Chaperones Needed for Youth Center

Chelsea Jaycees who are sponsors of the local Youth Center, now open Saturday evenings only, have had a number of inquiries showing interest in having the Youth Center open additional evenings during the week.

John Popovich, general chairman of the Youth Center project, for the Jaycees, has stated that if the Center were to remain open additional evenings there is a need for chaperones who would be willing to volunteer their services for stated times.

Popovich asks that people who are willing to assist with this worthwhile service to the young people of the community send him a card stating the evenings and the hours they could serve as chaperones. A card will reach him at 228 Buchanan street.

Plans for opening the Center additional evenings will depend on the help volunteered, Popovich said.

D. Wolfgang Wins State FFA Award

David Wolfgang, president of the Chelsea Future Farmers of America chapter, was awarded the State Farmer degree in ceremonies held at the 29th State Future Farmer convention, held at Michigan State University Monday and Tuesday of this week. The presentation of the coveted State Farmer degree took place Monday afternoon.

The recommendations for the honor are made by the State Executive Committee of the Michigan Association of Future Farmers of America.

The State Farmer degree is the highest degree that can be awarded to an FFA member by the state association. This award, according to the state association constitution, is limited to two per cent of the total state membership in any one year. At present there are about 11,000 members in the state and 219 of these members received the State Farmer degree Monday at the convention.

The minimum qualifications for State Farmer include an earning of at least $500 profit from his supervised farming program, a record of outstanding leadership ability and certification by high school superintendent or principal of satisfactory scholarship by the applicant. Many more members meet the minimum qualifications than can be included in the two per cent.

David has an outstanding supervised farming program consisting of 13 head of registered Jersey cattle and 30 head of registered Blacktop Delana Merino sheep. During his four years in the FFA he has raised swine and corn in addition to sheep and cattle.

His leadership record includes the following: president of the senior class; president of the FFA; vice-president of the Chelsea FFA; district FFA reporter; member of the winning Regional parliamentary procedure team in 1956; president of Pilgrim Fellowship in the Congregational church; president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and reporter during eight years as a member of the 4-H club; awarded a trip to Wolverine "Ovs" State (Ov).

Easter Seals First Started In Washtenaw

With the Easter Seal sale now in progress it is of special interest to people of this vicinity to know that the Society for Crippled Children and Adults had its beginning in the local Washtenaw county chapter of this organization. The first such organization was operated here in 1919 by the Ann Arbor Rotary Club, according to Mrs. Vladimir Bibicoff, president of the Washtenaw county chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

"It was in 1919 that the Ann Arbor Rotary Club, in an attempt to make University Hospital facilities available to crippled children of the community, hired a social worker to determine the needs of the community. President of the Rotary club at that time, 1919-1920, was the late Lloyd C. Douglas, later to become a famous author," Mrs. Bibicoff continued.

The project gained in popularity to the point where in 1921 it had outgrown the role set for it by the Rotary club originally. This same year, a group of community leaders met and decided that this should be extended to other areas and the Michigan Society for Crippled Children was formed. The organization has continued to grow to include chapters in all 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. "Not until 1952 did the organization extend services to adults, but today no person in Washtenaw county is refused help which is really needed," said Mrs. Bibicoff.

"The society helps any person, regardless of the crippling conditions or of color or creed."

The Washtenaw county chapter, active in many community projects, is currently conducting its annual sale of Easter Seals. The money received from this sale of Easter Seals is the only means of support the organization has. Yet it manages to conduct an active, year-round program of direct aid to crippled persons in Washtenaw county.

WORK ON M-92 PROGRESSES—Giant earth movers, cranes and power shovels are being used in the preliminary work for re-location of M-92, north of Chelsea. In the upper photograph, a break in the line of trees in the center of the woods at the rear, on a direct line with fill dirt at front center, shows where the road will cut across the eastern corner of Green Lake, north of the Claude Deatrick farm, eliminating two sharp curves in the present road around the lake. The lower photograph shows a gravel pit opened up on the Deatrick property from which huge quantities of gravel for the roadbed are being processed in the crusher, seen in the foreground.

Four Local Boy Scouts To Attend National Jamboree

"Camp where Washington camped" is the rallying call that will bring 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and their leaders from all parts of the nation to historic Valley Forge, Pa., for their Fourth National Jamboree next July 12-18.

Chelsea Scouts and Explorers will be represented at the jamboree by Danny Mayer of Boy Scout Troop 25 Gary Berger of Troop 70; and Thomas Brooks and William Morley of Explorer Post 25.

The four Chelsea Scouts will go to Detroit by train and join other Scouts of the Michigan-Illinois-Indiana district who will make the trip together and will camp as a unit of 800 at Valley Forge.

The Boy Scouts Park is owned, maintained, and preserved by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and managed by the Valley Forge Park Commission. They invited the Boy Scouts of America to hold their national jamboree there again.

The First National Jamboree in July, 1937, found 27,232 Scouts and leaders camping in a 480-acre tent city on both sides of the Potomac River at Washington, D. C. The third jamboree in July, 1953, saw 46,401 Scouts and leaders living together at the Irvine Ranch in southern California.

Thousands of Scouts will visit the nation's leading cities and scenic spots enroute to the jamboree camp or while homeward bound.

The railroads are providing special rates for jamboree campers and nearly 37,500 of them are expected to use about 100 special trains.

All Explorers and Boy Scouts at least 12 years old, of second class rank or higher are eligible to participate. Each boy will need to have had adequate camping experience to care for himself in the open and have a cooperative attitude towards his fellow Scouts and leaders.

TO PROVE TO YOU WHAT THE EXPERTS ALREADY KNOW ABOUT
AMERICA'S NUMBER ① ROAD CAR!

Drive the Champ!

First the automotive writers said, "Keep your eye on Pontiac . . . this one's a sleeper!" Then the California Highway Patrol chose Pontiac after three days of grueling competitive tests of six of America's top performers. Next, in the top stock car event of the year, NASCAR's 160-mile Daytona Grand National*, Pontiac outperformed everything on the beach, including super-charged and fuel injection cars!

NOW IT'S YOUR TURN—Slip into that roomy driver's seat. Gently nudge the accelerator and feel Pontiac's barrel-chested 347 cu. in. Strato-Streak V-8 go into action. Put its instant response and Precision-Touch Control to a traffic test. Choose your own rough stretch and feel it disappear under Pontiac's Level-Line Ride. Then head for the open road and give that deep-breathing power plant a chance to show its mettle in the fresh open air. Man—you've got a champ on your hands for sure! And to make it even more fun—there's a chance to win a free Pontiac! Just follow the instructions at the right—you may be a winning driver!

HERE'S ALL YOU DO!

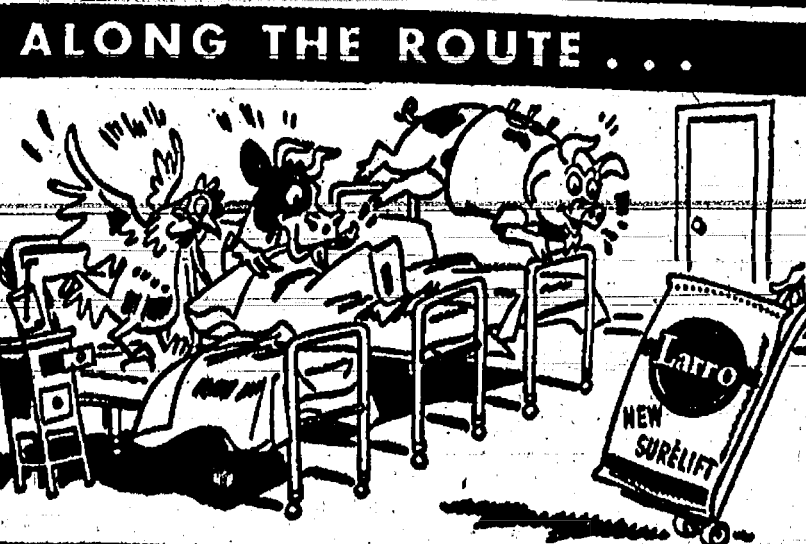

1 Go to your nearest authorized Pontiac dealer during April and test drive the 1957 Pontiac.

2 Fill out the official entry blank and deposit it with your dealer. That's all there is to it!

SUBJECT TO LOCAL, STATE AND FEDERAL REGULATIONS.

*DAYTONA GRAND NATIONAL CHAMP
A stock 317-h.p. Pontiac with Tri-Power Carburetion—extra-cost option on any model—beat all competing cars regardless of size, power or price in the biggest stock car competition of the year!

NEWS HOLLYWOOD

Charles Boyer, Yul Brynner and Charles Heston will co-star in "The Buccaneer" for Paramount. Brynner will play Andrew Jackson and Boyer, Dominique, Jean Lafitte's artillery captain in the Battle of New Orleans. There are roles for two women stars of equal importance, but these have not been announced, as yet.

Mickey Rooney's success on TV's Playhouse 90's "The Comedian," in which he portrayed a despicable TV comic, has started negotiations for the Mink to return to a full-length feature based on the same show. He is also planning to revamp his old "The Hardy Series" at the same studio for television.

The combination of Phyllis Kirk and Jerry Lewis in "Sad Sack," is a happy one, indeed. In the film, Phyllis plays the role of a glamorous WAC major, who is a psychiatrist, working with the Army's sad sacks. Of course, her best customer is Jerry.

Rouben Mamoulian and Maxwell Anderson plan to make "Carmen" in Spain as a straight drama without Bizet music. They're looking for a new actress for their star and are said to be watching Liza Churns, the Spanish lypa brought here by Metro to do a flamenco dance in "Tip on a Dead Jockey." "Carmen" is to be made next year.

Ricardo Montalban looks so realistic in his make-up as a Japanese actor in "Sayonara," that when he walks abroad in Tokyo, Japanese ask him for his autographs, thinking he's one of the Kabuki stars.

When Metro produces "The Boy Friend," the play which introduced Julie Andrews to Broadway, they will have a young cast, composed, perhaps, of Carol Channing, Debbie Reynolds and others.

Those interested in antique vehicles will be delighted to hear that a custom-built airport of the early thirties was constructed in San Diego for air-racing location sequences in Universal-International's "Pylon." On the airstrip are a dozen flying crates of 25 years ago, all operational. They include a Havilland Moth, early Cessna, Fleetster, Darts, and a Cessna. Facing them in a parking area are 30 passenger cars of similar vintage. Only one of the trade names, however, is on the market today—Cadillac. They include a Peerless, Winton Six, Pierce Arrow, Rickenbacker, Duesenberg, Huppmobile and a Willys-Knight.

Windshield Sticker Plan Would Help Park Finances

(Monetary needs of Michigan state parks promise to be a major topic of the current Legislative session. The following is the Michigan Conservation Department has hit upon a plan to provide that revenue, a $2 windshield "sticker".)

How successful would such a plan be as a source of revenue? Park administrators are relying heavily on a person's so-called "bargain" instinct in the parking area to the public. Basing their prediction on information from an MSU poll, park officials estimate that most park users make four or more visits during the year and would therefore find it profitable to purchase a $2 sticker rather than pay 50 cents a visit.

The stickers might be sold at fishing and hunting license outlets and the parks. They would permit a car and its occupants to enter all parks as often as desired for one year.

Taking into account current attendance trends, it is estimated that roughly 1,000,000 stickers can be sold. If they can sell that many park officials say the net return after deducting overhead and administrative expenses would be approximately $2,000,000 annually.

Endorsement of the sticker plan admit the estimated return might be substantially less than one-fourth of the 1957-58 requested appropriation, $8,000,000. That's the figure the Michigan Conservation Department has recommended that revenue from fees be used as supplementary funds, not as a means of reducing the regular appropriation.

If the Conservation Department has its way, the estimated $2,000,000 "supplement" could be designated for capital improvements and acquisition of an additional 225,000 acres of potential park lands.

This, like a fee plan in general, goes against tradition. "Use taxes," for that is what the fees will be, traditionally go to defray operation and maintenance expenses.

But according to Gerald Eddy, Department director, records of past appropriations show legislators have been relatively generous in granting operations funds, while capital outlay funds have usually been smaller.

Michigan, if it installs a park fee system, will be setting no precedent, as travelers to other states can testify. Eighteen states charge either an entrance or parking fee to state park visitors. Minnesota is the only state that has successfully employed the sticker plan. Providing the legislature okays the sticker, Michigan will undoubtedly follow the program Minnesota pioneered in 1954.

Minnesota sold over 1,000,000 stickers in 1956 at one dollar each. Cost of administration was figured at about 10 per cent, leaving 90 cents of each dollar as net revenue. Minnesota's 1956 attendance was approximately 2,200,000. (Michigan's parks had almost 18 million in the same year.)

Critics of admission fees point to the chronic evidence of vandalism and say that more money will be simply throwing good money after bad. The experiences of Minnesota and other fee-charging states, however, indicate that the opposite is true. Vandalism has been relatively curbed because the public apparently respects more what it pays directly for than those things which are seemingly free.

The chief drawback to the sticker plan, or any fee system for that matter, is the physical setup of Michigan's parks. Some parks have as many as five entrances, all of which would require an attendant to collect admissions. To redesign or change the setup would probably take more money than admission would bring in five years, according to the Parks Division.

The bride's cousin, Shirley Weir, was her maid of honor, wearing for the occasion a princess-style, belted-length gown of pale blue taffeta with matching headpiece. Her bouquet was a colonial arrangement of pink and white roses.

The bride's sister, Mary Alice, carrying a basket of pink rose petals, was the flower girl. Her gown of light blue taffeta, was styled like that of the maid of honor. She also wore a matching headpiece.

Douglas Liebeck assisted the bridegroom as best man and Robert James Weir, brother of the bride, and Richard Kaimbach seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Weir wore gray lace over pink satin with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother, in a beige print suit dress with brown accessories, had a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors, those assisting including Mrs. Duane Schiller who kept a guest book; Robin Johnson of Ann Arbor, and Donna Wals of Waterloo, a cousin of the bridegroom, who poured coffee; Linda White who cut the cake; Mrs. Roland Eder who poured punch; and Mrs. Douglas Egeler, sister of the bride, Wilma Brassow and Mrs. Henry

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Riethmiller, Jr.

Fletcher who were at the gift table.

Guests present were from Detroit, Jackson, Ann Arbor, Dexter, Munith, Manchester and this vicinity.

When the couple left for a few days of travel through Indiana and Ohio, the bride was wearing a navy blue outfit with pink and navy accessories.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Riethmiller are now making their home on Riethmiller road, Waterloo. The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed at the office of Chelsea Milling Company.

Mr. Riethmiller, a graduate of Jackson High school, served in Germany with the U. S. Army for two years. He farms at the Riethmiller road address.

The nuptial affairs honoring the bride were a linen shower given by Wilma Brassow and Mrs. Henry Fletcher, and a kitchen shower given by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Leona Van Natter, at her home in Dexter.

The rehearsal dinner for the bride was given Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

Potatoes need not be fattening. It's the gravy, butter and other "additions" that pile up the calories. There are no more calories in a medium sized potato than in an apple or banana. Remember—it's the total of all the food we eat that adds pounds.

For a deliciously different lunch-on-dish, try scrambled eggs, toast topped with chicken a la king.

DWELLING UNITS
A total of 1,120,000 dwelling units were put under construction in 1956, according to the Labor Department, which points out that this was the eighth straight year in which housing starts had passed the million mark. However, the 1956 homebuilding rate was down
16 per cent from 1955 and 8 per cent from 1954. With allowance for population growth, the department said, the 1956 homebuilding rate was the lowest since the years right after World War II.
Practically everything that Michigan farmers have to buy for farm production will be higher in 1957.
But lime and fertilizer may miss the price hikes, say MSU specialists.

Your Vote Is Important in Township Elections Monday!

During the past few weeks a highly controversial situation has arisen in Sylvan township. We refer of course, to the meetings of the Sylvan Township Board of Review which has been reviewing the tax assessment roll of the township as prepared by the supervisor.

Small groups of people have been huddled everywhere and invariably the discussion has been about assessments.

As might be expected, some people have been made happy and with others tempers have been short and hot.

It has been pointed out by some that detailed survey and re-appraisal of the tax roll by the Board of Review such as has been in process, is beyond the statutory powers of the Board. Others feel that is exactly the purpose of the Board—to act as a check and corrective group to prevent possible abuses.

Frankly, at this point we don't know—and we doubt that a definite, clear-cut answer is available short of an Attorney General's study and ruling as to the exact intent and interpretation of the laws.

We regret not being able to clarify the situation but also add that we would be reluctant on the eve of an election to point an accusative finger at either faction without adequate time and opportunity for a fuller discussion.

We do feel that we would be negligent if we failed to comment on the current actions and urge the taxpayers and electors of the township to consider the issues carefully and calmly. A hot temper and quick decisions based on inaccurate information never helped reach a solution to anything.

Above all, after deliberating and arriving at a personal decision as to the candidates, take time to cast your ballot at next Monday's biennial spring election to help select the candidates you believe will do the best job for you in local township government.

Pattern Set Long Ago Regarding Forgiveness

A good rule to remember in life is that concerned with the condemnation of other people. By condemnation we include slander, gossip or anything which might destroy another's reputation.

It will be recalled that Jesus, when confronted by a group of evil men determined to embarrass him, once answered the question of forgiveness and repentance with far greater clarity and effectiveness than has even been done before or since.

It seems that the group of men bent on destroying the reputation of Jesus brought an adulteress to him and posed the question whether or not she should be stoned, as the law at that time required. Because the law and the teachings of Jesus were in conflict, the group had concluded that Jesus would have to cross himself up in choosing to recommend either course of action.

But, instead of saying that the adulteress should be stoned, in conflict with the religious principles, or saying that she should not be stoned, in conflict with the law, Jesus said: "Let him who is without sin against you cast the first stone."

It is interesting to note that the adulteress was then left alone by the chagrined and self-conscious group and that Jesus told her there is still hope, and that she should go and sin no more.

This is a lesson we should recall more often, for it certainly holds true today as it did in the time of Jesus. Let those among our readers who are without sin cast stones at their fellowmen, and tear down the reputations and friendships, which loose talk and petty jealousy and hatred so often do.

If only those without sin will condemn others, then the world will suddenly be a far better place in which to live, and love, friendship and understanding will reign.

Congress Hesitates To Start Cutting Federal Budget

Congress has attempted to pass the buck—in the budget-cutting field—to President Eisenhower—but the President has passed it back to Congress. It all started, of course, when President Eisenhower proposed a $71,000,000,000 budget for the 12 months starting July 1.

The budget was so high that even the President's Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey could hardly swallow the pill and criticized the budget even though he was a top member of the administration proposing it.

Humphrey was apparently pulled into line in the next few days and he has since refused to say where the budget might be cut. Congress is convinced that the budget should be cut, although hesitant to do the whacking. But Congress will have to do it if it is done.

In order to put the President on the spot, the House recently passed a resolution calling on the President to tell it where the budget should be cut. This was ridiculous, in more ways than one, because the President had already proposed the budget and he couldn't be expected to criticize it.

As expected, Mr. Eisenhower said that it was up to Congress to cut the budget and that he was ready for them to go ahead and cut it, if they could. He even said he would "be just as helpful as he could."

This leaves Congress where it was in January after the budget had been presented. The intervening resolutions and statements have been mostly political by-play which is accomplishing nothing but which is producing headlines if little else. It is the business of Congress to appropriate money and to levy taxes to acquire that money. It is also up to Congress to cut the budget if it needs to be cut. Therefore, we recommend that Congress get busy and start cutting and stop asking the President to do its job.

ON CAPITOL HILL

By Congressman George Meader

Monday, April 1, is election day for state and local offices in Michigan.

In the 1956 presidential election there were approximately 171,000 votes cast in the Second Congressional District. Only 37,000 votes were cast in the spring election for state offices in 1955.

The light vote in state and local elections as compared with national elections would seem to indicate a comparative lack of interest est by the voters in state and local offices, yet these offices are extremely important. The State Highway Commissioner has expanded responsibilities under the new federal highway program. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction will have greater power and responsibility in the congress passing legislation for federal grants for school construction.

Other important State positions are at stake—Justices of the Supreme Court, regents of the University of Michigan, Members of the State Board of Education, and the State Board of Agriculture. In addition, of course, there are contests for local offices. I urge you to inform yourselves on the qualifications of the candidates and also on the local issues, such as bond issues and annexations which, in some localities, will come to the voters for decision on April 1.

The April 1 election is important to the State of Michigan. The outcome will influence the future course of our state. The decision should be made by the whole electorate, not by only a small fraction of the people.

I hope you will not only vote yourself, however you vote, but will actively encourage your relatives, friends, and neighbors to cast their ballots on election day.

In 1946 the state of Iowa produced 661,620 bushels of corn.

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

More than election victories is at stake for Republicans in the April 1 balloting. They could lose party pipelines into state administration.

It would be bad enough, from the GOP standpoint, to lose control of the State Highway Commission and Superintendent of Public Instruction posts. Since these two officials are the only remaining Republicans on the State Administrative Board, their defeat would put the "little legislature" completely in the hands of Democrats.

The State Ad Board consists of the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor general, attorney general, treasurer and the two posts involved in the coming election. It has substantial power, particularly when the regular legislature is not in session.

Outstate votes can be the vital factor.

Republican leaders are confident they can win if only half the non-metropolitan residents who voted in the presidential race will go to the polls April 1. Since the Wayne county area is heavily Democratic, the GOP knows it must build a strong out-state lead.

Democrats, on the other hand, are aiming to get out the vote especially in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties. Their leaders state they want a heavy vote everywhere, but that they count on southeastern Michigan for a victory, if it is to materialize.

Lack of interest which often characterizes this type of election disturbs many leading citizens. The candidates elected have important functions. The nature of the state's educational system is designed by winners of the balloting. How local schools will be administered; the operation of MSU, U. of M. and Wayne State University, as well as other state educational colleges, is determined by people selected in this voting.

It's trite but politically true: Many an undesirable candidate has been elected with a small turnout—and by the voter who stayed away from the polls.

Most citizens are hazy about the way a state law is born. The operation of the legislature seems remote from most households.

Actually, this is not the case. Every voter is directly represented by a person in each of the two legislative chambers: a representative and a senator.

Machinery for making laws has developed over the years.

Here's how it works:

Any member of the legislature can introduce a proposal he wishes to recommend to become law. When he does so, the proposal is called a bill and is numbered starting at 1000; House bills start with one.

The bill is read twice (usually by title only) to the chamber where it originates. It is then assigned to one of several standing committees of legislators appointed at the beginning of the session. These groups of five to 15 men give the proposed law close examination. Unless a public hearing is called for testimony, the committees meet in private.

About half the bills die in committee. This means that the committee does nothing officially with them. The bills a committee approves are reported to the full chamber with a recommendation for favorable action.

The committee can report a bill "unfavorably" or with no recommendation, but this seldom happens. No report at all prevents the entire chamber from discussing the bill.

After one chamber of the legislature approves a proposal, it goes to the other chamber for a similar work-out.

If it then passes this procedure, it then goes before the governor. He can veto it, in which case both the house and the senate must go through the procedure again. And this time the bill must pass by a two-thirds vote instead of a simple majority.

The governor can also sign the bill which makes it a law. Or he can do nothing in which case the bill automatically becomes law after 10 days.

In the present session about 400 bills are expected to be introduced. When final votes are counted about 200 will actually become law if averages of other years hold true.

Can unions spend funds for political purposes?

This issue originally was placed before the federal courts in Michigan in 1954 when the Justice Department brought a suit against the United Auto Workers for violation of the corrupt practices act as amended by the Taft-Hartley act.

At that time Judge Frank A. Picard dismissed the case. Now the U. S. Supreme Court says that he was wrong in doing so—and has ordered the case to trial.

The case arose over a UAW television program which gave breaks to Democratic candidates. The Republican state chairman turned the information over to the Justice Department. He charged that many Republican union members were forced to make contributions to campaigns of opponents when the union supported the Democrats.

The corrupt practices act long ago outlawed political contributions from corporations in campaigns involving a federal post. The Taft-Hartley act places unions in the same category. Chances are it will be several Thursday, March 28, 1953—Last Sunday State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler dedicated US-12 as "Red Arrow Memorial Highway" and signs have been erected designating the route. Announcement was made this week that approximately $800 has been added to the Chelsea Public Library building fund through memorial gifts in honor of the late Henry C. Schneider, former library board president.

A pair of trumpeter swans on Pierce Lake south of Chelsea, are heralds of spring as they stopped here yesterday enroute to the north. Installation last Friday of a new motor and pump at the municipal pump house in the north-west section of the village, has resulted in clearer water and direct pressure from pump to faucet. Only in case of fire will it be necessary to "hook on" the steam pump at the local plant.

Chelsea firemen were called to the J. E. Weber home on East Middle street at 6 p.m. Saturday because of a roof fire; however, a bucket brigade had the blaze almost subdued when the fire truck reached the premises and it was not necessary to stretch the hose.

At a meeting of the board of education Tuesday evening, Supt. E. L. Clark was reelected for another year at a salary of $2,100. He is now in his second year here.

Posters are being made, scenery is being painted and arranged. The people behind the scenes are usually the people that get the least credit, but the members can't help but be no play without backstage crew any more than there could be a play without a cast. Let's show them we appreciate their hard work by buying a ticket from any member of the junior class. Let's attend the Detroit "Came The Spring" April 5 or 6 starting at 8 p.m.

John Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris has won a trip to Washington, D. C., one of four boys in Washington county to attain such an honor. Detroit Free Press is taking some of its more proficient salesmen on an all-expense paid four-day trip to the nation's capital. He will leave March 28, travel by B. O. Railway, stay at the Ambassador Hotel, see everything on his tour, and possibly see in that length of time and will return to Chelsea on March 31. Congratulations, John! That's certainly a well-deserved reward for energy and "hustle".

Mr. Donald H. Bacon addressed the "Future Teachers" at the time of their initiation and installation of officers, March 18. He expressed pleasure and appreciation at the manner in which the people of Chelsea provide educational facilities and curricula for their children. He also admitted being gratified and flattered at being the person after whom the chapter of FTA was named, and offered his help in securing speakers and in carrying out club projects. He went on to tell about Chelsea High as it was during the time he attended it.

The Future Homemakers of America held their second record hop of the current school year with Richard Mayers on March 23. A good time was had by all who attended.

On April 3, the FHA will hold another swimming party at Ann Arbor.

Chelsea area people were invited to attend "The Children's Book Fair" at the Rackham Building in Ann Arbor from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. March 22 and 23. The fair, which was sponsored by the School of Education and the Children's Book Council.

Fifteen hundred books for elementary and junior high students were on display. University students and other volunteers served as guides. Miss Johnna W. Johnson and Mrs. Cecile Barnath are acting as hostesses today.

Olive Ann Reddeman, president of Journalism club, appointed two committees, one for a dinner on May 10 and one for a dance on a date to be arranged. Geri Risher is chairman for the dinner, assisted by Karen Munro and Barbara Williams. Barbara Collins is chairman for the dance, assisted by Miss Reddeman.

Plans are also being made for an assembly to be staged by the Journalism class; and for the purchase of awards to be presented at the Honors Assembly and at Class Night exercises.

Student Council discussed plans for their Student Council dinner meeting which is to be held Tuesday, April 2. Plans were also discussed regarding a field trip to University High School in Ann Arbor to see their Student Council in action.

Seniors and Journalism class both asked to have a movie assembly in the near future, but no dates have been approved. If the seniors get their plans in order by the next meeting of the Council, they will go ahead, otherwise the journalists may take over.

At the March 20 meeting of Hi-Y, members heard a report from the project committee on possible ways to make money. A wash and a dance were two that were suggested. Election of officers followed. Dick Irwin was chosen to succeed president Silas Hopkins. Ed McDaniels will be vice-president, and Tom Dault will be secretary.

Worry! Worry! Worry! When can we have our prom?

This problem recently faced the Juniors. The prom had been scheduled for May 18. Later, however, it was discovered that the Thompson School kindly postponed their recital until June 6.

So, Juniors, everything is all right! The prom will be held May 18.

The sophomore class has been discussing money-making projects. One of the ideas was to have a sloppy-joe sale at noon hour in the study hall. A committee was chosen to look into it; the chairman is Sharon Slane.

Right now a committee is being appointed to select several companies from which they will choose their class rings.

The people in the seventh grade are making cookie cutters and small wooden projects.

In Shop I, the boys are building small motors, working on the lathes, and in the metal room are making sign brackets and other things.

Shop II boys are making cedar chests, and have started a mechanical unit in their books. They are also doing other small projects.

Four students and Mrs. LaGoe from Chelsea drove to Quincy to the Regional Speech contest Thursday, March 21. All students from Chelsea placed within the top 10 of the various contests. Ninth and tenth place winners were Shirley Howard and Charles Mosier in interpretive reading. Denning Gary placed fourth in original oration. King Hanna took third place honor in extemporaneous speaking.

Back when today's adults were growing up, one out of every ten babies died before its first birthday. Now, advances in medical science are saving millions of young lives each year. Yet the cost of the better medical care available today is actually less than the best care you could get when you were a child!

The reason: new treatments and new medicines developed by the medical profession and the pharmaceutical industry.

A dramatic case in point is mastoiditis in children. Surgery was often able to save the child's life, but sometimes left him with a deaf ear. Nowadays, the doctor is often able to cure him with perhaps $25 worth of potent new medicines, and thus save the expense of an operation and hospital stay.

But most important, these new drugs are saving children's lives—by the millions. Once, the four most deadly child-killers were diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever, and pneumonia. Nowadays, the number of deaths from all of these causes combined is actually less than the number of children killed by accidents.

And medical progress continues. Today, the dollar you spend for prompt and proper medical care buys more than ever before—and may well represent one of the really extraordinary bargains of your life.

CHEVY'S THE CHAMPION OF THE ROAD!

Drive the car that proved its superior steering, braking, cornering, road-holding and passing ability in the world's first Auto-Decathlon, a ten-way test of the driving qualities you want.

Chevy proved it's the champ in the world's first Auto Decathlon, certified by the NATA.* It showed how beautifully it handles, how quickly it recovers from emergency situations—like quick turns and stops—which can cause a car to lose its even-keel stance on the road.

Chevy waltzed through some of the roughest challenges ever laid down to measure how a car behaves when the going is tough. And it beat all other cars in its field and all the higher priced cars tested, too!

That's Chevrolet's sure and solid going for you. Come in and drive the winner!

Questions Answered Regarding Proposed Addition to County Jail on April 1 Ballot

Information which will provide answers to the various questions regarding the proposed addition to the Washtenaw county jail voters will be asked to approve at the April 1 election has been prepared in the form of a list of questions and answers as follows:

Q. What is the question regarding the Washtenaw County Jail that will be decided by voters of the county on April 1, 1957?

A. Voters will decide whether or not to exceed the 15 mill tax limitation in order to permit the levy of an extra one-half mill in 1957 (one year only) to provide funds to assist in financing addition of two floors to the present County Jail.

Q. Didn't county voters already approve this question at the fall election of 1956?

A. Voters did approve the half-mill levy at that time, but did not vote on exceeding the total 15 mill limitation. Property owners only voted on the earlier proposition, but all voters are eligible to vote on the question of exceeding the 15 mill limitation for this purpose.

Q. Why is it necessary to provide a jail addition at this time?

A. Because present capacity of the County Jail is completely insufficient to properly house the prisoner load.

Q. What is the present inmate capacity of the County Jail?

A. 65 prisoners.

Q. What is the present inmate population of the jail?

A. During weekdays, the jail has operated with an average of more than 60 prisoners. On weekends, the jail population averages from 80 to as high as 105 prisoners.

Q. How is it possible to house and care for prisoners when the jail is overcrowded?

A. It is impossible under the present conditions to properly care for prisoners in the jail. Because of lack of bed space, prisoners frequently are required to sleep in shifts.

Q. Is this procedure acceptable to the State Jail Inspector and Corrections Commission?

A. No, the Jail Inspector has permitted the present operating conditions to exist only temporarily pending activation of a permanent plan for adequately housing the jail population. The Jail Inspector has authority to require the Sheriff to house prisoners in jails of other counties if there is insufficient space to care for all prisoners in our own County Jail. The latter procedure would, of course, result in extra operating costs for housing and transporting prisoners.

Q. Is the large jail population unusual or seasonal?

A. No, the increased need for jail space is largely a result of rapid population growth in
