

The next meeting will be the Christmas program to be held the evening of Dec. 14.

CHELSEA HOMEMAKERS

Chelsea Homemakers Extension club met Monday evening with Mrs. Gale Gilson for a lesson on making purses and to complete a previous lesson on electrical appliance repair. Leaders for the lesson on purses were Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer and Mrs. Wm. Coffron and the electrical lesson was presented by Mrs. Lorenz Wenk and Mrs. Gilson.

Mrs. Gilson entertained the group by showing slide pictures of recent trips to Florida and to points in the northern part of Michigan.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 5, a week earlier than the customary date, at the home of Mrs. Breitenwischer. Members are to bring items for a Christmas basket.

The meeting will be preceded by a pot-luck supper at 5:30 p.m. There will also be a Christmas grab bag with each member bringing a 50-cent gift.

VFW AUXILIARY

Twenty members and guests attended the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary social meeting in the IOOF hall Monday evening.

Mrs. Leone Weber, a guest at the meeting, was in charge of the program which was followed by games. The door prize was awarded to Jeannette Otto.

During a short business session Mrs. Otto was voted to place a basket in Kuster's store to receive contributions of food items for Thanksgiving remembrances to two needy veterans' families.

Hostesses at Monday's meeting were Mrs. Byron Smith, Mrs. Laurence Boyer, Mrs. William Weber and Mrs. Eleanor Shepherd.

60th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Hulda Montague, who was 60 years old Saturday, was surprised with a family birthday dinner Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry C. Damman, in Howell.

Among the 30 guests present were Mrs. Montague's son, Leslie Montague of Lansing, another daughter, Mrs. Rose Chase of Chelsea, and two sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Eva Miller and Mrs. Henry London of Toledo, Ohio, Claude Hagman of Charlotte, and Max and John Hagman of Howell.

Attending the dinner from Chelsea, in addition to Mrs. Montague and Mrs. Chase, were Mr. and Mrs. Karl Koenigster and family.

LEARNING-BY-DOING 4-H CLUB

The Learning-By-Doing 4-H club has planned its next meeting for Saturday, Dec. 3, at the home of the leader, Mrs. Clarence Reddeman.

At the November meeting held Nov. 5, the program of work for the club year was planned and three demonstrations were given. These included the one on the subject, "Color" given by Marlene Kuhl and Olive Ann Reddeman which won them the prize of a trip to Washington in state competition.

The other demonstrations were "Selection of Patterns and Materials," by Margaret Beach, and "Introduction," by Carol Reddeman.

A word to those who are stuffing Thanksgiving turkeys—If you prepare the stuffing ahead of time, store it separately in the refrigerator. Stuff the turkey just before roasting. And when storing the left-over turkey and dressing, be sure to remove the stuffing again and store them separately.

To Be Married

Joanne Curtis Becomes Bride of Edward J. Hafner

Joanne Curtis of Dexter, and Edward John Hafner, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hafner, were married at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Joseph Catholic church at Dexter, with Rev. Fr. Charles T. Walsh officiating. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Curtis of Dexter, and Glen Curtis of Whitmore Lake.

Vocalist at the wedding ceremony was Mrs. Joseph Schaeffelt, Jr., who sang "Ave Maria," and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother."

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white nylon tulle over satin and lace, fashioned with a low-cut lace bodice and a floor-length skirt. A cup of matching lace trimmed with pearls held her fingertip-length veil in place. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white roses, shag mums and ivy.

Anne Corkery of Detroit, was the maid of honor and Patricia Curtis of Wayne, a cousin of the bride, and Gladys Hafner, sister of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaids. They wore crystal-embroidered, halter-length gowns, the maid of honor wearing pink and the bridesmaids blue. Their ensembles were completed with matching colored shoes, pearl choker-style necklaces and cascade bouquets of mums, daisies and ivy. The bouquet of the maid of honor was bronze and yellow while those of the bridesmaids were all yellow.

William Weber was best man and Charles Staphis and Daniel Murphy served as ushers.

Mrs. Curtis, in beige with brown accessories, and Mrs. Hafner, in a plum-colored dress trimmed in black velvet and wearing black accessories, each had a corsage of white shag mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Dexter Knights of Columbus hall. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Mary Altmendinger of Dexter, sister of the bride, who kept a guest book, Jan Rose and Virginia Hotellin, also of Dexter, and Shirley Barth of Chelsea, who served.

Following their return from a week's trip through the southern states, the couple will be at home at 212 Lincoln street.

For going away, the bride wore a brown tweed suit with red accessories and a corsage of white roses and shag mums.

The bride is a graduate of Dexter High school and the McAuley School of Nursing in Pontiac.

The bridegroom, a Chelsea High school graduate, is employed as a plumber's apprentice in Ann Arbor.

SYLVAN FARM BUREAU
Twenty-five Sylvan Farm Bureau members attended the meeting held Friday evening at the J. V. Burg home with Mr. and Mrs. Anton Nielsen and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson entertaining. Roy Kaimbach and Everett Van Riper gave reports of the state Farm Bureau meeting which they attended at Lansing last week. The next meeting will take place at the Burg home Dec. 9 and will include a pot-luck supper.

Hosts and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Orbring, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rowe and Mr. and Mrs. Burg.

Those who attend will bring 29-cent gifts for a Christmas gift exchange.

MSU Bulletin Gives Answers to Many Food Queries

Do you ever wonder if vegetable fats are any easier to digest than animal fats or if one has more calories than the other?

In healthy persons, all fats are thoroughly digested, explains Robert Hershey, extension foods specialist at Michigan State University. "Whether fat comes from animal or vegetable sources, both have the same caloric value. She points out that fats, in general, are more slowly digested than other nutrients. There might be a slight difference in the speed of digestion of various fats. But, she says, there probably is a greater difference in the functioning of digestive systems of two individuals than between the speed of the digestion of two fats."

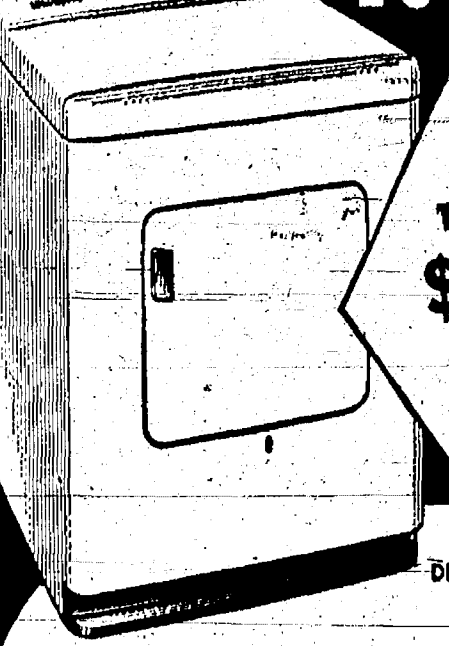

In a Michigan State University bulletin, Miss Hershey clears up this question of fat digestion as well as other misconceptions about food. The publication, "Fact, Fad and Fraud About Food," gives factual answers to 40 questions such as: "Is it harmful to cook foods in aluminum utensils?" and "Is aspirin a good food-preservative in canning?"

Miss Hershey explains that following food fads may be very dangerous. This is especially true if peculiar diets take the place of proper medical treatment. Most food fads are expensive. And she declares, downright food frauds are even more costly.

Miss Hershey's bulletin can be obtained from the office of your county home demonstration agent or from the Michigan State University bulletin office, Room 10, Agriculture Hall, MSU, East Lansing. Ask for bulletin number F-207, "Fact, Fad and Fraud About Food."

Doris Marie Weber, Wilbur Calcut Speak Vows in Ann Arbor

Doris Marie Weber, formerly of Chelsea, and Wilbur Calcut of East Ann Arbor, were married at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in St. Thomas Catholic church, Ann Arbor. Rev. Fr. William Foley officiated.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weber who now make their home near Ann Arbor. She attended St. Mary school here until the family moved to Ann Arbor eight years ago. She is a June, 1955, graduate of Mercy College of Nursing and has been employed at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Harry Calcut of East Ann Arbor, and the late Mr. Calcut. He served five years in the U. S. Army, three years of which were spent in Japan. He is employed at Kalsay's Market in East Ann Arbor.

The bride's wedding gown was fashioned of white chintilly lace and net with a fitted bodice having a jewel neckline and long sleeves. The floor-length skirt was very full and featured tiers of net and lace. Her veil was fingertip length and was held in place with a choker-style necklace of pearls completed her ensemble and she carried a bouquet of white roses and anemones centered with a white orchid.

The bride's attendants included her sisters, Mary and Viola Weber, and Leona Froehlich and Suzanne Vogel. All were gowned alike in shrimp-colored crystal-embroidered and carried carnations, the former being distinguished as maid of honor by her bouquet which included white and shrimp-colored blooms while the others were entirely of shrimp color. All wore matching colored-net half hats and rhinestone choker-style necklaces.

Thomas Calcut of Saline, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Those who served as ushers are Ray Allen and the bride's brothers, James and Francis Weber.

A wedding breakfast and reception for 125 guests was held in the Knights of Columbus hall in Ann Arbor. Assisting there were Mary Ann Parker, Janet Vogel, Rose Marie Rominski of Ypsilanti, and Joanne O'Sullivan.

Mrs. James Weber, sister-in-law of the bride, cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Thomas Calcut, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

When they return from a week's wedding trip, the couple will live in East Ann Arbor.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Weber wore a medium blue lace dress with white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. Mrs. Calcut, in charcoal crepe, also had a white orchid corsage.

Memorial Day first was observed May 30, 1869.

ST. MARY ALTAR SOCIETY

Mrs. Thomas Clark of Jackson, as guest speaker at St. Mary Altar Society meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 9, gave an interesting account of her audience with the Pope at Rome in 1952 and her attendance at the Eucharistic Congress in Argentina in July of this year.

Present for the meeting, held in St. Mary school, were 68 members and three guests. New members of the group are Mrs. Robert Devine, Mrs. Edward Orowski, Mrs. Evelyn Rowe, Mrs. Britten Graham and Mrs. Robert Anderson.

On behalf of the Altar Society, Mrs. G. L. Staffan, current president, presented Mrs. Kathleen Hart with a white rosette in appreciation of her work as president the past two years.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the November committee headed by Mrs. J. V. Burg as chairman.

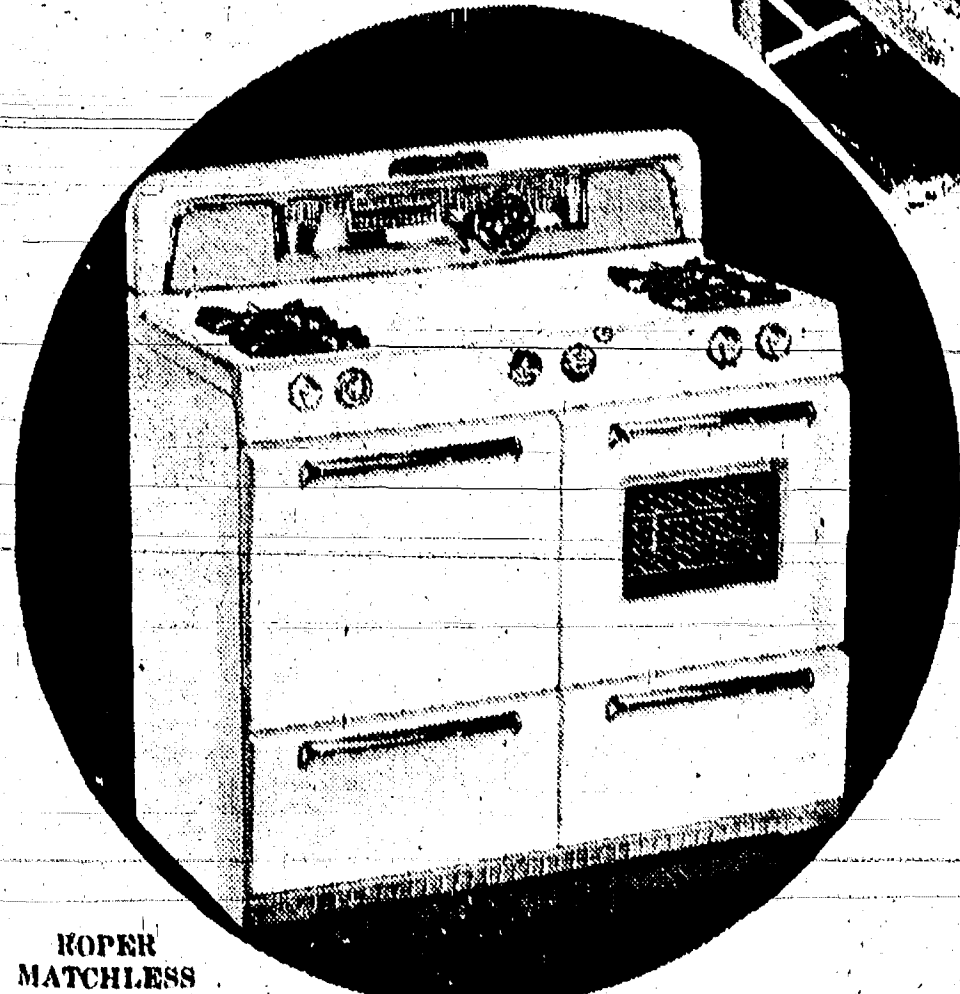

The December meeting will be the annual Christmas party and each member will bring a 50-cent gift. Date of the meeting is to be announced.

DEATHS

Elizabeth L. Ulrich
One-Year-Old Girl Dies
After Brief Illness

Elizabeth Louise Ulrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Ulrich of 8820 Huron River Drive, near Dexter, died Wednesday, Nov. 9, at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, following a brief illness. She was one year old, having been born at Ann Arbor Oct. 16, 1954. Her mother is the former Ruth Baker and her father, a former Chelsea area resident, is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ulrich.

Surviving, in addition to the parents, are a sister, Alice Ann, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Baker of Perrinton. Mrs. Irwin Young of Chelsea-Manchester road is an aunt of the baby.

Funeral services were held at the East-Keok-Kennel-Hess-Dexter at 10 a.m. Friday. Rev. Fr. Charles T. Walsh officiated. Burial took place in St. Joseph cemetery, Dexter.

U-M Scientists Find
Many Varied Uses
For Radioactivity

Ann Arbor—University of Michigan scientists use many forms of radioactivity in their research here. Two bundles of radioactive cobalt, each more powerful than all the radium in the world, are used behind heavy shielding to pasteurize foods, sterilize bones and other materials, and to trigger chemical reactions.

Radiation from a smaller cobalt source is focused on deep-seated tumors and cancer in medical treatment, and weak radioactive solutions—called "tracers"—for investigating the functions of plants and animals and the composition of matter.

Muscular Dystrophy.

weakened by M. D., are prey to all simple ailments, any of which can prove fatal. It is not contagious. In about one-third of the known cases, hereditary influences are seen, so that sometimes several children in one family are stricken. In the remaining two-thirds there is no clear history of M. D. in the families involved. It is estimated that 200,000 Americans have been stricken, by far the largest per cent being children. In children the disease sets in so gradually that parents may not recognize it for several years. In general, the child falls easily, has trouble climbing stairs, acquires a waddling walk and finds difficulty in dressing himself.

Help for muscular dystrophy victims rests solely on the extent to which the American public makes intensive research possible. It is pointed out that other diseases formerly incurable have been conquered through research and muscular dystrophy can be next if people will help make it so. In the Chelsea area, those who may happen not to receive a letter from the association and who wish to contribute may send their donations to Dorothea Pielemeier, 1420 Manchester Road. She mentioned that checks should be made payable to Muscular Dystrophy Association of America. Contributions are tax deductible.

Chicago Hunters Nabbed
Because of Towel
'Borrowing' from Motel

Double trouble descended on four Chicago hunters while visiting Michigan's Paw Paw area recently. The four made off with towels from a motel. The motel operator called state police, who stopped the quartet en route to Chicago. While checking the towelnappers, the officers found not only the stolen property but also that the four had been hunting illegally on resident licenses. For the misdeeds, a Paw Paw justice sent one of the four to jail for 15 days and collected $37.80 from each of the others.

You have only a nodding acquaintance with the formal rules of evidence, although they're one of the important safeguards to your rights.

We've all seen a great many courtroom dramas in the movies, on the stage, or on television. Too many, I think sometimes, but there's no denying the drama to be found in the courtroom.

A theater seat or a comfortable chair in front of the TV screen is the closest many of us ever get to a courtroom. It's from such a vantage point that most of our ideas come today about court procedure and how a trial is carried on.

Stage and screen trials normally present only the highlights and take many shortcuts in the interest of brevity and audience appeal. Often an attorney is pictured making objection after objection to the questions and answers as witnesses testify. He makes these objections vehemently, pompously, or sarcastically—and often in a voice louder than necessary—according to the demands of his role, and depending upon whether he's on the side of the villain or the hero.

The judge then steps forward and booms out "sustained," or "overruled," and those of us in the audience usually are at a loss over why he made his decision.

In a real courtroom it's true that attorneys protest against what's being done or said as a means of assuring a fair trial, and the judge must allow or disallow each objection.

I've always figured the principals in the real courtroom were just practicing common sense when they follow the "rules of evidence" in placing facts before the judge and jury. If there's to be a fair trial and a just verdict, there must be true facts.

Evidence in the courtroom may take several forms, but two are most common. Answers to questions from a witness under oath are the best-known type of evidence. Exhibits—written records, letters, "the murder weapon," and other physical objects having to do with the case—are the next most common. "Depositions," or written statements, from a witness who for some reason is unable to appear personally in court, are sometimes admitted as evidence in certain cases.

Perhaps you've heard: "A trial is not a contest of learning, skill, or tact between lawyers, but a proceeding to find out the truth according to the evidence received and the law as explained by the judge."

That's about the size of it, and that's the way I want it to be if ever I was placed on trial or taken to court.

Mormon King Once Reigned
Colony on Beaver Island

Ann Arbor—Believe it or not, a king was once crowned in Michigan!

Today, on Beaver Island in upper Lake Michigan, St. James, Lake Genesareth and the King's Highway are names which remain to recall the rule in Michigan of King James I.

F. Clever Bald, assistant director of the Michigan Historical Collection of the University of Michigan, recalls the curious and little-known tale—in his book, "Four Centuries of Michigan History."

A century ago, the "king," who in private life was James J. Strang, a follower of Mormon leader Joseph Smith, headed a colony of the faithful on this pleasant island—today the summer haunt of tourists.

The historian relates that Strang first founded the settlement of Vore in Wisconsin for those who accepted him as their leader. Then in 1847 he established his headquarters on Beaver Island, where he had been directed, he asserted, by a revelation from God. There he developed a Communal Economy centered in the religious organization.

Another revelation from the Lord made it clear to the prophet that he should rule on earth as God's viceregent.

And so, on July 8, 1850, Strang was crowned king in his capital of St. James, in the presence of 400 awestruck spectators. The crown of metal, adorned with a cluster of stars in front, was placed on his brow by George G. Adams. At sunrise the next day the newly-crowned king offered a heifer as a sacrifice.

Not only did the "king" not fall under censure of the government, he served two terms in the Michigan legislature from 1852 until 1856 and was regarded as a very capable legislator.

Bald goes on to say that trouble with the Irish fishermen on the mainland opposite the island led to charges that he was guilty of an assortment of offenses. These included counterfeiting, trespassing on U. S. lands, treason, and robbery of the mails. Arrested in 1851 and tried in federal court in Detroit, along with 31 of his followers, he acted as his own attorney and won acquittal for all of them. Even the Detroit newspapers, which were hostile to the Mormons, commented favorably on his ability as a lawyer, Bald says.

But Strang's autocratic rule was short-lived: two assassins shot him and escaped.

Mortally wounded, the prophet was removed to Vore where he died on Jan. 15, 1856. Most from the mainland then raided the island, herded the Mormons on ships, drove them out, and destroyed their property.

Thus ended the brief sojourn of the Mormons on Beaver Island.

DRIVE A DE SOTO BEFORE YOU DECIDE!

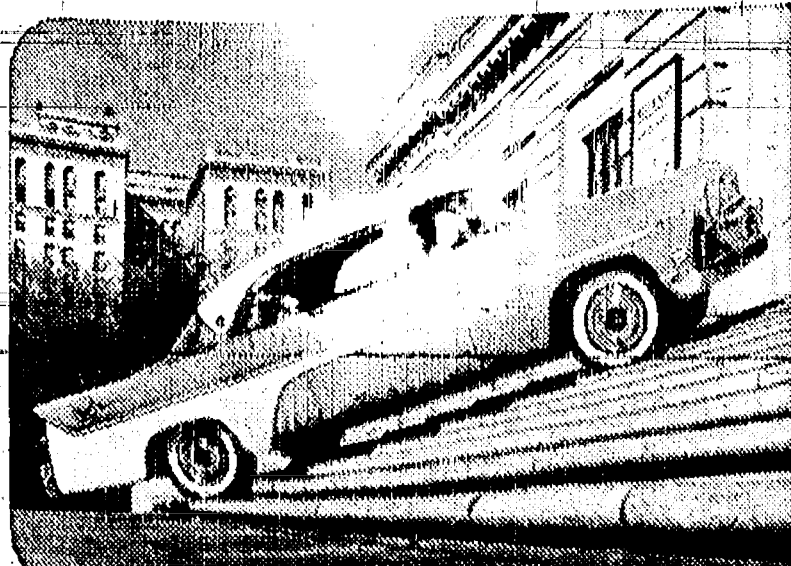

Try '56 De Soto push-button driving

The 1956 De Soto is the easiest handling car you will ever drive. You select the correct driving range with the effortless touch of a button. Simple? You bet! With De Soto's fully automatic push-button transmission you just touch the "D" button, nudge the accelerator and . . . Go! De Soto's new push-button driving is safer, too. The convenient controls are located on the left side of the instrument panel where no one but the driver can operate them. And De Soto's new push-button Powerflite transmission is fool-proof . . . no electronic circuits to fail . . . a simple, direct acting, positive control.

Come in today. Try the new De Soto with push-button driving—the only really modern way to drive. '56 DE SOTO . . . for the super-highway ago.

"Full Time" Power Steering

Chances are you'll never put your De Soto through punishment like this. But the "up-the-stops" test gives dramatic proof of the tremendous hydraulic muscles in De Soto's "Full Time" Power Steering. No "on-again-off-again" action. Power works "Full Time" all the time for complete control at all speeds.

Bleazing New 255 Horsepower

Now power for sizzling "high-torque take-offs." Never has any automobile delivered such terrific go-out-front performance. Here is super-highway power . . . instantaneous response . . . for maneuvering in tight city traffic or that safety burst of "step down" reserve for passing at modern highway speeds.

STOP!

A Time To Be Truly Grateful for Our Many Blessings in This Land of Plenty

Thanksgiving
1621 1955

THANKSGIVING is a time for family gatherings . . . for heartfelt rejoicing in the blessings of home, family, peace and plenty. It's a time to be joyful . . . and a time to be quietly, prayerfully grateful because the abundance and freedom our forefathers dreamed of are ours in reality. On this Thanksgiving, we join in giving thanks, and among our blessings we count our freedom of worship!

YOUR HUNTING DOG

In the fall the hunting dog is king in the sportsman's household. All the months of training and hard work is on the testing block as the young dog takes to the bird field or marsh for his first workout over live game. Hounds happily course the swamps, filling eager nostrils with the first scent of the cotton-tail. And the sportsman-owner puffs out his chest proudly, for the training of a hunting dog is indeed a worthwhile achievement.

Choice of Dog

Thousands of hunters are learning each year that fulfillment of the real joy of hunting comes with the performance of a well-trained dog. Hunting with friends who own dogs impels them to buy and train their own hunting companion for next season, and so the choice of the right breed of dog becomes a paramount issue.

If your sport is pheasant hunting the universal favorite would be a spaniel pup. Acquire him this fall, begin your training in early spring of next year and you'll be ready for opening season next October. The spaniel falls into three general classes — the cocker, springer and Brittany.

Of the trio the cocker is the smallest, and probably the best "house" dog, making a fine all-around pet. If he is taught obedience at an early age the spilling he gets from your family may not affect his hunting ability too much. These dogs have a fine trailing nose for running birds, and Michigan pheasants are getting to the point where we hunt them on the ground far more than in flight.

The springer spaniel is a larger, more rugged dog, with staying power in the field surpassing that of the cocker. The springer, too, makes an excellent pet for the family.

If you prefer a pointing dog with all the spaniel characteristics, better look into a good Brittany pup. The Brittany's body frame is about the same as that of a springer — possibly a trifle smaller in bone structure. A natural pointing dog, the Brittany makes an excellent grouse dog. All three spaniel breeds are fine retrievers, and the cocker and springer perform well in the duck marsh as waterfowl retrievers. Occasionally Brittany spaniels do the same.

Next week we'll appraise other popular breeds of hunting dogs for your consideration as worthy hunting companions in Michigan Outdoors.

Toy Balloons Released In Illinois Reported At Toronto, Canada

Berrell H. Kniss, predatory animal control officer with the Michigan Department of Conservation, received a letter this week from Rev. R. A. Marquardt, executive secretary of the Lutheran Child Welfare Association at Addison, Ill., in which the pastor thanked him for his interest in returning a balloon and card found in Lyndon township Oct. 22. The balloon was one of approximately 10,000 sent out Sept. 11 at Addison, Ill., on behalf of children who are cared for by the Lutheran association.

The child whose balloon goes the farthest gets a prize, according to information on the card attached to each one. Three were reported found in this area.

In returning the card to the boy on whose behalf it had been sent, Kniss enclosed a gift of two dollars since he believed the balloon would probably not be the prizewinner and the gift would be a sort of consolation award. The card was mailed to William Dahl.

Kniss explained, by means of a map enclosed in his letter, exactly the spot in Lyndon township, near Gorman lake, where he found the deflated toy balloon 42 days after it was released at Addison, Ill.

In the letter from Rev. Marquardt, it was stated that some of the balloons were reported as having been found east of Toronto, Ontario, in Canada. Most of the others reportedly fell in northern Indiana and Ohio and in the southern part of Michigan.

Kniss was especially interested in the fact that the balloon-releasing project resulted in again proving that prevailing winds in this area are chiefly from the west.

"The knowledge is important in his work with animals since it indicates where lures and repellents may be used to greatest advantage."

Louis Dreyer Named Field Assistant for Flint Insurance Agency

Louis E. Dreyer, formerly of Chelsea, was announced as a field assistant in the Equitable Life Assurance Society at a meeting held in Ponton, Friday, Nov. 11. You enjoy the "blessings of liberty" which are yours as an American citizen but you take too much for granted.

I'm a little ashamed sometimes when I take time to think about all the wonderful things that are mine just because I was lucky enough to have been born in the United States. The shame is that I accept them with seldom a second thought, and I'm inclined to let the other fellow take much of the responsibility for protecting my interests.

As Americans we have always had a great debate for war, but it seems that at the peak of war is when we feel and express our patriotism most. In our years of peace—and we are sincere in our prayers that we will find the key to lasting peace—we're likely to get things like, "We make little jokes about the speeches on the Fourth of July and Memorial Day, because we're a little uneasy about showing emotion and are a little afraid that our sentiment may be mistaken for weakness."

Our grandfathers made no bones about a rip-roaring "Glorious Fourth", and they were much closer to the rugged stock which wrote down the principles that make us strong today and then took a personal interest in seeing that those principles worked.

You and I sometimes lose sight of just who makes up "We, the people" who set up our constitution, and that there are ways of fighting for our constitution, and that there are ways of fighting for our constitutional rights without putting on a uniform and carrying a rifle or a machine gun.

Let's take a look at our constitution. That's where we find our freedoms written down, and the mechanics for holding onto those freedoms. It was written by the people themselves. The words may have been put in order by experts, but the thoughts came from folks like you and me who said "here's the maximum power that we're willing to surrender to the national government. We think it's enough, but if we see the need for granting more power we'll do it after everyone's had a chance to think it over."

It was purposely made difficult to amend the constitution. And yet 10 amendments were added almost immediately—in one lump—because people wanted to make doubly certain that there would be freedom of the press and speech and religion, and that each of us had the right to "speedy and public trial" before an impartial jury, and that the dozens of other specific freedoms in the "Bill of Rights" should be guaranteed.

Air Force Offers Veterans Choice On Re-Enlistment

Have you heard about the brand new Air Force Prior Service Program? Sergeant Adams, Air Force Recruiter, located at 105 1/2 East Washington street, Ann Arbor, feels every veteran should know what benefits are available to him under the new Air Force Program.

Generally, here is what the program contains.

The Air Force has put into operation a new policy which establishes a grade scale for enlistment and re-enlistment for all prior service personnel. The grade scale will be based on technical skills and grade held at time of discharge.

A choice of area or base assignment is also part of the new policy which favors the discharged veterans. In some cases it carries provisions whereby veterans may elect re-enlistment for a specific overseas station.

The plan was devised to increase procurement of the much needed prior service technician and to assure assignment where skills could be used immediately.

Basically, grade, determination will be dependent upon skill, duty of separation, and the need of the occupational field specialty.

Periodically the recruiting stations are receiving a breakdown of skills categorized in order of the Air Force needs. The breakdown will encompass all occupational fields and will be listed in six classifications ranging from scarce to surplus.

"Since lists are being received at the local recruiting station, every veteran desiring information on the new policy should check with his office," Sergeant Adams said.

PROBABLY FEW players have ever been so underrated or so abused by Lions fans as blond Bobby Layne.

He received few cheers for leading Detroit to three successive Western Division titles and two straight World Championships. He has been given some uncalculated boos and unjust criticism for the Lions' downspin this year.

Yet Bobby is the heart and the guts of the Lions. I consider him the backbone of the team. Without him the Lions stutter and stall. With him they always have a fighting chance.

For Bobby is the kind of a player who holds a team together. He has great confidence in himself and it exudes to his teammates when the going gets tough. He keeps their spirits from flagging when they're trailing on the scoreboard.

Money Player
Bobby thrives under pressure, as evidenced by his excellent comeback from behind direction of the victory over the Baltimore Colts in the last few minutes a couple of weeks ago.

More spectacular was his long pass that brought Detroit the world's title over the Cleveland Browns by a slender point in 1953.

I consider Layne the greatest quarterback I ever teamed with. While he may not be the most outstanding passer in the league, he's the best-running signal caller, being particularly adept on the option play.

He never gets rattled and, unlike so many other quarterbacks, was intercepted.

he is not afraid to "eat" the ball if his receivers are covered and he cannot run. Whereas others will keep fading backwards before the onrushing linemen, losing valuable yardage when they're spilled, Bobby simply puts his head down, tucks the ball in and takes his medicine.

But the record speaks for itself. In seven and a half seasons of professional play, including his freshman season with the Chicago Bears and the next with the now defunct New York Bulldogs, Bobby has gained 1693 yards rushing in 381 attempts for an average of 4.1 per carry, quite a record for a passer.

Two Shy of Record
In passing, he has completed 900 of 2008 attempts for 13,882 yards, an average of 6.9 yards per throw. He also has pitched 100 touchdown passes.

These figures, incidentally, are through the seventh game of the season only and do not include Sunday's tilt at Pittsburgh.

In 1951, which seemingly was his best season, Layne gained 230 yards rushing in 41 attempts for a 4.8 average, and completed 137 of 332 passes for 2403 yards, an average of 7.2 per throw. His longest gain was for 73 yards, he had only 17 interceptions, and he threw 28 touchdown passes, only two shy of the all-time record.

As a footnote, Bobby threw his 2,000th pass in the Baltimore game of two weeks ago, a mark exceeded only by the untouchable 3,000-plus of the great Sammy Baugh. Ironically, number 2000 was intercepted.

Locally-elected school officials have won the fight to determine how a $13,500,000 bonanza in sales tax money will be divided into salaries for teachers and other employees.

But it was a long fight, pitting Republicans and Democrats on opposite sides of the arena.

It was discovered that the money had piled up from record sales tax collections. Law requires that two thirds of these funds go to schools.

So, as part of the special legislative session, there was the question of how it would be divided into teacher salaries—a proposal

In different forms pushed by both parties.

Then came the scramble. Gov. Williams wanted it specifically earmarked for $200 raises for each of Michigan's 11,000 teachers. Republicans wanted to turn it over to use it for wage hikes.

Then came the teacher organizations, which claimed that a $7 per pupil earlier increase in state money intended for raises was in some instances spent for other purposes, and pay increases ignored.

"We know that in Hamtramck, teachers got nothing and some areas in Detroit the increases were uneven," said Williams.

Non-teaching employees also asked for a raise from the latest chunk of cash. Republicans included them, and Williams said he would go along at $145 each if the legislature accepted his version.

Republicans flatly rejected the idea. "I think it is improper for me to come down here and assume I know more about local school conditions than the men elected to run them," said Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Kennett).

GOP men argued that local boards could not be expected to use remaining teachers with experience—without putting all teachers on the same level regardless of training or talent.

Williams figured the teachers wouldn't get it at all. Also that districts operating inefficiently—with large classes—would benefit more from the $7 per pupil distribution than those who had a smaller teacher-to-pupil ratio.

Republicans won the battle in the legislature and Williams indicated he would accept it.

Fighting about toll roads in Michigan is a continuous process, and may be for some time. There are those who think the most telling blow about the Toledo-Saginaw proposal have got to be struck.

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has been accused and discussed in the toll road picture for the most part because he had been most reluctant to endorse the proposed plan. There is much to be said for his position.

Many critics of the Commission do not seem to realize the tremendously complicated factors involved in a state road system. Laws, some of them passed years ago, provide that fixed percentages of the commission's income from certain sources be spent in certain places. These are not necessarily in accordance with most serious needs. In fact, there is little correlation.

Ziegler's position in the toll road battle may prove to be a very sound one when all the facts are known. At present the Commissioner feels he will be "cursed if he does and cursed if he doesn't."

So he is holding out for what makes sense to him.

Much argument will also make sense to many people who use north-south highways in eastern Michigan. The point is taken from a report written by an engineering firm. In short it amounts to this: In order for the proposed toll road to pay its way, Ziegler must not improve roads which might be converted to compete with it. This includes as far west as US-27. It also includes routes 10, 15, 16, 23, 24, 83 and 150.

Ziegler says he cannot be come involved in such a plan. If the toll road were built, and if improve-

Food Production Research Lags, Says U. of M. Botanist

Ann Arbor—American agricultural research is failing to provide the information needed to maintain large future gains in food production, says a University of Michigan botanist.

Prof. A. G. Norman states that present research programs are oversteering short-range projects that "rarely are stepping stones to further advances in knowledge."

Although of immediate economic value, this short-range research is not the soil from which the great agricultural advances of the next 10 to 15 years will spring, Professor Norman maintains.

He points out that the current favorable food position of this country is based on research accomplishments that long ago.

What is needed is long-range research on a host of fundamental problems, he indicates.

"There are great gaps in our knowledge about the basic characteristics of plants and plant growth," he says.

He specifically mentioned the need for basic research on the "physiology of adaptation"—the ability or inability of a plant to make the most of different sites and environments.

The speaker also urges fundamental studies of inherent differences in the yield of plants, of the basic nutrition of crop plants, of their tolerance to heat and drought and of the "great possibilities" in applying chemicals to modify the normal sequence of development of crops or to circumvent environmental limitations.

Until vital questions in these relatively unexplored regions are answered, Professor Norman states, "the rate and extent of advance is likely to be limited."

"The strategy which is needed therefore is a reorientation of much of our agricultural research, a redeployment of some of the troops already in the field, a willingness to spend more of the funds available on longer-range projects and a determination to end up with logical explanations for phenomena established empirically," he concluded.

Most Eligible Schools

Now Participating in Special Milk Program

More than twice as many Michigan schools are participating now in the nation's special milk program for schools as had part in the program before. There are more than 3,100 Michigan schools enrolled now, representing 90 to 95 per cent of the eligible school children.

Those statistics were released by Professor Dale E. Butz, Michigan State University.

Last year, the 1,571 participating schools included 342,730 students who consumed 15,950,000 half-pints of milk.

Seen Monk's "Better Half"?

Monk McCarthy's latest creation has the town talking again. You can see it parked in front of Monk's auto repair shop on Maple.

Remember last year Monk cut two cars in half, and put their front ends together? You couldn't tell if the thing was coming or going. Sure attracted attention.

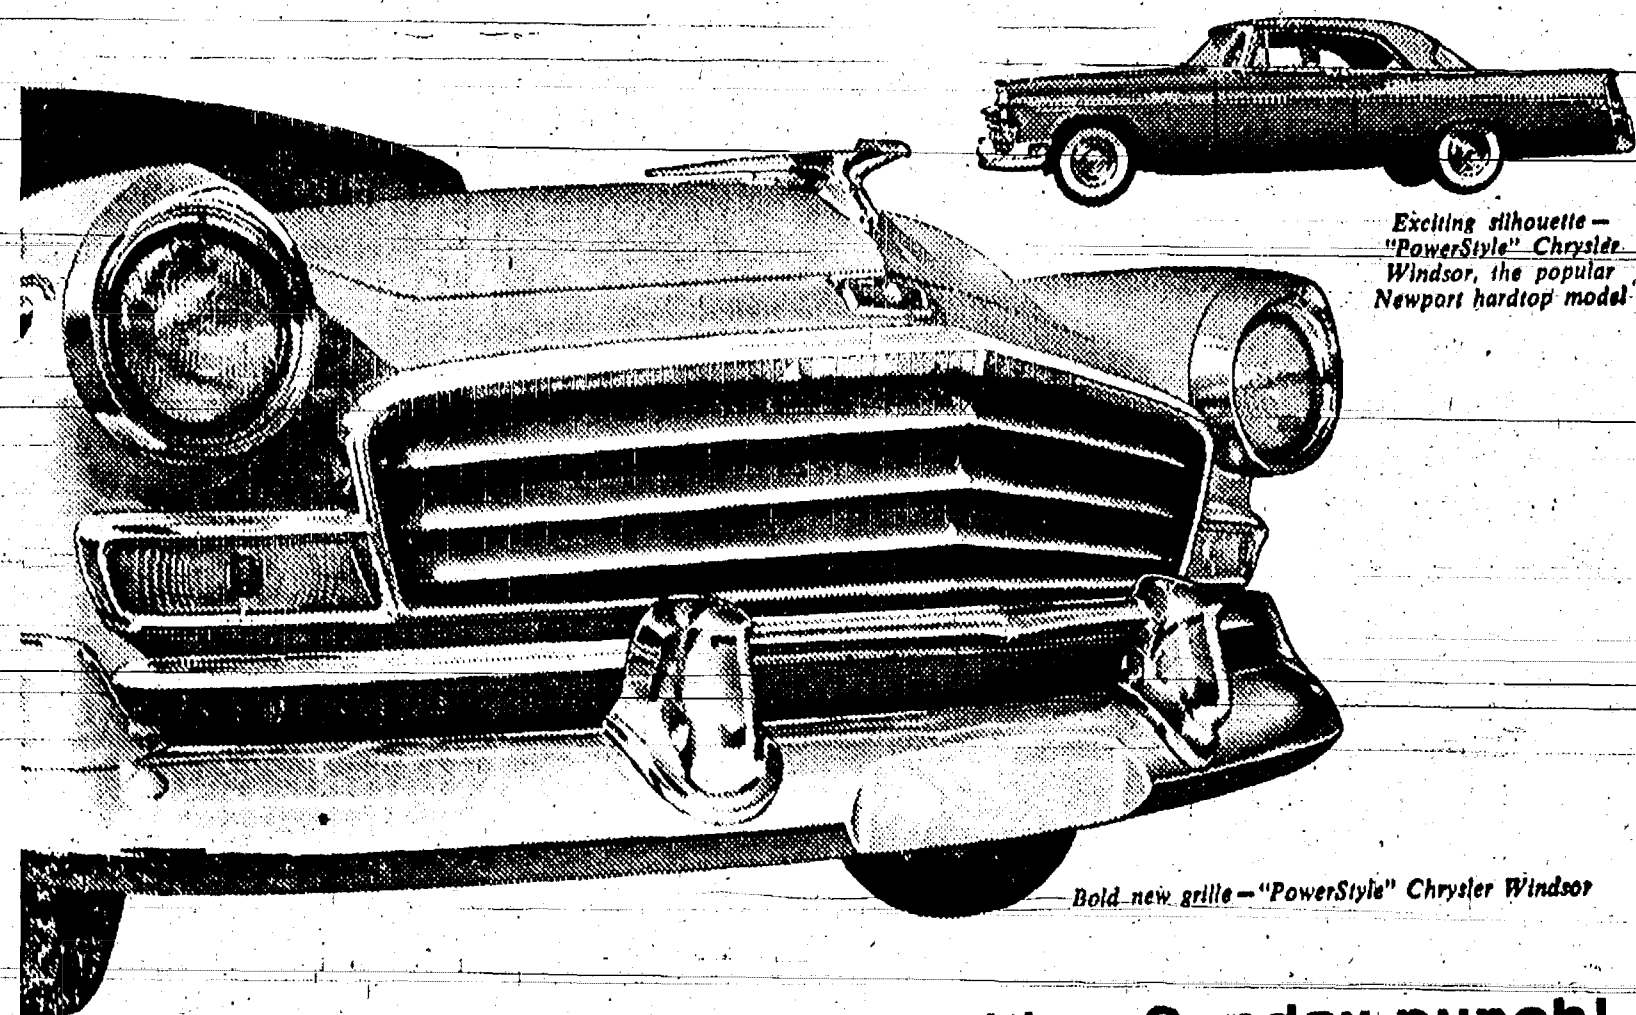

Now Monk's taken Tog Morgan's old sedan and completely restored one half of it. One side is as good as new, the other looks like—well, Tog's old car. "Sort of a before-and-after demonstration," Monk told me, "shows folks the kind of work I do."

From where I sit, some of Monk's ideas may look a little wild sometimes... but I wouldn't want to tell him how to run his business any more than I'd like him to tell me what beverage to enjoy. He always keeps a hot pot of tea in his garage—I'd rather have a cold glass of beer—but respect for each other's opinion is "auto-matic" with us both.

What makes the pelt of these small animals so valuable? Nothing at all except that they're quite durable and make up into a beautiful-looking coat, says this expert on forest zoology. And the long hours of work in stretching, tanning and preparing the skins for the finished coat is what ups the price.

So if the wife wants one you'd better buy it, not trap it, he advises, even though you'll be paying seven times more than the manufacturer paid for the skins originally.

Appointees of Gov. Williams to state jobs will get a close check during the interim by Senate committee members.

The Senate Business Committee asked for the right to operate between sessions to look into the qualifications of appointees so that the Senate could make a better judgment on confirmations.

Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Pennville) denied it would be an inquiry or a sub-rosa method of disposing of political pals of the governor who were appointed to positions in government.

"We feel this will be as much a benefit to the appointees as to the Senate," he said. "Often we hear disparaging remarks about an appointee, and we would either prove them or set them at rest."

Hutchinson's committee must pass on the qualifications of appointees before they are taken before the full Senate for a vote of confirmation.

He said the committee would hold no public hearings or announce results.

Get 4-Season Comfort in your new Buick with FRIGIDAIRE CONDITIONING—now at a new low price

The 1956 Buick CENTURY
4-Door Riviera

NOW—
Just touch the pedal and away you go!

(That's the New Variable Pitch Dynaflo)*

OF course, you can floor the pedal of this stunning new '56 Buick and get the full-power sweep of its advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo. That's how you switch the pitch of this airplane-principled transmission for instant safety-surge acceleration to get out of a tight spot on the highway.

But now you get a brilliant new response at the start of pedal travel, too.

Now you get a solid take-hold for instant take-off in the first inch of pedal action—where most of your normal driving is handled. And you get this great new getaway with a big boost in gas mileage, too.

So there you are, just nudging the pedal, and getting action that makes you feel like you've floored it.

There you are, handling all your normal driving situations with a confident toe-touch—with new surety and snap—and with the happy satisfaction that comes with a sizable step-up in the miles you get from a tankful of gas.

And there you are, rolling along with beaming pride as boss man of the best Buick yet.

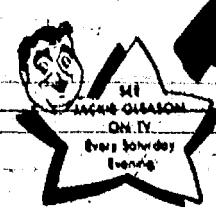

For here you have, beating any past Buick, the greatest power yet—the boldest styling yet—the sweetest ride yet—the smartest interior yet—and, by far, the best buy yet.

Drop in on us this week—tomorrow, if you can—and see for yourself that there's never before been anything like this Buick beauty for 1956.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

EVER THINK about extension telephones as Christmas gifts? Almost anyone on your list would appreciate these unusual gifts—they make things so much easier around the home. And they will be appreciated every day of the year. They make unique gifts—not likely to be duplicated by others. An extension phone costs just $1.21 a month including tax, plus a one-time installation charge. We'll install them just before Christmas or we'll attractively gift wrap them—free of charge—to place under the Christmas tree, to be installed after Christmas. To order your gift telephones, call our Business Office.

30 YEARS OF RESEARCH at the Bell Telephone Laboratories have resulted in a new type of cable that is actually a copper spring coiled inside a flexible covering. The new cable is called a "wave guide" and it can be run uphill or down and be bent around corners. Its most remarkable feature is the number of Long Distance conversations it can carry. In the future we may have "wave guides" no thicker than a fountain pen that will carry tens of thousands of Long Distance calls and many television programs at one time. Research such as this keeps Long Distance rates low. Call tonight and see!

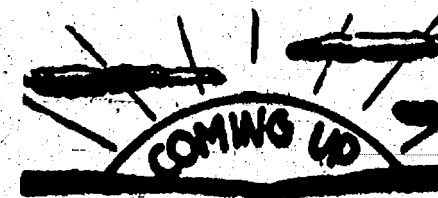

THE OTHER DAY we heard of a little girl who wanted to call up and invite a playmate to come over. But Mary wasn't home, so she called June. She wasn't home either, so her mother suggested calling Phyllis. "Yes," said the little girl, "but first I'll wait a while because somebody else on the line might want to make a call."

Isn't it surprising how wonderful kids can be!

Home Ec. Entertains

First hour Home Ec. girls entertained their mothers Thursday morning, Nov. 10. Doughnuts, coffee and cocoa were served as refreshments. Jennifer Hibbs gave a demonstration on good and poor muffin making.

The girls in fifth hour Home Ec. also entertained their mothers on the same day. They served strawberry meringue tortes.

The seventh grade girls entertained their mothers on Nov. 11. Refreshments of apple crisp, milk and coffee were served.

Art Classes Making Progress
Art I is beginning still life paintings by men such as... Their first attempt at painting with water colors was making free forms in different colors, and then visualizing actual things, such as animals and plants, within the forms. These things were drawn in with India ink on the paper.

Art II is working on its second group of oil paintings. Children on a hay-slide and a haunted house are only two of the interesting subjects being painted.

The seventh graders are finishing their reports on art history. They plan to begin studying murals.

Marriage Counselor Gives Talk
The marriage counselor of the Washtenaw County Circuit Court, Hugh Gaston, presented an interesting talk during sociology class, Wednesday, Nov. 9. Mr. Gaston stated that most of his cases are referred to him by the Circuit Court Judge. He explained that the three major categories of his cases are: (1) those who are in the process of getting a divorce, (2) divorced parties (with children), who are remarrying, and (3) married people on probation. Mr. Gaston was especially proud of the fact that Washtenaw county was the first place in the state to have a marriage counselor directly associated with the court.

Journalism Acquires Equipment
Journalism is the proud possessor of a pair of glass-cupped, inter-lighted boxes by the shop department. These boxes enable club members to assemble the Bulldog Barks in daylight or darkness, without the unsightly use of the window panes.

Student Council
All Student Council representatives are to discuss with their home-room the possibility of having a Youth Center. The students are to give some helpful ideas on what they could do in a Youth Center.

Both Irwin was chosen chairman of the committee to look into having a "Career Day," sponsored by Student Council.

FHA's plans for a Clothespin Dance, Nov. 18 were approved.

Fourth Grade is Busy
The room mothers for Mrs. Jennings' fourth grade are Mrs. Runciman and Mrs. Lindow. Mrs. Keeler also helped to give us a lovely party for Halloween. We really had fun.

About a month ago Daniel Keplart came to our room. His family moved here from Tacoma, Wash. We think he and his family have traveled quite a long way to Chelsea.

We are doing a unit on The Pilgrims in language. We have made a bulletin board showing why the Pilgrims came to America. Reports are being written and a group is doing a play on "The Home of the Pilgrims."

Sixth Grade
Miss Sahama El-Agize, a teacher of English in the high school at Cairo, Egypt, talked to the sixth graders recently. She showed film strips, hand-made jewelry, and fabrics in an effort to explain her country. She spoke to both South and North school classes. She is now attending the University of Michigan's English Language Institute, having been

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Considerable fast behind the scenes footwork may be needed to prevent current Congressional investigation from resulting in profound changes in gasoline and petroleum marketing.

Rep. James Roosevelt's subcommittee of the House Small Business Committee, opened an investigation, all the dealers of the nation.

The when Small Business Committee started probe of the Attorney General's Committee to study Anti-Trust Laws, considerable time was devoted to issue.

Washington observers took special note of keen interest in subject shown by men such as... They and James Duff when testimony was presented.

Basically, testimony developed that in 1954 mortality of so-called independent service station operators reached all time high. Out of 210,000 so-called independent retailers, 65,000 or 31% were forced out.

According to testimony, this was largely due to "all out wars" waged by major oil corporations in "good faith" defense against cut price competition from local brands.

Testimony developed that in waging these price wars, major oil has the most-plush-lined method of warfare ever devised.

Often, it was charged, the cut price oil brand stations they warred on were actually being supplied by the majors.

But in waging their "war" the National Petroleum Association (NPA) is expected to be exposed.

It is expected that this matter of gasoline retailing will be gone into even more deeply. In fact, further testimony is expected to deal with tactics allegedly employed by major oil to force independent dealers to handle only certain brands of tires, batteries and accessories.

But in waging their "war" the National Petroleum Association (NPA) is expected to be exposed.

But the major oil stations outside the immediate neighborhood are given no price concessions. But in order to meet the competition of their own brand in some neighborhood, all the dealers of that brand in entire cities or counties are often forced to sell at a lower price with no adjustment in their wholesale price. Thus, the major oil company sells a huge volume of gasoline during this "good faith" price war, while only taking a cut in price on the gallonage pumped by a few of their dealers in a particular neighborhood.

So-called independent operators have little, if any recourse, in as much as their life savings are usually tied up in the station which they hold on to six months, or year lease which also contains short term cancellation clauses which can put them out on the street in a jig time.

The senators were told over 80% of the so-called independent stations are actually owned by major oil, and further, that they only operate 5% of all the stations, because major oil has found it cannot pay adequate wages and operate stations at a break even point, let alone at a profit.

It is expected that this matter of gasoline retailing will be gone into even more deeply. In fact, further testimony is expected to deal with tactics allegedly employed by major oil to force independent dealers to handle only certain brands of tires, batteries and accessories.

It is expected that this matter of gasoline retailing will be gone into even more deeply. In fact, further testimony is expected to deal with tactics allegedly employed by major oil to force independent dealers to handle only certain brands of tires, batteries and accessories.

DOGS

By Farley Manning

Accidents or sickness will some day take our pets from us even with the best of care. But to lose a dog is something that can almost always be avoided with minimum precautions.

While there are no figures available as to the number of dogs lost each year, workers with the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in New York estimate it at many thousands. They point out that the four basic precautions are to have the dog licensed; to always have identification on his collar; to keep a new dog inside or on a run until he knows his home; and never to let him run in strange territory.

Having your telephone number on his collar seems so obvious as to hardly be worth mentioning. But among dogs checked in an Eastern city in October only about half had any identification tags.

The best tag is, of course, the engraved plate that is attached directly to the collar but unfortunately many people buy collars that never get around to having them engraved. However, currently, a paid dog food is offering such a collar, already engraved with the dog's name and the owner's telephone number, as a premium.

Even if he is properly identified, however, you should keep your dog on leash away from home. Forgetting the dangers of a loose dog can be a nuisance and it is easy for him to get into fights or pick up diseases.
