YMCA Camp Birkett Now Enrolling Boys For Summer Sessions

Local boys may take part in a summer camping program through the Ann Arbor YMCA, it has been announced. The 'Y' operates Camp Birkett on Big Silver Lake, south of Pinckney, for boys from eight through fifteen years of age. It is not necessary to be a member of the Ann Arbor YMCA to enroll for camp.

Swimming is strongly emphasized at camp, where there are fine lake facilities, and an excellent sandy beach. Boys may learn to swim, or may become better swimmers at the camp. In addition, camping trips away from the main camp are a regular part of the program. These trips are both by canoe, and nearby overnight camp-outs. Archery, riflery, handicrafts and nature lore also contribute to make a well-rounded camp program.

The staff is headed by Arnet J. Cole, Camp Director and Boy's Work Secretary at the 'Y'. Cole has been in YMCA boys work for eight years.

The program starts Sunday, June 23. There are four twelve-day periods, and two six-day periods. First and fourth periods are being reserved for local boys. The fourth period starts Aug. 4, and Aug. 10.

Registration blanks, and additional information may be secured from Arnet J. Cole, Camp Director, Ann Arbor YMCA.

Issue Warning To Protect Trees Against Insects

Donald Johnson, Washtenaw county agricultural agent, said this week that this is again the time for Christmas tree growers and pine plantation owners to plan their attack on their unwanted guests with various sprays and the European Pine Sawfly and the European Pine Shoot Moth. Further information will be forthcoming on the Shoot Moth later this month because control measures will not be necessary until mid-June.

Control measures for the European Pine Sawfly should be applied within the next week or so. Due to the warm weather throughout lower Michigan, the larvae will be hatching this week and sprays should be applied as early as possible. This sawfly larvae will grow to be one inch in length, black head, and gray-green in color and will be doing their damage from now until September. The larvae are found in large numbers actually masses all vigorously eating on the needles of all conifers. This means that, if uncontrolled, they will eat many needles and cause the trees to be thin-crowned. Repeated attacks of this insect on the same tree, over a period of years, will cause mortality.

Contact District Forester Horvath at the County Building, Ann Arbor, for any forest-insect problems and recommended sprays.

Boy Scout Leaders' Training Course To Begin May 17

A leaders' training course for Boy Scout leaders will begin next week - Friday, May 17, the first session to be held from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. in the Portage Trails Council office at Ann Arbor. At this session information will be presented on planning the year-around outdoor program.

To be determined at the meeting are the time for the week-end course on cook-outs, hiking, campfires, and short-term and long-term camping.

class and club met in room 15 to elect new editors for "The Bulldog-Barker" next year.

The three new editors are Loren Kozar, Judy Wagner, and Carole Barr. They are all going to spend two weeks at Michigan State University to get a short-course in high school journalism this summer.

The Student Council is preparing to end its activities after an extremely active year, during which the Council sponsored non-dances, the sale of milk at noon, a March of Dimes campaign, the guest book at dances, and several assemblies. All party plans were submitted to the Council for approval. Our Council was active in the Haron League Student Association and was host to the meeting held Feb. 5. The biggest project was the purchasing of a movie camera, bought by contributions from the clubs and organizations, with Council assistance.

A new election system has been started for Student Council officer nomination. The petition method is being used instead of the former ballot voting. The final function of the Council will be the planning of the annual school picnic. Nothing definite has been stated on this matter as yet.

The Chelsea Bulldog baseball team went to Detroit last Saturday, May 11, to attend a baseball clinic. They met many of the Tiger players and attended the game between the Chicago White Sox and the Detroit Tigers in the afternoon.

In shop, the only news received is that plans for the year being made. Six have been made in the last two weeks and more are nearly completed.

The senior class has sent in the check to pay for the trip. All class members seem to be rushing around, shopping for their new clothes for the trip.

The Senior car wash was a success as far as it went; more than 70 cars were taken care of by only a few car washers. If more seniors had come to work more cars could have been washed.

Chelsea's Junior High baseball team lost its first game to the Saline team, 10-4, on May 7. Chelsea got one run during the first inning, but six runs were walked in by Chelsea's pitcher in the second inning. After that Saline was never headed. Chelsea's runs were all earned. Saline had 10 runs on 3 hits; Chelsea had 4 runs on 3 hits. Leading hitter was Mike Marsh with a double.

Members of the speech class Thursday presented a program of two short plays, "Ladies of the Mob" and "The Lottery," a comedy and a drama, respectively. Performances of both were extremely competent. The general feeling of a good job well done seemed to permeate the attentive audience. The purpose of such a presentation is to give speech students a chance to speak and perform in public. Their guests were members of other English classes.

Donna Moore, Jane McLaughlin, Lynn McMannis, and Priscilla Neal, members of the current varsity cheerleading squad, were again appointed for the 1957-58 season at tryouts held after school last week Wednesday. Susie Steger and Jerry Risner are newcomers similarly elected. Judges for the occasion were Miss Betty Veres, Mrs. Gwen LaGoe, Mrs. Sue McFarland, and Marlene Kuhl.

Sophomore guests are still raving about the lovely decorations at the Freshman-Sophomore reunion party. Blue and white streamers draped from the balcony centered at a May-pole on a small "lawn" on which were eccentric animals constructed from rubber balloons. Similar animals were also found peeping from the basketball baskets. Sophomores tried desperately to test the freshmen's host of plenty of refreshments, happily enough, the hosts were able to make good their boast.

It is rumored that a group of nine girls spent most of Friday, May 10 sound asleep. It seems that Sue Eisenbeiser entertained them at a pajama party, May 9, and then at a pajama party at her home. A happy but sleepless night was the outcome; hence the sleepiness on Friday.

Juniors are this week working frantically on all phases of the prom to be held Saturday evening. Basic decorations are in place, but a few hundred "last minute touches" are still to be added in all departments.

Mrs. Kelly's kindergarten received six baby chicks as a gift from Mrs. Minnie Scribner. The chicks are kept in a large cage made for them by Don Doll. The children enjoy watching the chicks eat and sleep and have written a story about them and have colored many nice pictures of chicks.

Barbara Schiller had beautiful cup cake Easter baskets for each of the children for her sixth birthday.

Flowers, birds, and planting are the project that have been studied since Easter. A trip was arranged to the Chelsea Greenhouse, where Mr. Armstrong gave a large flat of petunias, ready for transplanting to the kindergarten. There were enough flowers so that all three kindergartens transplanted a flower for each of their mothers. They were very careful in handling the small plants; they watered them carefully, and hope they will all bloom.

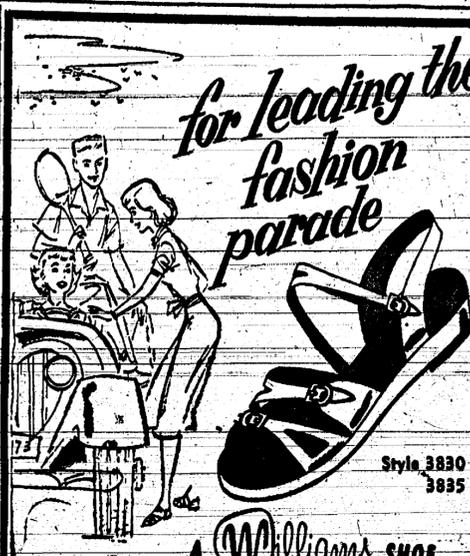

Mary Steele, Craig Houle, Mike Gaken, Barbara Schiller, Betty Brandberry and Tommy Thomson treated their class on their sixth birthdays. Richard Bollinger, Gilbert and Ramon Trevino also treated their class to candy.

Tommy Dorner and Ginger Goodson brought some big polypogs which have grown and some already have their legs. Ginger also brought a small wild flower garden of violets, trilliums, and moss. It is nice and green and is growing beautifully.

The group thanks everyone who contributes flowers and shares with other kindergartens the many many things of interest.

Mrs. Smith's fourth graders enjoyed bringing various displays and items for Parents' Night. Some of these involved horses brought by Penny Rearick; dolls by Carol Hafner and Beverly Boyer; a bride by

Veterans Memorial Park To Be Dedicated on Memorial Day

Five years ago the new bridge was being erected over the creek on North Main street when a group of Chamber of Commerce sidewalk superintendents who were supervising the bridge construction looked over the swamp hole to the west of the bridge and thought something should be done about it.

The Chamber was busy developing Pierce Park and the logical thought was another park in the north part of town. The property belonged to the village and village officials approved the idea. They even went so far as to help every way they could except financially.

The entire Chamber of Commerce membership voted to develop this new park, but no money was available. And thus was born one of the finest co-operative efforts this community has ever witnessed.

The bridge construction company donated part of the dirt needed to fill the swamp hole, built forms and poured the footings for a footbridge across the creek from the proposed parking lot to the picnic area. All at no charge.

Another construction company moved into town to rebuild North Main street and before they left they had donated the balance of the fill dirt needed and leveled off the picnic area—Again at no charge.

The footbridge came next. The railroad donated the iron rails and ties. The Waterloo Recreation Headquarters cut oak trees, hauled the logs to the saw mill to be cut into planks and delivered the planks to the park. These planks were taken to a local lumber company and sawed to size. From there they went to a local hardware where they were dried and treated several times a week until they were nailed together by a group of Chamber of Commerce members and village officials and placed across the creek on the bridge stringers.

The next step in "Operation Footbridge" was an appeal to all the local factories for used pipe. This pipe was gathered by C. of C. workers, using a truck and driver furnished by one of the donating factories. It was then hauled to Cassidy Lake School where the boys in the welding shop constructed the bridge rails and parking lot driving rails. Another local factory sent a truck and trailer to haul the finished product back to town where a work bee installed them on the bridge. Still building with good will and no money.

In due time fertilizer and grass seed developed into fine sod, trees were trimmed, retaining walls were erected, more trees planted, foot paths laid out, a monument was built complete with plaque and flowing drinking fountain, more grass seed sown, picnic tables and stoves were acquired, and the park was at last taking shape.

Financial backing from the Village Council helped the park over the rough spots but not a cent of tax money was spent without first exhausting all other possibilities.

Many, many people should be given credit and a big thank you—so many that it is impossible to list their names—our factories, carpenters, plumbers, electricians, masons, one of our finest draftsmen who designed and drew up the blueprints for the monument and drinking fountain, our metal working artist who donated more than 100 hours in translating the fountain blueprints into a masterpiece in brass, and businessmen who wrestled boulders into a tractor loader furnished by a farmer who with his tractor dumped the stones into borrowed trucks for hauling to town (blisters broken that day set a new record)—all of these people had an important part in the project.

Without this splendid co-operation very probably nothing would have been accomplished.

This is but part of the story behind our Veterans Memorial Park and the plaque which reads "In Grateful Tribute to Those Who Served in Our Armed Forces."

Dedication services will be part of the Memorial Day program this year and your attendance will be a tribute to those this park honors and the sacrifices they have made for all of us.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Start of a $186 million project which has an economic importance to every person in Michigan and the entire area of the Great Lakes will be marked with a full day ceremony May 28 on the Detroit River.

Then work will begin on the Great Lakes Connecting Channels. This five-year project will deepen the waterways between the lakes so that modern ships can navigate.

Every inch deeper mean 90 more tons that can pass through the lakes. Present channels are dredged to permit depths of 21 feet for light cargoes carried by up-bound traffic and 25 feet for heavier downbound channels. The new depth will be 27 and 30 feet minimum along the 1,200-mile waterway.

The deeper channel means lower transportation costs. It is estimated that more than $10 million per year will be realized by U. S. shipping alone; similar savings will result to Canadian shippers.

The deeper channel will also permit each port along the Great Lakes to develop fully its opportunity for expanding foreign trade. Any ship which can pass the St. Lawrence Seaway and the Welland Canal will be able to sail the Connecting Channels without difficulty.

Official ceremonies include 1,500 national and international leaders in government, business, industry and civil affairs. Walker L. Cislak, chairman for the Channels project, announced that the program will begin at the Detroit Woodward Avenue dock where guests will board the boat to Bob-Lo Island. A reception will take place and then the party will go ashore at Amherstburg, Canada.

There will be short speeches and dedication remarks as well as a parade on the river of all types of shipping using the lakes.

At the proper moment, a whistle blast will signal beginning work. Groups cooperating in arrangements for the dedication ceremony include the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, Great Lakes Harbors Association, Lake Carriers Association and the Great Lakes St. Lawrence Association.

A bitter battle about taxing corporation profits has waxed and waned in Michigan for several years. And fighting is renewed during this legislative session.

Attacks consist mostly of verbal blasts released by proponents or opponents of the idea.

Gov. Williams has tried with a grim, recurring determination to tax corporate profits. He claims that industry is growing rich in Michigan, is happy to be here and is paying less than its share.

Spokesmen for Michigan manufacturers paint a gloomier picture of their lot, reminding that all taxes are ultimately paid by consumers, pointing to other increased costs and warning that higher taxes may force them to move to other states.

It is doubtful that either side convinces the other. It is also doubtful that arguments make much impression on the "average" Michigan citizen. He has heard too much shouting on this subject for too long.

What seems certain is that Michigan as a state is suffering in the existing competition to entice investors to locate new plants within its boundaries. It is not difficult to imagine a company which wants to select a new site eliminating Michigan as a potential spot because "they say the tax rate is too high."

There seems a real need for a new spirit of working together in solving the tax problem and selling the state as a good place for industry, say representatives of the Michigan Economic Development Department. This office is charged with the job of securing new industry, and though it has no part in the tax fight, its efforts are hampered by the battle.

It is difficult to know exactly what is the effect of the present or proposed taxation program. In Michigan, as in other states, some industries leave, some return.

There is much to indicate, and it is logical to conclude, that taxes is one of several important factors which determine where a new industry will be located.

A Bureau of Census report on manufacturing for the period 1947-1954, when Michigan had no corporate tax, shows that Michigan gained 2,819 manufacturing establishments. This is more than any other state except California; 670 more than Ohio.

The most recent figures available show that in 1954 Michigan industry spent $870 million for new plants and equipment, more than any other state.

Figures also show that Michigan's gain has been mostly in smaller industries. Employment in auto industry has fluctuated during the past 10 years.

Population statistics show the state now has some 7,500,000 persons. Studies indicate that population will rise sharply for the next few years.

It is obvious there is a need for more job opportunities. It is also obvious a healthy situation for industrial growth cannot exist in a continued atmosphere of public argument.

34 Years Ago...

Thursday, May 17, 1923—
 Approximately 75 neighbors gathered at the William Pinkbender farm Tuesday to assist the Pinkbenders in getting out timber for a new barn to replace the one destroyed by fire two weeks ago. From 7 a.m. until 8 p.m., 200 logs were cut and dragged to the sawmill. Neighbor women helped prepare dinner for the workers.

Three trains, loaded to capacity, passed through here Sunday enroute from Grand Rapids and Jackson to the baseball game at Navin park in Detroit.

Leigh Beach and Chauncey Coy are making arrangements to have new barns built on their farms in Lima.

Senator McCarthy Was Controversial Figure

The death of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, ends an era in America's political history which was often turbulent, highly controversial and colorful.

McCarthy was one of the most bombastic, and admired, men who have operated in the U. S. Senate in many years. In a way, he reminded some of the late Huey Long, although the two men were completely different in personality. However, they both certainly stirred strong feelings and created bitter controversy among their supporters and opponents.

McCarthy enjoyed a sensational rise to prominence although one very serious event marred his career. That was the vote of censure in the Senate, a rare form of rebuke and one seldom invoked by fellow senators.

History will have to determine the extent of good McCarthy did in his anti-Communist crusade. Whether or not he deserves as much credit as his followers claim, there is no doubt that, with his sensational charges, he focused national attention on the dangers of Communism.

ALWAYS YOUR BEST BUY... an automatic Gas water heater!

1. More hot water!
2. Low cost!
3. Heats faster!

Compare an automatic Gas Water Heater with other automatic water heaters and you'll quickly find that a Gas Water Heater comes out way ahead in three important ways:

1. MORE HOT WATER. Your automatic washer uses lots of hot water. Only a Gas Water Heater can replenish hot water fast enough to keep up with the washer cycle. Other heaters heat up a tank of water and then shut off.
2. LOW COST. Gas water heating is yours at the same low rate of cost day or night—no matter how much hot water you use.

3. HEATS FASTER. Gas heat is instant heat, with no warm-up required. More hot water is heated automatically—no adjusting of controls is required.

Check the advantages and you'll choose a Gas Water Heater. Models are on display at Gas Company and Dealers' showrooms. Get yours, now!

Washington Report

By Senator Charles F. Potter
The latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan.

WANTED—96 hatspins to prod 96 Senators into action. Political hot potatoes have been kept simmering on the back burner while the Senate waits for the House of Representatives to vote first. The leadership on my side of the Capitol, probably in an effort to avoid raising Senatorial blood pressures unnecessarily, is nudging the House to move first on four highly controversial measures. Here they are:

Civil rights—Bottled up in the House Rules Committee, this bill would protect the basic rights of every American and generally strengthen the impact of Washington in dealing with violations of voting and other rights. In the past I have supported proposals to prevent discrimination and will continue to do so.

Immigration—No action has been taken in either House on bills to loosen up present immigration laws. Shall we admit additional aliens? Shall we grant permanent residence status to escapees from communist countries? I believe that the brilliant gifts brought to the United States by the Poles, Hungarians, Germans and other ethnic groups and the democratic ideals for which this nation stands emphasize the need for such legislation.

Natural gas—The House has opened hearings on a bill similar to one which raised a Congressional storm last session and drew the lightning of a Presidential veto. Natural gas producers, under the bill, would be freed from federal regulation. Without question such action would be a boon to the individual gas consumer, by hiding gas prices. I fought the gas bill before and you may be sure, if it reaches the floor of the Senate, that I shall do so again.

Schools—House hearings are finished on a four-year program of Federal aid to states for construction of schools but no floor action has been taken. In the Senate, no action. The winds of economy, blowing strongly through Congress, are expected to snuff out this measure. However, should a federal aid to education bill reach the Senate floor, I should like, to the very best of my ability, to represent your views and the needs of our State. This is a problem close to you, your children, and the kind of nation and world we shall have tomorrow. Until now my mail shows solid opposition to school aid. I welcome your views on this subject. Your letters will help me to reflect more accurately the best interests of Michigan.

"Pretty perky" Peggy King will meet her new picture debut costarring with Dana Andrews in "Zero Hour." It's a straight-dramatic part with no singing or dancing—Peggy will play an air stewardess.

Mary Martin will do the voice and songs for Walt Disney's "Sleeping Beauty," which has been in the making for three years.

After his successful singing debut on the Perry Como show, Jack Palance is being paged by RCA-Victor to sign a recording contract.

To help publicize her soon-to-be released movie "Fuzzy Pink Nightgown," Jane Russell plans to use a two-hour movie of her recent trip to entertain troops in the Far East on TV.

Propose Reducing Drain Tax In Favor of Water Storage

The recent offer to reduce or eliminate drain taxes for farmers who put part of their acreage into water storage has created a stir of interest throughout the county. Drain Commissioner John H. Flook said today.

Flook announced last week his plan to eliminate drain taxes for farmers who will take care of their own water with small reservoirs on their land. He has since received numerous inquiries and requests for information.

"It won't cost farmers a cent in pond water on their property," Flook pointed out. "In fact, they can make money. I have been readily informed that they can obtain money for land under water from the Soil Bank Program, or from the Soil Conservation program."

"By setting aside only a small part of his farm as reservoir, a farmer can avoid the necessity for building big expensive drains to carry water away. Two farmers might want to go in together and pond water in a mutual area."

"If we don't practice conservation of water while we have it," Flook added, "two or three dry years could throw us into a serious drought." Flook recently toured the drought area of the southwest United States, where water sells for 50 cents a gallon, and California, where they are floating a multi-million dollar bond issue to build a reservoir in the mountains.

"We think we have plenty of water here because of the Great Lakes," Flook said. "Well, we don't have plenty of water unless there's some way to get it here from the Great Lakes. It's going to be plenty expensive to build a pipeline from Lake Huron to Detroit to Washington, county just to bring back the same water we've been hurrying to get rid of all this time. It would be a lot smarter to keep it here now."

Flook said that if every farmer in the county ponded water on one-half to an acre of land, it would help maintain the flow of the Huron river, which is being taxed more and more as population increases along its banks. Water in the farmhand reservoirs of easing its sewage problem. I am convinced that a diversion, by lowering the Lake level, would work a serious hardship on Michigan. Last week I wrote the House Committee on Public Works, which is considering a diversion bill, protecting the move. I consider diversion a threat to the economic well-being we expect to flow from the St. Lawrence Seaway. Besides, everything indicates it would jeopardize our fine relations with Canada. President Eisenhower has twice vetoed almost identical diversion bills and for very sound reasons. The situation has not changed, nor has my determination to fight the proposal.

"KEE-KALAMAZOO," meaning "where the water boils in the pot" was the name given by the Indians to the river on whose banks the city of Kalamazoo stands today. In 1822, when the trading post was established on the bank, the white man cut "kee" from "jua" name, reducing it to four syllables.

IT TOOK the city of Flint only 18 years—less than two decades—to reach the big time. When Flint became a state back in 1837, it was a village with a population of 300, the seat of Genesee county. It had a post office, a banking association, an edge-tool factory, a sawmill, two drygoods stores, two grocery stores, two physicians, a lawyer, and the U. S. land office for the Saginaw district. Lumbering, which followed the fur trade, brought sawmills with it and was responsible for the two-wheeled cart factories that developed. In 1855, exactly 18 years later, Flint was incorporated as a city and since then has leaped and bounded to its present position as an auto center. A story of human energy, industrial know-how, and great dreams come true.

would seep back into the ground and eventually reach the river by underground courses. Water tables would stay higher.

"At the same time, the farmers would be helping themselves," Flook pointed out. "Not only would they be taking care of water for which we would otherwise have to provide a drain, but they would have water available for irrigation if they needed it."

Flook said that any county farmer who wants help in planning for a reservoir on his farm can obtain it from the Drain Commission office in the County Building.

Cindy Schumm; knitting and weaving by Sandy French and Wanda Schiller; pictures drawn by Kathy Horst; and Mike Skodak brought a 3-25 airplane model.

Bulletin boards for Parents' Night were decorated on Easter themes. One board contained three big bunnies made by Kathy Horst, Audrey Hayes and Cindy Schumm. The rest of the class made bunnies and daffodils and tulips, and Penny Reaick made a large brown Easter basket.

In art, painted pictures of Easter bunnies and animals were made and pictures of daffodils. Many students have brought various plants which now adorn the window sills.

Mrs. Smyser's fourth graders worked very hard on their boards for Parents' Night, too. One was a Easter board, and was science and one also represented their work in geography dealing with the farm.

They completed their achievement tests and Mrs. Smyser treated them with jelly beans when all tests were completed.

The super reading groups and number one's are doing special things for the class, such as reading poems and stories to the class.

The citizens of the weak were Zoe Riemenschneider, Jane Falst, Alice Riemenschneider, Sandra Osborne, Judy McNeil, Mike Shepherd, Danny Caister, Dennis Stoffer, David Frisinger, and Jack Hale.

In addition to the many projects displayed on Parents' Night, the students made scale models of the various planets and hung them in the room to show the position and relationships of the various planets to each other. The students were very pleased with the many wonderful comments made by guests and parents.

Mrs. Lange's fourth grade has elected a Student Council with Beverly Arnett as president and Billy Ledford and Thomas Johnson as members.

Two five-inning softball games have been played this spring. Captains for the girls are Cathy Mitchell Zink and Lanny Carr, and second, Joyce Sharp and Pansy Stanley.

In art, many Walt Disney design pictures have been made. Kathy Sutter made a money tree, and Lanny Carr, draw Pinocchio and Jimmy Crickett. The entire room has been working on two large bulletin boards for May showing cherry and apple blossoms.

Donna Anderson Becomes Bride of George Palmer

Donna Bernadine Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of 1018 Vine street, Manistee, and George Leigh Palmer, were married Saturday, May 11, in Messiah Lutheran church at Manistee.

The Rev. R. Edward Carlstrom, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony which took place at half-past five in the afternoon.

The soloist was H. Jay Thompson of Ann Arbor.

Approximately 150 guests were present for the ceremony and for the reception immediately following in the church parlors.

White Italian couplini silk and alencon lace fashioned the bride's gown. The lace topped the bodice and formed the motif for embroidery extending down the front of the bouffant skirt.

The skirt ended in a long court train. A halo of lilies-of-the-valley formed the head piece for her bridal veil and she carried a cascade of white roses.

The bride's sister, Mrs. James K. Daniels, was matron of honor; Mrs. James Becker, sister of the bridegroom, and Carol Novak of Coraopolis, Pa., were bridesmaids; and Michael Daniels, nephew of the bride, and Ronald Peterson of Manistee, served as acolytes.

Men in the wedding party included Cameron Colquhoun of Jackson, as best man, and James Daniels, groom's brother-in-law, as ushers.

The bridesmaids wore gowns identical to hers; however, their colonial bouquets were made entirely of pink roses.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece dress of rose boucle lace and had a corsage of creamy white cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Palmer, in a toast-colored silk lining sheath and matching bolero, had a corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

At the reception Mrs. Ella A. Johnson and Esther Holmes of Manistee, acted as hostesses; Mrs. Glenn R. Brooks of Rochester, and Lola Stokoe of Flint, aunt of the bridegroom, poured; Mrs. Cameron Colquhoun cut the cake. A Swedish smorgasbord was served at the reception by ladies of the church.

Guests present were from Aberdeen, Wash.; Coraopolis and Pittsburg, Pa.; Grand Rapids, Kent City, Reed City, Pontiac, Rochester, Lathrop Village, Grosse Pointe, Birmingham, Sturgis, Flint, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Jackson and Chelsea.

For going away later the bride wore a navy blue tulle dress and matching accessories.

The couple will be at home in the Palmer house here following their return from a trip through the south.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Nursing with a degree of bachelor of science in nursing. She is affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. Until her marriage she was employed at Louis A. Weiss Memorial hospital, Chicago, Ill.

Before the ceremony, Wilbur Beeman sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because of Loving the service included "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's wedding gown was of white nylon sheer over taffeta, having a fitted bodice with short sleeves and square-cut neckline trimmed with lace, sequins and pearls.

The fully gathered skirt had a floating panel trimmed with appliques of lace, sequins and pearls matching the bodice trimming.

A pill box of lace, similarly trimmed with sequins and pearls, held her veil of French illusion. The veil was fingertip length. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis on her white Bible.

Carol Adkins, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and Nancy Nelson of Jackson, and Gayla Markie, were bridesmaids. All were dressed alike in blue circle net over taffeta. Their gowns were styled with a fitted bodice having a sabrina neckline, a fully gathered skirt and cummerbund and floating back panels of nylon sheer. Their ensembles were completed with matching picture hats and mittens.

At the reception Mrs. Ella A. Johnson and Esther Holmes of Manistee, acted as hostesses; Mrs. Glenn R. Brooks of Rochester, and Lola Stokoe of Flint, aunt of the bridegroom, poured; Mrs. Cameron Colquhoun cut the cake. A Swedish smorgasbord was served at the reception by ladies of the church.

For her wedding the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk taffeta with a modified Y neckline.

Lace flowers trimmed with iridescent sequins were attached to each shoulder and tiny buttons extended down the back of the elongated shirred bodice. Other decorative details of the gown were long sleeves with pointed outline at the wrists, a fully gathered skirt and a chapel train. Donna Anderson Becomes Bride of George Palmer

Donna Bernadine Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of 1018 Vine street, Manistee, and George Leigh Palmer, were married Saturday, May 11, in Messiah Lutheran church at Manistee.

The Rev. R. Edward Carlstrom, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony which took place at half-past five in the afternoon.

The soloist was H. Jay Thompson of Ann Arbor.

Approximately 150 guests were present for the ceremony and for the reception immediately following in the church parlors.

White Italian couplini silk and alencon lace fashioned the bride's gown. The lace topped the bodice and formed the motif for embroidery extending down the front of the bouffant skirt.

The skirt ended in a long court train. A halo of lilies-of-the-valley formed the head piece for her bridal veil and she carried a cascade of white roses.

The bride's sister, Mrs. James K. Daniels, was matron of honor; Mrs. James Becker, sister of the bridegroom, and Carol Novak of Coraopolis, Pa., were bridesmaids; and Michael Daniels, nephew of the bride, and Ronald Peterson of Manistee, served as acolytes.

Men in the wedding party included Cameron Colquhoun of Jackson, as best man, and James Daniels, groom's brother-in-law, as ushers.

The bridesmaids wore gowns identical to hers; however, their colonial bouquets were made entirely of pink roses.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece dress of rose boucle lace and had a corsage of creamy white cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Palmer, in a toast-colored silk lining sheath and matching bolero, had a corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

At the reception Mrs. Ella A. Johnson and Esther Holmes of Manistee, acted as hostesses; Mrs. Glenn R. Brooks of Rochester, and Lola Stokoe of Flint, aunt of the bridegroom, poured; Mrs. Cameron Colquhoun cut the cake. A Swedish smorgasbord was served at the reception by ladies of the church.

Guests present were from Aberdeen, Wash.; Coraopolis and Pittsburg, Pa.; Grand Rapids, Kent City, Reed City, Pontiac, Rochester, Lathrop Village, Grosse Pointe, Birmingham, Sturgis, Flint, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Jackson and Chelsea.

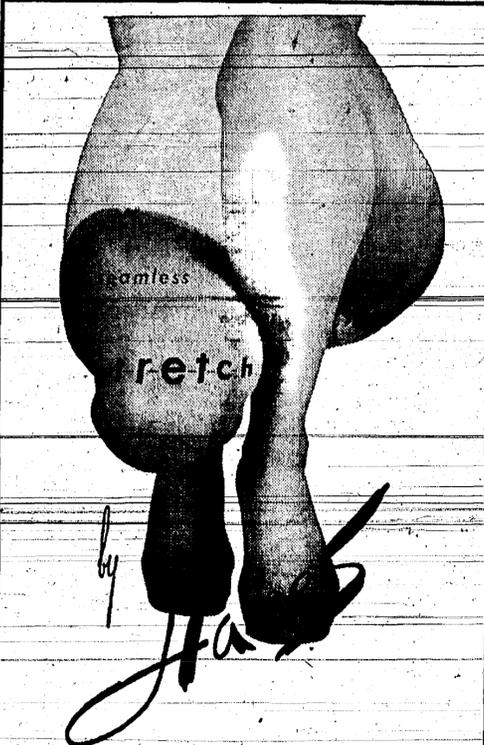

For going away later the bride wore a navy blue tulle dress and matching accessories.

The couple will be at home in the Palmer house here following their return from a trip through the south.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Nursing with a degree of bachelor of science in nursing. She is affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. Until her marriage she was employed at Louis A. Weiss Memorial hospital, Chicago, Ill.

Extend Invitation To Visit Jackson State Police Post

A special invitation to the public to visit the Jackson post of the Michigan State Police during the observance of Michigan Week May 19-25, has been issued by Sgt. John Horvath, post commander.

"While the public is welcome to visit a State Police post at any time, Michigan Week is a very appropriate occasion to do it," the Sergeant said. "The best hours will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day."

Officers will show visitors through the post and answer questions about State Police operations. "We will be happy to have any one call on us who is interested," Sgt. Horvath said. "This open house has been arranged to better acquaint the people with their State Police and to inform them on our numerous activities to protect their security. Many persons believe the State Police organization is strictly a highway patrol, when actually we do general law enforcement and much of our time is spent on criminal investigations and other matters not having anything to do with highways. Michigan Week will afford an opportunity to find out just how broad a field we cover."

Open house will be held at every State Police post during the week.

School Bands Completing Year of Work, Good Music

Chelsea Band Boosters have prepared the following resume of the school bands' activities of the present school year:

September: School and fair time for two directors and all bandmen vacation is over; preparation for their first appearance is underway. Within a few days junior high and senior high bands were seen in the fair parade; also the senior band gave a short concert during the evening. More practice and our senior band marched and played with other county school bands for the dedication of the Washtenaw County Building.

October: Football is the theme; half time shows were the order of the day. In case you didn't know, both bands backed their respective squads. The senior band followed to Saline and Lincoln to boost the morale. Time out for practice; one two, three, play, also soloists putting more time on their individual parts which were to come later in concert season.

The big day—Band day in Ann Arbor, up at six or miss your bus, a long day but well worth the effort, hours of standing, marching, playing, the game and half time. On the field masses band playing; this sight and sound will never be forgotten. Next, Halloween with another parade.

November: Football and Thanksgiving; a trip to Olivet College to give a half-time show, with a tour of the campus and something to eat.

In school and at home each day practice by the hour, to be sure notes and tones are right; junior and senior high bands played in concert for Band Boosters meeting, the first of the season, for the election of officers.

December: Christmas and vacation. Another concert with band and chorus, senior high by night and junior high by day. So we get to hear our old favorites, Christmas carols. Of course, solos, duets and such were featured. Another musical Christmas program to be remembered.

January: Resolutions: More concerts, so continued drilling by directors, preparation taking over a period of weeks to achieve fitness wanted. Band Boosters rummage sale.

February: Thaw—Senior band warmed up and exchanged concerts with rivals, Dexter and Manchester high bands. Something new, and enjoyable. Boosters, boosted with Country Store.

March: Windy of course, but a surprise in store. The junior high band gave their own concert, with no admission. We hope to hear more.

Background music recorded by our bands. Did you hear it at the Boosters fish fry?

April: Rain and Mud—But the bandmen kept the cars clean at their annual car wash. Then the parents and children opened their hearts and homes to Tawas bandmen who were enroute to Ann Arbor.

Two weeks ago—the senior band concert which exceeded, by far, our expectations. Our high school band playing music of college level. This was a grand surprise and did we enjoy it!

May: Beginning the last six weeks: The bands are heard on sunny days marching; getting in trim for the Mayor's Exchange Day, May 20; also the Memorial Day parade. Remember a year ago the junior high band made their first appearance.

June: Graduation—A wish for an enlightening future to our seniors. Now all the practice in grade schools comes to us in concert form, with our junior high band on June 4.

Class night and senior high band is ready and four years of senior band work is over. Congratulations—different types and how to use them, and will show a sound movie "The Living Soil." Then an invitation; sounds like more practice; to Tawas for their Centennial. So the year ends with practice at home and camp and a sincere thanks to our directors Eugene Shroyer and David Sanborn and bandmen for a band we are proud of.

Officers of the Chelsea Band Boosters are: Mrs. Willard Pearson, president; Mrs. Alfred D. Mayer, vice-president; Mrs. Alura Gear, secretary; Mrs. Karl Koenigler, treasurer; and Charles Cameron, Charles Lane, Eugene Shroyer and David Sanborn, advisors.
