Past Governors of Michigan Kiwanis District Meet Here

Earl L. Confer, present governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International and A. C. Locke, immediate past governor, were among those present at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea Monday noon when M. J. Anderson, a past district governor, entertained the Kiwanis Past Governors Council of the Michigan District.

The gathering took the place of the customary evening dinner meeting of the local club and was held in the social center of the Methodist church.

Wives of past district governors and Chelsea Kiwanians and their wives attended. Each of the ladies was presented with a corsage.

Robert Gray of Jackson, president of the Past Governors Council, introduced Walter J. L. Ray of Detroit, as the guest speaker following the luncheon. Ray is a past president of the Building and Loan Association of America and a past president of Kiwanis International as well as a past governor of the Kiwanis Michigan District.

In his work with the building and loan interests he was in a position to observe and study information on business trends in the United States and throughout the world over a period of years. As a result of this wide experience and because of his many contacts with business and industrial leaders, he said, he is convinced that there are greater opportunities for young people today than ever before.

Never in history, he stated, have opportunities been as great, particularly for those who would seek education in the sciences, aeronautics and engineering of all types.

Kiwanis ideals, Ray pointed out, are aimed in the right direction when local clubs attempt to help young people see these opportunities and when the Kiwanis groups interest their communities in recognizing the challenge to encourage young people to equip themselves for important future work.

A special song, "Sunshine On The Hill," was led by Frank O. Staiger of Port Huron, secretary of the Michigan District, who said the song was his favorite.

Chelsea Kiwanis President John Alder presided at the luncheon meeting and welcomed guests and members present.

Following the noon meeting the visiting past governors and their wives were guests at the Anderson home at Pleasant Lake for the afternoon. The ladies enjoyed a social hour during the business session of the Past Governors Council.

At these meetings, past governors demonstrate their continuing interest in the future of Kiwanis by discussing matters pertaining to the organization and by standing ready to act as a steering group for administrative officials by sharing the experience they have gained in their work as district governors.

The day's activities were concluded with an evening dinner at Schumm's.

JOHN J. FREYSINGER
J. Freysinger Named Head Of Hospital

John J. Freysinger, a former Chelsea resident, has been appointed superintendent of the new Memorial hospital in Ypsilanti. The appointment was approved at a meeting of the board of directors of the People's Community Hospital Authority held at Ypsilanti, Thursday night. He replaces Arthur C. Forche of Ypsilanti, who has accepted a position as superintendent of the new Wayne hospital.

Freysinger now lives at 1610 Brooklyn street, Ann Arbor. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freysinger, of 124 Lincoln street, have lived in the Chelsea area for 35 years, coming here from Dexter when their son John was one year old. He attended Chelsea area schools and graduated from Chelsea High school with the class of 1938 after taking most of his high school work at University hospital where he was a patient most of the time from the age of 13 because of complications following a fractured hip sustained in a fall on the ice.

He took a year of post-graduate work at Ann Arbor High school and then worked his way through the University, receiving a bachelor's degree in 1940. Following further study he received a master's degree in Business Administration from the University of Michigan.

Subdividers Indicted by Grand Jury

Chelsea Construction company, promoters of the Sorenson subdivision project; Universal Mortgage Co.; R. Duncan Hole and his brother, D. Bruce Hole, of Ann Arbor, who control the construction company; and Glorienne Budy, one of their saleswomen, are named in a federal grand jury indictment charging the filing of false documents in an attempt to obtain government-insured mortgages.

Miss Budy is listed as a saleswoman for the Ann Arbor Construction company which the Hole brothers also control.

The indictment charges the Hole brothers and Miss Budy with misrepresenting figures in applications for Federal Housing Administration mortgages to replace land contracts on four houses in Sorenson subdivision.

Since FHA would be more likely to insure mortgages in which a buyer's equity was high, it is charged the brothers were attempting eventually to convert land contracts to FHA mortgages on 60 homes in the subdivision.

For one of the houses, the indictment charges, papers filed showed a down payment of $3,000 had been made, with closing costs of $400, leaving a balance of $10,882.

In reality, it was charged, the down payment was $500 and the balance $12,925.

Runaway Girl Found In Swamp

A 16-year-old Grass Lake girl who ran away from home 18 days ago because she "couldn't get along with her parents," lived undiscovered at abandoned milk delivery truck behind the Weinberg Dairy on Old US-12 until Tuesday afternoon when she was found in the back seat of a dairy employee's car and refused to get out.

The employee, Jay Ferguson, summoned Jay Weinberg and when the girl still refused to leave the car, Chelsea police were notified.

As she was being questioned by Weinberg, owner of the dairy, she noticed the arrival of Police Officer Frank Reed and suddenly darted away and headed for a marsh at the north of the Weinberg home.

Chelsea firemen responded when called upon to assist in the search for the girl. A steady rain was falling as the men tramped through the marsh several hours trying to locate her.

The girl eluded capture until after the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Mounted posse swung into action, 15 men and horses taking part.

As the horses neared her hiding place in the marsh the girl fled through the brush to the north and was finally cornered under a box car on the New York Central railroad track.

Questioned by sheriff's deputies she said her name was Myrtle Wilson and told the story of leaving her home near Grass Lake because of difficulties with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Wilson.

She said she hid in the abandoned milk truck and had lived on ice cream, cottage cheese, milk and other products she pilfered from the dairy stock.

Fire Department Now Has Three Modern Trucks in Use

In this the second of a series of three articles on the Chelsea Volunteer Fire Department, a description of the Department's equipment will be presented.

Truck number 1 is a pump built by the Boyer Company and bought in 1949. It has a 500 gallon per minute pump, which is a three-stage pump for high pressure fog. It can pump at 600 lbs. pressure. The truck also carries 500 gallons of water. The truck has 1,100 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose and 200 feet of 1 1/2-inch hose. A 2,500 watt lighting plant and three flood lights are located on the truck. A smoke fan for removing smoke from buildings runs from the lighting plant. Other equipment on the truck includes two Scott smoke masks, boots and helmets, a two-way radio, a first aid kit and 35-foot aluminum ladder, a roof ladder, and folding ladders. The estimated value of the truck and equipment is $14,700.

Truck number 2 was built by the American Fire Apparatus Company in 1941. It has a 500-gallon per minute pump and carries 500 gallons of water. The truck has two 1-inch booster lines. One thousand feet of 2 1/2-inch hose and 200 feet of 1 1/2-inch hose are carried on the truck. A 50' ladder and a roof ladder (all aluminum) are part of the equipment. Two smoke masks and a foam gun and liquid complete the equipment. This truck does not leave the village. The estimated value is $8,550.

The tank truck is owned by Lima and Sylvan townships. This was built in 1950. It carries 1,100 gallons of water and a 500-gallon per minute pump. Equipment includes 300 feet of 1 1/2-inch hose and a 35-foot ladder; also a roof ladder. The estimated value is $5,350.

In the station is an electric hose dryer which holds 500 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose at a time.

The department has an E & J reusatch, which was bought by the factories and clubs of Chelsea.

Lima Township Zoning Ordinance Is Published

A copy of the Lima township interim zoning ordinance, passed at a meeting of the township board July 16, is published in today's issue of The Standard and appears on pages 8 and 9. The ordinance became effective July 17.

This interim zoning ordinance was passed for a period of one year and is subject to renewal for a second year to protect and control land uses, developments and projects that may wish to locate or operate within the township.

During the time the interim zoning ordinance is in effect—either for one year or for two years if renewed—the township board, the zoning board and residents of the township will study and perhaps rewrite the interim ordinance in accordance with the township's needs. During that time, also, a decision will be made as to whether a permanent ordinance shall be adopted.

A copy of the interim ordinance and zoning map will be on file in the office of the Lima township clerk.

Members of the Lima township zoning board are Harry Peck, Charles Bohman, Arthur Kuhl, Eugene Fisher and William Van Riper.

Jackson county sheriff's deputies said Hackworth fell or dove into the water of the lake from a boat in which he had been riding. Jackson County Coroner Edward H. Montgomery, who ordered an autopsy of the body, reported Monday Hackworth had suffered a heart attack when he entered the water but drowning was the cause of death.

Wheat Scab Showing In Some Localities Could Become Serious

Wheat yields in this area are averaging between 35 and 40 bushels per acre, locally, according to reports of farmers bringing their grain to local elevators. Some individual yields were listed by growers as considerably higher.

Quality, however, is not quite up to last year's average when so-called premium wheat was brought to markets here.

Moisture content, generally, has been under the allowable 14 per cent, one load Wednesday morning at Blaess Elevator company at Four Mile Lake testing under 11 per cent.

Blaess Elevator and Chelsea Milling company both have been taking in wheat on a 24-hour schedule since the harvest began in earnest last Wednesday.

Farmers enjoyed one of the best harvest periods in several years as to weather. Several days in succession work without appreciable rain in this area.

Donald Johnson, Washtenaw county agricultural agent, said yesterday that wheat yields throughout the county are good; however, he pointed out that scab, which has appeared in varying degrees in many of the fields. This could become a serious problem if control measures are not adopted.

The wheat scab is a fungus growth, originating in the soil. Apparently conditions this year have been ideal for its growth, moisture and temperature being favorable for its spread.

Wheat affected is shriveled and dead appearing and often shows a pinkish mold around the kernel, Johnson said.

Control of the scab, Johnson said, calls for crop rotation including non-grass crops such as alfalfa and clover.

VACATION BOUND?

Before you go, you may save yourself a lot of trouble by phoning ahead to be sure of your reservations. And if you're delayed on the way, call ahead from a handy Public Telephone and let them know. If it's friends or relatives you're planning to visit, phone and tell them when you'll arrive. They'll appreciate your thoughtfulness. Long Distance rates are low. You can call places a day's drive away for about a dollar. So don't let anything upset your vacation. Plan by Long Distance.

AN ADDITIONAL PHONE is an awfully handy thing, especially if it's a bedside phone. Think of all the times the phone rings while you're in the bedroom—and you have to run to another part of the house to answer it. You'd certainly save a lot of tiring steps if you had a phone in your bedroom. It's a nice quiet place to make those personal calls, too. And if you're ever ill, a bedside telephone is mighty convenient and comforting. Why not order one now? You can select from eight modern decorator colors.

CALL ANY TIME—this person's phone will be answered and messages taken whenever he's out. Many professional and business people are giving customers the convenience of Michigan Bell's telephone answering set. Soon you may make a call and hear:

"This is a recording. There's no one in the office. After you hear the two beep-tones, you'll have half a minute to leave a message, your name and phone number..." When he returns, your message will be played back and your instructions followed. Quite a service, isn't it?

Washington Report

By Senator Charles F. Potter
The latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan.

Mayflower II, famous replica of the ship which brought the Pilgrims to Plymouth Rock, may sail the St. Lawrence Seaway, calling at Michigan ports. Now being discussed in London is my invitation to bring the historic vessel into Lake waters.

When I presented the idea to Captain Alan Villiers, world-famed skipper who sailed the Mayflower across the Atlantic, and Warwick Charlton, founder of the project, both were enthusiastic. "Certainly the magnificent gesture of friendship which you have extended to the people of this nation," my invitation reads, "should be completed by bringing the Mayflower II into the industrial and spiritual heartland of America."

Such a voyage would focus world attention on the Seaway and the new Mackinac Bridge. As the Mayflower II anchored at Detroit, Port Huron, Saginaw Bay, Muskegon, Benton Harbor and other ports, she would be a spectacular tourist attraction all the way. Many of her original crew have dispersed and I hope that an experienced Great Lakes crew with a complement of Michigan Sea Scouts would be recruited to man her.

It's possible, but not probable, that plans could be worked out before the Seaway opens. More likely is an early spring voyage. Right now Mayflower II is moored in New York harbor, attracting thousands of tourists, as she awaits formal transfer to Plymouth on Thanksgiving. Michigan tourist officials already are visualizing a series of pageants to greet the famous ship as she sails into our waters.

I expect to be in touch with Secretary of State Dulles on further plans.

CIVIL RIGHTS holds the Senate spotlight. Early and late, pros keep a quorum on the floor to prevent votes from sidetracking the bill. We have moved into our offices to catch forty winks between the long hours of work. Ann Arbor Optimist Club Sponsors Hole-in-One Contest

The eighth annual Hole-in-One contest sponsored by the Ann Arbor Optimist club is to be held Aug. 5 and 6 at the Municipal Golf Course in Ann Arbor. It was announced this week. The events will begin at noon and continue under lights until 10:30 or 11:00 p.m., both days.

Prizes totaling $300 will be awarded in the special men's and women's divisions.

There will also be a chipping contest, one for the men and another for women.

Al Toney and Larry Moran are the committee in charge of the affair.

Leonard Young and Charles Rabideau are on the prize committee and Carl Bell heads the work committee.

Washtenaw county junior deputies will be on hand for policing duties and to pick up balls.

The youths will be among the five bus loads of boys who will be taken to Detroit by the Optimist club for the New York Yankees-Detroit Tigers baseball game on Aug. 25.

LIFE INSURANCE.

For the first half of 1957, purchases of new life insurance totaled $33,000,000,000, a 10 per cent above the 1956 period, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Annual Swine Type Conference will be a tour of four purebred swine farms on July 25. Starting point is the Phil Hopkins farm near Homer.

most won. The Potter bill, making it illegal to speculate in onion futures, has been okayed by agriculture subcommittees of both House and Senate. Michigan's onion farmers, caught in a price squeeze brought on by manipulators who gamble and get rich on perishable onions, can look forward to relief before long. Onion speculation is a smelly business, and I use the word advisedly. Passage of my bill will put a stop to it.

New Vernal Alfalfa Recommended as Highest Producer

Though Vernal alfalfa seed is selling for $10 to $12 more per bushel of seed than is Ranger alfalfa seed, farmers will more than make it back in the first year's cuttings.

According to Leyton Nelson, Michigan State University farm crops department, Vernal will yield an extra half ton of hay which is worth about $10.

The extra cost for seed will run to about $1 per acre if the grower uses improved methods of seeding—banding the seed in at the rate of one bushel per ten acres.

The supply of Vernal is short so farmers who want to plant this variety should buy their seed now for a planting time they might well find the supply gone.

Under average growing conditions, Vernal will yield a half ton of extra hay per acre, will out-yield Ranger on the second year by slightly more than a half ton.

Though Vernal is superior to Ranger, in the interest of conserving seed, farmers should plant it on fields they expect to keep in alfalfa for more than two years.

It is a long-life, winter-hardy, wilt-resistant, high-yielding, good appearing, well adapted alfalfa.

It has a great deal of resistance to leaf spot disease and farmers will not have anywhere as much leaf drop on the second cutting.

This also adds up to higher yields, he said.

Plant Vernal to the limits of its supply this year suggests Nelson—you'll gain the advantage of higher yields even though it costs about $1 more per acre to plant.

Family Farm Is Here To Stay

Some individuals who claim to be experts on agriculture express fear that the family farm is on the way to oblivion. But Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, does not agree—the family farm “has always been, is now and I think, always will be the backbone of American agriculture,” he said.

Those who are pessimistic about the future of the family farm vision the farm that belongs to the past—not to the farm of today or tomorrow.

They fail to take into account the great beneficial changes that have been brought about by mechanization, greatly improved seeds and fertilizers and other comparatively new developments.

These new developments have turned farming into a business requiring substantial investment and high skills and broad knowledge on the part of the farmer if he is to succeed—there is little room on the farm today for incompetents or those unsuited by temperament, background or training to agriculture.

These developments also have brought a new concept of the size of the family farm.

A farmer whose farm is equipped with modern agricultural machinery can handle a much larger acreage than his grandfather did.

But he can still run a family farm—in the full sense of the term—and the opportunities are greater than ever before.

All farmers—of course—have problems. But in every part of this country family farms are doing well and a way of life that is typically American is being maintained and improved.—Port Huron Times-Herald.

FTC To Investigate New Drug Prices

Government officials in the Federal Trade Commission are interested in drug prices and have sent questionnaires to drug manufacturers, designed to produce the answer to questions which the FTC and the general public want answered.

For one thing, the Government wants to know why the cost of certain well-known drugs have remained high-priced for years after their introduction. It is common practice for new drugs to be priced rather high when they are first offered because the supply is limited and production is just beginning.

However, in the case of many anti-biotics, prices have been held up and there is general suspicion that the public is being gouged.

The drug business is a billion-dollar industry in the United States and if there is any one industry in which profits should be moderate, or reasonable, it is this one. Americans depend on medicines and drugs to safeguard their health and it is a poor commentary on the American scene if drug manufacturers are, as some claim, extracting ridiculously high profits at the expense of the American public because there is little understanding of the drug industry and little information or comprehension on its workings.

In this case, we hope the Federal Trade Commission will follow through and get the answers to the puzzling situation in the drug manufacturing industry. In 1953, the FTC voted to investigate antibiotic prices, but then delayed its investigation and took up more urgent matters. This time the job should be completed, in behalf of the American public, and the answers, good or bad, should be made public.

Twelve Short Years

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

It was easier to enjoy ill health until the "system" that paid the bills got sick itself.

The system got its start as a prepaid medical insurance plan to help those who needed the services pay doctor and hospital bills.

Logically, the doctors and hospitals then would be paid, the sick would be made well again and the economy of the whole operation would remain sound.

In recent years, the rates of Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospitalization policies have climbed—to pay for "overuses," and some abuses of the system. Even the financial experts are puzzled now.

The latest rate increase, averaging 12 per cent, came July 5 and touched off another series of investigations.

At present, the University of Michigan, a special commission named by Gov. Williams, a legislative committee, and the Michigan State Medical Society—all are investigating.

"In order to maintain solvency of the hospital plan and to assure sufficient income to provide for increased hospital costs," Insurance Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre approved the rates.

He added that the "rates proposed are commensurate with the benefits provided by the medical plan."

Evidence of abuse by patients and by doctors and the hospitals has been developed by a legislative committee which reported last year, then threw up its hands.

Doctors and hospitals complained that patients were misusing the services, making needless demands on doctors and hospitals.

Patients grumbled that they received "the works," x-rays, special care and diets for relatively minor ailments—after officials determined they were covered by Blue Cross and Blue Shield policies.

Navarre said that the number of Blue Cross members going to the hospital increased from 148 per cent each 1,000 members to 161 since 1955.

Hospital care costs rose from $25.95 in 1955 to $28.80. As a result, Blue Cross paid out $1,800,000 more than it received in the first five months of 1957.

Navarre said that Blue Cross and Blue Shield "is caught in the price spiral like other commodities which are sought and provided through social and economic instrumentalities."

The system, he said, is starting an experiment to apply insurance to outpatient care—apparently to reduce the number and extent of the abuses caused by patients going to hospitals for expensive treatment.

The Michigan Medical Society, whose members have a direct stake in the system, is launching the latest investigation. The Michigan Health Council, a voluntary health education organization, is conducting the survey.

It is designed "to find out what people want from Blue Cross and what it is expected to do," said one spokesman.

The Society will pay more than $50,000 for the survey, using its own resources for a direct-mail poll of thousands of citizens.

The Richard Oudersluis research organization in Detroit has been engaged to make a person-to-person interview survey.

"The findings will be interesting, as they have been in the past. But the Society and others feel that they will be of more than academic interest this time."

Citizens can be expected to want more, and more expensive services, more elaborate hospital care for less money. Doctors and hospital administrators, however, though anti-entirely are expected to want what the patients want, but can be expected to be far apart on the money phase.

Hospital and medical care are expensive, but all sides are eager to find a practical solution.

Reports will be made in the fall to the Society, which in turn, promises to make public the findings.

Then Michigan will have a clearer idea how much it costs to

Nearly 9,000 Traps To Tell Presence of Japanese Beetles

Nearly 9,000 traps have been set in southern Michigan, especially in areas bordering Indiana and Ohio which have a high beetle population, in an attempt by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's plant industry division to stamp out Japanese beetle infestation.

In Michigan the beetles emerge in July from the ground where as grubs they have remained for 10 months feeding on the roots of plants. The beetles feed on 280 or more types of plants. In heavily infested areas as many as 1,000 Japanese beetles have been counted on a single hybrid tea rose plant, and in fruit regions as many as 40 on a single peach.

Because of its control and eradication program Michigan has never been quarantined for Japanese beetle, but Department of Agriculture officials point out that only by constant work can they be assured there will be no spread of infestation.

The Japanese beetle is slightly larger than a fly. It has a metallic appearing bronze body and a tawny green head. Under its wing coverings it has three white dots on each side of its body.

While Japanese beetles become impressed in the yellow traps placed in many areas in southern Michigan, the control program does not depend on this means of destroying them. The purpose of the traps is to determine the presence of the insect. Then adjacent areas are soil treated with chemicals which destroy the grubs which do no much damage to plant roots below the ground.

Since Japanese beetles are known to be great hitch-hikers and travel from place to place in vehicles of all kinds, the Michigan Department's plant industry men also check produce at railroad and truck terminals, airports and public markets.

ON CAPITOL HILL

By Congressman George Menden

My main objective in seeking office originally and serving in Congress has been to strengthen and improve its legislative process and to help it recapture its Constitutional policy-making authority, which, in recent years has gravitated more and more to bureaus and agencies in the Executive branch.

Only with a strong and capable Congress can we prove that self-government through elected representatives is workable in our modern complex society. But apart from the trend toward greater domination by the bureaucracy is continuing.

Last week, the House of Representatives extended for two years the Reorganization Act of 1949, permitting changes in the Executive branch with only a limited veto in Congress. If neither the House nor the Senate, within 60 days, rejects a Reorganization Plan, it becomes law. Congress cannot amend it even to correct a typographical error. It is legislation in reverse!

A so-called "Reorganization Plan" sounds innocent—but it is really a law. "Streamlining" for efficiency, without affecting functions or safeguards created by statute, can be done in the Executive branch at any time. Authority granted in the Reorganization Act is needed only when existing law is amended or repealed.

I voted for a two-year extension of the Reorganization Act in 1949 to permit the President to submit reforms emanating from studies by the First Hoover Commission, and again in 1955, to take advantage of the work of the Second Hoover Commission which reported in 1954. But in 1956, only two Reorganization Plans—neither good—were submitted. Both were rejected unanimously by the Government Operations Committee and by the House, itself. The one plan submitted in 1957, was unpopular and noncontroversial and easily would have passed by unanimous consent. Also, Budget Director Brundage, speaking for the Administration, in support of the current proposed extension, testified the Administration plans no further Reorganization proposals at this time.

When needed, Congress can revive Executive authority to submit Reorganization Plans. But to permit this legislative power to continue in the executive when it is not needed is supine acquiescence by Congress to the growing absorption of its policy-making responsibility by the bureaus and agencies of the Executive branch at this time.

The HERB CORNER Flavor, Fragrance, Beauty

The voyage of the Second Mayflower, and the historical observance held at Jamestown have served to awaken interest in our Colonial history. Just six miles from Jamestown, on U. S. Route 60, one can step back into the political and social life of Colonial capitals, Williamsburg, Va.

Here one may visit the House of Burgesses, where Patrick Henry delivered his famous speech against the Stamp Act; the Raleigh Tavern, where George Washington often dined; and Thomas Jefferson, too; the Wren Building, America's oldest academic structure, on the campus of the College of William and Mary; Bruton Parish Church with its pews marked with the names of great patriots; and the names of great patriots in the "court church of Virginia," and many of over 325 colonial residences and public buildings that have been restored or reconstructed.

Their gardens were not forgotten when this restoration took place. More than 60 modern buildings were removed to make way for these historic buildings and their famous gardens, streets and greens. More than 65 gardens, containing only plants and flowers known to have been grown in our country before 1800, have been restored in the 18th century manner.

These range from the handsome formal gardens of the Governor's Palace, including an authentic English maze, to the backyard kitchen gardens enclosed by neat, white picket fences. Particularly noteworthy, besides the Governor's Palace Garden, are the gardens of Elkland Deane, a coachmaker, and George Wythe, first Professor of Law at William and Mary, teacher of Thomas Jefferson, and one of the Virginia Signers of the Declaration of Independence.

The Wythe garden is important as an example of a self-sufficient plantation layout in miniature including among its garden areas a small, but notable, herb garden.

The herbs found here and in the other kitchen gardens include: Garlic and Chives; Anise, Caraway, Coriander, and Dill; the common varieties of Balm, Borage, Fennel, Hoarhound, Oregano, Parsley, Rosemary, and Thyme; Golden and Roman Camomile, Garden and Clary Sage, Summer and Winter Savory, and the Mints, Peppermint, Spearmint and Pennyroyal. There is also Sweet Basil, Sweet Marjoram, Hyssop, Rosemary, Tarragon, and Pot Marigold. And, too, are Fennel-flower (Nigella arvensis) grown for its black, peppery seeds as well as its jewel-like blue flowers; Jupiter's Beard (Centranthus ruber) also called Red Valerian or False Heliotrope, an attractive plant with scented, rose-colored flowers; and sprigs of which were placed among the linens of colonial households to impart the ever popular lavender scent; Catnip, one of the herbs used for tea by our colonial citizens after the Boston Tea Party; and one of the many Artemisia (A. Absinthium), branches of which were hung to keep moths out of colonial closets.

Of every $15 the federal government spends, one dollar is spent in agricultural programs.

Lorraine E. Westfall, Harold Bair Married At Methodist Church

Lorraine Evelyn Westfall and Harold Bair were married at 7 o'clock Thursday evening in the Methodist church here, with the Rev. S. D. Kinde officiating.

Before the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Westfall of Battle Creek sang as duets, "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Mr. Westfall is a nephew of the bride.

For the wedding, the bride wore a princess style, ballerina length gown of aqua nylon net featuring trimming of tiny self-covered buttons down the front. Matching nylon net mitts and an aqua velvet head band and matching veil completed her costume. She carried a white Bible and her bridal bouquet of pink roses encircled with stephanotis.

Mrs. LeRoy Hoffman was the bride's only attendant, wearing for the occasion a princess style gown trimmed with matching colored lace. Her hat was of beige velvet and beige-colored beads formed an embroidered pattern on her white guantlet gloves. Her corsage was of blue carnations.

Bruce Williams of Flint, assisted the bridegroom as best man, while Douglas Stitt, also of Flint, and Julian Frey of Inkster, seated the guests.

A reception for approximately 75 guests was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Hoffman, 308 Wilkinson street.

Assisting were Mrs. Donald Schneider, who served the wedding cake; Mrs. Louis Foreman who poured; and Mrs. Evelyn Rowe who listed the guests.

Following a two-week trip through the Bad Lands of South Dakota and to Yellowstone National Park, the couple will be at home, after Aug. 5, at 2510 Hayes road.
For going away the bride wore a straw colored linen suit trimmed in blue color. Matching accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet were complementing details.

The new Mrs. Bair graduated from Brighton High school and received a bachelor of science degree from Eastern Michigan College, Ypsilanti. She also graduated from Cleary Business College, Ypsilanti, and has been employed in the accounting department of Central Fibre Products Company.

Mr. Bair attended Flint Central High school. He is a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles of Ann Arbor.

Waterloo Church Name Is Changed

The Evangelical United Brethren church in Waterloo, formerly known as Second Church has been renamed the Waterloo Village Evangelical United Brethren church. This action was taken by the Michigan Annual Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church meeting in Lansing May 15-19.

As of June 5, 1952, the church is an ecclesiastical corporation under the incorporation laws of the State of Michigan in the legal name of Waterloo Village Evangelical United Brethren church. The property deed has been adjusted and assigned to the new corporation and on July 28 new membership certificates will be issued to all members upon review and renewal of their membership vows. This will complete the change of name for the Waterloo Village E.U.B. church.

It is interesting to note in the early history of this church, beginning about 1854, that it was known as the Waterloo Village church, thus this action is a return to an earlier name.

The Rev. H. L. Mann is pastor of the church.

This announcement comes from Earl Brown, extension farm management specialist at Michigan State University and state chairman of the event. Local arrangements are being handled by Bill Dexter, Washtenaw county assistant agricultural agent.

According to Brown, the two host-farmers are specialists—one in producing milk and the other in feeding beef.

The Friday surprise feature last week was a peanut hunt. Tomorrow (July 28) knitting instruction will be given at the High School playground. A limited amount of equipment is available.

Mrs. Kayser suggested that anyone who can do so should bring her own large knitting needles and heavy yarn.

Another surprise event is also planned for Friday morning, Mrs. Kayser announced.

Director Conklin, reporting on the swimming program, said a new record was established by the July 15-19 week's attendance of 442.

The evening athletic program participation was 125, the attendance Friday evening being exceptionally small because of the Band Boosters' ice cream social.

Participation figures for the morning athletic field program for the week amounted to 186.

Next week is the sixth and final week of the recreation program. High School League coaches held a meeting Friday night and planned a baseball tournament schedule.

A tournament game will be played with the East Jackson team at East Jackson, at 7 o'clock this evening (Thursday). The winner of this game will play the winner of a Grass Lake-Stockbridge game at Stockbridge, July 29, with the finals scheduled for Aug. 2.

Wednesday, July 31, the Junior League baseball team will play Dexter, at the local field.

The midget teams will play regular games July 29 and 31 and, if still tied, an additional game will be scheduled to determine winners of the championship.

The Yankees and Tigers are still tied for first place in the Midget League with the Indians in third place and the White Sox in fourth place.

In the Tiger-White Sox game Wednesday, July 17, the Tigers won by a score of 10-3. The winning pitcher was Gary White, and his twin brother, Dick, led the Tigers with two hits.
