Two Injured in Separate Accidents Saturday Night

Clare Fenn of 103 North Forest avenue, Ann Arbor, suffered severe chest injuries late Saturday night when the small sports car he was driving went out of control on Cavanaugh Lake road, west of Fiere road. The car was demolished.

The accident occurred shortly after midnight as Fenn was driving west on Cavanaugh Lake road. He was taken to University hospital, Ann Arbor.

In another automobile crash shortly after 10 p.m. Saturday, a car driven by Verne Fordyce went out of control as he was headed north on South Main street, just south of the Federal Sewer Works plant. The car went over the curb on the left side of the street, knocking down two young trees in front of the Alvin Nightingale home and damaging highway signs placed there.

Fordyce was bruised but apparently suffered no other injuries. His car was badly damaged.

Elementary PTA Schedules First Meet Wednesday

The first meeting scheduled for the Elementary PTA this year is a "hospitality night" Wednesday, Sept. 18, at South Elementary school.

An effort is being made to interest all people of the community in PTA membership, whether they are parents of school children or not. It was pointed out that anyone interested in the "future citizens of America" may join and become a part of a truly democratic, nation-wide volunteer organization whose complete interest is the welfare and education of children.

The national organization is known as the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Gerald Carr heads the Elementary PTA as president this year.

CHS Band Preparing for U-M Event

The Chelsea Marching Band has been accepted to play for the annual Band Day at Ann Arbor, Oct. 5, in connection with the University of Michigan-University of Georgia football game. On this date the "world's largest band," 12,000 musicians from some 100 Michigan high school bands will combine to present the biggest half-time show ever produced for this annual affair. A new feature has been added this year with all the baton twirlers presenting a pre-game show.

"Band Day" is one of the most outstanding spectacles of the Ann Arbor football season. Organization, music selection, and the location of all percussion instruments in the center of the football field are the reasons for its success. The 700 drums in the center provide the rhythm and control of the band for the 12,000 pipers in the morning pregame and the massed band performance in the afternoon.

Ann Arbor High, Ypsilanti Roosevelt High, Lincoln Consolidated, Dexter, Manchester, Willow Run, Siltice, Plymouth and Milan are among the other Washtenaw county bands to participate in the event.

As a result of this week's rehearsals, the following members have been selected as right guides for the marching band: Sharon Smyser, Virginia Miller, Ruth Prentice, Barbara Hoffman, Jon Harris, Byron Pearson, and Donna Wals. The term "right guide" is used to designate the member who marches on the extreme right side of each rank and upon whom each rank checks for alignment.

Patty Foster and Sandra Sharard won street chair positions in the Junior Band try-outs this week. Patty is an eighth grade clarinetist and Sandra is a seventh grader and plays the flute.

Adult Education Classes Will Start If Enough Enroll

Adult education classes will be started at Chelsea High school as soon as a sufficient number of people register for classes according to an announcement by Charles Lane, high school principal.

A form is printed in today's issue of The Standard for the convenience of those who wish to register. The form should state the preference of classes. Instructors will be secured when a sufficient number of people state they are interested in a subject.

The forms should be sent at once to the principal's office at the high school.

Ground Work Underway at School Site

Top soil stripping is being completed on the new high school site this week. Grading for the buildings and the roads—one off Washington street and one off Fraser road, has also begun.

Trenching for the foundations of the building will begin this week and when the reinforcing steel arrives footings will be poured.

The lights on the athletic field have been moved so that the football field is laid out parallel to Washington street. The lights will be tested and adjusted and the bare portion of the baseball field on the south end of the newly laid out football field will be sodded with sod from the present field.

This arrangement is a temporary one for the football season. The Board of Education expects to have the athletic field established next fall according to the original plan. The new athletic field will be located in the southeast corner of the high school site.

Blood Bank Clinic To Be Held Oct. 1

Mrs. Dudley Holmes, Chelsea Community Blood Bank chairman, announced this week that a blood donor clinic is scheduled here for Tuesday, Oct. 1, in the customary location in the basement of the Congregational church.

Mrs. Holmes suggested that area residents and workers who are eligible as donors begin to make arrangements to participate in the clinic. She especially urges old people who have earned through personal experience the advantage of procuring blood for transfusions with a minimum of "red tape" when emergencies arose, to tell people about their experience and to do what they can to recruit blood donors.

Mrs. Holmes said she has seen it is this personal experience in emergencies that brings home to people the valuable work being accomplished by the local Blood Bank program.

Hours for the clinic here will be from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. and from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. Volunteer workers will assist at the clinic.

Chelsea Products Employees Walk Out Friday in Strike

Employees of Chelsea Products, Inc., who are members of United Auto Workers Union, Local 437, went on strike Friday afternoon because of a dispute regarding the company's discharge of a worker July 10.

Picketing started at the plant 24 hours a day, permit only office personnel to pass through the lines. No trucks are permitted to make deliveries or to take anything out of the plant. Salesmen are also barred.

Picketing started at the plant at 4 p.m. Friday after 98 of 104 members attended a meeting and voted to walk out, according to Robert D. Bishop, the Union plant committee chairman. Total Union membership at Chelsea Products is approximately 130. Bishop said.

Reason for the walkout, according to Bishop was "the unfair discharge of an employee, and discrimination against him." The disagreement between the company and the Union, the Union claims the employee was given only two verbal warnings while the company cites records showing four verbal warnings as well as four written warnings.

While the Union does not deny that warnings were given the employee, Bishop said, the Union charges discrimination against the man in question because other employees at the plant were not reprimanded for similar infraction of rules, thus leading to the charge of unfairness.

"We don't object to rules," Bishop said, "but rules should apply to everyone and not to just one person in a group."

Bishop said the Union's demands now are for full reinstatement of the discharged employee with full pay since his discharge, before the strike will be called off.

According to Bishop, the Union is not interested in "talking the issue to arbitration."

Company officials have been quoted as saying that the worker, employed at the plant about two years, had a poor performance record on the job and had been given repeated warnings, both verbal and written, about infringement of plant rules and poor workmanship before the final warning and discharge July 10.

Bishop admitted that the Union had made no grievance protest to the company until after the employee had been discharged.

Three weeks after the employee's discharge, Bishop said, the Union had asked that the company reinstate him without any payment of back pay. The request was denied. Bishop charged, and he said Union demands now are for full reinstatement of the employee with full payment of back wages since his discharge.

According to reports of the company and the Union, the Union claims the employee was given only two verbal warnings while the company cites records showing four verbal warnings as well as four written warnings.

Water Consumption For August Sets New Record High

Homer Nixon, superintendent of the Municipal Electric and Water Department, in checking figures on water consumption in Chelsea, found that in August of this year the total amount of water pumped through the department's system was increased by 34 per cent over the amount pumped during the same period in 1956. This increase, he said, accounts for the periods of low water pressure during the past month and indicates that additional facilities at the local water filtration and pumping station must be planned for.

Nixon's figures show that in August of this year 17,088,000 gallons of water was used here while the 1956 figure is 12,657,000 gallons.

Forner and Mrs. Dorothy Wenk, the mothers present with the youngest child (born Aug. 4, 1957); and Elena Romero, exchange student from Honduras as the person farthest from her home. Each received a corsage.

Saturday's program featured a band concert by the Chelsea High school band, under the direction of Gayle Grove.

Vernal Alfalfa Proves Best in MSU Field Tests

Vernal alfalfa has been giving very promising results in tests at Michigan State University, reports H. M. Brown, farm crops researcher.

Brown says, during the past three years, Vernal has proven itself a good producer, winter hardy and resistant to bacterial wilt that often thins alfalfa stands.

Vernal is a broad-crowned variety. It is a little more resistant to winter hardy than Ranger alfalfa. Ranger is the other wilt-resistant variety often grown in Michigan.

Vernal is noted for its dark green color. It is fine stemmed and leafy, but tends to lodge some what more than some varieties. It seems to stand up better under mismanagement than Ranger. Vernal keeps its dark color longer when it's attacked by leaf hoppers and appears more resistant to common leaf spot.

In three years of cutting trials, Vernal clearly outyielded every one of 13 plots of Ranger from which grown in several regions of the United States, reports Brown. The plots were cut twice a year in half bloom.

Duane Bott Enters Training for Career in Salvation Army

Duane Clarence Bott, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Austin Bott of near Waterloo, left yesterday for the Salvation Army School for Officers' Training in Chicago where he will take a 10-month training course in preparation for an appointment to a Salvation Army unit. He attended Atlantic Christian College at Wilson, N.C., during the past year.

A graduate of Chelsea High school, he served four years in the U. S. Navy before beginning his training for Salvation Army work.

Upon completion of the course in Chicago he will be commissioned as a probationary lieutenant and will receive an appointment to a Salvation Army unit. After commissioning, which is comparable to being ordained in the ministry, lessons continue for the first year of work under the supervision of a fully commissioned officer.

Bott was honored at a public farewell reception at the Salvation Army in Ann Arbor Sunday evening and at a family dinner at his parents' home Sunday afternoon.

Christian Education Program Offered By St. Barnabas Church

The Episcopal Church in Chelsea, St. Barnabas, located in the Fairground schoolhouse on Old U. S. 12 is offering a diverse and comprehensive Christian education program for children and adults starting Sept. 15.

The church in seeking to meet the present day needs of each age group will provide the following classes:

Children under five years of age: Mrs. Robert K. Taylor, teacher.

Children of 5 and 6 years: Mrs. Francis Wojciechowski, teacher.

Children of 7 and 8 years: Mrs. Charles Vickers and Mrs. James Mitchell.

These weekly classes follow upon the family worship service at the time of the service, thus keeping the family together for corporate worship each week for at least 30 minutes.

Children more than 8 years of age who are not confirmed will meet one night after school each week for their confirmation class (their weekly class) and this education will continue for two academic years, under the guidance of the vicar. This is designed to make the usual 5- to 10-week confirmation class much more effective and meaningful in the lives of the young people.

For those who are confirmed, the YPF (Young People's Fellowship) will meet for their weekly class Monday evenings at 7 p.m. at the church. This group serves either as acolytes, serving at the altar, or as Junior Altar Guild members. Study, worship and recreation will constitute their weekly meetings.

For the adults, a confirmation class will begin the third week in September and continue for 16 weeks until Bishop Emrich will confirm the class on Jan. 5 in his annual visitation. All inquirers of the faith of the Church are invited to this class.

In addition to the confirmation class, adults will be able to join a discussion group meeting on every other Sunday evenings in homes of the group members. This group will cover such subjects as "The Bible in 1957," "Christian Worship and My Part," "Christian Ethics." Such everyday problems as alcoholism, divorce, segregation, mental health, penology, child guidance, marriage and their relation to the Christian faith will be included in these discussions. All who are interested in such subjects are invited to join. This is not reserved for Episcopalians but any interested person or couple is cordially invited to join the class.

Health Insurance Survey Results Being Tabulated

"I don't feel qualified to answer your questionnaire on medical insurance coverage, since I haven't needed a doctor in 43 years."

That's what one person answered in response to the mail Survey of Consumer Opinion on Medical Insurance Protection conducted by the Michigan Health Council and sponsored by the Michigan State Medical Society.

Information from more than 12,000 surveys, forms and interviews are now being tabulated on IBM equipment. The analysis and results of this mountain of statistics will be reported on Sept. 23 to the public and the MSMS House of Delegates in Grand Rapids.

Hundreds of the returned questionnaires contained comments, varying in length from one pencilled line to four typewritten pages.

Most of the suggestions were constructive and offered ideas for improving existing health insurance plans and policies. Some people, however, took the opportunity to express pet peeves and personal complaints against a wide range of related subjects.

One unusual idea advocated following an old Chinese custom of paying a specified levy as long as an individual remained well. As soon as the person became ill, requiring care and treatment, all payments stopped, resuming again only after recovery.

In a more practical vein, many writers recommended the issuance of a deductible-type policy, similar to automobile insurance, whereby the insured pays only the first $25 or $50 of medical expense.

Many thought this approach would cut down on over-utilization by those with "imagined ills."

A few people thought the questionnaire was an attempt to sell a new type of health and medical insurance. Others interpreted the Michigan Health Council to be a state agency and refused to answer the questionnaire because they believed the State of Michigan should not be in the insurance business. Actually, the Michigan Health Council is a non-profit educational organization made up of many groups having a primary interest in health.

Generally, however, comments from respondents indicated a sincere desire to aid the medical profession in finding out current public opinion regarding medical coverage and costs.

In addition to election of general officers, also elected were the Rev. Noel Perkins, director of the Foreign Missions Department for the past 31 years; the Rev. J. Roosevelt Flower, general secretary and one of the founders of the Assemblies of God; and the Rev. Martin Netzel, currently serving as district superintendent of North Texas, treasurer.

Fluoride Tooth Decay Prevention Program Now Embraces 45 Counties

Lansing — Approximately 185,000 Michigan youngsters from the ages of 8 to 13 years inclusive have had fluoride solution painted on their teeth during the 10 summers since 1948 that topical fluoride application programs have been offered in this state.

The Michigan Department of Health announced the 10-year total today as the 10th annual program neared its end. About 86,000 children received fluoride applications this summer. The applications were given this year at 178 centers in 45 counties by 19 senior dental students and 40 dental hygiene students.

Topical fluoride applications reduce tooth decay in children by 40 per cent, the state health department said. This method of reducing decay is second in effectiveness only to fluoridated water, the department explained. Water fluoridation reduces tooth decay by approximately 60 per cent.

Medical Authority Predicts Longer Life

Dr. Edward L. Bortz, former president of the American Medical Association, recently said he believed man will reach a period in which his life span will range from 125 to 150 years.

Dr. Bortz says that the science of medicine is on the eve of making great progress and that a "fantastic future" is ahead, in which the barriers to healthy aging will be largely overcome. Many of the present problems of tissue death, he says, will be solved.

We wonder if the doctor is right. Although the progress being made by medicine is impressive, we are also stepping up the pace of life and are experiencing increasing numbers of deaths from such cases as heart attacks. In other words, the pace of modern life is somewhat offsetting progress which is otherwise being made in extending the average life span in the United States, at least.

With the age of the atomic and hydrogen bombs upon us, we also wonder what will happen to our average life span if we become involved in atomic wars which the experts say would kill citizens by the millions.

Man's progress in his fight to extend the life span seems to be directly dependent upon preventing atomic wars. Dr. Bortz's optimism is based upon the theory, of course, that this country will not become involved in a nuclear war.

The future Dr. Bortz outlines, and the alternative as outlined by the military experts, should make it clear to every thinking person in the world, including Russia, that the use of atomic weapons should not be contemplated by the armed services of any country except in a retaliatory situation.

Happy Problem Faces Hospital

A happy problem has developed in Grand Rapids, a problem that most of us have been hoping and praying for these many years.

According to reports, the problem involves a hospital and what to do with its almost-empty polio ward. Plans were made earlier in the year to prepare for an influx of polio cases starting in July. Fortunately, no influx has developed. As a result, the administration of the hospital is hastily revising plans to make the now extra facilities available for treatment of other types of cases.

It's a new hospital problem... but, needless to say, it's a happy one!—Farmington Enterprise.

Ambitious students who want to be sure of a durable profession might major in the field of abolishing war.

A Dip Into The Future

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Motorists may not have to pay $100,000 for the Mackinac Straits Bridge after all.

It is all in the exploratory stage yet, but hopes are bright the federal government will pay 90 per cent of the cost.

The situation came to light when Rep. Knox, who represents parts of both of Michigan's peninsulas in Congress, urged the state to take advantage of federal aid, along with other states.

The opportunity existed since the 1956 federal highway aid formula was adopted, granting states 90 per cent of the cost of interstate system superhighways.

"Michigan has every right to the funds for the bridge," said Knox.

The Knox statement caught Highway Commissioner John O. Mackie, a Democrat, without a public statement handy. He reacted quickly, claiming his office had been working on the idea.

To qualify, the proposal on the bridge must be submitted to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, thence to the Department of Commerce and then to Congress.

Ironically, the possibilities of getting up to $90,000,000 for the Michigan project — long an unrealized dream — has presented its own series of problems.

What, for instance, will happen to the investors who bought the bridge bonds? If the bonds are retired with federal funds before maturity, a huge premium payment is in prospect.

Where will Michigan get the $10,000,000 in matching funds? If taken from other state highway funds, will the construction of other needed superhighways be delayed?

Will Congress release the money directly for the bridge or allow it as a credit for use in construction of other highways?

If granted, will the money bring demands that the bridge become toll free or will a token charge—something far less than the average $3.80 charge—be levied for maintenance?

All these questions must be answered before the state can go ahead with qualifying the bridge for federal aid.

Knox contends it is already eligible because it links existing interstate highways, U.S.-31 with U.S.-2 across the Upper Peninsula.

Federal money already has been used to build the approaches to the bridge, another powerful argument.

Insiders believe the bridge crossing will carry a toll for at least a year after the five-mile span between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace is opened early in November.

Congress, now in adjournment, will return next January and the final step in the financing will have to wait until then and probably later.

Still another argument is the national defense system.

With construction of the bridge, the state's ferry fleet will be taken out of service, leaving only the bridge to carry traffic between major interstate highways. And a knotty complication is the defense situation if something happens to the bridge with the ferry fleet abolished and no emergency method of crossing.

Children are flocking back to the schools in record numbers this fall.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, said the public school enrollment will reach 1,600,000 with 800,000 going to parochial schools.

The increased numbers will require a total of 56,600 teachers. There will be more than 400,000 children to schools each day.

★ Compared to What?

If I asked you what happens when someone puts his thumb on the bulb of a thermometer, you would say that the mercury rises. And this would be true in Michigan almost any time, summer or winter.

But once I actually made a thermometer by putting my thumb on it. That was on a hot summer day in the Utah desert, when the temperature was 110 in the shade—and there was no shade!

So the mercury will rise when you touch a thermometer, but only if the temperature of the air is less than body temperature.

You can't tell which direction the mercury will move unless you know where it stands to begin with.

Some time ago we were having a room painted a light rose color. As a priming coat the painter applied some bright pink paint he happened to have on hand. Everyone who saw it thought the color was appalling, but he assured them the final coat wouldn't look anything like that.

Later he painted a spot of light rose on the wall as a sample. In comparison with the bright pink background it looked very delicate, so we told him to go ahead.

When the job was completed, the color proved to be somewhat brighter than we had expected it to be. We made the mistake of comparing it with an extreme color and this threw our judgment off balance.

In trying to answer the question, "How good should I be?" we often make the mistake of comparing ourselves with the fellow down the street.

Since the human nature to judge ourselves by our own best intentions, and to judge the neighbors by their actual accomplishments, we can always manage in such a comparison to say, "What a good boy am I!" or "What a good of us will rate ourselves more modestly if we accept the standard that Jesus suggested: 'Be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.'"

Washington Report

By Senator Charles F. Potter
 The latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan.

CATCHING UP is what I'm doing now that Congress has adjourned. And that's what most of my colleagues in the Senate are doing. This means to me reporting to the people of Michigan personally on what has been happening during the first session of the Eighty-Fifth Congress.

A PERSONAL REPORT of what was developed in the Nation's Capitol will be made. I shall tour throughout the state, meeting a long list of commitments to speak to various groups. I'm telling them about what has been happening on Capitol Hill, and the legislation that has passed this session.

A STATISTICAL PICTURE of the Eighty-Fifth Congress (January 8, through August 30, 1957) shows the Senate was in session 183 days or 860 hours and 44 seconds and the House 141 days or 856 hours and nineteen minutes. The Senate enacted into law 85 public bills and 144 private bills. The House enacted into law 166 public bills and 143 private bills.

THE CAPITOL WITHOUT the legislators looks something like this. Cars diminished by two-thirds in the parking lot outside the Capitol—press tables in the restaurants occupied mostly by clean plates and folded napkins—groups of tourists in the corridors behind the Capitol, guides less frequent—stone figures in statuary hall stand at ease excepting one with a windblown cape that floats out behind and keeps him eternally restless—the page boys almost gone from the halls... only one of the Senate and House restaurants open—few three ring signals at the elevators meaning Congressman riding.

NEWS FROM ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY shows a new milestone reached. Last concrete went into Grasse River Lock as this newsletter is being written. That means 500,000 cubic yards of concrete went into that section of this great PEOPLES' PYRAMID. And the Canadians are also keeping up their end. Only a few days ago the last concrete went into the Iroquois lock on the Canadian side.

Persistent dry weather along the border might not have been too good for the farmer but it has been a boon for the Seaway, with work going on steadily.

WHITE PIGEON, Michigan was named for an Indian Chief who, according to legend, saved the village from destruction in 1830, when tribes meeting near Detroit planned to avenge a governmental appropriation. Risking a 100-mile march, he ran the entire distance from Detroit to warn the settlement, and is believed to have died as a result.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dietle and son, Marion, and Miss Virginia Thayer were in Lincoln, Neb., to visit Lawrence Dietle who is in training at Lincoln University.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Riley held open house at the Methodist parsonage Friday afternoon and evening for the purpose of showing the parsonage following completion of extensive repairing, inside and out, which places the parsonage home on an equal with the balance of the Methodist congregation's property and adds much to the appearance of Park street.

Some type of rationing will be exercised for the 6,250,000 shotgun shells, 850,000 rounds of center fire rifle ammunition and an undetermined quantity of .22 caliber cartridges which have been approved by the War Production Board for Michigan hunters this fall.

H. D. Ruhl, chief of the state conservation department's game division revealed that jobbers will be getting approximately one-sixth of the normal amount of ammunition.

World's Biggest Band Will Assemble at U-M on Oct. 5

Ann Arbor—The largest massed band ever assembled anywhere in the world will take the field at halftime during The University of Michigan-University of Georgia football game here Saturday, Oct. 5.

According to U-M Band Director William D. Revell, 190 high school bands from throughout Michigan with combined membership of 12,000 players are expected to participate.

The event, ninth of the University's annual Band Days, will be sponsored by the U-M Bands and Athletic Association. This year some 800 twirlers from the participating bands will give a pregame exhibition.

Detailed instructions on music, marching, and rehearsals were forwarded local band directors almost a year ago. With careful advance preparation in their home communities, the bands will rehearse together only an hour Saturday morning prior to their performance.

All 12,000 players will assemble on the gridiron in less than a minute after the football teams leave at half-time.

Directed by Revell and George Cavender, the massed band will play such works as "March, A Santa Cecilia," "With A Little Bit of Luck," "Stardust," "March, Americans We," "El Gaucho," "Shoutin' Liza Trombone," and "The Thunder March."

Instrumentation will include approximately 2,100 clarinets, 2,200 cornets and trumpets, 800 horns, 900 drums, 700 sousaphones, and 1,200 trombones. Over 55,000 sheets will be required and over 1,000 chaperones will accompany the bands on their trip here.

Coming to the University and returning home, the participating bands will travel a total of 26,000 miles—more than once around the world.

The third annual Township Officers Conference for the counties of Calhoun, Jackson, Washtenaw, Branch, Hillsdale, Lenawee and Monroe will be held at the County Building in Ann Arbor on Thursday, Sept. 12.

Beginning at 10 a.m. there will be a discussion of the 1957 legislation affecting township and county government, led by Senator Edward Hutchinson, Representative Carroll Newton, and W. E. DeMasco, Township Supervisor and State Representative, of Calhoun county; James N. Folks, Township Supervisor and State Representative of Jackson county; Noble O. Moore, Prosecuting Attorney of Calhoun county; Edmond F. DeVine, Prosecuting Attorney of Washtenaw county; Z. B. W. E. Dennison, Secretary-Treasurer of the State Association of Supervisors, will preside at the noon luncheon, and the Hale Bishop, President of the Michigan Institute of Local Government, over the morning session. The invocation at the noon luncheon will be given by James R. Skinner, Supervisor of Branch county.

Similar conferences are scheduled for the 5th District at the Masonic Temple at Muskegon on Sept. 24, the 6th District at the Courthouse in St. Johns on Sept. 25, and the 8th District at the University Center on the new campus at Kalamazoo, on Sept. 26.

Honors College Will Highlight MSU Schedule

East Lansing—Opening of the new Honors College for outstanding students at Michigan State University will highlight the university's 1957-58 academic year. Classes begin Monday, Sept. 30 with a record total of 20,500 students expected on campus. This figure would be some 1,800 higher than last fall's enrollment.

First to reach the campus will be the 3,800 freshmen and additional transfer students who begin getting acquainted with their new campus and its procedures during Welcome Week Sept. 22-27.

New buildings and additional courses will be available during the year. The Student Services building, home for the dean of students, student publications and related offices, is scheduled for December occupancy.

The new College of Education building will offer new classrooms for future teachers in one wing during winter term. A second wing should be ready spring term, and the new central portion is being eyed for use the first time in the 1958 summer session.

Thirteen new courses will be offered on the undergraduate level and eight on the graduate level. Many departments share in the new offerings.

Openings of MSU's new Honors College will be of keen interest to the nation's educators. It is the first attempt by a major university to establish a university-wide honors program. Some 300 top students will be given a chance to map out independent courses of study—a privilege usually reserved for experienced graduate students.

The HERB CORNER Flavor, Fragrance, Beauty

This month of September finds the Extension Clubs, the Farm Bureau Groups, and other organizations that may have skipped a meeting or two during the summer, going full force again. We will soon be searching for recipes of good dishes to take to pot-luck dinners.

John and Marie Roberson, whose cook books are published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., have one, "The Casserole Cook Book," that guarantees success in our search. There are more than 200 kitchen-tested recipes that can be prepared in advance, cooked and served in a casserole, the easiest of dishes to carry to a pot-luck dinner.

There are almost 200 suggested menus, each one planned around a casserole dish. There is a bit of history of casserole cookery, a discussion of the surprising variety of casseroles available for our use, and instructions for the proper use and care of casseroles.

As with the recipes in the Roberson's other cook books, in these, too, is shown a discriminating sense in the choice of an herb or combination of herbs, and the right amount to use in the casserole being prepared to enhance its flavor. The recipes in this book can help you and your family find more enjoyment from the herb corner on your kitchen shelf.

To The Employees of Chelsea Products, Inc.

WHY IS CHELSEA PRODUCTS, INC. ON STRIKE? WE WANT TO BE SURE YOU KNOW THE WHOLE STORY

There is only one issue in dispute—the discharge of one employee on July 10, 1957. He was discharged following warning after warning. These warnings were given in strict accordance with the contract and NONE OF THEM (except the discharge) WAS EVER MADE THE SUBJECT OF A UNION GRIEVANCE. Here is his record:

- MAY 3, 1956 Verbal warning issued for washing up early.
- JUNE 4, 1956 Verbal warning issued for loafing.
- JUNE 12, 1956 Verbal warning issued for loafing.
- JULY 9, 1956 FIRST WRITTEN WARNING ISSUED FOR LOAFING. No grievance filed by the Union.
- JULY 30, 1956 Employee called in office with Union steward and given verbal warning for loafing following complaint by fellow employees that he would walk away from job instead of helping them.
- AUGUST 8, 1956 Verbal warning issued in presence of Union steward for loafing.
- SEPTEMBER 3, 1956 SECOND WRITTEN WARNING ISSUED. No grievance filed. At this time, the Union steward and Plant Chairman, and the Superintendent, agreed that employee should be taken off his material handling job and placed on paint line to clean housings, so that he would not be free to go around the plant, but would be confined to one station.
- OCTOBER 3, 1956 Employee given verbal warning in presence of Union steward for not cleaning housing properly.
- NOVEMBER 19, 1956 THIRD WRITTEN WARNING GIVEN AND PENALTY OF LAYOFF FOR FIFTEEN SHIFTS (three weeks) IMPOSED. No grievance filed by Union.
- FEBRUARY 7, 1957 Verbal Warning issued for careless work.
- MARCH 30, 1957 Verbal Warning issued—same reason.
- JUNE 5, 1957 Verbal Warning issued—same reason, in presence of Union steward.
- JULY 10, 1957 FOURTH WRITTEN WARNING AND DISCHARGE.

WHAT DOES THE UNION SAY ABOUT THIS?

In our meetings, the Union did not dispute the record given above, except to deny that the employee had been given all the verbal warnings listed. The Steward and the Plant Chairman knew that he was in danger of being discharged, and he was fully aware of this possibility. There is a slight dispute also about the number of housings which were not cleaned properly on July 10, the day of his discharge. The Foreman claims that the number of defective pieces was 83, whereas an employee who was doing the painting said that in his opinion only about 25 were too dirty for painting.

ARE THERE ANY OTHER ISSUES?

At our meetings, the Union hinted at dissatisfaction among the employees of the Company, saying that the present grievance was only part of the story. The Company representatives urged that these matters, whatever they were, be brought out into the open, stating that they would be given full and prompt attention. Without asking that the present grievance (the discharge) be settled, we asked that the strike be postponed and a FULL DISCUSSION OF ALL PROBLEMS TAKE PLACE. The Union spokesman said he would recommend that course of action to the membership at last Friday's meeting. We do not know what went on at the meeting, but the answer was the strike.

WHY WON'T THE UNION ARBITRATE THE DISCHARGE?

The Company at the meeting Friday offered to submit the fairness of its action to the judgment of a neutral and impartial arbitrator, selected and paid jointly by the Company and the Union. If the arbitrator decides that the Company was unfair, he will reinstate the discharged employee, with perhaps all or part of the pay he would have earned after his discharge. This is the procedure provided in UAW contracts, such as General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, covering hundreds of thousands of UAW members. The usual cost of arbitration is between $200.00 and $300.00, which is divided between the Company and the Union. The Strike is costing each Union employee of Chelsea Products a full week's wages, for each week that it continues, so arbitration is cheap. Why must the Company be shut down, and these wages lost, when a quick and economical method of settling the dispute can be arranged?

Don't confuse arbitration with the Federal and State "mediation" services. These representatives attended our meetings, and recommended arbitration to the Union. But they themselves have no power to give final decisions. Only an arbitrator selected by the parties can do that.

WHY DOES THE UNION REFUSE TO SUBMIT ITS CASE TO THE FAIR AND IMPARTIAL JUDGMENT OF AN ARBITRATOR? WE SUGGEST YOU FIND OUT BECAUSE THIS STRIKE IS COSTING ALL OF US A LOT OF MONEY?

The answer we are informed is that there is an element in the Union which wants to give the Company a licking. The idea seems to be that the Company should be forced by loss of business through a strike to do what this element demands. That strikes us as a very poor policy for any Union.

WHY DOESN'T THE COMPANY SETTLE THE DISPUTE?

There are several reasons. One is that we think the action taken was proper and fitting, for we all depend on good workmanship. If dirty castings are painted and sent out, we are apt to lose good customers.

We don't think the employee should be given another chance simply because the Union demands it under threat of strike. If the Union had any complaint against the Company on its treatment of the employee discharged, why didn't it file grievances on the previous warnings?

Under our Union Contract, we have established a procedure of giving warnings. This procedure has value because it enables an employee, who wishes to correct himself, full notice and a chance to do better. It is a protection to all the other employees, who do their work well, against the loafer and the bad citizen. Union people approve this kind of "Corrective Discipline." But in this case, the Union has, in effect, ignored it and refused to follow it. Then at the last step and the last minute, they come in with the strike weapon and said, "Take the employee back, or we go out."

WILL THE STRIKE HURT?

The answer to that is an emphatic "YES." Our weekly payroll is approximately $10,600.00. Each week that will be lost, for good. The Company may also lose business to its competitors. Our product, the Power Take Off units, are sold as one component of larger assemblies, such as dump trucks. Our customers can't wait for us to resume work. They have to get their Power Take Offs somewhere else, AND THEY MAY NEVER COME BACK TO CHELSEA. We could lose customers permanently because of this strike. And that could mean that some of our present employees will never be provided with work here again. The strike is serious, from our standpoint and yours.

The management of this Company hopes you will soon be back to work. When you do come back, there will be no hard feelings. After all, a strike settles nothing. We will still have to live and work together.

Sincerely yours
CHELSEA PRODUCTS, INC.
R. W. Wagner, President.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy extended to us during the illness and following the death of our dear mother and sister. Special thanks to Mrs. Nollie Flood and her daughter, Mrs. John Hanna; to the Rev. Thomas Toy for his comforting words; Mrs. Charles Ward for the beautiful music; and the Burghardt Funeral Home for the thoughtful consideration shown us. Everything is deeply appreciated.
The Family of
Mrs. Emma Davidson.

THANKS

We wish by this means to express our thanks to everyone who helped in any way with the Chelsea Community Fair restaurant project—those who assisted with the work as well as those who made donations; Lloyd Healy for providing a deep freezer, refrigerator and stove; and Schumm's for the contribution of all the fry- ing fat. It was the combined effort of many people of the community who made the project a success and we greatly appreciate the wonderful co-operation we had. Lulu Sweeney.

COMMENT on SPORTS

By Pete Fritchle

Strange Things

Washington—Some weird things have happened in the boxing world this year. Take the Patterson-Jackson fight, for example. There was ever another fight in the heavyweight ranks to top that one we haven't heard of it.

A slapper was dancing around demonstrating that brain tissue damage didn't knock him cold and he took it and took it and several hours after the fight wound up in the hospital. It was well that the referee stopped it and we hope we never see such an exhibition again.

The return of Ray Robinson to the top of the middleweight ladder was a dramatic development and this year he has indicated he still has some of the old fire left. He gets his chance to surprise some of the fans again in September when he meets Carmen Basilio.

The scheduling of the Rade-macher-Patterson bout this year was a complete surprise. It was quite like this has happened in the fight game in scores of years. The heavyweight champion schedules an amateur, who has no manager and who stands to make nothing out of the fight.

Rademacher, a top amateur and a threat because of his amateur experience, agreed to let all his money go to an organization he heads called Youth Unlimited. And under the terms of his contract, he got no money anyhow.

Yet Rademacher was older than the champion, was his own manager, and was eager for the bout from which he could not gain any financial remuneration. Stranger things have happened, perhaps, but not lately—in the boxing game.

Josey Maxim up and wins a fight. Arnie Moore says he is still looking for glory, and even the Hurricane says he is going on fighting. The last year in boxing has been a strange one, in every regard.

Perhaps the most gratifying development was the break-up of monopolistic forces which had been stifling the boxing game for a number of years. A judge's order broke the back of the International Boxing Club in typing up the best fights, and that opened the way for such strange events as the Rademacher-Patterson go, etc., etc.

Two Michigan state police skin diving troopers, products of a training school held just a week previously, were successful in their first underwater assignment when they recovered the bodies of two youths who had been missing two days and were believed to have drowned at Walled Lake in Oakland county.

The youths were Robert Segd, 16, and Richard Malo, 18, both of Detroit. Their car was found at Novi beach at Walled Lake with their clothes and wallets under the Novi township police had been dragging the water without success and Oakland county Deputy Sheriff William Jackson, also a skin diver, was helping. It was felt that more assistance was needed and the state police were called.

Just the week before, a special skin diving training school for 16 state police officers had been held at East Lansing headquarters. Several of these new divers were sent to Walled Lake.

Troopers William H. Carter, an instructor, and Thomas Meekler, both East Lansing, on their first sweep found the bodies in 20 feet of water about 100 yards from shore.

Top 16 state police skin divers comprise one two-man team from each of the department's eight districts. The purpose of the squad, believed to be the first organized by any state police department, is to recover evidence thrown in lakes and streams and search for drowning victims.

REPORT FROM ROME:

Italy Making Good Gains In Her Economic Recovery

By Norman Lindhurst (Foreign Correspondent)

Rome—Shaky politically and weak militarily, Italy nonetheless continues to make surprising economic progress.

This fact was underlined by the latest Italian cabinet fall, and it is the most encouraging fact to be gleaned about Italy today.

Despite a severe winter and the Suez crisis, Italy's gross national product increased by a record 9 per cent. After adjustment for cost-of-living increases, the real gain is estimated at 4 per cent, which is considered good.

Italian industry, saddled with war damage, has doubled output in the last decade. Steel production jumped last year 500,000 tons to 5,500,000 tons (an increase of 9.8 per cent), and output of pig iron and iron alloys by 15 and 12 per cent respectively.

A new rolling mill at Cornigliano will produce 20,000 tons of steel ship plates a month—typical of Italy's increasing industrialization.

Italy's automobile industry is enjoying a boom, and production is expanding in the mechanical manufacturing industries, chemicals and textiles.

Italian foreign trade is at an all-time high in both volume and value of exports and imports. Economists even take an optimistic view of Italy's large trade deficit (441 billion lire in 1956).

This deficit reflects the country's industrial expansion. Part of the deficit resulted from raw material imports and the rest from unusually large goods purchases abroad (which accounted for 32 per cent of total imports) American Ambassador James D. Zellerbach, who became an expert on the Italian economy while administering Marshall Plan aid to that country, is encouraging the Italians to shift from agriculture to industry.

Genoa has become a major world shipbuilding center. The huge Ansaldo yards have turned out 70 vessels in the last two years totaling over one million tons.

These included five turbo-tankers of 52,000 tons each; 21 of 31,500 tons, and five of 35,000 tons, a record unmatched by any other yard in Europe.

Ansaldo now is working on three luxury liners of 30,000, 24,000 and 20,000 tons, respectively; 14 motor-powered freighters of 15,800 tons; three freighters of 10,000 tons and ten naval vessels for Venezuela and Indonesia.

LOOKING FOR A "MODEL-YEAR-END" BARGAIN?

Then check these facts that prove that FORD is still your best buy—from any angle!

Throughout the 1957 season Fords have outsold every other make. And now that the model-year end is approaching, Ford is a better buy than ever! We Ford Dealers are determined to sell out our stock of '57s. And to do this we're offering deals and trades that can't be equaled. Just look at these savings:

Ford costs you less to buy!

When you investigate initial cost you'll find that model for model, right across the board, Ford cars are the lowest priced* of the low-price three. And when you compare Ford with the medium-priced cars, you'll discover you can buy a '57 Ford for hundreds of dollars less than a similarly equipped medium-price model.*

Ford costs you less to run!

Ford proved its saving ways in the only nationally recognized test of gasoline economy—the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run. A Ford Six delivered more miles per gallon than any other car entered.

Ford costs you less to trade!

Ford owners across the nation have learned that Fords hold their value better, too. Latest official auction sale figures on used cars show that the new kind of Ford commands a higher price than either of its two low-priced competitors.

Make this Acid Test:

New Car Price $
Less Trade-In Allowance $
This is what you pay!
Make this test and you'll buy Ford!

Come in and make us prove it!

Patricia Ann Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herbert Bowman of Detroit, and Daniel Maroney of Ferndale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Maroney of Chelsea, exchanged wedding vows at 8 o'clock Saturday evening before the Rev. John Foszyth. The ceremony was performed in the presence of approximately 200 guests in the Bushnell Congregational church, Detroit.

The Purcell Trumpet Voluntary, the processional and the traditional Mendelssohn Recessional were played by the organist, Robert Bates.

The bride's gown of white lace and chiffon taffeta was styled with a long-sleeved lace bodice finished with a shallow scalloped neckline. The fully-gathered skirt was of the chiffon taffeta and extended into a chapel train. A crushed cummerbund accented the waistline. Her fingertip-length veil of scalloped-edged illusion was trimmed with scattered seed pearls and was attached to a pill box headpiece embroidered with seed pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white gladioli centered with a gladioli corsage which she later removed and pinned to the jacket of the dark brown suit she chose as a going-away outfit. Dark brown accessories and an apricot colored blouse completed her traveling costume.

Margaret Joy Bowman, the bride's sister, was her maid of honor, wearing for the occasion a capsize colored waist length gown with a butterfly bow and floating panel in a slightly deeper shade of the iridescent apricot color. A headpiece of the deeper shade and a cascade bouquet of gladioli matching the gown, completed her ensemble.

Wearing costumes identical to that of the maid of honor, the bridesmaids were Barbara Reinhardt of Pontiac, former roommate of the bride at Michigan State University, and Carolyn Roberts of Detroit.
